"We have a great amount of splendid material for publication and a collection of photographs that cannot be surpassed. We have just completed what is very nearly a 100 mile circuit around Mt. Robson, the highest peak in the Canadian Rockies. The peaks and valleys, lakes and waterfalls on all sides of it, and the glaciers are very fine. The region is immense, and there is work for years to come, exploring, mapping and depicting. There is a fine bunch of high peaks and large snowfields and glaciers southwest of Tete Jaune Cache. There are also great peaks on the Athabaska and Fraser headwaters, tributary to your line. The most showy part of Mt. Robson is the Robson Pass and Glacier, and Berg Lake."

Real Estate, Mining and Industrial Investments

HOW $100 GREW TO $31620

The value and importance of any enterprise must be based on the profits and dividends it can earn. In this respect the Midway Maple Leaf Oil Company, Limited, is without a parallel in the line of investments.

It combines the attractive factors which are needed to make the perfect investment—viz., safety, large earning capacity and low cost of the stock at the start. It is not at all uncommon for oil stocks to begin at a few cents a share and jump to hundreds of dollars a share—sometimes thousands.

	Started at	Has Sold at
Central	10 cents	$2.10
Monte Cristo	10 cents	$4.00
Lucile	10 cents	$16.00
Silver Tip	25 cents	$4.00
San Francisco and McKittrick	40 cents	$28.00
Kern River	50 cents	$8.75
Peerless	50 cents	$8.75
Puente	$10.00	$150.00
Home	$10.00	$5000.00

This list, taken from San Francisco and Los Angeles Stock Exchange records, could be added to almost indefinitely.

Fortunes have been made from stock increases. stock is $200, YOUR YEARLY PROFIT ON AN INVESTMENT OF $300.

When we have ten wells sunk you can reasonably figure on AN ANNUAL PROFIT ON YOUR HOLDINGS OF $2000.

$2000 A YEAR. DOESN'T THIS APPEAL

Many a case could be cited similar to that of Richard Ellis, clerk in a store in Los Angeles, whose investment of $100 became worth $31,620 in a short time. There are hundreds of such cases in Los Angeles alone.

$2000.00 Profit a Year

Do you realize that stock in the Midway Maple Leaf Oil Company, Limited, at the present price of 30 cents a share is not merely the opportunity of the year—IT IS THE OPPORTUNITY OF A LIFETIME.

If you have $10, $50, $100 or $500 YOU SIMPLY CAN NOT AFFORD TO PASS IT UP.

If we develop only a 1000 barrel well of 26 gravity oil, this production alone will be sufficient to enable the corporation to pay a dividend of 20 per cent. and at the same time have sufficient capital to continue the drilling of wells.

1000 shares of stock at the present price of 30c costs only $300.

20 per cent. dividend on the par value of the TO YOU? Wouldn't you like to be coming up to this office every three months and getting your dividend cheque for $500?

Remember, too, that your stock holdings in Midway Maple Leaf, if you should want to sell them should be worth $18,000 or sixty times the amount of your original investment.

Consider These Facts

The Midway Maple Leaf Oil Company is working in proven gusher territory, the richest oil zone in the world, controlling 40 acres on one-eighth royalty, with the great advantage of the option to purchase at only $1250 per acre after oil is struck, and the ground must then be worth at least $5000 per acre. This means a clean profit of $150,000 over purchase price. It has been demonstrated completely by gushers on adjoining Standard and Honolulu ground, that this portion of the Midway field is not only the richest portion of the whole district, but that it produces the highest grade of oil found in the entire vicinity, and worth 50 per cent. more per barrel at the well.

$30 cash, or $6 down and $6 a month for four months, buys 100 shares.

$60 cash, or $12 down and $12 a month for four months, buys 200 shares.

$120 cash, or $24 down and $24 a month for four months, buys 400 shares.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

ARMIES MAY NOW DISBAND

Should Latest Gun Operate to Schedule, the Nations May Mutually Agree to Study the Arts of War No More

A Swede named Svenson claims to have invented a new automatic rifle which may do away with machine-guns on the field of battle, whilst the ordinary infantry soldier, armed with this weapon, would become much more formidable than he is with his present equipment. The new invention has not only been applied to rifles, but to fowling pieces and other weapons. As regards rifles, Mr. Svenson has invented two kinds of appliances, one of which can be used as an ordinary rifle and another as a machine-gun. Mr. Svenson claims that his weapon can at will be made to perform both functions without its weight in any way being increased. It can be loaded either at the breech or underneath by inserting the cartridge magazine. A company of infantry, equipped with the new rifle and forming a front of 15 paces, can fire, it is said, 70 shots per second, or if fitted with a larger magazine 240 to 260 shots in three seconds. A battery of machine-guns, consisting of four pieces served by 16 men, with their commanding officers, would occupy a front of 15 paces and fire under the same conditions only 32 to 96 shots respectively in the same space of time. In addition to this, machine-guns are difficult to transport, or to place in position, or to hide from the enemy, which is not the case with the rifle of the Svenson type. The new weapon is about the same weight as the Mauser rifle, and has the same kind of barrel, but its entire length is five centimetres shorter. Another advantage is its simplicity of construction, possessing, as it does, only 17 movable parts, including the spiral springs.

BANK NOTES ARE ALL CLEAN

General Adoption of Custom of the Bank of England in Having No Reissue of Notes Would Be Genuinely Welcomed.

Dirty bank notes are rarely seen in England, and the reason for this cleanliness was supplied by the Right Hon. F. Hugh Jackson, a director of the Bank of England, in a lecture delivered recently.

It was often remarked, he said, that they rarely, if ever, saw a dirty Bank of England note. "This was due," he explained, "to the fact that the bank never reissued a bank note. Even if you were to go into the bank and demand a five pound note for five sovereigns, and were then to walk across the floor and exchange the note for gold, that note would be destroyed. The bank has adopted this principle, not in the interest of cleanliness, but in the interest of security, as they find that by this practice, expensive though it may be, they avoid and the public avoid, many of the risks of forgery." Mr Jackson added another item of little-known information, that besides the printing of Bank of England notes and India rupee notes, the bank also printed all postal orders and old-age pension orders for the Government.

There is great dignity in labour. Work of every description, however humble it may be, is honourable, and beneath the dignity of no person, and every one should delight in doing some kind of work.

The proper way to discover the sex of any wasp which may alight on the back of your neck, it seems, is to wait and see. The male wasp never stings.

THE COMFORT OF INDEPENDENCE ASSURED THE B. C. FRUIT GROWER

In British Columbia Fruit Growing is synonymous with Success. The fame of the five-acre fruit farms of the Fraser Valley is spreading to every corner of this continent. Already "Fruit" suggests the Pacific Coast, soon it will direct the thoughts instinctively to British Columbia, particularly to the lower Fraser River Valley.

FLESHERTON GARDENS, which I am now selling, is the cream of this Valley land. The soil is a rich deep chocolate, humous and friable, free from weeds, stones or stumps. Good roads lead to the property and two railways are ready to carry the fruit to market. The Chilliwack line of the B. C. Electric Railway CUTS THROUGH FLESHERTON GARDENS, and the Victoria, Vancouver and Eastern is only a few yards away. Over a dozen trains pass the property every day, and the traffic will increase in the immediate future.

BIG PROFITS IN FRUITS AND VEGETABLES.

Do you know that you can make immense profits in fruits, tubers and vegetables on the Coast? To-day last year's potatoes are selling at $70 a ton in Seattle, only a few miles from here. In Westminster and Vancouver the price is from $60 to $65 a ton. Cherries fetch 50c a pound and strawberries 25c a box. All other fruits are high in proportion. Remember these are NOT FANCY PRICES, but to-day's quotations. There is no difficulty in selling the fruit, for people here have the money and don't mind the price.

IT'S EASY TO SECURE THE LAND

I have placed FLESHERTON GARDENS on the market on very easy terms, $200 cash and the balance spread over several years. You can have your pick of these five acre farms at from $150 to $350 per acre. You cannot find a better investment anywhere; no matter how rosy other prospects may be, this one leads them all.

Sign this blank, and mail it to me NOW. I can tell you a great deal more about FLESHERTON GARDANS in a personal letter. It's to your advantage to get all the information you can.

A Startling Revelation

The friends of Miss Mary McKenzie, of London, were astonished to hear that she had gone into consumption.

This sad intelligence came as a shock to Miss McKenzie's many friends. In the early fall she contracted a heavy cold which developed rapidly into Catarrh, and finally made such rapid advances that the bronchial tubes and lungs became affected.

Although the doctors said nothing short of a change of residence to the south would benefit, on the advice of a Dundas Street druggist Miss McKenzie decided to thoroughly test Catarrhozone, which is warranted to cure all diseases of the throat, lungs and bronchial tubes.

Miss McKenzie says: "After my druggist had recommended Catarrhozone I spoke to my friends about it and they all said it was such a good remedy that I commenced forthwith to inhale it five or six times each day. I breathed it deeply into my lungs, and felt its beneficial action very quickly. It seemed to go where other remedies did not reach, and was so pleasant and convenient that I did not mind using it very frequently, which, probably, was the cause of it curing my obstinate case so quickly. Certainly no case of Catarrh or Bronchitis should go uncured if the sufferer can get Catarrhozone, which is a sovereign remedy, worthy of the highest recommendations."

Miss McKenzie's case needs no enlargement. She was in a critical condition, apparently beyond the aid of doctors' medicines.

Catarrhozone has cured her, and others in her condition should no longer experiment with uncertain, untried treatments, but should turn at once to catarrhozone, and in it they will find relief and cure unobtainable by other means. Remember the name, Catarrhozone. Complete outfit guaranteed to cure. Price $1.00. Small size 25 cents. Druggists or The Catarrhozone Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

Three at a Birth.

Dr. Malcolm McEachren, Superintendent of the Montreal Maternity hospital, Montreal, well known in Peterborough and Fenelon Falls, recently had a remarkable case in which a woman was delivered of three well formed and perfectly healthy baby girls. It is said that triplets only occur once in every 20,000 cases and usually do not all survive. The three latest arrivals at the large institution, over which Dr. McEachern presides, appear to be remarkably healthy and to have as good a chance of life as other infants.

BEFORE TREATMENT

Peter E. Summers relates his experience: "I was troubled with Nervous Debility for many years. I lay it to indiscretion and evil comrades in youth. I became very despondent and didn't care whether I worked or not. I imagined everybody who looked at me guessed my secret. Imaginative dreams at night weakened me—my back ached, had pains in the back of my head, hands and feet were cold, tired in the morning, poor appetite, fingers were shaky, eyes blurred, hair loose, memory poor, etc. Numbness in the fingers set in and the doctor told me he feared paralysis. I took all kinds of medicines and tried many first-class physicians, wore an electric belt for three months, but received little benefit. I was induced to consult Drs. Kennedy & Kennedy, though I had lost all faith in doctors. Like a drowning man I commenced the New Method Treatment and it saved my life. The improvement was like magic—I could feel the vigor going through the nerves. I was cured mentally and physically. I have sent them many patients and continue to do so.

A deep silence has settled on the wood. Across the rill a grey grouse is drumming on the grey trunk of a fallen tree. The grey squirrel is gathering nuts for the winter. The young deer has changed his summer coat for one of a more sombre hue; a red-brown to match the autumn leaves. Now the leaves are falling, unveiling the forest and opening long avenues through which we get glimpses of jumping deer. If you take your rifle and go up into the "Highlands of Ontario" and stand perfectly still some autumn morning, you can see the red deer racing by. Any Grand Trunk Agent can tell you how to get there.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Geo. W. Fitzgerald.

There passed away at the family residence, 174 London street, yesterday evening at five o'clock, one of Peterborough's oldest and most respected citizens, in the person of Mrs. Geo. W. Fitzgerald, aged 80 years.

The deceased lady had only been ill about 10 days, having taken cold which developed a fever. Subsequently pneumonia supervened, and everything that medical science could suggest was done to save her life, she sank quietly to rest as above. Mrs. Fitzgerald, whose maiden name was Mary A. Robinson, was born in the Township of Smith, and was married to Mr. Fitzgerald 38 years ago. She leaves to mourn her demise four sons and four daughters, as follows: Clarence, of Vancouver; Percy D., Walter and Alex M., city; Mrs. Nelson, Sask.; Mrs. McConkey, city; Mrs. E. Hanna, Montreal; Miss Edna at home.

Mrs. Fitzgerald was a consistent member of the Murray street Baptist church. Of a kind and affectionate disposition, beloved by all who had the pleasure of her acquaintance.

The funeral will take place to-morrow, Friday, afternoon at three o'clock. Service at the house conducted by Rev. J. R. Webb, at 2.30. Interment will take place at Little Lake cemetery.

Mrs. Hattie Spears.

The many friends of Rev. Dr. Spears, of Hyde Park avenue Methodist Church, Toronto, and formerly of Peterborough, will regret to learn of the death of his wife, which occurred in Toronto on Tuesday.

The deceased who was born in Manitoulin, was 48 years of age, and since her marriage with Dr. Spears has resided in Toronto. Mrs. Spears' death was not totally unexpected as she had been ailing for some time. Dr. Spears and his wife were frequent visitors to Chemong where they had recently built a cottage.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Spears leaves to mourn her loss, two sons, Aylmer and Douglas, both residing in Toronto. Mr. Andrew Brown, real estate agent of this city, is a nephew.

The funeral will take place in Toronto to-day.

FAREWELL TO MR. HODGSON.

Collegiate Cadets Said Good-Bye Yesterday.

Yesterday the Collegiate Cadets bade farewell to Mr. Hodgson, the well known science master and drill instructor of our local Collegiate, who is leaving in a few days for Lethbridge where he has accepted the position of principal of the High School in that city.

After marching past, in column and in quarter column, the Cadets, under Grant Mowatt, gave three hearty cheers for Mr. Hodgson.

In a few well chosen words, Mr. Hodgson thanked them for their cheers, and said that after seven years' connection with the local school, and the Collegiate Cadets, it was hard to sever his connections with them. He had seen the Cadets grow from a single company to a battalion and felt grieved to leave them, but he thought that this was an opportunity for him. Besides he expected that soon some of the Cadets would find their way to the West and he would be pleased to renew acquaintances.

At the conclusion he was heartily applauded by the Cadets and at the request of Mr. Jamieson, the new drill instructor, Mr. Hodgson drilled the battalion for the last time.

The meeting was opened in the usual way calling on the secretary, Miss Coon, to read the minutes of the last meeting. The programme consisted of a debate which was resolved that "Education got by travelling was better than that got by University Course." The affirmative side was led by Miss Gregory; the negative by Mr. Coon. Mr. Sherin and Mr. Leggett. The affirmative side won by a few points. While the judges, Mr. McKorkindale, Miss Matheson and Miss Simpson, were deciding, Miss Hayes gave a reading "Paul Revere."

A DRUMMER'S TALE

They Sometimes Tell True Ones.

A quarter of a century "on the road" gives one some knowledge of hotel life and the old drummer's experience with food is worth listening to.

"After 25 years' service as a commercial traveller with its vicissitudes, I found myself about a year ago very much the worse for wear.

"At that time I was suffering from nervous dyspepsia, my appetite was poor and I could not sleep, finally reaching a state bordering on complete breakdown.

"As medicine had failed utterly to help me I was forced to look into the diet and of it and what I learned induced me to try a course of Grape-Nuts food.

"When it was not on the bill of fare I asked for it and usually got it; so for several months I made my complete breakfast on Grape-Nuts with now and then a bit of toast.

"Improvement commenced immediately and has kept up steadily and now, one year after, my general health is fine, better than it has been for years and I attribute the improvement to the use of Grape-Nuts.

"I have proved in my own case that this food is perfect for a stomach at odds with its food and can recommend Grape-Nuts to all my fellow commercial tourists."

Name given by Canadian Postum Company, Windsor, Ont.

Although Grape-Nuts is not always on the bill of fare nearly every hotel has it in the pantry and the guest can get it if called for.

AUTUMN IS THE TIME FOR GLASSES — WHY?

The increasingly long evenings of Autumn give greater opportunity for Sewing, Writing, Reading, Study, and as this is necessarily by artificial light the strain upon the eyes is such as to make Glasses quite a boom at this season of the year. VOL XXXIV NO 248 — PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO, FRIDAY, OCTOBER 27 1911 — PRICE TWO CENTS

CONSUMPTION CAN BE AND IS BEING CURED

NOT NECESSARILY HEREDITARY, BUT POSITIVELY INFECTIOUS.

Hon. Adam Beck Delivers an Instructive Lecture on Tuberculosis last Night. What is Being Done in Hamilton and London Could Be Followed in Peterborough—Electricity Enters Largely into the Comforts of Consumptive Sanitariums.

Hon. Adam Beck, of London, and chairman of the Hydro-Electric Commission, addressed a large audience in the Assembly Hall of the Collegiate Institute last night, on the subject of "Tuberculosis." This was one of the series of lectures on the question of active co-operation in stamping out the "white plague," to be given throughout the winter, under the auspices of the Peterborough Health Association, recently formed, with a view to local activity in this connection.

Mr. W. H. Moore made a very acceptable chairman and urged that Peterborough's Health Association be liberally endorsed by a strong membership at $1 a year. He offered that Peterborough is far from being an unhealthy locality, its annual death rate being very low—an average during the past five years of 385, of which number 24 were consumptives.

Hon. Adam Beck was enthusiastically received and delivered an exceedingly instructive lecture on the ways and means of combatting tuberculosis which he characterized as curable if taken in time and properly treated. He quoted Dr. Osler as asserting that tuberculosis is unquestionably curable, not necessarily hereditary, but undoubtedly infectious, and it is only by fighting infection that we may hope to eventually stamp out the "great white plague." Much satisfactory advancement had been made in combatting tuberculosis, otherwise known as consumption. In England and Wales the number of cases has been reduced 19 per cent.; in Scotland 24 per cent.; Ireland 24 per cent.; in Germany 18 per cent.; in London (Eng.) 24 per cent.; in Paris 23 per cent. In New York consumption has been reduced by one half and in Hamilton during the past five years a reduction of one half is also reported. All of which goes to show that the fight against tuberculosis is making substantial headway.

The honorable gentleman here went on to say that as tuberculosis is an infectious disease, it is the duty of every community to pass a compulsory public notification by-law, which the Provincial Statutes authorize the enforcement of. Such a measure compels notification to the proper authorities of all cases of tuberculosis, so that the Health Association may assure active precaution against infection. He next reviewed the method taken to establish sanitariums in Hamilton and London, which institutions were secured by large donations from philantropists, membership subscriptions, and entertainments, mainly resulting from the energetic and co-operative work of the ladies of those cities. In Hamilton the total expenditure on the consumptive sanitarium the past five years amounts to $49,900, apart from the farm, house and carriage building, and infirmary, all of which were donated by two citizens. Similar conditions apply in London. Hamilton sanitarium serves the city and Wentworth, that in London, the city and two counties. A life membership to those institutions is $100, $500 gives two votes and $1000 3 votes on the Board of Directors. The warden of the county, the mayor of the city and chairman of the local Board of Health are members of the Board of Directors, ex-officio.

Continuing the speaker urged that medical men, who oftentimes sacrifice personal interests, in fighting the "great white plague," should have active co-operation on the part of the community, otherwise they cannot succeed. Let the Province and the Dominion help, let each municipality contribute its quota, and tuberculosis will eventually be stamped out. In Hamilton, the city contributes 40c a day for each poor patient and the Government $3 a week toward the maintenance of each patient who cannot pay more than 70c a day. The Provincial Government contributes one-fifth the cost of establishing a sanitarium up to $40,000; that in Hamilton has been self-supporting the past two years, but that in London is yet in debt.

The distinguished speaker here gave a clear and concise description of the sanitariums at Hamilton and London, which are composed of farm land, infirmaries, cottages, administrative buildings, doctor's houses, modern laundries, own water and sewerage systems, and dispensaries in connection. The treatment offered also includes visiting nurses who look after home patients receiving dispensary treatment. These nurses are specially instructed in diagnosing and report consumptive cases on information furnished by doctors, the clergy, and school teachers. They also disinfect homes to safeguard against infection. In the case of patients who are treated at home nourishment, clothes, out-of-door sleeping accommodation is sometimes furnished by the Ladies' Aid Society.

Continuing, the speaker emphasized the fact that at the London sanitarium, cooking, laundering, lighting, is all done by electricity transmitted from Niagara Falls, 120 miles distant. And they are now getting electric bed warmers for patients able to sleep out of doors in winter. In London there are now twenty patients whom it is reasonably hoped will be cured and become useful members of the community.

Referring to the establishment of a sanitarium, the honorable gentleman contended that to successfully do so requires substantial endorsement and liberal subscription. Each of such establishments should be supported by a number of towns and counties combined, forming a district with a population of 200,000. Each institution should be within no more than a day's journey from any given point within the district served. The maintenance of twenty patients costs $1.50 a day each, and of 45 or 50 patients, from 93 to 94 cents each.

The speaker arraigned the management of hospitals for not providing adequate accommodation for consumptives. It should, he contended, be obligatory that tuberculosis patients are received, or in default lose their grant from the Government.

THE LOCAL SOCIETY.

Dr. Cameron explained that the object of the local Health Association is to educate citizens on the question of guarding against infection. This can be done by means of literature and a series of lectures on the subject of tuberculosis. It is also intended to distribute literature in the schools, and also arrange for lectures to school children, if practicable. The society is also appealing for $1500 to defray the expenses of a district visiting nurse, together with the cost of nourishment, clothing and out-of-door sleeping requirements that must be provided for some poor tuberculosis patients. The appointment of a district nurse is hoped for before the winter sets in. The Association had not as yet looked for the establishment of a sanitarium in Peterborough. The public are urgently asked to contribute to this association. The annual membership fee is $1 and a life membership $100, distributed over four years.

A vote of thanks was extended Hon. Adam Beck, moved by Dr. Cameron, and seconded by Dr. Halliday.

BAD NEWS FOR LAZY MEN

Kingston, Ont., Oct. 26.—In an interview with J. C. McConachie, agent of the Children's Aid Society, Hon. W. J. Hanna, Provincial Secretary in the Ontario Government, said that his department was considering a plan whereby worthless heads of families would be placed at work on the prison farm, paid for their labors and the proceeds sent to their families. Mr. Hanna also said it was possible that arrangements would be made in the eastern part of the Province for the taking care of men who would not support their families.

SPORTS

Several local hockey enthusiasts are considering the question of representing Peterborough in the Trent Valley League this winter, instead of the O.H.A. Lakefield, Keene, Norwood, Lindsay, and Havelock will likely be communicated with, but it is doubtful that the proposition will be favored by the local hockey players.

RUGBY.

A fast game is promised for tomorrow afternoon, when a local junior team, will play a T.C.S. aggregation at Riverside Park. The locals have a strong team, consisting of the following players: O. Cavanah, H. Rowthy, G. Matthews, F. Moran, C. Brown, Feeney, H. Long, Harold Hill Holland Hill, H. Rogers, M. Carlisle and J. Christopher.

An interesting game is promised for Thanksgiving Day, when the local W.E.A.C. fourteen will clash with the Minto Cup holders.

The West Ends will take up the challenge of Manager Gene Hurtubise to play the old boys. Among the come-backs are "Don" McPherson, Chubby Connors, Len. Johnston, O'Brien and Meagher.

The West End team held a practice last night but showed only average form.

All those who would like to see a good soccer game should not fail to witness the game to be played on the Park street grounds, opposite Park street Baptist Church, on Saturday afternoon. The opposing teams are Mr. Pagett's eleven vs. All Saints, and a real good, well fought game will be played. Kick off at 3 o'clock. Both teams are out to win and business only is meant. The players are all picked men, stars of the C.G.F. and the Church League.

CORDAGE WORKS CHANGES HANDS

It will be good news for the citizens of Peterborough to learn that the International Harvester Company, of Chicago, who also have large works in Hamilton, Ont. have taken over the Canadian Cordage plant here, and will not only operate it to its full capacity in the future, but are likely to increase the works. The local company went into liquidation in January last, and its affairs have been in the hands of a liquidator ever since. Negotiations have been going on between the Harvester people and the Bank of Ottawa, with the above result. Mr. Rice, superintendent of the Twine Mills of this company at Chicago was in the city yesterday and discussed the matter with the local parties who are interested. The opening of this factory again gives employment to about 250 which means a great deal to Peterborough. There is a chance of the International Harvester Company locating permanently in this city, which, according to Mr. Rice offers unequalled opportunities for such a manufactory.

FALL OF CHENTU REPORTED 100 CANADIANS IN CITY

LEADER OF IMPERIAL FORCES ASSASSINATED BY HIS OWN TROOPS.

Rebels Seize Canton—Great Bloodshed Reported in Canton—General Chao Also Assassinated According to Pekin Reports.

Shanghai, China, Oct. 26.—The Chinese newspaper in an extra edition to-day, announces that the Minister of War, General Yin Tchang, commanding the Imperial forces, has been assassinated by his own troops.

The paper also states that Canton has been seized by revolutionists. Great bloodshed there is reported.

Pekin, China, Oct. 26.—The Chinese newspapers report that the troops at Chentu, the capital of See Chuen Province, have mutinied and killed General Chao Erh-Feng, commander of the imperial forces, and joined the rebels, who now hold the capital.

The legations have received no news officially from See Chuen Province for the past ten days. They ordinarily discredit the reports published in the Chinese papers, but consider the statement that Cheng-Tu has fallen and the imperial commander been assassinated as not improbable.

Probably a hundred Canadians are in Chentu, which has been intermittently besieged by rebels for two months. At one time the Government forces apparently gained the upper hand, but later reverses drove them back to the capital, and recently all communication was cut off, indicating that the rebels had drawn a tight cordon around the city.

GAS EXPLOSION KILLED MANY

NINE ARE MISSING AND ARE BELIEVED TO BE DEAD.

Twenty Others Injured—Police and Firemen Worked Effectually in Rescuing Injured Persons From Burning Tenement.

New York, Oct. 26.—Twenty persons were injured, two fatally, and nine others are missing and perhaps dead, as the result of a gas explosion which wrecked a ramshackle four-storey tenement house on Powell street, Brooklyn, early to-day. The force of the explosion was so great that it shook the neighborhood for a radius of half a mile, and smashed 400 windows in the vicinity.

The gas, supposed to have come from a leak in the cellar, had filtered through four storeys which occupied the ground floor of the building, and the crash came simultaneously from all four points followed immediately by a great wave of fire, which swept up the air shafts, making a torch of the whole structure.

HEROIC RESCUES.

Joseph Menken, who was sleeping in a room on an upper floor, was caught by the explosion, lifted from his bed, and catapulted through his window to the street below. He was rushed to the hospital with many broken bones and internal injuries. His neighbor, Miss Arnie Zaden, was fatally hurt by jumping from a third floor window to the pavement.

There were many heroic rescues from the burning building by the police and firemen. Search for the bodies of the nine missing persons, seven of whom are children, was begun in the smoking ruins at daybreak.

MIGHT STOP OFF HERE.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—We notice by the papers that the Duke and Duchess of Connaught are to pay a visit to the City of Toronto on November 27th, and the City of Hamilton on December 1st. We think it would be advisable for our Mayor and City Council to extend an invitation to their Royal Highnesses to stop off at Peterborough on their way to Toronto, and show them our good city of Peterborough in Canada, as we have no doubt they have often visited the city of Peterborough in England, and which is only a few miles from London. We feel sure that their Royal Highnesses would be interested in our city and especially in our wonderful Lift Lock, the finest and largest in the world.

We hope the Mayor and City Council will take this matter up at once as we feel sure the citizens generally would be pleased to see the invitation sent at once.

Thanking you Mr. Editor, for your valuable space, we remain,

Hon. J. R. Stratton's String Brings Over $30,000 at Auction

SALE A GREAT SUCCESS

Twenty-Five Hundred Buyers Crowd Arena While Sale Was in Progress—Whole of Mr. Stratton's Stable Disposed of.

More than thirty thousand dollars changed hands at The Repository in Toronto, when the greatest sale of blood registered horseflesh ever held in the history of Canada took place. Over eighty horses were sold, which makes an average price of over $400 per horse. Mr. Charles Burns was in the auctioneer's rostrum from 11 o'clock in the morning until 6 o'clock at night, and the sale went on without a moment's cessation.

The whole of Hon. J. R. Stratton's stable was sold, comprising eleven horses, all of which have won names, some at Olympia, London; some at the Richmond show in Surrey, and others at Madison Square Garden, New York, and all the big shows in the Dominion. Such was the standard offered that dealers and breeders from all over the Dominion and the States were noticed in the building yesterday.

The auctioneer estimated that there were twenty-five hundred present, and so crowded was the Repository that the horses had to be driven out in the street as the arena was packed with buyers. The ring was decked out in horse show colors befitting a gala day, and no effort was spared to make the sale an attraction and a success.

EVIDENCE TO CONVICT PASTOR

CONFIDENCE EXPRESSED BY THE DISTRICT ATTORNEY PROSECUTING RICHESON.

Grand Jury Opens Investigation Into the Alleged Murder of Miss Avis Linnell.

Boston, Mass., Oct. 26.—The consideration by the Grand Jury of the evidence accumulated by the prosecution against Rev. Clarence T. Richeson, pastor of Emmanuel Baptist Church, Cambridge, who is charged with the murder of Miss Avis Linnell, a music student of Hyannis, began in the court house in Pemberton Square to-day. Chief Joseph Dugan, of the Bureau of Criminal Investigation of the Boston Police Department, and District Attorney Pelletier were in charge of the Government's case against the accused minister. Both officials expressed confidence that they had evidence sufficient, not only to indict, but also to convict Mr. Richeson of the crime with which he is charged.

GIRL'S MOTHER TESTIFIES.

Among the witnesses who came to the court house prepared to appear before the Grand Jury, were Mrs. Edgar Linnell, of Hyannis, mother of the girl; Mrs. W. H. McLean, Brockton, sister of the dead girl, and Mr. McLean, William Hahn, the Newton Centre Druggist, who says that he sold cyanide of potassium to Mr. Richeson, on October 19th; Miss Patterson, superintendent of the Boston Young Women's Christian Association home on Warrenton street where the Linnell girl died, and several other women who lives at the Y.W.C.A. and were friends of Miss Linnell.

It is expected that it will take two and perhaps three days for the Jury to hear all the witnesses who have been summoned by the District Attorney.

KILLING CHICKEN MAY COST A LIFE

OWNER OF FOWL BEATS BOY SO BADLY THAT HE IS IN DANGER OF DEATH.

Also Attacks Mother, Then Makes His Escape, But is Being Sought on Charge of Double Assault.

Ottawa, Ont., Oct. 26.—Alexander Ratcliffe, a resident of Gloucester township, near the quarries, is being sought on a charge of assault, with the possibility that a more serious one of attempted murder may be lodged against him.

Trefely Fournier, the twelve-year-old son of Thos. Fournier, a neighbor of Ratcliffe, is in a serious condition at his father's house, and his mother, who went to the rescue of her son from the infuriated man, and as a result had a narrow escape of her own life, is also in a serious condition from the shock to which she was subjected.

The cause of the quarrel was the killing of chickens belonging to Ratcliffe who found the fowls lying on the ground beheaded. Turning around he happened to see young Fournier going along the road with an axe in his hand and it is alleged he attacked the lad fiercely, and his mother also when she came to his rescue.

"There could be no better medicine than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. My children were all sick with the whooping cough. One of them was in bed, had a high fever and was coughing up blood. THE SALVATION ARMY

Splendid Address Last Night by Captain Martin, of Toronto.

An address of unusual interest was delivered last night in the S.A. Temple, by Capt. Martin, of Toronto, dealing with the history of the Salvation Army from its commencement and the wonderful work it is accomplishing throughout the civilized world.

Captain Martin handled his subject in a masterly way, going into detail as much as possible. He said that during the past year the Army supplied 118,000 beds, and 250,000 meals in Canada alone, but perhaps the most interesting point was the fact that about 90,000 immigrants were brought into this country during the past six years. 30,000 Xmas dinners were served to the poor of the country. For the rescue of fallen women there are thirteen homes which took care of 1,100 girls, 900 of these girls turned out satisfactorily, being about 93 per cent. The Army also cared for 700 children during the past year in Canada. Among the corps giving them religious instruction.

There are about 450 corps in the Dominion and in the neighborhood of 50,000 members. There are 15,000 to 16,000 persons converted every year in Canada. Among the corps there are 70 brass bands of which the Peterborough organization is a fair sample.

At the conclusion of Capt. Martin's address a hearty vote of thanks was tendered him.

J. W. Copeland, of Dayton, Ohio, purchased a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for his boy who had a cold, and before the bottle was all used the boy's cold was gone. Is that not better than to pay a five dollar doctor's bill? For sale by all dealers.

THE CANADA NATIONAL FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY

was incorporated by Special Act of the Parliament of Canada for the purpose of carrying on the business of Fire Insurance, as outlined in the Insurance Act and the Special Act of Incorporation.

Capital Stock Authorized by the Board.....$2,000,000
Capital Stock Subscribed to date $1,650,000

The Head Office of the Company is in the city of Winnipeg, and, in addition to this, Branch Offices and Agencies will be established throughout the Dominion.

It must be generally conceded that, owing to the satisfactory conditions at present prevailing throughout not only Western Canada, but the entire Dominion, this Company is being organized at a most favorable and opportune time.

Canada, and particularly the Western portion of the Dominion, is advancing in population and wealth more rapidly than at any other time in its history, and every indication points towards a period of great prosperity and development.

The great influx of settlers into Western Canada is resulting in tremendous activity in every line of business. Railroad construction is proceeding on a scale hitherto unknown in this country, and as adequate transportation is of vital importance in moving our immense crops with a proper degree of facility, it is highly encouraging to see so much well-directed energy along the lines of railway extension.

Coincident with railway expansion, we find many new districts rapidly filling up with desirable settlers, bringing with them a good supply of cash and effects. With the settlement of the rural districts, new towns and villages are springing up, which will, during the next few years, become, in many instances, important business centres.

With such unprecedented growth in Western as well as Eastern Canada, involving an expenditure of millions of dollars in building operations, it is at once evident that there is a very extensive and profitable field for a new Fire Insurance Company which will have a thorough organization throughout the length and breadth of the Dominion, and more particularly in the four Western Provinces.

As a great volume of our business will be transacted in the West, it is a matter of the greatest importance that the Head Office of the Company, as well as the Directors, should be located in the West, so that the affairs of the Company may be conducted to the best possible advantage.

DIRECTORS.

The Board of Directors consists entirely of Western men with a very intimate knowledge of Western conditions, and they are, accordingly, well conversant with the financial and general business requirements of the West. They are thoroughly representative of the various important branches of financial, commercial, industrial and professional life in Western Canada, and with their wide reputation for business ability and integrity, as well as financial standing, combined with a long and varied experience, and practical knowledge of business affairs, they are exceptionally well qualified to render excellent service to a large financial institution.

As the Directors have valuable connections with extensive business interests and are also Directors of other financial corporations, as well as being otherwise identified with large and influential companies which control a great deal of high-grade fire insurance, they will be instrumental in placing a large portion of this desirable insurance with the new Company, so that we may safely conclude that from the very beginning of operations a large and profitable business will be assured.

Under these favorable conditions, and with a strong, energetic, as well as experienced and conservative management, combined with the fact that each Director has subscribed for eleven thousand five hundred dollars ($11,500) of the Capital Stock, on which all calls have been paid, and takes an active interest in the welfare of the Company, there is only one conclusion to draw, and that is that the affairs of the Company will be conducted in such a careful, conscientious and intelligent manner that the interests of both policyholders and stockholders will be fully protected.

IT IS WORTHY OF NOTE THAT $1,650,000 OF CAPITAL STOCK HAS ALREADY BEEN SUBSCRIBED BY PROMINENT BUSINESS AND PROFESSIONAL MEN THROUGHOUT THE DOMINION AND ELSEWHERE.

No commission has been paid to anyone for securing stock subscriptions, and no expense has been incurred in the promotion and organization of the Company, except the expense in connection with securing the Charter and other necessary expenses.

THE CANADA NATIONAL FIRE.

The Canada National Fire, being organized in the West, MAY BE TRULY CALLED A WESTERN COMPANY, and, as such, should receive the liberal patronage and hearty co-operation of the citizens of Western Canada, as well as the support of people from Eastern Canada who desire to become associated with a strong and progressive Canadian Company.

When promoting this Company the Directors were fully convinced that there was a splendid opening in Western Canada for a Company prepared to carry on the business of Fire Insurance on a large and comprehensive scale, and which, at the same time, could offer ADEQUATE PROTECTION TO BOTH POLICYHOLDERS AND SHAREHOLDERS. Accordingly, when making application for a Dominion charter, the Company was incorporated with a capital of $3,000,000.00, of which amount the Directors decided to offer for public subscription the sum of $2,000,000.00.

THE ALL-IMPORTANT FEATURE IN FIRE INSURANCE IS PROTECTION, and with the LARGE CAPITAL, combined with the high standard of Reserve, which will be maintained through careful selection of risks and profits from judicious investments, the Directors and Management feel confident that this Company will be accorded a very hearty reception by Canadian citizens, and will soon rank as one of the leading Fire Companies.

WITHOUT A LARGE AND SUBSTANTIAL CAPITAL FOR THE PROTECTION OF THE POLICYHOLDERS, A FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY IS SERIOUSLY HANDICAPPED, AND DOES NOT AFFORD THE POLICYHOLDER THAT PROTECTION TO WHICH HE IS JUSTLY ENTITLED, and the Directors of this Company, being fully aware of this most important fact, are adopting a very wise policy in OFFERING FOR SUBSCRIPTION SUCH A LARGE AMOUNT OF CAPITAL STOCK, and when our entire stock is subscribed and paid in full it will represent the largest amount of subscribed and paid-up capital of any Canadian Fire Insurance Company, and will be a tower of strength and of very material benefit to the company in carrying on its extensive operations.

Only GILT-EDGE securities will be considered, such as first mortgages on improved, productive real estate, stocks, bonds and debentures of companies of high repute, as well as Dominion securities and municipal, county and school debentures of well-established districts.

As a LARGE PERCENTAGE of these securities is READILY NEGOTIABLE, the Company will have abundant LIQUID ASSETS to meet any possible contingency that might arise.

Our first mortgage investments will be confined to Western Canada, and as the rate of interest obtainable on first-class productive real estate is FULLY TWO PER CENT. greater in the West than in Eastern Canada, the Company will have a DECIDED ADVANTAGE over Companies operating exclusively in the older portions of the Dominion. A fixed policy of the Company is to loan NOT MORE THAN FIFTY PER CENT. of a conservative value of the property, and to stipulate for a definite return of principal, together with interest, each year during the term of the loan. With these periodical repayments of principal, and with land values in Western Canada steadily increasing, the Company's first mortgage securities will continue to improve year by year.

With the active development in Western Canada, a great deal of capital will be required for many years to come, and the Company will, therefore, experience a very ready demand for its funds on high-grade securities and at a profitable rate of interest.

The Directors decided to issue the stock at the price of ONE HUNDRED AND FIFTEEN DOLLARS PER SHARE, being at a premium of fifteen per cent.

THE TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION ARE :

On application, $25.00 per share, which shall include the premium of $15.00 per share, and the balance, payable in ten consecutive half-yearly instalments of $9.00 per share, the first of such half-yearly instalments to become due and payable six months from date of allotment of shares.

Shares may be PAID IN FULL at time of subscription, but if purchased on the INSTALMENT PLAN the subscriber shall have the privilege of paying any or all of the instalments prior to due dates.

The Following Table Shows the Amount of First Call as Well as the Subsequent Payments :

NO BONUS STOCK shall be issued for any purpose whatsoever, and even the Directors, who are very heavy stockholders in the Company, have paid the SAME PRICE for their shares as the general public. NOT ONE SHARE has been or will be issued to any person at a price less than $115.00 per share.

THIS IS A RARE OPPORTUNITY to secure some of the Capital Stock of a Western Fire Insurance Company. With a large amount of desirable and profitable business so readily obtainable by the Company through its valuable and extensive business connections, rapid progress should be made, and with investments carefully selected and unexcelled in earning power, the Company will be enabled to not only pay substantial dividends, but build up a large reserve, and thereby materially increase the value of the stock.

The Directors firmly believe in the policy that EVERY SHAREHOLDER SHOULD CO-OPERATE WITH THE MANAGEMENT of a Company and take an active interest in its welfare. For that reason, it is their intention to WIDELY DISTRIBUTE the CAPITAL STOCK, and by that means obtain the support of the leading business and professional men throughout the country.

With the rapid development of the West during recent years, involving an outlay of many millions of capital, it has become generally recognized that WESTERN CANADA IS VERY MUCH IN NEED OF MORE LARGE FINANCIAL INSTITUTIONS, AND ESPECIALLY OF WESTERN ORIGIN, to properly meet the growing requirements of the West, and to not only improve the present financial situation, but to materially assist in retaining, as much as possible, desirable business, with its resultant profits, within our own Western borders.

The business of fire insurance has now grown to such large proportions that it has become a very important factor in the financial and commercial world, and as its scope and influence is so general and widespread it is only natural to find that the question of AMPLE PROTECTION TO POLICYHOLDERS, which is the PRIMARY FUNCTION OF FIRE INSURANCE COMPANIES, should be so GENERALLY DISCUSSED AT THE PRESENT TIME.

This important subject has given rise to a very STRONG FEELING in Western Canada that the TIME HAS NOW ARRIVED when the Western people should organize a Fire Insurance Company of such strength and proportions that it will soon rank as one of the leading fire companies of America, and command general respect and confidence, which is so ESSENTIAL to a company that solicits the support and patronage of all classes of the community.

The Directors have every confidence that they will receive the hearty co-operation of not only Western citizens, but of people from every part of the Dominion, to build up a GREAT fire insurance company with AMPLE PROTECTION for the people, and which will be a source of pride and credit to our country.

The following Canadian Government Insurance statistics should prove of ESPECIAL INTEREST :

In the year 1869 the total amount of fire premiums collected in Canada was $1,785,539.00, whereas in the year 1909 the total premiums charged amounted to the large sum of $22,293,633.25, and of this amount $6,551,644.41 was charged by Canadian Companies, $11,518,267.45 by British Companies, and $4,223,721.39 by American Companies.

During the last forty-one years the aggregate amount of fire insurance premiums collected in Canada reached the immense total of $280,740,466.00, of which the large sum of $218,310,047.00 represents the amount of fire premiums collected by FOREIGN COUNTRIES, and which, therefore, was taken out of the country to build up foreign companies and enrich foreign shareholders.

Notwithstanding that a considerable portion of the fire premiums collected in Canada by Foreign Companies has been repaid to Canadian policyholders, through fire losses, it must be evident that the larger the proportion of Canadian fire insurance that is placed with Canadian Companies, the larger is the amount of capital retained in the Dominion and always available for investment purposes, to build up our Canadian financial institutions, and thereby add to the general wealth and prosperity of our country.

The above figures are most significant and clearly demonstrate that while the CANADIAN FIRE COMPANIES have been doing a satisfactory business they HAVE SECURED only a SMALL portion of the Fire Insurance transacted in Canada, or, to be more exact, ONLY TWENTY-TWO PER CENT. of THE TOTAL FIRE INSURANCE WRITTEN IN CANADA, covering a period of the last forty-one years. With the extraordinary progress which Canada has been making during recent years, the field for financial institutions has become so widely extended that there is a CONSTANTLY INCREASING DEMAND for new large financial corporations.

By further reference to our Government statistics it will be observed that at December 31st, 1909, the total number of Canadian Fire Companies operating under Dominion charter was ONLY TWENTY-ONE, and of this number ONLY TWO HAD A PAID-UP CAPITAL IN EXCESS OF $500,000.

In promoting this large Canadian Company the Directors are fully confident that the new organization will, with characteristic Western energy and enterprise, soon come to be recognized as an important factor in the insurance world, and as The Canada National Fire will be instrumental in RETAINING WITHIN THE BOUNDARIES OF CANADA a large amount of money which would otherwise be taken out of the country to build up foreign corporations the people of the growing Dominion will readily see the advisability of giving this Company their MORAL AND FINANCIAL SUPPORT, in order that we may build up a STRONG and VIGOROUS Company which will prove a valuable acquisition to our Canadian monetary institutions.

This is the last opportunity to secure, direct from the Company, some of this desirable stock.

It is worthy of special note that the demand for the stock has exceeded the Directors' most sanguine expectations ; in fact, of the $2,000,000 of stock to be issued, $1,650,000 has already been subscribed, and, from present indications, with the large number of applications for stock being received daily, the Directors are confident that the balance of the issue, which is now only $350,000, will be subscribed by August 26th, 1911, the date appointed for the closing of stock subscriptions.

For this reason, the Directors strongly recommend the investing public to mail their applications for stock at their earliest possible opportunity.

Subscribers are requested to kindly fill in attached application form, stating name in full, number of shares desired, occupation and address, and mail the application, along with the first call of Twenty-five Dollars ($25.00) per share on the stock, direct to the Head Office of the Company, Winnipeg, Man., or, if so desired, application may be made for the stock at any of the Company's Branch Offices or at any Branch of the Royal or Imperial Banks, where application blanks and any additional information will be readily furnished. Applications for stock will be considered in the order received, and on approval of the same by the Board of Directors a certificate for the number of shares subscribed will be issued and mailed the shareholders forthwith. Cheques, Drafts, Money Orders or other remittances on account of stock subscriptions should be made payable to The Canada National Fire Insurance Company.

STRUCK DUMB WITH AMAZEMENT

Mr. A. O. Wheeler, F.R.G.S., Director of the Alpine Club of Canada, has just returned to Vancouver from a summer spent in the Canadian Rockies in the vicinity of the Yellowhead Pass, and is greatly impressed with his trip.

In an interview with Mr. Wheeler, he stated: "It has been the general impression that the Rocky Mountains of Canada attain their greatest average height not very far north of the boundary line. True, of late years much has been heard of Mount Robson, which dominates the region of the Yellowhead Pass, but the popular notion was that there was nothing else in the neighborhood worth seeing, and that the Grand Trunk Pacific would pass through a region of little interest from the point of view of the tourist or mountaineer.

"There was no mistake about Mount Robson. It is without doubt, as was stated by one of the most travelled and skilled mountaineers of the day, Dr. Norman Collie, one of the most magnificent mountains in the world, whether seen from the south, the view that is most familiar, or from beautiful Berg Lake, it still stands supreme. In the hundred-mile circuit of the great massif on all sides were found mighty snow-clad peaks, widespread snowfields, huge ice-falls, rushing torrents, waterfalls, flower-clad meadows and vast stretches of dark pine forest. Many of the peaks were named by the surveyors, but they are legion, and it will be many years before they are familiarly known as individual mountains."

In speaking of the Robson Glacier, which lies on the east side of this monstrous mountain, Mr. Wheeler said: "It struck us dumb with amazement that anything so stupendous, so superb, so undreamed of, should exist. At our feet flowed the great river of ice, every crevasse, every moraine, every icefall, clearly portrayed. Directly opposite rose the massif, its outline clear from base to summit for fully 8,000 feet. From the beautiful meadows at the head of Resplendent Valley twenty-five peaks were counted, all unknown and unnamed. And lakes, which perhaps lend the most characteristic charm to Canadian mountain scenery, were everywhere."

At the summit of the Yellowhead Pass Mr. Wheeler's party erected a monument defining the boundary between Alberta and British Columbia at the intersection of the Great Divide. On the huge post set up, which is surrounded with a big stone mound are carved the words: "British Columbia on the west face; Alberta on the east face; and on the south 3,727.99 feet, being the altitude of the summit at the point where the post is set."

Clearing of right-of-way on the uncompleted gap of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway from Tete Jaune Cache westward to Aldermere in Bulkley Valley, was started a few weeks ago by the contractors, Messrs Foley, Welch & Stewart. Operations thus far are restricted to the route along the south fork of the Fraser between the Cache and Fort George.

An Interesting Booklet.

The Times is in receipt of a very interesting booklet dealing with the Maritime Provinces as a promising field for those who desire to establish new industries, or to profitably invest capital in the exploitation and development of natural resources. The obvious advantages of many parts of New Brunswick and Nova Scotia are ably presented in detail, together with many cheerful facts that ought to impress those who have capital ready to invest in a new field that is certainly rich in opportunity. It is commendable that while the eyes of the world are upon Canada, and thousands of new settlers are pouring into the West from many countries, an honest effort is being made to point out the advantages that exist in the east. The booklet will be mailed free to those who write the Industrial Department Intercolonial Railway, Moncton, N. B.

Present Disadvantages of Canadian Farmers.

At present the United States farmers have a great advantage over us. It costs 25c a bushel to send wheat into the United States. They can send their wheat into Canada for 12c a bushel, with rebate of 99 per cent. of duty when ground in bond. It costs us 30c to send a bushel of barley to the United States. They can ship barley into Canada for 15c. If we want to ship beans into the United States we have to pay 45c a bushel duty. The beans can come into Canada for 22c. They charge us 25c a bushel on the apples we send them. We charge them only 40c a barrel on what they send us. They charge us $4 a ton on the hay we send them. We charge them $2. They charge us 6c a pound on cheese, we charge them 3c. Thus it is with almost every farm product.

Under reciprocity these disadvantages will be wiped out, and we will be able to deal with them on an equal basis. Is not this worth while?

Home for Christmas.

The Steamship Lines are expecting a large home-going exodus for the holiday season this year, and are making extensive preparations to take care of all of those who are planning to visit the Old Country.

The White Star-Dominion Line has arranged for three special Christmas sailings, viz. the "Canada" December 2nd, "Megantic" December 9th, and "Teutonic" December 14th, from Portland, Me., and Halifax, N. S., to take care of these passengers. These steamers will arrive in ample time to enable passengers to reach their homes before Christmas whether in England or on the Continent.

The railways have recognized the growing popularity of these annual Christmas excursions and now run special trains from Montreal and the west to connect with the steamers, and the most complete arrangements are made by both the steamship companies and the rail lines to further the comfort of the homeward bound ones during the holiday season.

Grand Trunk Opening New Territory

The new territory in the Canadian Rocky Mountains that is being opened up by the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway has already become the Mecca for a number of Alpine Climbers and those who love to get away from the turmoil of the busy city and explore mountain fastnesses that are practically unknown. Some of the travellers who have gone into this Yellow Head Pass territory are now returning, and one gentleman writes to the Grand Trunk Pacific Headquarters as follows:—"Lake Maligne is a beautiful lake between 16 and 18 miles long. I have visited all the other transcontinental lines both in Canada and the United States, and there is no lake or district along any of these lines that can compare with the Lake Maligne country. Some of the mountains around the lake are in the neighborhood of 12,000 feet. Lake Maligne is reached from Henry House a few miles west of Pittsburgh, the Second Divisional point, and covered with tea fields which make them very beautiful."

STRANGE NESTS OF WILD BIRDS

Swinging Cradle Evolved by the Ingenious Tailor-Bird is of Leaves Neatly Sewn With Silk and Wool

The tailor-bird builds one of the most remarkable nests known to man. With only its beak for needle, it sews two or three leaves together in the form of a cup, and in this places its nest of wool, hair, and fine grass. It uses thread, which may be either silk, snatched from some caterpillar's cocoons, or pieces of wool or strong vegetable fibres. The bird bores holes in the edges of the leaves, and threads the binding material through.

The oven-bird of South Africa collects horse-hair and fibre, and with these bind together the walls of the mud house which it builds. This mud house is wonderfully designed. It is built on a firm foundation of hardened mud; it has stout walls, and is covered in with a dome — a most difficult piece of work for a bird working without scaffolding. Inside the home is divided by a stout wall into two compartments, one for the nursery, and the other for a store-room. The nest measures 9 inches width, and weighs about 1½ lbs.

MEN OF CANADA IN PLAY TIME

Some Interesting Facts and Figures Relating to the Recreations of the Grown-Ups in their Hours of Leisure

The Canadian "Who's Who" is an interesting study in the careers of several thousands of Canadian men and women who have attained distinction in some line of activity, but the significant features of these brief histories are not so often in the records of success and accomplishment as in the list of recreations in which these men indulge in their moments of leisure.

Of the 660 whose recreations are quoted, 325, or more than one-third, acknowledge shooting as a favourite form of play. Of these fourteen at least specify rifle target shooting, and six big game shooting. The rest it may be presumed are devoted to hunting in one form or another "that is go out and kill something," is the way a witty Frenchman once described the Englishman's idea of sport, and the Canadian seems in a fair way to follow his example. Fishing and shooting go together with a large number of people, and 162 mention fishing as a recreation.

For a country with such splendid water courses and lakes, the number among those mentioned who are devoted to water sports is surprisingly small. With only forty-four is yachting or sailing a recognized diversion. Canoeing appeals to thirty-one, boating without special preference to forty, rowing to thirteen, swimming to six, and camping, which of course includes any or all of the pleasures of the water, to thirty-one.

The same thing may be said of winter sports. The Canadian winter is the glory of the Canadian climate, but in view of the general favour in which winter sports are held, it is remarkable that only 96 — perhaps largely the Scotch proportion of the population — go in for curling, thirteen for skating, three for hockey, two for snowshoeing, two for skiing, and one for tobogganing.

Athletic and outdoor sports do not occupy as important a place as might be expected. This may be due to the fact that as men grow older — old enough to qualify for admission to "Who's Who" — they have usually passed from the performing to the onlooking stage in athletics.

REINDEER FOR THE NORTH LAND

Recent Importation to Northern Canada Promises Splendid Results, Being Much More Useful than the Dog.

The importation of reindeer into Northern Canada is not altogether an experiment, because in the neighboring territory of Alaska imported reindeer and their off-spring have now for some time flourished and proved their usefulness. They were imported into Alaska by the United States Government, just as they are being imported into the Mackenzie District by our Department of the Interior.

In Alaska the reindeer have increased rapidly; they have found there abundance of suitable food; they have proved useful as beasts of burden, especially for prospectors and travellers visiting remote parts of the wild country; and they have supplied a needy class of the population with a most valuable article of food — reindeer milk, not to take into account the meat always available by killing an animal.

The traveller in the North has had to depend upon a dog-train. These dogs are difficult to manage, and their food almost invariably has to be carried — a serious drawback where transportation facilities are so limited. In hauling power one reindeer is equal to several dogs. In the natural mosses of the country the reindeer can almost everywhere find its own food; and in case of dire distress the slaughtered reindeer can save the traveller from starvation.

Judge Got the Baby.

A few years ago an Iowa county court judge tried to imitate King Solomon in his well-known decision respecting the child that was claimed by two women. In the Iowa Court two women claimed to be the mother of a child that was produced before the judge. Thinking that history might repeat itself, the judge asked for the infant. Then, opening his knife, he announced his intention of cutting the child in half. Whereupon one of the mothers exclaimed, "Oh, no! If it comes to that you may keep the child yourself," and both women left the court.

"It appears to me that Solomon was a very over-rated man," murmured the judge.

The Small Voice

"Children," said the minister, addressing a Sunday school, "I want to talk to you about one of the most important organs in the world. What is it that throbs away," he went on, "night and day, never stopping, whether you wake or sleep, night and day, week in week out, without any volition on your part, hidden away, as it were, in the depths unseen to you, throbbing rythmically all your life long?"

During the pause of oratorical effect, came a small voice, "The gas meter."

THAT THY DAYS MAY BE LONG

Avoidable Sources of Physical Degeneration Include Poisoning of Tissues by Meat Putrefaction and Grief Worry and Anxiety.

There is a definite limit set to one's length of years. This limit is an inherent something very difficult to define, which determines the end of the vital span, beyond which life cannot be prolonged. It is one of the very numerous expressions of protoplasmic inertia. It means that no matter how carefully a man lives, avoiding accidents and all those poisons which tend to produce degeneration of tissue — those of alcohol, gout, and the toxins of specific infections — nevertheless he cannot live on for ever because of an intrinsic tendency in his protoplasm to cease working after so many years have elapsed. Just as a clock, wound up to go for eight days, will stop at the end of eight days, or a projectile fired from a gun can travel no farther than the energy of its charge will permit it, so the organism can endure for a certain time, but no longer than this inherent fatality to cease to live will allow it.

One avoidable source of early tissue degeneration is the absorption of intestinal poison, chemical substances of an injurious nature manufactured in the alimentary canal. As nearly everybody now knows, it is the bacilli of sour milk which antagonise the putrefactive bacteria. The drinkers of sour milk, in Eastern Europe and the tribes of the desert are notoriously long-lived.

Lastly, the mind and its various states have, as is universally recognised, an influence on growing old. Grief, worry, and anxiety are well known "to age" people rapidly. Other things being equal, the person of placid temperament is more likely to survive to a ripe old age than the person who frets and fusses and fumes.

FIRST OF THE MOVING PICTURE

Birth of Popular Entertainment was in California in Effort to Obtain Exact Record of Fast Trotting Horse.

Eadweard Muybridge, a photographer of Oakland, California, invented moving pictures over a quarter of a century ago. The invention came about in this way: Leland Stanford, the Governor of California, was a great race-horse man. His celebrated trotter Occident was the first horse to make a record of 2.20 west of the Rocky Mountains, and Stanford engaged Muybridge to photograph him in every shape and form. Muybridge then made the first instantaneous pictures of a horse in motion — pictures which knocked out the old idea of artists and everybody else that an animal at speed sometimes extended all four feet at once.

Finally, in order to get the horse's full action exactly the photographer placed a line of cameras a tenth of a mile long on the track, and from these he stretched silk threads across the course at about the height of the trotter's knees. As these threads were broken each made a picture of the horse, and by putting them together and shuffling them the trotter could be seen in motion.

In 1885 Muybridge went to England, and with the help of several other men evolved the first moving picture camera. A year later some of those instruments reached America, and applications for patents began to pour into Washington.

Not many large fortunes have been made by the makers. Some of the early manufacturers made between $00,000 and $[illegible] for three years, and are [illegible]. It is not record that Muybridge ever made money from the invention [illegible] to the public this immense form of cheap en-

TRANSPLANTING FARMERS.

It is said that the duke of Sutherland was buying large tracts of land in western Canada for the purpose of introducing the English system of tenant farming out there. The Hamilton Herald says that the scheme will not be likely to succeed, tenant-farming not being suitable for a country where land is to be obtained cheap. It appears, however, that the duke's enterprise is of another character. He proposes to bring out English and Scotch farmers and settle them on western farms of which they will be able to become the owners by means of a system of easy payments.

This is a public spirited and patriotic enterprise which deserves encouragement, and it is to be hoped that the duke will find such encouragement among the Canadian politicians and capitalists whose sympathy and aid he is seeking. The most desirable settlers for the Canadian west are people from the British isles—"who speak the tongue that Shakespeare spake; the faith and morals hold that Milton held." They will supply the steadying element in the population of the west. In view of the great influx of foreigners, such an element is evidently desirable.

Premier Whitney, in maturing a forward policy for Northern Ontario might study with advantage the system of settlement which the duke of Sutherland proposes to introduce.

Grand Trunk Pacific Preparing for Fall Rush of Business to the Canadian West.

Another step in the progress of development of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway has been made. The new freight shed on the Mission Terminal, Fort William, will be available for occupancy the latter part of this week. It is nine hundred feet long, and seventy feet wide, located alongside the basin, opposite the elevator, and equipped with trackage sufficient for one hundred cars, each setting.

This shed is part of the permanent layout of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway, and will, next spring, be utilized for the handling of through lake-and-rail freight, interchanged with the various boat lines.

For the balance of this season the Grand Trunk Pacific will handle their through lake freight at their present temporary quarters at Westfort, and the new shed will be utilized for storage purposes.

Remember, Mr. Investor, inside property in North Vancouver, is as yet cheaper than property in Point Grey, Fairview, South Vancouver, or Grand View, on the outskirts of Vancouver. 5 years ago an investor North Vancouver, far $10,000, to-day bought a corner on Lonsdale Avenue the same piece of property is worth $100,000.00. We can buy for our clients to-day property for investment from $1000 to $50,000.00 and over and can almost guarantee a profit of from 25 per cent. to 50 per cent. in a couple of years.

3rd—Investments in Mortgages and Agreements of Sale which represent a very safe and sure investment and bring in from 8 to 10 per cent. per year. Nearly every day some party calls in our office and invests his money in Mortgages or Agreements of Sale. They say they prefer absolute safety for their money with a good rate of interest, rather than no interest with a hope of increase in selling value.

Progress is the dominant note in the City of Vancouver to-day, and where progress is, where wealth accumulates, there will realty values advance, and this is inevitable in Vancouver.

Creeps like a Serpent

Catarrh is an insidious disease, scarcely noticeable at first, but horribly relentless if not checked.

No disease makes such inroads into weak constitutions as Catarrh. It spreads from the place of beginning to the lungs, bronchial tubes, stomach, intestines, and before long all the organs of the body are affected.

A splendid remedy, attended with remarkable success in curing Catarrh has lately come prominently to the front. Its name is Catarrhozone, and no case is recorded where it failed to quickly relieve and cure.

The strong points about Catarrhozone are that it is both a local and constitutional treatment. It not only affords quick relief to the local symptoms, but also purifies the blood of all Catarrhal poisons, builds up and strengthens the system.

Catarrhozone Inhaler supplies an abundance of medicated air which is breathed in at the mouth, and after passing through every air cell and air passage of the breathing organs, is slowly exhaled through the nostrils.

This penetrating, volatile antiseptic at once kills the germs that cause Catarrh, and prevents the disease spreading when once established. It is so healing and soothing that the inflamed membranes, and sore spots are restored to normal and healthy condition in a few days.

Catarrhozone cleanses the nose and throat and keeps them entirely free of mucous discharge. It prevents dropping in the throat, cures headache and makes breathing easy and the breath pure and sweet.

To build up and invigorate the system, a blood purifier and tonic called Ferrozone should be taken after each meal. In conjunction with Catarrhozone it is a valuable aid in establishing such a healthy condition of the body that Catarrh cannot exist.

Other remedies have been known to give relief, but to permanently eradicate every trace of Catarrh you must use Catarrhozone. It is a common-sense, convenient, clean method of cure that is endorsed by the profession and all intelligent pharmacists.

You are sure to be benefited quickly and positively cured by Catarrhozone. The complete outfit costs only $1.00. Trial size, 25c. Sold by Druggists, and The Catarrhozone Company, Buffalo, N. Y.

BIG FORTUNE IS ON OFFER

Five Franc Coin of Great Napoleon Contains Order for Over Seven Million Dollars Which Can Still be Redeemed.

Somewhere in the world — possibly among the relics kept by some lover of the great Napoleon — there is a fortune, perhaps unsuspected.

Among the coins Napoleon had minted, were some millions of 5 franc pieces, and he determined to popularize these in an extraordinary way. In one of the coins, folded to a tiny size, was enclosed a note signed by Napoleon, and promising the sum of 5,000,000 francs, about $1,000,000, to the finder of that particular coin. Naturally everybody who changed a large piece demanded the new 5 franc coins in exchange, and as a rule probed and dug and sounded the metal in eager search for the hidden note. But the years went on and yet the note did not appear. Napoleon's plighted word is a sacred trust to the French nation, and today the government stands ready to pay the debt — which, with interest, is now worth $7,350,000 — upon demand.

Progress in India

An Englishman, while walking through a remote village of the Deccan, noticed a large stone pillar, richly carved, lying by the roadside. He asked the origin and destination of the monolith. It was for the porch of a temple on the brow of a precipice two miles away, overlooking the hamlet. The headman of the place, to whom the Briton had applied for information, explained that the villagers dragged the monolith on great festival days. In his lifetime, he added, they had moved it a hundred yards.

The headman was nearly fifty years of age, a circumstance that occasioned the foreigner much astonishment in connection with the foregoing statements. He wondered how long a period would elapse before the pillar would reach its destination.

"The English are in such a hurry," was the reply. "They come and they go. Others have come and gone their way, and so will you. But the pillar will reach the summit."

WHEN THE U. S. FOUGHT TURKEY

A Century Ago United States Took Turkey to Task, and After Daring Attack Work Brought Enemy to Attention.

Most people have forgotten their history to the extent of overlooking the fact that where the Italian fleet is today ships of war of the United States were operating a little over a hundred years ago.

That war was signalized by the loss of an American frigate, but also by what Lord Nelson declared to be "the most bold and daring act of the age." The frigate Philadelphia was one of the vessels built for the war with France, which ended almost as soon as it began. She was on the Mediterranean station, and, under Capt. Bainbridge, went aground on an uncharted reef in the harbor of Tripoli while chasing a prize. The officers and men were captured and confined in dungeons. Thence Bainbridge managed to send word to the Americans to destroy the Philadelphia, which had been hauled off and manned by the Tripolitans.

This enterprise was conducted by Lieut. Stephens Decatur and a volunteer crew. Decatur performed his task of great danger and difficulty with complete success. The Philadelphia was captured, but, of course, it was impossible to take her out. She was set ablaze and the Americans sailed away with only one man wounded. It was a little later that the bashaw was compelled to make peace at the cannon's mouth, and since then the States has had very little interest in Tripoli, as it lies far outside the range of their commerce.

A few years ago an American artist, who was spending some months in Tripoli, hired a diver to go down and bring up some of the wreck of the Philadelphia, which is plainly visible in fair weather. Some of the wood is now in America in the shape of paper weights and the like.

WHY OUR CORNS ARE SO NAMED

Man Pays Irritating Penalty for the Invention and Use of Foot-Wear, and Titles the Outcome a Horn.

As man finds that his unprotected feet are not very safe to use for walking upon, he invents boots and shoes and sandals to protect them. But often we have to pay a penalty for our cleverness, for boots and shoes are apt to cause pressure on the soft, thin skin of our toes just where it lies close to the bone, with scarcely any padding between. The skin, in places where it is padded, can stand occasional pressure very well without injury, but the case is different where the skin is practically just over the bone. If the skin did nothing, it would be worn through in such a case. Therefore it tries to protect itself in circumstances to which it should never have been exposed, and the result is the corn.

A corn is due to a great thickening of the thin, horny layer which is found in the skin everywhere. It can only be really cured by removing the cause which produced it. We can keep a corn in check by paring away the horny material as it gets thicker or by putting something on it which has the same result, but we shall not cure the corn until we cease to apply the pressure which excites and irritates the horny layer of the skin to thicken itself. Corns are named from the Latin word cornu, meaning a horn, and the horns of some animals are also made from the horny layer of the skin.

A Mathematical Curiosity

Charles Barnes, the American short story writer, was once travelling for local colour, when he entered a cafe which had a coloured water. "I need something to eliminate the robins from my eaves," said Mr. Barnes. "Get me, Sam?" Samuel said he "got" Mr. Barnes. "Ah got just the finest drink what evah pass down a man's throat!" said Samuel. "Ah done thought it up mahself. Mah boss nevah starts the day wivout he puts in a layer of 'em." Mr. Barnes ordered one of the new invention. He leaned listlessly on the counter watching Samuel make the toddy. Sam flicked some of this cordial and some of that into the glass, and when finished it tasted to Mr. Barnes's parched gullet as good as it looked. He at once demanded the recipe. "Well, sah," said Sam. "Ah take one-half Scotch whisky and one-half Vermouth and one-half sherry—" Mr. Barnes interrupted. "That can't be right," said he. "There can't be more than two halves in anything." "Boss," said the waiter, "the way Ah mix dat drink there's four halves in it!"

Comfort for the Feet

Here are some useful points from a doctor's advice:

Never wear a shoe that will not allow the great toe to lie in a straight line.

Never wear a shoe that pinches at the heel.

Never wear a shoe tight anywhere or so loose that it does not hold to the foot.

Never come from high heels to low heels at a jump.

Never wear one pair or shoes all the time unless obliged to do so. Two pairs of boots worn a day at a time alternately give more service, and are much more healthy.

Never wear stocking short in the feet. Be sure they will allow your toes to spread out at the extreme ends, as this keeps the joints in place and makes a strong and attractive foot.

Edmonton to Winnipeg by Grand Trunk Pacific.

Before leaving Canada, Mr. Hamar Greenwood, Member of Parliament, British House of Commons, wrote to the Grand Trunk Railway System, in connection with his trip over their lines in Canada, and in which he says: "We especially enjoyed the journey from Edmonton to Winnipeg which we made on your System in the best equipped train I ever saw in my life. You have fixed a very high standard, if this train is the standard up to which you are working."

THE BACKWOODSMAN

By Acton Seymour.

She had caught a word on the outskirts of the crowd.

Hats came off to her as she passed. But she was too indignant to respond.

"Blinn!" cried his father, over the heads of the crowd, trying to get to him. "What do you mean by disgracing yourself in this fashion?"

But his son did not turn his head Neither he nor George saw the girl, though she was lifted above the throng on her horse. The two, like gladiators in the arena, had eyes only for each other.

"Every one along this border knows how I stand toward Clare Corran," insisted Wiggin. "There's no Montreal dude coming along here and take her! You've got one sample of——"

A man stood between the two, wondering whether he had better let them get together. George settled his doubts. He seized the man, and tossed him far against the bulwarked bystanders. He faced Wiggin, breast to breast, and eye to eye.

Silence fell on them all. They wanted to hear what this stranger with his blood-marked face had to stay to the man who had struck the foul blow. George broke in on the threat.

"You cheap coward! I never saw you before to-day — but you are a coward. I'm not talking about how you struck me. I'll settle that with you, later. I'll do it without making a public show of it. But just now I want to say to you that if you insult a woman's name by bringing it into this quarrel again I'll drive your blatherskite tongue down your throat. And I'll do it now."

In his rage, Wiggin might have provoked the decisive combat there and then by persisting in his charges, but an interruption occurred that checked even his speech, much more his attack.

Clare Corran leaped her horse through the ring of humanity that hemmed the foes, and rode between them.

"I heard my name, here," she said simply and icily. It was a tone that hushed both the combattants. She gazed first at one and then at the other. It was the same look for both —indignant reproof.

Shame, sudden and almost unexplainable, choked rage when he strove to speak. He could not wholly understand his embarrassment.

"You were the one that spoke it," she went on, turning at last to Wiggin. "Come, sir, tell me —, by what right are you shouting my name in your street brawls?"

Wiggin hesitated, sullen and apprehensive.

"Excuse me, Miss Clare," said Bill Kyle, stopping forward, his hat in his hand. "I'm disinterested in this thing." He refused to be frozen by Harry George's accusing stare. "The stranger, here, name o' George — Great Trust Co.'s new man up this way — ain't to blame. I'm fair, and I want to see fair usage. But, for some reason, Blinn seems to think the stranger is tryin' to cut him with you, and——"

But George broke in, his ire breaking bounds.

"I am a stranger here, Miss Corran, as this man says. And, as a stranger, it seems to me that I have met nothing but fools and prize fighters, so far. This man attacked me without cause."

"Hit you when you wa'n't lookin'," cried a man in the crowd. "If Wiggin is your beau, Miss Clare, you'll have to be ashamed of him, after this!"

Sudden passion painted the scarlet on her cheeks. But, before she could speak, George came close to her horse.

"It is shameful — shameful!" he protested. "I beg you to believe that I'm not responsible for this insult to you."

"You needn't try to lie it off on to me," shouted young Wiggin.

"You was the one that claimed she was your gal," cried the babbler. "And t'other feller was tryin' to shut you up!"

There was uproar, but she checked it by raising her hand. The spirit of command was in her.

"I heard enough, myself, to understand where the fault lies." She did not raise her voice. But in the hush, she was heard to the farthest limits of the crowd. Jepson Wiggin had squirmed through the press, and was trying to speak to her.

"Blinn was excited, Miss Clare," he pleaded. "He didn't mean all that." But she ignored the father. She fixed her gaze on the son.

"This isn't the first time you have bandied my name in public, Blinn Wiggin. You have been making a boast of me along the border. Don't you dare to speak, now! I know what I am talking about. I have not said anything, before; but I tell you to your face, now, that a boast from you is an insult to an honest girl. I know about you. I haven't any father, now, to protect me from insult. I haven't brother or lover to take my part."

Tears sparkled in her eyes, but her voice did not break.

"I can protect myself, though. And for you, or any other cur that lies about me, I have—this!"

Before Wiggin or the rest of them realized what she was about to do, she lifted her whip, and brought it down across his upturned face. He leaped back, a weal blossoming across his pale cheek from eye to eye. Then, she whirled her horse, and galloped away, men tumbling out of her course.

"By the jumped-up beeswax, old Corn Corran didn't take all his grit to tophet with him," declared a voice in the crowd.

George drove himself forward toward Wiggin, elbowing men to right and left. He was no longer in the mood of one lacking subject for quarrel. His fingers itched to get at the adversary who had brought him into such shameful situation. He was not thinking about the blow whose badge he wore on his face. Even in the whirl of his thoughts, he realized that he had now become the champion of the girl who had been insulted, and who had been forced to be her own protector.

Jepson Wiggin saw him coming, and flung himself on his son, pushing him farther into the crowd.

"Keep him off! Keep him off!" cried the father. "Hold 'em apart. There mustn't be trouble here. It will disgrace us to have trouble."

"That cur has got an account to settle with me," raged Harry, struggling with the men who seized him. The commands of the magnate of the village had summoned volunteers.

"I'm sure there must be a misunderstanding, Mr. George — do I get the name right — Mr. George, I believe? Of the Great Trust Co.?" He was nervous. He was apologetic. And, underneath the eagerness of his appeal as mediator, there was something that stirred the wonder of the young man, excited as he was. It was as though Wiggin were trying to convey a hint to him; trying to signify that there was a mutual understanding.

"I shall see you again as soon as possible," the old man went on. "We can arrange the matter. I'm sure we can." Again, he spoke with significance. He reached down, and took George's hand and shook it. Then, he turned away. His son had begun to cry threats and further insults.

"I have just this much to say to you, sir," said George. The hot blood of his youth rose in him. He wanted to declare himself before them all.

He took one step toward young Wiggin, and wagged a monitory forefinger. "The trouble between us will be squared when the time comes. But you keep the woman out of it, you yapping hound!"

He forced his way through the crowd, got a pitcher of cool water in the tavern washroom, and went to his room. He had got a look at his face in a mirror in the office. He suddenly realized that he was not a pleasant object for the eye to rest upon.

VI.

By what he saw from his window and what he heard after night fell. George decided that the "funeral parade" was far from closing the obsequies of Cornelius Corran. That part of the programme had merely started the event off in good shape.

In the evening, there were fireworks. The bands played with a drunken persistency and a lack of harmony that nearly drove the young man frantic. Revel roared in the single street. Hoarse mirth was broken in upon by the howls of fighters. It was plain that a wild night was to be devoted to the memory of the lord of Toban.

George drew down the ragged shade of his one window. He tried to occupy his mind with a cheap novel that he had picked up in the office on his way back to his room from supper.

A discreet tap on his door startled him. He opened to the visitor, thinking Romeo Bragg had come to consult about a start in the morning

Jepson Wiggin stepped in, and closed the door behind him.

"I watched my chance to come up," he said. "I'm sure no one saw me. It's a busy gang of ruffians out there, Mr. George."

The young man accounted for this air of mystery by the ready supposition that the father of Blinn Wiggin would not like to be seen in company with his son's sworn foe.

The gaunt old man eased himself upon a chair, scrutinising his host keenly.

"I'm sorry you got mixed up with my son in that way. But you came to town at a bad time. Too much liquor all around! Blinn wouldn't have done it if he'd been sober. But I know you won't blame me! It's a matter entirely outside of business, eh, Mr. George? A young fool's performance mustn't get in the way of more serious things. Eh?"

His shrewd eyes were boring the young man. He acted like one who was treading carefully up to the door of a subject, waiting to be assured that he might enter.

"I'll not let your son interfere with my business, you can be certain of that! You advise him to keep away from me."

"I'm done with him," protested the old man. "It's just as though he wasn't my son at all! I haven't been able to do anything with him. He had his chance, and he's fooled it away! You've got eyes, and you've got ears! If any one, after this, tells you that I'm playing to arrange the thing through any hitch-up between Blinn and the girl, you're in a position to know better, eh? I've got that much reason for being glad that the thing did happen, bad as it was. But they can't fool you, after this — you saw enough to know that's all off. He had his chance. He fooled it away, I say!"

George stared at him, understanding only a part.

"So you see we can do business. I haven't got any interests anywhere else."

Animal Love.

Mother love is universal, and there is no love like the mother love. Most of the high and lofty loving in this world is done by mothers. Apart from this the work of wooing falls to the male members of the family whether it be the human family or some one of the other animal tribes. We read how, ages ago, a Bulbul, or Oriental Nightingale, wooed a white rose until it blushed red, and that was the beginning of the red rose. The Spanish Cavalier stands out in the rain and serenades his "Dulce Mia" until there is a crick in his neck, while she sits sheltered in a window above.

The cackle of the loon may be a love song for all we know. Maybe that's what made him loony in the first place.

The wild moose bellows his passion across the lake, and as likely as not the answering call is from a bark horn in the hands of a hunter, luring him to death.

It seems a sizzling shame, but if you will take a Grand Trunk train and travel into the "Highlands of Ontario" you will find men doing that very thing; arguing, doubtless, that all is fair in love and war.

A De Luxe Booklet.

The railways of the American Continent vie with each other in producing their publications in artistic and attractive style and the Grand Trunk have received the palm from connoisseurs for being the leaders in this direction. With their usual taste they have just issued a very handsome brochure slightly different to the ordinary run of railway booklets, inasmuch as there is not any descriptive matter in the publication, but it is a book of views that tell their story without words. The name of this unique piece of advertising is simply "Vistas" with the Grand Trunk trade mark on one corner of the cover. The cover itself is a reproduction in colors from a painting of "The International Limited" the finest and fastest train in Canada. Inside the book are found maps of the Grand Trunk Railway system and the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway and a series of sixty-one pictures of Canadian scenes. These pictures are reproduced in the finest of half tone process from direct photographic negatives and printed on high class coated paper. The booklet is a credit to the Company.

These awards have been made under the following:—"Arts and Crafts"; "Engineering, Lighting, and Transportation"; and "Building Trades"; also "Advertising." This is considered by the Companies named as a great honor, as other railways exhibiting at the Exhibition have only received one award.

The official report from the Grand Trunk representative at this Exhibition, for week ending September 9th, shows that the number of persons visiting the Grand Trunk Pavilion was 21,186, bringing the attendance up to September 9th to 270,942 people.

Out Canadian Rockies.

Trunk Pacific Railway from Mr. Armountain climber and topographer, who is at present in the Canadian Rockies making observations for the purpose of mapping out the district, he says:

"We have a great amount of splendid material for publication and a collection of photographs that cannot be surpassed. We have just completed what is very nearly a 100 mile circuit around Mt. Robson, the highest peak in the Canadian Rockies. The peaks and valleys, lakes and waterfalls on all sides of it, and the glaciers are very fine. The region is immense, and there is work for years to come, exploring, mapping and depicting. There is a fine bunch of high peaks and large snowfields and glaciers southwest of Tete Jaune Cache. There are also great peaks on the Athabaska and Fraser headwaters, tributary to your line. The most showy part of Mt. Robson is the Robson Pass and Glacier, and Berg Lake."

Real Estate, Mining and Industrial Investments

HOW $100 GREW TO $31620

The value and importance of any enterprise must be based on the profits and dividends it can earn. In this respect the Midway Maple Leaf Oil Company, Limited, is without a parallel in the line of investments.

It combines the attractive factors which are needed to make the perfect investment—viz., safety, large earning capacity and low cost of the stock at the start. It is not at all uncommon for oil stocks to begin at a few cents a share and jump to hundreds of dollars a share—sometimes thousands.

	Started at	Has Sold at
Central	10 cents	$2.10
Monte Cristo	10 cents	$4.00
Lucile	10 cents	$16.00
Silver Tip	25 cents	$4.00
San Francisco and McKittrick	40 cents	$28.00
Kern River	50 cents	$8.75
Peerless	50 cents	$8.75
Puente	$10.00	$150.00
Home	$10.00	$5000.00

This list, taken from San Francisco and Los Angeles Stock Exchange records, could be added to almost indefinitely.

Fortunes have been made from stock increases. stock is $200, YOUR YEARLY PROFIT ON AN INVESTMENT OF $300.

When we have ten wells sunk you can reasonably figure on AN ANNUAL PROFIT ON YOUR HOLDINGS OF $2000.

$2000 A YEAR. DOESN'T THIS APPEAL

Many a case could be cited similar to that of Richard Ellis, clerk in a store in Los Angeles, whose investment of $100 became worth $31,620 in a short time. There are hundreds of such cases in Los Angeles alone.

$2000.00 Profit a Year

Do you realize that stock in the Midway Maple Leaf Oil Company, Limited, at the present price of 30 cents a share is not merely the opportunity of the year—IT IS THE OPPORTUNITY OF A LIFETIME.

If you have $10, $50, $100 or $500 YOU SIMPLY CAN NOT AFFORD TO PASS IT UP.

If we develop only a 1000 barrel well of 26 gravity oil, this production alone will be sufficient to enable the corporation to pay a dividend of 20 per cent. and at the same time have sufficient capital to continue the drilling of wells.

1000 shares of stock at the present price of 30c costs only $300.

20 per cent. dividend on the par value of the TO YOU? Wouldn't you like to be coming up to this office every three months and getting your dividend cheque for $500?

Remember, too, that your stock holdings in Midway Maple Leaf, if you should want to sell them should be worth $18,000 or sixty times the amount of your original investment.

Consider These Facts

The Midway Maple Leaf Oil Company is working in proven gusher territory, the richest oil zone in the world, controlling 40 acres on one-eighth royalty, with the great advantage of the option to purchase at only $1250 per acre after oil is struck, and the ground must then be worth at least $5000 per acre. This means a clean profit of $150,000 over purchase price. It has been demonstrated completely by gushers on adjoining Standard and Honolulu ground, that this portion of the Midway field is not only the richest portion of the whole district, but that it produces the highest grade of oil found in the entire vicinity, and worth 30 per cent. more per barrel at the well.

Present Allotment of 25,000 Shares at 30c Going Fast

Call at my office at once and get your order in for the amount of stock that you want. If it isn't convenient for you to call, either wire and let your remittance follow by mail, or get your remittance in by the first mail possible.

$30 cash, or $6 down and $6 a month for four months, buys 100 shares.

$60 cash, or $12 down and $12 a month for four months, buys 200 shares.

$120 cash, or $24 down and $24 a month for four months, buys 400 shares.

$480 cash, or $96 down and $96 a month for four months, buys 1600 shares.

THE BALD LAKE BRIDGE

Deputation May Go To Ottawa to Ask for Government Aid.

It has been a long cherished project of all those who take any interest in the northern part of Peterborough county, to unite the east and west parts of the township of Harvey which are separated entirely by the northern arm of Pigeon Lake, known as Bald Lake. Bald Lake narrows is the only feasible point for a bridge which with the fill-in, will be a matter of no small expense. However, it must be done sooner or later, in the interests of trade, and Mr. Burnham wrote to the Minister of Public Works explaining the matter, and asking that it be taken into consideration in the estimates soon to be laid before parliament. The minister replied that the matter has been entered upon its first stage, that of serious consideration. It will remain no doubt for the County Council to act with Mr. Burnham in pressing this matter to a successful issue. It would be worth while for Peterboro' City Council to unite with the County Council in sending a deputation to Ottawa on the assembling of parliament. There is no doubt that this bridge would work a revolution in land values in that part of the country and in the possibilities of improved circulation of trade Mr. Burnham stands ready to push this project as also the bridge at Gannons to the best of his ability and there is no reason why both projects should not be accomplished in the near future, and the proposition of the Pigeon Lake floating bridge is one that will probably be taken up.

The Moose and the Lilly Pad.

The moose's love for the lily pad that floats on the surface of the northern lakes make him appear reckless and unafraid. In summer, even in September, the fishermen often cut him off from the shore, drive him into deep water and have fun with him. Sometimes, when the moose reaches shoal water and gets his hind feet on the bottom, he has fun with the fisherman, smashes his canoe and makes him swim for his life.

However, after the shooting season opens the moose becomes more cautious.

There are thousands of moose around Lake Temagami. At North Bay you change from the Grand Trunk to the Temiskaming and Northern Ontario and get off at Temagami Station.

The Fort Garry.

The work of constructing the second of the Grand Trunk's System of palatial hotels has begun at Winnipeg. It has been definitely and finally decided that the Winnipeg hotel, which will be of the same style of architecture as the magnificent "Chateau Laurier" at Ottawa, shall be called "The Fort Garry."

THE COMFORT OF INDEPENDENCE ASSURED THE B. C. FRUIT GROWER

In British Columbia Fruit Growing is synonymous with Success. The fame of the five-acre fruit farms of the Fraser Valley is spreading to every corner of this continent. Already "Fruit" suggests the Pacific Coast, soon it will direct the thoughts instinctively to British Columbia, particularly to the lower Fraser River Valley.

FLESHERTON GARDENS, which I am now selling, is the cream of this Valley land. The soil is a rich deep chocolate, humous and friable, free from weeds, stones or stumps. Good roads lead to the property and two railways are ready to carry the fruit to market. The Chilliwack line of the B. C. Electric Railway CUTS THROUGH FLESHERTON GARDENS, and the Victoria, Vancouver and Eastern is only a few yards away. Over a dozen trains pass the property every day, and the traffic will increase in the immediate future.

BIG PROFITS IN FRUITS AND VEGETABLES.

Do you know that you can make immense profits in fruits, tubers and vegetables on the Coast? To-day last year's potatoes are selling at $70 a ton in Seattle, only a few miles from here. In Westminster and Vancouver the price is from $60 to $65 a ton. Cherries fetch 50c a pound and strawberries 25c a box. All other fruits are high in proportion. Remember these are NOT FANCY PRICES, but to-day's quotations. There is no difficulty in selling the fruit, for people here have the money and don't mind the price.

IT'S EASY TO SECURE THE LAND

I have placed FLESHERTON GARDENS on the market on very easy terms, $200 cash and the balance spread over several years. You can have your pick of these five acre farms at from $150 to $350 per acre. You cannot find a better investment anywhere; no matter how rosy other prospects may be, this one leads them all.

Sign this blank, and mail it to me NOW. I can tell you a great deal more about FLESHERTON GARDANS in a personal letter. It's to your advantage to get all the information you can.

Chest Inflammation

Suffered From a Heavy Cold, Pleuritic Pains in Side—Constant Coughing

"NERVILINE" CURED QUICKLY

"Anyone that goes through all that I suffered last winter will appreciate the value of a remedy that cures like Nerviline cured me." These are the opening words of the solemn declaration of E. P. Von Hayden, the well-known violinist of Middleton. "My work kept me out late at night, and playing in cold drafty places brought on a severe cold that settled on my chest. I had a harsh racking cough and severe pains darted through my sides and settled in my shoulders. I used different liniments, but none broke up my cold till I used Nerviline. I rubbed it on my neck, chest and shoulders, morning and night, and all the pain disappeared. Realizing that such a heavy cold had run down my system, I took Ferrozone at meals, and was completely built up and strengthened. Since using Nerviline I have no more colds or pleurisy, and enjoy perfect health."

NERVILINE CURES CHEST COLDS

It's because Nerviline contains the purest and most healing essences and medicinal principles, because it has the power of sinking through the pores to the kernel of the pain—these are the reasons why it breaks up colds, cures lumbago, stiffness, neuralgia, sciatica and rheumatism. Refuse any substitute your dealer may suggest—insist on Nerviline only. Large size bottles 50c, or sample size 25c. Sold everywhere, or The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

However, they deemed it advisable to purchase land in the south and eastwards for parks, and a motion to this effect was passed.

Narrow Escape.

Yesterday afternoon a serious accident was narrowly averted on Aylmer street, directly opposite the bowling green. A boy about ten years of age was going down Aylmer street on a bicycle and on account of his interest in watching the bowlers as he passed, did not notice a horse and rig approaching. The result was that he rode in between the shaft and wheel and the bowlers who ran to hold the horse, which was rearing considerably, had some difficulty in extracating him. The shaft of the rig was broken, but the boy did not sustain any injuries at all.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by Catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free.

Bumped Through the Wall.

Another engine on the G.T.R. has been misbehaving and again the north end of the engine shed was the victim yesterday morning, the baggage car of the Belleville train was the cause of the accident. Owing to some misinterpretation of orders, one of the brakemen loosed two cars from the train and before they could be stopped, they had gone straight through the end of the building. Just a few weeks ago the east part of that end had been damaged and yesterday's accident finished the destruction. The car was very slightly damaged.

He Knew Them All

At one time Professor Snow, a well-known Kansas naturalist, was out with a party of students on his annual insect hunt, states the author of the "Life of a Fossil Hunter," when the owner of a large herd of Texas cattle, who was passing through, noticed the party out on the prairie with their nets in their hands, running about as if possessed. It happened to be the first time that he had ever seen insect-collectors at work, and his curiosity was aroused.

"What are those men doing?" he asked Jim Thompson.

"Catching bugs," was the laconic reply.

"I don't believe it," said the cowman. "They are grown men."

"All right," said Jim, "you can find out for yourself if you want to."

The man started off after the professor, and I waited, with a good deal of curiosity, to hear his report on the conversation. On his return he was in a brown study. The professor had taken him into his tent, and shown him hundreds of mounted insects, reeling off their names to him until his head whirled.

"Well, did I tell you the truth?" Jim asked.

"That man," said the cow-man, "is the smartest man I ever saw. He knows the names and surnames of all the bugs in this country."

How Jones Lost Toes

Jones was a man whose boast had always been that whatever he dared he could do, but his braggadocio ended rather seriously — for him.

His friends declared that he would not stay in a certain haunted room for one night, and as the idea of being afraid of anything was particularly distasteful to him, Jones decided to accept the challenge to do so.

He slipped a revolver under his pillow and slept peacefully for a few hours. Then he was awakened by a peculiar moaning sound, the weirdness of which thrilled him with an apprehensive fear and a longing for home.

Looking towards the foot of the bed he thought he saw — a human hand!

"Remove that hand or I fire!" he shouted, bracing himself up for action.

One—two—three—no reply — then, bang!

And that's how Jones lost three of his toes.

Breakfast and the Morning Mail.

Did you ever hear that it is dangerous to open your morning mail at the breakfast table? According to a Berlin scientist, Professor Kron, it is dangerous—very. Professor Kron has succeeded in tracing several cases of contagion to the old custom of waiting until you sit down at the breakfast table before opening and going through your morning mail. He calls attention to the fact that the average man goes down to breakfast with hands and face scrupulously clean, teeth scrubbed and throat gargled. In that condition he is prepared to eat without danger of swallowing more disease germs than may have possibly escaped the watchful attentions of the cook.

But instead of doing that, he handles letters and papers which have passed through many hands before reaching his own. Between bites he opens envelopes and wrappers, and in doing so unthinkingly paves the way for the absorption of all kinds of germs which may, or may not, do him a great deal of harm.

WHITE BREAD VERSUS BROWN

Scientific Investigation Supports the Claim that White Bread is of Higher Nutritive Value and More Readily Digested

The nutritive value and digestibility of bread are subjects which have exercised the minds of dieticians from the earliest period (says "The Hospital," London, Eng.) Hippocrates imagined that unfermented bread was necessarily bad bread; Galen supported the view of Herophilus that bread which contained husks of wheat gave rise to colic; Cornaro laid stress on the fact that he ate only "fine bread"; Cardinal du Prat, famous in gastronomic history for his attachment to the dietetic rules of the school of Salern, suggested that the world would be all the better if it fell back on the hundred and one varieties of choose-cakes enumerated by Athenaeus in "The Deipnosephists." But it is only since the times of Liebig, when we learned to estimate the true value of an article of diet by judging in how far it fulfils the conditions required of an ideal diet, that we are in a position to differentiate between bad and good bread.

Tunnicliffe and Brunton in 1899, experimenting with samples of the best white bread and a whole-meal bread, showed, as conclusively as it was possible to show, that the white bread is more easily digestible than the brown, and that its nutritive value is a fraction higher. It contains relatively more proteid, and of this total proteid content that of white bread is more easily assimilated than that of brown.

It is fair to conclude that the case for "standard" bread has broken down, and that the experience of the hard-working labourers, who prefer white bread to brown, is a safe guide to follow in selecting a bread for daily consumption. The usefulness of brown bread in certain conditions is unquestionable; the usefulness of "standard" bread is a dogmatic assertion not supported by facts.

MAN HAS IDOLS UP TO DATE

Restless Desire for Novelty Causes Man to Follow Example of Jehoram, and Make Occasional Change of Idols

It is recorded of Jehoram, the son of Ahab, who reigned twelve years over Israel, that he "put away the image of Baal that his father had made." In doing this he was an example of what has been going on in various places for centuries. Turning back the page of history — that of England, for instance — we come successively to earlier and earlier stages of development and education till we get at last to the primal, savage, Ancient Briton, who painted his body with a blue seaweed and scantily clothed himself in the skins of animals when he could get them. He had his idols, suitable to his stage of development. The idols served their purpose up to a certain time. Then men got better ones. It was not fashion. It was not the mere restless desire for novelty that made them follow the example of Jehoram. The idols were often relinquished with bitter doubt and darkness and reluctance. It is the irresistible march of things that changes the idol — the eidolon; that which a man can see, and which is the representation to him of God. Very useful have these idols been in their day. Sometimes the idols were images, sometimes books, sometimes systems of theology, but they were all idols and there are similar idols in use now. It is the method of things.

Races and their Foods.

The Indians of the Western plains, who lived almost entirely on flesh, were fierce and warlike; the Esquimaux, who also live entirely on flesh, are among the mildest and most peaceable of men. The unfortunate Armenians, on the contrary, are periodically massacred by a race of bloodthirsty vegetarians. The Hindus of Bengal are the traditional horrible example of the effects of living on rice. But the Chinese and Japanese, who also live on rice — in sufficient quantity — are about the toughest and the most enduring of mankind. During the race of the allied armies to Pekin, the Japanese army, on a diet of rice and dried fish, out-marched the Europeans by 50 per cent. Even in India, the Sikhs and the Rajputs, who eat but twice a day and rarely touch meat, are among the finest men physically and the best soldiers on earth.

The World's Tobacco

The world's consumption of tobacco amounts to 30,000,000 pounds annually. The United States makes the greatest exportation of the "weed," the value being given at £8,200,000; Cuba comes next with £6,300,000; then India with £4,750,000; Great Britain follows with £1,400,000; Brazil, £800,000; Holland, £70,000; Egypt, £550,000; Algeria, £50,000; and Japan, £240,000. The largest importers are Germany, £7,000,000; the United States, Great Britain, and Austria-Hungary, £6,000,000, £5,000,000 and £2,000,000 respectively.

Knowledge hath two pillars—learning and discretion. The greatest scholar, without his two eyes of discretion and honesty, is like blind Samson—apt to do no good, yet able to do much. — T. Adams.

SONS OF REST, LANG

A meeting of the Sons of Rest, was held Saturday night in Scollie's Hall President Scollie, as usual, in the chair. He opened the meeting with a short prayer, although he said there was not much use of praying for anyone here, even though the good book says, "the prayers of the righteous availeth much." He then declared the meeting open for business.

Short-whiskered Fason laid a charge against President Bluebeard for buying apples from Jen Rennie. The President pleaded guilty and fined himself three cents and costs, to be raised by special assessment on all the members.

Sir Dude Hancox laid an accusation against Lord Squair for harboring gypsies, by bringing discredit on the noble house of Lords. The President was very angry at such a gross breach of the rules. He struck the table a severe blow with the back of the broad axe he uses for a gavel and sentenced Lord Squair to six weeks' solitary confinement in Short-whisker's horse stable, with hard labor.

Lord Squair laid a charge against his accuser for breaking the speed laws in getting down to the Orange Lodge, saying he walked to Keene in four hours and ran over a dog and two hens. The President was very much grieved and sent Sir Dude to keep Lord Squair company in the stable.

Another charge was laid by Railroad Keitel against Ballroom Speirs for pegging stones at chipmonks out of season. As he was unable to prove that any damage had been done, Ballroom was let off with a warning.

Brigadier Keitel accused Butcher Mickey with tripping a young lady at a bal, and called on Ballroom Speirs as a witness. As the butcher would not deny the charge in the face of such evidence, he was sentenced to mount guard over the two prisoners in the horse stable during the entire term of their confinement.

The President said it made his heart sad to see such a lawlessness among the brethren, but expressed a hope that they would do better in the future.

The meeting then closed with 'God Save Old Bluebeard' sung by Short-whiskers and D—— S...—— B—— ??

The sleeping cars are models of comfort, and the service on them, as well as the dining cars, couldn't be better. The Grand Trunk are setting the pace for general excellence in Western Canada."

Presentation to Mr. Hodgson.

Mr. Hodgson, of the Collegiate Institute staff, was presented with a handsome travelling bag by his fellow teachers. The affair took place in the library room of the Institute building yesterday afternoon. Principal Kenner made the presentation and in doing so took occasion to refer to the excellent work done by Mr. Hodgson and the regret which the staff felt at his departure from Peterborough. Mr. Hodgson replied in feeling terms, thanking them for the honor done him.

AUTUMN IS THE TIME FOR GLASSES — WHY?

The increasingly long evenings of Autumn give greater opportunity for Sewing, Writing, Reading, Study, and as this is necessarily by artificial light the strain upon the eyes is such as to make Glasses quite a boom at this season of the year. This no doubt, accounts for much of the present increased demand for Glasses.

CITY BOARD OF WORKS IN SESSION LAST NIGHT

NO STREET PAVING WORK THIS YEAR.

Board Will Advertise for Snow Ploughing Tenders—May Re-Survey River Front From Smith Street to Harvey Street—To Renew Insurance Policy.

The City Board of Works met last night. Moved by Alderman Graham seconded by Alderman Duncan that the Board order an additional quantity of sheet steel piling—Carried.

The Bell Telephone Company's request to erect new telephone poles was granted.

Mr. Cameron's survey of the river front from Smith street to Harvey street, shows that most of the homes in that vicinity are on the government reserve. This survey, however, is disputed by Mr. O'Connell in the interests of a client seeking recompense from the city for alleged damages to property in constructing the approaches to the Smith street bridge.

The Chairman and City Engineer were authorized to enquire of Mr. Cameron what it will cost to survey the river front from Smith street to Harvey street.

SNOW PLOUGHING.

The board decided to advertise for tenders for snow ploughing, and will ask Council's authority to let contracts for such work.

Aldermen Anderson and Duncan contended that the snow ploughing should be better executed this winter than in the past; that frequently complaints have been laid that slush was not removed according to contract.

Street Commissioner offered that on occasions it had been impossible to enforce a proper execution of these contracts, as when contractors had been fined for neglecting to properly fulfil their contract, the Board of works had remitted the fine.

Moved by Alderman Buller, seconded by Ald. Duncan,—That the chairman and engineer be authorized to renew the insurance policy on the city's road machinery and implements.

STREET PAVING.

The paving of Chambers street and part of Hunter street cannot be done this year, no offers being to hand for the work this fall. This matter was laid on the table till next spring.

CATCH BASIN WANTED.

Ald. Bradburn wanted to know why the catch basin ordered to be constructed on George street in the front of Oke's store, to provide addition surface drainage, had not yet been constructed.

Chairman Metheral replied that this matter had not been lost sight of. But much sidewalk and sewer work had been under way this season, and men scarce. However, as soon as the weather prohibits sidewalk work, this catch basin will be provided.

SAVED THE LIFE OF THE DUKE

Man Who Performed Heroic Deed Going to Ottawa

JOHN TIMSON A HERO

Saved His Royal Highness the Duke of Connaught From Serious Injury or Probable Death.

Ottawa, Oct. 28.—John Timson, who left behind him in England a long record of honorable service in the British army, and who was for many years on the Hamilton police force, claims the honor of having once saved the Duke of Connaught, Canada's new Governor General, from serious injury or death. Mr. Timson is coming to Ottawa shortly from Montreal.

It was when His Highness bore the title of Prince Arthur. Timson had joined the army in 1867 and in June or July of 1868 was participating in manoeuvres in a sham fight at the garrison town of Chatham in Kent. Thousands of troops were engaged in the mimic war and it was made very complete.

Engineers of the attacking force, under the late Gen. Simons, had constructed a scaffold bridge over some trenches outside the fort that was being attacked and had retired to allow a detachment of marines to charge across the bridge and at the fort. The marines were going at the double with bayonets fixed and through an error, or negligence, the officer in command failed to order them to "break step" while crossing the bridge. The result was that the temporary structure swayed under the steady trot of the marines and collapsed. Dozens of men were thrown into the trench and bayonets pierced many, a number dying from the introphe.

Prince Arthur was an active participant in the attack and was heading a rush across the bridge which had just collapsed when Timson, who saw the trouble, while the young prince was unable to see it, rushed out and stopped His Highness from crossing the bridge. Prince Arthur thanked Timson for his prompt action. Far from being unnerved by his narrow escape, His Highness helped materially in the rescue work among the unfortunate marines.

GREAT NETWORK OF STEEL RAILS

The C. P. R.'s Splendid New Branch Lines in the West

ARE GREAT FEEDERS

Montreal, Oct. 27. OR many months, the C.P.R. have been rushing the branch lines, and what is probably the longest of the new branch lines which the Canadian Pacific has built this year will be opened for traffic November 5th. This is the Regina Colonsay branch. There will be really two branches opened on this date because at Valport junction 24 miles from Regina a sub-line leaves the big branch and runs to Bulyea from Regina to Colonsay. It is 133 miles, while from Valeport where the smaller branch leaves the large branch to Bulyea, it is 19 miles. This means that altogether over 150 miles of new track will be opened for traffic. Which is one of the biggest pieces of new construction work that has been completed by the C.P.R. this year. Another feature which marks the opening of this line as important is that when the service was inaugurated, two trains will be run each way each day. The significance of this statement is seen when it is stated that generally when new lines are opened there are only three passenger trains a week each way run for the first few months. The announcement of the opening of these new branches brings home the fact that one of the most remarkable features of the railroading in Western Canada this year has been the unflagging enterprise of the Canadian Pacific Railway in pushing forward its branch lines to completion. Despite the fact that the C. P. R. has had to pay big prices for construction gangs owing to the scarcity of labor. Hundreds of miles of new road have been built and food service inaugurated so that in the coming settlers have had the best of transportation facilities to aid them in seeking out new homes. The building of these branch lines has in most cases involved a considerable expenditure because the C. P. R. has been pushing its network of steel rails in all directions opening vast amounts of absolutely unsettled territory.

CITY COUNCIL PASS BY-LAW PROVIDING $85,000 FOR SCHOOL PURPOSES

THE NE TEMERE

By unanimous vote the Ecumenical Conference asserts that no church decree should override the civil law. There could be no argument on such a declaration, says The News. The case has only one side. In any British country the civil law is supreme and must be so maintained if our freedom is to continue. The Ne Temere decree promulgated by the head of the Roman Catholic Church clashes in many points with the civil law. It is mediaeval in its spirit, originated as it was by the Council of Trent, and it presumes the possession of supreme power by the Church. When any church or sect assumes the powers of a Revising Court over legislation enacted by the representatives of the people, it takes an objectionable, even an arrogant position.

The Provinces of Canada have enacted certain laws governing marriage. Ontario declares that any ordained clergyman of any recognized denomination has the power to perform marriage; that is to say, a Methodist clergyman may unite in wedlock any couple, provided no "just cause or impediment" is declared. The religious beliefs of the couple is not a matter for discussion. If they produce a marriage license—the special permission of the State, the clergyman is the delegate of the Crown to perform the marriage ceremony.

It is by virtue of Provincial, not ecclesiastical authority that even a parish priest in Ontario may officiate at a wedding. Marriage is first a question touching civil rights. Secondly, it is a religious ceremony—whether sacramental or not depends upon the ecclesiastical viewpoint. A church goes far in presuming to question the validity of any marriage performed by Provincial authority. It is an assumption that must be opposed if we are to maintain the supremacy of our Parliamentary and British institutions.

There is no established church in Canada. The Roman Catholic bishops are on exactly the same footing as Anglicans, Methodists and Presbyterians. They have no power whatever that is not subject to the Legislature and the courts which are the interpreters of the Legislature. Canon law is effective in the Province of Quebec—not because it is Canon Law, but because it has been re-enacted by Provincial statute.

MORGAN GOT 62 MILLION FOR UNDERWRITING TRUST

The United States Steel Corporation was chartered under the laws of New Jersey on February 25, 1901. Its total capitalization was then $1,402,000,000 (including bonds). It is strictly a "holding company"—that is, it does not mine, manufacture, transport, or sell; it simply owns the stock of its constituent companies.

Of the $1,402,000,000 capitalization, $510,000,000 was in preferred stock; $508,000,000 in common stock; $303,000,000 of corporation bonds, and $81,000,000 of underlying and miscellaneous obligations—a total of more than $1,402,000,000.

The commission to the Morgan Underwriting Syndicate, according to Commissioner of Corporations Smith was $62,500,000 in cash.

The Steel Corporation, according to Smith, showed a total investment in tangible property on December 31, 1910, of $1,167,000,000, as against outstanding securities of $1,468,000,000, with $281,900,000 worth of "water" in the stock. On the outstanding obligations, however, the corporation was earning 12 per cent., according to Smith's figures. In 1901, according to Smith, the tangible property was worth only $682,000,000, against obligations of $1,400,000,000—showing $718,000,000 "watered" stock. In ten years, more than $425,000,000 had been added to the tangible valuation of the corporation.

ASSERT RICHESON MIXED FLOUR AND POISON

Boston, Oct. 27.—Important developments were expected at to-day's session of the Grand Jury which is hearing evidence against the Rev. Clarence V. T. Richeson, charged with murdering Miss Avis Linnell, the young Hyannis music student, in this city Oct. 14. It was believed that the inquiry would be finished in sufficient time to make a report to-morrow.

It was reported to-day that books removed by the police from Richeson's rooms at the Carter Home in Cambridge yesterday will be subjected to a minute examination, in which expert chemists will figure.

This action is said to be in connection with a report that the minister two days after the death of Avis Linnell, procured a bowl of flour from Mrs. Carter and mixed it up with some substance. He is reported to have told her that he wished to make paste for mending books, and upon returning the bowl is alleged to have told her that poison had been contained in it.

Before the Grand Jury met, it was expected that several of the witnesses examined yesterday would be recalled to-day and also new witnesses, including friends of Avis Linnell, who are said to have information concerning her reported engagement with the clergyman, would be summoned.

Corner Stone of New Protestant Home to Be Laid To-day—Damages Asked as a Result of Street Light Not Burning—City Council Will Visit Ottawa on the Power Question.

The City Fathers met last night. There were present Mayor Morrow, Aldermen Morgan, Anderson, Kernaghan, Graham, Brown, Edgar, Metheral, Bradburn, Duncan and Buller.

TO REMOVE PIG PENS.

The City Trust Commissioners wrote that they requested the Council to remove the pig pen on the market and keep the square in a sanitary condition. Referred to the market committee.

WILL NOT BUY SITE FOR CITY HALL.

The City Trust Commissioners wrote that they could not see their way clear to draw from their sinking fund for the purchase of the Birdsall property as a city hall site. The Commissioners acquiesced in the purchase of the east city park property and the best property as a park for south city.—Received.

TO LAY CORNER STONE.

The directors of the Protestant Home invited the Council to be present at the laying of the corner stone of the new home to-morrow afternoon at three o'clock. As many as possible will attend.

$500 DAMAGES.

O'Connell & Gordon wrote that John R. Scott was struck by a horse and vehicle at the corner of Mark and Maria streets, as a result of the electric light being out. The solicitors claim that their client was seriously injured and will be unable to work for several months and possibly feel the effects of the accident the balance of his life. $500 damages are asked and advice that an answer from the Council re this matter will be awaited until November 6th.—Referred to the Legal Committee.

A number of minor communications were referred to their respective committees.

FINANCE REPORT.

Ald. Bradburn submitted the following:

Gentlemen,—Your Finance Committee beg leave to report and recommend as follows:

That the $6,000 be paid to the Bonner-Worth Company when, the Council is advised in writing by Mr. Hall, the City Solicitor, that the mortgage and other documents are in proper form and that the mortgage has been registered.

That the Lancashire Dynamo and Motor Co. be paid $1,357.62 on account.

That the payment of the pay sheets for special work done in connection with the sewerage work in the southern part of the city be approved of.

The payment of a number of accounts.

RUTHERFORD BROS. BALANCE.

Mr. Geo. Hatton appeared for Rutherford Bros., and asked that the balance of $300 on the Public Library contract, now kept back several months owing to defective work on the pillars, be paid.

The contractors claim that the defective pillars are the fault of the architects, if any body, and offered that it was impossible to construct symmetrical pillars with the material supplied.

The Mayor replied that Rutherford Bros. had been paid all the extras asked, and it was their own proposition that the $300 be held in hand until the faulty pillars were made good.

Moved by Ald. Buller, seconded by Ald. Bradburn,—That this matter be referred to the Property Committee to effect a settlement if possible.—Carried.

SCHOOL BY-LAW.

Aldermen Morgan and Anderson fathered a by-law to provide for borrowing $85,000 for East and West City School purposes.

Moved by Ald. Metheral, seconded by Ald. Graham,—In amendment,—That a by-law be prepared and submitted to the people for the foregoing purpose.

These gentlemen submitted that as so much money was involved the matter should be submitted to the people. This amendment was lost, only the mover and seconder and Ald. Brown voting for it.

The by-law then passed its three readings, in consequence of which the Board of Education will be provided with $85,000 with which to purchase sites and erect modern school buildings in the East and West Wards.

Ald. Bradburn enquired if it was true that the school site selected for the West Ward school is outside the boundary.

Dr. Morrison replied that while the site in view was really on the boundary, the school board are not actually committed to it; should another suitable site further within the city limits offer, the board will consider it and take the public into their confidence.

Ald. Bradburn suggested that the third reading of this by-law might be held over until a more suitable site is selected for the west ward school.

Dr. Morrison assured Ald. Bradburn that the board will make every effort to get another site. They have only an option on the present one objected to by Ald. Bradburn.

Ald. Bradburn accepted this assurance, and did not further oppose the third reading of the measure.

CIVIC GOVERNMENT BY COMMISSION.

Moved by Ald. Edgar, seconded by Ald. Buller,—That at the next municipal elections a plebicite be taken on the question of Commission form of Government.

Ald. Anderson opposed the resolution and favored a Council with a Board of Control as the best form of civic government.

Aldermen Edgar and Buller supported their resolution on economic grounds.

The motion was lost, only Aldermen Edgar and Buller voting for the measure.

On motion of Ald. Bradburn, seconded by Ald. Buller, Ross and Holgate's account of $750 for reporting on the Dickson Co's property, as a power proposition for the city for municipal purposes, was ordered to be paid.

POWER! POWER!! POWER!!!

Moved by Ald. Buller, seconded by Ald. Morgan,—That the City Council go down to Ottawa at an early date and press upon the Minister of Railways and Canals the desireability of assuring to Peterborough and Eastern Ontario the same consideration in regard to power as being enjoyed in the Western part of the Province. And that Mr. J. H. Burnham, M.P., be thanked for the interest he is taking on this question, and be requested to arrange for an interview as soon as possible.

COAL STRIKE SETTLED, A SIGNAL TRIUMPH FOR MINISTER OF INTERIOR

Medicine Hat, Oct. 27.—The strike of the coal miners of Eastern British Columbia and Alberta, which has been in progress for nearly eight months, is at an end, and in the course of a few days every one of the twenty-five mines in the district will be in operation again, with seven thousand five hundred men at work.

The end of the strike was brought about through the efforts of Hon. Robert Rogers, Minister of the Interior, who came to Lethbridge yesterday to meet both parties to the long-standing dispute, and ascertain if something could not be done towards effecting a settlement. When Mr. Rogers arrived he found the miners and the operators far apart with nothing being done to bring them together. During the day he had a number of conferences with representatives of the operators and the men, and before the day was over it was considered that an agreement satisfactory to both sides was possible.

BRITISH RAILWAYS DECIDE TO INCREASE MEN'S WAGES

London, Oct. 27.—It is stated that the railway companies have decided to increase the rates of wages of all the lower grade men in their service.

This is a counter stroke to the agitation in favor of a strike to enforce better terms than those offered by the Railway Commission.

It will, in all probability, mean higher freight rates and, where possible, higher passenger rates.

OPPOSE HON. A. G. MACKAY AS THE LIBERAL LEADER

Members of the Mackenzie Club of Toronto met in Prospect Park Hall last night for a heart-to-heart talk on the present policy and position of the Liberal party in Ontario, and from a discussion of the gigantic platform which they had previously drafted for the party that tone of the gathering gradually drifted into a disquisition on the relaeionship of the leader, the Hon. A. G. MacKay, to the party as a whole. Individually, many of the members of the club weighed their leader in the balance, and found him much wanting. Many were not backward in saying hard things about the Hon. A. G. MacKay (that is as a leader and not personally), and though the consensus of opinion was that he was weaker than the strength of the party, the gathering ended in voting down a resolution to the effect that they use their influence towards securing a leader who would aid in procuring the advanced legislation for which the Liberal party has always stood.

NO OPERATION WAS EVER NEEDED HERE

BECAUSE MRS. GOODINE USED DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS.

Doctor Said She Would Have to Undergo Operation, But Dodd's Kidney Pills Cured Her.

Central Kingsclear, York Co., N.B. Oct. 27.—(Special)—"The doctor said I would have to undergo an operation." So said Mrs. J. V. Goodine, of this place. But she smiled as she made the remark, for all need of the dreaded operation had vanished. Mrs. Goodine used Dodd's Kidney Pills and is a well woman. Given in brief and in her own words, Mrs. Goodine's experience is as follows:

"I was very miserable with Kidney Disease and unable to do my own work. The doctor said I would have to undergo an operation. After using three boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills I was all better and able to do my work. This statement is true, as you can easily prove by enquiring among my neighbors."

Dodd's Kidney Pills cure the Kidneys; cured kidneys strain all the poisons and other causes of disease out of the blood. Thus Dodd's Kidney Pills are a natural cure for all Kidney diseases and all ills caused by diseased kidneys.

Mr. Hodgson Given Rousing Send Off.

Mr. Hodgson, the popular science master of our local Collegiate Institute left the city yesterday afternoon for Lethbridge, where he has accepted the position of principal of the Lethbridge High School. He was accompanied by Mrs. Hodgson, and they were given a rousing send off by the bugle band of the Collegiate Cadets, and 25 of its members. Mr. Hodgson has been science master in the Collegiate Institute for seven years, and during that time he won the friendship of many pupils and citizens, who sincerely regret his departure.

Peterborough Man at Helm

Ottawa, Oct. 28.—An independent peat plant is to be built, either in this city or near it within a short time.

In view of the fact that the industry which was instituted by the government a few years ago has grown to be such an important feature in the fuel problem of the country one or two independent companies have been considering the erection of plants, and one at least will soon be in a position to do business in this commodity.

The latest enterprise in this line promises to be quite a big thing for Ottawa. Mr. Ernest V. Moore, B.Sc., M.E., the well known peat engineer of Peterborough, is in the city in conference with the Department of Mines in connection with the construction of the plant of the company with whom he is connected.

Mr. Moore represents a number of prominent Canadian capitalists who have, after careful inspection of the government peat plant at Alfred decided to erect a similar plant, but on more extensive scale in the vicinity of one of the large bogs near Ottawa, the exact location of which will be announced shortly.

THE CANADA NATIONAL FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY

was incorporated by Special Act of the Parliament of Canada for the purpose of carrying on the business of Fire Insurance, as outlined in the Insurance Act and the Special Act of Incorporation.

Capital Stock Authorized by the Board.....$2,000,000
Capital Stock Subscribed to date.....$1,650,000

The Head Office of the Company is in the city of Winnipeg, and, in addition to this, Branch Offices and Agencies will be established throughout the Dominion.

It must be generally conceded that, owing to the satisfactory conditions at present prevailing throughout not only Western Canada, but the entire Dominion, this Company is being organized at a most favorable and opportune time.

Canada, and particularly the Western portion of the Dominion, is advancing in population and wealth more rapidly than at any other time in its history, and every indication points towards a period of great prosperity and development.

The great influx of settlers into Western Canada is resulting in tremendous activity in every line of business. Railroad construction is proceeding on a scale hitherto unknown in this country, and as adequate transportation is of vital importance in moving our immense crops with a proper degree of facility, it is highly encouraging to see so much well-directed energy along the lines of railway extension.

Coincident with railway expansion, we find many new districts rapidly filling up with desirable settlers, bringing with them a good supply of cash and effects. With the settlement of the rural districts, new towns and villages are springing up, which will, during the next few years, become, in many instances, important business centres.

With such unprecedented growth in Western as well as Eastern Canada, involving an expenditure of millions of dollars in building operations, it is at once evident that there is a very extensive and profitable field for a new Fire Insurance Company which will have a thorough organization throughout the length and breadth of the Dominion, and more particularly in the four Western Provinces.

As a great volume of our business will be transacted in the West, it is a matter of the greatest importance that the Head Office of the Company, as well as the Directors, should be located in the West, so that the affairs of the Company may be conducted to the best possible advantage.

DIRECTORS.

The Board of Directors consists entirely of Western men with a very intimate knowledge of Western conditions, and they are, accordingly, well conversant with the financial and general business requirements of the West. They are thoroughly representative of the various important branches of financial, commercial, industrial and professional life in Western Canada, and with their wide reputation for business ability and integrity, as well as financial standing, combined with a long and varied experience, and practical knowledge of business affairs, they are exceptionally well qualified to render excellent service to a large financial institution.

As the Directors have valuable connections with extensive business interests and are also Directors of other financial corporations, as well as being otherwise identified with large and influential companies which control a great deal of high-grade fire insurance, they will be instrumental in placing a large portion of this desirable insurance with the new Company, so that we may safely conclude that from the very beginning of operations a large and profitable business will be secured.

Under these favorable conditions, and with a strong, energetic, as well as experienced and conservative management, combined with the fact that each Director has subscribed for eleven thousand five hundred dollars ($11,500) of the Capital Stock, on which all calls have been paid, and takes an active interest in the welfare of the Company, there is only one conclusion to draw, and that is that the affairs of the Company will be conducted in such a careful, conscientious and intelligent manner that the interests of both policyholders and stockholders will be fully protected.

IT IS WORTHY OF NOTE THAT $1,650,000 OF CAPITAL STOCK HAS ALREADY BEEN SUBSCRIBED BY PROMINENT BUSINESS AND PROFESSIONAL MEN THROUGHOUT THE DOMINION AND ELSEWHERE.

No commission has been paid to anyone for securing stock subscriptions, and no expense has been incurred in the promotion and organization of the Company, except the expense in connection with securing the Charter and other necessary expenses.

THE CANADA NATIONAL FIRE.

The Canada National Fire, being organized in the West, MAY BE TRULY CALLED A WESTERN COMPANY, and, as such, should receive the liberal patronage and hearty co-operation of the citizens of Western Canada, as well as the support of people from Eastern Canada who desire to become associated with a strong and progressive Canadian Company.

When promoting this Company the Directors were fully convinced that there was a splendid opening in Western Canada for a Company prepared to carry on the business of Fire Insurance on a large and comprehensive scale, and which, at the same time, could offer ADEQUATE PROTECTION TO BOTH POLICYHOLDERS AND SHAREHOLDERS. Accordingly, when making application for a Dominion charter, the Company was incorporated with a capital of $3,000,000.00, of which amount the Directors decided to offer for public subscription the sum of $2,000,000.00.

THE ALL-IMPORTANT FEATURE IN FIRE INSURANCE IS PROTECTION, and with the LARGE CAPITAL, combined with the high standard of Reserve, which will be maintained through careful selection of risks and profits from judicious investments, the Directors and Management feel confident that this Company will be accorded a very hearty reception by Canadian citizens, and will soon rank as one of the leading Fire Companies.

WITHOUT A LARGE AND SUBSTANTIAL CAPITAL FOR THE PROTECTION OF THE POLICYHOLDERS, A FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY IS SERIOUSLY HANDICAPPED, AND DOES NOT AFFORD THE POLICYHOLDER THAT PROTECTION TO WHICH HE IS JUSTLY ENTITLED, and the Directors of this Company, being fully aware of this most important fact, are adopting a very wise policy in OFFERING FOR SUBSCRIPTION SUCH A LARGE AMOUNT OF CAPITAL STOCK, and when our entire stock is subscribed and paid in full it will represent the largest amount of subscribed and paid-up capital of any Canadian Fire Insurance Company, and will be a tower of strength and of very material benefit to the company in carrying on its extensive operations.

It shall be the policy of the Company to use the UTMOST DISCRETION in the selection of desirable risks, and, at the same time, to so widely distribute its business that any danger arising from a possible conflagration at any point may be reduced to a minimum.

The investment of the Company's funds will be given the GREATEST OF CARE AND ATTENTION by the Board of Directors.

Only GILT-EDGE securities will be considered, such as first mortgages on improved, productive real estate, stocks, bonds and debentures of companies of high repute, as well as Dominion securities and municipal, county and school debentures of well-established districts.

As a LARGE PERCENTAGE of these securities is READILY NEGOTIABLE, the Company will have abundant LIQUID ASSETS to meet any possible contingency that might arise.

Our first mortgage investments will be confined to Western Canada, and as the rate of interest obtainable on first-class productive real estate is FULLY TWO PER CENT. greater in the West than in Eastern Canada, the Company will have a DECIDED ADVANTAGE over Companies operating exclusively in the older portions of the Dominion. A fixed policy of the Company is to loan NOT MORE THAN FIFTY PER CENT. of a conservative value of the property, and to stipulate for a definite return of principal, together with interest, each year during the term of the loan. With these periodical repayments of principal, and with land values in Western Canada steadily increasing, the Company's first mortgage securities will continue to improve year by year.

With the active development in Western Canada, a great deal of capital will be required for many years to come, and the Company will, therefore, experience a very ready demand for its funds on high-grade securities and at a profitable rate of interest.

The Directors decided to issue the stock at the price of ONE HUNDRED AND FIFTEEN DOLLARS PER SHARE, being at a premium of fifteen per cent.

THE TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION ARE:

On application, $25.00 per share, which shall include the premium of $15.00 per share, and the balance, payable in ten consecutive half-yearly instalments of $9.00 per share, the first of such half-yearly instalments to become due and payable six months from date of allotment of shares.

GENERAL AGENT FOR CANADA

W. E. FUDGER, ESQ.

THIS IS A RARE OPPORTUNITY to secure some of the Capital Stock of a Western Fire Insurance Company. With a large amount of desirable and profitable business so readily obtainable by the Company through its valuable and extensive business connections, rapid progress should be made, and with investments carefully selected and unexcelled in earning power, the Company will be enabled to not only pay substantial dividends, but build up a large reserve, and thereby materially increase the value of the stock.

The Directors firmly believe in the policy that EVERY SHAREHOLDER SHOULD CO-OPERATE WITH THE MANAGEMENT of a Company and take an active interest in its welfare. For that reason, it is their intention to WIDELY DISTRIBUTE the CAPITAL STOCK, and by that means obtain the support of the leading business and professional men throughout the country.

With the rapid development of the West during recent years, involving an outlay of many millions of capital, it has become generally recognized that WESTERN CANADA IS VERY MUCH IN NEED OF MORE LARGE FINANCIAL INSTITUTIONS, AND ESPECIALLY OF WESTERN ORIGIN, to properly meet the growing requirements of the West, and to not only improve the present financial situation, but to materially assist in retaining, as much as possible, desirable business, with its resultant profits, within our own Western borders.

The business of fire insurance has now grown to such large proportions that it has become a very important factor in the financial and commercial world, and as its scope and influence is so general and widespread it is only natural to find that the question of AMPLE PROTECTION TO POLICYHOLDERS, which is the PRIMARY FUNCTION OF FIRE INSURANCE COMPANIES, should be so GENERALLY DISCUSSED AT THE PRESENT TIME.

This important subject has given rise to a very STRONG FEELING in Western Canada that the TIME HAS NOW ARRIVED when the Western people should organize a Fire Insurance Company of such strength and proportions that it will soon rank as one of the leading fire companies of America, and command general respect and confidence, which is so ESSENTIAL to a company that solicits the support and patronage of all classes of the community.

The Directors have every confidence that they will receive the hearty co-operation of not only Western citizens, but of people from every part of the Dominion, to build up a GREAT fire insurance company with AMPLE PROTECTION for the people, and which will be a source of pride and credit to our country.

The following Canadian Government Insurance statistics should prove of ESPECIAL INTEREST:

In the year 1869 the total amount of fire premiums collected in Canada was $1,785,539.00, whereas in the year 1909 the total premiums charged amounted to the large sum of $22,293,638.25, and of this amount $6,551,644.41 was charged by Canadian Companies, $11,518,267.45 by British Companies, and $4,223,721.39 by American Companies.

During the last forty-one years the aggregate amount of fire insurance premiums collected in Canada reached the immense total of $280,740,466.00, of which the large sum of $218,310,047.00 represents the amount of fire premiums collected by FOREIGN COUNTRIES, and which, therefore, was taken out of the country to build up foreign companies and enrich foreign shareholders.

Notwithstanding that a considerable portion of the fire premiums collected in Canada by Foreign Companies has been repaid to Canadian policyholders, through fire losses, it must be evident that the larger the proportion of Canadian fire insurance that is placed with Canadian Companies, the larger is the amount of capital retained in the Dominion and always available for investment purposes, to build up our Canadian financial institutions, and thereby add to the general wealth and prosperity of our country.

The above figures are most significant and clearly demonstrate that while the CANADIAN FIRE COMPANIES have been doing a satisfactory business they HAVE SECURED only a SMALL portion of the Fire Insurance transacted in Canada, or, to be more exact, ONLY TWENTY-TWO PER CENT. of THE TOTAL FIRE INSURANCE WRITTEN IN CANADA, covering a period of the last forty-one years. With the extraordinary progress which Canada has been making during recent years, the field for financial institutions has become so widely extended that there is a CONSTANTLY INCREASING DEMAND for new large financial corporations.

By further reference to our Government statistics it will be observed that at December 31st, 1909, the total number of Canadian Fire Companies operating under Dominion charter was ONLY TWENTY-ONE, and of this number ONLY TWO HAD A PAID-UP CAPITAL IN EXCESS OF $500,000.

In promoting this large Canadian Company the Directors are fully confident that the new organization will, with characteristic Western energy and enterprise, soon come to be recognized as an important factor in the insurance world, and as The Canada National Fire will be instrumental in RETAINING WITHIN THE BOUNDARIES OF CANADA a large amount of money which would otherwise be taken out of the country to build up foreign corporations the people of the growing Dominion will readily see the advisability of giving this Company their MORAL AND FINANCIAL SUPPORT, in order that we may build up a STRONG and VIGOROUS Company which will prove a valuable acquisition to our Canadian monetary institutions.

This is the last opportunity to secure, direct from the Company, some of this desirable stock.

It is worthy of special note that the demand for the stock has exceeded the Directors' most sanguine expectations; in fact, of the $2,000,000 of stock to be issued, $1,650,000 has already been subscribed, and, from present indications, with the large number of applications for stock being received daily, the Directors are confident that the balance of the issue, which is now only $350,000, will be subscribed by August 26th, 1911, the date appointed for the closing of stock subscriptions.

For this reason, the Directors strongly recommend the investing public to mail their applications for stock at their earliest possible opportunity.

Subscribers are requested to kindly fill in attached application form, stating name in full, number of shares desired, occupation and address, and mail the application, along with the first call of Twenty-five Dollars ($25.00) per share on the stock, direct to the Head Office of the Company, Winnipeg, Man., or, if so desired, application may be made for the stock at any of the Company's Branch Offices or at any Branch of the Royal or Imperial Banks, where application blanks and any additional information will be readily furnished. Applications for stock will be considered in the order received, and on approval of the same by the Board of Directors a certificate for the number of shares subscribed will be issued and mailed the shareholders forthwith. Cheques, Drafts, Money Orders or other remittances on account of stock subscriptions should be made payable to The Canada National Fire Insurance Company.

STRUCK DUMB WITH AMAZEMENT

Mr. A. O. Wheeler, F.R.G.S., Director of the Alpine Club of Canada, has just returned to Vancouver from a summer spent in the Canadian Rockies in the vicinity of the Yellowhead Pass, and is greatly impressed with his trip.

In an interview with Mr. Wheeler, he stated: "It has been the general impression that the Rocky Mountains of Canada attain their greatest average height not very far north of the boundary line. True, of late years much has been heard of Mount Robson, which dominates the region of the Yellowhead Pass, but the popular notion was that there was nothing else in the neighborhood worth seeing, and that the Grand Trunk Pacific would pass through a region of little interest from the point of view of the tourist or mountaineer.

"There was no mistake about Mount Robson. It is without doubt, as was stated by one of the most travelled and skilled mountaineers of the day, Dr. Norman Collie, one of the most magnificent mountains in the world, whether seen from the south, the view that is most familiar on all sides were found mighty snowpiar, or from beautiful Berg Lake, it still stands supreme. In the hundred-mile circuit of the great massif huge ice-falls, rushing torrents, waterfalls, flower-clad meadows and vast stretches of dark pine forest. Many of the peaks were named by the surveyors, but they are legion, and it will be many years before they are familiarly known as individual mountains."

In speaking of the Robson Glacier, which lies on the east side of this monstrous mountain, Mr. Wheeler said: "It struck us dumb with amazement that anything so stupendous, so superb, so undreamed of, should exist. At our feet flowed the great river of ice, every crevasse, every moraine, every icefall, clearly portrayed. Directly opposite rose the massif, its outline clear from base to summit for fully 8,000 feet. From the beautiful meadows at the head of Resplendent Valley twenty-five peaks were counted, all unknown and unnamed. And lakes, which perhaps lend the most characteristic charm to Canadian mountain scenery, were everywhere."

At the summit of the Yellowhead Pass Mr. Wheeler's party erected a monument defining the boundary between Alberta and British Columbia at the intersection of the Great Divide. On the Luxe post set up, which is surrounded with a big stone mound are carved the words: "British Columbia on the west face; Alberta on the east face; and on the south 3,727.98 feet, being the altitude of the summit at the point where the post is set."

Clearing of right-of-way on the uncompleted gap of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway from Tete Jaune Cache westward to Aldermere in Bulkley Valley, was started a few weeks ago by the contractors, Messrs Foley, Welch & Stewart. Operations thus far are restricted to the route along the south fork of the Fraser between the Cache and Fort George.

An Interesting Booklet.

The Times is in receipt of a very interesting booklet dealing with the Maritime Provinces as a promising field for those who desire to establish new industries, or to profitably invest capital in the exploitation and development of natural resources. The obvious advantages of many parts of New Brunswick and Nova Scotia are ably presented in detail, together with many cheerful facts that ought to impress those who have capital ready to invest in a new field that is certainly rich in opportunity. It is commendable that while the eyes of the world are upon Canada, and thousands of new settlers are pouring into the West from many countries, an honest effort is being made to point out the advantages that exist in the east. The booklet will be mailed free to those who write the Industrial Department Intercolonial Railway, Moncton, N. B.

Present Disadvantages of Canadian Farmers.

At present the United States farmers have a great advantage over us. It costs 25c a bushel to send wheat into the United States. They can send their wheat into Canada for 12c a bushel, with rebate of 99 per cent. of duty when ground in bond. It costs us 30c to send a bushel of barley to the United States. They can ship barley into Canada for 15c. If we want to ship beans into the United States we have to pay 45c a bushel duty. The beans can come into Canada for 22c. They charge us 25c a bushel on the apples we send them. We charge them only 40c a barrel on what they send us. They charge us $4 a ton on the hay we send them. We charge them $2. They charge us 6c a pound on cheese, we charge them 3c. Thus it is with almost every farm product.

Under reciprocity these disadvantages will be wiped out, and we will be able to deal with them on an equal basis. Is not this worth while?

Home for Christmas

The Steamship Lines are expecting a large home-going exodus for the holiday season this year, and are making extensive preparations to take care of all of those who are planning to visit the Old Country.

The White Star-Dominion Line has arranged for three special Christmas sailings, viz. the "Canada" December 2nd, "Megantic" December 9th, and "Teutonic" December 14th, from Portland, Me., and Halifax, N. S., to take care of these passengers. These steamers will arrive in ample time to enable passengers to reach their homes before Christmas whether in England or on the Continent.

The railways have recognized the growing popularity of these annual Christmas excursions and now run special trains from Montreal and the west to connect with the steamers, and the most complete arrangements are made by both the steamship companies and the rail lines to further the comfort of the homeward bound ones during the holiday season.

Grand Trunk Opening New Territory

The new territory in the Canadian Rocky Mountains that is being opened up by the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway has already become the Mecca for a number of Alpine Climbers and those who love to get away from the turmoil of the busy city and explore mountain fastnesses that are practically unknown. Some of the travellers who have gone into this Yellow Head Pass territory are now returning, and one gentleman writes to the Grand Trunk Pacific Headquarters as follows:—"Lake Maligne is a beautiful lake between 16 and 18 miles long. I have visited all the other transcontinental lines both in Canada and the United States, and there is no lake or district along any of these lines that can compare with the Lake Maligne country. Some of the mountains around the lake are in the neighborhood of 12,000 feet. Lake Maligne is reached from Henry House a few miles west of Fitzhugh, the Second Divisional point, and covered with tee fields which make them very beautiful."

STRANGE NESTS OF WILD BIRDS

Swinging Cradle Evolved by the Ingenious Tailor-Bird is of Leaves Neatly Sewn With Silk and Wool

The tailor-bird builds one of the most remarkable nests known to man. With only its beak for needle, it sews two or three leaves together in the form of a cup, and in this places its nest of wool, hair, and fine grass. It uses thread, which may be either silk, snatched from some caterpillar's cocoons, or pieces of wool or strong vegetable fibres. The The bird bores holes in the edges of the leaves, and threads the binding material through.

The oven-bird of South Africa collects horse-hair and fibre, and with these bind together the walls of the mud house which it builds. This mud house is wonderfully designed. It is built on a firm foundation of hardened mud; it has stout walls, and is covered in with a dome — a most difficult piece of work for a bird working with soft mud without scaffolding. Inside, the home is divided by a stout wall into two compartments, one of which is the nursery, and the other the living-room. The nest measures four feet in width, and weighs eight or nine pounds.

MUSIC CURE FOR THE SICK

Though the Strains Cannot Mend a Broken Leg, It is Recognized that Music Has Helpful Influence on Sick

There is no doubt at all that music often cure ill people. Of course it cannot mend a broken leg, and yet it can help and hasten the mending of a broken leg by its effect on the mind and body of the person to whom the leg belongs.

In troubles of the mind music is even more powerful still, and though it is far too much neglected even in our own times, men have known for long ages what the power of music may do in this respect.

The most celebrated instance of it is the case of King Saul, who suffered from mad fits of gloom and depression and sullen anger, as the Bible tells us. And the record seems to say that the young shepherd boy David came and played on his harp and sang to the angry old king, who, though he nearly killed David at first, was afterwards soothed and cured of his mad fit.

Long ages later the story was told again in poetry by Robert Browning, and many people think that his account of the healing power of music in his poem is the finest thing he ever wrote.

BABES OF ERIN ON THE SLUMP

Toll of Emigration and Decreased Marriage Market has Serious Effect on the Hibernate in the Green Isle.

In the report of the commissioners of national education in Ireland, just issued, is the statement that there are places in Sligo where there are no children. The senior inspector of the Sligo education circuit says:

"Those who in the past did not emigrate, but remained at home and grown up and, confronted by the difficulty of subsistence, have never married.

"Within a radius of two miles there are 62 houses, and in 49 there are no children.

"In other places young men and women emigrate year after year, and there are none left to help on the farms except the children, who are therefore kept away from school."

These Can't Laugh

Laughter is unknown among the Veddahs of Ceylon. They are the most solemn people of the world. When a traveller asked some of them why their people never gave indications of mirth, they replied that they never saw anything to laugh at. On the other hand, some savages appear to have a more robust sense of humour than their civilised brethren. Dr. Livingstone tells of an African tribe who, when dressed in clothes for the first time, "rolled about on the ground in uncontrollable fits of laughter."

Well Worth the Price

Sir James Crichton Browne tells a new story of the railway tunnel. A friend of his once travelled in a first-class carriage, when they were not so well lit as to-day, with a newly married couple. On emerging from a long tunnel they "were very much in love," and "to minimise the confusion" (his own confusion persumably) the superfluous third party said: "This tunnel cost £100,000." To this the bridegroom replied: "It was well worth the money."

Good Evidence

"Did you ever see Mr. M. return the cats?" inquired the counsel.

"Yes, your honour," was the reply.

"On what ground did he refuse them?" was next asked by the learned counsel.

"In the backyard," said the witness, amidst the laughter of the court.

THIS DOG CAN REALLY SPEAK

German Canine's Ability to Talk in Clear Intelligent Fashion, is Ascribed by Zoologists to Possession of Anatomical Peculiarities.

There is in Berlin a dog that talks. Learned men who have examined him assert that his talking is totally distinct from his barking, that there is no resemblance between the two, that they are never mixed, and that he really knows what he is saying. His speech is not like that of parrots, mere imitation, but is a true, though still rudimentary means of communication between him and human beings.

A French newspaper man who interviewed Don — that is the dog's name — writes: "Do not get Don mixed up with the educated dogs of the country fairs and the cafe concerts. He is a well marked individuality, endowed, it seems, with a very strong will and an affection extraordinary even in a dog, for the human race, with which he seems to be linked by obscure affinities, remarkable intelligence, and most eloquent gestures. What he says he speaks, not mechanically under the hypnotising influence of his master, as an 'educated dog' would do, but spontaneously and apparently under the single impulse of his own will.

"However, there is an excellent way of making this extraordinary dog talk. Offer him something nice to eat, and unless he be in an exceptionally sulky temper, he will show himself ready at once to display his vocabulary to you. Profiting by this happy disposition, ask him his name. He will reply in a deep voice, slurring the initial consonant a little, 'Don.' Ask him what he likes, and he will tell you, like a German baby, 'Baben, baben.' Inquire further what he wants, and he will surely answer 'Kuchen' (cake), a magic word that he seems to think includes all good things, and that he applies indiscriminatingly to cake, meat, and other favourite dainties.

Zoologists who have examined Don say that his superior intelligence is due to certain anatomical peculiarities, such as an exceptionally high forehead.

His Bit of Empire.

It is a well-known fact that some Britons are more inclined to talk about the Empire's fringe, of which they are ignorant, than about its heart.

A housewife, whose husband was addicted this way, turned his thoughts into more homely channels by her ready wit.

One Saturday evening he came home late, smelling strongly of tobacco and very red in the face.

"Oh," he said, "I've had a fine time, I've been to an Empire meeting. It was good."

Then he frowned and said impatiently. "What's the matter with supper. Ain't it ready yet?"

His wife, who was peeling potatoes and holding a squalling baby, rose and extended the child to him. "Here," she said, "take hold of your bit of Empire while I fry these chips."

Napoleon III and his "Double"

Many of the stories relating to Napoleon III. and Eugene Vivier, the cornet-player, are apocryphal, but there can be no doubt the latter owed much of his social and artistic success to his remarkable resemblance to the French Emperor. This resemblance, from their first meeting in London, endeared him to Napoleon, who at once took him under his patronage so that his future was thenceforth assured. Indeed, he soon became on most familiar terms with the Emperor who, according to the Republicans and Orleanists, availed himself of his extraordinary likeness to the musician in employing the latter to impersonate him when he desired to be, like Sir Boyle Roche's bird, in two places at once.

Ready for Emergencies.

One of our French contemporaries, apropos of the desire of the Germans to get a piece of Africa, speculates as to what the personal equipment of the German commander will consist. Will it be as extensive as that of Count Waldersee when he went to China in connection with the Boxer rebellion? The intimate friend of the Kaiser, we are told, had a trunk of dressing-gowns, a vast quantity of "chemises de nuit," boots by the dozen pairs, with felt socks and gutta percha overalls, and fur-lined waistcoats. The Count also carried a portable kitchen, the fittings being of nickel and silver. Four coursing dogs, barrels of biscuits, and a domestic to look after the dogs accompanied Waldersee, whose life was insured for $100,000.

Carnegie and his Father

Dr. Andrew Carnegie told an audience at Liverpool the other day that he had "taken to library forming because his father did it before him." William Carnegie's efforts at library founding were extremely modest as compared with the work of his distinguished son. In 1836 Mr. Carnegie's father was a journeyman weaver in Dunfermline. He and two other drivers of the shuttle met, and agreed to convey the books they had in their respective homes to one house. The combined libraries only figured out twenty volumes. The pioneers were joined by other weavers, and they agreed to tax themselves to the extent of a few pence per month and from this fund purchase new books. The little institution ultimately blossomed into the Dunfermline Tradesmen's Library.

A USELESS PROTEST.

Manufacturers of moving picture show films will enter a protest at Washington against the action of the Toronto city council in prohibiting the display of pictures which glorify the American flag. Washington will promptly respond that if American manufacturers of moving picture films desire to do business with Canada they must conform to Canada's laws.

The display of flag pictures offensive to Canadian nationality is not a right; it is a brazen piece of impudence. More, it is one of the things likely to give rise to those unpleasant flag incidents which occasionally happen on both sides of the border.

The way to avoid flag incidents is to avoid the introduction of a foreign flag except in those circumstances where its display is recognized by custom. Foreign flags in the United States are conspicuous by their absence. The Americans quite properly assume that their own flag is the flag they should honor, and Canadians should proceed on the same sound principle.

Canadians will never be lacking in respect for the American flag, wherever its display is sanctioned by custom or by the amenities of a special occasion. But it would be a poor specimen of nation which tolerated in its places of amusement the use of a foreign flag as part of the portrayal of its military reverses.

Everyone knows what would happen in a place of amusement in the United States which placed on exhibition pictures offensive to the patriotism of the American people. A few minutes would suffice to make it look as if it had been hit by a Kansas cyclone. Many of the moving pictures which are being displayed in Canada are greatly offensive to Canadian patriotism. We have had some of them in Peterborough. The manufacturer who attempts to sell or lease them for Canadian consumption displays an audacity which is only equalled by that of the picture show proprietor who presumes to exhibit them. Their sense of the fitness of things should be sufficient to make them aware of the fact that such pictures should never be offered for use in Canada. And that is the good advice that they will no doubt receive in reply to their protest to Washington.

ITALY AND THE HOLY LAND.

We wonder who started this absurd talk about Italy handing the Holy Land over to the Pope after she has succeeded in wresting Tripoli from Turkey, asks the Kingston Standard. In the first place how is Italy going to get the Holy Land? It is not likely that the other powers will stand by and allow Italy to grab what she pleases. For one, Germany is too much interested in Turkey in Asia to allow any such spoliation unless she herself has a hand in the spoils. And the other great powers will not be far behind Germany.

In the second place the Italian Government, it is well known, has no love for the Vatican. What happened during the past summer has made matters worse, Italy was celebrating the semi-centenary of its freedom this year and had a great exhibition at Rome expecting that thousands of tourists would flock into the country. In this the government was to a certain extent disappointed, for the Pope forbade the faithful to attend. This has intensified the ill feeling that previously existed; and it is not likely that the Italian Government will go out of its way to present the Pope with the Suzerainty of the Holy Land or any other land.

It is a great pity that in matters of this grave nature religion or religious feeling should play any part. But unfortunately the state of perfection has not yet been reached.

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by Catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free.

Grand Trunk Pacific Preparing for Fall Rush of Business to the Canadian West.

Another step in the progress of development of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway has been made. The new freight shed on the Mission Terminal, Fort William, will be available for occupancy the latter part of this week. It is nine hundred feet long, and seventy feet wide, located alongside the basin, opposite the elevator, and equipped with trackage sufficient for one hundred cars, each setting.

This shed is part of the permanent layout of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway, and will, next spring, be utilized for the handling of through lake-and-rail freight, interchanged with the various boat lines.

For the balance of this season the Grand Trunk Pacific will handle their through lake freight at their present temporary quarters at Westfort, and the new shed will be utilized for storage purposes.

Remember, Mr. Investor, inside property in North Vancouver, is as yet cheaper than property in Point Grey, Fairview, South Vancouver, or Grand View, on the outskirts of Vancouver. 5 years ago an investor North Vancouver, far $10,000, to-day bought a corner on Lonsdale Avenue the same piece of property is worth $100,000.00. We can buy for our clients to-day property for investment from $1000 to $50,000.00 and over and can almost guarantee a profit of from 25 per cent. to 50 per cent. in a couple of years.

3rd—Investments in Mortgages and Agreements of Sale which represent a very safe and sure investment and bring in from 8 to 10 per cent. per year. Nearly every day some party calls in our office and invests his money in Mortgages or Agreements of Sale. They say they prefer absolute safety for their money with a good rate of interest, rather than no interest with a hope of increase in selling value.

Progress is the dominant note in the City of Vancouver to-day, and where progress is, where wealth accumulates, there will realty values advance, and this is inevitable in Vancouver.

A Pleasant Trip.

The Grand Trunk Pacific are in receipt of a letter from a prominent traveller in Eastern Canada, who has just returned from a trip to the West and which included a journey on the Grand Trunk Pacific from Winnipeg to Wainwright and return.

He states : "I must say it was one of the pleasantest experiences in a long life of travel! Having seen the road in the making, and being aware of the high standard set up, I was prepared for a good roadbed, and was not disappointed, for we rode as smoothly as between Montreal and Toronto. The sleeping cars are models of comfort, and the service on them, as well as the dining cars, couldn't be better. The Grand Trunk are setting the pace for general excellence in Western Canada."

Edmonton to Winnipeg by Grand Trunk Pacific.

Before leaving Canada, Mr. Hamar Greenwood, Member of Parliament, British House of Commons, wrote to the Grand Trunk Railway System, in connection with his trip over their lines in Canada, and in which he says : "We especially enjoyed the journey from Edmonton to Winnipeg which we made on your System in the best equipped train I ever saw in my life. You have fixed a very high standard, if this train is the standard up to which you are working."

SUCCESSFULY RESCUED

Mr. Harry Gibson, of Kingston, was rescued from an enemy that had relentlessly pursued him for years

Mr. Gibson was born and brought up in Kingston. By profession he is a school teacher. He received his training in Queen's University, where he took a course in arts and medicine that well befits him to talk on almost any subject.

The enemy that for 25 years relentlessly pursued Mr. Gibson is a menace to our entire population—it is the demon, Catarrh.

Mr. Gibson says :—"For years I was never free from Catarrh of the nose and throat. It bothered me winter and summer and kept me so continually coughing and hawking that I found it a great impediment to the proper performance of my duties at school. I used every available means of obtaining a cure, took bottle after bottle of medicine prescribed by local doctors, but never got more than temporary relief. I consulted a well-known specialist in the States, but after spending a considerable amount of money with him to no advantage, was forced to look elsewhere for relief, which I first received from Catarrhozone.

I consider Catarrhozone a genuine cure for Catarrh. It drove that loathsome disease completely out of my system, and to-day I am as well as if I never knew what the word Catarrh implied."

A straightforward proof of cure, coming from a well-known gentleman like Mr. Gibson carries conviction of the fact with it that Catarrhozone does all that is claimed for it. As a cure for Catarrh and Bronchitis it positively has no equal. All druggists, price $1.00 ; small size, 25c. By mail from The Catarrhozone Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

While it has been the custom with most steamship lines to discontinue their Quebec and Montreal sailings about November 15th each year and transfer their steamers to the winter service, it is announced that their crack triple-screw steamer "Laurentic" will make an extra sailing to the St. Lawrence in November to accommodate the pre-Christmas traffic.

THE BACKWOODSMAN

By Acton Seymour.

He sat and looked at the young man for several minutes; he seemed to be waiting for him to speak.

"You're not suspicious of me, after what you saw, are you?" inquired Wiggin. "You can see my interests don't lie that way, now!"

It was on George's tongue to declare that he had not the least idea what all this meant, but he suddenly decided to meet craft with craft. He had discovered that ingenuousness did not work well in this north country. Every man's hand seemed raised against him. He resolved that he would take a hand in the game of guile himself, for self-protection, if for nothing else.

"You know what people I represent, Mr. Wiggin," he returned. "You probably know why I'm up here. You've got the advantage of me in that. You've got to talk a little plainer."

"I knew a man was coming," said Wiggin. "Of course, I knew it couldn't be same one that made the other trade. He's marked in this section. But I've looked for some line from the big folks — a little something from you, in the way of credentials."

"My folks do not put things on paper — when those things can be arranged by word of mouth," declared George, hating himself for this deception, but firmly resolved to uncover any more plots against himself if he were able.

"An excellent plan," affirmed Wiggin, "even if it does put other parties in the way of guessing a bit." He fondled his long nose, and studied the face of the Great Trust Co.'s man. "You received some instructions, I suppose?"

"I did."

"I don't like to beat about the bush," said the old man. "I know your folks understand how I stood with Corran. And, of course, you know. I have been his right-hand man ever since he started in business — he couldn't read or write, as you've heard."

George did not betray by a flicker of the eyelids, even, that the information was new.

"I'm going to tell you very frankly that I've hoped that my son would get the girl," continued Wiggin. "There's no chance of that. I've helped Corran steal half the lands he owned. I'll say this — if he hadn't stolen them, some one else would have done it. That's the style up here. He could have made a fair division with me and still left the girl enough. But that will — I drew it myself for him — left me just where I've always been — his agent. I'm sole trustee, too. Now, just what kind of a proposition have your folks sent to me? The other man said the proposition would come along just as soon as Corran dropped out."

"Our folks would like to know just what you can do," stated the young man. He felt no sense of guilt, now in leading this plotter on. Clare Corran's interests were threatened. He hardly knew the girl. But never had the desolate condition of any one so appealed to his chivalry. She was alone in the midst of them.

Outside his window, the uproar of the drunken mob celebrated the memory of her father. But that kind of disorganised loyalty, ignorant support, could not prevent the subtle plans of schemers. Common sense suggested that it was none of his business. But there was something pitifully pathetic in it all.

He shut his eyes, hiding his own from the boring regard of Wiggin. Her brave face came before his inner vision — he saw her again riding past — and he believed he knew her well enough to understand in what agony of spirit she had obeyed. Sudden determination took possession of him. It was quixotic resolution. He loved Mary Laroche. That was a sentiment that made him tender toward the helpless in the world.

He opened his eyes. Wiggin was surveying him anxiously, almost suspiciously.

"I don't propose to turn myself wrongside out before a stranger — I've gone far enough as it is," insisted the Corran trustee. "Say something, yourself."

"Are you in a position to turn over anything worth while to the Great Trust Co.?"

"If you think I've had the handling of all the papers of old Corran without getting ready for just such an emergency as this, you've got another guess coming."

"Here's my credentials," said George, producing papers. "I'm an accredited agent of the company. But, of course, you understand that I can't settle matters with you. I can only hear and report. The fellows higher up arrange the price — it's their money."

"That's all right. I expected that. I'll say this, now: I've left deeds open so that when the time comes, claimants who haven't signed off their rights in certain tracts can be produced. Those claimants will never come forward to contest the Corran claims until the proper work is put into the matter. They don't know anything about their claims. You see, don't you? You've got to have me in the thing to make it go. I know the claimants — I know how to produce claimants."

"Ready-made ones, eh?"

"That's a part of the system, up here, but it has to be worked just right when the matter of Corran's properties are up. You've got to know your men. Corran's friends are pretty thick. You'll fall down unless you deal with me. I've been in it long enough to know how to operate and cover all tracks. And if tracks ain't covered, you'll have a tough gang on your backs. Corran's scheme has left an army of fools to back up his estate——" he flapped his hand at the window, outside of which the bands were playing. "But even fools can put the torch to timber lands that your company grabs. It's all got to be done right! I can do it right, and hide behind the law, for I've been getting ready."

"What's your price?"

"Half. Not lands. I can't use lands. But half the valuation in cash. The Great Trust will be getting practically the other fifty per cent. My scheme grabs the land for 'em — they don't have to buy."

George felt sick at heart. This buzzard was so promptly ready to tear at the dead man's possessions.

"Of course, this is no time to get down to details," went on Wiggin. "I'm just up here to tell you that I've got the thing in my hands." He stretched out his bony fingers, looked like talons. "Get your report in, and wake the big fellows up — for there are others, if the Great Trust Co. don't grab it."

"I'll attend to the matter in the right way," replied George grimly.

Wiggin made cautious examination of the corridor through the crack of the door before he ventured out. He left with promise to "show goods" to the Great Trust Co. as soon as the young man got the ear of his superiors and was ready to talk business.

George kept vigil for the most of that night. The tumult outside did not trouble him as much as the plot that Wiggin had exposed. It was plain why the old man had been so precipitate with a stranger — the Great Trust Co. had dealt with him before. Probably, the company was entirely ready to dealt with him again. It was the money of the Great Trust that George was carrying in his pocket at that time. His future prospects were in the keeping of the company. He was their employee.

On the other side was a girl that he barely knew. Perhaps she would not listen to a stranger who came to her with words of warning against the old man who had been her father's intimate. Women did not usually understand business well enough to determine what dishonesty was.

He could not warn her without exposing the men who were powerful to help or harm him.

After he had breakfasted, finding a place at the table in company of the sleepy, sullen roisterers of the night before, he went and sat on the porch of the tavern, trying to straighten out a line of action for himself.

Romeo Bragg found him there.

"I ain't exactly what you might call sober, yet," acknowledged Mr. Bragg, "but I'm all over celebratin', and ready to start. And, judgin' from what you said to me yesterday, I figger you've got conside'able appetite for the trail. So, what say?"

It was a call to duty put straight. But Harry George was still floundering in his difficulties.

"I reckon you'll outfit like the rest of 'em, at the company store," pursued Bragg. "I'll go across with you and help pick out."

That summons bore in upon George the truth that he was meditating treachery to his employers. He had money that belonged to them — he was not ready to take more of their goods, not at that moment.

While he was hesitating, Clare Corran swept past on her black horse. She bowed to George proudly.

"Reckon Queen Clare is goin' out to the grave," suggested Bragg. "Wa'n't much chance for her to mourn there, yesterday!"

"Bragg, I'm not ready to start today" blurted the young man. "I've got some business to attend to."

His guide stared at him a little while, but George's expression did not invite comment. So Bragg strolled away.

VII.

During the forenoon, the roisterers went straggling out of town. Bill Kyle took away his crew, after he had made some biting comments on the hustling qualities of certain foresters that he knew. Pennell did not retort. He found no profit in converse with Bill Kyle.

"I'll tell Fatty Niles to stop running," he said, by way of parting word. "And I reckon you can do the Great Trust as much good by sittin' on that porch as you can any other way."

As the day wore on, George was less inclined to seek the girl and expose what he had learned. It seemed a rather cowardly piece of tale bearing. Probably Wiggin had it in his power to convince her that this stranger, representing a land-grabbing corporation, was lying to her for his own ends. The plan of going to Wiggin and threatening to expose him unless he either gave up his plot or his trusteeship would appear to be only a futile bit of blackmail. George had nothing except his own unsupported word.

When night came, he was still undecided. He cursed himself as a decidedly worthless tool. He seemed to be of no use to himself or to others. With every hour that passed, Niles and Smart were getting farther away from him, carrying his job with them.

His conscience suggested that he had a duty to perform in the interests of Clare Corran, but he could not make up his mind how to do it — he was not absolutely sure that he had made up his mind to do it, any-

Animal Love.

Mother love is universal, and there is no love like the mother love. Most of the high and lofty loving in this world is done by mothers. Apart from this the work of wooing falls to the male members of the family whether it be the human family or some one of the other animal tribes. We read how, ages ago, a Bulbul, or Oriental Nightingale, wooed a white rose until it blushed red, and that was the beginning of the red rose. The Spanish Cavalier stands out in the rain and serenades his "Dulce Mia" until there is a crick in his neck, while she sits sheltered in a window above.

The cackle of the loon may be a love song for all we know. Maybe that's what made him loony in the first place.

The wild moose bellows his passion across the lake, and as likely as not the answering call is from a bark horn in the hands of a hunter, luring him to death.

It seems a sizzling shame, but if you will take a Grand Trunk train and travel into the "Highlands of Ontario" you will find men doing that very thing; arguing, doubtless, that all is fair in love and war.

A De Luxe Booklet.

The railways of the American Continent vie with each other in producing their publications in artistic and attractive style and the Grand Trunk have received the palm from connoisseurs for being the leaders in this direction. With their usual taste they have just issued a very handsome brochure slightly different to the ordinary run of railway booklets, inasmuch as there is not any descriptive matter in the publication, but it is a book of views that tell their story without words. The name of this unique piece of advertising is simply "Vistas" with the Grand Trunk trade mark on one corner of the cover. The cover itself is a reproduction in colors from a painting of "The International Limited" the finest and fastest train in Canada. Inside the book are found maps of the Grand Trunk Railway system and the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway and a series of sixty-one pictures of Canadian scenes. These pictures are reproduced in the finest of half tone process from direct photographic negatives and printed on high class coated paper. The booklet is a credit to the Company.

These awards have been made under the following:—"Arts and Crafts"; "Engineering, Lighting, and Transportation"; and "Building Trades"; also "Advertising." This is considered by the Companies named as a great honor, as other railways exhibiting at the Exhibition have only received one award.

The official report from the Grand Trunk representative at this Exhibition, for week ending September 9th, shows that the number of persons visiting the Grand Trunk Pavilion was 21,186, bringing the attendance up to September 9th to 279,942 people.

Our Canadian Rockies.

Trunk Pacific Railway from Mr. Armountain climber and topographer, who is at present in the Canadian Rockies making observations for the purpose of mapping out the district, he says:

"We have a great amount of splendid material for publication and a collection of photographs that cannot be surpassed. We have just completed what is very nearly a 100 mile circuit around Mt. Robson, the highest peak in the Canadian Rockies. The peaks and valleys, lakes and waterfalls on all sides of it, and the glaciers are very fine. The region is immense, and there is work for years to come, exploring, mapping and depicting. There is a fine bunch of high peaks and large snowfields and glaciers southwest of Tete Jaune Cache. There are also great peaks on the Athabaska and Fraser headwaters, tributary to your line. The most showy part of Mt. Robson is the Robson Pass and Glacier, and Berg Lake."

Real Estate, Mining and Industrial Investments

HOW $100 GREW TO $31620

The value and importance of any enterprise must be based on the profits and dividends it can earn. In this respect the Midway Maple Leaf Oil Company, Limited, is without a parallel in the line of investments.

It combines the attractive factors which are needed to make the perfect investment—viz., safety, large earning capacity and low cost of the stock at the start. It is not at all uncommon for oil stocks to begin at a few cents a share and jump to hundreds of dollars a share—sometimes thousands.

	Started at	Has Sold at
Central	10 cents	$2.10
Monte Cristo	10 cents	$4.00
Lucile	10 cents	$16.00
Silver Tip	25 cents	$4.00
San Francisco and McKittrick	40 cents	$28.00
Kern River	50 cents	$8.75
Peerless	50 cents	$8.75
Puente	$10.00	$150.00
Home	$10.00	$5000.00

This list, taken from San Francisco and Los Angeles Stock Exchange records, could be added to almost indefinitely.

Fortunes have been made from stock increases. stock is $200, YOUR YEARLY PROFIT ON AN INVESTMENT OF $300.

When we have ten wells sunk you can reasonably figure on AN ANNUAL PROFIT ON YOUR HOLDINGS OF $2000.

$2000 A YEAR. DOESN'T THIS APPEAL

Many a case could be cited similar to that of Richard Ellis, clerk in a store in Los Angeles, whose investment of $100 became worth $31,620 in a short time. There are hundreds of such cases in Los Angeles alone.

$2000.00 Profit a Year

Do you realize that stock in the Midway Maple Leaf Oil Company, Limited, at the present price of 30 cents a share is not merely the opportunity of the year—IT IS THE OPPORTUNITY OF A LIFETIME.

If you have $10, $50, $100 or $500 YOU SIMPLY CAN NOT AFFORD TO PASS IT UP.

If we develop only a 1000 barrel well of 26 gravity oil, this production alone will be sufficient to enable the corporation to pay a dividend of 20 per cent. and at the same time have sufficient capital to continue the drilling of wells.

1000 shares of stock at the present price of 30c costs only $300.

20 per cent. dividend on the par value of the TO YOU? Wouldn't you like to be coming up to this office every three months and getting your dividend cheque for $500?

Remember, too, that your stock holdings in Midway Maple Leaf, if you should want to sell them should be worth $18,000 or sixty times the amount of your original investment.

Consider These Facts

The Midway Maple Leaf Oil Company is working in proven gusher territory, the richest oil zone in the world, controlling 40 acres on one-eighth royalty, with the great advantage of the option to purchase at only $1250 per acre after oil is struck, and the ground must then be worth at least $5000 per acre. This means a clean profit of $150,000 over purchase price. It has been demonstrated completely by gushers on adjoining Standard and Honolulu ground, that this portion of the Midway field is not only the richest portion of the whole district, but that it produces the highest grade of oil found in the entire vicinity, and worth 20 per cent. more per barrel at the well.

Present Allotment of 25,000 Shares at 30c Going Fast

Call at my office at once and get your order in for the amount of stock that you want. If it isn't convenient for you to call, either wire and let your remittance follow by mail, or get your remittance in by the first mail possible.

$30 cash, or $6 down and $6 a month for four months, buys 100 shares.

$60 cash, or $12 down and $12 a month for four months, buys 200 shares.

$120 cash, or $24 down and $24 a month for four months, buys 400 shares.

$480 cash, or $96 down and $96 a month for four months, buys 1600 shares.

TOWN NAMES OF THE WEST

The Men Who Found Names for Many Western Canadian Towns Displayed Much Ingenuity and Occasionally Humor.

The matter of place-names in the West is an interesting bit of study, and reveals not only an amazing profundity but a very considerable originality. They are not the kind of names that are known in the East. Very seldom does a western town duplicate the name of an eastern town — which is more than can be said of the East itself, where there are many repetitions. A glance at the newest map of the prairie provinces will show an interesting variety of names that are practically copyright. They are the kind of names that would not fit well in the East, simply because they have grown out of western experiences and conditions. The earliest were Indian, and many sweet-sounding Indian names are on the map; then the cue was taken from the appearance of Nature, particularly in the case of rivers, hills, and valleys; and latterly the surnames of men are being commemorated, men who have taken some part in the establishment of the town, or in the case of many of the newest stations, the officials or engineers of the railway which is bringing the town into being.

But even greater in variety, interest, and occasional oddity than the place-names are the names of the people. Here, too, an effort is made to commemorate some phase of western life, not infrequently with strange results. An Indian mother near Edmonton heard of the large part being played in the West by the railways, and straightway named her youngest "C.P.R." Another, desirous of doing honour to the white man's medicine, conferred upon her first-born the surprising distinction of "Mary Ann Thomson's Sarsaparilla."

The Daily Bath

The question of bathing is one that never ceases to have interest for the human race. The practice of it has fortunately decreased since the luxurious Roman days when aristocrats gave more than six hours each day to it. Yet it has increased as a custom among all classes during the last century. The world of to-day is interested in wondering how its ancestors kept clean with their wooden tubs and ewers of cold and hot water.

The Moose and the Lilly Pad.

The moose's love for the lily pad that floats on the surface of the northern lakes make him appear reckless and unafraid. In summer, even in September, the fishermen often cut him off from the shore, drive him into deep water and have fun with him. Sometimes, when the moose reaches shoal water and gets his hind feet on the bottom, he has fun with the fisherman, smashes his canoe and makes him swim for his life.

However, after the shooting season opens the moose becomes more cautious.

There are thousands of moose around Lake Temagami. At North Bay you change from the Grand Trunk to the Temiskaming and Northern Ontario and get off at Temagami Station.

The Fort Garry.

The work of constructing the second of the Grand Trunk's System of palatial hotels has begun at Winnipeg. It has been definitely and finally decided that the Winnipeg hotel, which will be of the same style of architecture as the magnificent "Chateau Laurier" at Ottawa, shall be called "The Fort Garry."

THE COMFORT OF INDEPENDENCE ASSURED THE B. C. FRUIT GROWER

In British Columbia Fruit Growing is synonymous with Success. The fame of the five-acre fruit farms of the Fraser Valley is spreading to every corner of this continent. Already "Fruit" suggests the Pacific Coast, soon it will direct the thoughts instinctively to British Columbia, particularly to the lower Fraser River Valley.

FLESHERTON GARDENS, which I am now selling, is the cream of this Valley land. The soil is a rich deep chocolate, humous and friable, free from weeds, stones or stumps. Good roads lead to the property and two railways are ready to carry the fruit to market. The Chilliwack line of the B. C. Electric Railway CUTS THROUGH FLESHERTON GARDENS, and the Victoria, Vancouver and Eastern is only a few yards away. Over a dozen trains pass the property every day, and the traffic will increase in the immediate future.

BIG PROFITS IN FRUITS AND VEGETABLES.

Do you know that you can make immense profits in fruits, tubers and vegetables on the Coast? To-day last year's potatoes are selling at $70 a ton in Seattle, only a few miles from here. In Westminster and Vancouver the price is from $60 to $65 a ton. Cherries fetch 50c a pound and strawberries 25c a box. All other fruits are high in proportion. Remember these are NOT FANCY PRICES, but to-day's quotations. There is no difficulty in selling the fruit, for people here have the money and don't mind the price.

IT'S EASY TO SECURE THE LAND

I have placed FLESHERTON GARDENS on the market on very easy terms, $200 cash and the balance spread over several years. You can have your pick of these five acre farms at from $150 to $350 per acre. You cannot find a better investment anywhere; no matter how rosy other prospects may be, this one leads them all.

Sign this blank, and mail it to me NOW. I can tell you a great deal more about FLESHERTON GARDANS in a personal letter. It's to your advantage to get all the information you can.

PUBLISH MY LETTER THE WORLD OVER

The Words of Harold P. Bushy, Who Was Permanently Cured of Chronic Lumbago by "Nerviline."

"Three years ago I discovered that a man subject to lumbago might just as well be dead as alive." These words open the sincere straightforward letter of H. P. Bushy, a well-known man in the plumbing and tinsmithing business in Portland.

"One attack came after another, and lumbago got to be a chronic thing with me. I could scarcely get in a day's work before that knifing, cruel pain would attack my back. I used a gallon of liniments; not one of them seemed penetrating enough to get at the core of the pain. I read in the Montreal Witness about Nerviline, and got five bottles. It is a wonderful medicine—I could feel its soothing pain-relieving action every time it was applied. When I got the disease under control with Nerviline, I built up my strength and fortified my blood by taking Ferrozone at meals. This treatment cured me permanently, and I urge everyone to give up the thick, white, oily liniments they are using, and try an up-to-date, penetrating, pain-destroyer like Nerviline.

Killed Near Cameron.

Geo. W. Switzer, son of Mr. Norris Switzer, of Cameron, and brother of Mrs. McMullen, of this city, was accidentally killed at that place on Wednesday last. He was a man of about 35 years of age, and was taking a wagon load of lumber out of the barn alone, getting ready to thresh next day. He had one hind wheel chained to the front of the wagon and it is supposed it turned quickly coming down the gangway, and threw him over the side on some stones, the wagon coming down after him as he was found with one wheel across his body in such a position, that he must have been instantly killed. The back of his watch was badly dinged stopping it at 8.14 and it was half an hour afterwards when his father, who lives near, came over to help him and found him dead

A Battle Royal.

Last night as a Times man was wending his way along the road in the vicinity of Nicholls' Oval, he heard a noise in the shrubbery nearby as if some one was being unmercifully pounded. Scaling the fence on the roadside, he was soon on the scene, and found two lads of about 16 or 17 years of age engaged in a fisticuff encounter. One of the lads was bleeding profusely at the nose, while the other was badly bruised about the face and eyes. It was with difficulty that the two were separated and it was after one had departed that the other explained the cause of the trouble: He said that his former chum had tried to keep company with his girl, and when he was told by the young lady that his presence was not agreeable he took this means of getting even.

PUBLIC OPINION

The Times does not hold itself responsible for opinions of its correspondents

A PAGAN STATE.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—Rev. A. B. Simpson, of New York, who paid an extended visit recently to South America, stated in Toronto at a large meeting there, that "Roman Catholicism in South America is literally paganism." The Roman Catholic Church, he said, had become so corrupt and its priesthood so licentious that the moral depravity of the people was simply awful. Their dire spiritual need was emphasized by the fact that from 80 to 85 per cent. of them were filiterate, and from 60 to 65 per cent. illegitimate. Here is a country under the full control of the Roman Catholic Church, ever since it was discovered. There is no regular school system, except church schools, taught by religious orders, so that the poverty of education is directly due to Church discipline.

This should be sufficient to cause those who favor clerical influence to stop and think. If Canadians are to have civil and religious liberty, and enjoy the fullest degree of enlightenment, they must not let the Church of Rome enforce its policy in this connection.

I see that an effort is being made to settle 40,000 Catholics in the Northwest? Why Catholics? What does this wholesale emigration of adherents of the Romish Church portend? Is Canada to become a second South America?

Thanking you, Mr. Editor, for your valuable space, I am, &c.

—Protestant.

HON MR. BECK'S ADDRESS.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—As one of the audience that sat listening to the Hon. Adam Beck on Thursday evening, I was much impressed by the wholly unsatisfactory attitude of the modern system of government with respect to such conditions as he so graphically described He began by making a statement that must be characterized as absurd. He said that the reason such things as tuberculosis were not taken up, and treated in Provincial Institutions was that hangers-on of a party would insist on using political influence to get people into these institutions who were not afflicted at all, but merely for the purpose of securing a rest at the public expense. This statement means that people would be allowed in to such an institution without due and proper inspection, and that the government control would be so wholly unreliable as to make it worse than useless. Now let me say that if this is Mr. Beck's idea of government control it must apply to more things than tuberculosis hospitals, and it may be possible that institutions for the blind are already loaded with people who can see, and lunatic asylums are not inappropriately filled with politicians. The statement, however, as a matter of fact, is a bluff. It is a bluff put up by the Hon. Adam Beck in defence of the government in order that the government may, like most governments, continue to brag of a surplus, while unloading all the burdens on the people. Let me give you a case in point. Children's Aid Societies are not on the government subsidy list, and no power under heaven can get them on. The Toronto Government has fought against it in every conceivable way. Why? Not because Children's Aid Societies have not saved this province hundreds of thousands of dollars, and not because they are not the means of rescuing children from waste and crime, but because the government wants a surplus. Mr. Beck's statement, therefore, in defence of the government appears not only absurd, but insulting, and in my humble opinion it is high time that people irrespective of politics got up on their hind legs and talked to the politicians in a way that they would understand. There is no distinction of parties. Political parties seem to be afflicted all alike.

Now, in further reply to Mr. Beck, let me say that setting aside the fact that ten million dollars a year is lost to this province from consumption alone, people of this province who cannot afford it otherwise are entitled to have the public resources of this province so far placed at their disposal as to have provided for them public institutions where the victims of tuberculosis may receive, free of charge, the best possible treatment and care. Mr. Beck seems to ignore the fact that some municipalities are wholly unfitted as places for curative hospitals, and he also ignores the fact that municipalities have no command of public resources or in other words that they have no fund from which to draw for the benefit of the public. The government owns public lands, mining rights and exacts taxes such as succession duties, and it is these that should be applied for the public benefit, and where may I ask is there a greater demand than in the case of consumptive patients? It seems to be the idea of the government that it is more important to build a highway into wildernesses for future generations than to save the lives of people already in existence. In other words we have in this country the extraordinary spectacle of people already in the country working like slaves and mortgaging their future for the benefit of people yet to be born, and what is the consequence? Anybody who has had any practical experience in the matter knows that the greatest blot on our civilization is the manner in which the consumptive poor are allowed to drift and perish. There are no institutions that will receive them, and how, pray, can they afford to pay doctors bills and nurses? They simply cannot do it, and instead of continuing to be victims of mistaken idea of government, they should be rescued by the Government and treated, for the cause is at least a provincial one and not a local one.

It is, I maintain, absurd to ask municipalities, especially rural municipalities, to grapple with the question under existing circumstances. If they are to grapple with it, let the government apportion to them their share of the public resources. It is entirely illogical that the government should retain the public resources and unload all the burdens on the people. It will be answered that the government proposes to assist. It doesn't assist Children's Aid Societies at all, and doesn't propose to do so, and the assistance it proposes to give the consumptive poor is so small as to be merely a bait to induce people to undertake burdens that they have no right to assume. I feel strongly in this matter, Mr. Editor, and if I had an opportunity to express my views I should have done so, but not having the opportunity to do so at the meeting, I feel absolutely compelled to make known what is, not only my opinion, but the opinion of a great many others thoroughly well qualified to form an opinion in the matter.

The provincial elections are at hand, and I hope the public will use the opportunity to see that the policy of the government is changed. Now is our time, and I speak simply as a citizen, to force a change in the policy at all, and I hope the next reply to be made to the crying needs of the consumptive poor will not be that they cannot be attended to because their healthy brethern are a set of malingerers and humbugs.

Yours truly,

J. H. Burnham.

HOT STUFF FROM THE CATHOLIC REGISTER

The Southwestern Presbyterian, published in New Orleans, speaking of the United States says: "This is a Protestant country, and the Catholic Church must go." Now, there is some gall and bravado for you; likewise short shrift for people of the same religion as Carroll, of Carrollton, Sheridan, Sherman, etc., etc. It is also a nice display of Christian charity. We are giving long odds that the bigot who wrote this has eyes just like a hog.

• • • •

The birth rate of Ontario is low. The percentage of such crimes as rape, incest, criminal assault is high and growing apace. The most terrible things occur in purely Protestant communities. The force of Protestantism against vice is weak and rapidly growing weaker. That Catholic faith and practice is necessary for a moral nation, many non-Catholics already acknowledge now. Real religion and solid virtue is necessary to stem the rising tide of infidelity and licentiousness. Let the Church do her work. And let everybody seek her assistance, for alone and unaided there is nothing but failure to look for in the realm of virtue and morality.

• • • •

The Independent says that Protestant is a bad name for a church. When men tried their hands at making a new church they were not long in giving it a bad name. But the name is just as good as the church.

We wonder if this gem of literature has been given to us by the clerical gentleman who undertook to contribute a daily summary of proceedings to the press, and who sums up results in the following characteristic fashion: "There was great unanimity on subjects where there could not well be anything else. There was a resolution passed by a rising vote against the "Ne Temere" Decree, of which the members showed their absolute ignorance. There was an utter lack of unanimity on such secondary matters as the position of the Bible, Education, Church Union." Finally, the whole output of the "Ecumenical" Methodist Conference could be turned out by the kitchen of some second-rate Methodist Church.

• • • •

The Methodist Council was, it appears, like every other irresponsible gathering, dominated by the loud-lunged wind-jammers. The Christian Guardian remarks very charitably: "There are a few men who seem to feel that they must throw the light of their profound wisdom upon every question." What a revelation of hours of agony is behind this little remark.

After Spending Thousands of Dollars and Consulting the Most Eminent Physicians, He Was Desperate.

CHICAGO, ILLS.—Mr. J. G. Becker, of 184 Van Buren St., a well-known wholesale dry goods dealer, states as follows:

"I have had catarrh for more than thirty years. Have tried everything on earth and spent thousands of dollars for other medicines and with physicians, without getting any lasting relief, and can say to you that I have found Peruna the only remedy that has cured me permanently.

"Peruna has also cured my wife of catarrh. She always keeps it in the house for an attack of cold, which it invariably cures in a very short time."

Newark, N. J., Oct. 27.—A tree planted by his father on the day Frank Fitzpatrick was born, seventy-eight years ago, recently suffered a blight. Last evening Fitzpatrick reluctantly began chopping it down. As the tree crashed to the ground, Fitzpatrick staggered and fell. When picked up he was dead of heart disease.

Confined to His Home for Weeks.

"Heavy work, severe straining and evil habits in youth brought on Varicose Veins. When I worked hard the aching would become severe and I was often laid up for a week at a time. My family physician told me an operation was my only hope—but I dreaded it. I tried several specialists, but soon found out all they wanted was my money. I commenced to look upon all doctors as little better than rogues. One day my boss asked me why I was off work so much and I told him my condition. He advised me to consult Drs. Kennedy & Kennedy, as he had taken treatment from them himself and knew they were square and skillful. I wrote them and got THE NEW METHOD TREATMENT. My progress was somewhat slow and during the first month's treatment I was somewhat discouraged. However I continued treatment for three months longer and was rewarded with a complete cure. I could only earn $18 a week in a machine shop before treatment, now I am earning $21 and never loose a day. I wish all sufferers knew of your valuable treatment.

AUTUMN IS THE TIME FOR GLASSES — WHY?

The increasingly long evenings of Autumn give greater opportunity for Sewing, Writing, Reading, Study, and as this is necessarily by artificial light the strain upon the eyes is such as to make Glasses quite a boom at this season of the year. This no doubt, accounts for much of the present increased demand for Glasses.

Desperate Fighting on the Outskirts of Tripoli —Italians Showed Great Courage

London, Oct. 28.—Referring to Thursday's fighting in Tripoli, The Times' Malta correspondent says: "The Italians, hidden in the trenches, waited until the enemy was within fifty yards and then made a magnificent bayonet charge. This, combined with the fire of the warships and mountain artillery, checked the Turkish advance and the enemy was defeated with a heavy loss and pursued into the desert. The Italian casualties reached 200, including two officers."

ANOTHER PLUME IN CAP OF DAVID LLOYD-GEORGE

London, Oct. 28.—There are numerous signs that David Lloyd-George chancellor of the exchequer, will be able to add a tall feather to his cap by jamming the national insurance bill into law.

During the few days of the new session of parliament already elapsed, he has displayed extraordinary resourcefulness in conciliating several of the most aggressive opponents of the project and in effecting a compromise on clauses that had aroused the fears and jealousies of friendly societies and physicians.

Profound interest is taken in its fate by the taxpayers—for the measure is more comprehensive than any continental scheme of a similar nature and involves in its present form an immense economic experiment bearing upon the future of labor in all lands.

To have tried to pass it over the heads of laborites, as for a while seemed the alternative to abandonment, would have been regarded by sagacious Liberals as a mere calamity. The attempt might have split the democracy in twain. But thanks to Lloyd-George's powers of exposition and persuasion, the parliamentary labor party is now lined up in its favor with the exception of a few guerrillas.

CORNER STONE OF NEW PROTESTANT HOME LAID

The corner stone of the new Protestant Home was laid by Mrs. Hazlitt, Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock, in the presence of an interested company of spectators. The members of the Ministerial Association had been cordially invited, and Rev. Canon Davidson, rector of St. John's Anglican church conducted the devotional exercises. The function was an exceedingly interesting one throughout, and was followed by an inspection of the premises, as far as at present constructed, which inspection elicited satisfactory comment on the undertaking in hand. Ald. Graham is the contractor.

Mr. J. H. Burnham, M.P., read a documentary history of the Protestant Home Institution since its incipiency, which document, including summarized references to recent developments which have made possible the new and commodious building now in course of construction, was placed beneath the stone and thus sealed up hermetically.

Mrs. Hazlitt, who laid the corner stone, was presented with a handsome silver trowel, and a beautiful bouquet of choice flowers.

The new building is situated on the old Hilliard Farm, now city property, at the head of Water street north, in the same spacious grounds on which the Institution Hospital is located. The building will fill a long felt want in providing a home for aged Protestant unfortunates who otherwise might suffer untold hardships in their declining years. The old building is far too limited to meet the demands, in this respect frequently made upon it, and the civic authorities are to be commended in co-operating with the Protestant Home Board to remove a cause for complaint not unfrequently made by Police Magistrate Dumble, viz.: "That it was a crying shame that old people should be sent to jail, whose only crime was poverty."

DEDICATION FESTIVAL SERVICES

St. John's Church Crowded Both Yesterday Morning and Evening.

The dedication festival services at St. John's Anglican church yesterday were largely attended both morning and evening. The splendid work of the choir, under the leadership of R. J. Devey, was fully in keeping with the joyous character of the day. Dr. Paterson-Smyth, rector of St. George's church, Montreal, was the special preacher, and delivered two eloquent discourses that claimed the undivided attention of his hearers. His morning sermon was constructed from the text: "Behold there is standing in the midst of you one whom ye know not," and his message consisted on an earnest exhortation to "practice the presence of God." The distinguished divine pointed out that the presence of God is evident on every hand—in star-lit heavens at night, in the miraculous natural results maturing from the puny efforts of man. No need to refer to the Bible for miracles; that of Christ feeding five thousand people with five loaves is being repeated, but in a more marvellous manner, every day. From a single grain of wheat sown by man springs forth fifty grains, from every bushel fifty bushels. Why marvel at Christ turning water into wine, when the work of nature, under God's direction, illustrates the same miracle, in the Niagara districts and other fruit growing localities, where the grape vine flourishes and brings forth abundantly thus making the production of wine by man possible. There is, he said, to many, standing in their midst one whom they know not; men are becoming too clever, and are losing their sense of wonder in the marvelous workings of nature with which they are surrounded—the world is growing too material to "practice the presence of God." But man cannot get away from the presence of God in his own person; what man calls conscience is the voice of God telling him "what he ought to do" and "what he ought not to do." He cannot flee that presence, for whether a Christian or not that voice, more popularly called "conscience," is ever present, and will be heard whether it be obeyed or not.

At the evening service the congregation sang one verse of "O Canada" immediately following the presentation of the offertory.

Thinks Canada Saved Empire.

London, Oct. 27. — Lord Charles Beresford, who was interviewed today on his return, said the sentiment which the Canadian people expressed in the recent elections had saved the Empire. At the same time he sympathized with Sir Wilfrid Laurier, who was one of the few really great statesmen of the day. Every man was liable to make a mistake. He was glad Sir Wilfrid Laurier was remaining in politics, a gladness which he felt was shared by all Canadians.

LIVING COST STILL SOARS

Many Household Commodities Becoming Much Dearer

NO SIGN OF A CHANGE

It Is Said That Apples May Reach From $7 to $10 Per Barrel—Butter, Eggs, Honey and Sugar Are All Going Up Very Much in Price.

Tomatoes.
Cauliflower
Canned goods of many sizes.
Honey
Sugar
Butter
Eggs
Apples.

All these are dearer in Peterboro' than thfy were a year ago, and many housewives who have to purchase are wondering why.

In October, 1910, ladies could go to the market and buy a bushel of tomatoes for from 25 to 50 cents, according to quality. Thus they were all busy making catsup, pickles and so on at this season of the year. They are not as busy this year, as they have to pay 35c a peck on the market for the tomatoes, find difficulty in getting them even at that price, and pay considerably more in stores.

"Queen of Vegetables."

The cauliflower is called the "queen of vegetables." It would need to be, as it costs 20 cents to buy a small one this year. They are very scarce.

So also are cabbages and some other vegetables.

The scarcity in the tomato crop has of course made both canned tomatoes and bottled catsup bought at local stores dearer. Small bottles of the latter that could be bought last year for 7 cents and until a few days ago for 10 cents, now retail at 13c. The days when the good housewife could get three tins for a quarter and "take her choice as to tomatoes, peas, corn and so on," are at present conspicuous by their absence. She is lucky if she can buy all lines at 15 cents a tin straight.

Small Fruits.

Then ib is the same with small fruits, such as strawberries, raspberries, peaches and a few other lines. These were scarce, with the result that the canned lines are much dearer than usually. Their increase runs from 15 to 25 per cent. above prices in October, 1910.

Honey and sugar are also considerably dearer.

Bakers say flour costs more than it did a year ago. Butchers claim meats are at least as dear and probably dearer.

The coal men have not boosted prices yet, but the winter is not over yet.

Then if any good lady who runs a big boarding house wants to lay away 30 or 40 pounds of butter for the winter she finds now that she has to pay from 26 to 30 cents a pound, and this is only to get it packed in a crock. If she buys a pound, either on the market or in stores, she has to dig down in her purse for three dimes and a nickle. In fact, some dealers are asking 36 cents a pound. Eggs are also dear.

Apples, too, are much dearer than usual. In October, right after the apple crop is gathered, apples are usually cheap, but now they are soaring in prices and it is quite probable that good apples will fetch as high as from $7 to $10 a barrel by Christmas.

A SWEEPING VICTORY FOR THE IMPERIALISTS

REBELS DRIVEN FROM HANKOW —REPORT IS DISCREDITED BY REBEL SYMPATHIZERS. IN SHANGHAI.

Rebels Advancing on Ching-Kiang—Massacre of Manchu Officials is Feared.

Shanghai, Oct. 28.—Wireless dispatches from Hankow reporting a sweeping victory for the Imperial troops there yesterday, caused a flutter in Shanghai to-day. The reports were received even in official circles with incredulity. Rebel sympathizers declared that the dispatches were undoubtedly sent from a Government source to bolster up a faltering cause.

The wireless dispatches were caught by some of the German naval operators. They gave no details, but said that there was fighting all day yesterday at Hankow and that the result was a sweeping Government victory, compelling the revolutionists to abandon Hankow and fall back across the Han river into Han Yang.

REBEL GAINS ELSEWHERE.

Whatever the situation around Hankow, matters have grown more desperate for the Government cause in the vicinity of Shanghai and along the lower part of the Yang Tse river. There were persistent reports to-day that Ching-Kiang, 150 miles above Shanghai, was about to fall into the hands of the rebels. Ching-Kiang is the first of the series of lower river forts above Shanghai, and is regarded here as the keystone of the defense of the city. If it falls, it is conceded that all the forts below it as far as Wu Sung will quickly follow. Wu Sung is 10 miles above Shanghai, marks the city's last line of defenses.

Shanghai, Oct. 27.—An interesting report which has been confirmed in part is that the Imperialists have approached the leaders of the revolutionists looking to a compromise. The rebel chiefs are willing to negotiate but demand as basic conditions the appointment of Yuan Shi Kai as Premier, the immediate assembling of the promised representative parliament and the complete reformation of the Provincial Governments throughout the Empire.

THE RULER OF CHINA.

There is reason to believe that if Yuan-Shi-Kai, who is practically in the position of a dictator now should decide to accept the Premiership, he would to all intents and purposes be the ruler of China.

Friends of Yuan doubt that he will accept the responsibility suggested unless he is granted extraordinary guarantees.

May Plunge the Whole of Europe Into War

Tukey is Threatened with Extinction as an Independent State

Constantinople, Oct. 28.—The Turkish position has become clearer. Tripoli is not the real worry, the continued existence of Turkey as an independent state being the question now before Europe and the world.

For more than a quarter of a century Turkey has existed by means of protection on the part of one or another of the European States or a group of States. Since Bismark's time the German block has been Turkey's main protector. England's recent declaration of military solidity with France has cancelled the protective capacity of the German bloc and set Italy free.

If Turkey is unable to find an efficacious protector she will, if she can, plunge the whole of Europe into war.

HUNDRED WARSHIPS TAKE POSSESSION OF N. Y. HARBOR

New York, Oct. 28.—The waters of New York Bay and the lower Hudson were churned to foam to-day by nearly a hundred warships taking positions for one of the biggest naval shows ever exhibited in America. By nightfall nearly all of the great fleet assembling under rear Admiral Osterhaus will be here.

The staid passenger and freight vessels, the squat ferry boats and the myriad smaller craft that swarm the harbor had to keep a sharp lookout to-day to avoid the steel clad fighting machines that crossed their path. Daylight found the battleships Idaho, Iowa, Indiana and Massachusetts and the cruisers Prairie and Panther waiting to enter the bay. Meanwhile their sister ships which arrived earlier in the week were steaming cautiously down the Hudson to take stations further south, while over at the naval yards in Brooklyn the battleships Utah and Florida were getting their last touches before joining the fleet for their first day of service. The Florida and Utah will be the newest and the most powerful ships in line.

BIG MASS MEETING ON THE NE TEMERE DECREE

PROTESTANT BODIES TO UNITE AT MASSEY HALL IN JANUARY

Delegates of Churches Will Strengthen Hands of Evangelical Alliance in Campaign Against Marriage Law—Meeting Held on Friday.

Torontoi Oct. 27.—The campaign being waged by the Protestant churches of Canada for the revocation of the Ne Temere marriage decree of the Roman Cathohe Church will have its formal inaugural shortly after the New Year by a great public meeting in Massey Hall.

At a meeting of the Evangelical Alliance yesterday afternoon, that body which unites itself with nearly all Protestant denominations, authorized Dr. N. W. Hoyles, the president, to select a committee to arrange for the public gathering. It was decided that the meeting had better wait until the Provincial elections are concluded in order to focus public attention.

Another important result of yesterday's meeting of the Alliance was to arrange for a joint meeting within a few weeks of all the delegates selected by the various denominations at their last annual conferences to act in any interdenominational program relating to the Ne Temere decree. These delegates will confer with the Alliance in order to make still more representative and authorative any future action in the campaign.

MODERN SHIPS BORDEN'S PLAN FOR OUR NAVY

Ottawa, Oct. 28.—It is understood that if the Borden Government decides to go on with the building of the Canadian navy, new tenders will be asked for.

The naval department received half a dozen tenders last May. No action has been taken on these tenders except that the three or four highest were put aside and the deposits amounting in the aggregate to some three quarters of a million have been returned.

In the meantime a year and a half has elapsed since the navy bill passed parliament. The bill provides for the construction of cruisers of the improved "Bristol" class. This type is rapidly becoming obsolete and has been already superseded in British Admiralty construction.

The result is that the Government, if it accepts any of last May's order, which were based on the naval service bill, would be spending an enormous amount of money on ships already out of date.

The tenders cover the construction of hulls and the placing of the armor plate for the protected deck, while the armor itself is brought from England.

The Duke of Connaught has abandoned his intention of going to Halifax and while there inspecting the naval college.

KNIGHTHOOD FOR BORDEN

New York, Oct. 28.—In connection with the visit here of Canada's new Premier, Robert L. Borden, it was declared to-day that before long Mr. Borden will become Sir Robert Borden.

The Duke of Connaught, the Governor-General, is said to have brought with him an offer of a knighthood, and it will be granted among the New Year honors, if not before.

LIFE SENTENCE FOR M'RAE

Cornwall, Oct. 28.—Farquhar McRae, who was yesterday found guilty of manslaughter for the shooting of William Shaw, was this morning sentenced by Mr. Justice Sutherland to life imprisonment.

R. A. Pringle, counsel for McRae, pleaded for mercy. He read a petition from nine of the jurymen asking for leniency.

Mr. Justice Sutherland agreed that the case was a peculiar one. He could not agree however, that the ends of justice could be served by a reduction of the sentence. He thought the jury was right in saying that it was a deliberate killing. The evidence might well have led to a verdict of murder. "I do not intend for one moment to justify the course of Dr. Magee. He and his party acted in an illegal high-handed manner. On the other hand, what can be said in extenuation for a man who deliberately kills another?"

"I have given this question the closest attention all through the night, and I can see nothing else than to sentence you for life at Kingston Penitentiary."

THE CANADA NATIONAL FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY

was incorporated by Special Act of the Parliament of Canada for the purpose of carrying on the business of Fire Insurance, as outlined in the Insurance Act and the Special Act of Incorporation.

Capital Stock Authorised by the Board.....$2,000,000
Capital Stock Subscribed to date.....$1,650,000

The Head Office of the Company is in the city of Winnipeg, and, in addition to this, Branch Offices and Agencies will be established throughout the Dominion.

It must be generally conceded that, owing to the satisfactory conditions at present prevailing throughout not only Western Canada, but the entire Dominion, this Company is being organized at a most favorable and opportune time.

Canada, and particularly the Western portion of the Dominion, is advancing in population and wealth more rapidly than at any other time in its history, and every indication points towards a period of great prosperity and development.

The great influx of settlers into Western Canada is resulting in tremendous activity in every line of business. Railroad construction is proceeding on a scale hitherto unknown in this country, and as adequate transportation is of vital importance in moving our immense crops with a proper degree of facility, it is highly encouraging to see so much well-directed energy along the lines of railway extension.

Coincident with railway expansion, we find many new districts rapidly filling up with desirable settlers, bringing with them a good supply of cash and effects. With the settlement of the rural districts, new towns and villages are springing up, which will, during the next few years, become, in many instances, important business centres.

With such unprecedented growth in Western as well as Eastern Canada, involving an expenditure of millions of dollars in building operations, it is at once evident that there is a very extensive and profitable field for a new Fire Insurance Company which will have a thorough organization throughout the length and breadth of the Dominion, and more particularly in the four Western Provinces.

As a great volume of our business will be transacted in the West, it is a matter of the greatest importance that the Head Office of the Company, as well as the Directors, should be located in the West, so that the affairs of the Company may be conducted to the best possible advantage.

DIRECTORS.

The Board of Directors consists entirely of Western men with a very intimate knowledge of Western conditions, and they are, accordingly, well conversant with the financial and general business requirements of the West. They are thoroughly representative of the various important branches of financial, commercial, industrial and professional life in Western Canada, and with their wide reputation for business ability and integrity, as well as financial standing, combined with a long and varied experience, and practical knowledge of business affairs, they are exceptionally well qualified to render excellent service to a large financial institution.

As the Directors have valuable connections with extensive business interests and are also Directors of other financial corporations, as well as being otherwise identified with large and influential companies which control a great deal of high-grade fire insurance, they will be instrumental in placing a large portion of this desirable insurance with the new Company, so that we may safely conclude that from the very beginning of operations a large and profitable business will be assured.

Under these favorable conditions, and with a strong, energetic, as well as experienced and conservative management, combined with the fact that each Director has subscribed for eleven thousand five hundred dollars ($11,500) of the Capital Stock, on which all calls have been paid, and takes an active interest in the welfare of the Company, there is only one conclusion to draw, and that is that the affairs of the Company will be conducted in such a careful, conscientious and intelligent manner that the interests of both policyholders and stockholders will be fully protected.

IT IS WORTHY OF NOTE THAT $1,650,000 OF CAPITAL STOCK HAS ALREADY BEEN SUBSCRIBED BY PROMINENT BUSINESS AND PROFESSIONAL MEN THROUGHOUT THE DOMINION AND ELSEWHERE.

No commission has been paid to anyone for securing stock subscriptions, and no expense has been incurred in the promotion and organization of the Company, except the expense in connection with securing the Charter and other necessary expenses.

THE CANADA NATIONAL FIRE.

The Canada National Fire, being organized in the West, MAY BE TRULY CALLED A WESTERN COMPANY, and, as such, should receive the liberal patronage and hearty co-operation of the citizens of Western Canada, as well as the support of people from Eastern Canada who desire to become associated with a strong and progressive Canadian Company.

When promoting this Company the Directors were fully convinced that there was a splendid opening in Western Canada for a Company prepared to carry on the business of Fire Insurance on a large and comprehensive scale, and which, at the same time, could offer ADEQUATE PROTECTION TO BOTH POLICYHOLDERS AND SHAREHOLDERS. Accordingly, when making application for a Dominion charter, the Company was incorporated with a capital of $3,000,000.00, of which amount the Directors decided to offer for public subscription the sum of $2,000,000.00.

THE ALL-IMPORTANT FEATURE IN FIRE INSURANCE IS PROTECTION, and with the LARGE CAPITAL, combined with the high standard of Reserve, which will be maintained through careful selection of risks and profits from judicious investments, the Directors and Management feel confident that this Company will be accorded a very hearty reception by Canadian citizens, and will soon rank as one of the leading Fire Companies.

WITHOUT A LARGE AND SUBSTANTIAL CAPITAL FOR THE PROTECTION OF THE POLICYHOLDERS, A FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY IS SERIOUSLY HANDICAPPED, AND DOES NOT AFFORD THE POLICYHOLDER THAT PROTECTION TO WHICH HE IS JUSTLY ENTITLED, and the Directors of this Company, being fully aware of this most important fact, are adopting a very wise policy in OFFERING FOR SUBSCRIPTION SUCH A LARGE AMOUNT OF CAPITAL STOCK, and when our entire stock is subscribed and paid in full it will represent the largest amount of subscribed and paid-up capital of any Canadian Fire Insurance Company, and will be a tower of strength and of very material benefit to the company in carrying on its extensive operations.

GENERAL AGENT FOR CANADA

W. E. FUDGER, ESQ.

THIS IS A RARE OPPORTUNITY to secure some of the Capital Stock of a Western Fire Insurance Company. With a large amount of desirable and profitable business so readily obtainable by the Company through its valuable and extensive business connections, rapid progress should be made, and with investments carefully selected and unexcelled in earning power, the Company will be enabled to not only pay substantial dividends, but build up a large reserve, and thereby materially increase the value of the stock.

The Directors firmly believe in the policy that EVERY SHAREHOLDER SHOULD CO-OPERATE WITH THE MANAGEMENT of a Company and take an active interest in its welfare. For that reason, it is their intention to WIDELY DISTRIBUTE the CAPITAL STOCK, and by that means obtain the support of the leading business and professional men throughout the country.

With the rapid development of the West during recent years, involving an outlay of many millions of capital, it has become generally recognized that WESTERN CANADA IS VERY MUCH IN NEED OF MORE LARGE FINANCIAL INSTITUTIONS, AND ESPECIALLY OF WESTERN ORIGIN, to properly meet the growing requirements of the West, and to not only improve the present financial situation, but to materially assist in retaining, as much as possible, desirable business, with its resultant profits, within our own Western borders.

The business of fire insurance has now grown to such large proportions that it has become a very important factor in the financial and commercial world, and as its scope and influence is so general and widespread it is only natural to find that the question of AMPLE PROTECTION TO POLICYHOLDERS, which is the PRIMARY FUNCTION OF FIRE INSURANCE COMPANIES, should be so GENERALLY DISCUSSED AT THE PRESENT TIME.

This important subject has given rise to a very STRONG FEELING in Western Canada that the TIME HAS NOW ARRIVED when the Western people should organize a Fire Insurance Company of such strength and proportions that it will soon rank as one of the leading fire companies of America, and command general respect and confidence, which is so ESSENTIAL to a company that solicits the support and patronage of all classes of the community.

The Directors have every confidence that they will receive the hearty co-operation of not only Western citizens, but of people from every part of the Dominion, to build up a GREAT fire insurance company with AMPLE PROTECTION for the people, and which will be a source of pride and credit to our country.

The following Canadian Government Insurance statistics should prove of ESPECIAL INTEREST:

In the year 1869 the total amount of fire premiums collected in Canada was $1,785,539.00, whereas in the year 1909 the total premiums charged amounted to the large sum of $22,293,633.25, and of this amount $6,551,644.41 was charged by Canadian Companies, $11,518,267.45 by British Companies, and $4,223,721.39 by American Companies.

During the last forty-one years the aggregate amount of fire insurance premiums collected in Canada reached the immense total of $280,740,466.00, of which the large sum of $218,310,047.00 represents the amount of fire premiums collected by FOREIGN COUNTRIES, and which, therefore, was taken out of the country to build up foreign companies and enrich foreign shareholders.

Notwithstanding that a considerable portion of the fire premiums collected in Canada by Foreign Companies has been repaid to Canadian policyholders, through fire losses, it must be evident that the larger the proportion of Canadian fire insurance that is placed with Canadian Companies, the larger is the amount of capital retained in the Dominion and always available for investment purposes, to build up our Canadian financial institutions, and thereby add to the general wealth and prosperity of our country.

The above figures are most significant and clearly demonstrate that while the CANADIAN FIRE COMPANIES have been doing a satisfactory business they HAVE SECURED only a SMALL portion of the Fire Insurance transacted in Canada, or, to be more exact, ONLY TWENTY-TWO PER CENT. of THE TOTAL FIRE INSURANCE WRITTEN IN CANADA, covering a period of the last forty-one years. With the extraordinary progress which Canada has been making during recent years, the field for financial institutions has become so widely extended that there is a CONSTANTLY INCREASING DEMAND for new large financial corporations.

By further reference to our Government statistics it will be observed that at December 31st, 1909, the total number of Canadian Fire Companies operating under Dominion charter was ONLY TWENTY-ONE, and of this number ONLY TWO HAD A PAID-UP CAPITAL IN EXCESS OF $500,000.

In promoting this large Canadian Company the Directors are fully confident that the new organization will, with characteristic Western energy and enterprise, soon come to be recognized as an important factor in the insurance world, and as The Canada National Fire will be instrumental in RETAINING WITHIN THE BOUNDARIES OF CANADA a large amount of money which would otherwise be taken out of the country to build up foreign corporations the people of the growing Dominion will readily see the advisability of giving this Company their MORAL AND FINANCIAL SUPPORT, in order that we may build up a STRONG and VIGOROUS Company which will prove a valuable acquisition to our Canadian monetary institutions.

This is the last opportunity to secure, direct from the Company, some of this desirable stock.

It is worthy of special note that the demand for the stock has exceeded the Directors' most sanguine expectations; in fact, of the $2,000,000 of stock to be issued, $1,650,000 has already been subscribed, and, from present indications, with the large number of applications for stock being received daily, the Directors are confident that the balance of the issue, which is now only $350,000, will be subscribed by August 26th, 1911, the date appointed for the closing of stock subscriptions.

For this reason, the Directors strongly recommend the investing public to mail their applications for stock at their earliest possible opportunity.

Subscribers are requested to kindly fill in attached application form, stating name in full, number of shares desired, occupation and address, and mail the application, along with the first call of Twenty-five Dollars ($25.00) per share on the stock, direct to the Head Office of the Company, Winnipeg, Man., or, if so desired, application may be made for the stock at any of the Company's Branch Offices or at any Branch of the Royal or Imperial Banks, where application blanks and any additional information will be readily furnished. Applications for stock will be considered in the order received, and on approval of the same by the Board of Directors a certificate for the number of shares subscribed will be issued and mailed the shareholders forthwith. Cheques, Drafts, Money Orders or other remittances on account of stock subscriptions should be made payable to The Canada National Fire Insurance Company.

T. C. HOLT, LTD. OF VANCOUVER

Splendid Investments Offered by This Well Known Firm.

The Times would call special attention of investors to the advertisement of the T. C. Holt, Limited, of North Vancouver, one of the most substantial and prosperous brokers and real estate firms on the Pacific Coast. Capitalists in the east are now looking to the west for safe and profitable investments, and there is probably no spot on the continent where more money has been made faster than in Vancouver real estate. North Vancouver is rapidly forging ahead, and those who are able to get in now will be sure to reap a golden harvest.

T. C. Holt, Limited, recommend the following investments to their clients :

1st—While they last, 100 shares in the T. C. Holt Ltd. at $100 per Share. 25 per cent. on application and 10 per cent. per month until fully paid up. This Company being strictly under Government supervision is not allowed to sell their shares for less than par. We consider these shares a good and safe investment, as they will bring the investor a dividend of from 10 to 20 per cent. per year or more. Only a limited number left.

2nd—Investments in Real Estate. Remember, Mr. Investor, inside property in North Vancouver, is as yet cheaper than property in Point Grey, Fairview, South Vancouver, or Grand View, on the outskirts of Vancouver. 5 years ago an investor North Vancouver, far $10,000, to-day bought a corner on Lonsdale Avenue the same piece of property is worth $100,000.00. We can buy for our clients to-day property for investment from $1000 to $50,000.00 and over and can almost guarantee a profit of from 25 per cent. to 50 per cent. in a couple of years.

3rd—Investments in Mortgages and Agreements of Sale which represent a very safe and sure investment and bring in from 8 to 10 per cent. per year. Nearly every day some party calls in our office and invests his money in Mortgages or Agreements of Sale. They say they prefer absolute safety for their money with a good rate of interest, rather than no interest with a hope of increase in selling value.

Progress is the dominant note in the City of Vancouver to-day, and where progress is, where wealth accumulates, there will realty values advance, and this is inevitable in Vancouver.

LAME BACK

Just the Sort of Case That Proves to the World That the Best Liniment Ever Made is

NERVILINE

When it comes to determining the real merit of a medicine, no weight of evidence is more convincing than the straightforward statement of some reliable and well-known person that has been cured. For this reason we print the verbatim statement of Juan E. Powell, written from his home in Carleton. "I am a strong, powerful man, six feet tall, and weigh nearly two hundred. I have been accustomed all my life LETTER NO. 4769 to lift great weight, but one day I overdid it, and wrenched my back badly. Every tendon and muscle was sore. To stoop or bend was agony. I had a whole bottle of Nerviline rubbed on in one day, and by night I was well again. I know of no liniment possessing one-half the penetration and pain-subduing properties of Nerviline. I urge its use strongly as an invaluable liniment and household cure for all minor ailments, such as strains, sprains, swellings, neuralgia, sciatica, lumbago, rheumatism, and muscular pain."

No better medicine for curing pain was ever put in a bottle than Nerviline—over one million bottles used every year—better try it yourself. Large size bottle 50c, or sample size 25c. At all dealers or The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

A Pleasant Trip.

The Grand Trunk Pacific are in receipt of a letter from a prominent traveller in Eastern Canada, who has just returned from a trip to the West and which included a journey on the Grand Trunk Pacific from Winnipeg to Wainwright and return.

He states : "I must say it was one of the pleasantest experiences in a long life of travel! Having seen the road in the making, and being aware of the high standard set up, I was prepared for a good roadbed, and was not disappointed, for we rode as smoothly as between Montreal and Toronto. The sleeping cars are models of comfort, and the service on them, as well as the dining cars, couldn't be better. The Grand Trunk are setting the pace for general excellence in Western Canada."

Edmonton to Winnipeg by Grand Trunk Pacific.

Before leaving Canada, Mr. Hamar Greenwood, Member of Parliament, British House of Commons, wrote to the Grand Trunk Railway System, in connection with his trip over their lines in Canada, and in which he says : "We especially enjoyed the journey from Edmonton to Winnipeg which we made on your System in the best equipped train I ever saw in my life. You have fixed a very high standard, if this train is the standard up to which you are working."

WHO'S WHO IN CANADA

W. A. BUCHANAN, M.P.

Mr. Buchanan, who supplants Mr. C. A. Magrath as parliamentary representative for the Medicine Hat constituency, was born at Fraserville, Peterboro county, on July 2, 1876, and took his educational courses at the High and Public Schools of Warkworth, Trenton, Brighton and Norwood. The allurement of journalism caught him soon after the completion of his scholastic course, and he opened in the profession as reporter on the "Peterboro Review", following on, and up, to Toronto, where, soon after, he graduated to the News Editor's desk of the "Telegram". This held him for four years, at the end of which time there was removal to St. Thomas to take over the management of the "Daily Journal"

In 1905 Mr. Buchanan heard the West a-calling in such promising tones that he decided to respond, and November of that year saw the establishment, under his proprietorship, of the "Lethbridge Herald", now claimed as the leading daily and weekly newspaper of Southern Alberta.

At the general election of 1909, Mr. Buchanan was elected a member of the Provincial Legislature, and soon afterwards was honored by being chosen a member of the Government, a position subsequently abandoned over a difference of opinion on the Alberta and Great Waterways' Railway transaction. When the Reciprocity question came to the front he decided to enter the wider field of politics, and resigning his seat in the Provincial Legislature, came out as an opponent to Mr. Magrath, who as all the world now knows was compelled to retire under a one thousand votes defeat. Mr. Buchanan is, of course, a Liberal in politics, is an advocate of the reduction of the tariff and an increase in the British preference. He is President of the Lethbridge Canadian Club and Alberta and Eastern British Columbia Press Association.

Mr. ALEXANDER FRASER
Ontario Archivist and Author

Mr. Alexander Fraser, who has recently issued a history of the old Huron villages, is recognised as a man who well fits his position as archivist of the Ontario Province. He possesses a wide and varied knowledge of things Canadian, and can, in addition, supply almost any details on demand with reference to Scotland and the Scots.

Mr. Fraser is a Highlander born and bred, but has been in Canada twenty-five years. He was on the staff of the Mail and Empire, for fifteen years, and afterwards edited the Massey Illustrated, the Presbyterian Review, and the Scottish Canadian. He is one of our leading Gaelic authorities and taught Gaelic at Knox College for three years. He established the Gaelic Society of Canada, and was one of the founders of the 48th Highlanders. He is prominent in all Scottish societies, and is the author of "Practical Lessons in Gaelic Grammar," "Short Scottish Biographies," "Essays on Celtic Literature," "Antiquities and Art," "The Mission of the Scot to Canada," "History of Toronto," "History of the 48th Highlanders," and other publications.

Mrs. Borden
Wife of Canada's New Premier

In course of an appreciation of the wife of the premier, a Canadian Lady writer says she is in truth "not only a very gracious and attractive woman, but she is, also, a very cultured and understanding woman, one to whom the laws of harmony are revealed. Therefore, whether I think of her in her gleaming evening gown, with orchids to match, trailing their rich deepths over her white arm, and all the glitter and the ceremonial of a viceregal opening of the Houses of Parliament for her background; or in her simple house dress, whose folds the hearthlight tinted with fires of amethyst; I think of her with the idea of the aesthetic taste well gratified — she is still a picture."

Mrs. Borden, feminine to a degree, is what one must call a woman's woman Woman and the concerns of woman interest her to an astonished extent, she has high ideals for her sex. She has great pride, also, in her sex's achievement.

"There is a beautiful custom in Japan," says the "Shanghai Mercury", whereby the wife, during the hot weather, sits up all night fanning the fevered brow of her husband."

While it has been the custom with most steamship lines to discontinue their Quebec and Montreal sailings about November 15th each year and transfer their steamers to the winter announced that their crack triple-screw steamer "Laurentic" will make an extra sailing to the St. Lawrence in November to accommodate the pre-Christmas traffic.

When you have a bad cold you want the best medicine obtainable so as to cure it with as little delay as possible. Here is a druggist's opinion : "I have sold Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for fifteen years," says Enos Lollar of Saratoga, Ind., "and consider it the best on the market." For sale by all dealers.

way. These reflections rendered him miserable — for he seemed to himself to be both cowardly and dishonest.

No young man, starting out on his life work, ever passed a more heart-breaking, courage-sapping day.

The next morning, he was even more disinclined to start on the trail of his woods mentors. Romeo Bragg ventured reproach when he was told to wait.

"You don't think, do ye, that you're goin' to set on that piazza and get into a trance and see where they are? The only way to catch them two men is to hiper!"

"I'm running my own business!" snapped George.

"No, you ain't," said Bragg, over his shoulder, as he departed. "You ain't even walkin' it!"

Jepson Wiggin passed him several times, on his way to and from the post office. But the young man made no signal that he wished to see him in private — and Wiggin was too wise to accost the Great Trust Co. man in public. The old man was not worried. He winked at George, evidently impressed by the fact that the agent was awaiting word from headquarters.

On the second day of his waiting, an alert stranger arrived at the tavern in Corran-cache, coming in by the logging train.

He paid no atention to any of the porch loungers, among whom was George.

Obtrusively, he nailed up a circular advertising a certain make of cross-cut saws, and then asked the landlord the way to Jepson Wiggin's, as though eager to sell saws. George, still immersed in his bitter thoughts, calling himself first fool and then knave, as he hesitated between his personal interests and the leaving of Clare Corran to her own fate, paid little attention to the business-like stranger.

The landlord came and sat by George, after the mail had been distributed and the loafers had gone. It was dull once more in Corran-cache, and the landlord liked conversation. He pointed at an aged Indian, who had sat in stolid silence for some hours on the end of the porch platform.

"Know him?"

Harry shook his head.

"That's old Noel, the Bear. Guess how old he is!"

The young man did not venture.

"Probably over a hundred. My grandfather used to know him, and he was a man, then, Noel was. Says he goes off into the wilderness and catches a beaver every fall, and eats his tail, and that makes him live a long time. He was chief of his tribe when there was any tribe to be chief of. Lives over across the border somewhere. Don't see him round here very often. He ain't much of a feller to talk, but mebbe I can get something out of him. Know anything about Injuns?"

"No," admitted George.

"Well, that old fool is proud because he's an Injun. Ever hear anything funnier than that?"

Harry did not undertake to argue regarding pride of birth. But he looked on the old remnant of the great Abnaki race with interest. He knew history. He could appreciate what sentiments Noel, the Bear, descendant of chiefs, nourished in his bosom. The landlord addressed him with the patronizing familiarity he would have used toward a child.

"How do, Noel? Where from, where to, how be squaw?"

The old Indian turned his head slowly, and surveyed the speaker with grave eyes.

"How!" he returned gutturally, and resumed his position.

"No, you can't ever get anything out of 'em," went on the chatty landlord. "I asked him how squaw was. I meant the Injun girl they call the White Lily. Ever hear of her? Probably not. But in this country up here she's known, all right. I've seen handsome girls, but I've never laid eyes on a prettier one than she is. King of a great-grand-daughter of the old boy, there. The pride of the tribe, you know. Set up for a queen among 'em. Too bad she's got Injun in her. She'd make some feller a handsome wife if it wasn't for that. It's tough to think of her marryin' an Injun. Say, there's Blinn Wiggin got back. Been away somewhere into the woods, I call'ate, to let that stripe across his face get well."

George had not seen his foe since that bitter meeting at which their enmity began.

Young Wiggin advanced, swaggering.

The old Indian stood up, and seemed to be awaiting him.

For an instant, Wiggin hesitated. The appearance of old Noel did not please him, that was plain. Harry could see that his face changed. But he walked on. When he was about to pass the Indian, Noel raised his brown hand.

"I wait here. She wait there. You have not come."

"Oh, shut up!" snapped the young man.

"She wait. You have promised," insisted the Indian. "You go back with me."

Wiggin perceived that the others were listening an had overheard. He grew red and angry.

"I tell you to close your mouth," he commanded. "If you've got business with me, talk in private. I haven't got any time for you now."

and the old Indian stepped from in front of him when he attempted to pass.

"I have wait. I have hunt long for you. She canot wait longer. This is the time to talk. Do you come with me?"

"I've given you your warning. You keep out of my way!"

He thrust his arm against Noel to push him aside. The Indian clung to him. Wiggin, beside himself, cursed, leaped back, and struck the old man. Noel fell, and Wiggin came on. He glared at George, challenging him with his eyes. But Harry, shocked though he was by the brutal act, said nothing. Another public quarrel with this young fire eater was not to his taste. He had an account to settle with Blinn Wiggin, but he proposed to attend to it at a more fitting time.

The landlord was not restrained by such considerations.

"That was about as dirty a trick as I ever saw done," he declared. "You did take a man of your size the other day, but you struck him when he wasn't looking. Now, you hit a man a hundred years old. We'll ride you on a rail, Wiggin, if you keep this up." The Indian had struggled to his feet. "It's too bad, Noel. Did he hurt you much?"

"He hurt me here," replied Noel, drawing up his tall form and patting his breast. "For she wait. If I not bring him, she die of shame and sorrow."

"Say, what's the trouble here, anyway?" demanded the landlord. "Now, you needn't flare up at me, Wiggin. You tackle me, and I'll brain you with this chair. What are you battering that old man for?"

"None of your devilish business! If I've got any mail here, give it to me. That's all the busines I've got with you.'

"There isnt any mail for you."

Wiggin turned to leave.

"I say you come," cried Noel, his voice breaking.

But Wiggin hastened down the street. Noel tried to follow, but he staggered, and the landlord ran after him and brought him back to the porch.

"It's too bad, old man," he said soothingly. "You're only an Injun, but doin that to you wa'n't right. You seemed to have business with him about some 'she.' What's the matter?" The landlord displayed the curiosity of the busy-body.

Noel drew himself up. He towered even above George's stalwart figure.

"My talk for him, not you," he said, with dignity. The wrinkles that marked his face were set into deep lines that made his visage grim. He turned, and walked away.

"I wouldn't want to have that Injun after me, even if he is a hundred years old," vouchsafed the landlord. "I'll tell you what it is, son, that deviler of a Wiggin has got mixed up with the White Lily. If he's done her dirt, there's trouble ahead for him, and some white folks I know of will be willing to help make it."

The return of the brisk stranger broke in on their conversation. He came with Jepson Wiggin at his heels. The old man was worried and haggard.

"I'd like to see you in private," the stranger informed George crisply. The young man led the way to his room, and the two followed.

When they were closeted, the stranger began without preamble.

"I'm from the main office of the Great Trust Co., Mr. George. You were sent up here on forestry work. You were supposed to be in the woods with our cruisers. Just what authority do you have to make talk with Mr. Jepson, here, on matters you know nothing about?"

"I had no authority," confessed Harry.

The old man began to curse, but the stranger snapped his finger at him, and ordered him to keep still.

"You deserve to be discharged, George, and I have full power to fire you. We make no allowances, understand? You've been here on a spree with the rest of these yahoos, when you——"

"I have been here doing no such thing," cried Harry indignantly.

"You've been loafing here, making talk about matters that you have no license to meddle with. Our company is not what you try to make it out. Jepson has told me how you tried to bribe him. I say, I ought to discharge you. But I'm going to favor you a little. I'm going to allow that you'd been drinking and didn't realize what you were talking about. You get into the woods, where you belong. You stay there, attending to your work, and we'll let the matter drop. Remember that I'm doing you a special favor. Make good, now, and I won't report you."

It was threat, promise, and bribe combined. The insolence of it stung the young man. It was perfectly plain to him that the Great Trust Co. and Wiggin were in collusion. The prompt visit of this stranger to the old man, and their equally prompt visit to squelch the man who had presumed to interfere with the plot, showed him all.

Had George been less indignant, he might have given up, there and then, his vague plans of helping Clare Corran. But his spirit rose under this contempt.

"You're not dealing with a ten-year-old in this matter," he blurted. "I know perfectly well what the scheme is, and you're talking big to the wrong man — let me tell you that!"

The stranger knew men. He understood that he had to do with no craven.

"George," he said conciliatingly, "you don't understand the thing at

Animal Love.

Mother love is universal, and there is no love like the mother love. Most of the high and lofty loving in this world is done by mothers. Apart from this the work of wooing falls to the male members of the family whether it be the human family or some one of the other animal tribes. We read how, ages ago, a Bulbul, or Oriental Nightingale, wooed a white rose until it blushed red, and that was the beginning of the red rose. The Spanish Cavalier stands out in the rain and serenades his "Dulce Mia" until there is a crick in his neck, while she sits sheltered in a window above.

The cackle of the loon may be a love song for all we know. Maybe that's what made him loony in the first place.

The wild moose bellows his passion across the lake, and as likely as not the answering call is from a bark horn in the hands of a hunter, luring him to death.

It seems a sizzling shame, but if you will take a Grand Trunk train and travel into the "Highlands of Ontario" you will find men doing that very thing; arguing, doubtless, that all is fair in love and war.

NORFOLK, Va.

A De Luxe Booklet.

The railways of the American Continent vie with each other in producing their publications in artistic and attractive style and the Grand Trunk have received the palm from connoisseurs for being the leaders in this direction. With their usual taste they have just issued a very handsome brochure slightly different to the ordinary run of railway booklets, inasmuch as there is not any descriptive matter in the publication, but it is a book of views that tell their story without words. The name of this unique piece of advertising is simply "Vistas" with the Grand Trunk trade mark on one corner of the cover. The cover itself is a reproduction in colors from a painting of "The International Limited" the finest and fastest train in Canada. Inside the book are found maps of the Grand Trunk Railway system and the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway and a series of sixty-one pictures of Canadian scenes. These pictures are reproduced in the finest of half tone process from direct photographic negatives and printed on high class coated paper. The booklet is a credit to the Company.

These awards have been made under the following:—"Arts and Crafts"; "Engineering, Lighting, and Transportation"; and "Building Trades"; also "Advertising." This is considered by the Companies named as a great honor, as other railways exhibiting at the Exhibition have only received one award.

The official report from the Grand Trunk representative at this Exhibition, for week ending September 9th, shows that the number of persons visiting the Grand Trunk Pavilion was 21,186, bringing the attendance up to September 9th to 279,942 people.

Out Canadian Rockies.

Trunk Pacific Railway from Mr. Armountain climber and topographer, who is at present in the Canadian Rockies making observations for the purpose of mapping out the district, he says:

"We have a great amount of splendid material for publication and a collection of photographs that cannot be surpassed. We have just completed what is very nearly a 100 mile circuit around Mt. Robson, the highest peak in the Canadian Rockies. The peaks and valleys, lakes and waterfalls on all sides of it, and the glaciers are very fine. The region is immense, and there is work for years to come, exploring, mapping and depicting. There is a fine bunch of high peaks and large snowfields and glaciers southwest of Tete Jaune Cache. There are also great peaks up the Athabaska and Fraser headwaters, tributary to your line. The most showy part of Mt. Robson is the Robson Pass and Glacier, and Berg Lake."

STRUCK DUMB WITH AMAZEMENT

Mr. A. O. Wheeler, F.R.G.S., Director of the Alpine Club of Canada, has just returned to Vancouver from a summer spent in the Canadian Rockies in the vicinity of the Yellowhead Pass, and is greatly impressed with his trip.

In an interview with Mr. Wheeler, he stated: "It has been the general impression that the Rocky Mountains of Canada attain their greatest average height not very far north of the boundary line. True, of late years much has been heard of Mount Robson, which dominates the region of the Yellowhead Pass, but the popular notion was that there was nothing else in the neighborhood worth seeing, and that the Grand Trunk Pacific would pass through a region of little interest from the point of view of the tourist or mountaineer.

"There was no mistake about Mount Robson. It is without doubt, as was stated by one of the most travelled and skilled mountaineers of the day, Dr. Norman Collie, one of the most magnificent mountains in the world, whether seen from the south, the view that is most familiar on all sides were found mighty snowiar, or from beautiful Berg Lake, it still stands supreme. In the hundred-mile circuit of the great massif huge ice-falls, rushing torrents, waterfalls, flower-clad meadows and vast stretches of dark pine forest. Many of the peaks were named by the surveyors, but they are legion, and it will be many years before they are familiarly known as individual mountains."

In speaking of the Robson Glacier, which lies on the east side of this monstrous mountain, Mr. Wheeler said: "It struck us dumb with amazement that anything so stupendous, so superb, so undreamed of, should exist. At our feet flowed the great river of ice, every crevasse, every moraine, every icefall, clearly portrayed. Directly opposite rose the massif, its outline clear from base to summit for fully 8,000 feet. From the beautiful meadows at the head of Resplendent Valley twenty-five peaks were counted, all unknown and unnamed. And lakes, which perhaps lend the most characteristic charm to Canadian mountain scenery, were everywhere."

At the summit of the Yellowhead Pass Mr. Wheeler's party erected a monument defining the boundary between Alberta and British Columbia at the intersection of the Great Divide. On the base post set up, which is surrounded with a big stone mound are carved the words: "British Columbia on the west face; Alberta on the east face; and on the south 3,727.98 feet, being the altitude of the summit at the point where the post is set."

Clearing of right-of-way on the uncompleted gap of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway from Tete Jaune Cache westward to Aldermere in Bulkley Valley, was started a few weeks ago by the contractors, Messrs Foley, Welch & Stewart. Operations thus far are restricted to the route along the south fork of the Fraser between the Cache and Fort George.

An Interesting Booklet.

The Times is in receipt of a very interesting booklet dealing with the Maritime Provinces as a promising field for those who desire to establish new industries, or to profitably invest capital in the exploitation and development of natural resources. The obvious advantages of many parts of New Brunswick and Nova Scotia are ably presented in detail, together with many cheerful facts that ought to impress those who have capital ready to invest in a new field that is certainly rich in opportunity. It is commendable that while the eyes of the world are upon Canada, and thousands of new settlers are pouring into the West from many countries, an honest effort is being made to point out the advantages that exist in the east. The booklet will be mailed free to those who write the Industrial Department Intercolonial Railway, Moncton, N. B.

Present Disadvantages of Canadian Farmers.

At present the United States farmers have a great advantage over us. It costs 25c a bushel to send wheat into the United States. They can send their wheat into Canada for 12c a bushel, with rebate of 99 per cent. of duty when ground in bond. It costs us 30c to send a bushel of barley to the United States. They can ship barley into Canada for 15c. If we want to ship beans into the United States we have to pay 45c a bushel duty. The beans can come into Canada for 22c. They charge us 25c a bushel on the apples we send them. We charge them only 40c a barrel on what they send us. They charge us $4 a ton on the hay we send them. We charge them $2. They charge us 6c a pound on cheese, we charge them 3c. Thus it is with almost every farm product.

Under reciprocity these disadvantages will be wiped out, and we will be able to deal with them on an equal basis. Is not this worth while?

Home for Christmas

The Steamship Lines are expecting a large home-going exodus for the holiday season this year, and are making extensive preparations to take care of all of those who are planning to visit the Old Country.

The White Star-Dominion Line has arranged for three special Christmas sailings, viz. the "Canada" December 2nd, "Megantic" December 9th, and "Teutonic" December 14th, from Portland, Me., and Halifax, N. S., to take care of these passengers. These steamers will arrive in ample time to enable passengers to reach their homes before Christmas whether in England or on the Continent.

The railways have recognized the growing popularity of these annual Christmas excursions and now run special trains from Montreal and the west to connect with the steamers, and the most complete arrangements are made by both the steamship companies and the rail lines to further the comfort of the homeward bound ones during the holiday season.

Mrs. Ernest Green, Toronto, is the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Maldrum, Macdonnell street.

Grand Trunk Opening New Territory

The new territory in the Canadian Rocky Mountains that is being opened up by the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway has already become the Mecca for a number of Alpine Climbers and those who love to get away from the turmoil of the busy city and explore mountain fastnesses that are practically unknown. Some of the travellers who have gone into this Yellow Head Pass territory are now starning, and one gentleman writes to the Grand Trunk Pacific Headquarters as follows:—"Lake Maligne is a beautiful lake between 16 and 18 miles long. I have visited all the other transcontinental lines both in Canada and the United States, and there is no lake or district along any of these lines that can compare with the Lake Maligne country. Some of the mountains around the lake are in the neighborhood of 12,000 feet. Lake Maligne is reached from Henry House a few miles west of Fitzhugh, the Second Divisional point, and covered with ice fields which make them very beautiful."

STRANGE NESTS OF WILD BIRDS

Swinging Cradle Evolved by the Ingenious Tailor-Bird is of Leaves Neatly Sewn With Silk and Wool

The tailor-bird builds one of the most remarkable nests known to man. With only its beak for needle, it sews two or three leaves together in the form of a cup, and in this places its nest of wool, hair, and fine grass. It uses thread, which may be either silk, snatched from some caterpillar's cocoons, or pieces of wool or strong vegetable fibres. The The bird bores holes in the edges of the leaves, and threads the binding material through.

The oven-bird of South Africa collects horse-hair and fibre, and with these bind together the walls of the mud house which it builds. This mud house is wonderfully designed. It is built on a firm foundation of hardened mud; it has stout walls, and is covered in with a dome — a most difficult piece of work for a bird working with [illegible] and without scaffolding. Inside the home is divided by a stout [illegible] compartments, one of [illegible] pantry, and the other [illegible] the nest measures and weighs eight

WHEN NEUTRALS MUST STAND OFF

Allowing an Outbreak of War There Are Various Important Rules to be Observed by Nations that Desire to Stand Out.

When war is declared, every neutral power must observe a strict neutrality and impartiality in its attitude towards both belligerents. It may allow their war vessels to enter its ports, but must limit the duration of their stay, and must regulate the nature and amount of the supplies taken on board. The usual rule is a limit of 24 hours, but if a vessel of the other belligerent is in port, then one of them must not leave the port until the other has had a start of 24 hours ahead, though it would seem that there is nothing to prevent the vessel that leaves the harbor first to await 24 hours outside the three-mile limit and attack the other ship after she puts out to sea. The supplies that such vessel takes on board must not be more than enough to take the vessel to the nearest home port, and supplies must not be again furnished within three months. As an example of the enforcement of the foregoing rules, the procedure when the Spanish-American war broke out in 1898 may be mentioned. The ultimatum of April 20, signed by President McKinley, demanding the withdrawal of Spain from Cuba, was taken by Spain as a declaration of war, and the Spanish government on the following day sent the American minister his passports without waiting for him to present the ultimatum. On the 22nd the American ships at Key West started south to blockade Cuba On the 23rd the President called out 125,000 volunteers for two years' service, and on the 25th sent a message to Congress declaring that a state of war existed between Spain and the United States since April 21. All neutral powers took notice of this including Great Britain, which knew that Commodore Dewey, in command of the American squadron in the Pacific, had been for some weeks in the British harbor of Hong Kong, where he was permitted to remain pending a formal declaration of war. On the same day (April 25) the Governor of Hong Kong notified Dewey to leave the harbor, and he proceeded to Manilla Bay, where he destroyed the Spanish ships on May 1

How the Yard Measure Came

Although innumerable yards of silk, satin, and cloth are being bought and sold every day in this country, it is probable that very few persons, whether purchasers or salesmen, could say off-hand how we got our yard measure. It represents the arm measurement of King Henry I., which was 36 inches; and it was he who ordained that the length of his own arm should be the standard yard of cloth measure — an ordinance that has been preserved in Britain's commerce to this day.

Grow Old With Me

Grow old along with me,
The best is yet to be,
The last of life for which the first was made;
Our times are in His hand

Youth shows but half; trust God; see all, nor be afraid."

Power of Personality.

We are all susceptible to the tremendous power of personality. It comes to us perhaps over the footlights or in the tones of a singer's voice or in the single handclasp of a friend, or in the cheerful glance of a stranger's eye. That subtle, elusive, stirring thing which grips and moves us we know not how.—Mildred Bain.

ON BERRY DIET FOR THREE DAYS

Undaunted by Three Days Bush Wandering, a Plucky Seventy Years Old Will Build a Home in the Wilds.

To be lost in the woods of Graham Island recently, without food or shelter for three days and two nights was the terrifying experience of Mr White, of Tow Hill, a seventy-year-old retired carriage-maker from Vancouver. Mr White, who has had a longing to spend his declining days by the seaside, went to Graham Island a few weeks ago to look for a small preemption for himself and wife. He found one on the north coast of the Island near Tow Hill, and is erecting a house and cultivating a small patch of the land there.

A few days ago he started out for a little walk inland, following a survey line. Before going far he lost the line, and though he walked to and fro all day he could not pick it up again. At night he built a fire and slept. Next day he set out again. Walking in a circle he only succeeded after a day's march in getting back to the remnant of his last night's fire. He was then without a match and had to sleep in the cold. Again next day and the succeeding night he walked about, vainly trying to find the way out. He could hear shots and shouts of the searchers, and the sound of the breakers on the shores, but could not find any path out.

At last on the third day he found the trail to Cape Fife, but mistaking the direction walked further into the bush, where fortunately he was picked up by a settler.

During the whole time Mr. White subsisted on wild berries and is little the worse for his adventure. Nothing daunted by his experience, he is still firmly decided to spend the remainder of his days with his wife on Graham Island.

When We Were Poor

"When we were poor," remarked the prosperous business man, "we looked forward to the time when we could have a summer home."

"Well?" asked his friend.

"Well, when we got rich enough to have one we didn't like going to the same place every summer, because it was monotonous, and we looked forward to the time when we could have another for variety."

"Yes."

"We got another, and then we began to long for a winter place, so that we shouldn't have to spend so much time in Toronto."

"I see."

"Well, we have them all now."

"And are you happy?"

"I suppose so. At least I suppose my wife is. She keeps them all shut up and spends most of her time travelling around but she knows she has them."

Survival of an Instinct

Memory handed down through thirty generations is one of the perplexing facts of science. The beaver flourished along French rivers until killed off for its fur, but is now known only in about a dozen of the villages on the Rhone near Avignon. For three centuries these villages have had no trees to cut down for dams. The animals were compelled to adopt a new mode of life, and have burrowed in the banks, shaping mud with their tails as usual. Recently some of them were taken by a Polish count to forest on his estate. Very strangely, they resumed the habits dropped three centuries before they were born, and at once began cutting trees and building dams.

Women Constables.

According to a Paris contemporary the Burgomaster of Berlin has brought into being a body of women police. One section will devote their attention, we read, to ordinary police work, and to the other portion will be entrusted the care of infants. The guardians of the children will be required to possess a knowledge of medicine. We are also informed that they will be armed with revolvers, for their protection when entering houses in the lower quarters where they have a suspicion that children are being ill-treated. Thirty women will be engaged at the start, but we are not told whether they will wear the jupe-culotte.

Romans in Britain

The Roman galley found during the excavations in connection with the new County Hall for London was moved from Westminster Bridge to the new London museum at Kensington Place the other day. When the oaken beams were hoisted from the Thames mud a quantity of decayed bones was discovered. These included the rib of a man and other human remains, and also the jaw of a dog. Their condition was such that it was found necessary to enclose them in wire netting to prevent them falling to pieces.

The Down-Trodden.

A certain battalion — the Terrors" — possessed but a very small band. The commanding officer's feet — he was a burly farmer — were — well, very large. One day the battalion was to march out, but the music was not forthcoming.

"Where on earth is the band?" queried the adjutant.

For some time there was no reply; but when the question was repeated, a gruff voice was heard from the rear rank:—

"I do believe, sir, the colonel trod on it by accident."

CANADA'S FUTURE.

Earl Grey made an inspiring forecast of Canada's future before the Canadian Club of Ottawa, at a banquet given in his honor on the eve of his departure for England. After seeing all of Canada to which he could gain access by the ordinary means of travel, after penetrating some of the wilderness regions by the transportation means of the pioneer and voyageur, after estimating, with the seeing eye and the experience of a world-wide observer, the potentialities of Canada he ventured the prophecy that the time was not so very far in the future when the population of Canada would be more than that of the British Isles, thus giving a controlling part in the Empire to the Dominion. It takes the imagination of a statesman to see the Dominion a great nation in population, in immense cities, in prosperous industrial life, in far-reaching commerce, yet to the observant mind of the pro-consul all this was possible when he surveyed the fertile lands, the inexhaustible wealth of forest and mine, and sea, the energy and enterprise of a virile people, Canada has the natural resources to support millions. Earl Grey's forecast needs no stretch of the imagination.

By their declaration against reciprocity, by their expression of faith in Canada's destiny not as part of the United States but as a controlling influence in the Empire, the electors of Canada have contributed something to this imperial future. Earl Grey noted this "I shall also be able to tell my friends in England that nothing can prevent Canada from becoming, one day, the controlling part of the British Empire." In these words there can be read a suggestion that like every other great Britisher, this far-seeing pro-consul welcomed Canada's emphatic verdict that there would be no alliance with the United States, first commercially, then, under pressure, politically.

Our former Governor-General was at pains to define his imperial aspirations for Canada. Note his words "In the imperialism of which I am a devotee, there is no question of interference by the parliament of the Kingdom with the parliament of another kingdom or dominion within the Empire." And he expressed how he rejoiced in the emergence of Canada from the status of a daughter to that of a sister assistant nation in the Empire. This is in keeping with the declarations of Premier Borden, who looks for the autonomous growth of Canada as a nation within the British Empire, taking on, with a higher status, increased influence and responsibilities, and that none of the overseas dominions will ever be called upon to surrender any of the powers of self-government which it possesses to-day.

The Well-Dressed Man.

The business or professional man who neglects his clothes discards one of the most potent instruments of success.

Commenting on this obvious fact a writer on men's fashions remarks that apart from mercenary reasons, it is becoming more widely recognised that it is the duty of all men to do their best in the matter of dress to make themselves as presentable as possible.

There is also a psychological aspect of the matter which is not without interest. It is demonstrated that the average man is to some extent influenced by his own clothes, just in the same way as he is affected by his environment. Thus the same man, well dressed, will talk better, will walk better, and by the same token, do better work than he would do if he were carelessly or inappropriately clad. In a word he will (more or less consciously, of course) line up to his appearance, and become less slovenly in every way. As in most other things, it is the little things that count in the matter of dress. A man should study his appearance from the crown of his head to the soles of his feet

An Emperor-Policeman

Among the Duke of Wellington's special constables was a dreamy personage, then well known, but not very well spoken of in English society, named Louis Napoleon Bonaparte. He had returned to England nearly two years before after his melodramatic escape, in workman's disguise, from the fortress of Ham. The special constable's real career was now about to open. Two months after the memorable 10th of April he was in Paris as a member of the Constituent Assembly, and in the following autumn he was elected President by an overwhelming majority. What followed belongs to history, and takes us far from the enrolment of special constables.

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by Catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free.

HOW $100 GREW TO $31620

The value and importance of any enterprise must be based on the profits and dividends it can earn. In this respect the Midway Maple Leaf Oil Company, Limited, is without a parallel in the line of investments.

It combines the attractive factors which are needed to make the perfect investment—viz., safety, large earning capacity and low cost of the stock at the start. It is not at all uncommon for oil stocks to begin at a few cents a share and jump to hundreds of dollars a share—sometimes thousands.

	Started at	Has Sold at
Central	10 cents	$2.10
Monte Cristo	10 cents	$4.00
Lucile	10 cents	$16.00
Silver Tip	25 cents	$4.00
San Francisco and McKittrick	40 cents	$28.00
Kern River	50 cents	$8.75
Peerless	50 cents	$8.75
Puente	$10.00	$150.00
Home	$10.00	$5000.00

This list, taken from San Francisco and Los Angeles Stock Exchange records, could be added to almost indefinitely.

Fortunes have been made from stock increases. stock is $200, YOUR YEARLY PROFIT ON AN INVESTMENT OF $300.

When we have ten wells sunk you can reasonably figure on AN ANNUAL PROFIT ON YOUR HOLDINGS OF $2000.

$2000 A YEAR. DOESN'T THIS APPEAL

Many a case could be cited similar to that of Richard Ellis, clerk in a store in Los Angeles, whose investment of $100 became worth $31,620 in a short time. There are hundreds of such cases in Los Angeles alone.

$2000.00 Profit a Year

Do you realize that stock in the Midway Maple Leaf Oil Company, Limited, at the present price of 30 cents a share is not merely the opportunity of the year—IT IS THE OPPORTUNITY OF A LIFETIME.

If you have $10, $50, $100 or $500 YOU SIMPLY CAN NOT AFFORD TO PASS IT UP.

If we develop only a 1000 barrel well of 26 gravity oil, this production alone will be sufficient to enable the corporation to pay a dividend of 20 per cent. and at the same time have sufficient capital to continue the drilling of wells.

1000 shares of stock at the present price of 30c costs only $300.

20 per cent. dividend on the par value of the TO YOU? Wouldn't you like to be coming up to this office every three months and getting your dividend cheque for $500?

Remember, too, that your stock holdings in Midway Maple Leaf, if you should want to sell them should be worth $18,000 or sixty times the amount of your original investment.

Consider These Facts

The Midway Maple Leaf Oil Company is working in proven gusher territory, the richest oil zone in the world, controlling 40 acres on one-eighth royalty, with the great advantage of the option to purchase at only $1250 per acre after oil is struck, and the ground must then be worth at least $5000 per acre. This means a clean profit of $150,000 over purchase price. It has been demonstrated completely by gushers on adjoining Standard and Honolulu ground, that this portion of the Midway field is not only the richest portion of the whole district, but that it produces the highest grade of oil found in the entire vicinity, and worth 50 per cent. more per barrel at the well.

POCKET KNIVES IN THE MAKE

Although Comparatively Cheap Goods Pocket-Knives Are Put Through a Hundred Operations Before Being Ready for the Market

The labour of making a pocket-knife is, as usual in every industry that is carried on by the aid of a great deal of machinery, much divided. Each blade must go through six separate processes — first, forging; second, laying on the "tangs" — that part which is inserted into the handle and through which the blade is riveted; third, marking or stamping with the name of the manufacturer; fourth, "cholling," or filling a depression in the neck of the blade between the sharp edge and the heavier part or "tang"; fifth, tempering; sixth, grinding.

The rod of steel from which the blades are made is taken from the material room to the forge. Here one end is put into a bed of hot coals; the bellows are pumped and the end is soon red. The skilled forger then hammers the blade into shape upon his anvil, and so accurate is his eye and so exact his hand that the blade does not deviate a hair's breadth from the little brass pattern which is before him, and to which each blade must correspond exactly.

The blade is next dipped in water and becomes as hard and brittle as glass. It will even make a deep scratch in glass. But the edges are rough. It is nearly uniform in thickness and is a light grey in colour. Again the forger's skill is brought into play in the tempering. Laying the blades on a copper plate over the fire, he watches them as they change their hue with the degree of heat, first to straw colour, then to darker straw, and now to the dark purple which denotes that the proper degree of heat has been obtained.

The blades are taken next to the grinding room, where grinders are seated on "horses," or wooden seats, built over the revolving grindstones. The grinder must also depend upon the accuracy of his eye and the training of his hand.

From the "wheel room" the blades go to the cutler's room, where they find the other parts of the knife, and where all the parts are put together.

The making of a three-bladed knife may involve no fewer than one hundred operations, and may require handling by as many different workmen.

The Moose and the Lilly Pad.

The moose's love for the lily pad that floats on the surface of the northern lakes make him appear reckless and unafraid. In summer, even in September, the fishermen often cut him off from the shore, drive him into deep water and have fun with him. Sometimes, when the moose reaches shoal water and gets his hind feet on the bottom, he has fun with the fisherman, smashes his canoe and makes him swim for his life.

However, after the shooting season opens the moose becomes more cautious.

There are thousands of moose around Lake Temagami. At North Bay you change from the Grand Trunk to the Temiskaming and Northern Ontario and get off at Temagami Station.

The Fort Garry.

The work of constructing the second of the Grand Trunk's System of palatial hotels has begun at Winnipeg. It has been definitely and finally decided that the Winnipeg hotel, which will be of the same style of architecture as the magnificent "Chateau Laurier" at Ottawa, shall be called "The Fort Garry."

THE COMFORT OF INDEPENDENCE ASSURED THE B. C. FRUIT GROWER

In British Columbia Fruit Growing is synonymous with Success. The fame of the five-acre fruit farms of the Fraser Valley is spreading to every corner of this continent. Already "Fruit" suggests the Pacific Coast, soon it will direct the thoughts instinctively to British Columbia, particularly to the lower Fraser River Valley.

FLESHERTON GARDENS, which I am now selling, is the cream of this Valley land. The soil is a rich deep chocolate, humous and friable, free from weeds, stones or stumps. Good roads lead to the property and two railways are ready to carry the fruit to market. The Chilliwack line of the B. C. Electric Railway CUTS THROUGH FLESHERTON GARDENS, and the Victoria, Vancouver and Eastern is only a few yards away. Over a dozen trains pass the property every day, and the traffic will increase in the immediate future.

BIG PROFITS IN FRUITS AND VEGETABLES.

Do you know that you can make immense profits in fruits, tubers and vegetables on the Coast? To-day last year's potatoes are selling at $70 a ton in Seattle, only a few miles from here. In Westminster and Vancouver the price is from $60 to $65 a ton. Cherries fetch 50c a pound and strawberries 25c a box. All other fruits are high in proportion. Remember these are NOT FANCY PRICES, but to-day's quotations. There is no difficulty in selling the fruit, for people here have the money and don't mind the price.

IT'S EASY TO SECURE THE LAND

I have placed FLESHERTON GARDENS on the market on very easy terms, $200 cash and the balance spread over several years. You can have your pick of these five acre farms at from $150 to $350 per acre. You cannot find a better investment anywhere; no matter how rosy other prospects may be, this one leads them all.

Sign this blank, and mail it to me NOW. I can tell you a great deal more about FLESHERTON GARDANS in a personal letter. It's to your advantage to get all the information you can.

COLD IN THE HEAD

What's the sense in sneezing and Sniffling, dosing with purgatives, or bothering with atomizers?

Catarrhozone

A convenient inhaler treatment is the proper remedy to cure quickly and pleasantly.

Sensible people long ago abandoned the idea of "working off" a cold by means of laxatives and purgatives for the simple reason that the cure is as bad as the disease itself.

To cure a cold in about ten minutes' time use Catarrhozone. It is aromatic, delightful to inhale, clean and very simple to use.

Catarrhozone is a vegetable antiseptic, and perfectly safe and harmless. Even children and infants can use it. The vapor is inhaled at the mouth, and after passing through the respiratory organs is exhaled slowly through the nostrils.

Catarrhozone never disappoints, it stops sneezing, coughing and running at the eyes, by a few inhalations. Inflammation, congestion and all irritation disappear under the influence of Catarrhozone more quickly than can be told.

C. B. College, of Clarence Street, London, says:—"I had a continuous cold in the head for years, and never used anything with such quick results as I derived from five minutes' use of Catarrhozone. I am delighted to find a remedy that cures colds in a few minutes. Catarrhozone cures every time."

To carry a Catarrhozone Inhaler in the pocket means you won't have colds, catarrh or any lung or throat trouble. It keeps these diseases away and is warranted to protect you against all the ills of winter. Complete outfit, with Hard Rubber Pocket Inhaler costs $1.00. Small size, 25 cents. Italians Fined.

The three Italians who were arrested on Friday morning for engaging in a friendly combat were brought up before Magistrate Dumble and fined $2 each. They have only been in this country about three months and his worship thought they might as well learn their lesson now.

Price of Milk Goes Up.

The Times is informed that the milk vendors propose to increase the price of milk from six to seven cents per quart, in a few days. This price will probably prevail during the winter months. It is said that fodder is not plentiful this season, and that as a consequence milk may soar.

Mr. Burnham to Remain.

The offer which our member, Mr. J. H. Burnham, M.P., recently made the Hon. R. L. Borden, to vacate his place in Parliament in order to afford a seat for the new Finance Minister, will not, we are pleased to say be accepted, as the Hon. W. T. White has secured a seat elsewhere. The fact, however, does not make Mr. Burnham's offer any less patriotic.

James Bogue vs. Campbellford.

Our readers are already aware of the fact that Mr. Jas. Bogue of this city has been awarded $13,500 for sewer work in Campbellford. The original claim was $26,000, but a compromise was effected a short time ago for the above amount. The by-law was put before the ratepayers authorizing the issue of debentures for the amount. The trouble arose owing to alleged bad workmanship.

Club Leave To-day.

The Ketchecum Lake Hunt Club leave this morning for their annual trip. The following will comprise the party: Messrs. Harry Winch, (Captain), E. Mason, M. Comstock, Wm. Ackerman, J. D. Collins and Geo. Bennett, with Mr. A. Jackson as guide and Mr. Theobald Simpson as guide.

Child Bitten.

On Saturday morning Mr. Geo. McCullough appeared in the police court charged with owning a vicious dog. The information against him was laid by the brother of Alice Douglas whom the dog is said to have bitten. The charge was not proven by evidence as no one actually saw the dog bite the girl, so the case was dropped, on the defendant's statement that the dog had been sent away to the lumber camps.

Let Off With a Warning.

Four boys about thirteen years of age were up before Magistrate Dumble on Saturday morning, charged with being disorderly. Complaints have for some time been coming in, regarding the conduct of the boys in the north end of the city, who have been creating disturbances by throwing stones, pulling the trolley pole off the wire on the cars, etc. The Magistrate gave them a warning that if they ever appeared before him again, they would be more severely dealt with.

Wilson, M. McFadden, Dixon Best, John Bennett, Peter Kerr, Geo. McLeaf, Chas. Curtis, Joseph Pentland, Judge Rogers, Jas. Metheral, Bert Leslie, R. Steel, John Bradley, W. Sharp, Laurie Steel, Bat. O'Dette.

Work Has Been Completed.

The George street sewer, of which Mr. Edf Conroy had the contract, has been completed, and reflects the greatest credit on Mr. T. E. Wade, who was appointed by the city to superintend the work. It will be remembered that Mr. Jas. Bogue, who had the contract from Mr. Conroy, stated that on account of the quick sand that it would be next to impossible to build the sewer. The fact that it has been built and is now ready for work is certainly creditable to Mr. Wade. The work on the Romaine street portion of the sewer is now proceeding, and will be completed before the New Year.

The New Wharf.

As will be seen by an advertisement in another column, Mr. T. E. Wade, who has been put in charge of the construction of the new Government wharf at the foot of George street, below Matthew's packing house, in advertising for teams. The work is to be started at once and a large force of men will be employed during the fall and winter. The new wharf when completed, will be a credit to the city, and will afford docking room for the large number of steamers that are now operating on these waters. In the selection of Mr. Wade for Superintendent of this work the Government has made no mistake and a first class job is assured.

Sunday at Knox Church.

Interesting services were held yesterday at Knox church. In the morning Rev. D. A. McKenzie of Centreville, gave a special Thanksgiving sermon. In the evening, Mr. H. R. H. Kenner, principal of the Collegiate Institute, gave a most interesting address on "The Great Hymns of the Church." The many friends of Rev. PUBLIC OPINION

The Times does not hold itself responsible for opinions of its correspondents.

THE CITY HALL SITE.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—I was amused on reading in The Review of Friday last a letter signed "Well Wisher", suggesting that the City Hall be erected on the corner of George and Charlotte Sts. Or as an alternative, that the Bradburn lot, south of the Customs house be chosen. The writer must have some property in the neighborhood or he would hardly write such rubbish. There are two reasons why neither of these sites would be satisfactory, and are not to be thought of viz:

1. The congested street car traffic here, would make it noisy and exceedingly dangerous.

2. The alternative site is not a corner, and is therefore, out of the question.

Personally, I would rather see the site next the new library building secured, but as a next choice the one already selected should be entirely satisfactory.

—Common Sense.

PETITIONS FOR AND AGAINST.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—The following clipping from The Catholic Record will be of interest in view of the approaching election:

"We are told that a petition consisting of millions of names will shortly be forwarded to the new Premier requesting him to bring the matter before the House of Commons and use his influence towards setting aside the Ne Temere decree for all time. A petition will likewise be sent to the premiers of each province with a request that the matter be fought out in the provincial legislatures. These gentlemen should know that laws in regard to marriage belong exclusively to the provinces. They were told this by Sir Alan Aylesworth, and they must know they will be told the same by Ihe Hon. R. L. Borden, the new Premier. Their object will, however, be attained—which is merely to keep themselves before the public in a turmoil of excitement. Truly they are the veriest busybodies, these gentlemen of the Evangelical Alliance. They give "copy" to the reporter. That is all. They make about the same impression on the general public as the "Three Tooley Street Tailors" did in their day on the people of England.

Yours, &c.

—Citises.

HAVE THEIR SHARE.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—I saw a letter in a local paper the other day to the effect that the vacant position in the local Inland Revenue office be filled by appointing a Roman Catholic, and giving as a reason that the member of that church are not getting their "share" of offices. Now, sir, there should be no "share" about it. If every church is to look for a "share" things indeed would come to a pretty pass. But as a matter of fact, I do not quite agree with the writer. If he will "count noses" he will see that amongst the government employees that he has nothing to complain of.

The vacant position should be given to the East Riding, and therefore Mr. Sexsmith and not Mr. Burnham should have the appointment.

A Professional Secret

A lift-man employed for many years at the Capitol in Washington was brought much into contact with the newspaper correspondents who were regular visitors. One afternoon, as three of them left the lift, Mr. Payne, a deputy of New York, stepped in, and to him the lift-man said, "I can't understand those newspaper men, sir. They puzzle me." "What's the trouble with them?" asked Mr. Payne. "Well, Mr. Payne, every day they ride in this lift one fellow will turn to another and say, 'What do you know to-day?' And the other fellow will answer, 'Not a thing! What do you know?' Then the first fellow will say, 'Nothing!' And yet, Mr. Payne, the papers are just full of news every day. It beats me where they get it!"

A Time For Everything

A well-known Scottish architect was travelling in Palestine recently, when news reached him of an addition to his family circle. The happy father immediately provided himself with some water from the Jordan to carry home for the christening of the infant, and returned to Scotland. On the Sunday appointed for the ceremony he duly presented himself at the church, and sought out the beadle in order to hand over the precious water to his care. He pulled the flask from his pocket, but the beadle held up a warning hand, and came nearer to whisper: "No the noo, sir; no the noo! Maybe after the kirk's oot."

BLOOD STAINS OF CENTURIES

The Arabs Have Put Up Some Stiff Fighting in Bygone Days, as History of Many Nations Can Testify

Away back in the days of Caesar, Algeria came under Roman rule, and enjoyed great prosperity until, about the middle of the fifth century, the Romans were driven from Africa by the Vandals. About two hundred years later the Saracens conquered the country, which became divided into a number of petty states, ruled over by barbaric chiefs. In 1505 there was a Spanish invasion, but in 1516, the Turkish pirate, Barbarossa, was invited by one of the native princes to lead a rebellion, which he did and was proclaimed king, introducing a new system of piracy, for which Algeria was noted until 1830, the history, meanwhile, being red with blood shed in encounters with Spain, France and England.

Following on strenuous fighting with the French from early in the nineteenth century, there was almost constant warfare in the interior until 1856, when the authority of France was undisputed and peace reigned for a time. In 1859 a rebellion was squelched, but in 1864 there was a serious uprising in the south. Year after year there were uprisings of a serious character, until, in 1877, a widespread insurrection broke out stimulated by the weakened condition of France at home. Horrible massacres were perpetrated, and all seaports were blockaded from the land side. It was not until after the fall of the commune in Paris that troops could be spared to quell this revolt. From October of that year, when a civil government was established, the colony has continued in a more or less flourishing condition.

Tripoli's history has not been so red. After falling successively into the hands of the Phoenicians, Romans, Vandals and Greeks, Tripoli was finally conquered by the Arabs twelve centuries ago, and has remained a Moslem state ever since. In 1510, Ferdinand of Spain took it, and thirteen years later it was given to the Knights of St. John, who were expelled in 1553 by Turkish corsairs. Tripolitan pirates soon became the terror and scourge of the Mediterranean, and half the states of Europe seem to have at some time or other sent fleets to bombard the capital. In 1835 the Turks took advantage of a civil war to re-assert authority, and since that time it has been governed by representatives of the Sultan. Tripoli, the capital, is a typical Moorish city.

SPY PROOF BLOTTING PAPER

Foreign Offices of Europe Tried Many Kinds of Blotter, Before Reaching the Point of Real Secrecy.

Every foreign office of Europe acts on the theory that an army of spies is constantly on the alert to steal its secrets, and infinite precautions are taken to baffle their efforts. Very shortly after the first use of blotting paper it was discovered that it was quite possible to cause a blotting pad to give up jealously guarded secrets by simply holding it in front of a mirror. 'Long after all the commercial world had forgotten the existence of such a thing, the British Foreign Office used a sand shaker to dry its important written documents. Then specially manufactured black blotting paper was used, but was not found to be absolutely spy proof, and a return to the sand shaker was contemplated, when some one suggested the simple expedient of a small absorbent roller. These rollers have since been used for drying diplomatic documents. When such a roller has been run up and down across a document once or twice, the cleverest spy in the world is at liberty to try his hand at deciphering the impressions.

A Realist All Right

He staggered into the club, and sank into a chair.

"Horrible — horrible!" he cried.

His friends hurried to him, while one was dispatched for brandy.

"I cannot blot them out!" he exclaimed, burying his face in his hands. "Men and women rushing hither and thither — feverishly, madly, with anxious faces. Children struggling forward, now dropping like logs, now vainly endeavouring to regain their feet! Here is an old woman, clutching at anything or anybody in her fright! There, a feeble man, brushed aside by the tearing throngs that sweep by him, left tottering against a wall! Horror!" he cried, rising suddenly and stretching out his hand. "I can hear the shriek of a girl, who, only a few moments ago, had been full of happiness and mirth, as she comes crashing to the ground!"

"Poor fellow! Drink this," cried his hearers, as the brandy appeared, and then tell us what has happened!"

With a look of gratitude, the hysterical man drained the glass. Then, handing it back, he gave a great heave, and said, more quietly:

"Thank you, friends! It was just an ordinary scene at a skating rink!"

Large views, high hopes, and unselfish aims dissipates a whole army of petty trials, annoyances and irritations, and even greatly reduce real anxieties and solicitude.

The difference between honor and honesty seems to be chiefly in the motive. The honest man does from duty that which the man of honor does for the sake of character.

AUTUMN IS THE TIME FOR GLASSES —WHY ?

The increasingly long evenings of Autumn give greater opportunity for Sewing, Writing, Reading, Study, and as this is necessarily by artificial light the strain upon the eyes is such as to make Glasses quite a boom at this season of the year. This no doubt, accounts for much of the present increased demand for Glasses.

Appointment for examining the eyes for Glasses is usually necessary.

ITALY IS SENDING A NEW ARMY TO TRIPOLI

A REINFORCEMENT CONSISTING OF 15,000 MEN ARE ORDERED TO TRIPOLI.

And That Other Expeditions Are Contemplated Is Shown by Fact That Transports are Being Held.

Naples, Italy, Oct. 31.—Further reinforcements for the Italian troops in Tripoli are being assembled here. The movement is conducted with such secrecy that the officers do not know the strength of their commands or the date of the departure of the transports upon which they will sail for the African coast.

From an authoritative source it is learned that present reinforcements will form another army division, comprising four regiments of infantry besides supplementary troops, artillery, cavalry, and engineers, totaling about 15,000 men.

AGAINST BI-LINGUALS

Many Conservative candidates while being nominated, are asked to subscribe to something like the following: "That this meeting of West Toronto Conservatives protests against bilingual schools in Ontario and is in favor of entirely abolishing the French language from the Public and Separate schools, and further, that any candidate receiving nomination be pledged to speak and vote against the continuance of the French language in the schools of Ontario."

A RUSH OF PROTESTS AT THE LAST HOUR

Toronto, Oct. 31.—This is the last day for the filing of protests in connection with the Dominion elections held September 21st, but the parties have until 4 o'clock, as the senior registrar does not close his office until that hour, except on Saturdays.

At 1 p.m. on Saturday, and till noon to-day, the Conservatives had protested W. A. Charlton in Norfolk and A. B. McCoig in East Kent, while the Liberals had broken even by petitioning against David Marshall in East Elgin and F. R. Lalor in Haldimand. However, the liberals had filed a cross petition in Norfolk.

A report has credited the Conservatives with the intention of protesting twelve Liberal seats. The total Liberal strength in Ontario is thirteen. If this should really come to pass, with the Liberals filing corresponding protests, Registrar Holmested will have a busy time of it this afternoon.

PUBLIC OPINION

ROUSING LIBERAL RALLIES ARE AGAIN FASHIONABLE.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—I see by the Examiner of last night that the Liberal party here had a rousing rally on Saturday night. Rally, judging by the practical result of the many rousing rallies they held during the last election. I should think the Liberal party here would have done with them. Every rally they held was a rousing rally. Mr. Stratton never addressed a meeting anywhere, but the Examiner informed us it was a rousing and enthusiastic meeting and what happened. Their rousing rallies didn't accomplish much for them, did they? They did certainly rouse the electors, but not to vote for the Liberal candidate and considering the result of those rousing rallies, I should have thought that by this time the Liberal party here would have mistrusted them in this campaign. Their rousing rallies did not gain them victory in the last campaign and they will not gain them a victory in the present one. It is so amusing, these tactics of the Liberal organ. During the campaign they report such enthusiastic Liberal meetings, such marvellous rousing rallies, and such a sure victory for their party, and then after the electors have shown their practical opinion of them, by defeating them soundly, they go in to explain to the electors the reason why they voted as they did. The reasons why they were so badly beaten, as if the electors did not know why they voted as they did and why they were tired of the Liberal party. It is really enough to make a wooden Indian laugh. How indifferent the electors must feel to the Examiner for its valuable information, given regardless of cost, as to why they voted as they did, in spite of the rousing rallies the Liberals held. It looks as if the Liberal candidate would stand a much better chance if he didn't have quite as many rousing rallies, or if they were not quite so rousing. As for the speeches they are the same old brand, the same denunciations, the same self-praising, the same sure tokens of a victory that never came. I venture to predict the same result for these as for the last—sure and certain defeat. One thing I am pleased to notice, and for which I gladly give him credit, viz., that Hon. J. R. Stratton has learned wisdom from the last examiner campaign. In his speech on Saturday night, he said: "The electors of West Peterborough could rise above the petty considerations that are too often allowed to influence their actions in selecting a representative." He has learned that—and that is something. His organ will not attempt this time, I guess, to influence the electors, by such petty considerations, as gifts of mail boxes that need painting, lights on the canal, etc. Is it too much to hope that they will recognize also that the electors will rise above such dirty slander as "Mr. Burnham's high ideals," etc. What a nice, neat, well-devised bid Mr. Stratton made for the labor vote. Mr. Hall has been approached by labor, so was Mr. Stratton approached by labor, but unfortunately, labor held a whip in its hand, and it approached Mr. Stratton's party and administered a sound thrashing. Labor is not like justice—blind, but has its eyes wide open. Labor read with open eyes the accounts of the rousing Liberal rallies, during the last campaign, and labor with its eyes wide open showed its scorn of rousing rallies. Let the Examiner learn a lesson and be careful in this campaign, and not have too many rousing rallies, lest they bring about the same result again.

MARKET SQUARE WANTED.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—If the city could make arrangements to have the gas plant removed, the site would answer splendidly for a market. The city council must have a regard for the requirements of those who reside on the east side of the river, hence it is absolutely necessary to secure a site as near as possible to the river.

The location of a farmers' market is one which should receive careful consideration, and I hope that the points above noticed will be thoroughly weighed, when the time for selection comes.

Last Night Hallowe'en.

Beyond a few innocent pranks by small boys, there was nothing to mark Hallowe'en. A few gates here and there were removed. In the south end a rig was hoisted to the top of a shed, and a few pranks of a similar nature were performed. The entire police force were on duty during the early part of the evening.

Will Remain in Lindsay.

Lindsay Warder: Lindsay citizens will be pleased to hear that the Government dredge and drill scow will remain in Lindsay for a year, or at least until the work in the river here is completed. It has been rumored around town that the dredge was to be removed to Peterborough, to build a Government wharf there, despite the fact that the work in Lindsay is not nearly finished. To ascertain the truth of the rumor, The Warder conversed with Mr. McClellan, of Peterborough, superintendent of the Trent Valley waters, and he stated emphatically that there was nothing whatever in the rumor and that the dredge would remain in Lindsay probably a year, or at least until the work here was finished. He further stated that the channel in the river was being made a uniform width and depth, namely 80 feet wide and 10 feet deep from the town wharf down as far as Baker's lumber mill.

BOY EMPEROR AND MANCHUS SURRENDER TO THE CHINESE

COMPLETELY YIELDED TO THE DEMANDS OF REBELS, ADMITTING MISRULE AND ARROGANT USURPATION AND EXERCISE OF POWER

A Pitiful Plea for National Unity—Let China Fall—Text of Imperial Edict—The Edict Not Obeyed.

Pekin, Oct. 31.—The demand of the National Assembly for a complete constitutional Government has been acceeded to by the throne. An imperial edict was issued yesterday, apologizing for the past neglect of the throne and granting an immediate constitution, with a cabinet from which nobles shall be excluded. A second edict grants pardon to political offenders connected with the revolution of 1898 and subsequent revolutions, and to those compelled to join in the present rebellion.

TEXT OF IMPERIAL EDICT.

The imperial edict which is from the hand of the Emporer Hsuan-Tung says:

"I have reigned three years and have always acted conscientiously in the interests of the people. But I have not employed men properly, as I am without political skill. I have employed too many nobles in political positions, which contravenes constitutionalism.

"On railway matters, one whom I trusted deceived me. Hence public opinion was antagonized. When I urge reform officials and the gentry seize the opportunity to embezzle. Much of the people's money has been taken, but nothing to benefit the people has been achieved.

THE EDICTS NOT OBEYED.

"On several occasions edicts have promulgated laws, but none of them have been obeyed. The people are grumbling, yet I do not know. Disasters loom ahead, but I do not see."

After referring to the uprising in various places, the edict continues:

"The whole empire is seething. The spirits of our nine deceased emperors are unable to enjoy the sacrifices properly, while it is feared that the people will suffer grieviously.

"All these things are my own fault and I hereby announce to the world that I swear to reform, and with our soldiers and people, to carry out the constitution faithfully, modifying legislation, promoting the interests of the people and abolishing their hardships, all in accordance with their wishes and interests. The old laws that are unsuitable will be abolished. The union of the Manchus and Chinese, mentioned by the late Emporer, I shall carry out now. Finances and diplomacy have reached bedrock.

FEARS CHINA MAY FALL.

"Even if all unite, I will fear that we may fall. If the Empire's subjects do not regard and do not honor fate, and are easily mislead by outlaws, then the future of China is unthinkable. I am most anxious day and night. My only hope is that my subjects will thoroughly understand."

ARMY MADE THEIR DEMANDS.

The throne promises to organize a Cabinet without nobles forthwith. The Manchu Prince, Shih Hsu, President of the Assembly, is permitted to resign, the Chinese, Li Chia-Chu, succeeding him. The Manchu Kuei-Chun, Minister of Constabulary, has been removed, and the Chinese, Chao Ping-Chun, supersedes him in that office.

The lines around Pekin are tightening. While there is no great panic observable in the capital among the higher classes and foreigners, there has been a perceptible tensioning everywhere.

ITALIANS WERE SWEPT BACK BY THE ARABS

Constantinople, Oct. 31.—The Turkish troops with their Arab allies have re-taken two forts at Tripoli and forced the Italians to entrench themselves within the city after abandoning large quantities of guns, rifles, ammunition and provisions, according to a telegram from Hahmi Bey, the deputy for Salomiki, who is now at Tripoli.

The message which was received by the Tanin at midnight adds: "The Italians were unable to resist the fierce assaults of the Arabs and were compelled to retreat.

"The Italians still hold three forts. The Arabs are displaying remarkable heroism and hope to recapture the city."

The message is undated.

WHAT'S COMING?

EDITOR MORNING TIMES.

Sir,—It is universally admitted by those who observe world-movements, that the world is on the eve of a great wave of supernaturalism. People are beginning to crave for the supernatural again in their lives. It is the old case of reaction. Materialism in the 18th century was followed by a century of spiritual reaction. The Pope has seen it coming and taken advantage of it. Archdeacon Cody of Toronto, says:—"Personal pleasure absorbed too many, who would permit themselves to suffer not the slightest personal inconvenience or discomfort for the services of others.

"Then there was the attempted domination of agreat—numerically—and arrogant ecclesiastical body, which sought to govern the life of the nation, as declared in the recent papal decrees on modernism. The Ne Temere decree was only one instance, but it had touched a sore spot—our home life. The struggle was imminent with the church that would crush all liberty of conscience and freedom of thought."

Let no man be elected to office who is not sound on this question.

WHOLE RELEL BATTALION WAS MOWED DOWN

Hankow, China, Oct. 31.—The revolutionists have rallied and reorganized their forces and are furiously contesting the Imperialist advance on Han-Yang.

The insurgents still hold a section of the city which separates the foreign concessions from the native city.

The red-cross doctors estimate that 1000 revolutionists have been killed and between 2000 and 3000 wounded during the fighting of the past three days.

Of a rebel battalion that faced the Imperialistic machine guns with intrepid tenacity, only two or three escaped. The others were mowed down.

The loyalists lost from 200 to 300 killed.

UNCLE SAM—Gol Darn it, don't you try those Hallowe'en pranks here. You're the kid that handed out those reciprocity lemons.

FALL ASSIZES

Opening Yesterday in the Court House, Peterborough.

The fall assizes of the High Court of Justice opened yesterday afternoon at 1.30, with Sir William Mulock of Toronto, presiding, and with three civil actions and one criminal case to be dealt with.

The following members of the bar were present: F. M. Field, K.C., Cobourg, Crown Prosecutor; George Hatton, D. O'Connell, G. N. Gordon, Crown Attorney R. E. Wood, L. M. Hayes, J. H. Burnham, M.P., J. W. Bennet, Basil Hall and E. L. Goodwill.

When the Grand Jury were sworn in and the petty jurors chosen, the judge addressed the Grand Jury, outlining their duties, and after this referred to a copy of a report from the county gaol, and drew their attention to the fact that there was provision made for caring for the county poor, but no provision made for the city poor. He recommended that they refer to this in their report. He in conclusion told the Grand Jury that the case of Sam Newall they were to decide whether there was sufficient evidence to send him up for trial. It will be remembered that in this case Newall was charged with rape on Mrs. Maggie Moore of Dummer, the charge being laid by Mrs. Moore. Newall came up before Justice Teetzel at the General Sessions of the Peace, and at that time the entire case was made known to the public. The case was adjourned until the fall assizes. At the time of going to press the Grand Jury was in session considering whether there was sufficient evidence to send him up for trial.

At the close of the judges remarks the Grand Jury retired and the first civil case was proceeded with. It was that of Mrs. Hugh Darke vs. the C. G.E. Mr. O'Connell opened for Mrs. Darke.

THE WEATHER.

Northwesterly winds, cloudy and cooler.

A TRIPLE TRACK LINE FOR THE PROVINCIAL RAILWAY

Toronto, Oct. 31.—"This means a triple track along the line of the Temiskaming and Northern Ontario Railway probably in the very near future," said a man closely connected with the Ontario Government's railway interests, following the announcement of the arrangement by which the Grand Trunk gets running rights over the T. and N.O. line.

"It is no secret," said he, "that the railways have long wanted to buy this provincial line, but it is not for sale. It is a public ownership railway, and such it remains. The Grand Trunk have therefore, made their plans in accordance with the Government's policy, and it will use the T. and N.O. lines, and it is safe to assume that other railways will have to do the same.

"It is the most significant thing in the development of Northern Ontario," he said.

According to the agreement the Grand Trunk is to pay $300,000 rental per year for the tracks of the T. and N.O., which represents half the interest on the total cost of construction of the Provincial road. The G. T. R. also assumes an equitable share of the cost of maintenance, which means that it runs two thirds of the trains on Temiskaming tracks it pays two-thirds of the up-keep of the road.

ONTARIO ELECTIONS WILL BE HELD ON DECEMBER 11

Nominations—Monday, Dec. 4th.
Elections—Monday, Dec. 11th.

Toronto, Oct. 31.—Sir James Whitney, Premier of Ontario, announced last night the date of the general elections with nominations one week earlier.

The formal dissolution of the 12th Parliament of the Province will take place very shortly, when the writs for the elections will be issued. The delay in the matter is intended to give the municipal officers as long a time as possible in which to prepare the voters' lists.

In a letter to the electors of the Province, handed to the press, the Premier sets forth the record of his Government, since it came into power in 1905, a synopsis of its program for the immediate future, and his reasons for holding this election now. Features of the Premier's statement are the creation of a Government Department of Power, under the supervision of a Cabinet Minister, to supersede the Hydro-Electric Power Commission, the Government's policy for the extension of the T. & N. O. Railway; the announcement of an agreement by which the Grand Trunk pays $300,000 a year for running rights; the development of Northern Ontario, and the suggestion of co-operation along these lines, from the new Federal Government.

THE CANADA NATIONAL FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY

was incorporated by Special Act of the Parliament of Canada for the purpose of carrying on the business of Fire Insurance, as outlined in the Insurance Act and the Special Act of Incorporation.

Capital Stock Authorized by the Board.....$2,000,000
Capital Stock Subscribed to date $1,650,000

The Head Office of the Company is in the city of Winnipeg, and, in addition to this, Branch Offices and Agencies will be established throughout the Dominion.

It must be generally conceded that, owing to the satisfactory conditions at present prevailing throughout not only Western Canada, but the entire Dominion, this Company is being organised at a most favorable and opportune time.

Canada, and particularly the Western portion of the Dominion, is advancing in population and wealth more rapidly than at any other time in its history, and every indication points towards a period of great prosperity and development.

The great influx of settlers into Western Canada is resulting in tremendous activity in every line of business. Railroad construction is proceeding on a scale hitherto unknown in this country, and as adequate transportation is of vital importance in moving our immense crops with a proper degree of facility, it is highly encouraging to see so much well-directed energy along the lines of railway extension.

Coincident with railway expansion, we find many new districts rapidly filling up with desirable settlers, bringing with them a good supply of cash and effects. With the settlement of the rural districts, new towns and villages are springing up, which will, during the next few years, become, in many instances, important business centres.

With such unprecedented growth in Western as well as Eastern Canada, involving an expenditure of millions of dollars in building operations, it is at once evident that there is a very extensive and profitable field for a new Fire Insurance Company which will have a thorough organization throughout the length and breadth of the Dominion, and more particularly in the four Western Provinces.

As a great volume of our business will be transacted in the West, it is a matter of the greatest importance that the Head Office of the Company, as well as the Directors, should be located in the West, so that the affairs of the Company may be conducted to the best possible advantage.

DIRECTORS.

The Board of Directors consists entirely of Western men with a very intimate knowledge of Western conditions, and they are, accordingly, well conversant with the financial and general business requirements of the West. They are thoroughly representative of the various important branches of financial, commercial, industrial and professional life in Western Canada, and with their wide reputation for business ability and integrity, as well as financial standing, combined with a long and varied experience, and practical knowledge of business affairs, they are exceptionally well qualified to render excellent service to a large financial institution.

As the Directors have valuable connections with extensive business interests and are also Directors of other financial corporations, as well as being otherwise identified with large and influential companies which control a great deal of high-grade fire insurance, they will be instrumental in placing a large portion of this desirable insurance with the new Company, so that we may safely conclude that from the very beginning of operations a large and profitable business will be assured.

Under these favorable conditions, and with a strong, energetic, as well as experienced and conservative management, combined with the fact that each Director has subscribed for eleven thousand five hundred dollars ($11,500) of the Capital Stock, on which all calls have been paid, and takes an active interest in the welfare of the Company, there is only one conclusion to draw, and that is that the affairs of the Company will be conducted in such a careful, conscientious and intelligent manner that the interests of both policyholders and stockholders will be fully protected.

IT IS WORTHY OF NOTE THAT $1,650,000 OF CAPITAL STOCK HAS ALREADY BEEN SUBSCRIBED BY PROMINENT BUSINESS AND PROFESSIONAL MEN THROUGHOUT THE DOMINION AND ELSEWHERE.

No commission has been paid to anyone for securing stock subscriptions, and no expense has been incurred in the promotion and organization of the Company, except the expense in connection with securing the Charter and other necessary expenses.

THE CANADA NATIONAL FIRE.

The Canada National Fire, being organized in the West, MAY BE TRULY CALLED A WESTERN COMPANY, and, as such, should receive the liberal patronage and hearty co-operation of the citizens of Western Canada, as well as the support of people from Eastern Canada who desire to become associated with a strong and progressive Canadian Company.

When promoting this Company the Directors were fully convinced that there was a splendid opening in Western Canada for a Company prepared to carry on the business of Fire Insurance on a large and comprehensive scale, and which, at the same time, could offer ADEQUATE PROTECTION TO BOTH POLICYHOLDERS AND SHAREHOLDERS. Accordingly, when making application for a Dominion charter, the Company was incorporated with a capital of $3,000,000.00, of which amount the Directors decided to offer for public subscription the sum of $2,000,000.00.

THE ALL-IMPORTANT FEATURE IN FIRE INSURANCE IS PROTECTION, and with the LARGE CAPITAL, combined with the high standard of Reserve, which will be maintained through careful selection of risks and profits from judicious investments, the Directors and Management feel confident that this Company will be accorded a very hearty reception by Canadian citizens, and will soon rank as one of the leading Fire Companies.

WITHOUT A LARGE AND SUBSTANTIAL CAPITAL FOR THE PROTECTION OF THE POLICYHOLDERS, A FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY IS SERIOUSLY HANDICAPPED, AND DOES NOT AFFORD THE POLICYHOLDER THAT PROTECTION TO WHICH HE IS JUSTLY ENTITLED, and the Directors of this Company, being fully aware of this most important fact, are adopting a very wise policy in OFFERING FOR SUBSCRIPTION SUCH A LARGE AMOUNT OF CAPITAL STOCK, and when our entire stock is subscribed and paid in full it will represent the largest amount of subscribed and paid-up capital of any Canadian Fire Insurance Company, and will be a tower of strength and of very material benefit to the company in carrying on its extensive operations.

GENERAL AGENT FOR CANADA

W. E. FUDGER, ESQ.

THIS IS A RARE OPPORTUNITY to secure some of the Capital Stock of a Western Fire Insurance Company. With a large amount of desirable and profitable business so readily obtainable by the Company through its valuable and extensive business connections, rapid progress should be made, and with investments carefully selected and unexcelled in earning power, the Company will be enabled to not only pay substantial dividends, but build up a large reserve, and thereby materially increase the value of the stock.

The Directors firmly believe in the policy that EVERY SHAREHOLDER SHOULD CO-OPERATE WITH THE MANAGEMENT of a Company and take an active interest in its welfare. For that reason, it is their intention to WIDELY DISTRIBUTE the CAPITAL STOCK, and by that means obtain the support of the leading business and professional men throughout the country.

With the rapid development of the West during recent years, involving an outlay of many millions of capital, it has become generally recognized that WESTERN CANADA IS VERY MUCH IN NEED OF MORE LARGE FINANCIAL INSTITUTIONS, AND ESPECIALLY OF WESTERN ORIGIN, to properly meet the growing requirements of the West, and to not only improve the present financial situation, but to materially assist in retaining, as much as possible, desirable business, with its resultant profits, within our own Western borders.

The business of fire insurance has now grown to such large proportions that it has become a very important factor in the financial and commercial world, and as its scope and influence is so general and widespread it is only natural to find that the question of AMPLE PROTECTION TO POLICYHOLDERS, which is the PRIMARY FUNCTION OF FIRE INSURANCE COMPANIES, should be so GENERALLY DISCUSSED AT THE PRESENT TIME.

This important subject has given rise to a very STRONG FEELING in Western Canada that the TIME HAS NOW ARRIVED when the Western people should organize a Fire Insurance Company of such strength and proportions that it will soon rank as one of the leading fire companies of America, and command general respect and confidence, which is so ESSENTIAL to a company that solicits the support and patronage of all classes of the community.

The Directors have every confidence that they will receive the hearty co-operation of not only Western citizens, but of people from every part of the Dominion, to build up a GREAT fire insurance company with AMPLE PROTECTION for the people, and which will be a source of pride and credit to our country.

The following Canadian Government Insurance statistics should prove of ESPECIAL INTEREST :

In the year 1869 the total amount of fire premiums collected in Canada was $1,726,539.00, whereas in the year 1909 the total premiums charged amounted to the large sum of $22,293,638.25, and of this amount $6,551,644.41 was charged by Canadian Companies, $11,518,267.45 by British Companies, and $4,223,721.39 by American Companies.

During the last forty-one years the aggregate amount of fire insurance premiums collected in Canada reached the immense total of $280,740,466.00, of which the large sum of $218,310,047.00 represents the amount of fire premiums collected by FOREIGN COUNTRIES, and which, therefore, was taken out of the country to build up foreign companies and enrich foreign shareholders.

Notwithstanding that a considerable portion of the fire premiums collected in Canada by Foreign Companies has been repaid to Canadian policyholders, through fire losses, it must be evident that the larger the proportion of Canadian fire insurance that is placed with Canadian Companies, the larger is the amount of capital retained in the Dominion and always available for investment purposes, to build up our Canadian financial institutions, and thereby add to the general wealth and prosperity of our country.

The above figures are most significant and clearly demonstrate that while the CANADIAN FIRE COMPANIES have been doing a satisfactory business they HAVE SECURED only a SMALL portion of the Fire Insurance transacted in Canada, or, to be more exact, ONLY TWENTY-TWO PER CENT. of THE TOTAL FIRE INSURANCE WRITTEN IN CANADA, covering a period of the last forty-one years. With the extraordinary progress which Canada has been making during recent years, the field for financial institutions has become so widely extended that there is a CONSTANTLY INCREASING DEMAND for new large financial corporations.

By further reference to our Government statistics it will be observed that at December 31st, 1909, the total number of Canadian Fire Companies operating under Dominion charter was ONLY TWENTY-ONE, and of this number ONLY TWO HAD A PAID-UP CAPITAL IN EXCESS OF $500,000.

In promoting this large Canadian Company the Directors are fully confident that the new organization will, with characteristic Western energy and enterprise, soon come to be recognized as an important factor in the insurance world, and as The Canada National Fire will be instrumental in RETAINING WITHIN THE BOUNDARIES OF CANADA a large amount of money which would otherwise be taken out of the country to build up foreign corporations the people of this growing Dominion will readily see the advisability of giving this Company their MORAL AND FINANCIAL SUPPORT, in order that we may build up a STRONG and VIGOROUS Company which will prove a valuable acquisition to our Canadian monetary institutions.

This is the last opportunity to secure, direct from the Company, some of this desirable stock.

It is worthy of special note that the demand for the stock has exceeded the Directors' most sanguine expectations ; in fact, of the $2,000,000 of stock to be issued, $1,650,000 has already been subscribed, and, from present indications, with the large number of applications for stock being received daily, the Directors are confident that the balance of the issue, which is now only $350,000, will be subscribed by August 26th, 1911, the date appointed for the closing of stock subscriptions.

For this reason, the Directors strongly recommend the investing public to mail their applications for stock at their earliest possible opportunity.

Subscribers are requested to kindly fill in attached application form, stating name in full, number of shares desired, occupation and address, and mail the application, along with the first call of Twenty-five Dollars ($25.00) per share on the stock, direct to the Head Office of the Company, Winnipeg, Man., or, if so desired, application may be made for the stock at any of the Company's Branch Offices or at any Branch of the Royal or Imperial Banks, where application blanks and any additional information will be readily furnished. Applications for stock will be considered in the order received, and on approval of the same by the Board of Directors a certificate for the number of shares subscribed will be issued and mailed the shareholders forthwith. Cheques, Drafts, Money Orders or other remittances on account of stock subscriptions should be made payable to The Canada National Fire Insurance Company.

KING EDWARD VACUM CLEANER

You cannot clean carpets, rugs and furniture by beating. If you think you have, just try a KING EDWARD VACUUM CLEANER and you will find the article full of dust, which breeds disease.

The KING EDWARD HAND MACHINE has no equal as compared with other hand machines. It is lighter to operate and its suction is much stronger. Its suction is stronger than many of the power machines, and the dusting is done away with. On account of the short stroke one person can operate it on carpets and rugs equally as well as two, and it is about half the weight of other hand machines to carry up and down stairs or from one room to another. It is sold for less money than any of the hand machines. All machines are guaranteed.

An Interesting Booklet.

The Times is in receipt of a very interesting booklet dealing with the Maritime Provinces as a promising field for those who desire to establish new industries, or to profitably invest capital in the exploitation and development of natural resources. The obvious advantages of many parts of New Brunswick and Nova Scotia are ably presented in detail, together with many cheerful facts that ought to impress those who have capital ready to invest in a new field that is certainly rich in opportunity. It is commendable that while the eyes of the world are upon Canada, and thousands of new settlers are pouring into the West from many countries, an honest effort is being made to point out the advantages that exist in the east. The booklet will be mailed free to those who write the Industrial Department Intercolonial Railway, Moncton, N. B.

Present Disadvantages of Canadian Farmers.

At present the United States farmers have a great advantage over us. It costs 25c a bushel to send wheat into the United States. They can send their wheat into Canada for 12c a bushel, with rebate of 99 per cent. of duty when ground in bond. It costs us 30c to send a bushel of barley to the United States. They can ship barley into Canada for 15c. If we want to ship beans into the United States we have to pay 45c a bushel duty. The beans can come into Canada for 22c. They charge us 25c a bushel on the apples we send them. We charge them only 40c a barrel on what they send us. They charge us $4 a ton on the hay we send them. We charge them $2. They charge us 6c a pound on cheese, we charge them 3c. Thus it is with almost every farm product.

Under reciprocity these disadvantages will be wiped out, and we will be able to deal with them on an equal basis. Is not this worth while?

Home for Christmas

The Steamship Lines are expecting a large home-going exodus for the holiday season this year, and are making extensive preparations to take care of all of those who are planning to visit the Old Country.

The White Star-Dominion Line has arranged for three special Christmas sailings, viz. the "Canada" December 2nd, "Megantic" December 9th, and "Teutonic" December 16th, from Portland, Me., and Halifax, N. S., to take care of these passengers. These steamers will arrive in ample time to enable passengers to reach their homes before Christmas whether in England or on the Continent.

The railways have recognized the growing popularity of these annual Christmas excursions and now run special trains from Montreal and the west to connect with the steamers, and the most complete arrangements are made by both the steamship companies and the rail lines to further the comfort of the homeward bound ones during the holiday season.

Grand Trunk Opening New Territory

The new territory in the Canadian Rocky Mountains that is being opened up by the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway has already become the Mecca for a number of Alpine Climbers and those who love to get away from the turmoil of the busy city and explore mountain fastnesses that are practically unknown. Some of the travellers who have gone into this Yellow Head Pass territory are now returning, and one gentleman writes to the Grand Trunk Pacific Headquarters as follows:—"Lake Maligne is a beautiful lake between 16 and 18 miles long. I have visited all the other transcontinental lines both in Canada and the United States, and there is no lake or district along any of these lines that can compare with the Lake Maligne country. Some of the mountains around the lake are in the neighborhood of 12,000 feet. Lake Maligne is reached from Henry House a few miles west of Fitzhugh, the Second Divisional point, and covered with ice fields which make them very beautiful."

A Budding Mark Twain

A boy in Oklahoma City submitted the following essay on the ship of the desert:—

"A cannimal is a sheep of the desert. It is called a bacteria, because it has bumps on its back. The cannimal is very patient, and will lie down and die without a groan, but when it is angry it gets its back up, which is called taking the hump. The shepherds of the cannimals is called Arabs. When they live in towns they are called street Arabs. When the cannimal goes on a journey it drinks as much as it can to last for many days. Such animals are called aquiducks. Those that cannot carry enough are called inebrates."

The boy is eight years old. His teacher says he is an ignoramus. His father says he is a young Mark Twain.

Franklin's Manners

Franklin collected thirteen principles to cover the small amenities of daily life. Each week he picked out one and practised it diligently, thus creating a habit. It took three months to cover them all. Each year he practised each one four full weeks. He kept this up for many years. The uncouth Franklin of early manhood who found fault with his wife for giving him a silver spoon and a china bowl for his bread and milk instead of a pewter spoon and earthenware crock, developed into the statesman and man of the world who won the respect of Englishmen, the admiration of Frenchmen, and the gratitude of Americans.

STRUCK DUMB WITH AMAZEMENT

Mr. A. O. Wheeler, F.R.G.S., Director of the Alpine Club of Canada, has just returned to Vancouver from a summer spent in the Canadian Rockies in the vicinity of the Yellowhead Pass, and is greatly impressed with his trip.

In an interview with Mr. Wheeler, he stated: "It has been the general impression that the Rocky Mountains of Canada attain their greatest average height not very far north of the boundary line. True, of late years much has been heard of Mount Robson, which dominates the region of the Yellowhead Pass, but the popular notion was that there was nothing else in the neighborhood worth seeing, and that the Grand Trunk Pacific would pass through a region of little interest from the point of view of the tourist or mountaineer.

"There was no mistake about Mount Robson. It is without doubt, as was stated by one of the most travelled and skilled mountaineers of the day, Dr. Norman Collie, one of the most magnificent mountains in the world, whether seen from the south, the view that is most familiar on all sides were found mighty snowbar, or from beautiful Berg Lake, it still stands supreme. In the hundred peaks, widespread snowfields, red-ruin circuit of the great massif hugs ice-falls, rushing torrents, waterfalls, flower-clad meadows and vast stretches of dark pine forest. Many of the peaks were named by the surveyors, but they are legion, and it will be many years before they are familiarly known as individual mountains."

In speaking of the Robson Glacier, which lies on the east side of this monstrous mountain, Mr. Wheeler said: "It struck us dumb with amazement that anything so stupendous, so superb, so undreamed of, should exist. At our feet flowed the great river of ice, every crevasse, every moraine, every icefall, clearly portrayed. Directly opposite rose the massif, its outline clear from base to summit for fully 8,000 feet. From the beautiful meadows at the head of Resplendent Valley twenty-five peaks were counted, all unknown and unnamed. And lakes, which perhaps lend the most characteristic charm to Canadian mountain scenery, were everywhere."

At the summit of the Yellowhead Pass Mr. Wheeler's party erected a monument defining the boundary between Alberta and British Columbia at the intersection of the Great Divide. On the bare post set up, which is surrounded with a big stone mound are carved the words: "British Columbia on the west face; Alberta on the east face; and on the south 3,-737.98 feet, being the altitude of the summit at the point where the post is set."

Clearing of right-of-way on the uncompleted gap of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway from Tete Jaune Cache westward to Aldermere in Bulkley Valley, was started a few weeks ago by the contractors, Messrs Foley, Welch & Stewart. Operations thus far are restricted to the route along the south fork of the Fraser between the Cache and Fort George.

STEADY WORK FOR THE INDIAN

Strong Arguments Advanced in Favor of Getting Red Man to Forsake His Ways and Conform to Civilized Programme

Steady employment near home is not attractive to the typical Indian. Tribal and village celebrations — ceremonial dances and religious observations — cut into a summer's work with discouraging frequency. The plains Indians, used to scurrying about on horseback, are dull workers afoot. "These Indians" says the Commissioner of Indian Affairs for the United States, in a sentence, "would doubtless make good workmen if properly handled, although few of them are experienced at any kind of labor except, perhaps, as horsemen in handling stock." Or, as a white employer of Montana put it, "I could get a Blackfoot Indian to wait on table if he could do it horseback."

And yet, in the Commissioner's last report, we find this paragraph: "The matter of obtaining outside employment for the Pine Ridge Sioux has been well handled by the agent, Mr. Brennan. Early last spring he dropped from the ration roll sixteen hundred Indians who were able-bodied, and let them support themselves by work on the railroads, ranches, etc.; and a year or so ago he dropped eight hundred from the ration roll permanently, as they were sufficiently advanced to care for themselves."

Back of all the effort the Indian Office is making to get the tribesmen out on the job is a strong, though vaguely understood, feeling among the Indians themselves that this change is bound to come. "No work, no eat" time is moving on them.

Speaking on this subject the other day Archdeacon Renison, of Moose Fort, James Bay, who has charge of Anglican mission work in the Moose district, with its scattered population of some six thousand, argues that instead of trying to make them mechanics and clerks, for which they are not suited, they would be better employed by the Government in surveying, as well as fire ranging and game wardenship, for which work they have a natural aptitude.

Mr. Renison suggests that portages should be cut between the lakes of New Ontario, and that an Indian should be settled by every lake. His work should be the keeping open of the portage routes, and the guidance of strangers. In this way the Indian would be able to live his own life, and at the same time be of immense use to Canada.

The Fixer Fixed

"What I want to know is," said the proprietor of the Village Arms to the great lion tamer, who was in the bar, "how you have the nerve to face the animals in the cage."

"Oh, that's easy enough. I just show 'em I'm not afraid of 'em, and I look at 'em steadily eye to eye." Here he fixed such a strong gaze on the landlord that he quickly disappeared lest he should be tamed, too.

"See that stolid, silly-looking yokel over there?" asked the wild beast showman, fixing a keen, piercing eye on a ploughboy at the end of the room.

"Yes," was the hushed rejoinder of the bystanders: "what are you going to do to 'im?"

"I'm going to 'fix' 'im with my eye, and make him come over to me." So saying, he glared fiercely at his "subject." Presently the ploughboy rose, and slowly came towards the tamer.

"Didn't I say so?" whispered the showman.

Sure enough, on came the youth. When he was close to the tamer he suddenly let fly with his strong arm, and planted a well-directed blow on to the showman's nose.

"You'll stare at me like that again, won't you?" he snarled.

DO ANIMALS POSSESS SOULS?

Vast Numbers Yet Have Belief in Transmigration of Souls Which May Probably Account for Worship of Animals.

It has been believed by vast numbers of men that animals have souls. Especially in the great past civilisations of the East do we find this belief. Also it has often been supposed, not only that animals have souls, but that their souls represent stages, upward or downward, in the history of the souls of human beings. This is really the doctrine which is called "the transmigration of souls," and it explains, probably, why animals have so often been worshipped.

But though, perhaps, no one can be quite sure of the answer to this question, most thoughtful people find it hard to believe that animals have souls. If we believed this, we should find that it involved all sorts of difficulties, when we came to consider the case of humbler animals, and plants, and even tiny and trifling shorter-lived microbes.

Yet this does not mean that when even the humblest living creature dies anything is lost. We know that it would be quite opposed to Nature's universal rule that nothing is ever lost. On the contrary, the body which has been built up by the life of every living creature is valuable for the lives of other creatures. Not even the humblest life can be looked upon as useless.

THE LIGHT HAT BEST TO WEAR

Pathological Study Goes to Show that a Heavy Hat has Bad Effect on the Continuity of Thought.

Years of study have convinced Dr. George W. Galvin, United States pathologist that heavy hats retard the growth of the intellectual powers; that the lighter the headgear the more active the wearer's brain.

When any of the senses are interfered with the train of thought is broken. A violent blow suspends thought, and sights sudden and strange have been known to drive persons insane.

Interruption of the function of the senses may come in various ways, and the heavy hat has an unfavorable effect on the continuity of thought.

A deep thinker seldom has a hat on his head when wrestling with an important problem. Edison wears no hat, simply a cap. Many men eschew the tightly fitting derby entirely. Luther Burbank, the famous naturalist, is another who never wears a hat.

A billiard player seldom wears a hat and never when at a critical stage of the game. Jockeys, golfers and baseball players invariably wear caps. I have noticed the "fans" remove their hats at a particularly exciting moment in the game.

There is much significance in the fact that college girls wear no hats at all. That it is advantageous is proved by their marked progress; they are gaining in their averages of studies.

Wrong Every Time

At a recent political meeting a speaker was attacking the Government with more venom than reason. A man at the back of the hall at last cried out, "You're wrong, sir!"

A little nettled, the orator continued without heeding. Presently, in answer to another strong assertion, came again, "You're wrong, sir!"

The speaker looked angry, but continued on the war-path. "You're wrong, sir!" again rang out.

Angrily addressing the persistent interrupter, the orator cried, "Look here, I could tell this man something about the Government which would make his hair stand on end!"

"You're wrong again, sir!" came from the critic, as he stood up and removed his hat. His head was as bald as a billard-ball.

The Power of Suggestion.

Every medical man knows that various functions of the body can be influenced by the mental state, and that some ailments can be relieved almost at once by suggestion. An amusing instance of this lately occurred in the case of a very chilly patient whose friends were directed by the doctor to "surround her with hot-water bottles." The next morning the patient was decidedly relieved and enthusiastic as to the comfort received from the treatment. Imagine the surprise of her doctor when he discovered that various bottles had been duly filled with hot water and placed on the floor round the patient's bed. Apparently this had been quite as efective as if the hot water bottles had been brought into contact with the body.

Cost of One Pyramid

It has been estimated that to rebuild the pyramid of Cheops under modern conditions an expenditure of $100,000,000 and the labour of 40,000 men for two years would be required. The work really required, it is calculated, the services of 100,000 men for thirty years. The pyramid occupies a space of 12¾ acres and is 746 feet high, and contains about 145,-315,000 cubic yards of stone and granite. It is built on a solid rock 150 feet deep.

The Morning Times

"THE FORT GARRY" HOTEL, WINNIPEG.

Adjacent to the ruins of that historic monument "Old Fort Garry," memorable in the early history of Canada's now Western metropolis is being erected "The Fort Garry," truly representative of greater Winnipeg—a magnificent edifice—to rank with the world's finest hotels, embodying in its construction the most advanced, scientific and architectural ideals. Located in the very heart of the city, to which all lines of traffic converge, it is readily accessible to the railroads and electric car lines, and within a radius of a few blocks of most of the leading theatres, while one minute's walk will place one among the largest and most pretentious of the great stores in the centre of the shopping districts, or enable one to reach the great new terminal station of the Grand Trunk Pacific.

"The Fort Garry" to be constructed by the Grand Trunk Pacific will be built of the finest of Canadian granite and buff lime stone, in the style of the old French Chateaux of Normandy and Touraine and will rear its stately heights to fourteen stories. The building is to have approximately three hundred and fifty sleeping chambers and will be richly furnished in faultless taste. All its bedrooms are to have private bathrooms and are to be equipped with every approved modern appointment. Nothing that would in any way contribute to the comfort and welfare of its guests has been overlooked in the preparation of the plans and interior arrangements.

The keynote of the "Fort Garry" as judged from the design and interior arrangements is to be "homelike comfort." From basement to roof top, every detail of construction and furnishing has been worked out in perfect accord with this idea, and would seem to assure the largest measure of personal enjoyment and restfulness to its guests—a place where comfort-loving people might enjoy life to the utmost and feel thoroughly at home.

The main entrance of the hotel faces on Winnipeg's most beautiful thoroughfare "Broadway" and opens upon a spacious and imposing rotunda, which will suggest in its decoration and refinement the cheer and comfort provided within its walls, and from which one may enter the spacious dining rooms and cafe. The central feature of the main floor is the circular tea room of impressive and beautiful design, unbroken by column, lofty in heigrth, and finely lighted by broad windows and circular domed ceiling.

The Mezzanine Gallery is also to be a novel feature of "The Fort Garry" and is obtained by the introduction of a storey midway between the office floor and the parlors. It is reached by a broad marble staircase from the main entrance lobby, and is to be finished and decorated in white and delicate shades of color. It overlooks the entrance lobby, dining room, cafe and tea room, and will be used as ladies' parlor, writing room and library. It commands a splendid view of those portions of the hotel where the most life occurs, and yet at the same time affords a quiet sense of retirement.

The ball room, banquet hall and foyer have been located on the seventh floor. These rooms are of the richest of the public rooms, and have been so arranged with separate kitchen service, reception and dressing rooms, so as to in no way interfere with the privileges of the guests of the hotel. The ball room is designed in the Louis Quartorize period, and will be beyond all question one of the most striking of its kind in Canada.

Immediately in front of the foyer of the ballroom and banquet hall is a beautiful Loggia, 30 feet in width, forming a promenade for the entire width of the building, and commanding a view of the entire city of Winnipeg.

The building, as a whole, will form a fine example of what modern science can do in the elimination of fire risk. Every girder, beam and rafter is to be of non-expansive steel, every partition of terra cotta, every floor of marble tile or cement, and the stairways of iron. It is to be absolutely fireproof, and while every precaution has been taken to insure absolute protection to life and property an equal measure of attention has been devoted to its sanitation and the safe-guarding of health.

The bathrooms are to be models of sanitation and simplicity and are to be equipped with porcelain fittings and finished in exquisite tile work. They are of comfortable size, and so placed as to be in direct communication with every bed-chamber in the hotel.

Notable features of the residential portion of "The Fort Garry" are the several state and family apartments on every floor from the second to the seventh. These consist of an anteroom, drawing and dining rooms, and the necessary bedrooms, each suite having its own private hall and bathroom. The remaining rooms on these floors, and the rooms of the upper floors from the seventh to the eleventh are divided into smaller rooms and suites, small only by comparison with the spacious state apartments already described, and each having its own private bathroom, seventy per cent. of which are outside rooms, lighted and ventilated with adequate windows. No treatment of the interior which affects garishness will be permitted. The color tones are to be in perfect harmony and the furniture is to be made to order from special designs, such as one would ordinarily find in private homes of refinement.

There is not to be a dark or uninviting chamber in the entire building, and comfort and spaciousness have not been sacrificed to secure a maximum of accommodation. Large closets have been provided in every bedchamber, and in the suites there are commodious clothes presses equipped throughout with every modern device.

Once Too Often

There are many stories about the late Sir William Gilbert of Pinafore fame that flatter him. Here, however, is one that exhibits the petulant and witty writer in a different light.

Sir William, at the Sandown races, once stood in the paddock watching the horses as they were led around. Near him was a well-dressed stranger. Suddenly a horse lashed out with its hind legs and the stranger leaped back, knocking against Sir William violently. The stranger apologised and the knight accepted his apology with a witty and slightly sneering remark about nerves. But two or three minutes later the same thing happened again. Sir William was this time almost upset by the terrified backward leap of the stranger.

"Well," you're a fine specimen of British manhood," he said.

And the stranger, evidently ashamed of his lack of self-control, flushed and hurried away.

"A fine specimen of Brit—," Sir William repeated, and then, with a start, he noted the absence of his watch and chain. His pearl scarf pin, too, had vanished — so, also, had his pocket book — all had vanished with the nervous stranger.

"Faked" Blood Oranges

A recent accident revealed a method of faking ordinary oranges to look like blood oranges when the latter are considerably dearer than the former. Some time ago a woman bought from a fruit dealer a dozen "blood" oranges. She gave one to her daughter, who had scarcely put the first piece into her mouth when she suddenly felt a sharp pain in her throat, and began to spit blood. A physician found that the pain and bleeding were brought on by a fragment of a needle that was sticking in the mucous membrane of the throat. This fragment, on extraction, proved to be the point of a hypodermic syringe, in which were found traces of aniline colour. The orange merchant was interrogated on the matter, and admitted that he had faked the oranges by injecting a solution of aniline red and saccharine into the pulp through the skin by means of a hypodermic syringe.

Placing the Blame

Little Bertie's mother overheard him using some very strong language.

She promptly took him to task, explaining the wickedness as well as the vulgarity of such speech. She asked him where he had learned all those dreadful words. Bertie announced that Charlie, one of his playmates, had taught him.

Charlie's mother was straightway informed, and Charlie himself was brought to book. He vigorously denied having instructed Bertie, and neither threats nor tears could make him confess.

At last he burst out: "I didn't teach Bertie any bad words. Why should I know them better than he does? Hasn't his father got an automobile, too?"

Splendid Investments Offered by This Well Known Firm.

The Times would call special attention of investors to the advertisement of the T. C. Holt, Limited, of North Vancouver, one of the most substantial and prosperous brokers and real estate firms on the Pacific Coast. Capitalists in the east are now looking to the west for safe and profitable investments, and there is probably no spot on the continent where more money has been made faster than in Vancouver real estate. North Vancouver is rapidly forging ahead, and those who are able to get in now will be sure to reap a golden harvest.

T. C. Holt, Limited, recommend the following investments to their clients :

1st—While they last, 100 shares in the T. C. Holt Ltd. at $100 per Share. 25 per cent. on application and 10 per cent. per month until fully paid up. This Company being strictly under Government supervision is not allowed to sell their shares for less than par. We consider these shares a good and safe investment, as they will bring the investor a dividend of from 10 to 20 per cent. per year or more. Only a limited number left.

2nd—Investments in Real Estate. Remember, Mr. Investor, inside property in North Vancouver, is as yet cheaper than property in Point Grey, Fairview, South Vancouver, or Grand View, on the outskirts of Vancouver. 5 years ago an investor North Vancouver, far $10,000, to-day bought a corner on Lonsdale Avenue the same piece of property is worth $100,000.00. We can buy for our clients to-day property for investment from $1000 to $50,000.00 and over and can almost guarantee a profit of from 25 per cent. to 50 per cent. in a couple of years.

3rd—Investments in Mortgages and Agreements of Sale which represent a very safe and sure investment and bring in from 8 to 10 per cent. per year. Nearly every day some party calls in our office and invests his money in Mortgages or Agreements of Sale. They say they prefer absolute safety for their money with a good rate of interest, rather than no interest with a hope of increase in selling value.

Progress is the dominant note in the City of Vancouver to-day, and where progress is, where wealth accumulates, there will realty values advance, and this is inevitable in Vancouver.

MONEY NO OBJECT

WHEN PEOPLE ARE SEEKING HEALTH OR RELIEF FROM ANY DISEASE THE PRICE NEVER COUNTS.

It is a fact that not less than a million is spent every year by people seeking a satisfactory cure for Catarrh, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.

Probably the best and most highly recommended preparation is Catarrhozone which treats the local symptoms very effectually by means of medicated air supplied through a convenient hard rubber inhaler. The poisons in the blood are driven off by Ferrozone Tablets, which are taken after each meal. They promote appetite, aid digestion, and make the blood rich and pure, so that it will nourish all parts of the body.

This combined local and constitutional treatment in catarrhal diseases has met with wonderful success and can be relied upon to cure every time The inhaler stops sneezing, coughing, droppings in the throat, and brings quick relief and cure to all the disagreeable symptoms of catarrh.

The following testimonials from well-known Canadians furnish abundant proof what Catarrhozone accomplishes in stubborn cases.

Mrs. James Tweedie, of Jay Bridge says : "For years my daughter doctored unsuccessfully for Catarrh. She had droppings in the throat, hawkings, nausea, and could not sleep at night. The first day's use of Catarrhozone benefitted and ultimately cured my daughter so that Catarrh has never returned. I can recommend Catarrhozone as a grand remedy for Catarrh."

Thousands of strong letters could be given like the above if necessary, but all that is required to prove the merit of Catarrhozone is a trial. It is sure as death to cure and if it fails your money will be refunded. Catarrhozone cured lots of cases worse than yours and can do it again.

Complete outfit costs $1.00. Small size 25c. Sold by druggists, or The Catarrhozone Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

A Pleasant Trip.

The Grand Trunk Pacific are in receipt of a letter from a prominent traveller in Eastern Canada, who has just returned from a trip to the West and which included a journey on the Grand Trunk Pacific from Winnipeg to Wainwright and return.

He states : "I must say it was one of the pleasantest experiences in a long life of travel! Having seen the road in the making, and being aware of the high standard set up, I was prepared for a good roadbed, and was not disappointed, for we rode as smoothly as between Montreal and Toronto. The sleeping cars are models of comfort, and the service on them, as well as the dining cars, couldn't be better. The Grand Trunk are setting the pace for general excellence in Western Canada."

WHO'S WHO IN CANADA

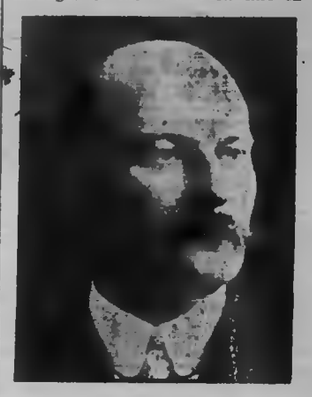
GEORGE FRANKLIN JOHNSTON

Mr. George F. Johnston is a good representative of the Canadian who comes of Scottish-English stock.

Born at Oxford, Brockville County, Ontario, in 1862, Mr. Johnston received his primary education at Morrisburg afterwards studying at McGill and affiliated educational institutions.

Having a professional bent, he at first took up school teaching, which has been the starting point of so many widely known men in the Dominion, but owing to throat trouble he was compelled to give up the idea.

At the age of twenty-seven Mr. Johnston entered the service of the Sun Life Insurance Company, where his rise was rapid, and in a few years he was the manager of foreign agencies, and later acted as superintendent of agencies, in this latter capacity having entire charge of the business of the company outside the principal offices. After ten years spent with the Sun Life he was appointed general manager of the New York Life Insurance Company in Canada, and was subsequently promoted to the position of supervisor of agencies for that company in the Dominion and the States of New York, New Jersey, Connecticut and Rhode Island with headquarters at Montreal.



GEORGE F. JOHNSTON,
Advocates Trade with So. America

At a later date Mr. Johnston entered into partnership with Messrs. J. W. McConnell and H. J. Allison, a firm which carries on an extensive business in financial promotings in Montreal. Montreal Street Railway, Canadian Light and Power, Sherwin-Williams and Goodwin's Ltd., are some of the recent issues handled by the firm. Mr. Johnston made a trip abroad recently in connection with British Columbia lumber propositions. His experience has been wide; he has travelled through all of the republics of South America and speaks Spanish fluently. He is, therefore, in a peculiarly good position to recommend the formation of a trade commission for the fostering of trade between Canada and these countries, a project which he has recently very strongly advocated.

Mr. JAMES A. ELLIS
Prominent Ottawa Man

Mr. James A. Ellis, who was mainly responsible for the Conservative election organization in Ottawa, still retains a strong north-of-England accent. Accrington, Lancashire, is his birth-place, and there he first saw the light of day in 1864. Ten years later he arrived in Ottawa and in course of comparatively few years he was occupying a forward position in local legal circles.

In 1898 Mr. Ellis came out as public school trustee in Rideau Ward and was elected. He was seat back to the school board in 1899 and 1900, and in 1901 he headed the poll in the aldermanic contest in Rideau Ward. He was re-elected in 1902-3, and during these years he was chairman of the finance committee. On his splendid record as head of that committee Mr. Ellis was elected mayor in 1904, defeating Mr. D'Arcy Scott by about 700 votes; he was re-elected in 1905-6, defeating Messrs. W. D. Morris and A. A. Taillon. It looked like Ellis for a fourth term, also, but his health broke down and he had to relinquish the reins of office.

As leading hobbies, he has electricity and orchid growing. In the former connection he has dreams for the future of Ottawa, and in the orchid section he aims high, having at the present time one of the best collections in Canada.

Mr. S. J. MARTIN
Popular Kemptville Man

Mr. Martin is president of the Kemptville club, which is one of the liveliest organizations of its kind in Ontario. For its hospitality it is known in all parts of the province, and its president is given the credit for the great success of his club.

A Presbyterian in religion, Mr. Martin is also a fraternal man of wide connections. He belongs to the A.F. and A.M., the K.P., the K.O.T.M., and the Canadian Order of Foresters. He is also a member-at-large of the Canadian order of Oddfellows, Manchester Unity. He takes a keen interest in all kinds of out-door sports.

Mr. Martin, who is a manufacturers' agent, was born and brought up in Kemptville, Ont. In fact, he lives today in the house where he was born 44 years ago. He is a big, hearty man with a host of friends.

As a travelling man he is known all over the constituency and everywhere he goes he is popular and esteemed. One of his chief aims in life, seems to be to banish gloom from the minds of weary workers; he can tell a good story and, what is more important, can tell it excellently. He has a hearty laugh, and he is of optimistic temperament.

While it has been the custom with most steamship lines to discontinue their Quebec and Montreal sailings about November 15th each year and transfer their steamers to the winter announced that their crack triple-screw steamer "Laurentic" will make an extra sailing to the St. Lawrence in November to accommodate the pre-Christmas traffic.

THE BACKWOODSMAN

By Acton Seymour.

...ner eyes, he told his story.

"I realize how it must sound, coming from me, a stranger," he said, at the close. "I can only remind you that I am disinterested. I am not an employee of the Great Trust Co., even. I am leaving for Montreal by the first train that will take me there."

She had listened intently. A flush had come into her pale cheeks. Her eyes narrowed as he talked. Her nostrils dilated from time to time.

"What kind of a fashion?" she demanded. "Has it anything to do with what you tell me?"

"Pardon me," he replied. "But my reasons for leaving are strictly personal. I prefer not to discuss that part of the affair."

"Once more, you correct my manners," she cried hotly. "I'm obliged to you, sir."

"I did not mean to be impolite, Miss Corran. But why I left the Great Trust Co. has really nothing to do with the matter."

"It hasn't, hey?" They turned, Jepson Wiggin had hurried up, the soft carpet of tree-fluff hiding the sound of his feet. "He's been discharged, Miss Clare. The company wouldn't have him. He's a meddler, and a liar. He just lied this minute to you. He said his leaving didn't have anything to do with your business. He said it, didn't he? I don't know what business he was tellin' you about, but he lied, whatever he said. It was because he was caught buttin' into your business that he was fired."

She waited coldly.

"Now, Mr. Evans is here, and is going to arrest him for blackmail," Wiggin went on. "That's a part of the blackmail, what he's been tellin' you."

"Have you overheard what he has been telling me?" she asked.

"No, but I know what he was sayin'. He was accusin' me."

"Be careful that a guilty conscience does not betray you, Mr. Wiggin," she warned. "You appear to know more about this matter than an innocent man is entitled to know." She turned to Harry. "So you have lost your position because you interested yourself in my behalf?"

He protested again that it was a business that concerned him alone. "I can only assure you that I've told the truth," he added. "Now that Mr. Wiggin is present, I accuse him to his face, in your presence, of proposing to me to sell you out. You are warned, Miss Corran. That's all I can do." He bowed, and stepped down off the porch.

"Will you wait one moment, Mr. George?" she pleaded. She disregarded the presence of Wiggin, who was tramping about, cursing under his breath. "I propose to take action in this matter. I can do nothing——" she paused and called him back to her. She said in tones too low for Wiggin to hear: "I can do nothing to put this man out of his position under the will, unless I have you as a witness for me. And I have no man of business to consult with. Can you not arrange your affairs so that you can stay here a few days? You see that you will be leaving me in sore trouble unless you stay."

"I warn you to have nothing more to do with that liar, Miss Clare," called Wiggin. "I'm the trustee of your estate. I propose to see you protected."

She went to the edge of the piazza, her chin up, disdain in her features.

"Mr. Wiggin," she said, "my father trusted you — trusted you too much. This news that Mr. George has brought is not new to me — it does not surprise me much, for I have read you for a long time. Remember that I am a woman, and a woman can see where a man is blind. I give you fair warning that I'm going to put you out of your trust. Will you resign? It will be better for you."

"Of course, I won't resign. I don't propose to leave Cornelius Corran's estate to be picked up by the first crook that comes along."

"Then, you're going to fight me, and you'll wish you hadn't tried it," she declared, with spirit. "I own what Cornelius Corran left. I am mistress here. I give you a chance to save yourself from disgrace. I ask you, once more.— will you resign quietly?"

"I'll not get out in any such way. I'm going to obey your father's wishes. What's the reason you're disobeying them all of a sudden?"

She flushed. It was a tender spot he had touched on. Perhaps her conscience told her that a strange reason prompted her—an impulse she had never felt before. She advanced on the obstinate old man. There was fire in her eyes.

"Wiggin, I allow no man to dictate to me, now that my father is gone — no man to question my motives. I have good reasons for discharging you. My father could not read. I can. I have watched some of your dealings in the written word, and I know that you are dishonest. I have only been waiting for the right occasion to tell you so. I tell you, now."

"You wait till I get to the probate judge," cried Wiggin. "I'll have you taken care of, Miss Clare. You ain't responsible. You'd better let this thing drop. I know more law than you do. You're going to be sorry."

She turned her back on him, undismayed.

"Mr. George," she said, "you see I'm in sore trouble, just now. I have plenty of friends in this north country, but they do not understand business. I need your assistance. I'm not appealing to you as woman to man. I don't want any chivalry. I'm talking straight business. I want you

...employee of the Great Trust Co., even. got only a peek in. I can't tell you ...details. It's none of your business. ...Our company is going to use every ...I'll see to it that you never lack for ...a job while we operate in this coun-...try. You're a Great Trust Co. man. ...Of course, you know how to be loyal."

The whole problem that had been ...revolving in George's mind for three ...days was laid before him, now, for ...instant solution. The bribe was offered without disguise — the threat was ...behind it. On the one hand, he had ...a hold on the company — he had ...stumbled upon their secret by the ...senile bungling of old Wiggin. On ...the other hand, was a girl who had ...given him no right to feel interest in her.

"I'm hired by the Great Trust Co.," he admitted. "I know that. My place is in the woods—I know that, too. But this man Wiggin is ready to sell out the interests of his employer — and that employer is an orphaned girl. If he'll resign as trustee of that estate, and let a man have the job who will take care of her property, I'll go into the woods and keep this thing to myself."

"What kind of a lord-high gull do you think you are, anyway?" demanded the company agent. "Who gave you license to butt in on other folks' business?"

"Any man has got a right to butt in, when he sees the helpless and innocent being done out of their own."

"Are you going to quit being a fool? Are you going to slander your own employers any more?" The agent got up and shook his fists at George. He had been furious ever since Wiggin had told him the story. He had restrained himself as much as possible in the interests of diplomacy. But he saw that this young hot-head was not amenable to diplomacy.

"I'm going to see that Corran's daughter has a square deal."

Harry realized that he had made his choice. Fury impelled him. His temper had been strained for many days. He thirsted for combat. Up in that land of man to man, the primitive passions got hold of him. The thought of slinking away into the woods, in his own interest, made him hate himself because he had entertained it for one moment. He was thinking less of Clare Corran at that moment than he was of his own resentment.

"Take your job and go to the devil with it!" he raged. "I can find honest people to work for!"

"You're discharged," said the stranger. "I was going to make you an offer, but I won't let you blackmail us. You open your head about this matter, and I'll have you in jail for trying to blackmail. You're up against the biggest proposition in this country, just now, youngster. You don't know what it is; but you'll find out quick, if you don't get out of this section as fast as that train will carry you."

"You leave it to me — I'll see that he goes," declared Wiggin venomously.

"I'm not taking any orders from any one, just now," announced George. "I'm my own man." He dragegd out his wallet, and threw a packet of bills at the agent. "There's your company money. Now, get out of my room, the two of you, or I'll throw you out."

They departed.

He stood for a moment in the middle of the room. Then, he threw his arms above his head with a gesture of relief.

"I'm a fool," he said aloud; "but, thank God, I can look at myself in the glass without being ashamed of the man I see there."

VIII.

With his mind made up, Harry George was no longer a laggard. He did not underestimate the power of the Great Trust agent, or of Jepson Wiggin. He determined to go to Clare Corran, manfashion, warn her of Wiggin's contemplated treachery, and then leave the section, seeking employment where he could preserve his self-respect. It was important that he should reach the girl before harm happened to himself, or Wiggin could prejudice her.

He armed himself with the revolver that he had salvaged from his wrecked trunk, hiding it, and followed the men down the stairs. They were talking with the landlord, and did not see him.

Harry hurried straight to the Corran house. It was on the slope of the valley set in a circle of old black growth trees of virgin spruce. From the porch of the tavern, he had seen portions of the house through the trees. But when he approached, he saw what a peculiar structure it was. One section was of logs. It was here that Cornelius Corran had dwelt, eating from his tin dishes on rough tables with his men, living the life of a woodsman. Harry had been told of his tastes in that respect.

Attached to the rude log walls was a wing that consisted of a cottage, dainty and graceful. The great log house was plain and gloomy, with its deep-set, little panes of glass and its rough walls; the cottage was fresh, vine-embowered, and picturesque. George knew that Clare Corran dwelt there; it had been her father's whim to lodge her thus.

The girl, herself, was on the porch, and rose to meet him.

He did not sit in the chair she proffered. Standing and looking straight

Animal Love.

Mother love is universal, and there is no love like the mother love. Most of the high and lofty loving in this world is done by mothers. Apart from this the work of wooing falls to the male members of the family whether it be the human family or some one of the other animal tribes. We read how, ages ago, a Bulbul, or Oriental Nightingale, wooed a white rose until it blushed red, and that was the beginning of the red rose. The Spanish Cavalier stands out in the rain and serenades his "Dulce Mia" until there is a crick in his neck, while she sits sheltered in a window above.

The cackle of the loon may be a love song for all we know. Maybe that's what made him loony in the first place.

The wild moose bellows his passion across the lake, and as likely as not the answering call is from a bark horn in the hands of a hunter, luring him to death.

It seems a sizzling shame, but if you will take a Grand Trunk train and travel into the "Highlands of Ontario" you will find men doing that very thing; arguing, doubtless, that all is fair in love and war.

NORFOLK, Va.

A De Luxe Booklet.

The railways of the American Continent vie with each other in producing their publications in artistic and attractive style and the Grand Trunk have received the palm from connoisseurs for being the leaders in this direction. With their usual taste they have just issued a very handsome brochure slightly different to the ordinary run of railway booklets, inasmuch as there is not any descriptive matter in the publication, but it is a book of views that tell their story without words. The name of this unique piece of advertising is simply "Vistas" with the Grand Trunk trade mark on one corner of the cover. The cover itself is a reproduction in colors from a painting of "The International Limited" the finest and fastest train in Canada. Inside the book are found maps of the Grand Trunk Railway system and the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway and a series of sixty-one pictures of Canadian scenes. These pictures are reproduced in the finest of half tone process from direct photographic negatives and printed on high class coated paper. The booklet is a credit to the Company.

These awards have been made under the following:—"Arts and Crafts"; "Engineering, Lighting, and Transportation"; and "Building Trades"; also "Advertising." This is considered by the Companies named as a great honor, as other railways exhibiting at the Exhibition have only received one award.

The official report from the Grand Trunk representative at this Exhibition, for week ending September 9th, shows that the number of persons visiting the Grand Trunk Pavilion was 21,186, bringing the attendance up to September 9th to 279,942 people.

Our Canadian Rockies.

Trunk Pacific Railway from Mr. A... mountain climber and topographer, who is at present in the Canadian Rockies making observations for the purpose of mapping out the district, he says:

"We have a great amount of splendid material for publication and a collection of photographs that cannot be surpassed. We have just completed what is very nearly a 100 mile circuit around Mt. Robson, the highest peak in the Canadian Rockies. The peaks and valleys, lakes and waterfalls on all sides of it, and the glaciers are very fine. The region is immense, and there is work for years to come, exploring, mapping and depicting. There is a fine bunch of high peaks and large snowfields and glaciers southwest of Tete Jaune Cache. There are also great peaks up the Athabasca and Fraser headwaters, tributary to your line. The most showy part of Mt. Robson is the Robson Pass and Glacier, and Berg Lake."

HOW $100 GREW TO $31620

The value and importance of any enterprise must be based on the profits and dividends it can earn. In this respect the Midway Maple Leaf Oil Company, Limited, is without a parallel in the line of investments.

It combines the attractive factors which are needed to make the perfect investment—viz., safety, large earning capacity and low cost of the stock at the start. It is not at all uncommon for oil stocks to begin at a few cents a share and jump to hundreds of dollars a share—sometimes thousands.

	Started at	Has Sold at
Central	10 cents	$2.10
Monte Cristo	10 cents	$4.00
Lucile	10 cents	$16.00
Silver Tip	25 cents	$4.00
San Francisco and McKittrick	40 cents	$28.00
Kern River	50 cents	$8.75
Peerless	50 cents	$8.75
Puente	$10.00	$150.00
Home	$10.00	$5000.00

This list, taken from San Francisco and Los Angeles Stock Exchange records, could be added to almost indefinitely.

Fortunes have been made from stock increases. stock is $200, YOUR YEARLY PROFIT ON AN INVESTMENT OF $300.

When we have ten wells sunk you can reasonably figure on AN ANNUAL PROFIT ON YOUR HOLDINGS OF $2000.

$2000 A YEAR. DOESN'T THIS APPEAL

Many a case could be cited similar to that of Richard Ellis, clerk in a store in Los Angeles, whose investment of $100 became worth $31,620 in a short time. There are hundreds of such cases in Los Angeles alone.

$2000.00 Profit a Year

Do you realise that stock in the Midway Maple Leaf Oil Company, Limited, at the present price of 30 cents a share is not merely the opportunity of the year—IT IS THE OPPORTUNITY OF A LIFETIME.

If you have $10, $50, $100 or $500 YOU SIMPLY CAN NOT AFFORD TO PASS IT UP.

If we develop only a 1000 barrel well of 26 gravity oil, this production alone will be sufficient to enable the corporation to pay a dividend of 20 per cent. and at the same time have sufficient capital to continue the drilling of wells.

1000 shares of stock at the present price of 30c costs only $300.

20 per cent. dividend on the par value of the TO YOU? Wouldn't you like to be coming up to this office every three months and getting your dividend cheque for $500?

Remember, too, that your stock holdings in Midway Maple Leaf, if you should want to sell them should be worth $18,000 or sixty times the amount of your original investment.

Consider These Facts

The Midway Maple Leaf Oil Company is working in proven gusher territory, the richest oil zone in the world, controlling 40 acres on one-eighth royalty, with the great advantage of the option to purchase at only $1250 per acre after oil is struck, and the ground must then be worth at least $5000 per acre. This means a clean profit of $150,000 over purchase price. It has been demonstrated completely by gushers on adjoining Standard and Honolulu ground, that this portion of the Midway field is not only the richest portion of the whole district, but that it produces the highest grade of oil found in the entire vicinity, and worth 50 per cent. more per barrel at the well.

Investors seeking an opportunity to secure large returns for their money will find an exceptional chance offered by Keith Park Land Co., Limited, of Vancouver, B. C. This company has placed on the market for immediate sale the choicest piece of property on the North Shore.

This tract known as Keith Park, D. L. 676, lies at the junction of the Pipe line Road, (owned by the city of Vancouver) and the Keith Road and is the Junction point for North side traffic.

The Second Narrows Bridge, which is to connect Vancouver and North Vancouver will be constructed so that Keith Park will be in the line of its northern end.

It is confidentially expected that a new town will be created at this point. Dominion, Provincial and Municipal subsidies to the extent of several hundred thousand dollars have already been secured for the bridge project and plans are now being drawn for the bridge. It is expected that actual workwill be started within the next ninety days

Keith Park presents the best chance to buy ahead of the important municipal and government projects that are planned for the North Side. It will stand the most critical investigation.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

The Cut Unkind

He was a suburban amateur gardener, whose pride in his tiny garden was apt to bore his friends. The other day he had taken his nephew — a youth fresh from a public school — round his retreat, holding forth at length on the four rose trees, pocket-shrubbery, half-inch fountain-jet with its little basin and pair of gold-fish, and the summer-house which would almost admit two persons at once. The youth endured it all without retort, until he was asked to admire an "avenue" of about five feet in length. Then the worm turned. "The 'grounds' are certainly very handsome," he said, "but I think you might improve them considerably." "How so?" questioned the owner, divided between gratification and wounded pride. "Well, if I were you," suggested the young critic blandly, "I should take a strip off that flowerbed, turf it over, and convert it into golf links."

Early Morning Drinking.

An agitation is at present being made in Victoria for legislation compelling the early closing of hotels. Mr. Ernest Jones, Inspector-General of Insane, according to a correspondent of the "Lancet", has given his opinion that if the hours of business are to be curtailed, hotels should be closed in the morning rather than at night. He states that the ill-effects of alcohol are almost all traceable to the "early morning nip," and that if facilities in this direction were abolished there would be public benefit. The opinion is said to be strengthened by experience gained in the Government inebriate retreat at Lara, which is under the direction of the Lunacy Department.

A Strange Superstition

In many parts of Great Britain the superstition still survives that it is folly or madness to save a drowning man, as he will sooner or later do an injury to the rescuer.

The superstition comes down from our ancestors, yet traces of it exist among the Sioux and other Indians, who seem to have inherited it from aboriginal sources.

The belief is most prevalent in Cornwall and various parts of Scotland. Chinese have the same superstition

What's Wrong?

Pa—I greatly disapprove of that young Smithson, and one particular reason is his lack of industry in his calling.

Daughter—His calling? Why, he calls seven evenings in the week.

The Moose and the Lilly Pad.

The moose's love for the lily pad that floats on the surface of the northern lakes make him appear reckless and unafraid. In summer, even in September, the fishermen often cut him off from the shore, drive him into deep water and have fun with him. Sometimes, when the moose reaches shoal water and gets his hind feet on the bottom, he has fun with the fisherman, smashes his canoe and makes him swim for his life.

However, after the shooting season opens the moose becomes more cautious.

There are thousands of moose around Lake Temagami. At North Bay you change from the Grand Trunk to the Temiskaming and Northern Ontario and get off at Temagami Station.

The Fort Garry.

The work of constructing the second of the Grand Trunk's System of palatial hotels has begun at Winnipeg. It has been definitely and finally decided that the Winnipeg hotel, which will be of the same style of architecture as the magnificent "Chateau Laurier" at Ottawa, shall be called "The Fort Garry."

THE COMFORT OF INDEPENDENCE ASSURED THE B. C. FRUIT GROWER

In British Columbia Fruit Growing is synonymous with Success. The fame of the five-acre fruit farms of the Fraser Valley is spreading to every corner of this continent. Already "Fruit" suggests the Pacific Coast, soon it will direct the thoughts instinctively to British Columbia, particularly to the lower Fraser River Valley.

FLESHERTON GARDENS, which I am now selling, is the cream of this Valley land. The soil is a rich deep chocolate, humous and friable, free from weeds, stones or stumps. Good roads lead to the property and two railways are ready to carry the fruit to market. The Chilliwack line of the B. C. Electric Railway CUTS THROUGH FLESHERTON GARDENS, and the Victoria, Vancouver and Eastern is only a few yards away. Over a dozen trains pass the property every day, and the traffic will increase in the immediate future.

BIG PROFITS IN FRUITS AND VEGETABLES.

Do you know that you can make immense profits in fruits, tubers and vegetables on the Coast? To-day last year's potatoes are selling at $70 a ton in Seattle, only a few miles from here. In Westminster and Vancouver the price is from $60 to $65 a ton. Cherries fetch 50c a pound and strawberries 25c a box. All other fruits are high in proportion. Remember these are NOT FANCY PRICES, but to-day's quotations. There is no difficulty in selling the fruit, for people here have the money and don't mind the price.

IT'S EASY TO SECURE THE LAND

I have placed FLESHERTON GARDENS on the market on very easy terms, $200 cash and the balance spread over several years. You can have your pick of these five acre farms at from $150 to $350 per acre. You cannot find a better investment anywhere; no matter how rosy other prospects may be, this one leads them all.

Sign this blank, and mail it to me NOW. I can tell you a great deal more about FLESHERTON GARDANS in a personal letter. It's to your advantage to get all the information you can.

Too Hoarse to Speak

An American Doctor Tells of the Grand Results Achieved With "Nerviline."

"I had a patient with Quinsy that I found great difficulty in curing," states Dr. Wilson. "Every time he caught cold or got chilled he suffered intensely from sore throat, huskiness, throat and chest soreness. After every attack his throat and chest seemed more sensitive. This patient lived in the country, and couldn't come to the city for treatment. I concluded that the best remedy would be an honest liniment, and because of its enormous sale and well-known merit, I advised 'Nerviline.' Morning, noon, and night Nerviline was rubbed over the neck and chest, and once a day diluted with water it was used as a gargle. In a day or two my patient reported an improvement, and by continuing the treatment with Nerviline he was cured. I can recommend Nerviline for breaking up colds, for chest tightness, throat inflammation, quinsy, tonsilitis and similar conditions."

Church Hymns and Their Origin.

A very interesting and instructive address was delivered in Knox church on Sunday evening, when Mr. H. R. H. Kenner, principal of the Collegiate Institute delivered an address on the above subject to an appreciative audience. Rev. Mr. Keith was unable to take charge of the services, having been ill, so that advantage was taken of this fact to have Mr. Kenner take his place and deliver this interesting lecture. The subject was very appropriate at this season of Thanksgiving, he prepared it four years ago on the occasion of the 200th anniversary of the birth of Charles Wesley.

Cheerfulness

Is the result of body and mind working smoothly.

The fretfulness and irritability of many coffee drinkers are due to caffeine—the drug in tea and coffee.

To be cheerful and energetic, try leaving off tea and coffee, and in their place use well-boiled

It is made of different parts of wheat (and a small portion of New Orleans molasses) skillully roasted and blended.

Death came with startling suddenness on Thanksgiving morning to Mr. Donald McKay, of Cannington. The deceased had been in good health the previous day but at three o'clock in the morning, his wife noticing that he was ill called her brother, Dr. Carmichael of this city, who was there at that time. But before the Dr. reached his brother-in-law, he had passed away. Mr. McKay was a retired farmer and in his 77th year. Besides a large circle of friends, he leaves a wife to mourn his loss. Mr. McKay was one of the best citizens and the whole village of Cannington was shocked to hear of his sudden death.

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by Catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free.

VOL XXXIV NO 252 PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO, THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 2 1911 PRICE TWO CENTS

CATHOLIC RESENTS BEING CLASSED WITH FREEMASONS

Author Wins Libel Suit Against "LaVerite" Which Accused Him.

Judge Weir Awards Quebec Another $1,000 Damages Against La Verite, Which Accused Him of Belonging to "L'Alliance Francaise," of Which Catholics, Protestants, Freemasons and Moslems Are Said to Be Members.

Montreal, Nov. 2.—That the creation of a suspicion in the public mind to the effect that a Catholic is an active member of an organization participating in the spirit of Freemasonry constitutes, for that Catholic, damage to such an extent that he may seek redress in court, is the ruling handed down by Mr. Justice Weir, when he awarded Rodolphe Girard $1,000 damages in a libel suit for $5,000 against Mrs. Henriette Brunelle, et al, relict of Paul Tardival, and publishers of La Varite, a French Catholic organ of Quebec.

Mr. Girard a civil servant, had written a book entitled "Marie Calumet" In an article criticizing the work "La Verite" referred to the "Alliance Francaise," to which, it said, the author belonged, and which, it stigmatized as a dangerous association, comprising among its members Catholics, Protestants, Freemasons and even Moslems.

The implication redownded to the injury of the plaintiff, his contention being that in a Catholic community the mere fact of a Catholic being suspected of having associated with Freemasonry of the type of that referred to by the defendant, constituted irreparable damage.

Judge Weir declared that in the article complained of, the references to the author's work, were slighting, and that the other associations were made so as to wound the feelings of the plaintiff, to disgrace him in the esteem of the public and to ruin him financially.

The ruling further continued to the effect that the creation in the public mind of a suspicion that the plaintiff, as a Catholic, is or has been associated with the type of Freemasonry referred to, has caused and will cause him injury as a citizen and as an author, taking into consideration the fact that the milieu in which such insinuations were circulated is a thoroughly Catholic one. Hence daTages were found against the defendant to the amount mentioned.

ANNUAL RUSH TO THE NORTH

Season for Deer Open and will Closes Nov. 15

NO KILLING ON SUNDAYS

Large and Small Hunting Parties Have Been Organized—Many are Already in the Woods—So Many Hunters are in the Woods That the Sport is Regarded as Dangerous from Stray Bullets.

EVERY fisherman, and every hunter, who is not a resident of the country, must take out a license, and pay for the privilege of hunting or fishing. Just now the open season for deer is on for that portion of the Province south of the main line of the C.P.R. from Mattawa to Port Arthur, and hunters from various parts of the province as well as from the United States, are invading the north country in search of game. Scores are yet to leave.

Only One Deer.

Only one deer, one bull moose or one bull reindeer or caribou may be taken in one season by one person. All residents of Ontario must obtain licenses to hunt deer, the licenses to be signed by the Superintendent of Game and Fisheries and counter-signed by the Minister of Public Works. The license is for one season only and costs $2. License to shoot moose, caribou or reindeer costs residents $5 and in any case, the animals cannot be transported without having a license tag affixed.

$50 Fee for Non-residents.

Permits are issued to non-residents on payment of a $50 fee. It is also a rule that to kill any kind of game on Sunday is illegal, and another stipulation is that in localities where deer can usually be found, dogs must not be allowed to run at large during the close season. The open season extends from November 1st to November 15th, excepting north of the C.P.R. main line, where the open season for moose commences on October 16th.

Many License Offices.

In this Province along there are five hundred or more offices where licenses may be obtained. The tags may be secured at almost all the ticket offices of the railways. In Toronto, the tags are on sale at the main offices of the C.P.R., G.T.R., and Canadian Northern. The three systems are offering excursion rates of single fare for round trip. These will be sold up to November 11th and are generally valid to return up to December 14. On Monday the Canadian Northern will run a special Hunters' train to Sudbury, leaving at 11 a.m.

A Greater Rush.

All lines report a greater rush for the north than ever before, while at the Parliament Buildings, it is expected that the licenses sold will reach an unprecedented figure.

9,500 Licenses Last Year.

Last year 9,500 licenses were sold. This was an increase over the year before. It will not be known what figure will be reached this time until the end of the year, as it generally takes about two months for the full returns to be made.

Much Danger Encountered.

Where so many hunters are busy in the woods, there is considerable danger from stray bullets. Peterborough hunting parties are accustomed to having more than one party on the same runways, so that they naturally exercise great caution. Sometimes a dispute arises over the killing of a deer, but certain rules of the hunt govern in such cases, and the trouble is always adjusted.

Cars Collided.

Yesterday morning about eight o'clock a collision which might have resulted seriously, occurred at the corner of Charlotte street and George street, when car No. 10 of the C.G.E. line crashed into car No. 14 of the Jackson Park line. Conductor Guthrie was standing on the rear of car 14 and was severely cut about the face and badly shaken up. Car No. 14 was very much damaged, but car No. 10 fared somewhat better.

ALARMING RIOTING IN EYPYT

Natives Turn Out in Thousands Calling Upon Allah to Confound "The Infidels"

Alexandria, Egypt, Nov. 1.—Reports of Turkish victories at Tripoli were received here during the night in a tumult that one time threatened to be serious. The natives turned out in thousand calling up Allah to confound "the infidels."

Shots were exchanged between Moslems and Europeans. One native was killed and 14 others were wounded before the police had suppressed the rioting. Scores of arrests were made.

MR. NEWTON N. ROWELL THE NEW LIBERAL LEADER

Toronto, Nov. 1.—Mr. N. W. Rowell, K.C., a prominent lawyer of Toronto, was yesterday afternoon selected as successor to Hon. A. G. McKay, for the leader of the Liberal Opposition in the Province of Ontario.

The selection of Mr. Rowell as the choice of the Toronto Liberals, establishes a precedent in the selection of a party leader. Not only is Mr. Rowell not now a member of the House of Ontario, but he was chosen as a party convention instead of by the members of the Legislature. These, however, were unanimous in their support.

THE COMMITTEE'S CHOICE.

Mr. C. M. Bowman, M.P.P., Liberal whip, who made the report of the action of the Parliamentary Committee, said: "We are now in a position to state that the Parliamentary Committee, after careful consideration, has unanimously decided to tender to Mr. N. W. Rowell, K.C., the leadership of the Liberal party in this Province, and I am sure you will all have the same feelings as I have myself; that the conclusion we came to was in the best interests of the party.

"Mr. Rowell has seen his way clear in answer to that request to say 'Yes.' I am sure that this announcement will not only be pleasing to the delegates and members of the Liberal party here, but I am confident that when it goes out to the Liberals of the Province it will be received with great satisfaction, and that they will feel that Mr. Rowell is worthy of the position we have offered him to-day.

NEW HOPE AND CONFIDENCE.

"I am confident that with Mr. Rowell as our leader, with the magnetic personality he possesses, he will be able through his influence to enlist the Liberals all over the province with new hope and confidence; that when December the 11th is past they will realize that a good day's work has been done. I ask you then—it will not be necessary for me to ask if he meets with your approval, as I know by your applause that he did so to endorse the action of the committee."

The thanks of the meeting was tendered the committee by Mr. J. Walter Curry, K.C., after which Hon. Mackenzie King, the new president of the Ontario Reform Association, tendered to Mr. Rowell, the congratulations of the meeting, to which the new leader responded in an able address amid scenes of great enthusiasm.

ROMAN CHURCH MAY ELECT FOREIGN POPE

Rome, Nov. 1.— The Giornale D'Italia calls attention to the fact that after the next consistory the sacred college will be composed of thirty-two Italian cardinals and thirty-one foreign cardinals.

It points out the possibility of the election of a foreign Pope.

MAY ASK THEM TO GET OUT

Ottawa, Nov. 1.—Ottawa is wondering what will happen to the other members of the Transcontinental Commission now that Major Leonard has been made chairman. Unlike Hon. S. N. Parent, they are showing no inclination to resign. As they are all political appointees with no qualifications other than party services or their positions, it is believed they will be asked for their resignations. The matter is in the hands of the Cabinet Council and not Major Leonard.

IMPORTANT CASE ON AT AUTUMN ASSIZES

Fellow Workmen Tell of the Manner in Which Hugh Darke was Killed

At the Court of Assizes yesterday, the case of Mrs. Hugh Darke, whose husband was killed while at work at the Canadian General Electric works here, was continued, several witnesses being examined, the gist of which was that the current was turned on and the machinery started while Darke was engaged in fixing the machine, crushing him to death.

Mr. Walter Jeffreys, an employee, testified for the defense. He had been employed with the company for six years, previously coming from England, and was directing the generator in the Test Department previous to the date of the accident. He was in charge of the men employed on the work. On the 14th and 15th of June he was employed around the machine where the accident occurred, practically all the time. He was present when the machine was finished and he inspected the machine, also the clamping, and everything was all right. He was there until ten o'clock but was all over the shop.

"Did Mr. Darke have anything to do with the clamp after the inspection?" asked Mr. Watson, counsel for the defence.

"No, nothing, but watch the bearings and the belts to see that they were all right after the machine started," replied witness. "He had no instructions to do anything else at all and nobody had any authority to give Mr. Darke any instructions only myself."

"Did you give any instructions to Mr. Thompson?" inquired the defence.

"No," answered witness.

"It says in the evidence that Darke and Carpenter were engaged in putting on a clamp before ten o'clock. Did you give them any instructions, or did they get any to do so?"

"Not that I am aware of."

"Assuming for purpose of argument that it was necessary to do the work, was there room for a man to do it on the belt?"

"There was room for one man between the belts. There was 12 or 15 inches, but they did it voluntary, and if I had been doing the job I would not have sat on the belt at all."

"You have no personal knowledge how the accident took place?"

"No."

"Were you there when the machine was fastened to the floor?"

"Yes, I personally supervised the work, and it was securely done."

"Can you say it was a practical thing to put any guard on inside of belt?"

"No, it is not."

"Would a guard be of any use when a machine was being erected?"

"No use whatever. No person has any right there, but the test employees."

Witness was cross examined by Mr. O'Connell.

"Have you been speaking with Mr. Patterson to-day?"

"Yes."

"Anything about this case or evidence?"

"No."

"With Mr. Patterson or any person else?"

"No."

"Did you see Darke working at the machine on the night of the accident at a quarter to ten?"

"No."

"Were the other men working at the machine at the time?"

"Not with my instructions, but it is possible they may been."

"If there was a belt loose would it be their duty to fix it?"

"Yes."

"Why?"

"If it were loose, they would do it to make the machine more secure."

"Was there a clamp at the corner of the block?"

"Yes, under my instructions."

"Has there been any put there after the accident?"

Defence objected.

"Evidence shows that there was one out there after. When did you find it out?"

"When I saw the photograph."

"There was a conversation between Darke and Cartner that night. Did you see them talking?"

"No, Darke spoke to me and asked if Cartner could stay with him, in case the belt should come off."

"What instructions did you give?"

"For Cartner to stay in case anything went wrong."

"What was the width of that belt?"

"Twenty-four inches."

"How far from the ground?"

"Nine or ten inches."

"Was it possible to work at the bolt without coming in contact with the belt?"

"Yes."

Judge—"Since the belting is put on after the machines are securely fastened, does the putting on of the belt suggest anything? Is it a signal that the machine is ready?"

"No."

"It is a regular order to secure the machines before putting on the belt?"

"Yes."

"Then what does that indicate?"

DON'T LIKE METHODISTS.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—The Catholic Record published the following beautiful comment on Methodists:—

"In reporting a big open air meeting held in the grounds of the Metropolitan Church, Toronto, in connection with the "Ecumenical Methodist Conference" in session there, the daily papers state that the crowd were called upon to sing the hymns loud enough for the patients in St. Michael's Hospital adjoining to hear. The act was characteristically Methodist. It tallies exactly with the methods of the sect in Rome, where, we are told, they have gone the length of posting themselves within full view and hearing of the Holy Father's apartment in the Vatican, and they droning out their sanctimonious doggerel. They have also attempted to distribute tracts during high mass within St. Peter's itself. Such acts come properly under the head of charivari, and the treatment ordinarily meted out to its perpetrators under other circumstances is to set the house dog upon them. In the instances mentioned they are beneath contempt."

Etc.

THE WAY THE MONEY GOES.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—The account of Messrs. Ross and Holgate, of Montreal, for $750.00 for reporting on the Lakefield power project, should not be paid by the city without careful investigation. The Times, I understand, some time ago, stated that Mr. Holgate was connected with the Cedar Rapids' Power Company. This company, is, I believe, owned by the same people who own the Seymour Company. Now, if this is true, he would hardly be a disinterested person when a question arose between municipal ownership of power and the Seymour Power Company. If the Lakefield power is secured by the city it naturally follows that the present Seymour Company will have to quit, so far as the city is concerned.

I say, therefore, that before a single dollar is paid over that this should be investigated and explained to the people.

ALBERTA CONSERVATIVES WON FOUR BYE-ELECTIONS

Calgary, Nov. 1.—The electors of the four Alberta constituencies in which bye-elections were held yesterday have administered a crushing defeat to the Sifton Government by returning four Conservatives. The Government forces expected to break even at the very least and some of the more sanguine Liberals even hoped for a clean sweep.

T. M. Tweedie, Conservative, swept Calgary, carrying the city by a majority of over eleven hundred though the vote was a very light one.

If Tweedie's majority had been much larger his opponent, T. J. Skinner, would have lost his deposit.

FOURTH SEAT CONCEDED.

In Gleichen, Harold W. Riley, the Conservative candidate, has a majority of 351 with ten polls to hear from which cannot alter the result. Lethbridge has returned Dr. T. J. Stewart, Conservative, over S. J. Shephard, Liberal. While detailed figures from Lethbridge are not yet available Dr. Stewart's majority is placed at 182. In Pincher Creek the election of John Kemmis, Conservative, running against John Ross, Liberal, is conceded. Reports from the south say the feeling against the Government for the manner in which it has handled the A. and G. W. affair is very strong and Liberals are blaming that for their defeat.

MAJORITY OF TWO.

The election of four Conservatives yesterday reduces the majority of the Sifton Government to a narrow margin. The Conservatives now have seven members and with the twelve Liberal insurgents who are still after Sifton's blood will present a solid front of nineteen. The Government has but 22 followers, not counting the speaker, so that Sifton's majority in the House will be reduced or two.

PROPOSE TO GRAB TURKEY'S ISLANDS IN MEDITERRANEAN

Chiasse, Switzerland, Nov. 1.—With a view to bringing the war with Turkey quickly to an end, the Italian Cabinet has decided that the Porte must either accept peace immediately or lose more territory. This means that some of Turkey's valuable island possessions in the Mediterranean will be seized unless she submits to her fate.

WORK FOR THE FLEET.

This decision was reached at a series of secret conferences on Monday, between Rear Admiral Aubrey and members of the Cabinet. Aubrey arrived in Rome suddenly and secretly Monday morning. Lengthy interviews with the Premier and the Ministers of War, Navy and Foreign Affairs followed. Definite arrangements were made for sending the Italian fleet into action against Turkey's Mediterranean possessions. It is understood that the new plans will be set in action as soon as the Marquis de Sangiuliano, Minister of Foreign Affairs, can reach the necessary understanding with the interested powers. It is expected that Italy will continue to spare the Albanian coast in order to avoid complications along the Adriatic and the Balkin States.

Pagett and Howarth are in charge of the married men and Brown and Gribb, the singles. It is hoped to raise the sum of $10.00. We wish the players every success in their laudible efforts to benefit a deserving cause.

OBITUARY

The sad news was received in the city on Monday of the death of Mrs. Joseph Nethercut, sr., of Dundalk, Ont.

The deceased's name was Jane Dunlap, and she was born in North Monaghan and was 73 years of age. She also lived in Otonalee and was well known in this city. A sorrowing husband and eight children are left to mourn her loss, also a brother, Thomas of this city.

The funeral was held yesterday afternoon in Dundalk, and the large attendance testified to the esteem in which the deceased was held.

The Late Wm. C. Taylor.

The death occurred at about one o'clock yesterday afternoon of Mr. William C. Taylor, at the family residence, 176 London St. The late Mr. Taylor had been ailing for many months past, from Bright's disease, and his death at the ripe old age of 76 years was not unexpected.

Peterborough County loses one of its oldest and most highly esteemed residents, in the death of Mr. Taylor. Born near Bridgenorth in the Township of Smith, on May 10th, 1835, he passed the entire portion of his life in Peterborough city and county. He was a son of the late Charles Taylor, of Yorkshire, England, one of the early settlers of the township of Smith. Farming operations in Smith he carried on until the year 1874, when he moved to Peterborough, and was interested in the grain business for some years. In 1885 he purchased Beechwood farm in the Township of Douro, where he resided until four years ago, when he retired from active life, and came to the city to reside at 176 London street. While in Douro, he was perhaps the most extensive farmer in the township. He erected one of the finest homes in the district. Beechwood farm is situated just near the Peterborough Golf Links.

In 1876, he married Miss Isabella Hall, daughter of the late John Hall of Smith Township, who together with one daughter, Miss Isabella, at home, and one son, Mr. William H. of the city are left to mourn his demise.

Although the late Mr. Taylor never took any active part in public affairs he was well versed in municipal and political matters. He was a Liberal of the old school, and had been a reader of The Globe since the early days of George Brown. In religion, he was a Presbyterian and was a faithful member of St. Paul's church. A wide circle of friends who knew him for his kindly and sympathetic disposition and for his integrity will miss him.

Besides his widow, a son and a daughter, the deceased is survived by several brothers and sisters. They are, Mr. Nathan Taylor, Wescott street, Peterborough; James, of Elston, Sask., Mrs. Jonathan Mann, of Water street, and Mrs. J. J. Hartley of Peterborough, and Mrs. Geo. Wallace, of Winnipeg.

At the time of going to press the funeral arrangements had not been made, but interment will likely be held at Little Lake cemetery, Friday afternoon.

RINGING THROUGH QUEBEC PROVINCE

ANOTHER MARVELLOUS CURE BY DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS

Ludger Cote's Backache had developed into Bright's Disease, and pains and aches were his portion—Dodd's Kidney Pills cured him.

St. Yvon, Gaspe Co., Que., Nov. 1.—(Special)—Once more a wonderful cure has sent the name of the old Canadian Kidney Remedy ringing through the Province of Quebec. Mr. Ludger Cote, a well known resident of this place, is the man cured and the story of his cure in his own words is as follows:

"For four years I suffered from Backache, stiffness of the joints and finally Bright's Disease. I could not bend my right leg on account of the pain in my hip and knee. I had terrible pains in the region of the bladder. My eyes were swollen. I was always tired and nervous and took no pleasure in life.

"Finally, I decided to try Dodd's Kidney Pills and the effect was marvellous. Six boxes cured me completely."

Backache, neglected, develops into Bright's Disease. The one sure way to escape its tortures is to cure the Backache when it first starts with Dodd's Kidney Pills.

THE CANADA NATIONAL FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY

was incorporated by Special Act of the Parliament of Canada for the purpose of carrying on the business of Fire Insurance, as outlined in the Insurance Act and the Special Act of Incorporation.

Capital Stock Authorised by the Board.....$2,000,000
Capital Stock Subscribed to date.....$1,650,000

The Head Office of the Company is in the city of Winnipeg, and, in addition to this, Branch Offices and Agencies will be established throughout the Dominion.

It must be generally conceded that, owing to the satisfactory conditions at present prevailing throughout not only Western Canada, but the entire Dominion, this Company is being organized at a most favorable and opportune time.

Canada, and particularly the Western portion of the Dominion, is advancing in population and wealth more rapidly than at any other time in its history, and every indication points towards a period of great prosperity and development.

The great influx of settlers into Western Canada is resulting in tremendous activity in every line of business. Railroad construction is proceeding on a scale hitherto unknown in this country, and as adequate transportation is of vital importance in moving our immense crops with a proper degree of facility, it is highly encouraging to see so much well-directed energy along the lines of railway extension.

Coincident with railway expansion, we find many new districts rapidly filling up with desirable settlers, bringing with them a good supply of cash and effects. With the settlement of the rural districts, new towns and villages are springing up, which will, during the next few years, become, in many instances, important business centres.

With such unprecedented growth in Western as well as Eastern Canada, involving an expenditure of millions of dollars in building operations, it is at once evident that there is a very extensive and profitable field for a new Fire Insurance Company which will have a thorough organization throughout the length and breadth of the Dominion, and more particularly in the four Western Provinces.

As a great volume of our business will be transacted in the West, it is a matter of the greatest importance that the Head Office of the Company, as well as the Directors, should be located in the West, so that the affairs of the Company may be conducted to the best possible advantage.

DIRECTORS.

The Board of Directors consists entirely of Western men with a very intimate knowledge of Western conditions, and they are, accordingly, well conversant with the financial and general business requirements of the West. They are thoroughly representative of the various important branches of financial, commercial, industrial and professional life in Western Canada, and with their wide reputation for business ability and integrity, as well as financial standing, combined with a long and varied experience, and practical knowledge of business affairs, they are exceptionally well qualified to render excellent service to a large financial institution.

As the Directors have valuable connections with extensive business interests and are also Directors of other financial corporations, as well as being otherwise identified with large and influential companies which control a great deal of high-grade fire insurance, they will be instrumental in placing a large portion of this desirable insurance with the new Company, so that we may safely conclude that from the very beginning of operations a large and profitable business will be assured.

Under these favorable conditions, and with a strong, energetic, as well as experienced and conservative management, combined with the fact that each Director has subscribed for eleven thousand five hundred dollars ($11,500) of the Capital Stock, on which all calls have been paid, and takes an active interest in the welfare of the Company, there is only one conclusion to draw, and that is that the affairs of the Company will be conducted in such a careful, conscientious and intelligent manner that the interests of both policyholders and stockholders will be fully protected.

IT IS WORTHY OF NOTE THAT $1,650,000 OF CAPITAL STOCK HAS ALREADY BEEN SUBSCRIBED BY PROMINENT BUSINESS AND PROFESSIONAL MEN THROUGHOUT THE DOMINION AND ELSEWHERE.

No commission has been paid to anyone for securing stock subscriptions, and no expense has been incurred in the promotion and organization of the Company, except the expense in connection with securing the Charter and other necessary expenses.

THE CANADA NATIONAL FIRE.

The Canada National Fire, being organized in the West, MAY BE TRULY CALLED A WESTERN COMPANY, and, as such, should receive the liberal patronage and hearty co-operation of the citizens of Western Canada, as well as the support of people from Eastern Canada who desire to become associated with a strong and progressive Canadian Company.

When promoting this Company the Directors were fully convinced that there was a splendid opening in Western Canada for a Company prepared to carry on the business of Fire Insurance on a large and comprehensive scale, and which, at the same time, could offer ADEQUATE PROTECTION TO BOTH POLICYHOLDERS AND SHAREHOLDERS. Accordingly, when making application for a Dominion charter, the Company was incorporated with a capital of $3,000,000.00, of which amount the Directors decided to offer for public subscription the sum of $2,000,000.00.

THE ALL-IMPORTANT FEATURE IN FIRE INSURANCE IS PROTECTION, and with the LARGE CAPITAL, combined with the high standard of Reserve, which will be maintained through careful selection of risks and profits from judicious investments, the Directors and Management feel confident that this Company will be accorded a very hearty reception by Canadian citizens, and will soon rank as one of the leading Fire Companies.

WITHOUT A LARGE AND SUBSTANTIAL CAPITAL FOR THE PROTECTION OF THE POLICYHOLDERS, A FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY IS SERIOUSLY HANDICAPPED, AND DOES NOT AFFORD THE POLICYHOLDER THAT PROTECTION TO WHICH HE IS JUSTLY ENTITLED, and the Directors of this Company, being fully aware of this most important fact, are adopting a very wise policy in OFFERING FOR SUBSCRIPTION SUCH A LARGE AMOUNT OF CAPITAL STOCK, and when our entire stock is subscribed and paid in full it will represent the largest amount of subscribed and paid-up capital of any Canadian Fire Insurance Company, and will be a tower of strength and of very material benefit to the company in carrying on its extensive operations.

GENERAL AGENT FOR CANADA

W. E. FUDGER, ESQ.

It shall be the policy of the Company to use the UTMOST DISCRETION in the selection of desirable risks, and, at the same time, to so widely distribute its business that any danger arising from a possible conflagration at any point may be reduced to a minimum.

The investment of the Company's funds will be given the GREATEST OF CARE AND ATTENTION by the Board of Directors.

Only GILT-EDGE securities will be considered, such as first mortgages on improved, productive real estate, stocks, bonds and debentures of companies of high repute, as well as Dominion securities and municipal, county and school debentures of well-established districts.

As a LARGE PERCENTAGE of these securities is READILY NEGOTIABLE, the Company will have abundant LIQUID ASSETS to meet any possible contingency that might arise.

Our first mortgage investments will be confined to Western Canada, and as the rate of interest obtainable on first-class productive real estate is FULLY TWO PER CENT. greater in the West than in Eastern Canada, the Company will have a DECIDED ADVANTAGE over Companies operating exclusively in the older portions of the Dominion. A fixed policy of the Company is to loan NOT MORE THAN FIFTY PER CENT. of a conservative value of the property, and to stipulate for a definite return of principal, together with interest, each year during the term of the loan. With these periodical repayments of principal, and with land values in Western Canada steadily increasing, the Company's first mortgage securities will continue to improve year by year.

With the active development in Western Canada, a great deal of capital will be required for many years to come, and the Company will, therefore, experience a very ready demand for its funds on high-grade securities and at a profitable rate of interest.

The Directors decided to issue the stock at the price of ONE HUNDRED AND FIFTEEN DOLLARS PER SHARE, being at a premium of fifteen per cent.

THE TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION ARE:

On application, $25.00 per share, which shall include the premium of $15.00 per share, and the balance, payable in ten consecutive half-yearly instalments of $9.00 per share, the first of such half-yearly instalments to become due and payable six months from date of allotment of shares.

Shares may be PAID IN FULL at time of subscription, but if purchased on the INSTALMENT PLAN the subscriber shall have the privilege of paying any or all of the instalments prior to due dates.

The Following Table Shows the Amount of First Call as Well as the Subsequent Payments:

NO BONUS STOCK shall be issued for any purpose whatsoever, and even the Directors, who are very heavy stockholders in the Company, have paid the SAME PRICE for their shares as the general public. NOT ONE SHARE has been or will be issued to any person at a price less than $115.00 per share.

THIS IS A RARE OPPORTUNITY to secure, some of the Capital Stock of a Western Fire Insurance Company. With a large amount of desirable and profitable business so readily obtainable by the Company through its valuable and extensive business connections, rapid progress should be made, and with investments carefully selected and unexcelled in earning power, the Company will be enabled to not only pay substantial dividends, but build up a large reserve, and thereby materially increase the value of the stock.

The Directors firmly believe in the policy that EVERY SHAREHOLDER SHOULD CO-OPERATE WITH THE MANAGEMENT of a Company and take an active interest in its welfare. For that reason, it is their intention to WIDELY DISTRIBUTE the CAPITAL STOCK, and by that means obtain the support of the leading business and professional men throughout the country.

With the rapid development of the West during recent years, involving an outlay of many millions of capital, it has become generally recognized that WESTERN CANADA IS VERY MUCH IN NEED OF MORE LARGE FINANCIAL INSTITUTIONS, AND ESPECIALLY OF WESTERN ORIGIN, to properly meet the growing requirements of the West, and to not only improve the present financial situation, but to materially assist in retaining, as much as possible, desirable business, with its resultant profits, within our own Western borders.

The business of fire insurance has now grown to such large proportions that it has become a very important factor in the financial and commercial world, and as its scope and influence is so general and widespread it is only natural to find that the question of AMPLE PROTECTION TO POLICYHOLDERS, which is the PRIMARY FUNCTION OF FIRE INSURANCE COMPANIES, should be so GENERALLY DISCUSSED AT THE PRESENT TIME.

This important subject has given rise to a very STRONG FEELING in Western Canada that the TIME HAS NOW ARRIVED when the Western people should organize a Fire Insurance Company of such strength and proportions that it will soon rank as one of the leading fire companies of America, and command general respect and confidence, which is so ESSENTIAL to a company that solicits the support and patronage of all classes of the community.

The Directors have every confidence that they will receive the hearty co-operation of not only Western citizens, but of people from every part of the Dominion, to build up a GREAT fire insurance company with AMPLE PROTECTION for the people, and which will be a source of pride and credit to our country.

The following Canadian Government Insurance statistics should prove of ESPECIAL INTEREST:

In the year 1869 the total amount of fire premiums collected in Canada was $1,785,839.00, whereas in the year 1909 the total premiums charged amounted to the large sum of $22,293,633.25, and of this amount $6,551,644.41 was charged by Canadian Companies, $11,518,267.45 by British Companies, and $4,223,721.39 by American Companies.

During the last forty-one years the aggregate amount of fire insurance premiums collected in Canada reached the immense total of $280,740,466.00, of which the large sum of $218,310,047.00 represents the amount of fire premiums collected by FOREIGN COUNTRIES, and which, therefore, was taken out of the country to build up foreign companies and enrich foreign shareholders.

Notwithstanding that a considerable portion of the fire premiums collected in Canada by Foreign Companies has been repaid to Canadian policyholders, through fire losses, it must be evident that the larger the proportion of Canadian fire insurance that is placed with Canadian Companies, the larger is the amount of capital retained in the Dominion and always available for investment purposes, to build up our Canadian financial institutions, and thereby add to the general wealth and prosperity of our country.

The above figures are most significant and clearly demonstrate that while the CANADIAN FIRE COMPANIES have been doing a satisfactory business they HAVE SECURED only a SMALL portion of the Fire Insurance transacted in Canada, or, to be more exact, ONLY TWENTY-TWO PER CENT. of THE TOTAL FIRE INSURANCE WRITTEN IN CANADA, covering a period of the last forty-one years. With the extraordinary progress which Canada has been making during recent years, the field for financial institutions has become so widely extended that there is a CONSTANTLY INCREASING DEMAND for new large financial corporations.

By further reference to our Government statistics it will be observed that at December 31st, 1909, the total number of Canadian Fire Companies operating under Dominion charter was ONLY TWENTY-ONE, and of this number ONLY TWO HAD A PAID-UP CAPITAL IN EXCESS OF $500,000.

In promoting this large Canadian Company the Directors are fully confident that the new organization will, with characteristic Western energy and enterprise, soon come to be recognized as an important factor in the insurance world, and as The Canada National Fire will be instrumental in RETAINING WITHIN THE BOUNDARIES OF CANADA a large amount of money which would otherwise be taken out of the country to build up foreign corporations the people of the growing Dominion will readily see the advisability of giving this Company their MORAL AND FINANCIAL SUPPORT, in order that we may build up a STRONG and VIGOROUS Company which will prove a valuable acquisition to our Canadian monetary institutions.

This is the last opportunity to secure, direct from the Company, some of this desirable stock.

It is worthy of special note that the demand for the stock has exceeded the Directors' most sanguine expectations; in fact, of the $2,000,000 of stock to be issued, $1,650,000 has already been subscribed, and, from present indications, with the large number of applications for stock being received daily, the Directors are confident that the balance of the issue, which is now only $350,000, will be subscribed by August 28th, 1911, the date appointed for the closing of stock subscriptions.

For this reason, the Directors strongly recommend the investing public to mail their applications for stock at their earliest possible opportunity.

Subscribers are requested to kindly fill in attached application form, stating name in full, number of shares desired, occupation and address, and mail the application, along with the first call of Twenty-five Dollars ($25.00) per share on the stock, direct to the Head Office of the Company, Winnipeg, Man., or, if so desired, application may be made for the stock at any of the Company's Branch Offices or at any Branch of the Royal or Imperial Banks, where application blanks and any additional information will be readily furnished. Applications for stock will be considered in the order received, and on approval of the same by the Board of Directors a certificate for the number of shares subscribed will be issued and mailed the shareholders forthwith. Cheques, Drafts, Money Orders or other remittances on account of stock subscriptions should be made payable to The Canada National Fire Insurance Company.

STRUCK DUMB WITH AMAZEMENT

Mr. A. O. Wheeler, F.R.G.S., Director of the Alpine Club of Canada, has just returned to Vancouver from a summer spent in the Canadian Rockies in the vicinity of the Yellowhead Pass, and is greatly impressed with his trip.

In an interview with Mr. Wheeler, he stated: "It has been the general impression that the Rocky Mountains of Canada attain their greatest average height not very far north of the boundary line. True, of late years much has been heard of Mount Robson, which dominates the region of the Yellowhead Pass, but the popular notion was that there was nothing else in the neighborhood worth seeing, and that the Grand Trunk Pacific would pass through a region of little interest from the point of view of the tourist or mountaineer.

"There was no mistake about Mount Robson. It is without doubt, as was stated by one of the most travelled and skilled mountaineers of the day, Dr. Norman Collie, one of the most magnificent mountains in the world, whether seen from the south, the view that is most familiar on all sides were found mighty snowpiles, or from beautiful Berg Lake, it still stands supreme. In the hundred peaks, widespread snowfields, red-mile circuit of the great massif hure ice-falls, rushing torrents, waterfalls, flower-clad meadows and vast stretches of dark pine forest. Many of the peaks were named by the surveyors, but they are legion, and it will be many years before they are familiarly known as individual mountains."

In speaking of the Robson Glacier, which lies on the east side of this monstrous mountain, Mr. Wheeler said: "It struck us dumb with amazement that anything so stupendous, so superb, so undreamed of, should exist. At our feet flowed the great river of ice, every crevasse, every moraine, every icefall, clearly portrayed. Directly opposite rose the massif, its outline clear from base to summit for fully 8,000 feet. From the beautiful meadows at the head of Resplendent Valley twenty-five peaks were counted, all unknown and unnamed. And lakes, which perhaps lend the most characteristic charm to Canadian mountain scenery, were everywhere."

At the summit of the Yellowhead Pass Mr. Wheeler's party erected a monument defining the boundary between Alberta and British Columbia at the intersection of the Great Divide. On the huge post set up, which is surrounded with a big stone mound are carved the words: "British Columbia on the west face; Alberta on the east face; and on the south 3,727.98 feet, being the altitude of the summit at the point where the post is set."

Clearing of right-of-way on the uncompleted gap of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway from Tete Jaune Cache westward to Aldermere in Bulkley Valley, was started a few weeks ago by the contractors, Messrs Foley, Welch & Stewart. Operations thus far are restricted to the route along the south fork of the Fraser between the Cache and Fort George.

An Interesting Booklet.

The Times is in receipt of a very interesting booklet dealing with the Maritime Provinces as a promising field for those who desire to establish new industries, or to profitably invest capital in the exploitation and development of natural resources. The obvious advantages of many parts of New Brunswick and Nova Scotia are ably presented in detail, together with many cheerful facts that ought to impress those who have capital ready to invest in a new field that is certainly rich in opportunity. It is commendable that while the eyes of the world are upon Canada, and thousands of new settlers are pouring into the West from many countries, an honest effort is being made to point out the advantages that exist in the east. The booklet will be mailed free to those who write the Industrial Department Intercolonial Railway, Moncton, N. B.

Present Disadvantages of Canadian Farmers.

At present the United States farmers have a great advantage over us. It costs 25c a bushel to send wheat into the United States. They can send their wheat into Canada for 12c a bushel, with rebate of 99 per cent. of duty when ground in bond. It costs us 30c to send a bushel of barley to the United States. They can ship barley into Canada for 15c. If we want to ship beans into the United States we have to pay 45c a bushel duty. The beans can come into Canada for 22c. They charge us 25c a bushel on the apples we send them. We charge them only 40c a barrel on what they send us. They charge us $4 a ton on the hay we send them. We charge them $2. They charge us 6c a pound on cheese, we charge them 3c. Thus it is with almost every farm product.

Under reciprocity these disadvantages will be wiped out, and we will be able to deal with them on an equal basis. Is not this worth while?

Home for Christmas

The Steamship Lines are expecting a large home-going exodus for the holiday season this year, and are making extensive preparations to take care of all of those who are planning to visit the Old Country.

The White Star-Dominion Line has arranged for three special Christmas sailings, viz. the "Canada" December 2nd, "Megantic" December 9th, and "Teutonic" December 14th, from Portland, Me., and Halifax, N. S., to take care of these passengers. These steamers will arrive in ample time to enable passengers to reach their homes before Christmas whether in England or on the Continent.

The railways have recognized the growing popularity of these annual Christmas excursions and now run special trains from Montreal and the west to connect with the steamers, and the most complete arrangements are made by both the steamship companies and the rail lines to further the comfort of the homeward bound ones during the holiday season.

Grand Trunk Opening New Territory

The new territory in the Canadian Rocky Mountains that is being opened up by the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway has already become the Mecca for a number of Alpine Climbers and those who love to get away from the turmoil of the busy city and explore mountain fastnesses that are practically unknown. Some of the travellers who have gone into this Yellow Head Pass territory are now returning, and one gentleman writes to the Grand Trunk Pacific Headquarters as follows:—"Lake Maligne is a beautiful lake between 16 and 18 miles long. I have visited all the other transcontinental lines both in Canada and the United States, and there is no lake or district along any of these lines that can compare with the Lake Maligne country. Some of the mountains around the lake are in the neighborhood of 12,000 feet. Lake Maligne is reached from Henry House a few miles west of Fitzhugh, the Second Divisional point, and covered with ice fields which make them very beautiful."

STEADY WORK FOR THE INDIAN

Strong Arguments Advanced In Favor of Getting Red Man to Forsake His Ways and Conform to Civilized Programme

Steady employment near home is not attractive to the typical Indian. Tribal and village celebrations — ceremonial dances and religious observations — cut into a summer's work with discouraging frequency. Besides Indians, used to scurrying about on horseback, are dull workers afoot. "These Indians" says the Commissioner of Indian Affairs for the United States, in a sentence, "undoubtedly make good workmen if properly handled, although few of them are experienced at any kind of labor except, perhaps, as horsemen in handling stock." Or, as a white employer of Montana put it, "I could get a Blackfoot Indian to eat it on table if he could do it horseback."

And yet, in the Commissioner's last report, we find this paragraph: "The matter of obtaining out door employment for the Pine Ridge Sioux has been well handled by the agent Mr. Brennan. Early last spring he dropped from the ration roll sixteen hundred Indians who were able-bodied, and let them support themselves by work on the railroads, ranches, etc.; and a year or so ago he dropped eight hundred from the ration roll permanently, as they were sufficiently advanced to care for themselves."

Back of all the effort the Indian Office is making to get the tribesmen out on the job is a strong, though vaguely understood, feeling among the Indians themselves that this change is bound to come. "No work, no eat" time is moving on them.

Speaking on this subject the other day Archdeacon Renison, of Moose Fort, James Bay, who has charge of Anglican mission work in the Moose district, with its scattered population of some six thousand, argues that instead of trying to make them mechanics and clerks, for which they are not suited, they would be better employed by the Government in surveying, as well as fire ranging and game wardenship, for which work they have a natural aptitude.

Mr. Renison suggests that portages should be cut between the lakes of New Ontario, and that an Indian should be settled by every lake. His work should be the keeping open of the portage routes, and the guidance of strangers. In this way the Indian would be able to live his own life, and at the same time be of immense use to Canada.

The Fixer Fixed

"What I want to know is," said the proprietor of the Village Arms to the great lion tamer, who was in the bar, "how you have the nerve to face the animals in the cage."

"Oh, that's easy enough. I just show 'em I'm not afraid of 'em, and I look at 'em steadily eye to eye." Here he fixed such a strong gaze on the landlord that he quickly disappeared lest he should be tamed, too.

"See that stolid, silly-looking chokel over there?" asked the wild beast showman, fixing a keen, piercing eye on a ploughboy at the end of the room.

"Yes," was the hushed rejoinder of the bystanders; "what are you going to do to 'im?"

"I'm going to 'fix' 'im with my eye, and make him come over to me." So saying, he glared fiercely at his "subject." Presently the ploughboy rose, and slowly came towards the tamer.

"Doin' I say so?" whispered the showman.

Sure enough, on came the youth. When he was close to the tamer he suddenly let fly with his strong arm, and planted a well-directed blow on to the showman's nose.

"You'll stare at me like that again, won't you?" he snarled.

Friendship of Books

To fall in love with a good book is one of the greatest events that can befall us. It is to have a new influence pouring itself into our life, a new teacher to inspire us, a new friend to be by our side always, who, when life grows narrow and weary, will take us into his wider and calmer and higher world.

Whether it be biography, introducing us to some humble life made great by duty done; or history, opening vistas into the movements and destinies of nations that have passed away; or poetry, making music of all the common things around us, and filling the fields and the skies and the work of the city and the cottage with eternal meanings — whether it be these, or religious books or science, so one can become the friend even of one good book without being made wiser and better.

Cause of Rheumatism

Many physicians believe that rheumatism is the result of over-feeding, followed by putrefactive changes in the foodstuffs in the alimentary canal; that the action of certain bacteria produces specific toxic (poison) substances which, when introduced into the blood, cause a deviation from the normal oxidation process, thus causing the condition that is designated rheumatic. In the majority of instances it is probably due to eating too much of the vegetable class of foods; in other cases it is the result of eating too much meat.

PICK-ME-UPS BEFORE MEALS

Medical Authorities Argue it is Wrong Principle to Attempt to Provoke Appetite by Stimulants or Preliminary Tasteful Dishes.

There is a vast amount of popular misconception regarding the use of so-called appetizers, or provokers of appetite. No doubt the true appetite in a healthy body follows upon the development of the hunger sense. There, however, appetite seems to be lacking in respect either of the desire for food or of the enjoyment thereof, many persons rush to so-called appetizers by way of stimulating the flagging nerves of the stomach or digestive system in this respect. Various forms of pick-me-ups for example, are in common use. Many will take some form of alcohol, sherry and bitters, or gin and bitters, or [illegible] that these stimulants whet the appetite. This, of course, is a complete mistake. They are calculated only to injure the appetite, and may cause a certain feeling of repletion before even food enters the stomach, whilst in no case can they be considered as stimulants of the appetite itself. Again, they may act injuriously upon the walls of an empty stomach, in such sense that they tend to check the flow of gastric juice instead of stimulating it. Other forms of appetizers are frequently found in the taking of certain dainties most of the fish order. Such a luxury as caviare which represents the preserved roe of the sturgeon, or preserved anchovies, sardines, and the like, are all frequently taken in order that the appetite may be stimulated. It is difficult to see how or why such substances should promote the further desire for food. The only physiological reason for such things being consumed is that they mostly contain salt, which exercises a certain stimulating power on the stomach, and also supplies a certain amount of material towards the formation and secretion of the gastric juice itself.

BRAIN-POISON CAUSE OF SLEEP

Science Men Decide the Real Reason We Go to Sleep is That Nature Demands Clearance of Toil-Poison.

Considerable discussion has arisen in scientific circles over the experiments of MM. Legendre and Pieron in Paris, who have discovered that the real reason why we go to sleep is because our brain has been actually poisoned. Sleep, they declare, is produced through a morbid change in the cells of the frontal lobe of the brain. They discovered a dog that died of insomnia, and injected some of the serum of its brain into another dog, thereby causing it to fall into a deep sleep from which it subsequently awakened in a perfectly healthy condition. From this and similar experiments they assert that sleep is due to a natural poison. The poison of sleep, they contend, is, in fact, an antidote for the poisons that are the by-products of every mental and physical action of our lives, and we awake from sleep when it has cleansed our higher nervous centres of the poisons that our daily toil has produced.

A man of great personal magnetism, of modest demeanor and of most democratic ideas, Dr. Alguire of Cornwall is popular with all classes in his home county, where, during most of his thirty five years residence, he has taken a keen interest in Sunday school work, as a leading member of the Presbyterian Church, and he has taught a Sunday school class for the past thirty years. He has also been active in the work of temperance propaganda, and has proved a valuable man for those who seek to minimise the effects of the drink evil. Nor has the doctor forgotten his duty as a man who realizes the value of education, and he has been a hard-working member of the Cornwall High School board for many years.

Born on a farm in Stormont County in 1853, Dr. Alguire, after a brilliant course in the elementary schools, studied at McGill University, Montreal from which he graduated M. D. in 1873.

In 1874 Dr. Alguire went to Cornwall, where he has since that time practised medicine. The acknowledged head of his profession in his district, he has found time during his residence in Cornwall to take his share of the public responsibility which comes to the man of exceptional character and attainments. He has been twice mayor of Cornwall, his last term being in 1899.

Criticism is Easy

Criticism is so easy a task that anyone, no matter how unskilled, can do it without effort. The man in the gutter can criticise the saint — but that does not lift him an inch out of the gutter. When Thales, away back in classic times, was asked what was most difficult, he replied, "To know one's self"; but when he was asked what was most easy, he answered, "To advise another."

Breaking It Gently.

The shopman may have been impudent, but no doubt the customer smiled in spite of herself.

"How do you tell bad eggs?" asked the young housewife.

"I never told any," replied the shopman, "but if I did have anything to tell a bad egg, I'd break it gently."

TO HELP THE EXPORT TRADE

Well Known Business Man of Montreal Urges Canadian Manufacturers To Wake Up and Get After Foreign Trade

Mr. George E. Johnston, the well-known financier is urging the manufacturers and traders of Canada to consolidate and form an association through which authentic information of the wants of other countries—particularly South America—could be secured for the benefit of Canada. Mr Johnston's appeal, in part, is:—

Has not the time arrived when we should put forth some concerted action whereby we would render valuable aid to our Canadian exporters. This might be accomplished by following the example of our neighbors to the south of us by the formation of a Canadian Export Association. Our export trade is growing at a remarkably rapid rate and the work of such an association would be to educate our expanding manufacturers and traders who may be anxious to participate in profitable over-seas business. It would be the purpose of the suggested association to establish an intelligence department and through the agency of accredited correspondents who would supply ruling prices, point out new markets and fresh sources for the purchase of our raw material.

It may be news to many Canadians to know that there is scarcely a country in the world where Canadian merchandise does not find a ready market, both in the countries of the Old and New World. We have now a direct steamship service to Australia, New Zealand and the Far East and we have lately turned our attention to the development of trade to Latin South America and with most promising results.

From January 1st. to September 30th. of last year, the exports and imports between Canada and Argentine aggregated $5,051,467, which is $3,000,000 more than the previous year. During the nine months above mentioned, Canada sent to Argentine $2,869,913 worth of goods and bought from that republic $2,181,554.

In looking over all the countries' trade with each of the Republics of South America, I personally believe that our trade of 1910 with the Argentine might be duplicated in each one of the other Republics, if we put the proper trade machinery into operation. Canada in the last few years, has been developing her export trade at a very rapid rate.

I would like to see our government assist in establishing a direct line of steamships with South America. This would facilitate the work of an energetic and patriotic Canadian Export Association. In many ways South America presents a very attractive field for Canadian business men and I believe, as one personally acquainted with South America and its business, that there is no doubt a large trade could be worked up, if proper attention were paid to cultivating the republics of South America. As everyone knows, South Americans for the most part, are not competitors of Canada. They buy what we have to sell and sell us commodities which we require. The only exception to this statement is the Argentine Republic and even with this, republic our export trade last year was over $5,000,000. Canada should have, next to Great Britain, the first claim upon South American trade, because of the fact that the chief commercial houses of South America are English and would naturally give a preference to Canada. There is invested in South American enterprises at the present time, over two billions dollars of British money and as a result of this large amount of British capital invested, Canada, as a part of the British Empire, would receive a cordial welcome should she energetically seek closer trade relations with South American countries.

As a Canadian much interested in Canadian enterprises, I would like to see a system of organized effort to extend and enlarge our export trade and for that purpose, I would suggest the formation of a powerful league, known as the Canadian Export Association, which league ought to secure diplomatic influence for the successful exploitation of Canadian commerce. In order to secure a remunerative business for a direct steamship line, the government might grant a subsidy, which subsidy would not be required after a more extensive trade had been developed, as it would soon be apparent that Canadian steamships would soon have a paying cargo each way.

It might be pointed out that the greater part of manufactured goods used in South America are imported and that there is hardly an article manufactured in Canada which would not find a ready and profitable sale in the south. Implements are used there in enormous quantities. Cement is used in millions of tons. Leather goods, including saddles, boots and belting are everywhere in great demand owing to the agricultural nature of the country. The bulk of this trade is now going to Americans, Germans and the Belgians. We in turn need their asphalt, nuts, mutton, hides, mahogany, rice, rubber, wool, etc. Our Canadian government has neglected putting a live, energetic Canadian representative in each one of the Republics of South America and I think the time has arrived for either the government or such an association as I have indicated to take immediate steps towards the development of our Canadian trade in the south.

Mr. Johnston invites correspondence from manufacturers and traders of the Dominion on the subject and if there is sufficient interest manifested, necessary steps will be taken to organize an export association and to develop and extend our export trade.

Edmonton to Winnipeg by Grand Trunk Pacific.

Before leaving Canada, Mr. Hamar Greenwood, Member of Parliament, British House of Commons, wrote to the Grand Trunk Railway System, in connection with his trip over their lines in Canada, and in which he says: "We especially enjoyed the journey from Edmonton to Winnipeg which we made on your System in the best equipped train I ever saw in my life. You have fixed a very high standard, if this train is the standard up to which you are working."

NEW SKYSHIPS WILL GO SOME

San Francisco Inventor Promises to Turn Out Airship Capable of Speeding 250 Miles an Hour.

Combining the virtues of aeroplane and dirigible, Edward M. Greene, of San Francisco, announces the early construction of a skyship which will travel 250 miles an hour. Greene is the inventor of the rotary snowplow, the gasoline-driven rock drill and other notable labor-saving devices.

Plans of the airship are on file with the United States war department and the department of commerce, and the postoffice department has requested designs for mail-carrying machines. Leading aviation experts have pronounced the scientific principles of the invention the soundest yet evolved.

"Experts have only recently discovered that the Blerlot monoplane is carried on the waste draught of its forward propeller," says Greene. "They have also found that it takes 5 per cent of engine power to lift an aeroplane, and thus only 5 per cent can be used to drive it.

"An aeroplane cannot make much more than 100 miles per hour. The machine I shall construct will make 250 miles an hour."

Ruby Superstitions

The superstition that the ruby changed colour at the approach of danger to its owner was, in bygone ages, a popular belief, in which, among others, the great General Wallenstein, shared. Having got wind that a conspiracy against him was on foot, he, acting on the advice of the astrologer Seni, invited the suspects to a supper, at which to each guest was served a dish sprinkled with powdered rubies. In the guise of a servant Seni passed round the table, and having made pretence to note the hue of the crushed gems, assured his master in a whisper that the danger was imminent. On this warning the credulous Wallenstein acted with promptitude; several of the guests were arrested, and on the following day led to execution.

At the time of the conquest of Mexico by the Spaniards certain of Cortes' officers, angered at the refusal of a wealthy Mexican to disclose the hiding-place of his possessions, of which a great portion consisted of emeralds, devised a hideous retaliation. The hoard having been discovered, the conquerors invited their prisoner and his family to a banquet, at which the dishes were sprinkled with the wretched man's gems. These the Spaniards compelled him, his wife, and their children, to swallow with their food, making sure of their recovery by murdering their luckless guests, whose bodies were then opened and the booty regained.

T. C. HOLT, LTD. OF VANCOUVER

Splendid Investments Offered by This Well Known Firm.

The Times would call special attention of investors to the advertisement of the T. C. Holt, Limited, of North Vancouver, one of the most substantial and prosperous brokers and real estate firms on the Pacific Coast. Capitalists in the east are now looking to the west for safe and profitable investments, and there is probably no spot on the continent where more money has been made faster than in Vancouver real estate. North Vancouver is rapidly forging ahead, and those who are able to get in now will be sure to reap a golden harvest.

T. C. Holt, Limited, recommend the following investments to their clients :

1st—While they last, 100 shares in the T. C. Holt Ltd. at $100 per Share. 25 per cent. on application and 10 per cent. per month until fully paid up. This Company being strictly under Government supervision is not allowed to sell their shares for less than par. We consider these shares a good and safe investment, as they will bring the investor a dividend of from 10 to 20 per cent. per year or more. Only a limited number left.

2nd—Investments in Real Estate. Remember, Mr. Investor, inside property in North Vancouver, is as yet cheaper than property in Point Grey, Fairview, South Vancouver, or Grand View, on the outskirts of Vancouver. 5 years ago an investor North Vancouver, far $10,000, to-day bought a corner on Lonsdale Avenue the same piece of property is worth $100,000.00. We can buy for our clients to-day property for investment from $1000 to $50,000.00 and over and can almost guarantee a profit of from 25 per cent. to 50 per cent. in a couple of years.

3rd—Investments in Mortgages and Agreements of Sale which represent a very safe and sure investment and bring in from 8 to 10 per cent. per year. Nearly every day some party calls in our office and invests his money in Mortgages or Agreements of Sale. They say they prefer absolute safety for their money with a good rate of interest, rather than no interest with a hope of increase in selling value.

Progress is the dominant note in the City of Vancouver to-day, and where progress is, where wealth accumulates, there will realty values advance, and this is inevitable in Vancouver.

SIR JAMES WATSON

This eminent English physician is one of the greatest authorities on diseases of the respiratory organs.

In a recent address, Sir James Watson stated that the commonest of all disorders is Catarrh, and that not one person in ten thousand passes the winter without an attack of some sort.

Sir James advocates local treatment very strongly, and says that it is all nonsense trying to treat Catarrhal diseases by stomach medicines, atomizers, douches and snuffs.

Local treatment is applied most scientifically by Catarrhozone, which is inhaled into the nose, throat and lungs, and drives the disease completely out of the system.

Catarrhozone is a rational, common sense treatment; it clears the air passages, makes breathing easy, and relieves at once. Physicians prescribe Catarrhozone with gratifying results, and pronounce it a specific for Catarrh in any part of the system.

Mr. Thos. Cox, one of the most prominent citizens of Minden, Ont., says: "I want to recommend Catarrhozone. It is a nice, clean cure for Catarrh. Cured me perfectly, and is well deserving of a trial from everyone at all affected by Catarrh or throat trouble."

Mr. G. F. Fadden, of Royan, Que., writes: "In my opinion Catarrhozone is the only cure for Catarrh. I had the disease in its worst form but only got relief from Catarrhozone. It cured me quickly and permanently, and I have no fear of the Catarrh ever returning.

The foregoing brief extracts, like thousands of others that the proprietors of Catarrhozone have received, prove that the proper remedy to use is Catarrhozone. It is quite different from the ordinary Catarrh preparation, and is warranted to prove entirely satisfactory. If it fails your money will be refunded, so if not benefited you won't be out of pocket.

All druggists sell Catarrhozone. Complete outfit, hard rubber inhaler, liquid for recharging, etc., costs $1; trial size, 25 cents. By mail from The Catarrhozone Co., Buffalo, N.Y.

A Pleasant Trip.

The Grand Trunk Pacific are in receipt of a letter from a prominent traveller in Eastern Canada, who has just returned from a trip to the West and which included a journey on the Grand Trunk Pacific from Winnipeg to Wainwright and return.

He states: "I must say it was one of the pleasantest experiences in a long life of travel. Having seen the road in the making, and being aware of the high standard set up, I was prepared for a good roadbed, and was not disappointed, for we rode as smoothly as between Montreal and Toronto. The sleeping cars are models of comfort, and the service on them, as well as the dining cars, couldn't be better. The Grand Trunk are setting the pace for general excellence in Western Canada."

The business [illegible] man who neglects his clothes discards one of the most potent instruments of success.

Commenting on this obvious fact a writer on men's fashions remarks that apart from mercenary reasons, it is becoming more widely recognised that it is the duty of all men to do their best in the matter of dress to make themselves as presentable as possible.

There is also a psychological aspect of the matter which is not without interest. It is demonstrated that the average man is to some extent influenced by his own clothes, just in the same way as he is affected by his environment. Thus the same man, well dressed, will talk better, will walk better, and by the same token, do better work than he would do if he were carelessly or inappropriately clad. In a word he will (more or less consciously, of course) line up to his appearance, and become less slovenly in every way. As in most other things, it is the little things that count in the matter of dress. A man should study his appearance from the crown of his head to the soles of his feet.

An Emperor-Policeman

Among the Duke of Wellington's special constables was a dreamy personage, then well known, but not very well spoken of in English society, named Louis Napoleon Bonaparte. He had returned to England nearly two years before after his melodramatic escape, in workman's disguise, from the fortress of Ham. The special constable's real career was now about to open. Two months after the memorable 10th of April he was in Paris as a member of the Constituent Assembly, and in the following autumn he was elected President by an overwhelming majority. What followed belongs to history, and takes us far from the enrolment of special constables.

HER WEIGHT IN GOLD

By Carlin Joyce.

(Copyright by Publishers Press Ltd.)

The proposal of the Indian people to weigh King George V., on the occasion of his approaching visit to India, against his weight in silver coin and afterwards to distribute the silver amongst the poor in India, recalls an interesting incident in the history of a well-known Irish family; now related for the first time.

"This is the fifth marriage settlement I have had the honour of drawing up for your family, Sir Thomas, and you will excuse me, I hope, expressing my curiosity respecting one peculiarity common to them all."

"I think" interpolated the baronet, "I can anticipate what you are going to say, Cheevers. You are puzzled to explain why there is a uniform dowry of £8,000 settled upon my daughters from the date of their marriage, especially when you are aware that a similar sum was settled upon my sisters when they married."

"Precisely, Sir Thomas. To speak openly, I wondered why the sum was not fixed at £5,000 or £10,000."

"I comprehend your meaning fully. You might be a long time searching for a solution of the problem and fail to solve it in the end. It is, however, an interesting story.

"My eldest sister, Ita, was a charming girl, idolised by our parents, the most popular of the young county people of her age, and beloved by the common people. Up to the time immediately preceding the public announcement of her engagement she was regarded as heart-free and unattached to any of the many eligible admirers with whom she was acquainted. One evening, after dinner, Mr. Strewton, a neighbour of ours, called to know if I could play in a cricket match that was being arranged with a team from the metropolis. Subsequently he asked if my father was alone in the library, as he wished to speak with him. I brought him down to the dear old man, and left the pair of them together, never dreaming of the surprise that interview had in store for us all. About a week later we were apprised that Ita had given her heart to Strewton. That herself and her lover had always entertained mutual affection for each other, though Strewton had made no avowal until his bachelor uncle had spoken to him of the desirability of marrying and avoiding the premature ageing and loss of real live interest in life which is the fate of the overwhelming majority of old bachelors. Strewton avowed his desire to marry my sister but explained that he never felt at liberty to disclose his heart's dearest wish to her, because he recognised that he was dependent upon his uncle's generosity for the wherewithal to set up an establishment of his own. Contrary to the code of the romance writer, Strewton's uncle approved his nephew's action and choice, and guaranteed a generous settlement if the marriage could be arranged to the satisfaction of all parties.

"It was after this interview Strewton ascertained that my sister reciprocated his affection and, later, secured audience of the pater. I well remember my father approving of Strewton's manly, straightforward way of urging his suit. 'By George,' he used to say, 'I shall never forget the earnestness with which eulogising Ita, young Strewton averred that she was 'worth her weight in gold,' or the happy thought that prompted me to say, 'that she is; and her own weight in gold will be her wedding dowry.'

"Of course, Cheevers, you remember that my father was Director of a Bank at that period. What do you think he did? One day he brought Ita into the Bank and, in the presence of two other members of the Board, conducted her to the strong room where she was put sitting into a beam and scales constructed on the principle of those commonly seen at the town market-houses throughout the country. When she was comfortably fixed, one of the porters of the establishment was directed to shovel sovereigns into the opposite scale until the gold placed there equalled the weight of the lady on the other side. When the coins were subsequently counted the amount was found to be £8,000, representing, as well as I remember, my sister's weight to be about ten stones. That was the origin of the £8,000 dot in our family."

A Thought for To-day

As in that which is above Nature, so in Nature itself: he that breaks one physical law is guilty of all. The whole universe, as it were, takes up arms against him, and all Nature, with her numberless and unseen powers is ready to average herself upon him, and on his children after him, he knows not when nor where. He, on the other hand, who obeys the law of Nature with his whole heart and mind, will find all things working together to him for good. He is helped and befriended alike by the sun above his head and the dust beneath his feet: because he is obeying the will and mind of Him who made sun, and dust, and all things: and who has given them a law which cannot be broken. — Kingsley.

Thought it was a Crack.

A corpulent gentleman with a large appetite entered a mean-looking restaurant, and ordered a chop, and waited twenty minutes. Then the waiter reappeared with a plate on which rested a dab of mashed potatoes, a bit of meat burnt almost to a cinder, out of which emerged a long, thin piece of bone.

The waiter set it down before the starving gentleman and hurried off.

"See here," called the customer, "I ordered a chop."

"Yes sir," replied the man, "there it is."

"Ah, so it is," mused the hungry man, readjusting his spectacles. "I thought it was a crack in the plate."

Knowledge is, indeed, that which, next to virtue, truly and essentially raises one man above another. It finishes one half of the human soul. It gives ease to solitude and gracefulness to retirement. — Addison.

While it has been the custom with most steamship lines to discontinue their Quebec and Montreal sailings about November 15th each year and transfer their steamers to the winter announced that their crack triple-screw steamer "Laurentic" will make an extra sailing to the St. Lawrence in November to accommodate the pre-Christmas traffic.

ADVERTISE IE THE TIMES.

THE BACKWOODSMAN

By Acton Seymour.

w take charge of my affairs, for you are in a position to understand them better than any one else at this time. I want you to engage suitable lawyers, and manage my business until this is straightened out. It will not take long, I hope. And then you can go on about your own affairs."

"If that skunk stays in this section many hours more, he'll get his, with the pepper pot emptied on it," roared the old man truculently

Her proposition had taken George's breath away. Wiggin's threat jumped him into acceptance. He was no coward. He would have seemed so, had he refused at that moment.

"I'll accept the position," he said bluntly.

"This gentleman is my new manager, Wiggin." Round spots on her cheeks were very red. "You'll have to deal with him from now on."

"I'd like to see him manage," stated the old man. "I've got the law behind me."

Harry allowed himself a bit of a boast—he was young and very angry. "I'll put some more law be-hind you, Wiggin. It will be the kind of law that will push hard."

Wiggin hurried away.

Harry remained for a time in consultation with his new employer. At the end, both of them realized that they needed legal advice to regulate their future acts. Once assured that he was right, the young man was certain that he would be a match for the schemers — such is the optimism of youth. And, looking at the girl, he felt that a man would be craven, indeed, who allowed the interests of such a one to suffer.

He proposed to her that he should start at once for the nearest city, in order to procure advice and set in motion the necessary legal action to protect her property. She gave him a copy of the will and such other papers as she possessed.

"It will not do for you to go by the company's railroad to the junction," she warned him. "The men are only tools, and I shall fear for your safety. You may take my horse — I'll trust you both to win out. Reach the railroad below the junction — I'll give you the shape of the trail. Then, they will not know where you are, or suspect why you have gone away."

He prepared to ride out of Corran-cache under cover of the darkness that evening. He ate his supper with her at the Corran house.

"Tell me, Mr. George," she said, "just why you decided so quickly to take charge of my affairs. It's an impertinent question, but I'd like to know."

He looked at her a moment. The eternal feminine shone in her eyes. But he, with the fatuousness of youth and in order to quiet the conscience that whispered the name of Mary Laroche to him, said: "I have a very dear girl waiting for me in the world outside. I have my way in life to make. And the thought of her gives me courage to befriend another who may need what poor assistance I can render. There are two strong reasons why I'm doing this, Miss Corran."

For one fleeting instant, her eyes clouded. No woman listens unmoved to a declaration that puts another woman above her. Even entire lack of personal interest in the man hardly serves to console. She recovered from her surprise instantly. She smiled at him.

"I am glad to hear that," he said "I am relieved. Men have been fools enough to annoy me with their attentions. You and I can get along on a strictly business basis. I have nothing to worry about."

He went away, feeling that matters were exactly right between them. And yet her evident relief, when he had confessed, piqued him

IX

It was a bone-wearing trip. The black horse knew the way, and brought him safely to the railroad. The railroad took him to the city and the lawyer. The grave man of justice could not console his impetuosity. He could set the necessary legal machinery at work to dispossess the false Wiggin, he assured Harry, and no doubt, in the end would save the girl's interests. But this could not be done in a moment.

In the meantime, Clare Corran needed an able and fearless manager on her properties, for law had a rather unsteady grip on the outposts of the north country, so the lawyer explained. He told Harry how he could proceed so that he could protect himself and justify his acts in the final settlement, and ordered him back, advising him to fight the foe with their own weapons until the law could arrive, traveling slow but sure. Months might elapse before right could supplant might, the lawyer said; and offered some information as to the ability of the Great Trust Co. to trig legal wheels — provided the Great Trust continued to be interested in the affairs of Clare Corran.

It was a rather dubious outlook that Harry faced.

He thought that the voice of Mary Laroche might console him and send him back, heartened for his task. After discouraging waits, he secured telephonic communications with Toronto, amazing "central" in the little northern city by his persistency in seeking some one in far-off Ontario. Her father answered. Mary was away with the young folks at a picnic. Oh, yes, she was well. She would be sorry that she was not at home. He hung up the telephone receiver, feeling rather cross and jealous.

He went back to Corran-cache with the discouraged thought that he was very much alone in the world. He also felt very inefficient. Somehow, some of the zest of the matter seemed to have departed. Clare Corran had very frankly warned him that he was only a hired man. Of course, he did not expect or desire to be anything else. But the knowledge that he was abandoning his profession for a time in order to carry on a fight—a more single-handed tussle against odds — was a depressing thought.

When, at last, he was back and had reported to her what he had been able to accomplish, she studied him with some curiosity. He seemed to have lost his zeal in her behalf.

"I'm afraid I've got you into trouble," she confessed. "I have had my men out since you left here. They have watched and listened. It seems to have been left to Blinn Wiggin and some rogues that he has collected to get you out of the way. He has personal spite, and, of course, he is being paid well. I have no right to ask you to engage in this affair. It's dangerous. At the most, I can only lose some of my property. You may lose your life."

He said nothing, and she went on: "I think you'd better give up the position, Mr. George."

"You have some one else in mind, I suppose — some one better fitted to do the work?"

"I assure you I have not." The color came into her cheeks.

"Then, it is plain to you that I'm not the man for the place — that I haven't the ability to protect your interests?"

"I think nothing of the kind. I've been much impressed by your courage — and I understand you must know the management of timberlands. I believe in you and your honesty and ability thoroughly, Mr. George. But this is not an ordinary job that I'm asking you to do. You are threatened. You will probably meet violence. I feel that I have no right to hold you."

He stood up before her, straight and full of determination. He had felt reproach in her tone. He realized that he had brought a discouraging demeanor before her. "I am not afraid of them," he said. "So long as you have confidence in me, I'll go on and do the best I can. I ask your pardon for my appearance, just now. I fear I was — it's a boyish confession — just a bit homesick."

"I understand," she smiled. "But it will all be made up to you when I tell her what a good, brave knight is here."

He bowed. He did not reply. Then he took up his task.

If violence were meditated, it did not appear.

Harry made his home at the hotel. Quietly, as the days passed, he attached men to him, following her suggestions as to who were loyal.

He did not see Blinn Wiggin in his usual haunts. The landlord informed him that the young man seemed to be dodging the old Indian who still roamed about the village, standing like a statue for long hours, gaunt, haggard, and waiting.

"It's some hitch about the White Lily, I reckon," stated the landlord. "If he's fooled her like he has some of the rest of the girls on this border, he's up against a tough old customer in that Injun out there, even if he is over a hundred."

The brisk stranger had gone from Corran-cache. Only Jepson Wiggin was left. The old man trailed Harry as much as he dared, casting malevolent gaze on him. Gradually, George got insight into the affairs of the Corran estate. He met the stumpage buyers, dickered with them in full understanding of the forestry question, and ,when the trades were completed, went with them to Wiggin and compelled the old man to ratify the trades. Wiggin was not ready to declare open war. He was plainly obeying secret orders.

It was a waiting game. The big folks understood that George was forewarned as to what their campaign might be in regard to claimants and forged documents. Wiggin, in his folly and haste, had exposed that part of the plot.

In his daily conferences with Clare Corran, Harry was careful to keep on the plane of the employed. Once in a while, by a little flash of imperiousness, the girl emphasized the position she had assumed toward him.

Harry was not happy during those weeks. He could not analyze just what his emotions were. It was a kind of general dissatisfaction with everything. The scouts that he sent into the woods brought back disquieting rumors of officious strangers who were running lines and blazing trees. The line of attack, if attack it was, was all very vague. He chafed because he did not know where to pitch in and try conclusions. He realized that he was particularly unhappy after reading each letter that came from Mary Laroche in reply to his own.

The letters were not as frequent as they were at first They were affectionate, after her own ingenuous fashion, but they did not express that lonely longing that he felt ought to mark the letters of a sweetheart deprived of the presence of one dear to her When he chided, she replied that he was hardhearted if he expected or desired her to be unhappy all through the days of youth because they were not together She argued that love ought to be happy and hopeful — and said that she did not write to tell him how lonely and unhappy she really was, for fear that she would make him discontented.

Animal Love.

Mother love is universal, and there is no love like the mother love. Most of the high and lofty loving in this world is done by mothers. Apart from this the work of wooing falls to the male members of the family whether it be the human family or some one of the other animal tribes. We read how, ages ago, a Bulbul, or Oriental Nightingale, wooed a white rose until it blushed red, and that was the beginning of the red rose. The Spanish Cavalier stands out in the rain and serenades his "Dulce Mia" until there is a crick in his neck, while she sits sheltered in a window above.

The cackle of the loon may be a love song for all we know. Maybe that's what made him loony in the first place.

The wild moose bellows his passion across the lake, and as likely as not the answering call is from a bark horn in the hands of a hunter, luring him to death.

It seems a sizzling shame, but if you will take a Grand Trunk train and travel into the "Highlands of Ontario" you will find men doing that very thing; arguing, doubtless, that all is fair in love and war.

A De Luxe Booklet.

The railways of the American Continent vie with each other in producing their publications in artistic and attractive style and the Grand Trunk have received the palm from connoisseurs for being the leaders in this direction. With their usual taste they have just issued a very handsome brochure slightly different to the ordinary run of railway booklets, inasmuch as there is not any descriptive matter in the publication, but it is a book of views that tell their story without words. The name of this unique piece of advertising is simply "Vistas" with the Grand Trunk trade mark on one corner of the cover. The cover itself is a reproduction in colors from a painting of "The International Limited" the finest and fastest train in Canada. Inside the book are found maps of the Grand Trunk Railway system and the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway and a series of sixty-one pictures of Canadian scenes. These pictures are reproduced in the finest of half tone process from direct photographic negatives and printed on high class coated paper. The booklet is a credit to the Company.

These awards have been made under the following:—"Arts and Crafts"; "Engineering, Lighting, and "Transportation"; and "Building Trades"; also "Advertising." This is considered by the Companies named as a great honor, as other railways exhibiting at the Exhibition have only received one award.

The official report from the Grand Trunk representative at this Exhibition, for week ending September 9th, shows that the number of persons visiting the Grand Trunk Pavilion was 21,186, bringing the attendance up to September 9th to 279,942 people.

Our Canadian Rockies.

Trunk Pacific Railway from Mr. Armountain climber and topographer, who is at present in the Canadian Rockies making observations for the purpose of mapping out the district, he says:

"We have a great amount of splendid material for publication and a collection of photographs that cannot be surpassed. We have just completed what is very nearly a 100 mile circuit around Mt. Robson, the highest peak in the Canadian Rockies. The peaks and valleys, lakes and waterfalls on all sides of it, and the glaciers are very fine. The region is immense, and there is work for years to come, exploring, mapping and depicting. There is a fine bunch of high peaks and large snowfields and glaciers southwest of Tete Jaune Cache. There are also great peaks on the Athabaska and Fraser headwaters, tributary to your line. The most showy part of Mt. Robson is the Robson Pass and Glacier, and Berg Lake."

HOW $100 GREW TO $31620

The value and importance of any enterprise must be based on the profits and dividends it can earn. In this respect the Midway Maple Leaf Oil Company, Limited, is without a parallel in the line of investments.

It combines the attractive factors which are needed to make the perfect investment—viz., safety, large earning capacity and low cost of the stock at the start. It is not at all uncommon for oil stocks to begin at a few cents a share and jump to hundreds of dollars a share—sometimes thousands.

	Started at	Has Sold at
Central	10 cents	$2.10
Monte Cristo	10 cents	$4.00
Lucile	10 cents	$16.00
Silver Tip	25 cents	$4.00
San Francisco and McKittrick	40 cents	$28.00
Kern River	50 cents	$8.75
Peerless	50 cents	$8.75
Puente	$10.00	$150.00
Home	$10.00	$5000.00

This list, taken from San Francisco and Los Angeles Stock Exchange records, could be added to almost indefinitely.

Fortunes have been made from stock increases. stock is $200, YOUR YEARLY PROFIT ON AN INVESTMENT OF $300.

When we have ten wells sunk you can reasonably figure on AN ANNUAL PROFIT ON YOUR HOLDINGS OF $2000.

$2000 A YEAR. DOESN'T THIS APPEAL

Many a case could be cited similar to that of Richard Ellis, clerk in a store in Los Angeles, whose investment of $100 became worth $31,620 in a short time. There are hundreds of such cases in Los Angeles alone.

$2000.00 Profit a Year

Do you realize that stock in the Midway Maple Leaf Oil Company, Limited, at the present price of 30 cents a share is not merely the opportunity of the year—IT IS THE OPPORTUNITY OF A LIFETIME.

If you have $10, $50, $100 or $500 YOU SIMPLY CAN NOT AFFORD TO PASS IT UP.

If we develop only a 1000 barrel well of 26 gravity oil, this production alone will be sufficient to enable the corporation to pay a dividend of 20 per cent. and at the same time have sufficient capital to continue the drilling of wells.

1000 shares of stock at the present price of 30c costs only $300.

20 per cent. dividend on the par value of the TO YOU? Wouldn't you like to be coming up to this office every three months and getting your dividend cheque for $500?

Remember, too, that your stock holdings in Midway Maple Leaf, if you should want to sell them should be worth $18,000 or sixty times the amount of your original investment.

Consider These Facts

The Midway Maple Leaf Oil Company is working in proven gusher territory, the richest oil zone in the world, controlling 40 acres on one-eighth royalty, with the great advantage of the option to purchase at only $1250 per acre after oil is struck, and the ground must then be worth at least $5000 per acre. This means a clean profit of $150,000 over purchase price. It has been demonstrated completely by gushers on adjoining Standard and Honolulu ground, that this portion of the Midway field is not only the richest portion of the whole district, but that it produces the highest grade of oil found in the entire vicinity, and worth 50 per cent. more per barrel at the well.

$30 cash, or $6 down and $6 a month for four months, buys 100 shares.

$60 cash, or $12 down and $12 a month for four months, buys 200 shares.

$120 cash, or $24 down and $24 a month for four months, buys 400 shares.

A "HOLY SMELL" THAT PAID CASH

Stagnant Pool that Changed to Sweet Perfume, Was Paying Hoax Until Discovery of Empty Scent Bottles.

One of the most extraordinary religious hoaxes ever recorded even in India has just occurred in the northern part of Calcutta. A pool of stagnant water formed from the accumulation of sewage from roadside drains suddenly began, according to the local inhabitants, to emit a sweet perfume which had a lovely lemon flavour. Many people came, smelt, and were conquered, and the rumour spread that the pool was holy and that a new goddess would soon rise from its waters to redeem the world the pool became a place of pilgrimage. Diseased people bathed in it and drank of it, and those of uneasy conscience washed away their sins in it. The water was carried away in jugs, phials, and bottles, and a brisk trade sprang up under the aegis of an astute young Bengalee in selling the "holy water" in all parts of the city at as much as $2 a phial. News of the holy perfume came to the ears of Messrs. Bose and Co., scent manufacturers, who took a professional interest in the matter and sent a connoisseur to investigate. His nose immediately provided him with a clue to the mysterious disappearance of several cases of essential oils belonging to Messrs. Bose. The police examined the pool and found that several broken bottle of the oils had been thrown into it. This was the explanation of the holy smell. The young Bengalee and a carter, suspected of having stolen the oils, suddenly vanished but were found and arrested later. Reports are awaited, adds the Calcutta "Englishman," of the effect of the "holy water" upon the sick and the sinners who drank of it.

Some of the Parisian theatres give gratuitous performances three or four times a year. They are intended for poor people, and those who are first in line are usually at the doors several hours before the house is opened.

It is the opinion of some to think our lives are guided by what others would say of us, but that is not so, for with the pure and noble the conscience holds the reins of action.

The Moose and the Lilly Pad.

The moose's love for the lily pad that floats on the surface of the northern lakes make him appear reckless and unafraid. In summer, even in September, the fishermen often out him off from the shore, drive him into deep water and have fun with him. Sometimes, when the moose reaches shoal water and gets his hind feet on the bottom, he has fun with the fisherman, smashes his canoe and makes him swim for his life.

However, after the shooting season opens the moose becomes more cautious.

There are thousands of moose around Lake Temagami. At North Bay you change from the Grand Trunk to the Temiskaming and Northern Ontario and get off at Temagami Station.

The Fort Garry.

The work of constructing the second of the Grand Trunk's System of palatial hotels has begun at Winnipeg. It has been definitely and finally decided that the Winnipeg hotel, which will be of the same style of architecture as the magnificent "Chateau Laurier" at Ottawa, shall be called "The Fort Garry."

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

THE COMFORT OF INDEPENDENCE ASSURED THE B. C. FRUIT GROWER

In British Columbia Fruit Growing is synonymous with Success. The fame of the five-acre fruit farms of the Fraser Valley is spreading to every corner of this continent. Already "Fruit" suggests the Pacific Coast, soon it will direct the thoughts instinctively to British Columbia, particularly to the lower Fraser River Valley.

FLESHERTON GARDENS, which I am now selling, is the cream of this Valley land. The soil is a rich deep chocolate, humous and friable, free from weeds, stones or stumps. Good roads lead to the property and two railways are ready to carry the fruit to market. The Chilliwack line of the B. C. Electric Railway CUTS THROUGH FLESHERTON GARDENS, and the Victoria, Vancouver and Eastern is only a few yards away. Over a dozen trains pass the property every day, and the traffic will increase in the immediate future.

BIG PROFITS IN FRUITS AND VEGETABLES.

Do you know that you can make immense profits in fruits, tubers and vegetables on the Coast? To-day last year's potatoes are selling at $70 a ton in Seattle, only a few miles from here. In Westminster and Vancouver the price is from $60 to $65 a ton. Cherries fetch 50c a pound and strawberries 25c a box. All other fruits are high in proportion. Remember these are NOT FANCY PRICES, but to-day's quotations. There is no difficulty in selling the fruit, for people here have the money and don't mind the price.

IT'S EASY TO SECURE THE LAND

I have placed FLESHERTON GARDENS on the market on very easy terms, $200 cash and the balance spread over several years. You can have your pick of these five acre farms at from $150 to $350 per acre. You cannot find a better investment anywhere; no matter how rosy other prospects may be, this one leads them all.

Sign this blank, and mail it to me NOW. I can tell you a great deal more about FLESHERTON GARDANS in a personal letter. It's to your advantage to get all the information you can.

JOHN BULLIED.

Order June Examination.

Because of the many complaints which were made last July in connection with the system of holding matriculation examinations during that month, it has been decided by the Ontario Education Department that hereafter the examinations will be held about a month earlier. Dr. John Seath, superintendent of education for the province, is notifying principals of the schools that commencing next year all matriculations must be completed by the end of June. This news was received with great relief by pupils, teachers and parents. The exams. this year were held during the very hottest part of July, and it is said that scores of young people failed to pass because of the excessive heat.

THE VILLAIN OF THE NOVEL

Where Novelists Draw On For Characteristic Brigand, Down-trodden Peasant, and Dark-Eyed Ladies of Evil

A British writer has evolved the idea that the foreigner has been roughly and unfairly handled in English literature. There are certainly many writers who would not dream of completing a novel without introducing a foreigner as chief villain.

But the Russian, the unfortunate Russian, has fared even worse than his French and German neighbors, for he is represented in nearly every case as a villain of the deepest dye, whose ideals of social change are bound up in bombs, knives, poisons, secret papers, anarchist clubs, excursions and alarms. Were we to believe the extraordinary picture presented to us by our melodramatic writers, we should be justified in regarding Russia as a vast mob of serfs attempting to overthrow a small body of nobles. Yet we know from blue-books and trade reports that Russia does do some commerce, does possess factories other than secret factories for the manufacture of bombs and other illegal ammunition, has its theatres, its writers and its artists, its hospitals, and its pleasure grounds. Both the middle and the better classes in Russia seem to find time to grasp the intricate difficulties of foreign languages, for they are, as a nation, the finest linguists in the world. Surely that proves that they cannot be dodging bombs all the time. People have been known to visit Russia and to return with a whole skin and a glowing remembrance of Russian hospitality. Italy, Sicily, Spain, Corsica, and Sardinia are, according to English novelists, almost completely inhabited by brigands, dark-eyed ladies, priests, and down-trodden peasants, whose chief occupations in life appear to be vendettas, passions both amorous and inimical, and a wholly disproportionate belief in superstitions.

A HAILSTORM THAT COUNTED

Canada's Winter Cannot Produce Such Golf-Ball Hailstones as Were Recently Experienced in a Section of Europe.

In a letter to the London Times a traveler tells of a hailstorm in the Pyrenees. "It was as if night was devouring day before our very eyes; a night, too, of tempest and torn and trailing clouds, of storm, smoke and thunder." Midway in the darkness was "the clear cut straight line of cloud which invariably tells of hail." Except for the shelter of a small tree they were exposed to the storm's fury and when they examined the hailstones, they found they were of the average size of marbles, with a scattering here and there of much larger stones, "as large as golf balls."

This, however, was merely the prelude, the real storm came after they had reached their tents. "Suddenly the whole land was bombarded by great hailstones as large as lawn tennis balls." These fell with deafening roar on the canvas of the tent, and "it seemed only a matter of a few seconds for us to be battered into the earth, tent and all." An india rubber bath in front of their shelter, "with its sides beaten down in places, was half full of things like white cricket balls."

When the storm had finally passed the mountains around were white with the hailstones. The hail was weighed; "six stones went to the kilo." The size was that of a tennis ball and almost uniform." Seventy sheep were killed on the heights above the travelers' shelter, and in a neighboring valley thirty-five cows and some mules and the body of a child that had been wandering in the mountains "were brought down by a stream."

Little Brother's Candor

Brothers do not usually feel called upon to make their sisters conceited; in fact, they seem to consider it a sacred duty, imposed by Heaven, to keep them humble and unassuming, as the following anecdote goes to show:

She was an older sister, and a great chum of a ten-year-old brother, but in spite of their mutual affection, he was anything but demonstrative.

One day she begged him for a kiss, and the following dialogue was overheard:

"Say, Bob, give me a kiss, won't you?"

"I guess not"—(after a pause) —"I will if you give me a dime."

"I can't give you a dime," came back a maidenly voice, "but I'll give you a nickel."

"Nickel, nothing! I tell you it's worth a dime. You couldn't get another fellow to do it for a dollar," the young gallant assured her.

EDISON ON GERMANY

What most impressed Thomas A. Edison in his recent tour of Germany was the wonderful industrial expansion, especially in the northern part of the empire. As one got further north one saw fewer romantic old churches, but more smokestacks. That, he took as a sign of the times.

But he was struck by the fact that with all their industrial growth the technical methods and appliances of the Germans were far inferior to some others. The lack of up-to-date machinery in many instances was conspicuous. Undoubtedly the Germans were the greatest scientists and theorists in the world. It might be because they were more patient, but, adds Edison, in applied science they are usually far behind.

OLD LOCAL CITIZAN TAKES THE TIMES.

Yesterday Mr. John A. Adams, proprietor of the Langford Quarry Co., who was born in Peterborough some seventy years ago, was here on business in connection with supplying stone for the two new schools. This gentleman, who has many friends among our older citizens furnished the stone put some 21 years ago in the local custom house, also that used in the Armouries, most of the local schools, etc.; whilst Mr. Adams, better known as "Jack" was renewing acquaintances with some old friends here yesterday, he recalled the momentous day when Peterborough, discarding the worn-out garb of a village, assumed the dignity of a town. On the night of that day there was a big celebration. An ox was roasted whole, on an enormous spit on the market square, a colored man, named Harry Crawn, being engaged to turn the handle operating the cooking apparatus. Whilst this colored brother had his attention with-drawn from his job, a number of local wags commandeered a wagon and stole the half-roasted ox. The huge mass of cooked beef was taken to the West End of the town and suspended from a big tree. Shortly before this event Mr. Hudson had been elected Peterborough's first Mayor over Mr. Henthorn. As a result of the stolen beef a parody on a then popular song was composed and sung generally through out the town. Mr. Adams, who yesterday paid a year's subscription for The Times, recalled the following initial verses, in which the police magistrate those days was noted, as follows:

"Way down south, where I was born,
They roasted an ox for old Henthorn
When that ox began to roast
Old colored Crawn sweat the most.
Du-da, Du-da, day.

Dr. Perry being a clever fox,
Wanted Crawn out in the box,
To make him swear
Who stole the ox—
Du-da, Du-da, day.

RESOLUTION OF SYMPATHY.

Moulders' Union Express Sorrow at Death of Mr. Joseph Glass.

At the last meeting of the local International Moulders' Union of North America, the following resolutions were made, and it was arranged to send a copy of them to the bereaved family:

That in as much as it pleased our Heavenly Father to remove from our midst, by death, our esteemed brother, Joseph Glass, therefore be it

Resolved, that we, the members of the Union, No. 191, Peterborough, Ont., of the International Moulders' Union of North America, do hereby place on record our deep regret at the loss we have sustained by the death of such a faithful member;

Resolved, that we convey to the bereaved widow and family of our late lamented brother, this united expression of our heartfelt sympathy of this great trial which bereft them of a kind father and loving husband. While we are touched with the spirit of brotherly sympathy on behalf of the stricken family, we pray that their eyes may be directed to Him, who alone can comfort the widow and fatherless in their sorrow and tribulation;

Resolved, that a copy of these resolutions be sent to the widow and family of our late brother, and that the charter of the Union be draped in mourning for the space of ninety days.

Signed on behalf of the International Moulders' Union of North America, Local Union No. 191, Peterborough, Ont.

HUGH ROBERTSON, Pres.
WM. A. MOWRY, Sec'y.

VOL XXXIV NO 253 PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO, FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 3 1911 PRICE TWO CENTS

ELECTRIC LINE TO BE BUILT

Between Town of Port Hope and Orillia Via Peterborough

SURVEYING NOW GOING ON

Niagara Falls Power Will Drive the Cars—A Scheme, If it Ever Materializes, That Will Mean a Big Thing for This District.

For some time it has been known that a movement was on foot, having for its object the construction of an electric railway from Port Hope to Orillia, taking in the towns and villages between these two points, including Peterborough and Lindsay. The Times endeavoured to gather some details some time ago, but we were not able to get anything authentic, although we were assured by a Toronto gentleman, who claims to be one of the promoters, that the proposition had assumed definite form, and would be carried through. The Lindsay Warder has the following in regard to the proposed road, which will be read with interest

The Lindsay Warder, in an interview with Mr. Graham, received such information as was possible for him to impart at the initial stage.

Port Hope is the proposed place from which the line will start. At this point it will connect with an electric line running from Toronto to Montreal, coming west to Peterborough, Omemee and Lindsay will be touched and thence on to Barrie and Orillia. As to how the road will run west of Lindsay the engineer could not speak in a definite way as all plans and specifications are not fully prepared. The new line will take its course north of the G.T.R. from Peterborough to Lindsay and traverse Ridout street on its way to Kent street.

A street car service will be given the residents of probably 15 minutes intervention. Construction work will start next spring and be pushed as fast as possible towards completion.

Power to the car will be furnished from the rails. This will do away with the cost of erecting poles for trolley wire. Niagara Falls power will furnish the electricity used in operating the cars. Stations will be erected at suitable distances along the proposed line and switches or sidings will be placed whereon cars can be backed and unloaded for the convenience of farmers or residents, who may order coal or other requisites in connection with domestic life. The coal cars will be operated automatically, so no shovelling will be required to transfer the dusky diamonds to the purchaser's vehicle.

Very little grading is required in forming a roadbed. Cement trestles will be erected where necessity compels the company to carry the rails over gullies and ravines.

The reporter asked Mr. Graham, if any danger might be dreaded from the electric current passing through the rails to cars. He replied that there was no danger as the construction of the rail is such that it would be next thing to an impossibility for an accident to occur from this source.

The company expect that the purchase of right of way may be expensive as the lands to be traversed by the line are of valuable quality.

This will add more to Lindsay's greatness as a centre and growing pains which it has had of late will be augmented in a greater degree.

MASKED MEN HELD UP TRAIN

Not Only Blew Open Safe, But Also Wrecked Express Car

WERE FRIGHTENED AWAY

Were Frightened Off—Had Only Partly Finished Robbery When Another Engine Appeared—A Close Call—Bandits Held Up Rock Island Train and Got Away With Little Cash.

FIVE masked men held up a westbound Rock Island passenger train, No. 43, known as the Oklahoma express midway between Memphis and Hurlburt, Ark., early this morning, ransacked mail pouches and fired seven nitro-glycerine caps into the local safe of the express car, which not only tore away the safe doors, but wrecked the car. In the midst of their pillage they were frightened away when a switch engine, searching for the overdue train, approached from Hurlburt.

The robbers boarded the train when it slowed down near Hurlburt, 11 miles from Memphis. Intimidating the engine crew by a display of weapons, the men forced the engineer to back the train several miles. Then the express and mail cars were cut from the coaches and hauled ahead a short distance, where the half-completed robbery was executed. In the meantime, other members of the crew as well as express messengers and mail clerks, were brought to submission by the robbers.

Knew Their Business.

When the detached cars were brought to a standstill each of the men set about a certain task. One began gathering registered mail and

BROTHERS ARE UNDER ARREST

Two Young Italians Accused of a Murder in Rochester

THE VICTIM MUTILATED

Woman Who Has Been Connected With Seven Deaths—Strong Case of Circumstantial Evidence Against the Prisoners—Killed for Revenge.

Rochester, N.Y., Nov. 3 KILLING Francesco Manzello, an Italian, and dismembering his body and hiding it in a barrel on the edge of Irondequoit Bay, two brothers, Joseph and Dominco Galbo, 28 and 26 years of age, are under arrest here. District Attorney Barrett says there is a strong case of circumstantial evidence against the prisoners. Joseph Galbo is a son-in-law of Sam Olds, the Rochester "Banana King," and Olds is an uncle of Antonio Olds, who was murdered here last February. It is the theory of the authorities that Manzello has something to do with the murder of Olds and was killed for revenge.

The case will be of unusual interest on account of the prominence of the victim, who is well known in the banana trade of Canada and the United States.

Another Italian Murder.

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 3.—Mrs. Louise Vermillia was arrested last night after the police found that the death of Policeman Arthur Bissonette, a roomer at her home, was the seventh death in recent years occurring under her roof, or under circumstances with which she was connected. She was taken to a hospital, having been prostrated when told she was under arrest.

Is It Black Hand.

Buffalo, N.Y., Nov. 3.—Regarding the two Italian murders later developments indicate that they are Black Hand crimes. Letters threatening death have been discovered by the authorities, in the homes of both victims.

TO CONFER ABOUT NAVY

Ottawa, Nov. 3.—A Minister of the Crown, when questioned as to the various solutions of the Naval question which have appeared in the press said that they were all guess work; that the matter has not yet received the consideration of the government.

It is altogether probable that before any Naval programme is officially outlined, Hon. J. D. Hazen, Minister of the Navy, and perhaps another minister, will go to London to confer with the Admiralty.

DIES AT AGE OF 106 SMOKING CIGARETS

San Francisco, Nov. 2.—"Give me a cigarette. God was good to me all my long life. Let me die smoking."

Puffing the cigarette and smiling at the attendants, Abraham Isaac, aged 106, died to-day at a local hospital, unable to longer bear the weight of his years. He entered the hospital when 85 years old, paying $2,000 for a life berth. He was an inveterate smoker, and maintained that tobacco was an aid to longevity. The physicians at the hospital never attempted to curtail his supply.

A WORLD-WIDE PROTEST

It is the purpose of Protestantism to inaugurate a general campaign against the Ne Temere decree. It will be of such force that the Government at Ottawa will be obliged to take action and provide a marriage law that will put an end to the present intolerable conditions. The protest of the Methodist Ecumenical Conference is the most important effort that has yet been made in Canada in connection with the matter. The conference represented Methodism the world over. By a unanimous vote, and without discussion, leading Methodist Ministers and laymen declared their abhorence of the reactionary principles of the decree. They represented thirty-two million Methodists, scattered all over the earth. Viewed from this standpoint, their declaration of hostility to the decree is the most outstanding incident of the whole movement.

MRS. HUGH DARKE GETS EIGHTEEN HUNDRED DOLLARS

As Compensation for the Death of Her Husband at The Canadian General Electric Works

The jury empanneled in the case of Mrs. Hugh Darke vs. the C.G.E. Co. retired to consider their verdict at 11 o'clock yesterday morning, and after being out a short time, were recalled by the judge to further present to them some features of the case.

His Lordship informed the jury that they must take into consideration that it was the duty of the company to provide reasonable safe appliances, competent foremen and a system that has a reasonable regard for the safety of its employes. It was for the jury to decide whether the company had been guilty of negligence of any of the above precautions and if so they must specify in which they were negligent. The jury were also to decide if there was anything to justify Darke in stepping in upon the belt. The jury then retired with a model of the machine by which Darke came to his death.

At 2.30 in the afternoon, the jury returned with the following verdict, which was read by His Lordship:—"That the deceased, Hugh A. Darke, came to his death through the negligence of the defendants; we do find that Hugh A. Darke was ordered to be present at the machine that night; that there was a lack of a proper codeof signals and that there was negligence on the part of Thompson in not making a proper code of signals; that his widow be paid $1,800 on a basis of $600 for each year.

The jury then retired to deliberate on a number of questions previously given by His Lordship with the statement that they could go outside such to arrive at a verdict.

When the verdict was returned, His Lordship sent the jury back with the order that they must confine themselves to the questions.

When the jury returned again their verdict was the same as in the first case.

IS AFRAID TO PUNISH THE BIG CRIMMINALS

Lincoln, Nov. 2.—Wm. J. Bryan demands criminal prosecution of the trusts, and calls on Taft to "start something." In his Commoner today Bryan plumps the following letter at the President:

"Mr. President—Why do you begin a suit of equity instead of criminal prosecution against the officials of the Steel Trust? In your Attorney-General's petition the defendants are charged with the violation of a criminal law. Why do you hesitate to ask for a conclumon and imprisonment? Is it because the anti-trust law is now worthless as a criminal statute, since the supreme court has, by judicial legislation, put the word "unreasonable" in it? Or is it because you are afraid to punish big criminals as severely as you do little criminals?

"You ask me to name a trust that cannot be punished under the present law. I name three: The Standard Oil Trust, the Tobacco Trust, and the Steel Trust, and I call you as a witness to prove that the law, as amended by your judges, is worthless as a criminal law. Will you admit it, or do you prefer to take the positionthat big criminals should not be sent to the penitentiary? Explain why you do not prosecute the Steel Trust officers under the criminal law.

(Signed) W. J. BRYAN.

DYNAMITE OUTRAGE IN NEW YORK TENEMENT HOUSE

New York, Nov. 2.—A dynamite bomb, lowered by a string down the chimney of a tenement house an East Eleventh Street, exploded early today behind the fire place of Basil Lebarb, a well-to-do tobacconist. The cover of the fire place was blown through a partition and struck two sons of Lebarb, slightly injuring both and a bronze statoette from the mantel-piece was blown through another partition and injured Lebarb and his wife, who were asleep in their bedroom adjoining.

The explosion shook the entire five storey building and sent a hundred panicky tenants scurrying to the street. Lebarb told the police that he had received no threatening letters and believed the bomb had been placed in his chimney by mistake.

If you are troubled with chronic constipation, the mild and gentle effect of Chamberlain's Tablets makes them especially suited to your case. For sale by all dealers.

REAR ADMIRAL AUBREY READY FOR ACTION

Rome, Nov. 2.—Rear Admiral Aubrey, who has resumed the command of the Italian fleet off the African coast after his visit to the capital today, notified the Government in a wireless message that the military authorities now having sufficient troops to face the enemy without the assistance of the warships, he was ready to undertake any operation against Turkey involving the navy.

The commander considers that the forces at his disposal are sufficient to occupy several islands of the Grecian archipelago, or blockade the Dardanelles, make a naval demonstration before Salonikl and Smyrna, or bombard the fortifications at these places or at any other point considered advisable.

When you have a bilious attack give Chamberlain's Tablets a trial. They are excellent. For sale by all dealers.

MANILA SWEPT BY FLAMES

Fire Wipes Out the Chinese District at Manila ---Work of Soldiers Saves City

Manila, Nov. 2.—The Chinese district here was swept by fire to-day, with a loss of over $1,000,000.

At noon the fire threatened to destroy the commercial centre of the city and the Twentieth Infantry, with General Funston in charge, was called out to assist the fire fighters.

The work of the soldiers saved the day and the fire was under control early in the afternoon.

CERTAIN THAT RICHESON WILL BE SET FREE

Boston, Mass., Nov. 2.—"Clarence Richeson will be freed," said Attorney John L. Lee, of Lynchburg, Va., to-day, following a conference with the clergyman in his cell in the Charles street jail.

"I have both heard his story and examined the evidence for myself," he continued. "I am confident he is innocent, and I can promise a surprise when the facts come out. This will be at the trial. It would be improper to reveal them now."

One thing, however, is known positively—the defence will maintain that Avis Linnell's death was accidental. The theory is that she had been told a small quantity of cyanide of potassium would benefit her, and that she swallowed it unintentionally, knowing it to be poison, but unfortunately took too much.

Richeson is having much to do with planning his own defence. He is well versed in law, understand court procedure, and is proving of much aid to his counsel in preparing his case.

STILL TALKING ANNEXATION

Fremont, Neb., Nov. 2.—"Nine-tenths of the people of this country favor the annexation of Canada," declared Champ Clark, speaker of the House of Representatives here to-day, "and I don't care who hears me say it."

Beginning with a speech here, Mr. Clark was scheduled to make addresses in twenty-one towns in the Third Nebraska District in the interest of Daniel V. Stevens, Democratic candidate for Congress to succeed the late representative, James P. Lama. The Speaker's remarks concerning annexation of Canada caused considerable comment.

"I am willing," he said, "to make this proposition: You let me run for President on a platform calling for annexation of Canada, in so far as this country can accomplish that end, and let President Taft run against me, opposing annexation, and I would carry every State in the nation."

PUBLIC OPINION

A MONKEY-BORN MAN.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—A correspondent writing in the Examiner of Oct. 26, who signs himself "Reader," is no doubt a higher critic, who believes he has descended from that poor animal of low intelligence and stooping gait, who grins and chatters as we pass.

Now, Mr. Editor, we would be sorry to deprive any of these reputed hybrid monkey-born men of any real pleasure they may have in contemplating their monkey ancestory, but we do want to enter a public protest against their incomparable gall in attempting to connect with their genelogical tree, those who can declare a better pedigree. "Reader" refrains from signing his name to his epistle, lest he should be recognized as a self-reputed monkey-born man.

AFTER THE WORKINGMAN'S VOTE.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—I see Mr. R. R. Hall, the Liberal candidate for the local Legislature, is out after the working man's vote, and is promising big things when he is elected. In a letter addressed to the Mechanics and Working men of Peterborough, he says:

"The Workman's Compensation Act should be radically remodelled and extended so that full and ample damages may be given to a working man and his family on account of any injury he may sustain in the course of his employment."

This means, that if a workingman, through his own carelessness, or through intoxication, or any other way should be injured or killed, his employer has no defense, but must pay whatever is demanded by himself or family. I fear Mr. Hall forgets that while there is a workingman's vote, there is also an employers vote as well. He should consider this.

THE CASE DISMISSED

Grace Hillier's Case Against the Canadian Chicle Company Fails on Technicalities.

At the Court of Assize yesterday, the case of Grace Hillier vs. The Canadian Chicle Co., was disposed of. Messrs. Bennet & Goodwill appeared for the plaintiff and Messrs. O'Connell & Gordon for the defendants.

Grace Hillier, the plaintiff was put in the box, and questioned by Mr. Bennet. She said she was sixteen years of age at the time of the accident, but 17 now. She was employed to pack the gum and label the boxes. Mr. Frank O'Connor was superintending the work. She had no contract with the company to do any other class of work.

Mr. Harvey gave her instructions to work on this machine, on the 12th of June. She had previously worked on the machine, however, under the instruction of Mr. O'Connor. She then described the nature of the machine and also the nature of her work in connection with it.

"I was putting the gum through, guiding it up to the rollers with my fingers, as the gum might catch in the side if not guided. I was putting it through the rollers, and Mr. Harvey was receiving it at the other side. My fingers caught in the rollers, and I screamed. Mr. Harvey then raised the rollers and set me free. There was nothing to prevent my fingers going between the rollers. There could be some little thing arranged to warn you."

The witness was cross-examined by Mr. O'Connell and after several for the defence had testified, His Lordship dismissed the case, admitting at the same time that the plaintiff was morally entitled to consideration. The defendants promised to deal hand somely in the matter.

TELLING TRUTH ABOUT IRELAND

Members of the Eighty Club Were Greatly Impressed by Aran Islanders

WONDERFUL PEASANTRY

They Have Made an Almost Barren Soil Yield Them a Scanty Living —The Population of Ireland Gradually Thinning Out, Especially in the Southern Counties.

JOHN Redmond, it is said, would like to see Canada a part of the United States if it would be the means of giving freedom to Ireland. England is only just beginning to know something about Ireland. The recent trip of the Eighty club through Ireland was a revelation to many of the Englishmen who were in the party, and already these pilgrims are beginning to tell England the truth about Ireland. One of the most interesting of these contributions comes from Harold Spender and deals with the Aran isles in the bay of Galway. These islanders struck Mr. Spender as did nothing else in his trip, and conditions there have convinced him absolutely of the capacity of Ireland for home rule.

"The whole of our welcome was in the same note—simple, affectionate, sincere. There is no more astounding chapter in history than the failure of the Irish landlords to hold the hearts of these Irish peasants of the west. But is it astonishing? We were informed that no man on the re-

was incorporated by Special Act of the Parliament of Canada for the purpose of carrying on the business of Fire Insurance, as outlined in the Insurance Act and the Special Act of Incorporation.

Capital Stock Authorized by the Board.....$2,000,000
Capital Stock Subscribed to date $1,650,000

The Head Office of the Company is in the city of Winnipeg, and, in addition to this, Branch Offices and Agencies will be established throughout the Dominion.

It must be generally conceded that, owing to the satisfactory conditions at present prevailing throughout not only Western Canada, but the entire Dominion, this Company is being organized at a most favorable and opportune time.

Canada, and particularly the Western portion of the Dominion, is advancing in population and wealth more rapidly than at any other time in its history, and every indication points towards a period of great prosperity and development.

The great influx of settlers into Western Canada is resulting in tremendous activity in every line of business. Railroad construction is proceeding on a scale hitherto unknown in this country, and as adequate transportation is of vital importance in moving our immense crops with a proper degree of facility, it is highly encouraging to see so much well-directed energy along the lines of railway extension

Coincident with railway expansion, we find many new districts rapidly filling up with desirable settlers, bringing with them a good supply of cash and effects. With the settlement of the rural districts, new towns and villages are springing up, which will, during the next few years, become, in many instances, important business centres.

With such unprecedented growth in Western as well as Eastern Canada, involving an expenditure of millions of dollars in building operations, it is at once evident that there is a very extensive and profitable field for a new Fire Insurance Company which will have a thorough organization throughout the length and breadth of the Dominion, and more particularly in the four Western Provinces.

As a great volume of our business will be transacted in the West, it is a matter of the greatest importance that the Head Office of the Company, as well as the Directors, should be located in the West, so that the affairs of the Company may be conducted to the best possible advantage.

DIRECTORS.

The Board of Directors consists entirely of Western men with a very intimate knowledge of Western conditions, and they are, accordingly, well conversant with the financial and general business requirements of the West. They are thoroughly representative of the various important branches of financial, commercial, industrial and professional life in Western Canada, and with their wide reputation for business ability and integrity, as well as financial standing, combined with a long and varied experience, and practical knowledge of business affairs, they are exceptionally well qualified to render excellent service to a large financial institution.

As the Directors have valuable connections with extensive business interests and are also Directors of other financial corporations, as well as being otherwise identified with large and influential companies which control a great deal of high-grade fire insurance, they will be instrumental in placing a large portion of this desirable insurance with the new Company, so that we may safely conclude that from the very beginning of operations a large and profitable business will be secured.

Under these favorable conditions, and with a strong, energetic, as well as experienced and conservative management, combined with the fact that each Director has subscribed for eleven thousand five hundred dollars ($11,500) of the Capital Stock, on which all calls have been paid, and takes an active interest in the welfare of the Company, there is only one conclusion to draw, and that is that the affairs of the Company will be conducted in such a careful, conscientious and intelligent manner that the interests of both policyholders and stockholders will be fully protected.

IT IS WORTHY OF NOTE THAT $1,650,000 OF CAPITAL STOCK HAS ALREADY BEEN SUBSCRIBED BY PROMINENT BUSINESS AND PROFESSIONAL MEN THROUGHOUT THE DOMINION AND ELSEWHERE.

No commission has been paid to anyone for securing stock subscriptions, and no expense has been incurred in the promotion and organization of the Company, except the expense in connection with securing the Charter and other necessary expenses.

THE CANADA NATIONAL FIRE.

The Canada National Fire, being organized in the West, MAY BE TRULY CALLED A WESTERN COMPANY, and, as such, should receive the liberal patronage and hearty co-operation of the citizens of Western Canada, as well as the support of people from Eastern Canada who desire to become associated with a strong and progressive Canadian Company.

When promoting this Company the Directors were fully convinced that there was a splendid opening in Western Canada for a Company prepared to carry on the business of Fire Insurance on a large and comprehensive scale, and which, at the same time, could offer ADEQUATE PROTECTION TO BOTH POLICYHOLDERS AND SHAREHOLDERS. Accordingly, when making application for a Dominion charter, the Company was incorporated with a capital of $3,000,000.00, of which amount the Directors decided to offer for public subscription the sum of $2,000,000.00.

THE ALL-IMPORTANT FEATURE IN FIRE INSURANCE IS PROTECTION, and with the LARGE CAPITAL, combined with the high standard of Reserve, which will be maintained through careful selection of risks and profits from judicious investments, the Directors and Management feel confident that this Company will be accorded a very hearty reception by Canadian citizens, and will soon rank as one of the leading Fire Companies.

WITHOUT A LARGE AND SUBSTANTIAL CAPITAL FOR THE PROTECTION OF THE POLICYHOLDERS, A FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY IS SERIOUSLY HANDICAPPED, AND DOES NOT AFFORD THE POLICYHOLDER THAT PROTECTION TO WHICH HE IS JUSTLY ENTITLED, and the Directors of this Company, being fully aware of this most important fact, are adopting a very wise policy in OFFERING FOR SUBSCRIPTION SUCH A LARGE AMOUNT OF CAPITAL STOCK, and when our entire stock is subscribed and paid in full it will represent the largest amount of subscribed and paid-up capital of any Canadian Fire Insurance Company, and will be a tower of strength and of very material benefit to the company in carrying on its extensive operations.

GENERAL AGENT FOR CANADA

W. E. FUDGER, ESQ.

The investment of the Company's funds will be given the GREATEST OF CARE AND ATTENTION by the Board of Directors.

Only GILT-EDGE securities will be considered, such as first mortgages on improved, productive real estate, stocks, bonds and debentures of companies of high repute, as well as Dominion securities and municipal, county and school debentures of well-established districts.

As a LARGE PERCENTAGE of these securities is READILY NEGOTIABLE, the Company will have abundant LIQUID ASSETS to meet any possible contingency that might arise.

Our first mortgage investments will be confined to Western Canada, and as the rate of interest obtainable on first-class productive real estate is FULLY TWO PER CENT. greater in the West than in Eastern Canada, the Company will have a DECIDED ADVANTAGE over Companies operating exclusively in the older portions of the Dominion. A fixed policy of the Company is to loan NOT MORE THAN FIFTY PER CENT. of a conservative value of the property, and to stipulate for a definite return of principal, together with interest, each year during the term of the loan. With these periodical repayments of principal, and with land values in Western Canada steadily increasing, the Company's first mortgage securities will continue to improve year by year.

With the active development in Western Canada, a great deal of capital will be required for many years to come, and the Company will, therefore, experience a very ready demand for its funds on high-grade securities and at a profitable rate of interest.

The Directors decided to issue the stock at the price of ONE HUNDRED AND FIFTEEN DOLLARS PER SHARE, being at a premium of fifteen per cent.

THE TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION ARE :

On application, $25.00 per share, which shall include the premium of $15.00 per share, and the balance, payable in ten consecutive half-yearly instalments of $9.00 per share, the first of such half-yearly instalments to become due and payable six months from date of allotment of shares.

Shares may be PAID IN FULL at time of subscription, but if purchased on the INSTALMENT PLAN the subscriber shall have the privilege of paying any or all of the instalments prior to due dates.

The Following Table Shows the Amount of First Call as Well as the Subsequent Payments :

NO BONUS STOCK shall be issued for any purpose whatsoever, and even the Directors, who are very heavy stockholders in the Company, have paid the SAME PRICE for their shares as the general public. NOT ONE SHARE has been or will be issued to any person at a price less than $115.00 per share.

THIS IS A RARE OPPORTUNITY to secure some of the Capital Stock of a Western Fire Insurance Company. With a large amount of desirable and profitable business so readily obtainable by the Company through its valuable and extensive business connections, rapid progress should be made, and with investments carefully selected and unexcelled in earning power, the Company will be enabled to not only pay substantial dividends, but build up a large reserve, and thereby materially increase the value of the stock.

The Directors firmly believe in the policy that EVERY SHAREHOLDER SHOULD CO-OPERATE WITH THE MANAGEMENT of a Company and take an active interest in its welfare. For that reason, it is their intention to WIDELY DISTRIBUTE the CAPITAL STOCK, and by that means obtain the support of the leading business and professional men throughout the country.

With the rapid development of the West during recent years, involving an outlay of many millions of capital, it has become generally recognized that WESTERN CANADA IS VERY MUCH IN NEED OF MORE LARGE FINANCIAL INSTITUTIONS, AND ESPECIALLY OF WESTERN ORIGIN, to properly meet the growing requirements of the West, and to not only improve the present financial situation, but to materially assist in retaining, as much as possible, desirable business, with its resultant profits, within our own Western borders.

The business of fire insurance has now grown to such large proportions that it has become a very important factor in the financial and commercial world, and as its scope and influence is so general and widespread it is only natural to find that the question of AMPLE PROTECTION TO POLICYHOLDERS, which is the PRIMARY FUNCTION OF FIRE INSURANCE COMPANIES, should be so GENERALLY DISCUSSED AT THE PRESENT TIME.

This important subject has given rise to a very STRONG FEELING in Western Canada that the TIME HAS NOW ARRIVED when the Western people should organize a Fire Insurance Company of such strength and proportions that it will soon rank as one of the leading fire companies of America, and command general respect and confidence, which is so ESSENTIAL to a company that solicits the support and patronage of all classes of the community.

The Directors have every confidence that they will receive the hearty co-operation of not only Western citizens, but of people from every part of the Dominion, to build up a GREAT fire insurance company with AMPLE PROTECTION for the people, and which will be a source of pride and credit to our country.

The following Canadian Government Insurance statistics should prove of ESPECIAL INTEREST :

In the year 1869 the total amount of fire premiums collected in Canada was $1,785,539.00, whereas in the year 1909 the total premiums charged amounted to the large sum of $22,293,633.25, and of this amount $6,551,644.41 was charged by Canadian Companies, $11,518,267.45 by British Companies, and $4,223,721.39 by American Companies.

During the last forty-one years the aggregate amount of fire insurance premiums collected in Canada reached the immense total of $280,740,466.00, of which the large sum of $218,310,047.00 represents the amount of fire premiums collected by FOREIGN COUNTRIES, and which, therefore, was taken out of the country to build up foreign companies and enrich foreign shareholders.

Notwithstanding that a considerable portion of the fire premiums collected in Canada by Foreign Companies has been repaid to Canadian policyholders, through fire losses, it must be evident that the larger the proportion of Canadian fire insurance that is placed with Canadian Companies, the larger is the amount of capital retained in the Dominion and always available for investment purposes, to build up our Canadian financial institutions, and thereby add to the general wealth and prosperity of our country.

The above figures are most significant and clearly demonstrate that while the CANADIAN FIRE COMPANIES have been doing a satisfactory business they HAVE SECURED only a SMALL portion of the Fire Insurance transacted in Canada, or, to be more exact, ONLY TWENTY-TWO PER CENT. of THE TOTAL FIRE INSURANCE WRITTEN IN CANADA, covering a period of the last forty-one years. With the extraordinary progress which Canada has been making during recent years, the field for financial institutions has become so widely extended that there is a CONSTANTLY INCREASING DEMAND for new large financial corporations.

By further reference to our Government statistics it will be observed that at December 31st, 1909, the total number of Canadian Fire Companies operating under Dominion charter was ONLY TWENTY-ONE, and of this number ONLY TWO HAD A PAID-UP CAPITAL IN EXCESS OF $500,000.

In promoting this large Canadian Company the Directors are fully confident that the new organization will, with characteristic Western energy and enterprise, soon come to be recognized as an important factor in the insurance world, and as The Canada National Fire will be instrumental in RETAINING WITHIN THE BOUNDARIES OF CANADA a large amount of money which would otherwise be taken out of the country to build up foreign corporations the people of this growing Dominion will readily see the advisability of giving this Company their MORAL AND FINANCIAL SUPPORT, in order that we may build up a STRONG and VIGOROUS Company which will prove a valuable acquisition to our Canadian monetary institutions.

This is the last opportunity to secure, direct from the Company, some of this desirable stock.

It is worthy of special note that the demand for the stock has exceeded the Directors' most sanguine expectations ; in fact, of the $2,000,000 of stock to be issued, $1,650,000 has already been subscribed, and, from present indications, with the large number of applications for stock being received daily, the Directors are confident that the balance of the issue, which is now only $350,000, will be subscribed by August 26th, 1911, the date appointed for the closing of stock subscriptions.

For this reason, the Directors strongly recommend the investing public to mail their applications for stock at their earliest possible opportunity.

Subscribers are requested to kindly fill in attached application form, stating name in full, number of shares desired, occupation and address, and mail the application, along with the first call of Twenty-five Dollars ($25.00) per share on the stock, direct to the Head Office of the Company, Winnipeg, Man., or, if so desired, application may be made for the stock at any of the Company's Branch Offices or at any Branch of the Royal or Imperial Banks, where application blanks and any additional information will be readily furnished. Applications for stock will be considered in the order received, and on approval of the same by the Board of Directors a certificate for the number of shares subscribed will be issued and mailed the shareholders forthwith. Cheques, Drafts, Money Orders or other remittances on account of stock subscriptions should be made payable to The Canada National Fire Insurance Company.

CHINA MOVING INTO LIGHT

Only Recently in the Babylon Stage, China is To-Day on Threshold of Governing Along Constitutional Lines.

In its government five years ago China was not far from that which existed in Babylon and Nineveh: the will of the emperor was the final authority. Constitutional government, democracy were practically unknown terms and an unfelt need. During 1909 the ballot was granted to all people meeting certain property or education qualifications. Today China stands on the threshold of a constitutional government, planning to take her place alongside the constitutional monarchies like Germany and great Britain. There are still thousands of officials of the old regime there are many reforms on paper only; but unless other nations forcibly interfere, China promises in a decade to change from the political ideals of 3,000 years ago to those of the most modern times.

In 1905 China had the educational system that existed almost unchanged for 2,000 years. She was practically without government colleges and schools.

From the day the Portsmouth treaty was signed by Russia and Japan, China has been a new nation; a new man. It is committed to the pathway of reform and modern development. With unanimity it held for centuries to its old course; and with unanimity it now resolves to take its place among the modern states.

The discovery of America, a wilderness, changed the civilization of the world; the discovery of China, with its 400,000,000 people, peaceable, industrious and capable, will make a new dating point for history.

For centuries her great intellectual force has been bound by the manacles of an effete scholasticism. Although this system of education was intimately connected with the government, and with the social life of the empire, yet in one day the entire system was swept out of existence and there was put in its place a combination of the American and Japanese systems. Colleges have sprung up like mushrooms after a rain in all the provincial capitals.

WHEN THE BEAVER BITES

A young beaver in Regents Park Gardens, London, was once placed at work upon a tree twelve feet long and two feet six inches thick, just as the town clocks sounded the hour of noon. The beaver began by barking the tree a foot above the ground. That done, he attacked the wood. He worked hard, alternating his labor with dips in his bathing-pond. He bathed and labored alternately until 4 o'clock in the afternoon, when he ate his supper of bread and carrots and paddled about in his pond until half-past 5 o'clock. Ten minutes later, when only one inch of the tree's diameter remained intact, he bore again upon his work, and the tree fell. Before it fell the beaver ran as men run when they have fired a blast. Then, as the tree lay on the ground, he portioned it out mentally and again began to gnaw.

He worked at intervals all night; cut the log into three parts, rolled two of the portions into the water, and reserved the other third for his permanent shelter.

REWARD OF GENIUS!

Apropos of the pension of $10 a week that the English government has just granted to the popular English novelist, Joseph Conrad, a Chicago poet said the other day: 'The trashy novelist rides in a French motor-car and drinks champagne with his dinner, but the good novelist is thankful for a meal of macaroni. Our bad taste is to blame. Listen to this terrible story: A wealthy Chicago publisher visited a lunatic asylum one autumn afternoon, and among the lunatics he noticed a man who sat counting his fingers and muttering

'Intry, mintry, cutrey, corn!
Apple seeds and briar thorn!'

"The publisher regarded the man attentively. About that massive brow, about that glowing eye, there was something strangely familiar.

'Intry, mintry, cutrey, corn!
Apple seeds and briar thorn,
O-u-t--out—'

"The publisher laid his hand on the maniac's shoulder and said sadly: 'My poor friend, is it not true that in you I recognize the pitiable wreck of what was once the heaven-born genius, A. Fountain Pen, author of that immortal masterpiece —' 'Shut up!' the other interrupted in a fierce whisper, and he glanced cautiously about the room. 'Shut up, you old fool! Do you want to ruin me? If none of the docs get onto who I am I can stay here all winter."

A Safety Kicker

They were examining an old-fashioned shotgun of murderous build. It looked as if it would be an effective weapon against anything short of an elephant, and its owner was boasting, with that scorn of fact which is allowed the successful hunter, of its power.

"Doesn't it kick like anything?" asked one.

"Oh, yes, it kicks some," said the proprietor, "btu that's the beauty of it. Why once I shot at a grizzly that was charging me. I missed him, and on he came. If it had not been that the gun kicked me so far back that I had time to reload, I shouldn't have been here to tell the story."

KING EDWARD VACUM CLEANER

You cannot clean carpets, rugs and furniture by beating. If you think you have, just try a KING EDWARD VACUUM CLEANER and you will find the article full of dust, which breeds disease.

The KING EDWARD HAND MACHINE has no equal as compared with other hand machines. It is lighter to operate and its suction is much stronger. Its suction is stronger than many of the power machines, and the dusting is done away with. On account of the short stroke one person can operate it on carpets and rugs equally as well as two, and it is about half the weight of other hand machines to carry up and down stairs or from one room to another. It is sold for less money than any of the hand machines. All machines are guaranteed.

Friendship of Books

To fall in love with a good book is one of the greatest events that can befall us. It is to have a new influence pouring itself into our life, a new teacher to inspire us, a new friend to be by our side always, who, when life grows narrow and weary, will take us into his wider and calmer and higher world.

Whether it be biography, introducing us to some humble life made great by duty done; or history, opening vistas into the movements and destinies of nations that have passed away; or poetry, making music of all the common things around us, and filling the fields and the skies and the work of the city and the cottage with eternal meanings — whether it be these, or religious books or science, so one can become the friend even of one good book without being made wiser and better.

Cause of Rheumatism

Many physicians believe that rheumatism is the result of over-feeding, followed by putrefactive changes in the foodstuffs in the alimentary canal; that the action of certain bacteria produces specific toxic (poison) substances which, when introduced into the blood, cause a deviation from the normal oxidation process, thus causing the condition that is designated rheumatic. In the majority of instances it is probably due to eating too much of the vegetable class of foods; in other cases it is the result of eating too much meat.

An Interesting Booklet.

The Times is in receipt of a very interesting booklet dealing with the Maritime Provinces as a promising field for those who desire to establish new industries, or to profitably invest capital in the exploitation and development of natural resources. The obvious advantages of many parts of New Brunswick and Nova Scotia are ably presented in detail, together with many cheerful facts that ought to impress those who have capital ready to invest in a new field that is certainly rich in opportunity. It is commendable that while the eyes of the world are upon Canada, and thousands of new settlers are pouring into the West from many countries, an honest effort is being made to point out the advantages that exist in the east. The booklet will be mailed free to those who write the Industrial Department Intercolonial Railway, Moncton, N. B.

Present Disadvantages of Canadian Farmers.

At present the United States farmers have a great advantage over us. It costs 25c a bushel to send wheat into the United States. They can send their wheat into Canada for 12c a bushel, with rebate of 99 per cent. of duty when ground in bond. It costs us 30c to send a bushel of barley to the United States. They can ship barley into Canada for 15c. If we want to ship beans into the United States we have to pay 45c a bushel duty. The beans can come into Canada for 23c. They charge us 25c a bushel on the apples we send them. We charge them only 40c a barrel on what they send us. They charge us $4 a ton on the hay we send them. We charge them $2. They charge us 6c a pound on cheese, we charge them 3c. Thus it is with almost every farm product.

Under reciprocity these disadvantages will be wiped out, and we will be able to deal with them on an equal basis. Is not this worth while?

Home for Christmas

The Steamship Lines are expecting a large home-going exodus for the holiday season this year, and are making extensive preparations to take care of all of those who are planning to visit the Old Country.

The White Star-Dominion Line has arranged for three special Christmas sailings, viz. the "Canada" December 2nd, "Megantic" December 9th, and "Teutonic" December 14th, from Portland, Me., and Halifax, N. S., to take care of these passengers. These steamers will arrive in ample time to enable passengers to reach their homes before Christmas whether in England or on the Continent.

The railways have recognized the growing popularity of these annual Christmas excursions and now run special trains from Montreal and the west to connect with the steamers, and the most complete arrangements are made by both the steamship companies and the rail lines to further the comfort of the homeward bound ones during the holiday season.

Grand Trunk Opening New Territory

The new territory in the Canadian Rocky Mountains that is being opened up by the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway has already become the Mecca for a number of Alpine Climbers and those who love to get away from the turmoil of the busy city and explore mountain fastnesses that are practically unknown. Some of the travellers who have gone into this Yellow Head Pass territory are now returning, and one gentleman writes to the Grand Trunk Pacific Headquarters as follows:—"Lake Maligne is a beautiful lake between 16 and 18 miles long. I have visited all the other transcontinental lines both in Canada and the United States, and there is no lake or district along any of these lines that can compare with the Lake Maligne country. Some of the mountains around the lake are in the neighborhood of 12,000 feet. Lake Maligne is reached from Henry House a few miles west of Fitzhugh, the Second Divisional point, and covered with ice fields which make them very beautiful."

AN AEROPLANE FROM NATURE

Recent Insect Discovery Among Grape Vines is of Remarkable Appearance, Built Like An Aeroplane

A resident of Cliffondale, Mass., had a surprise of his life the other day when he started to water his garden.

Picking up what he thought was a rather delicate colored piece of grape vine twig he was astonished to [illegible] had a sting in it, and in a few seconds realized that he had been stung by one of the strangest species of insect that he had ever seen.

The insect is one of the most peculiar species that one could imagine. From the top of its tail to its head it measures five inches. It has six legs, in two sections, each three-quarters of an inch in length. The first section of the legs is a light brown color at the point where they join the body of the insect. The second section of the legs is of a brilliant green tint. The body of the insect resembles the color of the small branches of a grape vine. On the tail are horns about an eighth of an inch in length.

The head is about the size of a small shot and contains two little eyes as black as coal. Just at the side of each eye are two light red feelers which extend for two inches. It is built like an aeroplane and flies just the same.

Dr. EUGENE QUESNEL

A Prescott County Politician

Dr. Quesnel of Hawkesbury is not inexperienced in politics. He ran as an independent candidate for the Federal House in 1908, when he failed to get the Conservative support, but succeeded in polling [illegible] votes on the strength of his personality alone.

Born at St. Eugene, in June of [illegible] educated first at Alfred College and then at the Seminary, Ottawa Rigaud, he graduated bachelor of literature, science and arts from Laval University, Quebec, and took his medical course at the College of Physicians and Surgeons in Toronto, graduating M.D. in 1896.

The doctor started practice in Rockland and Sudbury, and in 1903 he moved to Hawkesbury, where he became so much of a useful man in public affairs, that in 1907 the people chose him Reeve of the town and in 1908, 1909 and 1910 elected him Mayor. During his mayoralty terms, Dr. Quesnel was instrumental in putting the town in its present excellent condition. Under his guidance Hawkesbury first took its place above the average of places of its size.

Dr. Quesnel is married, his good lady being formerly Miss Josephine E. Fortier, of Pembroke.

Helps Keep Him Good

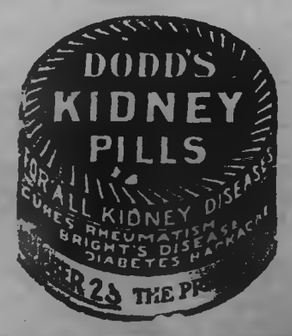
In Japan it is not wise for a young man to neglect the maid he is courting.

When a Japanese girl has been slighted by her lover she revenges herself according to the following quaint custom. In the dawn of the early morning she rises, and puts on a white robe and white clogs. Round her neck she hangs a small mirror, which falls to her breast, and on her head she puts a metal crown with three points each point bearing a lighted candle.

In her left hand she carries a small figure of straw or rags — supposed to represent her unfaithful lover — and this she nails to one of the sacred trees surrounding the family shrine. She then prays for the death of the man, vowing that if this comes to pass, she will pull out the nails which are hurting the sacred tree, and make offerings to comfort her family god.

Every night she comes to the shrine, strikes in two more nails, and makes the same prayer, her idea being that the god to save his tree from further injury will kill her lover.

If it is true that every man has his price, it is equally true that few of them are worth it.



TRUCK DUMB WITH AMAZEMENT

Mr. A. O. Wheeler, F.R.G.S., Director of the Alpine Club of Canada, has just returned to Vancouver from a summer spent in the Canadian Rockies in the vicinity of the Yellowhead Pass, and is greatly impressed with his trip.

In an interview with Mr. Wheeler, he stated: "It has been the general impression that the Rocky Mountains of Canada attain their greatest average height not very far north of the boundary line. True, of late years much has been heard of Mount Robson, which dominates the region of the Yellowhead Pass, but the popular notion was that there was nothing else in the neighborhood worth seeing, and that the Grand Trunk Pacific would pass through a region of little interest from the point of view of the tourist or mountaineer.

"There was no mistake about Mount Robson. It is without doubt, as was stated by one of the most travelled and skilled mountaineers of to-day, Dr. Norman Collie, one of the most magnificent mountains in the world, whether seen from the south, the view that is most familiar, all sides were found mighty snow-peaks, or from beautiful Berg Lake, it [illegible] stands supreme. In the hundred peaks, widespread snowfields, [illegible] circuit of the great massif [illegible] ice-falls, rushing torrents, waterfalls, flower-clad meadows and vast [illegible] of dark pine forest. Many [illegible] peaks were named by the surveyors, but they are legion, and it [illegible] be many years before they are [illegible] popularly known as individual mountains."

In speaking of the Robson Glacier, which lies on the east side of this monstrous mountain, Mr. Wheeler said: "It struck us dumb with amazement that anything so stupendous, so superb, so undreamed of, should exist. At our feet flowed the great river of ice, every crevasse, every moraine, every icefall, clearly portrayed. Directly opposite rose the massif, its outline clear from base to summit for fully 8,000 feet. From the beautiful meadows at the head of Resplendent Valley twenty-five peaks were counted, all unknown and unnamed. And lakes, which perhaps lend the most characteristic charm to Canadian mountain scenery, were everywhere."

At the summit of the Yellowhead Pass Mr. Wheeler's party erected a monument defining the boundary between Alberta and British Columbia at the intersection of the Great Divide. On the Luge post set up, which is surrounded with a big stone mound are carved the words: "British Columbia on the west face: Alberta on the east face: and on the south 3,727.98 feet, being the altitude of the summit at the point where the post is set."

Clearing of right-of-way on the uncompleted gap of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway from Tete Jaune Cache westward to Aldermere in Bulkley Valley, was started a few weeks ago by the contractors, Messrs Foley, Welch & Stewart. Operations thus far are restricted to the route along the south fork of the Fraser between the Cache and Fort George.

The Morning Times

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 3, 1911.

THE ONTARIO MANIFESTO.

Sir James Whitney's manifesto is one which the Opposition in Ontario will find difficult to criticize. The success the Conservative ministry headed by Sir James Whitney has met in Ontario has been due to that quality in its leader which has enabled him to interpret the thoughts and desires of the ordinary voter, and put such into early legislative practice. One could hardly imagine a more valuable quality in a political leader.

In the matter of evolving a land tax assessment available to the Ontario municipalities, Sir James Whitney has not yet declared himself. A year or so ago he opposed the idea, giving as a principal reason, his doubt of Ontario's real desires in the matter. The present election furnishes an opportunity for the voters, at meetings, by petitions, and through their candinates to convince the premier and the ministry, of Ontario's desire for a land tax provision, such as British Columbia and other provinces possess. With the land tax provision added to Sir James Whitney's manifesto programme, such platform would be well nigh perfect in interpreting the desires of the people of Ontario in a legislative way.

You have fixed a very high standard, if this train is the standard up to which you are working."

NORTH AFRICA IS COVETED

Battling Between North and South Shores of Mediterranean Began Many Ages Ago with Africans First in the Aggressive.

In the long ago days the nations and tribes possessing the African, or southern, shores of the Mediterranean contended with the peoples of the European, or northern, shores, not only for European territory, but for the mastery of what was then the civilized world. Just as Rome was setting out upon her career of expansion, which finally led her to absolute control of the western world, she encountered a rival in Carthage, the seat of whose power was not far from the spot where Italy recently began operations against Tripoli. The contest was prolonged, and at times its issue hung in the balance; but having superior sea power, which gave her command of the Mediterranean, Rome won, and Carthage ceased to exist.

Many centuries later Europe was again menaced by a northern African people — the Moors, who over-ran Spain, ruled the greater part of the peninsula for a long time, and threatened other conquests.

Emerging from the Middle Ages, the people of the northern continent began to excel in the art of war.

Still, for many years the half-civilised and unprogressive peoples of northern Africa held their own, so far as Europe was concerned.

But the time came when this was changed, and European nations began to see in the southern shores of the Mediterranean fields for trade, and then room for expansion; and so northern Africa is becoming the prize of Europe.

The growth of Italian influence and commerce in Tripoli dates from 1878, when the treaty was concluded that brought to a close the Ruaso-Turkish war. Italy claims that it was then understood that she should have the right of a "pacific penetration of Tripoli." The right has been exercised. Italian colonies have grown up, and Italy's commercial interests there become considerable

A Time For Everything

A well-known Scottish architect was travelling in Palestine recently, when news reached him of an addition to his family circle. The happy father immediately provided himself with some water from the Jordan to carry home for the christening of the infant, and returned to Scotland. On the Sunday appointed for the ceremony he duly presented himself at the church, and sought out the beadle in order to hand over the precious water to his care. He pulled the flask from his pocket, but the beadle held up a warning hand, and came nearer to whisper: "No the noo, sir; no the noo! Maybe after the kirk's oot."

T. C. HOLT, LTD. OF VANCOUVER

Splendid Investments Offered by This Well Known Firm.

The Times would call special attention of investors to the advertisement of the T. C. Holt, Limited, of North Vancouver, one of the most substantial and prosperous brokers and real estate firms on the Pacific Coast. Capitalists in the east are now looking to the west for safe and profitable investments, and there is probably no spot on the continent where more money has been made faster than in Vancouver real estate. North Vancouver is rapidly forging ahead, and those who are able to get in now will be sure to reap a golden harvest.

T. C. Holt, Limited, recommend the following investments to their clients :

1st—While they last, 10¢ shares in the T. C. Holt Ltd. at $100 per Share. 25 per cent. on application and 10 per cent. per month until fully paid up. This Company being strictly under Government supervision is not allowed to sell their shares for less than par. We consider these shares a good and safe investment, as they will bring the investor a dividend of from 10 to 20 per cent. per year or more. Only a limited number left.

2nd—Investments in Real Estate. Remember, Mr. Investor, inside property in North Vancouver, is as yet cheaper than property in Point Grey, Fairview, South Vancouver, or Grand View, on the outskirts of Vancouver. 5 years ago an investor North Vancouver, far $10,000, to-day bought a corner on Lonsdale Avenue the same piece of property is worth $100,000.00. We can buy for our clients to-day property for investment from $1000 to $50,000.00 and over and can almost guarantee a profit of from 25 per cent. to 50 per cent. in a couple of years.

3rd—Investments in Mortgages and Agreements of Sale which represent a very safe and sure investment and bring in from 8 to 10 per cent. per year. Nearly every day some party calls in our office and invests his money in Mortgages or Agreements of Sale. They say they prefer absolute safety for their money with a good rate of interest, rather than no interest with a hope of increase in selling value.

Progress is the dominant note in the City of Vancouver to-day, and where progress is, where wealth accumulates, there will realty values advance, and this is inevitable in Vancouver.

A Pleasant Trip.

The Grand Trunk Pacific are in receipt of a letter from a prominent traveller in Eastern Canada, who has just returned from a trip to the West and which included a journey on the Grand Trunk Pacific from Winnipeg to Wainwright and return.

He states : "I must say it was one of the pleasantest experiences in a long life of travelf Having seen the road in the making, and being aware of the high standard set up, I was prepared for a good roadbed, and was not disappointed, for we rode as smoothly as between Montreal and Toronto. The sleeping cars are models of comfort, and the service on them, as well as the dining cars, couldn't be better. The Grand Trunk are setting the pace for general excellence in Western Canada."

The business or professional man who neglects his clothes disregards one of the most potent instruments of success.

Commenting on this obvious fact a writer on men's fashions remarks that apart from mercenary reasons, it is becoming more widely recognised that it is the duty of all men to do their best in the matter of dress to make themselves as presentable as possible.

There is also a psychological aspect of the matter which is not without interest. It is demonstrated that the average man is to some extent influenced by his own clothes, just in the same way as he is affected by his environment. Thus the same man, well dressed, will talk better, will walk better, and by the same token, do better work than he would do if he were carelessly or inappropriately clad. In a word he will (more or less consciously, of course) line up to his appearance, and become less slovenly in every way. As in most other things, it is the little things that count in the matter of dress. A man should study his appearance from the crown of his head to the soles of his feet

An Emperor-Policeman

Among the Duke of Wellington's special constables was a dreamy personage, then well known, but not very well spoken of in English society, named Louis Napoleon Bonaparte. He had returned to England nearly two years before after his melodramatic escape, in workman's disguise, from the fortress of Ham . The special constable's real career was now about to open. Two months after the memorable 10th of April he was in Paris as a member of the Constituent Assembly, and in the following autumn he was elected President by an overwhelming majority. What followed belongs to history, and takes us far from the enrolment of special constables.

A Dangerous Disease

Owing to its tendency to spread to all parts of the system, Catarrh should be checked in its incipient stages.

Catarrh commences generally with a slight cold, and because slight, it is often neglected. But the seed that has been sown brings forth a dangerous harvest—perhaps it is the harvest of consumption, which is the harvest of death.

Better spend a few moments each day inhaling Catarrhozone, an aromatic, antiseptic remedy that is breathed in through the mouth, and, after permeating all the respiratory organs, is slowly exhaled through the nostrils.

The immediate effect of Catarrhozone is magical—so prompt and efficient. Relief is instantaneous, throat and nose cleared in a few moments by the penetrating vapor from the Inhaler. Ferrozone, taken in conjunction with Catarrhozone, purifies the blood, cleanses it of all poisons, and builds up the system so that Catarrh cannot exist.

You are sure to receive lasting benefit from Catarrhozone if bothered by Catarrh in any part of the system. It is highly recommended for Bronchitis, Asthma, and Lung Trouble, and used for Coughs and Colds in the head it has no equal.

Remember that Catarrhozone is both a local and constitutional treatment, and is warranted under all circumstances to give satisfaction. Money refunded if it fails.

Two months' treatment, consisting of a beautiful polished hard rubber Inhaler and large bottle of liquid for recharging, costs but $1 ; trial size, 25c. Sold by all druggists and The Catarrhozone Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

THE VEIL OF FUTURITY

By Martin Lyon

(Copyright by Publishers Press Ltd.)

Perfectly motionless lay the ship on the still water, awaiting the dawn to enter the harbor. In a deck-chair Leslie Cartwright stirred restlessly. It was late, and nearly all the other passengers had retired for the night; but he was in no mood for sleep.

In the dim light the man's face was gray with an unnatural pallor, marked blackly here and there, on the forehead and round the mouth, with short, hard lines. Every now and then his hands would clench nervously, and a quick, impatient sigh escaped his compressed lips. The light murmur from the bulwarks, where a late fellow-traveler and the first officer were chatting over a last cigar, came to him as an impertinence and an irritation. At length the voices died away as the speakers moved forward, and nothing broke the stillness save the long wash of the Australasian sea, and at intervals, with jarring suddenness, the striking of the ship's bell.

The man looked around to see if he was alone, and dropped back with an exclamation of satisfaction. By-and-by he began to murmur and fret once more. "What fools women are!" he growled. "They take an abstraction and make a god of it; they take a literature and make it a fetish. And what a fool I am to take so much notice of their chatter!"

He was silent for a time. Then he resumed his muttering. "Who said 'the Veil of Futurity is woven by the hand of Mercy'? Stuff! I should like to lift it, for one. Just as though there could possibly be any mercy in not letting a poor devil see what's ahead of him — and people have lifted it, too — what about the Eastern mystics — the sooth-sayers — the Chaldeans? — what about prophecy? The old prophets were more than the mere far-sighted statesmen as some would have us believe — wonderful — wonderful——"

His voice died away in a low, dreamy murmur; then he stirred again, and began to mutter once more.

"What about their wretched Western imitators! They are too grossly material to possess even a fraction of the occult power they presume to lay claim to. Centuries of European training have been quite enough to exterminate any force of the kind, even if it ever existed. Existed? — of course it did. Men have read the stars like an open book and seen their own fate in the signs of the wind and the wave — they have foretold war and famine and pestilence and the doom of nations ; but they were men of old — not the puerile would-be mystics of to-day.

"I do not believe the most spiritualised, sensitive Anglo-Saxon could look five minutes into the unknown."

As he spoke, his white face grew whiter, and an expression almost of fear came over it. He shivered for a moment, then braced himself, evidently with an effort. He laughed nervously.

"Something is wrong with me," he said savagely. "I hope I am not going to get fever. I had a feeling then that I could know the future, if I would — only — that it would be well for me if I did not will to know. It's horribly uncanny; I can't shake it off. Well — his voice rose in excited defiance — "I will test this power. I demand to see myself a year hence."

x x x

Then he was floating in a thick, heavy atmosphere; now dark — dark to blackness — now lightening into transparent blue; sometimes flashing into silver, and even blazing into a splendor of gorgeous golden freshness.

Around him, with him, and of him, were long, spherical gray shapes. He was conscious of a curious sense of dispersion — of separation in some indefinite, indefinable manner from himself; and yet he was perfectly capable of connected thought.

"Can this be an answer to my demand?" he questioned. "Bah! As vague as all prophecy! Well, we will ask eleven months." There was no change. "Well, then, ten — nine — eight — seven six!"

A look of horror seized him. Great drops of sweat sprang out on his brow. One might have seen the muscles start and stiffen in his hands as he gripped the arms of the chair. "Five — four — three — two — a month, yes, a month!" he spoke with agonized intensity.

The sense of uneasiness was with him still, but in a modified degree. He seemed more sentient, more living, more human. His voice rose to a shriek. "Take me back to this hour — to this minute." He was alive now, but oh! the agony of that revival! Ah, that fierce, deadly grip on his shoulder! A score of cruel, sharp points were entering his flesh and crushing his loins as in a steel trap! What was that awful wrenching tug at his foot? "Ah, mercy! mercy!"

The first officer reported to the captain :

"I had been talking to Mr. Chadwick till he finished his cigar. I noticed Mr. Cartwright — he was lying in a deck-chair, I thought asleep. Before turning in finally, I made the round of the decks, after Mr. Chadwick had gone. When I came back Mr. Cartwright was still there, and, as I thought he might get a chill if he slept in the open air, I was going to awake him.

"As I got close to him, I found that he was talking in his sleep very excitedly. I was just about to rouse him when he sprang out of his chair with a most dreadful shriek for mercy and before I could stop him he had rushed to the side and jumped overboard. I snatched up a coil of rope and ran to the place, but I was too late. It would almost seem as if the sharks had been waiting for him. There were three of them."

And he turned away and put his hand over his eyes.

The man who always follows the dictation of his conscience must have pretty sharp ears.

While it has been the custom with most steamship lines to discontinue their Quebec and Montreal sailings about November 15th each year and transfer their steamers to the winter announced that their crack triple-screw steamer "Laurentic" will make an extra sailing to the St. Lawrence in November to accommodate the pre-Christmas traffic.

ADVERTISE IE THE TIMES.

THE BACKWOODSMAN

By Acton Seymour.

He decided that his isolation in the woods was making pretty much of a fool of him.

One afternoon, he was at the Corran house, going over with Clare some papers that she had received from the lawyer in the city. The legal aspect of the case was looking better. Already some of the powers of Jepson Wiggin had been taken away. Further action was in preparation.

Suddenly, a man arrived, beating the horse he rode. He was Romeo Bragg, one of the staunchest adherents of Clare Corran, and hired by Harry to patrol the properties of a far township that Corran's estate owned.

"They're at it," gasped Bragg excitedly. "I've rid a day and a night to tell you. They're in on old Number 'Leven, whalin' down black growth at the rate of a hundred dollars a minute — with one of them steam log haulers yanking out the stuff over the line."

"Who's doing it?" demanded Harry.

"The only folks I know of that's got money to buy steam ingines to haul off stolen logs is the Great Trust Co." said Bragg. "I didn't take any census of the crowd, and I don't know as that was needed. It's enough, ain't it, that they're stealin' Miss Clare's timber?"

George knew what the lot was—the rape of the Corran explorers testified to its richness. The rape of it in that fashion was bold enough to be almost desperate. But law had not yet put its heavy and protecting hand on the Corran properties. Quibbles and disputes might, in the end, relieve the thieves of responsibility. It had been done — it could be done again. And Harry guessed that this attempt was perhaps a test case prefacing more thievery. His advices had warned him that this plan might be adopted. He was dealing with men who were both sharp and determined.

He did not hesitate. For such an emergency he had slowly assembled his little army of the faithful. He stepped off the porch. He was on his way to mobilize that army.

"You are going?" she asked, starting after him, her hands outstretched.

"I propose to save your property," he declared. "If they get away with what they're after, now, we may as well give up the fight for the rest. Possession is more than nine points, the way the game is played up here, Miss Corran. I've been studying the matter, and I know. They shan't have it."

"Let them take it," she cried passionately. "It's all steal and cheat and struggle and fight for a little more money. I don't want money that's gained that way. Let them have it! I order you to stay here!"

"I'll have to disobey that order," he said. "I've taken the position of your manager. I'll be pointed out as a coward and a shirk if I let them rob you. I can't hold up my head again. It's a matter of honor, Miss Corran. I must go."

She saw that words were useless. She hurried to him, and clasped his hand.

"Then, go, with my godspeed," she said. "Go, and win!"

The Corran spirit — the spirit of Miss Clare, of the Great Toban — was in her then. He raised her hand and kissed it. Uncontrollable impulse tempted him.

"I can't help winning, carrying that with me from you," he said, gazing into her sparkling eyes.

He left her, running down into the village. Romeo Bragg at his heels leading his weary horse.

An hour after and Harry was marshaling his men toward the north.

X.

Harry had no doubt as to the zeal and loyalty of his rough-and-ready band. He strode with them afoot. He found that keeping up with their lumberman's lope taxed his strength and did not have to urge them forward. They were on a mission for "Queen Clare."

Each man carried his provisions in a bag for a fortnight's absence. At their leaders' against frost and rain.

It was late in the afternoon when, after passing in the neighborhood of operations on Number Eleven, they halted, and, pondering on how to be lodged through the night, determined to speak softly and act warily, and so he left his men in a ravine, and went to the camp of the trespassers.

They were making a wholesale robbery of the tract. Harry's forebodings were palmed by the look of the rough-backing. The system of operating would have told an expert that these men had that they were not dealing with their own property.

The first difficulty, he found the man in charge — a short-necked, pig-eyed thorough specimen of obstinate strength.

The thieves had picked their tool well.

He broke in on the young man's blank look of protest.

"I'll settle that with headquarters. I'm here to get this timber cut. I don't care for nothin' else."

"Then you know you're operating on land that belongs to the Corran estate."

"I don't know nothin' about it. It is my work to locate operations. I'm hired to fell timber and get it down."

"Who hired you?"

"That's private business between me and them that pay me my wages."

"I ain't supposed to tell my business to every stranger that comes along."

"I'll be no stranger to you in a very short order, my man," declared George, his temper rising. "I'm Miss Corran's agent and manager of these lands, and I order you to stop cutting here."

"Then you and Jep. Wiggins have got it settled who's really manager, have you?" sneered the man. "You may have it settled to suit you, but that don't convince me. I tell you to go to headquarters!"

"I'm going to headquarters — you can be sure of that. I'll trace this thing to the men who order it. I'll begin with you. Who gave you your instructions to cut here?"

The man was stubborn and insolent. He had received his orders, evidently.

"You ain't goin' to worm nothin' out of me," he growled. "I've been in law, once, and I don't propose to get there again."

He turned and stamped away, shouting orders to a crew.

Harry followed him, determined to force information, and crying certain angry threats. The man whirled and struck. The blow was unexpected, and so was the manner in which George, prize wrestler of his college, received it. He caught the boss' wrist, snapped it under his left arm, leaped back, dragging the fellow off his footing, and drove his right hand, palm open, with an upward blow against his face. It's a cruel feat of the Japanese system, and the man bellowed in agony. He stood staggering with his eyes shut, and George struck him again, this time with his fist, felling him. He felt lustful joy as he did it. He was beating these brutes of the woods on the plan they had chosen. He had found that the manners of the gentleman did not prevail.

The boss struggled up, holding his bruised face, running about searching for a club, howling commands to his men to help kill "the craw-fisted hyena."

The young man hurried away. He was not prepared to fight a multitude. The boss contented himself with hurling rocks after his foe. He also expressed himself fully as to what he would do if George ever showed himself there again.

After Harry had rejoined his men and explained the situation, he sat in silence. The outlook was not encouraging. Might had plainly superseded right in that section. His men were silent, too. Romeo Bragg solemnly wrenched off a chew of tobacco, his eyes on vacancy.

"Mr. George," he said, at last, "in times like these I go back to the fightin' part of the Old Testament for my Scripture. That and the Golden Rule." Harry glanced up at him inquiringly. "I mean to say, about doing unto others what you'd like to have 'em do to you. That fellow over yon, there, is working on the Golden Rule. And if he wants it done, it will be done. He's set the example. Will you excuse me for a few hours? I want to traipse down to one of old Corn Corran's depot camps that's below here."

He departed promptly, accepting his chief's gloomy silence for his answer.

George waited as patiently as he could. In that crisis there seemed to be nothing else that he could do.

The night had fallen when Bragg came back. He brought a sack that he handled with care. He stood in the light cast by the little camp fire over which the men had frizzled bacon for their supper.

"I ain't presumin' to give off orders," he said. "I'm only helpin' accordin' to my lights and followin' a few Scripture texts about swappin' eyes and teeth, even Stephen, when the occasion rises. This, here, is the baby!" He patted the sack.

"Dynamite!" said. "One of them sticks in the gizzard of that steam log hauler, other sticks scattered under their bridges and along that road they've built, and mebbe a stick under their wangan camp where their provisions are stored — and I reckon they'll be the ones that will have to go to headquarters — for fresh orders and a few things to do business with! At any rate, there won't be much lumberin' goin' on here at Number 'Leven for a while!"

"Wicked! That's a wicked proposition, Bragg!"

"Well," drawled Romeo, "it ain't exactly like a croquet game at a Sunday-school picnic, I'll admit that; but, on the other hand, them critters over that ridge ain't Sunday schoolers, either!"

George weighed the matter in its various aspects. The thieves were brazen and reckless trespassers. Their property had no right on Clare Corran's land. They were robbing her wantonly, wasting almost as much as they felled. He believed he could see their ultimate object — it was to force her to sell other holdings on threat of being the victim of further marauding. In his study of the conditions in the north country, he had learned that this scheme had been employed in other cases.

Decency held him back — the code as it was observed in that section prompted him to go ahead and play the game as the others played it.

He was suddenly aware that men had surrounded them. An oath from one of his dozing crew informed him. In his preoccupation, he had not thought of posting pickets. He was new to the dangers of the woods.

When he leaped to his feet, Bilna Wiggin faced him — a rifle across his arm.

"I'm going to give you a chance, dude," he said, with insult in his tone. "We've got you dead to rights. Your chance is this — you strut and hike."

Animal Love.

Mother love is universal, and there is no love like the mother love. Most of the high and lofty loving in this world is done by mothers. Apart from this the work of wooing falls to the male members of the family whether it be the human family or some one of the other animal tribes. We read how, ages ago, a Bulbul, or Oriental Nightingale, wooed a white rose until it blushed red, and that was the beginning of the red rose. The Spanish Cavalier stands out in the rain and serenades his "Dulce Mia" until there is a crick in his neck, while she sits sheltered in a window above.

The cackle of the loon may be a love song for all we know. Maybe that's what made him loony in the first place.

The wild moose bellows his passion across the lake, and as likely as not the answering call is from a bark horn in the hands of a hunter, luring him to death.

It seems a sizzling shame, but if you will take a Grand Trunk train and travel into the "Highlands of Ontario" you will find men doing that very thing; arguing, doubtless, that all is fair in love and war.

Real Estate, Mining and Industrial Investments

HOW $100 GREW TO $31620

The value and importance of any enterprise must be based on the profits and dividends it can earn. In this respect the Midway Maple Leaf Oil Company, Limited, is without a parallel in the line of investments.

It combines the attractive factors which are needed to make the perfect investment—viz., safety, large earning capacity and low cost of the stock at the start. It is not at all uncommon for oil stocks to begin at a few cents a share and jump to hundreds of dollars a share—sometimes thousands.

	Started at	Has Sold at
Central	10 cents	$2.10
Monte Cristo	10 cents	$4.00
Lucile	10 cents	$16.00
Silver Tip	25 cents	$4.00
San Francisco and McKittrick	40 cents	$28.00
Kern River	50 cents	$8.75
Peerless	50 cents	$8.75
Puente	$10.00	$150.00
Home	$10.00	$5000.00

This list, taken from San Francisco and Los Angeles Stock Exchange records, could be added to almost indefinitely.

Fortunes have been made from stock increases. stock is $200, YOUR YEARLY PROFIT ON AN INVESTMENT OF $300.

When we have ten wells sunk you can reasonably figure on AN ANNUAL PROFIT ON YOUR HOLDINGS OF $2000.

$2000 A YEAR. DOESN'T THIS APPEAL

Many a case could be cited similar to that of Richard Ellis, clerk in a store in Los Angeles, whose investment of $100 became worth $31,620 in a short time. There are hundreds of such cases in Los Angeles alone.

$2000.00 Profit a Year

Do you realize that stock in the Midway Maple Leaf Oil Company, Limited, at the present price of 30 cents a share is not merely the opportunity of the year—IT IS THE OPPORTUNITY OF A LIFETIME.

If you have $10, $50, $100 or $500 YOU SIMPLY CAN NOT AFFORD TO PASS IT UP.

If we develop only a 1000 barrel well of 26 gravity oil, this production alone will be sufficient to enable the corporation to pay a dividend of 20 per cent. and at the same time have sufficient capital to continue the drilling of wells.

1000 shares of stock at the present price of 30c costs only $300.

20 per cent. dividend on the par value of the TO YOU? Wouldn't you like to be coming up to this office every three months and getting your dividend cheque for $500?

Remember, too, that your stock holdings in Midway Maple Leaf, if you should want to sell them should be worth $18,000 or sixty times the amount of your original investment.

Consider These Facts

The Midway Maple Leaf Oil Company is working in proven gusher territory, the richest oil zone in the world, controlling 40 acres on one-eighth royalty, with the great advantage of the option to purchase at only $1250 per acre after oil is struck, and the ground must then be worth at least $5000 per acre. This means a clean profit of $150,000 over purchase price. It has been demonstrated completely by gushers on adjoining Standard and Honolulu ground, that this portion of the Midway field is not only the richest portion of the whole district, but that it produces the highest grade of oil found in the entire vicinity, and worth 50 per cent. more per barrel at the well.

A CHANCE TO MAKE MONEY IN VANCOUVER REALTY

Investors seeking an opportunity to secure large returns for their money will find an exceptional chance offered by Keith Park Land Co., Limited, of Vancouver, B. C. This company has placed on the market for immediate sale the choicest piece of property on the North Shore.

This tract known as Keith Park, D. L. 676, lies at the junction of the Pipe line Road, (owned by the city of Vancouver) and the Keith Road and is the Junction point for North side traffic.

The Second Narrows Bridge, which is to connect Vancouver and North Vancouver will be constructed so that Keith Park will be in the line of its northern end.

It is confidentially expected that a new town will be created at this point. Dominion, Provincial and Municipal subsidies to the extent of several hundred thousand dollars have already been secured for the bridge project and plans are now being drawn for the bridge. It is expected that actual workwill be started within the next ninety days.

Keith Park presents the best chance to buy ahead of the important municipal and government projects that are planned for the North Side. It will stand the most critical investigation.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

WRECKED SHIPS OF BRITISH NAVY

History Tells of Many Disasters but All Were Under Service Conditions, and Less Lower than French Record.

While the British Fleet during its long history has not often experienced disasters of anything like the magnitude of those which have happened in the French Navy, it too has a regrettable record of accidents. It is worthy of note, however, that they have been nearly all accidents at sea and not in port. They have taken place when the ships were sailing, most ly under service conditions. The most serious of all, the foundering of the armoured ship Captain off Finisterre in September, 1870, with the loss of 483 lives, was attributed to low freeboard and faulty construction generally; while the loss of the Mediterranean flagship Victoria and 358 lives in June, 1893, was the result of a mistaken order by the Admiral in command, which caused his own vessel to be rammed and sunk by the Camperdown. In the wreck of the torpedo-cruiser Serpent near Cape Villano in November, 1890, 172 men were drowned; and when the new turbine destroyer Cobra sank — owing to structural weakness — in the North Sea in October, 1901, she carried to the bottom 67 men. Perhaps the disaster in the British Navy which arrested public attention most strongly during recent years was the running down of Submarine A1 off the Nab Lighthouse in March, 1904, with the loss of 11 men. The introduction of the submarine into the Navy exacted its inevitable toll of life from the ranks of the intrepid crews who manned the new vessels, but the type has been so developed that they are now almost as safe as ordinary ships. Among explosions in British men-of-war the most serious falls far short of either of the two — those on the Liberte recently and on the Jena, on which nearly 300 officers and men were killed in March, 1907 — which will leave indelible marks in the history of the French Navy. The majority of them have been of a minor character, and we have no record of the actual blowing up of the magazines on a British warship and the consequent sinking of the vessel.

The Moose and the Lilly Pad.

The moose's love for the lily pad that floats on the surface of the northern lakes make him appear reckless and unafraid. In summer, even in September, the fishermen often cut him off from the shore, drive him into deep water and have fun with him. Sometimes, when the moose reaches shoal water and gets his hind feet on the bottom, he has fun with the fisherman, smashes his canoe and makes him swim for his life.

However, after the shooting season opens the moose becomes more cautious.

There are thousands of moose around Lake Temagami. At North Bay you change from the Grand Trunk to the Temiskaming and Northern Ontario and get off at Temagami Station.

The Fort Garry.

The work of constructing the second of the Grand Trunk's System of palatial hotels has begun at Winnipeg. It has been definitely and finally decided that the Winnipeg hotel, which will be of the same style of architecture as the magnificent "Chateau Laurier" at Ottawa, shall be called "The Fort Garry."

THE COMFORT OF INDEPENDENCE ASSURED THE B. C. FRUIT GROWER

In British Columbia Fruit Growing is synonymous with Success. The fame of the five-acre fruit farms of the Fraser Valley is spreading to every corner of this continent. Already "Fruit" suggests the Pacific Coast, soon it will direct the thoughts instinctively to British Columbia, particularly to the lower Fraser River Valley.

FLESHERTON GARDENS, which I am now selling, is the cream of this Valley land. The soil is a rich deep chocolate, humous and friable, free from weeds, stones or stumps. Good roads lead to the property and two railways are ready to carry the fruit to market. The Chilliwack line of the B. C. Electric Railway CUTS THROUGH FLESHERTON GARDENS, and the Victoria, Vancouver and Eastern is only a few yards away. Over a dozen trains pass the property every day, and the traffic will increase in the immediate future.

BIG PROFITS IN FRUITS AND VEGETABLES.

Do you know that you can make immense profits in fruits, tubers and vegetables on the Coast? To-day last year's potatoes are selling at $70 a ton in Seattle, only a few miles from here. In Westminster and Vancouver the price is from $60 to $65 a ton. Cherries fetch 50c a pound and strawberries 25c a box. All other fruits are high in proportion. Remember these are NOT FANCY PRICES, but to-day's quotations. There is no difficulty in selling the fruit, for people here have the money and don't mind the price.

IT'S EASY TO SECURE THE LAND

I have placed FLESHERTON GARDENS on the market on very easy terms, $200 cash and the balance spread over several years. You can have your pick of these five acre farms at from $150 to $350 per acre. You cannot find a better investment anywhere; no matter how rosy other prospects may be, this one leads them all.

Sign this blank, and mail it to me NOW. I can tell you a great deal more about FLESHERTON GARDANS in a personal letter. It's to your advantage to get all the information you can.

Children's Chest Troubles

Nurse Carrington Says Her Long Experience Proves the Safest Remedy is to

RUB ON NERVILINE

Every mother knows how difficult it is to get a young child to take a cough mixture. Seldom will one help unless given in large doses, and the result is to completely upset the stomach and make the child sick.

Speaking of the promptest cure for chest troubles and children's colds, Nurse Carrington says: "In all my experience in nursing I haven't met any preparation so dependable as Nerviline. It is the ideal liniment. Every drop you rub on is absorbed quickly, sinks through the pores to the congested muscles, eases, relieves, and cures quickly. Especially for chest colds, pain in the side, stiff neck, earache, toothache, I have found Nerviline invaluable. In treating the minor ills of children Nerviline has no equal. I think Nerviline should be in every home."

A million bottles of Nerviline used every year—this is itself a burden of proof that it is the ideal liniment for the home. Refuse anything your dealer may offer instead of Nerviline. Large size bottle 50c, or sample size 25c. Sold everywhere, and by The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

More Hunters Than Usual.

A letter to the The Times from Apsley states that a much larger number of hunters than usual are in the woods this year, a large number having passed through that village. As a result we can expect a tremendous slaughter of deer. This may move the Government to abolish the open season for a number of years in order to prevent the extermination of the deer.

RUGBY.

Montreal Herald: Where Toronto has the bulge on McGill, and every other team in Canada for that matter, is at quarter. Pete Campbell is the best quarter-back playing the game in Eastern Canada to-day, and the present generation of footballers can't recall his like. He gets the ball away fast and true, has the speed of a scared deer, can pick out a hole before it is made, tackles hard and takes lots of punishment, besides having an A1 set of football brains. He and Maynard are the Toronto team.

Manager Oldham of the local West End fourteen, is negotiating with St. Michael's College team for a game between them and the locals next Saturday.

The locals showed last Saturday, that they could play classy rugby, and it would surprise few if the college boys were defeated, should the game be arranged.

	P.	W.	L.
Hungry Five	3	3	0
White Sox	3	1	2
Giants	3	1	2
Athletics	3	1	2

The next games will be played tomorrow when the Hungry Five clash with the Giants, and the Athletics play the White Sox.

TELLING TRUTH

land consciously remembers ever having seen the face of his present landlord. Until the act of 1881 the family was known to them by no other link than that of land agents, who watched with lynx eyes for every chance to raise the ronte in their hard-won improvements—professional extortioners, as hateful as the tax-farmers of ancient Rome.

A Contented People.

"But the wonderful peasantry of this island—a peasantry which speaks little but Irish, and is almost wholly Catholic—have literally imposed a new soil on the bare, ice-smoothed bed of the glacier. With indomitable toil they have brought sand and seaweed from the shore, clay from the hills, sweeping from the roads. They have broken up the surface stones of the glacier bed and built houses and walls with the stones. They possess no fuel of their own on the island, but the cottagers bring dried peat across the bay from the shores of Galway. Aran has little water beyond a few wonderful springs which seem to well up from the ocean bed. But in face of all these difficulties they grow good crops of barley and potatoes, and now that their rents are fixed and the day of purchase is at hand, they seem a prosperous and a happy people.

Contributary Causes.

"But other things have contributed. I should like the scoffers and sceptics to witness, as we have witnessed, the working of the old age pensions act along this coast. We have heard in England of laxity and fraud. There is another side to all that. You must remember two facts: One is that the people in this Atlantic air live to a great age. The other is that while the young people represent a population of 4,000,000 the old people represent a population of 8,000,000. There is a disproportionate number of old people in these villages—old people and children; the young men and women have gone—to the Ireland beyond the sea. The survivors are supported by fish and pensions.

"The second contributory cause is the steady flow of American money into the villages of this coast. It is easy to test this. Go, as we went, into the postoffices and inquire. The postmasters will tell you of the stream of money that comes in at Christmas and Easter—to pay the rent and buy the goose. Those people pay their rent once a year. They eat meat little more than once or twice. Both the rent and the meat come from America."

another to set the charge of explosive in the safe, while others stood guard over the train crew and the passenger coaches. The robber having charge of the express car selected the larger of the two safes for his attack. This one, it happened, contained only the less valuable packages.

When the charge was fired, the ends and sides of the car were splintered and the entire front of the safe was blown away.

Just at this point in the hold up, the switch engine steamed into sight and the robbers took to their heels with only what they could hastily grab as a reward for their daring. It is believed that what they got was of comparatively little value.

LOCAL OPTION

Lakefield Village Council has received a largely signed petition that the local option measure now in force be repealed. A by-law will accordingly be submitted to the ratepayers at the elections in January.

The Town Council of Hastings has refused to give a local option by-law its first reading, because it had not been petitioned for by twenty-five per cent. of the eligible ratepayers.

At the regular meeting of the Village Council of Omemee, after general business was transacted, a petition for local option repeal was presented by Mr. John Weir, who was acting for Mr. Henry Beatty, owner of the Commercial House. The Council was addressed by the following representatives of the Temperance side: Rev. R. Baras, Rev. D. H. Carrie, Mr. S. C. Ivory, Dr. Thompson. These speakers showed that local option was for the best interests of the village and community—commercially, morally and otherwise. The speakers while not dictating to the Council, hoped that they would not submit a repeal by-law to the vote of the electorate.

Upon motion of A. Scott, and seconded by James Bushnell, it was decided not to grant the request of the petitioners, believing that the continuance of local option is to the best interests of the municipality.

MAY COST $2,00 A YEAR TO CARE FOR NEW PUMPING STATION

At last night's meeting of the City Board of Works a discussion as to what monetary arrangements could be entered into with Engineer Hiram Jamieson of the Fire Department for taking care of the pumping station machinery in connection with the South City sewerage system, elicited the information that Jamieson expected $200 a year above his present salary for the additional duties asked of him.

It appears that the care of this machinery will need a qualified engineer, and Ald. Buller was, to say the least, very much surprised. Mr. Chipman, he said, had given Council to understand that this machinery would be simple and of an automatic character, requiring but very little attention, and now we find that it needs skilled care and supervision.

Ald. Buller next took exception to the engineer of the Fire Department acting in any such dual capacity, and felt convinced that the Fire Underwriters would be unfavorably impressed with Peterborough's provision against fire possibilities should any such arrangement be entered into. In any event the People's Candidate, was sorely disappointed that such an expense should be deemed necessary, and offered that as the machinery has to be given fairly close attention, an effort be made to secure the services of some one handy who is not dependent upon his day's labor for a livelihood and would undertake the duty at a smaller consideration as a "pick-up."

The matter was left in the hands of the chairman of the Board of Works, and of the Fire, Water and Light Committee, to report.

$34,000 DOLLAR FIRE AT BETHANY

Eight Buildings, Including the Town Hall Destroyed—Source of Conflagration a Mystery.

The business portion of Bethany has been totally destroyed by the fire fiend who early yesterday morning inflicted a loss of $34,000 upon that little community.

The premises burned are:—T. J. Jackson, butcher and grocer; L. B. Sisson, barber; A. Monk, harness shop; Chas. Reynolds, hardware, tinware, etc.; Miss Atkins, dwelling; D. T. G. Brereton, drug store and office town hall.

The fire equipment of the little burg is of an obsolete nature, consisting of a length or two of hose and a couple of hand pumps. But willing volunteers were in evidence including employees of the C.P.R. on construction work, gave all possible aid, utilizing atemporary water tank nearby and to which the water was fed by a hydraulic pump at the creek. This pump was kept in continuous operation and was agreat help.

The fire was got under control at about 4 o'clock, after burning four hours.

Mr. J. J. Preston, member for East Durham, telephoned to this city for aid, but as unloading conditions at Bethany were not favorable, the local apparatus was not sent. Chief Howard, however, boarded afreight, and reached the scene just as the fire was under control.

A citizen fell from a two storey building and was picked up unconscious in which condition he remained for one hour. On examination, Dr. Brereton pronounced his injuries not serious.

Yesterday the town had no telephone connections and the winter supply of coal stored at the rear of King street, burned all morning.

After all danger was passed, Mr. Preston supplied refreshments to the volunteers, who did such good work. His own services during the progress of the fire were very much appreciated by the people of Bethany.

BLAMES FATHER VAUGHAN.

Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux says that the Ontario Conservative vote at the Dominion elections was due in a large measure to the indiscreet, unwise and imprudent sermons of Father Vaughan, whose arraignment of Protestantism as a soulless religion had been peculiarly ill-timed.

MOROCCAN SULTAN'S HAREM BOASTS TWO THOUSAND WIVES

Even King Solomon Has to Give Way to the Ruler of Morocco, Who Spends Much Money on His Pets

Tangier, Nov. 4.—When France seriously takes Morocco in hand, what will be done with the harem of the Sultan's Palace at Fez? That is one of the interesting questions asked here since the Franco-German negotiations took a pacific turn.

The Sultan of Morocco has an establishment there that is greater than that of any other ruler, for one of the most striking features of his household is the harem of two thousand wives.

Compared with the Sultan of Morocco, Brigham Young, Solomon, and other polygamous characters were moderate. True, the Musselman's are not allowed by the Koran to have more than four wives under one man's roof; but the Sultan is believed by his people to have a special arrangement with Heaven. By virtue of the complacency of Allah the Sultan can repudiate to-day the wife he wedded yesterday and replace her by another. But the repudiated wives are not allowed to quit the palace. They continue to live in the harem with the concubines of Mulai Hafid.

The Sultan obtains his wives from all parts of his dominions. Kaids desirous of pleasing him, offer him their daughters in marriage, for Mulai Hafid is very exacting. He insists on this tribute from honorable families, and that accounts in a large measure, for his unpopularity.

The whole harem is under the direction of two negresses, called the grand mistress and the little mistress. These insist upon the most rapid discipline being observed. The women must not use their ten fingers in independent occupations. They must simply hold themselves in readiness to please the Sultan. When he wishes to receive a visit from one of his wives, the grand mistress is informed. Accompanied by two slaves, that important personage enters the harem, touches the momentary favorite on the shoulder, and takes her to the Sultan's quarters. Arrival at his door, all four prostrate themselves and say three times: "God bless the life of Sidna."

The Sultan is by no means mean with his wives. Each receives costly raiment and jewels which would make the wife of the average millionaire green with envy. In one night Mulai Hafid has been known to pay two hundred thousand dollars for jewelry for his wives. In fact there are jewellers who have grown rich upon the sales made to him.

AWFUL MASSACRE OF WOMEN AND CHILDREN

Hankow, Nov. 3.—The rebels at Hankow have beheaded Colonel Chang Sin Yang, who commanded in the battle on Friday last, when the rebels met with reverse. Other officers in the revolutionary cause also suspected of treachery have met a like fate. A foreigner reports that he saw the rebels kill twenty Imperial prisoners and a thousand of the wounded.

Shasi in Hupeh province, and Yochow, in Hunan, are flying the revolutionary flag.

Pekin, Nov. 3.—The German Legation to-day received a wireless message from the vicinity of Hankow, stating that the Imperial forces are now burning the native city of Hankow, and confirming yesterday's report to the Chinese War Board that the Imperial troops massacred men, women and children during several days' fighting.

It is evident that the Manchu soldiers are infuriated over earlier Chinese successes and they have gotten out of hand of the their officers.

GOT DRUNK AND LOST $90

Yesterday afternoon, at two o'clock a man, who said he hailed from the lumbering districts, was arrested at the corner of Simcoe and George streets in an intoxicated condition. He required physical support to reach the police station, where in a sort of rambling way he asserted that he came to this city Thursday night, the happy possessor of $90, of which money, however, he had been in some unaccountable manner unduly relieved of his money.

INDUSTRIAL COUNCIL FOT LINDSAY.

W. McComb Gets The Position of Industrial Commissioner at a Salary of $100 a Week.

Lindsay Warder:—At a meeting of the subscribers to the Industrial Commission Fund held in the council chamber last night, Mr. W. McComb, the man who was instrumental in retaining the Sylvester business in Lindsay, which was taken over by Mr. Tudhope and which at the present time employs some 45 hands, was appointed to the responsible position of Industrial Commissioner of Lindsay at a salary of $100 a week, he to pay his own expenses. In a large measure the securing of the Seymour power in Lindsay is due also to Mr McComb's systematic work and energy.

An industrial council of five gentlemen was also appointed comprising Messrs. J. D. Flavelle, chairman Newton, Smale, John Carew, Jas. Boxall and J. O'Reilly.

Mr. McComb expressed his appreciation on being appointed to the responsible position and belived that he could do the work for the town. He would like to see Lindsay a city of 10,000 in 1915!

CHASED HIS LAST INDIAN.

Buffalo Bill Shoots Ashes From Last Cigar and Retires From Show Life.

Richmond, Va., Nov. 3. Col. W. F Cody, Buffalo Bill) retired from public life to-night. His show was packed off to winter quarters and his Indians will return to their tepees in what is left of the Red Man's land. Buffalo Bill intends to spend his remaining years in the Wyoming Big Horn, where he helped to make American history. So far as public exhibitions are concerned, he has shot the ashes from the last cigar and chased the last Indian.

From acareer which began as a pony express rider and included many Indian battles and 28 years as a showman, Col. Cody became known as one of the most picturesque figures in American life.

The sobriquet Buffalo Bill was earned in the early sixties, when he contracted to furnish buffalo meat to the laborers constructing the Kansas Pacific railroad. In less than 18 months he killed 4280 bison.

THE WEATHER.

Fine and a little colder.

HERE IS A WOMAN OF VERY FEW WORDS

TELLS WHY SHE RECOMMENDS DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS.

She was Run Down, had dark Circles under her eyes and her Kidneys bothered her—Dodd's Kidney Pills cured her completely.

Upper St. Rose, Gloucester Co., N. B., Nov. 3.—(Special)—"Dodd's Kidney Pills are a grand medicine for suffering women." In those words Laura Robichaud, a well known and highly respected resident of this place voices her sentiments in regard to the grand old Canadian Kidney Remedy. And, like others who have borne similar testimony, she speaks from experience.

"I can recommend Dodd's Kidney Pills because they cured me," Miss Robichaud says. "I was in a generally run-down condition. I had dark circles under my eyes and my Kidneys bothered me. Two boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills fixed me up."

This statement is made up of few words, but it describes the exact condition of thousands of women in Canada. They are run-down, have dark circles under their eyes, and they may not even know it, but their Kidneys are bothering them. If they follow Laura Robichaud's example and use Dodd's Kidney Pills they will cure their Kidneys, and good health will follow naturally.

Kansas City, Nov. 3.—The councilmen in Hunnewell, Kan., are a little more polite now when they address Mrs. Ella Wilson, the only woman mayor in Kansas, according to the mayor and Mrs. Rose Hiltop, her city clerk. Mrs. Wilson and Mrs. Hilton came to Kansas City to confer with Attorney-General Dawson.

"Things are improved in Hunnewell," Mrs. Wilson said to-day.

Why the American Fleet Assembled

Secretary of the American Navy George von L. Meyer gave the following reasons for the assembling of the great Atlantic fleet at New York:

"This unusual assemblage of ships is to demonstrate the preparedness of the navy and its efficiency.

"It was devised also in order that, brought all together, it might be determined what is needed, where the weakness lies and what we are short of, whether in men or material.

"When the review by the President is over we shall get together and go over reports and see in what requirements in men and materials we are lacking.

"It is already obvious that there is a shortage of men. To equip the ships properly we shall have to ask for 5000 additional men for the fleet, or five per cent."

Asked how much better is the navy than in the Spanish war, Secretary Meyer replied:

"Fully 1200 per cent. in efficiency as measured by the increased rate of firing, the increased range of target, the effectiveness of new appliances the studied selection of the man for the job and the increased percentage of hits.

GOOD PROGRESS BEING MADE ON SOUTH CITY SEWER BY DAY LABOR

The most difficult part of the sewer construction work in connection with the new pumping station in South City has been overcome by day labor, under the foremanship of Mr. Wade. The section of pipe laying from the station on George street, north to Westcott street—through a bed of quicksand—the work in hand when contractors Bogue and Conroy refused to finish the contract has been satisfactorily completed. The work in hand now is on Romaine street, eastward, which labor Engineer Hay contends will be materially simplified by the Government lowering the water in the river and lake 5 feet in aid of construction work on the new wharf on George street. In contradistinction to Engineer Chipman's opinion that work on this sewerage system should be now abandoned until next spring, City Engineer Hay is quite optimistic of yet completing considerable of this work before King Frost renders proceedings impracticable. He offered that the cold weather of the past week has proved of assistance in excavating owing to the peculiar nature of the soil. Yesterday, for instance, forty feet of pipe were laid.

In this connection, City Engineer Hay informs The Times that the sewer pipe from Aylmer street to the King Edward School, will have to be relaid, the bed of the sewer having sunk owing to a withdrawal from the soil of water.

DESPERATE STAND OF THE TURKISH ARMY

Constantinople, Nov. 3.—The commander of the Turkish forces at Tripoli telegraph's his government under date of October 30, as follows:—"The Turks have occupied all the forts surrounding the town. The Italians are demoralized, and do not dare to venture outside the zone of fortifications!"

Tripoli, Nov. 3.—The Turks this morning brought up a few guns to the south of El Mosri and opened fire This was not effective, as most of the shells failed to explode. The Italian artillery soon silenced the guns and forced the enemy to retire.

About 5 o'clock last evening Turks appeared before the line of defences, and forced the 82nd Italian infantry to retire. The cruiser Carlo Alberto soon located the Turkish artillery and by a well-directed and vigorous fire silenced it.

Malta, Nov. 3.—It is reported that the whole Italian fleet has left Tripoli for Turkish waters.

MR. CRAIG APPOINTED FOREMAN OF SOUTH CITY SEWER WORK

FOREMAN WADE HAS RESIGNED THE POSITION.

The Government's New Wharf on George Street Will Obstruct the City's Storm Drainage—Board of Works Racing With King Frost to Satisfy Citizens in the Matter of Sewers.

The City Board of Works met last night. Chairman Ald. Metheral presided, and there were also present Aldermen Duncan, Anderson, Morgan, Graham, Buller and Brown.

City Engineer Hay is always present at these meetings to advise.

The meeting was called mainly with a view to appointing a foreman over the South City sewer construction in the place of Mr. Wade, who has been appointed to supervise the building of the new wharf for Peterborough, on the Otonabee, immediately south of the Geo. Matthews Co's packing house.

Moved by Ald. Duncan, seconded by Ald. Graham,—That Mr. Craig be appointed foreman in Mr. Wade's place at $3 aday.

Mr. Craig has had experience under Mr. Wade and is accounted a good man.

Ald. Buller did not fall in line with the resolution. He thought Mr. Bartlett, whom he said had not been treated right, should be appointed foreman over this work. Mr. Bartlett, he contended had had more experience than Craig, and the promotion to foreman of a man from the rank and file was not conducive to discipline over the same men with whom he had worked shoulder to shoulder.

Ald. Duncan considered that Mr. Bartlett had had all that is coming to him.

Ald. Brown was inclined to agree with Ald. Buller, although he did not offer to second an amendment Ald. Buller was ready to move that Mr. Bartlett receive the appointment.

Ald. Morgan offered that if Mr. Bartlett received the appointment there would not be one of the present staff on the job in a week.

Ald. Graham agreed to this.

Ald. Duncan's motion here carried and Mr. Craig received the appointment.

DIVERSION OF ROMAINE ST.

The chairman reported that the C. P.R. company is willing to widen the road southward by three feet in the diversion of Romaine street to the Monaghan road.

Incidentally, the City Engineer mentioned that the road as diverted by the company is now two feet wider than the old travelled right-of-way.

Ald. Duncan thought that unless this diversion were cribbed it would be dangerous to equestrians.

On motion of Ald. Duncan, the company will be requested to widen Romaine street at this point three feet to the south side, and crib the road and properly maintain the culvert.

AFTER THE GOVERNMENT

The City Engineer reported that the storm drain from Rink street to the river where the new wharf is being constructed on George street water front will need extending. As it is the Government's intention to fill in the outlet of this drain to accommodate the wharf, the Board concluded that the Government will extend said outlet. Should they not do so it will not be the fault of our Board of Works.

STREET GRADING.

The chairman was authorized to grade Bethune street from Hunter to Simcoe streets, where surface water lies to a considerable quantity.

SEWER FOR FREDERICK ST.

To Ald. Buller, the Engineer replied that the sewer will be constructed on Frederick street this year should the weather keep open a little longer.

TO PROVIDE CROSSING.

Ald. Brown asked that two loads of gravel be placed on John street, with which to make a crossing to Pearson's premises. This was granted.

Ald. Brown reported the catch basin at the corner of Park and Dalhousie streets is higher than the road. The street at this point will be graded.

AGREEMENT RATIFIED.

The Board ratified an agreement between the city and the Auburn Power Co., by which, in consideration of the city deeding to the company a small portion of land at the head of Water street for race-way purposes, the latter lay awater pipe across their new dam to furnish fire protection at Auburn.

This matter has been freely reported before.

Here is a woman who speaks from personal knowledge and long experience, viz., Mrs. P. H. Brogan, of Wilson, Pa., who says, "I know from experience that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is far superior to any other. For croup there is nothing that excels it." For sale by all dealers.

THE CANADA NATIONAL FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY

was incorporated by Special Act of the Parliament of Canada for the purpose of carrying on the business of Fire Insurance, as outlined in the Insurance Act and the Special Act of Incorporation.

Capital Stock Authorized by the Board.....$2,000,000
Capital Stock Subscribed to date.....$1,650,000

The Head Office of the Company is in the city of Winnipeg, and, in addition to this, Branch Offices and Agencies will be established throughout the Dominion.

It must be generally conceded that, owing to the satisfactory conditions at present prevailing throughout not only Western Canada, but the entire Dominion, this Company is being organized at a most favorable and opportune time.

Canada, and particularly the Western portion of the Dominion, is advancing in population and wealth more rapidly than at any other time in its history, and every indication points towards a period of great prosperity and development.

The great influx of settlers into Western Canada is resulting in tremendous activity in every line of business. Railroad construction is proceeding on a scale hitherto unknown in this country, and as adequate transportation is of vital importance in moving our immense crops with a proper degree of facility, it is highly encouraging to see so much well-directed energy along the lines of railway extension

Coincident with railway expansion, we find many new districts rapidly filling up with desirable settlers, bringing with them a good supply of cash and effects. With the settlement of the rural districts, new towns and villages are springing up, which will, during the next few years, become, in many instances, important business centres.

With such unprecedented growth in Western as well as Eastern Canada, involving an expenditure of millions of dollars in building operations, it is at once evident that there is a very extensive and profitable field for a new Fire Insurance Company which will have a thorough organization throughout the length and breadth of the Dominion, and more particularly in the four Western Provinces.

As a great volume of our business will be transacted in the West, it is a matter of the greatest importance that the Head Office of the Company, as well as the Directors, should be located in the West, so that the affairs of the Company may be conducted to the best possible advantage.

DIRECTORS.

The Board of Directors consists entirely of Western men with a very intimate knowledge of Western conditions, and they are, accordingly, well conversant with the financial and general business requirements of the West. They are thoroughly representative of the various important branches of financial, commercial, industrial and professional life in Western Canada, and with their wide reputation for business ability and integrity, as well as financial standing, combined with a long and varied experience, and practical knowledge of business affairs, they are exceptionally well qualified to render excellent service to a large financial institution.

As the Directors have valuable connections with extensive business interests and are also Directors of other financial corporations, as well as being otherwise identified with large and influential companies which control a great deal of high-grade fire insurance, they will be instrumental in placing a large portion of this desirable insurance with the new Company, so that we may safely conclude that from the very beginning of operations a large and profitable business will be secured.

Under these favorable conditions, and with a strong, energetic, as well as experienced and conservative management, combined with the fact that each Director has subscribed for eleven thousand five hundred dollars ($11,500) of the Capital Stock, on which all calls have been paid, and takes an active interest in the welfare of the Company, there is only one conclusion to draw, and that is that the affairs of the Company will be conducted in such a careful, conscientious and intelligent manner that the interests of both policyholders and stockholders will be fully protected.

IT IS WORTHY OF NOTE THAT $1,650,000 OF CAPITAL STOCK HAS ALREADY BEEN SUBSCRIBED BY PROMINENT BUSINESS AND PROFESSIONAL MEN THROUGHOUT THE DOMINION AND ELSEWHERE.

No commission has been paid to anyone for securing stock subscriptions, and no expenses has been incurred in the promotion and organization of the Company, except the expense in connection with securing the Charter and other necessary expenses.

THE CANADA NATIONAL FIRE.

The Canada National Fire, being organized in the West, MAY BE TRULY CALLED A WESTERN COMPANY, and, as such, should receive the liberal patronage and hearty co-operation of the citizens of Western Canada, as well as the support of people from Eastern Canada who desire to become associated with a strong and progressive Canadian Company.

When promoting this Company the Directors were fully convinced that there was a splendid opening in Western Canada for a Company prepared to carry on the business of Fire Insurance on a large and comprehensive scale, and which, at the same time, could offer ADEQUATE PROTECTION TO BOTH POLICYHOLDERS AND SHAREHOLDERS. Accordingly, when making application for a Dominion charter, the Company was incorporated with a capital of $3,000,000.00, of which amount the Directors decided to offer for public subscription the sum of $2,000,000.00.

THE ALL-IMPORTANT FEATURE IN FIRE INSURANCE IS PROTECTION, and with the LARGE CAPITAL, combined with the high standard of Reserve, which will be maintained through careful selection of risks and profits from judicious investments, the Directors and Management feel confident that this Company will be accorded a very hearty reception by Canadian citizens and will soon rank as one of the leading Fire Companies.

WITHOUT A LARGE AND SUBSTANTIAL CAPITAL FOR THE PROTECTION OF THE POLICYHOLDERS, A FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY IS SERIOUSLY HANDICAPPED, AND DOES NOT AFFORD THE POLICYHOLDER THAT PROTECTION TO WHICH HE IS JUSTLY ENTITLED, and the Directors of this Company, being fully aware of this most important fact, are adopting a very wise policy in OFFERING FOR SUBSCRIPTION SUCH A LARGE AMOUNT OF CAPITAL STOCK, and when our entire stock is subscribed and paid in full it will represent the largest amount of subscribed and paid-up capital of any Canadian Fire Insurance Company, and will be a tower of strength and of very material benefit to the company in carrying on its extensive operations.

GENERAL AGENT FOR CANADA

W. E. FUDGER, ESQ.

It shall be the policy of the Company to use the UTMOST DISCRETION in the selection of desirable risks, and, at the same time, to so widely distribute its business that any danger arising from a possible conflagration at any point may be reduced to a minimum.

The investment of the Company's funds will be given the GREATEST OF CARE AND ATTENTION by the Board of Directors.

Only GILT-EDGE securities will be considered, such as first mortgages on improved, productive real estate, stocks, bonds and debentures of companies of high repute, as well as Dominion securities and municipal, county and school debentures of well-established districts.

As a LARGE PERCENTAGE of these securities is READILY NEGOTIABLE, the Company will have abundant LIQUID ASSETS to meet any possible contingency that might arise.

Our first mortgage investments will be confined to Western Canada, and as the rate of interest obtainable on first-class productive real estate is FULLY TWO PER CENT. greater in the West than in Eastern Canada, the Company will have a DECIDED ADVANTAGE over Companies operating exclusively in the older portions of the Dominion. A fixed policy of the Company is to loan NOT MORE THAN FIFTY PER CENT. of a conservative value of the property, and to stipulate for a definite return of principal, together with interest, each year during the term of the loan. With these periodical repayments of principal, and with land values in Western Canada steadily increasing, the Company's first mortgage securities will continue to improve year by year.

With the active development in Western Canada, a great deal of capital will be required for many years to come, and the Company will, therefore, experience a very ready demand for its funds on high-grade securities and at a profitable rate of interest.

The Directors decided to issue the stock at the price of ONE HUNDRED AND FIFTEEN DOLLARS PER SHARE, being at a premium of fifteen per cent.

THE TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTEON ARE:

On application, $25.00 per share, which shall include the premium of $15.00 per share, and the balance, payable in ten consecutive half-yearly instalments of $9.00 per share, the first of such half-yearly instalments to become due and payable six months from date of allotment of shares.

Shares may be PAID IN FULL at time of subscription, but if purchased on the INSTALMENT PLAN the subscriber shall have the privilege of paying any or all of the instalments prior to due dates.

The Following Table Shows the Amount of First Call as Well as the Subsequent Payments:

NO BONUS STOCK shall be issued for any purpose whatsoever, and even the Directors, who are very heavy stockholders in the Company, have paid the SAME PRICE for their shares as the general public. NOT ONE SHARE has been or will be issued to any person at a price less than $115.00 per share.

THIS IS A RARE OPPORTUNITY to secure some of the Capital Stock of a Western Fire Insurance Company. With a large amount of desirable and profitable business so readily obtainable by the Company through its valuable and extensive business connections, rapid progress should be made, and with investments carefully selected and unexcelled in earning power, the Company will be enabled to not only pay substantial dividends, but build up a large reserve, and thereby materially increase the value of the stock.

The Directors firmly believe in the policy that EVERY SHAREHOLDER SHOULD CO-OPERATE WITH THE MANAGEMENT of a Company and take an active interest in its welfare. For that reason, it is their intention to WIDELY DISTRIBUTE the CAPITAL STOCK, and by that means obtain the support of the leading business and professional men throughout the country.

With the rapid development of the West during recent years, involving an outlay of many millions of capital, it has become generally recognized that WESTERN CANADA IS VERY MUCH IN NEED OF MORE LARGE FINANCIAL INSTITUTIONS, AND ESPECIALLY OF WESTERN ORIGIN, to properly meet the growing requirements of the West, and to not only improve the present financial situation, but to materially assist in retaining, as much as possible, desirable business, with its resultant profits, within our own Western borders.

The business of fire insurance has now grown to such large proportions that it has become a very important factor in the financial and commercial world, and as its scope and influence is so general and widespread it is only natural to find that the question of AMPLE PROTECTION TO POLICYHOLDERS, which is the PRIMARY FUNCTION OF FIRE INSURANCE COMPANIES, should be so GENERALLY DISCUSSED AT THE PRESENT TIME.

This important subject has given rise to a very STRONG FEELING in Western Canada that the TIME HAS NOW ARRIVED when the Western people should organize a Fire Insurance Company of such strength and proportions that it will soon rank as one of the leading fire companies of America, and command general respect and confidence, which is so ESSENTIAL to a company that solicits the support and patronage of all classes of the community.

The Directors have every confidence that they will receive the hearty co-operation of not only Western citizens, but of people from every part of the Dominion, to build up a GREAT fire insurance company with AMPLE PROTECTION for the people, and which will be a source of pride and credit to our country.

The following Canadian Government Insurance statistics should prove of ESPECIAL INTEREST:

In the year 1900 the total amount of fire premiums collected in Canada was $1,785,539.00, whereas in the year 1909 the total premiums charged amounted to the large sum of $22,293,633.26, and of this amount $6,551,644.41 was charged by Canadian Companies, $11,518,267.45 by British Companies, and $4,223,721.39 by American Companies.

During the last forty-one years the aggregate amount of fire insurance premiums collected in Canada reached the immense total of $280,740,466.00, of which the large sum of $218,310,047.00 represents the amount of fire premiums collected by FOREIGN COUNTRIES, and which, therefore, was taken out of the country to build up foreign companies and enrich foreign shareholders.

Notwithstanding that a considerable portion of the fire premiums collected in Canada by Foreign Companies has been repaid to Canadian policyholders, through fire losses, it must be evident that the larger the proportion of Canadian fire insurance that is placed with Canadian Companies, the larger is the amount of capital retained in the Dominion and always available for investment purposes, to build up our Canadian financial institutions, and thereby add to the general wealth and prosperity of our country.

The above figures are most significant and clearly demonstrate that while the CANADIAN FIRE COMPANIES have been doing a satisfactory business they HAVE SECURED only a SMALL portion of the Fire Insurance transacted in Canada, or, to be more exact, ONLY TWENTY-TWO PER CENT. of THE TOTAL FIRE INSURANCE WRITTEN IN CANADA, covering a period of the last forty-one years. With the extraordinary progress which Canada has been making during recent years, the field for financial institutions has become so widely extended that there is a CONSTANTLY INCREASING DEMAND for new large financial corporations.

By further reference to our Government statistics it will be observed that at December 31st, 1909, the total number of Canadian Fire Companies operating under Dominion charter was ONLY TWENTY-ONE, and of this number ONLY TWO HAD A PAID-UP CAPITAL IN EXCESS OF $500,000.

In promoting this large Canadian Company the Directors are fully confident that the new organization will, with characteristic Western energy and enterprise, soon come to be recognized as an important factor in the insurance world, and as The Canada National Fire will be instrumental in RETAINING WITHIN THE BOUNDARIES OF CANADA a large amount of money which would otherwise be taken out of the country to build up foreign corporations the people of this growing Dominion will readily see the advisability of giving this Company their MORAL AND FINANCIAL SUPPORT, in order that we may build up a STRONG and VIGOROUS Company which will prove a valuable acquisition to our Canadian monetary institutions.

This is the last opportunity to secure, direct from the Company, some of this desirable stock.

It is worthy of special note that the demand for the stock has exceeded the Directors' most sanguine expectations; in fact, of the $2,000,000 of stock to be issued, $1,650,000 has already been subscribed, and, from present indications, with the large number of applications for stock being received daily, the Directors are confident that the balance of the issue, which is now only $350,000, will be subscribed by August 20th, 1911, the date appointed for the closing of stock subscriptions.

For this reason, the Directors strongly recommend the investing public to mail their applications for stock at their earliest possible opportunity.

Subscribers are requested to kindly fill in attached application form, stating name in full, number of shares desired, occupation and address, and mail the application, along with the first call of Twenty-five Dollars ($25.00) per share on the stock, direct to the Head Office of the Company, Winnipeg, Man., or, if so desired, application may be made for the stock at any of the Company's Branch Offices or at any Branch of the Royal or Imperial Banks, where application blanks and any additional information will be readily furnished. Applications for stock will be considered in the order received, and on approval of the same by the Board of Directors a certificate for the number of shares subscribed will be issued and mailed the shareholders forthwith. Cheques, Drafts, Money Orders or other remittances on account of stock subscriptions should be made payable to The Canada National Fire Insurance Company.

KING EDWARD VACUM CLEANER

You cannot clean carpets, rugs and furniture by beating. If you think you have, just try a KING EDWARD VACUUM CLEANER and you will find the article full of dust, which breeds disease.

The KING EDWARD HAND MACHINE has no equal as compared with other hand machines. It is lighter to operate and its suction is much stronger. Its suction is stronger than many of the power machines, and the dusting is done away with. On account of the short stroke one person can operate it on carpets and rugs equally as well as two, and it is about half the weight of other hand machines to carry up and down stairs or from one room to another. It is sold for less money than any of the hand machines. All machines are guaranteed.

A Splendid Display.

In connection with the Grand Trunk Exhibit at the Festival of Empire, Crystal Palace, London, England, further advices dated September 12th have been received from London regarding the awards that were given to the Grand Trunk, and the Grand Trunk Pacific, and it is gratifying to know that these companies have received four "Grand Prix" for their splendid display, instead of two that were announced in the cable received on Sept. 1st.

An Interesting Booklet.

The Times is in receipt of a very interesting booklet dealing with the Maritime Provinces as a promising field for those who desire to establish new industries, or to profitably invest capital in the exploitation and development of natural resources. The obvious advantages of many parts of New Brunswick and Nova Scotia are ably presented in detail, together with many cheerful facts that ought to impress those who have capital ready to invest in a new field that is certainly rich in opportunity. It is commendable that while the eyes of the world are upon Canada, and thousands of new settlers are pouring into the West from many countries, an honest effort is being made to point out the advantages that exist in the east. The booklet will be mailed free to those who write the Industrial Department Intercolonial Railway, Moncton, N. B.

Present Disadvantages of Canadian Farmers.

At present the United States farmers have a great advantage over us. It costs 25c a bushel to send wheat into the United States. They can send their wheat into Canada for 12c a bushel, with rebate of 99 per cent. of duty when ground in bond. It costs us 30c to send a bushel of barley to the United States. They can ship barley into Canada for 15c. If we want to ship beans into the United States we have to pay 45c a bushel duty. The beans can come into Canada for 22c. They charge us 25c a bushel on the apples we send them. We charge them only 40c a barrel on what they send us. They charge us $4 a ton on the hay we send them. We charge them $2. They charge us 6c a pound on cheese, we charge them 3c. Thus it is with almost every farm product.

Under reciprocity these disadvantages will be wiped out, and we will be able to deal with them on an equal basis. Is not this worth while?

Home for Christmas

The Steamship Lines are expecting a large home-going exodus for the holiday season this year, and are making extensive preparations to take care of all of those who are planning to visit the Old Country.

The White Star-Dominion Line has arranged for three special Christmas sailings, viz. the "Canada" December 2nd, "Megantic" December 9th, and "Teutonic" December 14th, from Portland, Me., and Halifax, N. S., to take care of these passengers. These steamers will arrive in ample time to enable passengers to reach their homes before Christmas whether in England or on the Continent.

The railways have recognized the growing popularity of these annual Christmas excursions and now run special trains from Montreal and the west to connect with the steamers, and the most complete arrangements are made by both the steamship companies and the rail lines to further the comfort of the homeward bound ones during the holiday season.

Grand Trunk Opening New Territory

The new territory in the Canadian Rocky Mountains that is being opened up by the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway has already become the Mecca for a number of Alpine Climbers and those who love to get away from the turmoil of the busy city and explore mountain fastnesses that are practically unknown. Some of the travellers who have gone into this Yellow Head Pass territory are now returning, and one gentleman writes to the Grand Trunk Pacific Headquarters as follows:—"Lake Maligne is a beautiful lake between 16 and 18 miles long. I have visited all the other transcontinental lines both in Canada and the United States, and there is no lake or district along any of these lines that can compare with the Lake Maligne country. Some of the mountains around the lake are in the neighborhood of 12,000 feet. Lake Maligne is reached from Henry House a few miles west of Fitzhugh, the Second Divisional point, and covered with ice fields which make them very beautiful."

Friendship of Books

To fall in love with a good book is one of the greatest events that can befall us. It is to have a new influence pouring itself into our life, a new teacher to inspire us, a new friend to be by our side always, who, when life grows narrow and weary, will take us into his wider and calmer and higher world.

Whether it be biography, introducing us to some humble life made great by duty done; or history, opening vistas into the movements and destinies of nations that have passed away; or poetry, making music of all the common things around us, and filling the fields and the skies and the work of the city and the cottage with eternal meanings — whether it be these, or religious books or science, no one can become the friend even of one good book without being made wiser and better.

Cause of Rheumatism

Many physicians believe that rheumatism is the result of over-feeding, followed by putrefactive changes in the foodstuffs in the alimentary canal; that the action of certain bacteria produces specific toxic (poison) substances which, when introduced into the blood, cause a deviation from the normal oxidation process, thus causing the condition that is designated rheumatism. In the majority of instances it is probably due to eating too much of the vegetable class of foods; in other cases it is the result of eating too much meat.

AN AEROPLANE FROM NATURE

Recent Insect Discovery Among Grape Vines Is of Remarkable Appearance, Built Like An Aeroplane

A resident of Cliffondale, Mass., [illegible] the surprise of his life the other day when he started to water his garden. Picking up what he thought was another delicate colored piece of grape vine twig he was astonished to find that it had a sting in it, and in a few minutes realized that he had been stung by one of the strangest species of insect that he had ever [illegible].

The insect is one of the [illegible] peculiar species that one could [illegible]. From the top of [illegible] its head it measures five inches. It has six legs, in two sections, each three-quarters of an inch in length. The first section of the legs is a light brown color at the point where they join the body of the insect. The second section of the legs is of a brilliant green tint. The body of the insect resembles the color of the small branches of a grape vine. On the tail are horns about an eighth of an inch in length.

The head is about the size of a small shot and contains two little eyes as black as coal. Just at the side of each eye are two light red feelers which extend for two inches. It is built like an aeroplane and flies [illegible].

Dr. EUGENE QUESNEL
A Prescott County Politician

Dr. Quesnel of Hawkesbury is not inexperienced in politics. He ran as an independent candidate for the Federal House in 1908, when he failed to get the Conservative support elected, but succeeded in polling [illegible] votes on the strength of his personality alone.

Born at St. Eug[illegible] Jean, educated first at Alfred Village and then at the [illegible] Rigaud, he graduated in literature, science and [illegible] Laval University, Quebec, and took his medical course at the College of Physicians and Surgeons in Toronto, graduating M.D. in [illegible].

The doctor started practice in Rockland and Sudbury and later removed to Hawkesbury where he became so much of a useful man in public affairs, that in 1907 the people chose him Reeve of the town and in 1908, 1909 and 1910 elected him Mayor. During his mayoralty terms, Dr. Quesnel was instrumental in putting the town in its present excellent condition. Under his guidance Hawkesbury first took its place above the average of places of its size.

Dr. Quesnel is married, his good lady being formerly Miss Josephine E. Fortier, of Pembroke.

Parental Tactics.

A [illegible] parent is sometimes obliged to do something like this. "Pa, what is a transcendentalist?" "Have you chained up the dog, as I told you?" "Not yet, pa." "Well, do that, and when you come back I will tell you what a transcendentalist is." While Bobby was gone his astute parent dug the needed information out of a dictionary.

A man's ideal woman is simply one who believes everything he tells her.

Sons of the King.

The Prince of Wales, much to his disappointment, it is said, is not destined for a naval career. He may spend only six months on the Hindustan, and after that enter a cavalry regiment.

The future of the King's next son, Prince Albert, has been engaging the King's attention lately, and it is understood that he will eventually become a midshipman. In his case the navy will furnish him with a career. Prince Henry, the third son, is not fitted for the strenuous life of a sailor and he may, after spending some years at Eton, be gazetted to a cavalry regiment.

WHAT CANADIANS ARE DOING

L. S. GOODEVE

Although born in Guelph, Ont., Mr. Goodeve is more generally associated with the far west, where he has been located for considerable portion of his life, and where for a time he filled the position of Provincial Secretary in the McBride Government, prior to coming east to represent Kootenay, B.C., in the Federal House in 1908.

Educated at the Guelph Public and High Schools, he followed on to the Ontario College of Pharmacy, of which he is a medalist, and at an early date thereafter, migrated to British Columbia, taking up his residence in the town of Rossland. Here he soon began to take an active interest in municipal affairs and in the session 1899-1900 was in occupancy of the mayoral chair. In addition to the appointment in 1902 as Provincial Secretary in the McBride Government, he was chosen Provincial Forestry Commissioner in 1909. Mr. Goodeve is married, and the family circle includes four boys and two daughters.

Dr. R. P. ROBINSON,
Successful Son of the Farm

One of the prominent physicians of Ottawa, young Robinson left the parental farm on the banks of the Rideau in Leeds County, at an early age, professional life appealing more strongly than that of agriculture. He was educated at Trinity and Queen's Universities, obtaining his medical degree at the latter college.

About 22 years ago Dr. Robinson started practice at Carleton Place under the aegis of his uncle, Dr. R. F. Preston, M.L.A., who is now the well-known and highly esteemed chief whip of Sir James Whitney's Ontario government. In about a year the doctor moved to Ottawa and began to practice, devoting much time to hospital work. He manifested considerable interest in politics, and from the first identified himself with the local Liberal-Conservative organization. A Conservative all his life, Dr. Robinson probably inherits his politics, as another uncle, Dr. R. H. Preston, also represented the county of Leeds in the legislature for 18 years.

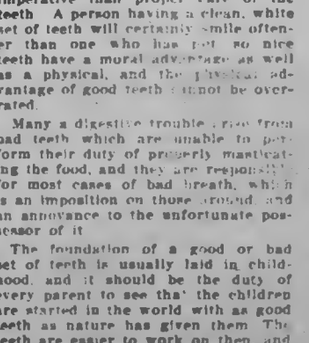
Claim is Made that the Human Teeth Give Fairly Straight Indication of Character and Temperament.

Among the duties which we owe to our person, there is none more imperative than proper care of the teeth. A person having a clean, white set of teeth will certainly smile oftener than one who has not so nice teeth have a moral advantage as well as a physical, and the physical advantage of good teeth cannot be overrated.

Many a digestive trouble arises from bad teeth which are unable to perform their duty of properly masticating the food, and they are responsible for most cases of bad breath, which is an imposition on those around and an annoyance to the unfortunate possessor of it.

The foundation of a good or bad set of teeth is usually laid in childhood, and it should be the duty of every parent to see that the children are started in the world with as good teeth as nature has given them. The teeth are easier to work on then, and a few precautions in early life will prevent much misery and expense later on.

Dentists, who have made a study of the matter, claim that the temperament is indicated by the teeth, and probably it is so, as no two persons have teeth exactly alike. Very white, sharp, pointed teeth, like a squirrel's are said to indicate a vixenish temper and a malicious disposition, while strong, even teeth, with a yellowish cast, are a sign of a long-lived person. Other signs are numerous, and might make an interesting key to character study.



STRUCK DUMB WITH AMAZEMENT

Mr. A. O. Wheeler, F.R.G.S., Director of the Alpine Club of Canada, has just returned to Vancouver from a summer spent in the Canadian Rockies in the vicinity of the Yellowhead Pass, and is greatly impressed with his trip.

In an interview with Mr. Wheeler, he stated: "It has been the general impression that the Rocky Mountains of Canada attain their greatest average height not very far north of the boundary line. True, of late years much has been heard of Mount Robson, which dominates the region of the Yellowhead Pass, but the popular notion was that there was nothing else in the neighborhood worth seeing, and that the Grand Trunk Pacific would pass through a region of little interest from the point of view of the tourist or mountaineer.

"There was no mistake about Mount Robson. It is without doubt, as was stated by one of the most travelled and skilled mountaineers of the day, Dr. Norman Collie, one of the most magnificent mountains in the world, whether seen from the south, the view that is most familiar on all sides were found mighty snowy, or from beautiful Berg Lake, it still stands supreme. In the bundled peaks, widespread snowfields, red-ruin circuit of the great massif loom ice-falls, rushing torrents, waterfalls, flower-clad meadows and vast stretches of dark pine forest. Many of the peaks were named by the surveyors, but they are legion, and it will be many years before they are fittingly known as individual mountains."

In speaking of the Robson Glacier, which lies on the east side of this monstrous mountain, Mr. Wheeler said: "It struck us dumb with amazement that anything so stupendous, so superb, so undreamed of, should exist. At our feet flowed the great river of ice, every crevasse, every moraine, every icefall, clearly portrayed. Directly opposite rose the massif, its outline clear from base to summit for fully 8,000 feet. From the beautiful meadows at the head of Resplendent Valley twenty-five peaks were counted, all unknown and unnamed. And lakes, which perhaps lend the most characteristic charm to Canadian mountain scenery, were everywhere."

At the summit of the Yellowhead Pass Mr. Wheeler's party erected a monument defining the boundary between Alberta and British Columbia at the intersection of the Great Divide. On the tuzo post set up, which is surrounded with a big stone mound are carved the words: "British Columbia on the west face; Alberta on the east face; and on the south 3,727.98 feet, being the altitude of the summit at the point where the post is set."

Clearing of right-of-way on the uncompleted gap of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway from Tete Jaune Cache westward to Aldermere in Bulkley Valley, was started a few weeks ago by the contractors, Messrs Foley, Welch & Stewart. Operations thus far are restricted to the route along the south fork of the Fraser between the Cache and Fort George.

Sir James Whitney to The Electors

into with the Grand Trunk Railway for running rights of its trains over the line ,in consideration of which the company assumes an equitable share of the general maintenance of the road and pays the sum of $300,000 per annum as rental for such running rights, this sum representing one-half of the interest on the total cost of construction of the railway.

The Power Question

The great scheme for the utilization of electric power has, after many vicissitudes and in the face of bitter and relentless opposition, been accomplished and is now in operation and practically within reach of the farmers and other residents in the villages and rural districts, and I am glad to say that the cost of construction has been $85,000 less than the estimated cost. It should not be forgotten that this policy of the government contemplates the furnishing of electric power at cost to all sections of the province, but great efforts have been made by interested individuals to hamper and prevent the carrying out of the intentions of the government in the central and eastern parts of the province. So far have these efforts gone that in all probability we shall be compelled to use the powers given us by statute with reference to expropriation.

I cannot dismiss this subject without referring to the very patriotic and unselfish exertions of Hon. Adam Beck, chairman, and his colleagues of the Hydro-Electric Commission, Hon. J. S. Hendrie and Mr. W. K. McNaught, M.P.P. To their continuous and unselfish labors may be ascribed a large part of the credit for the success of this great enterprise, and I doubt if our history shows a similar instance of devotion to public interest without fee or reward. I may say also that, in our opinion, the time has come when, having regard to the conduct of public business under our system, the Hydro-Electric Power Commission should be discontinued and a new department of government created which should take charge of this great work, and the head of which should be a cabinet minister. For several reasons this change is desirable.

Mining Revenue

In 1904 the value of our mineral output was something over $11,000,000, while in 1910 it was more than $39,000,000, and the revenue from mining sources has increased from an average of over $70,000 per annum to an average of over $771,000 per annum.

Immigrants to the number of nearly 8,000 were brought into the province by the department of colonization and located in the year 1910, and the figures for the current year, when available, will show an increase.

What is practically a new wing of the Parliament buildings, which will provide a large increase of much-needed office accommodations, is nearly finished, as is also the new and additional wing to the north of and adjoining the main building.

A very desirable site for a new government house has been purchased and contracts for the foundation and the stone work have been let; the site of the present Government- House has been sold and the purchase money will suffice to pay the cost of the new site and new building, leaving a considerable sum for maintenance of the latter.

The Central Prison and Lunatic Asylum properties have been sold for the sum of $1,025,000; the succession duties for the current year have passed the million-dollar mark, while the revenue as a whole has continued to increase, and this year will be considerably over $9,000,000, as compared with a little less than one-half that sum in 1904.

Reasons for Dissolution

The above is a hurried resume of some of the results achieved under the auspices of the government, the benefits resulting from which the province is now enjoying, and I now come to the question of dissolution of the legislative assembly.

The life of the existing assembly already exceeds in length the life of its predecessor, and there are eleven vacant seats in the house caused by the death of the esteemed late member for West Victoria, Mr. Fox; by the resignations of eight other members —seven of whom have been elected to the House of Commons—and by the resignation of Hon. Frank Cochrane, who has accepted the portfolio of railways and canals in the new government of Canada, and by whose departure the government, the Legislative Assembly, and the Province have alike suffered a serious loss.

A large expenditure—$15,000 or more—would have been incurred by holding by-elections to fill these vacancies, and the expenditure would have to be repeated within a year.

Under our system the practice favors a dissolution before the expiration of the life of the legislative assembly by effluxion of time, and the facts as stated are ample justification for a dissolution now, and, in face of the public notice given by me some weeks ago, it cannot be urged that anyone has been taken by surprise.

But there are other reasons why my colleagues and I desire to consult the electorate—reasons of great and vital importance, having regard to the development of the province and the prosperity of its people.

New Ontario

The question of the further opening up and development of New—or Northern— Ontario, is obviously of great importance and should be dealt with without delay. In this great work of development the government has been handicapped in the past. Ordinarily the provincial government spends large sums of money annually for immigration purposes resulting in large additions to the population. The Dominion Government expends money for similar purposes on a much larger scale, but so far with practically no benefit to Ontario ,and this for more than one reason.

The only result of the additions to our population in the newer districts, as far as the government of the province is concerned, is that the annual geenral provincial expenditure is increased, while the Dominion treasury receives large sums annually by reason of the increased consumption of goods paying tariff duties, and in the older sections of the province the amounts received for municipal taxation are increased.

Under these circumstances we have felt that, in the face of the facts as stated, financial aid should be afforded us by the Dominion Government in the work of immigration and development generally, and our views in this respect have been put before the public by me on several occasions.

It was, therefore, with much satisfaction that my colleagues and I took note of the announcement some time ago by Mr. Borden, now the prime minister of Canada, that if he came into power he would favor the giving of financial aid by the Dominion to the province in the work of immigration to New Ontario, the construction of permanent highways oin the province, and for providing practical instruction in agriculture. We must be ready, therefore, to do whatever may be necessary on our part in order that the moneys to be appropriated by the Dominion Government for these three great purposes may be used to the best advantage. In this connection it is believed that any scheme of development, including the construction of highways, wholly or partially by means of such financial aid or in conjunction with moneys appropriated by the province, will in all probability necessitate the enactment of statutory provisions of a very important character in order that such financial aid, together with any additional appropriations by the legislative assembly, may be applied with the best results.

Bonus for T. & N. O. Railway

Further, under the rule and practice of the Dominion Government before, during and since the completion of the construction of the Ontario Government Railway, the Dominion Parliament appropriated to railways constructed by individuals and companies a bonus or subsidy of $6,400 per mile, but, although requested more than once to grant a similar subsidy to the Ontario Government Railway, the late Dominion Government steadily refused such request. In our opinion the province has in this matter not received the treatment to which it was undoubtedly entitled, and my colleagues and I are strongly of opinion that, having regard to the very great importance of these questions, the people of the province should be given the opportunity of pronouncing without delay.

(1) As to the advisability of further provincial appropriations if necessary to any scheme of development by reason of the financial aid to be given by the Dominion Government, and also of any statutory enactment which may be found to be necessary under the circumstances aforementioned;

(2) Whether the government of the province shall continue to urge upon the Dominion Government- the payment of the said bonus or subsidy on account of the construction of the said T. & N. O. Railway, known as the Ontario Government Railway; and

(3) Whether a department of government shall be created, with a cabinet minister at its head, to take over and carry on the work heretofore done by the Hydro-Electric Power Commission.

To conclude, my colleagues and I feel that the people of the province are fairly well acquainted with the record of our efforts in the public interest. No attack worthy of notice has been made upon us for anything we have done or left undone. Our acts speak for themselves. We realise that, being mortal, we have made mistakes, but we submit that our mistakes have been few, and I conclude by expressing our earnest appreciation of the confidence heretofore reposed in us, and with a determination to deserve a continuation of it in the future should the opportunity be given us.

I remain, gentlemen,
Your obedient servant,
J. P. WHITNEY.

Splendid Investments Offered by This Well Known Firm.

The Times would call special attention of investors to the advertisement of the T. C. Holt, Limited, of North Vancouver, one of the most substantial and prosperous brokers and real estate firms on the Pacific Coast. Capitalists in the east are now looking to the west for safe and profitable investments, and there is probably no spot on the continent where more money has been made faster than in Vancouver real estate. North Vancouver is rapidly forging ahead, and those who are able to get in now will be sure to reap a golden harvest.

T. C. Holt, Limited, recommend the following investments to their clients :

1st—While they last, 100 shares in the T. C. Holt Ltd. at $100 per Share. 25 per cent. on application and 10 per cent. per month until fully paid up. This Company being strictly under Government supervision is not allowed to sell their shares for less than par. We consider these shares a good and safe investment, as they will bring the investor a dividend of from 10 to 20 per cent. per year or more. Only a limited number left.

2nd—Investments in Real Estate. Remember, Mr. Investor, inside property in North Vancouver, is as yet cheaper than property in Point Grey, Fairview, South Vancouver, or Grand View, on the outskirts of Vancouver. 5 years ago an investor North Vancouver, far $10,000, to-day bought a corner on Lonsdale Avenue the same piece of property is worth $100,000.00. We can buy for our clients to-day property for investment from $1000 to $50,000.00 and over and can almost guarantee a profit of from 25 per cent. to 50 per cent. in a couple of years.

3rd—Investments in Mortgages and Agreements of Sale which represent a very safe and sure investment and bring in from 8 to 10 per cent. per year. Nearly every day some party calls in our office and invests his money in Mortgages or Agreements of Sale. They say they prefer absolute safety for their money with a good rate of interest, rather than no interest with a hope of increase in selling value.

Progress is the dominant note in the City of Vancouver to-day, and where progress is, where wealth accumulates, there will realty values advance, and this is inevitable in Vancouver.

Sciatica

EXPECTED DEATH ANY DAY.

Another Case Where Life Was Saved and Health Restored by "Nerviline."

We have all read and heard of the agonies of Sciatica, but only those who have been tortured by this dread malady can fully appreciate what it must mean to be cured after years of suffering.

It is because he feels it his solemn duty to tell to the world his faith in Nerviline that Victor P. Hires makes the following declaration : "For three years I was in the Royal Mail service and in all kinds of weather had to meet the night trains. Dampness, cold and exposure brought on sciatica that affected my left side. Sometimes an attack would come on that made me powerless to work. I was so nearly a complete cripple that I had to give up my job. I was in despair, completely cast down because the money I spent on trying to get well was wasted. I was speaking to my chemist one day, and he recommended "Nerviline." I had this good liniment rubbed on several times a day, and got relief. In order to build up my general health and improve my blood I used Ferrozone, one tablet with each meal. I continued this treatment four months and was cured. I have used all kinds of liniments and can truthfully say that Nerviline is far stronger, more penetrating, and infinitely better than anything else for relieving pain. I urge everyone with lumbago, neuralgia, rheumatism or sciatica to use Nerviline. I know it will cure them."

CURED SIX YEARS.

There isn't a more highly-esteemed citizen in Westchester than Mr. Hires. What he says can be relied upon. For six years since being cured he hasn't had a single relapse. Don't accept anything from your dealer but "Nerviline." Large size bottle 50c, or sample size 25c ; sold everywhere, or The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

A Pleasant Trip.

The Grand Trunk Pacific are in receipt of a letter from a prominent traveller in Eastern Canada, who has just returned from a trip to the West and which included a journey on the Grand Trunk Pacific from Winnipeg to Wainwright and return.

He states : "I must say it was one of the pleasantest experiences in a long life of travel. Having seen the road in the making, and being aware of the high standard set up, I was prepared for a good roadbed, and was not disappointed, for we rode as smoothly as between Montreal and Toronto. The sleeping cars are models of comfort, and the service on them, as well as the dining cars, couldn't be better. The Grand Trunk are setting the pace for general excellence in Western Canada."

Reporter Wanted

THE BACKWOODSMAN

By Acton Seymour.

that way." He pointed in a direction away from Corran-acche. "And you keep going. Don't you ever come back. That's your chance, and if you don't take it, you'll swamp calipers for a golden harp — and you can take that straight from me."

It was insult that sought to provoke. Harry understood. He restrained himself.

"I've got nothing against the rest of you," Wiggin went on. "I'll simply advise you to be getting back to where you came from. It's you I'm after. I've got you," he said to George.

"So you've turned into a hired thug, have you?" inquired Harry, surveying him contemptuously.

The men who stood in the shadows were armed. Most of them appeared to be woodsmen from the near-by operation. They were not particularly savage looking. Some of them were grinning, as though their expedition were a lark. But Wiggin prompted by his grudge, did not try to hide his animosity.

"Wiggin, I have more right in these woods than you have," proceeded the Corran manager. He walked straight up to the young desperado. Wiggin held his ground, swinging his gun in front of him, relying on it for protection. "You're mixing into a thing that's none of your business."

"I've got charge of seeing that you're put out," stated Wiggin. "That makes it my business, all right!"

"Then, you're a cheap, hired thug as I said you were. Put down your gun and put up your fists. I've got an account with you." It was angry youth declaring itself.

But Wiggin was not there for fair combat. "You step back," he growled and started to raise his gun.

Harry's training in athletics had been in the way of quickness of attack and dexterity. He caught Wiggin's forearm with the wrench that makes the strongest yell with the agony of twisted muscle and snapping bone. The rifle fell.

"Stand back, you hellions!" roared Bragg. "This is a man's fight. Keep back away from it, or here's fifty pounds of dynamite that goes into that camp fire." The fire was between Wiggin's men and the combatants. There is something devilishly deterrent in a sack of dynamite. At the moment, Bragg wore an expression that backed up what he threatened.

Even in the stress of the conflict, Harry wondered whimsically whether he was to find nothing except fisticuffs in that dreadful north country! He had been forced from one battle to another with grim iteration. His opponent came on to his feet. The wrench had sent him to his knees. He made toward his gun with a coward's desperation, but George beat him back, and he fell with his face bleeding.

"There's the mark I've kept waiting for you," cried Harry. "Wear that in the place of the one Clare Corran gave you."

It was a taunt that stung so sickedly that Wiggin struggled up, and came at his adversary once more. Woodsmen enjoy a fight. Even Wiggin's men stood back, curiosity as well as that brandished sack of dynamite governing them.

But in spite of his strength, the untrained bully stood no show against the man who had already half mastered him.

He went down again, and Bragg yelled in delight.

But he fell across his gun that lay unmarked in the mêlée. His hand clutched it, he rolled over, and, half reclining, fired it as George was rushing up him. The bullet struck one of the young man's upraised arms, and he went down with a groan.

"You've killed him! You're all in it! I'll testify against you in court!" shrieked Bragg, and the men fled in terror. From where they had stood, after retreating at sight of the sack of dynamite, it looked as though Wiggin had killed his man. Bloodshed, certainly, was more than they had reckoned on. They had come merely to intimidate.

Bragg leaped upon Wiggin, and wrested the rifle from him, and kicked him into unconsciousness. Then, he ran to George. He ripped the sleeve from his arm, and bandaged it with the fragments of cloth. "It's broke, sir, it's broke," he gasped; "but, thank the good Lord, you ain't dead!"

"Give 'em the dynamite — give 'em the dynamite," muttered Harry. "Don't wait. They want fight. Give it to 'em."

Bragg helped to raise him to his feet.

"You bet, I'll give it to 'em! Can't you lean on a couple of the boys, Mr. George? I don't want to leave you here. They'll come back."

Harry's faintness had gone, under stress of his excitement. He went away with them. They left Wiggin lying where he had fallen.

With a man to bear him company, George took his position on a hill that towered above the camp of the timber looters. He did not see what took place. But his ears told him. Bragg scattered his men, and ordered them to await the signal of a rifle shot. The devastation was simultaneous all along the line. The awful roar of the detonations came up to Harry where he lay, and the earth rocked under him. Then, one by one, gasping, running, his men rejoined him. Bragg closing the retreat.

"We'll wait till morning before we move," puffed the intrepid lieutenant. "And I reckon that then we'll find we've got the place to ourselves."

His prediction was true. Those who scouted in the early dawn reported that the camps were empty.

"I figger that a part of them got out when they thought Wiggins had killed you," stated Bragg, on his return. "And when the dynamite split the night wide open, the rest of 'em probably thought there was a land that was fairer than this. There's nothing left standin' but the main camp, and that log hauler is the sickest piece of machinery since Nelson left scrap iron in Trafalgar Bay. We're goin' to put you to bed in the camp, Mr. George, and send for a doctor. You needn't worry. Old Romeo is on guard from this time on."

His patient tried to protest that he was able to walk, but he staggered when they raised him. An hour later, he was unconscious in his bunk, and a messenger was running toward Corran-cache with the memory of Bragg's oaths and brandished fists to spur him.

XI.

During that day and the next, the old guide left Harry only to scurry to his outposts and issue profane orders to shoot an enemy on sight.

"The boy's sick," he told them. "I'm afraid he's all in. Oh, won't that doctor ever get here?"

Such ministrations as he understood he gave the young man, lying there in his fever. Bragg hardly ate. He did not sleep. He cursed continually under his breath; he knew no other way of relieving his feelings.

When the doctor did arrive, he was accompanied by a retinue that made Bragg open eyes and mouth. Clare Corran led them on her black horse. She was first into the camp.

"He dont know nothin'," whispered Bragg, at her elbow. "He ain't knowed a thing for days. But, sure, Miss Clare, he is a bully fighter. I ain't much of a hand to pray, but I tell you I've offered up a few bushels of petitions for that yougster."

She was on her knees beside him when the doctor hurried in. Governor Harriss was with him, scrubbing his thin hands, murmuring anxious regrets.

Of the tale of that following fight with death, Clare Corran was the heroine.

When, after many days, Harry opened his eyes upon a world that he dimly, weakly knew as reality after his dreams, the doctor told him of the battle the girl had waged for his sake.

"She went right down into the valley of death with you, Mr. George. I did what I could; but you can feel certain that her arms drew you back. Medicines can do a lot, but a woman can do more than medicines. I'm going home, now. She wants to do the rest."

During the days of his convalescence, he lay gazing at her, trying to frame the thanks that he owed. He wondered at his inability to say them. Once or twice, he tried weakly to utter some of his thoughts, but she checked him with a smile.

At last, he understood why he could not thank her as his soul prompted. He wanted to go down on his knees and pour out to her the love of his heart. He knew himself, now. He had seen what unselfish devotion really meant. He knew what courage signified. He realized that there is a soul-consuming love that differs from the mere attraction of man to woman. But he could not go down on his knees to her. He had to shut his teeth upon his lips. Mary Laroche had his pledge.

One day, the lawyer sought them out in the woods, led by Governor Harriss, who had constituted himself their postman and messenger.

Romeo Bragg was still commander of the guard, vigilant and determined, though the enemy did not reappear.

"I have secured the injunctions," the lawyer told them. "Something happened to make them mighty supple. They did not come into court to fight us."

Clare told him of what had occurred on Number Eleven. He had not heard till then.

"That did it," he assured them. "They found they had picked up too hot a proposition. They're as ready to hush it as you are. And with the law behind us now, you're safe. I'll hurry home, and clinch things."

Governor Harriss had laid the mail on George's couch, and, after the lawyer had gone, he opened his letters. There was one from Mary, but he did not open that while Clare was there. She glanced at the envelope, understanding, and went out. Grief stabbed his heart when he saw that her lips were quivering. He sat a while, tears blurring his eyes, and then opened the letter.

The next moment, he was on his feet in spite of his weakness. He took another look at the contents of the envelope, and then, with a choking cry, he followed her.

She had sat down under the big pine that shaded the camp. Her worry for his welfare showed itself in the cry she gave when she saw him, and perceived the expression on his face.

"You should not try to walk, yet," she chided. But he hurried to her, and pushed the letter into her hands.

"A wedding card!" she gasped. "What does it mean?"

She looked into his face, and suspected.

"It's not — it's not the——"

"It's the girl," he said. "Read it — read the letter. I could not. I could not wait. I could not see."

Controlling herself — turning his face from him, she read:

"Dear Harry: You will understand and forgive me, maybe. But if you cannot forgive me, remember that I thought I loved you once. You left me and I——"

Animal Love.

Mother love is universal, and there is no love like the mother love. Most of the high and lofty loving in this world is done by mothers. Apart from this the work of wooing falls to the male members of the family whether it be the human family or some one of the other animal tribes. We read how, ages ago, a Bulbul, or Oriental Nightingale, wooed a white rose until it blushed red, and that was the beginning of the red rose. The Spanish Cavalier stands out in the rain and serenades his "Dulce Mia" until there is a crick in his neck, while she sits sheltered in a window above.

The cackle of the loon may be a love song for all we know. Maybe that's what made him loony in the first place.

The wild moose bellows his passion across the lake, and as likely as not the answering call is from a bark horn in the hands of a hunter, luring him to death.

It seems a sizzling shame, but if you will take a Grand Trunk train and travel into the "Highlands of Ontario" you will find men doing that very thing; arguing, doubtless, that all is fair in love and war.

SPEND A WEEK AT ALGONQUIN.

The popularity of the Algonquin National Park, Ontario, has been pronounced this year, and it has been necessary to use at least 25 large tents as an auxiliary to the accommodation of the Highland Inn, at Algonquin National Park Station.

Most people return to their homes in the early part of September, but as this is one of the most delightful months in this territory, those who can make it convenient are advised to spend a week or two there. The hotel is also open all the winter and with the bracing air of this locality (1700 ft. above the sea) a most delightful sojourn can be spent even in the winter months.

A handsome illustrated booklet may be had on this territory upon application to Mr. A. E. Duff, Union Station, Toronto, Ont.

Real Estate, Mining and Industrial Investments

HOW $100 GREW TO $31620

The value and importance of any enterprise must be based on the profits and dividends it can earn. In this respect the Midway Maple Leaf Oil Company, Limited, is without a parallel in the line of investments.

It combines the attractive factors which are needed to make the perfect investment—viz., safety, large earning capacity and low cost of the stock at the start. It is not at all uncommon for oil stocks to begin at a few cents a share and jump to hundreds of dollars a share—sometimes thousands.

	Started at	Has Sold at
Central	10 cents	$2.10
Monte Cristo	10 cents	$4.00
Lucile	10 cents	$16.00
Silver Tip	25 cents	$4.00
San Francisco and McKittrick	40 cents	$28.00
Kern River	50 cents	$8.75
Peerless	50 cents	$8.75
Puente	$10.00	$150.00
Home	$10.00	$5000.00

This list, taken from San Francisco and Los Angeles Stock Exchange records, could be added to almost indefinitely.

Fortunes have been made from stock increases. stock is $200, YOUR YEARLY PROFIT ON AN INVESTMENT OF $300.

When we have ten wells sunk you can reasonably figure on AN ANNUAL PROFIT ON YOUR HOLDINGS OF $2000.

$2000 A YEAR. DOESN'T THIS APPEAL

Many a case could be cited similar to that of Richard Ellis, clerk in a store in Los Angeles, whose investment of $100 became worth $31,620 in a short time. There are hundreds of such cases in Los Angeles alone.

$2000.00 Profit a Year

Do you realize that stock in the Midway Maple Leaf Oil Company, Limited, at the present price of 30 cents a share is not merely the opportunity of the year—IT IS THE OPPORTUNITY OF A LIFETIME.

If you have $10, $50, $100 or $500 YOU SIMPLY CAN NOT AFFORD TO PASS IT UP.

If we develop only a 1000 barrel well of 26 gravity oil, this production alone will be sufficient to enable the corporation to pay a dividend of 20 per cent. and at the same time have sufficient capital to continue the drilling of wells.

1000 shares of stock at the present price of 30c costs only $300.

20 per cent. dividend on the par value of the TO YOU? Wouldn't you like to be coming up to this office every three months and getting your dividend cheque for $500?

Remember, too, that your stock holdings in Midway Maple Leaf, if you should want to sell them should be worth $18,000 or sixty times the amount of your original investment.

Consider These Facts

The Midway Maple Leaf Oil Company is working in proven gusher territory, the richest oil zone in the world, controlling 40 acres on one-eighth royalty, with the great advantage of the option to purchase at only $1250 per acre after oil is struck, and the ground must then be worth at least $5000 per acre. This means a clean profit of $150,000 over purchase price. It has been demonstrated completely by gushers on adjoining Standard and Honolulu ground, that this portion of the Midway field is not only the richest portion of the whole district, but that it produces the highest grade of oil found in the entire vicinity, and worth 50 per cent. more per barrel at the well.

EASY FISHING IN THIS CLASS

In Filling the Crab-Claw Market the Original Owner is More than Obliging to the Man Who Supplies the Goods.

Visitors in Seville see women carrying baskets full of crabs' claws. The claws are cooked, and people nibble at them, more for fun than for sustenance, just as Russians nibble sunflower seeds. What becomes of the rest of the crustacean, especially, if he is a crawfish, of his tail?

As a matter of fact, the crabfish has no part in the business. The claws are taken from a salt water crab, which lives along the shores of Morocco, Spain, and Portugal. Each little crab, with its one little mate, has a cave for a home, and, adopting the Eastern estimate of the other sex, he usually keeps his wife shut inside the cave, meanwhile staying about the threshold himself and making a brave show with his big claws.

When the tide runs out, the crab fishers prowl along the beach looking for crab holes. Either the crab is stalking up and down seeking what he may devour, and thus showing whether he has fine claws, or he is still at home, and the size of the doorway indicates the size of the householder. In one case the fisherman cuts off his retreat by blocking his front door with mud; in the other case he digs him out. Anyway, he deprives him of his pincers and sets him at liberty, to grow some more.

Right here appears the quaintest feature of the whole affair; for the the claw with him, and romps off home without it.

pincers are not torn away from the crab at all. Instead, he presents them to the fisherman, perhaps even with his compliments. It is a fact easily demonstrable that the crab can detach his claw by muscular effort, thus making no hemorrhage, but leaving the stump in such a condition that a new claw is soon grown. The fisherman simply takes the crab by the hand, whereupon it lets go, leaves the claw with him, and romps off home without it.

The Moose and the Lilly Pad.

The moose's love for the lily pad that floats on the surface of the northern lakes make him appear reckless and unafraid. In summer, even in September, the fishermen often cut him off from the shore, drive him into deep water and have fun with him. Sometimes, when the moose reaches shoal water and gets his hind feet on the bottom, he has fun with the fisherman, smashes his canoe and makes him swim for his life.

However, after the shooting season opens the moose becomes more cautious.

There are thousands of moose around Lake Temagami. At North Bay you change from the Grand Trunk to the Temiskaming and Northern Ontario and get off at Temagami Station.

The Fort Garry.

The work of constructing the second of the Grand Trunk's System of palatial hotels has begun at Winnipeg. It has been definitely and finally decided that the Winnipeg hotel, which will be of the same style of architecture as the magnificent "Chateau Laurier" at Ottawa, shall be called "The Fort Garry."

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

THE COMFORT OF INDEPENDENCE ASSURED THE B. C. FRUIT GROWER

In British Columbia Fruit Growing is synonymous with Success. The fame of the five-acre fruit farms of the Fraser Valley is spreading to every corner of this continent. Already "Fruit" suggests the Pacific Coast, soon it will direct the thoughts instinctively to British Columbia, particularly to the lower Fraser River Valley.

FLESHERTON GARDENS, which I am now selling, is the cream of this Valley land. The soil is a rich deep chocolate, humous and friable, free from weeds, stones or stumps. Good roads lead to the property and two railways are ready to carry the fruit to market. The Chilliwack line of the B. C. Electric Railway CUTS THROUGH FLESHERTON GARDENS, and the Victoria, Vancouver and Eastern is only a few yards away. Over a dozen trains pass the property every day, and the traffic will increase in the immediate future.

BIG PROFITS IN FRUITS AND VEGETABLES.

Do you know that you can make immense profits in fruits, tubers and vegetables on the Coast? To-day last year's potatoes are selling at $70 a ton in Seattle, only a few miles from here. In Westminster and Vancouver the price is from $60 to $65 a ton. Cherries fetch 50c a pound and strawberries 25c a box. All other fruits are high in proportion. Remember these are NOT FANCY PRICES, but to-day's quotations. There is no difficulty in selling the fruit, for people here have the money and don't mind the price.

IT'S EASY TO SECURE THE LAND

I have placed FLESHERTON GARDENS on the market on very easy terms, $200 each and the balance spread over several years. You can have your pick of these five acre farms at from $150 to $350 per acre. You cannot find a better investment anywhere; no matter how rosy other prospects may be, this one leads them all.

Sign this blank, and mail it to me NOW. I can tell you a great deal more about FLESHERTON GARDANS in a personal letter. It's to your advantage to get all the information you can.

SLOWLY DYING

THOUSANDS ARE SLOWLY DYING FROM CATARRH, BUT DON'T KNOW THEIR DANGER.

A Case in Point

Mr. Ulric Berault, a young gentleman who has lived for years in Sweetsburg, Quebec, inherited Catarrh from his mother. The disease spread through his system till he was a physical wreck.

"As a child," said Mr. Berault, "I was prone to an ulceration of the mucous lining of the throat and nasal passages.

"I grew pale and emaciated, lost all desire for food, and got into such a dreadful condition that my friends said that Catarrh was fairly eating me up.

"Every organ of my body seemed affected and the doctor said it was the first stage of consumption. He advised Catarrhozone, and I inhaled it ten minutes at a time every few hours, and was rewarded in a few days by a wonderful improvement.

"Catarrhozone pleased me and the doctor so well that I used it continually, and took Ferrozone Tablets after each meal to build up my strength. In about three weeks I was quite recovered, and the doctor says no remedy but Catarrhozone could work such a miracle.

"Every one in town knows I was just about dead with Catarrh, and my cure is an evidence of what Catarrhozone can do. It is a pleasure to recommend Catarrhozone."

(Signed) Ulric Berault."

Catarrhozone beyond question is the proper remedy for catarrhal and bronchial troubles. The medicated air goes all through the air passages of the head, throat and lungs. It kills the germs, heals the sore spots, allays irritation and keeps the breath pure.

Complete outfit, sufficient for two months' treatment, price $1.00; trial size 25c. Druggists or The Catarrhozone Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

Burned Yesterday.

The funeral of the late Mr. Wm. C. Taylor left the family residence, 176 London street, at three o'clock yesterday afternoon, and proceeded to the Little Lake cemetery where interment took place.—Rev. Robert Pogue, of St. Paul's Presbyterian church, officiated.

The pallbearers were Messrs. Dickson Hall, Gordon Hall, William Mannedays, and when about half way between Cain's mill and the farm, his attention was attracted by a moving object many yards in advance, which, on closer observation, proved to be a large bear making considerable haste to increase the distance between the marksman and himself. But Bob was too quick for bruin: bang! went the rifle, and the bear fell, the bullet having passed through his kidneys. He was conveyed to town by one of Mr. Laking's teams and is on exhibition at the stables of Mr. Wm. Spier, sr. The brute is said to turn the scales at 300 lbs.

New Charlotte Street Church.

The question of a new church for the Charlotte street Methodist congregation is being considered by the Board of Trustees who have asked a Toronto architect to prepare new plans and specifications for a building, as those that he had drawn were not acceptable. The site at the head of Simcoe street, known as the Aaron Cox property seems to be the one most in favor to date.

Scowload of Potatoes.

Yesterday morning a scowload of potatoes reached Peterborough from the country surrounding Rice Lake. Dealers, however, say that no reduction in price mult be looked for, as there is practically none of this very scarce vegetable in either Smith or Otonabee. Nova Scotia has shipped several carloads her of late.

Furnace Door Blew Open.

The fire brigade was called to J. J. Turner & Sons' premises, yesterday morning, to extinguish a small blaze created in the basement through the furnace door blowing open and thus permitting of sparks and live coals being scattered about the floor. Very little damage occurred.

Electric Light in Sleepers.

The Grand Trunk Railway have dispensed with gas for lighting purposes on their Pullman sleeping cars. A few sleeping cars are now fitted out with individual lights. "A few weeks ago the passenger department" said District Passenger Agent Duff, "fitted out their cars to North Bay, and Englehart, and they were so much appreciated by the travelling public that they decided to fit out every sleeper leaving Toronto."

Knox Church Anniversary.

The first anniversary of the above named church will be held on Sunday, December 10th, when Rev. Dr. Bartley, of St. Paul's church, Montreal, and one of the best known clergymen in Canada, will be here to preach special anniversary sermons. Rev. Dr. Bartley is a speaker of magnetic eloquence and power and was chaplain to Queen Victoria, visiting England each year to preach before Her Majesty. His visit here will be looked forward to by the citizens generally.

Lindsay Lad Missing.

Anxious parents are looking for their boy who left Lindsay on Tuesday night, supposed to be in company with another young fellow two years his senior. He is the son of Mr. Jas. Nicholl, of the East Ward, and has always been a good young chap. The supposition is that he left for Peterborough, but Chief Thompson has been communicated with and reports no trace of him. The youth had no money unless he drew on the cashier at the egg house plant, where he had been engaged plucking fowl for some days. A diligent search has been made along the river and secluded places, but, to no avail.—Lindsay Warder.

A Presentation.

Miss Annie McCann, who has been a most popular member of the choir of St. Joseph's church, Douro, and who is to be married next week, was honored by the members of the choir by whom she was presented with a dozen silver knives and forks and a suitable address. The presentation was made by Miss Mary Mahoney, while the address was read by Miss Annie Allen, the organist of the church. Miss McCann made an appropriate speech in reply, thanking the members of the choir for their kind words and gift.

Large Bear Shot Near Haliburton.

The Haliburton correspondent to the Minden Echo says:

No Excuse for Drunkenness.

Floyd McMaster and a man named Yorkton were charged at the police court yesterday morning with attempting to effect an entry into Constable Meagher's residence at three o'clock Tuesday morning. The two were under the influence of liquor and McMaster inadvertently stumbled upon the residence of P. C. Meagher into which, in his drunken wanderings he tried to enter by first trying the windows and then the doors. Mrs. Meagher, who was alone in the house with the children were terribly frightened. Her husband was on night duty up town at the time and afterwards she had to run about ablock to reach the nearest phone to communicate with the police station. Her nerves had been completely unstrung since the occurrence.

His Worship gave McMaster some pretty good advice, in the course of which he offered that the plea of drunkenness was no excuse for his action. McMaster was fined $5, which his father paid; his companion was discharged with awarning.

WILL PORT HOPE SECURE ANOTHER FACTORY?

A Proposition From the Canada Neckwear Co. to Purchase and Operate a Building at Present Idle.

After an extended nap in "Sleepy-hollow" Port Hope has at last awakened from its Rip Van Winkle state of somnambulism, and is now reaching out for desirable industries in order to stem the tide of retrogression until but recently so very apparent in that otherwise charming little lake board town. The latest industry in sight is that of the Canada Neckwear Co., represented by a Toronto gentleman, who proposes purchasing the factory building at the corner of Mill and Peter streets. The gentleman agrees to pay $5000 for the building, $500 to be paid on January 2nd, and the balance in instalments of $250 every six months. The building is to be enlarged and used for manufacturing purposes. He agrees to pay out in wages $12,000 per year and asks exemption from taxes except school taxes.

The guarantors are willing to accept the proposition, with one change namely, that the $500 be paid immediately instead of on January 2nd.

SIR JAMES WHITNEY TO THE ELECTORS

What the Government Has Done Since Entrusted to Power

A MINISTER OF POWER

The Hydro-Electric Commission to Be Superseded by a New Cabinet Minister

Sir James Whitney, Prime Minister of Ontario, in announcing that the date of the elections would be December 11th, issued the following statement to the Electors of the Province:

Gentlemen: Nearly seven years have elapsed since you entrusted the government of the province to my colleagues and myself, and in June, 1908, you signified, by an overwhelming majority, your approval of the record we had made up to that time.

Shortly stated, we had, in a little more than three years:

Abolished the numbered ballot.

Taken the first step towords the creation of agricultural schools by appointing district representatives in agriculture, and largely increased the expenditure for agricultural purposes.

Reconstructed the administration and financial resources of the provincial university.

Revised the mining laws and taken a cabinet minister from New Ontario.

Restored the old law relating to county councils.

Imposed taxation upon the railways, one-half of which goes to the municipalities.

Put an end to the granting of subsidies to railways.

Created a railway and municipal board.

Reduced the price of school books by one-half and destroyed the school book ring.

Revised the public school system, created a consultative council, to which the teachers elect representatives, and provided for large grants in aid of payment of teachers' salaries.

Honestly and successfully enforced the Liquor License Law.

Extended the government railway.

Brought the Hydro-Electric scheme forward and in sight of copmletion.

Increased the expenditure for the construction of colonization roads and encouraged the development of New Ontario.

Put the provincial finances on a sound and stable footing, doubled the provincial revenue, and put upon the statute book a large amount of important and constructive legislation.

Education and Agriculture

Since then we have gone on endeavoring to discharge our duties with an eye solely to the best interests of the people, and, among the results of our policy and our administration of the finances of the province are the following:

The amount payable towards the salaries of teachers in public schools has been increased until this year such aid will amount to about $475,000.

We have devised a system for industrial training in the urban schools liberally aided by money grants.

A course in agriculture for public school teachers has been established in the Agricultural College at Guelph.

The amount to be paid to the University of Toronto this year will reach to about the sum of $488,000.

The amount appropriated this year for the construction of colonization roads is $582,000.

The amount of revenue collected by each department of the government has largely increased.

Great success has attended the work done by district representatives in agriculture attached to a number of our collegiate institutes and high schools. In several instances municipal councils have increased their remuneration and there is a general demand for them from all sections of the province.

The commissioner appointed to collect information regarding legislation affecting the compensation for injuries to workmen and to report a bill in that behalf has made good progress with the very important matter he has in charge.

The erection of the new Central Prison buildings at Guelph has been commenced. A large part of the work has been done by the prisoners and the results fully justify the experiment tried by the provincial secretary of treating the prisoners as not unworthy of trust, rather than as ordinary convicts.

The board of parole instituted by the provincial secretary has proved to be an unqualified success, and great good has already resulted from the operation of it.

The main line of the Ontario Government Railway has been completed to Cochrane on the G. T. P. Railway, a distance of 258 miles, and the Porcupine branch it is expected will be completed to Matagami River before the end of the present year, when the railway, with branches, will have about 330 miles in operation. Surveys for a possible extension of the line have been made as far north as James Bay, in case it is decided to continue the line to that point.

There's Comfort in POSTUM

Many tea and coffee drinkers don't suspect that their nervousness, irritability, sleeplessness, etc, is caused by caffeine, the drug in tea and coffee.

These little aches and ills are Nature's protests against abuse; and when one's personal comfort is interfered with, common sense would suggest a change,

It's a safe move and a wise one to quit tea and coffee and take on well-made

POSTUM

When boiled until dark and rich (directions on package) and served piping hot with cream and sugar, Postum is a delicious, satisfying food-drink.

It contains the pure, wholesome nutrition of wheat—vitalizing, nerve-building elements which the body and brain require.

HARD TO LEARN
Takes Hard Experience to Teach People Some Truths.

Many people jeer at the idea that tea and coffee cause the aches and ails they suffer from and often such people will go on for years sticking steadfastly to tea and coffee and suffering month in and month out, but maintaining "Tea and coffee don't hurt me."

Only an actual test will open their eyes to what they throw away when they cast aside the richness and power of health for a cup of tea or coffee now and then. A lady says:

"I did not learn the real truth until I made the change, but I can now positively state that the headaches I had for about seventeen years were caused by drinking coffee for when I changed and gave up coffee and used Postum in its place I experienced entire relief. I have not been troubled with headaches since I began Postum

"This, in brief, has been my experience on the coffee question. Among my friends I have seen many other wonderful instances of the power of this food-drink when used in place of the drug-drink coffee. Among my friends there are those who tell me of relief from kidney trouble, neuralgia and eczema by leaving off coffee and using Postum and I have even known it to ease rheumatic pains in limbs.

"I readily believe these statements for since I cut out coffee and used Postum I never seem to have an ache or pain and I would not dare go back to coffee again. Not only myself but my family use Postum exclusively, and we know there is no hot beverage that can take its place.

"Nearly seven years steady use of Postum convinces me I know what I am talking about when I say it is a food as well as drink and most valuable to build up the system." Name given by Canadian Postum Co., Windsor, Ont.

THE REAL CURSE OF CANADA

The real curse of Canada is the intelligent man who yet is so wedded to his political party prejudices that when the war-drum beats at election time he would rather die than forsake his party. And yet this same man will begin a campaign which he will call an appeal to reason. If the people appealed to had no more reason than he has himself the country would quickly be reduced to the condition it was in when the palefaces first landed in it. Do they admire these political party hacks, the statesmanlike deliverances of Mr. Borden or men like him ? No. They want gall, wormwood and vitriol. The great fundamentals of civilization, viz.: faith, hope and charity are not to be found in their make-up. However no leader could ever lead or represent a nation or a people and act and think in such a helpless hopeless groove as that. Whatever the wild ones may do the leaders must act like grown men. Let us laugh with our leaders at mere politics for once then, and turn our mind's eye to the record of the Whitney Government. Is it bad ? No, it has not in any sense been bad. Is it capable of improvement ? Yes, we freely admit that it is, also that it will be improved. Is that the sort of government the people of this province with their grim experience of the past are likely to give up ? Hardly. Let us thank heaven that it is no worse. A sane, economical, honest government is worth voting for.

What will the quiet, sensible, intelligent elector say of the Whitney Government ?

He will say :—

I. It is honest—it has not allowed my money to be stolen by grafters.

II. It has not wasted my money in any direction—there is no sign of waste.

III. The functions of government are :

1. A business-like administration of the finances.
2. A wise handling of its departments, viz.: Education, Agriculture, Mines, Colonization roads, forests, licenses, prisons, asylums, laws.

IV. Objections that are lodged against the Whitney administration :

1. A certain unyielding attitude regarding taxation.
2. Adherence to a three-fifth clause.
3. Workmen's Act.
4. Responsiveness of the Attorney-General's Department.
5. Bi-lingualism, where none is supposed to be.
6. Power—Distribution and a tendency to pit the State against the individuals composing it.
7. Failure to establish a Department of Public Health and an immediate relief of the consumptive poor.
8. Failure to subsidize Children's Aid Societies.
9. Failure to place women on an equality with men.

But these will all be attended to.

The quiet, reasonable man will say, therefore, that the Whitney Government ought to be given another chance.

RECORD MADE BY C.P.R. IN TRANSPORTING HORSES

Montreal, Nov. 5.—Railway shippers and especially shippers of live stock will be interested in the record made by the Soo Line and the Canadian Pacific Ry. in transporting a shipment of horses from St. Paul to Vancouver last month. The shipment which consisted of one hundred and fifty thoroughbred horses, was made from Lexington, Ky., by Irving H. Wheatcroft, a retired United States Railroad man and the owner of several big stock farms. In shipping his stock via the Soo Line and the C.P.R. the only stipulation of importance made by Mr. Wheatcroft was that the horses should be delivered in good condition at Vancouver, not more than six days after they had left St. Paul.

In forwarding the shipment the C.P.R. not only made delivery at Vancouver within the six days but cut the time down to under four days—three days and twenty-one hours to be exact. The special train containing the horses left Minneapolis at 10.15 a.m., on Oct. 13, on Oct. 14, at 6.20 p.m. it reached Portal, and it left Portal the same night at 8.05 o'clock. The trip over the C.P.R. lines from Portal was made in sixty-two hours. Vancouver being reached at 8.50 a.m., Oct. 17th. This is remarkable good time, and on the arrival of the horses at Vancouver, Mr. Wheatcroft complimented the C.P.R. officials on the high standard of their freight service. The horses were eventually shipped to Australia on the Steamship Kishi, which sailed from Vancouver at 4.30 p.m. October 30th.

Following the announcement of the opening of the new Regina Colonsay Line of the Canadian Pacific Railway on Nov. 5th, it is stated that a second new service will be inaugurated on the Aldersyde, Alberta sub-division. At present on this line there is a service being operated between Lethbridge and Carmangay, but after Nov. 5th this service will be extended to Aldersyde, as since the first service was put on the part of the line from Carmangay to Aldersyde has been constructed. This line is through a country which is already fairly well settled and as much will give the farmers along the right of way good transportation facilities. The new station between Carmangay and Aldersyde are : Champion, Kircaldy, Yukan, Ensign, Brant, Blackie, Gladys. From Lethbridge to Aldersyde it is 84 miles ; from Carmangay to Aldersyde, which is the part of the line on which the new service will be inaugurated, it is 57½ miles.

This is one of the longest of the new branches which has been finished by the Canadian Pacific Railway this year, and it is an important one, as at Aldersyde it makes connection with the Macleod-Calgary branch. The service which will be inaugurated is a daily except Sunday one.

Wrinkleless Skin Now Easy to Have

(From Family Physician)

There's no excuse for any woman having wrinkles now. It has been found that a simple mixture of sanolite and witch hazel has a remarkable action upon the deepest wrinkles, no matter what their nature, whether caused by worry, habitual frowning, a debilitated condition or the ravages of Father Time. This harmless remedy, which anyone can easily make, obtaining the ingredients at any drug store, acts both as an astringent and a tonic. The combined effect of tightening the skin and heightening its vitality is to immediately affect every line and wrinkle, keeping the cuticle smooth and firm as in youth.

The proportions are one ounce saxolite (powdered) to one-half pint witch hazel. The solution should be used as a wash lotion. It is equally effective in disposing of flabbiness of cheek and neck, as well as sagging below the eyes.

ACQUITTED OF MURDER WILL SUE INFORMANTS

Ottawa, Nov. 4.—Felix Derouin, the Ponsonby, Que., farmer, who has been held by the Hull Police since October 10, on the charge of murdering an unknown by shooting, was acquitted by Magistrate Goyette this morning. The police have been unable to find the body of the supposed murdered man.

Immediately on his acquittal Derouin consulted his lawyer and decided to take action for damages against Mr. and Mrs. Ebenezer Curry of Ponsonby, the people who laid the information with the police accusing him of the alleged murder.

FATHER AND MOTHER KILL CHILD THEN DIE

Chicago, Nov. 4.—When a real estate agent went to the little house of Henry Letch, at 5027 Gunnison street to-day to collect the rent, no one would answer the door bell. A police man was summoned to break open the door.

In the little room that served as a living and sleeping apartment, the intruders found the family of three dead. Little Roy, 12, was in bed ; Mrs. Letch kneeling beside him and the father stretched on the floor nearby. Evidences of poisoning led the police at first to suspect a crime, but later they pieced together a story of a mother and father crazed with a religious zeal, who entered into a pact to kill themselves and their son.

A queerly written letter, evidently added together and jumbled with Biblical phrases and philosophies, told in German how the mother and father had determined "first to starve themselves as a penance, and then to purge themselves and die," because the world was unkind and the churches and ministers full of hypocricy.

Dr. Wild Webber, who made an investigation, said the family had apparently been dead for a week or more, and that their gaunt bodies indicated that they were nearly starved to death. The immediate cause of death, however, was a deadly purgative drug.

DIVORCED HUSBAND KILLS LITTLE GIRLS AND SUICIDES

Winthrop, Mass., Nov. 4.—Ludwig E. Jager took his two little girls from his divorced wife's home here to-day to a secluded spot on Winthrop shore, drive this afternoon and shot them both. He then turned his revolver on himself. Both the girls died and Jager is dying.

Mr. John Ross Robertson Should Be Included in His Majesty's List of New Year Honours

We have His Majesty's assurance that Canada will not be forgotten in the list of royal honors to be distributed the coming New Year. And from personal knowledge, The Times knows of no one more deserving of knighthood than Mr. John Ross Robertson, the distinguished, philanthropic and broad-minded editor and proprietor of the Toronto Evening Telegram. We are not alone in this opinion, as many influential men in the country are at this date advocating that all the inherent and acquired characteristics that go to make the true knight, are embodied in the person of Mr. John Ross Robertson, who has devoted his life to the execution of charitable and kindly deeds, accomplished in a quiet and unostentatious manner. His thoughtful interest in, and substantial patronage of, the Sick Children's Hospital at Toronto, is but one of the many ways in which he has brought joy and gladness into many an afflicted home, and as a philanthropist on general grounds his charity has known no bound. In politics, John Ross Robertson has opponents, but no enemies ; apart from politics, as a citizen of this great Dominion, his name stands as the synonymn for all that is honorable, commiserate, just and loyal. His creation as Sir John Ross Robertson would win the grateful acknowledgement of Canadians in general, who in such an act on the part of the King would highly appreciate the bestowal of honour upon whom honours are due.

In connection with the foregoing a representative of this journal met on Saturday Mr. J. Porteous Morgan, an old newspaper man and a highly respected citizen of Hamilton, who asserted that public opinion is keenly optimistic that His Gracious Majesty will recognise that Mr. John Ross Robertson is, to say the least, as much entitled to royal favors the coming New Year as was Sir Hugh Graham of the Montreal Star who received his knighthood a year ago.

SAVED WOMAN THEN DROWNED

Utica, N.Y., Nov. 4.—Wm. McSweeny, 35 years old, lost his life about 2 o'clock this morning after saving Miss Charlotte Smith from drowning in the Erie Canal. The young woman, dressed in ball gown and furs, fell into the water while going home from a party. Her cries attracted McSweeny, who plunged in. He helped get her out, and then sank his body being recovered half an hour later. Miss Smith suffered no harm beyond a drenching.

Why Actresses Never Grow Old

(Theatrical World)

Nothing concerning the profession seems more puzzling to the dear old public than the perpetual youth of our femmine members. How often we hear the remarks like, "Why, I saw her as Juliet forty years ago and she doesn't look a year older now !" Of course allowance is made for make up, but when they see us off the stage at close range, they need another explanation.

How strange women generally haven't learned the secret of keeping the fare young ! How simple a matter to get an ounce of mercolized wax at the drug store, apply it like cold cream, and in the morning wash it off ! We know how this gradually, imperceptibly absorbs old cuticle, keeping the complexion new and fresh free from fine lines, sallowness or over-redness. We know, too, that this mercolized wax is the reason actresses don't wear moth patches, liver spots, pimples and the like. Why Why don't our sisters on the other side of the footlights learn the reason and profit by it ?

ST. JOHN'S DEDICATION FESTIVAL.

The concluding service of St. John's dedication festival held last night, proved to be a glorious success. The choir enhanced their reputation as a choral body by putting up a beautifully sung choral even song. Two of themost striking numbers were "The Dollimite" setting of beautiful All Saints' hymn "Hush, Blessed Are the Dead." The others were Handel's Hallelujah chorus, sung during the offertory, the whole congregation remaining standing. The singers sang with great expression and entered heartily in the service. The choristers were congratulated for their excellent work by many members of the congregation.

THE TEA PENALTY.

A Strong Man's Experience.

Writing from a busy railroad town the wife of an employe of one of the great roads says :

"My husband is a railroad man who has been so much benefitted by the use of Postum that he wishes me to express his thanks to you for the good it has done him. His waking hours is taken up with his work, and he has no time to write himself.

"He has been a great tea drinker all his life and has always liked it strong.

"Tea has, of late years, acted on him like morphine does upon most people. At first it soothed him, but only for an hour or so, then it began to effect his nerves to such an extent thathe could not sleep at night, and he would go to his work in the morning wretched and miserable from the loss of rest. This condition grew constantly worse, until his friends persuaded him to quit tea and use Postum.

"At first he used Postum only for breakfast, but as he liked the taste of it, and it somehow seemed to do him good, he added it to his evening meal. Then, as he grew better, he began to drink it for his noon meal, and now he will drink nothing else at table.

"His condition is so wonderfully improved that he could not be hired to give up Postum and go back to tea. His nerves have become steady and reliable once more, and his sleep is easy, natural and refreshing.

"He owes all this to Postum for he has taken no medicine and made no other change in his diet.

"His brother who was very nervous from coffee drinking, was persuaded by us to give up the coffee and use Postum and he also has recovered his health and strength." Name given by Canadian Postum Co., Windsor, Ont.

ELOQUENT AND INSTRUCTIVE SERMON TO ORANGEMEN

Delivered by Rev. Jas. A. Rollins in St. Andrew's Church Last Evening

Members of the local Orange Orders commemorate the anniversary of the discovery of the Gunpowder Plot last evening by attending in a body Divine Worship at St. Andrew's church yesterday evening, when the sacred edifice was taxed to accommodate the large congregation present. The whole service was exceedingly appropriate to the occasion, and the pastor, Rev. Jas. Rollins, delivered an eloquent and instructive sermon, replete with sound, practical advice. The reverend gentleman, who held the individual attention of his big audience, said :—

Gentlemen of the Orange Order,—

I welcome you to a place in our worship to-night, because I believe there is need in this country for the kind of vigilence which your temperment, traditions and outlook fit you for exercising. It is nevertheless not without hesitation that I attempt to speak to you about some matters which seem to me to be of importance to us all. I need scarcely assure you that I deplore racial strife and credal hatred and that it is well for us to place the best and not the worst construction on the words and actions of those with whom we are compelled to disagree. If the temper of our discussion can be kept right, we may cherish the reasonable hope that out of them light will come.

I need not add that I am not a politician, neither am I a party man, and I do not look for the politicians to cut the gordeon knot in such matters as we are to think about to-night.

The more quiet and thorough education you can do; the freer you can keep that education from taking the form of an attack upon either the Liberal or the Conservative party, the more quickly will the truth you have to teach find its way into the minds of the great mass of our people and once the truth is lodged in the minds of our people there will be little doubt of it affecting powerfully the party leaders and legislation itself. The successful politician is a man with an enormous scent for the drifts and tides and directions in public opinion. Create a drift in the direction of a broad patriotism, a wise statesmanship, a strong citizenship, and that drift will not have gone far before every politician in the land will be aware of it and will give it about as much attention as its bigness deserves.

I know how great the temptation is to thrust these matters to the front in the heat of a political campaign. But one can scarcely imagine worse conditions under which to attempt to do definite work. The party that expects to benefit by your propaganda hails you as your country's deliverers, and that is exhilerating, but you approach almost half the people at a time when their minds are closed against you, and you make enemies of many men who ought to be and under other circumstances would be the friends of the principles for which your Order stands. Even if you succeed in turning out one party and putting in another, you frequently accomplish far less than you imagine. You must never forget that your opponents have no permanent party and that it makes far less difference to them than people are apt to think which political party holds the reigns of power. Your opponents can stand up against achange of party without much concern. The one thing which they cannot stand up against is a great and growing mass of enlightened public opinion. Therefore keep free from all entanglements which would hamper you in the class of work which will be most far-reaching and most lasting.

We have in the Providence of God a great task committed to our trust in this land. We have the privilege and responsibility of laying the foundations of a nation. Our material resources are the envy of the world and they are attracting to our shores peoples of all kindreds and nations and tongues and faiths. Out of this varied material it is our business to create a national sentiment in which all shall share, and national institutions which shall benefit all, and be the pride and boast of all. Our land is far flung butressing itself on the mighty oceans east and west and broad-based upon the great nation south of us. But our safety is in knowing neither east or west, nor north, nor south, in our national life.

No man who is not blind to the lessons of hiktory but knows the wonderful leavening and leading influence of a common language. The task of unifying sentiment and making it national was made most difficult by perpetuating as the British North America Act does the French language, as well as the English in the debates and records of both houses of Parliament.

Lord Durham, reporting to the British Government in 1838, before the union of Upper and Lower Canada, has in his report a clause which shows that he foresaw and regarded as most undesirable the very things which have come to pass. That clause reads : "Without affecting the change as rapidly or so roughly as to shock the feelings and trample on the welfare of the existing generation it must henceforth be the first and steady purpose of the British Government to establish an English population with English laws and language in this Province and to trust its government to none but a decidedly English Legislature."

In the Union Act of 1840, a clause was inserted restricting the use of the French language in the new legislature, but this was later repealed, and the British North America Act confirmed the use of the French language not only in the Quebec Legislature, but also in the Dominion Parliaments.

The use of the public school system to this end in a Province like Ontario and in the newer provinces, is nothing short of a crime against the future of this country. With me, it is not a question of the present efficiency or non-efficiency of the so-called bi-lingual schools. It is a much broader question. It is a question which bears vitally on the unification of the people of this country.

Fortunately this is a question on which we are not divided on religious lines. Many English speaking Roman Catholics are strongly opposed to bi-lingual schools as you or I am. We must not forget that some of the most trenchent words written on this subject are from the pen of a Roman Catholic Bishop. The question should never be allowed to become one of Protestant verses Roman Catholic.

We have no state church in this country. The only serious attempt in that direction was made through certain clauses in the Constitutional Act of 1791, but this came to nought by the disposal and distribution of the "clergy reserves" in 1854.

We do well to discourage all attempts of any church to deliver to any party a solid church vote in return for special favors either already granted or expected. Such actions can lead only to mutual recrimination, growing distrust and a rending assunder of that unity of spirit that is essential in the development of a right national spirit.

If the Church of Rome is under suspicion in Canada and throughout the world to-day, she has only herself to blame for it. A church that can send out to the civilized world in the name of "infallibity" such a mischief-maker as the "Ne Temere" is surely in the last stages of self deception and infatuation. It is an outrage against every noble sentiment of the human mind ; it is an outrage against every Christian feeling in the human breast ; it is an outrage against the elementary rights of our humanity to be told that after a man and woman have entered into the solemn covenant of marriage in conformity with every requirement of the civil law of a civilized land, that they are living in sin and their offspring are illegitimate in the sight of God. This is the decree that comes to the civilized world in the name of infallibility and from the Vicar of the man of Nazareth. Infalibility—forsooth !

There is an old saying, that whom the gods would destroy, they first make mad, and it is not without significance that the age that witnesses the promulgation of the infamous decree has seen the church from which it came turned out of two of the countries of Europe bag and baggage, while the conduct of the soldiers of the land in which that church has had its main seat of power for nineteen centuries, is "unintelligible to the civilized world." As I look down the vista of the coming years, I do not fear for the final result. There is no permanent future in any land for a church, however ancient its name, or however new, nay, more, there is no permanent place in any land for an organization be it "green" or be it "orange" that does not live to serve. The humanity of the future will draw larger and larger breaths of freedom and the church and the organization that will not learn this lesson will go with its ever hardening heart like Pharoah, to his doom.

It was Jesus Christ himself, who said of the Kingdom of God—"the gates of hell shall not prevail against it." It was Jesus Christ himself who also said—"The kingdom of heaven is as a man travelling into a far country, who called unto him his own servants and delivered unto them his goods. And unto one, he gave five talents; to another two, and to another one; to every man according to his several ability and straight way took his journey. Then he which had received the five talents went and traded with the same, and made them other five talents and likewise he that had received two, he also gained other two. But he that had received one, went and digged in the earth and hid his lord's money. After a long time the lord of those servants cometh and reckoneth with them. And so he that had received five talents came and brought other five talents, saying: Lord, thou deliveredst to me five talents: behold, I have gained besides them five talents more. His lord said unto him well done, thou good and faithful servant; thou hast been faithful over a few things, I will make you ruler over many things : enter thou into the joy of thy lord. He also that had received two talents came and said—Lord, thou deliveredst unto me two talents: behold I have gained two other talents besides them. His lord said unto him, well done good and faithful servant ; thou hast been faithful over a few things, I will make you ruler over many things, enter thou into the joy of thy lord. Then he which had received one talent came and said unto the lord, I knew thee that thou art an hard man reaping where thou has not sown and gathering where thou hast not strewed, and I was afraid and went and hid the talent in the earth, to thee thou hast that is thine. The lord answered and said unto him : thou wicked and slothful servant ; thou knowest that I reap where I sowed not and gather where I have not strewed ? Thou oughtest therefore to have put my money to the exchangers and then at my com-

was incorporated by Special Act of the Parliament of Canada for the purpose of carrying on the business of Fire Insurance, as outlined in the Insurance Act and the Special Act of Incorporation.

Capital Stock Authorized by the Board.....$2,000,000
Capital Stock Subscribed to date $1,650,000

The Head Office of the Company is in the city of Winnipeg, and, in addition to this, Branch Offices and Agencies will be established throughout the Dominion.

It must be generally conceded that, owing to the satisfactory conditions at present prevailing throughout not only Western Canada, but the entire Dominion, this Company is being organized at a most favorable and opportune time.

Canada, and particularly the Western portion of the Dominion, is advancing in population and wealth more rapidly than at any other time in its history, and every indication points towards a period of great prosperity and development.

The great influx of settlers into Western Canada is resulting in tremendous activity in every line of business. Railroad construction is proceeding on a scale hitherto unknown in this country, and as adequate transportation is of vital importance in moving our immense crops with a proper degree of facility, it is highly encouraging to see so much well-directed energy along the lines of railway extension

Coincident with railway expansion, we find many new districts rapidly filling up with desirable settlers, bringing with them a good supply of cash and effects. With the settlement of the rural districts, new towns and villages are springing up, which will, during the next few years, become, in many instances, important business centres.

With such unprecedented growth in Western as well as Eastern Canada, involving an expenditure of millions of dollars in building operations, it is at once evident that there is a very extensive and profitable field for a new Fire Insurance Company which will have a thorough organization throughout the length and breadth of the Dominion, and more particularly in the four Western Provinces.

As a great volume of our business will be transacted in the West, it is a matter of the greatest importance that the Head Office of the Company, as well as the Directors, should be located in the West, so that the affairs of the Company may be conducted to the best possible advantage.

DIRECTORS.

The Board of Directors consists entirely of Western men with a very intimate knowledge of Western conditions, and they are, accordingly, well conversant with the financial and general business requirements of the West. They are thoroughly representative of the various important branches of financial, commercial, industrial and professional life in Western Canada, and with their wide reputation for business ability and integrity, as well as financial standing, combined with a long and varied experience, and practical knowledge of business affairs, they are exceptionally well qualified to render excellent service to a large financial institution.

As the Directors have valuable connections with extensive business interests and are also Directors of other financial corporations, as well as being otherwise identified with large and influential companies which control a great deal of high-grade fire insurance, they will be instrumental in placing a large portion of this desirable insurance with the new Company, so that we may safely conclude that from the very beginning of operations a large and profitable business will be assured.

Under these favorable conditions, and with a strong, energetic, as well as experienced and conservative management, combined with the fact that each Director has subscribed for eleven thousand five hundred dollars ($11,500) of the Capital Stock, on which all calls have been paid, and takes an active interest in the welfare of the Company, there is only one conclusion to draw, and that is that the affairs of the Company will be conducted in such a careful, conscientious and intelligent manner that the interests of both policyholders and stockholders will be fully protected.

IT IS WORTHY OF NOTE THAT $1,650,000 OF CAPITAL STOCK HAS ALREADY BEEN SUBSCRIBED BY PROMINENT BUSINESS AND PROFESSIONAL MEN THROUGHOUT THE DOMINION AND ELSEWHERE.

No commission has been paid to anyone for securing stock subscriptions, and no expense has been incurred in the promotion and organization of the Company, except the expense in connection with securing the Charter and other necessary expenses.

THE CANADA NATIONAL FIRE.

The Canada National Fire, being organized in the West, MAY BE TRULY CALLED A WESTERN COMPANY, and, as such, should receive the liberal patronage and hearty co-operation of the citizens of Western Canada, as well as the support of people from Eastern Canada who desire to become associated with a strong and progressive Canadian Company.

When promoting this Company the Directors were fully convinced that there was a splendid opening in Western Canada for a Company prepared to carry on the business of Fire Insurance on a large and comprehensive scale, and which, at the same time, could offer ADEQUATE PROTECTION TO BOTH POLICYHOLDERS AND SHAREHOLDERS. Accordingly, when making application for a Dominion charter, the Company was incorporated with a capital of $3,000,000.00, of which amount the Directors decided to offer for public subscription the sum of $2,000,000.00.

THE ALL-IMPORTANT FEATURE IN FIRE INSURANCE IS PROTECTION, and with the LARGE CAPITAL, combined with the high standard of Reserve, which will be maintained through careful selection of risks and profits from judicious investments, the Directors and Management feel confident that this Company will be accorded a very hearty reception by Canadian citizens, and will soon rank as one of the leading Fire Companies.

WITHOUT A LARGE AND SUBSTANTIAL CAPITAL FOR THE PROTECTION OF THE POLICYHOLDERS, A FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY IS SERIOUSLY HANDICAPPED, AND DOES NOT AFFORD THE POLICYHOLDER THAT PROTECTION TO WHICH HE IS JUSTLY ENTITLED, and the Directors of this Company, being fully aware of this most important fact, are adopting a very wise policy in OFFERING FOR SUBSCRIPTION SUCH A LARGE AMOUNT OF CAPITAL STOCK, and when our entire stock is subscribed and paid in full it will represent the largest amount of subscribed and paid-up capital of any Canadian Fire Insurance Company, and will be a tower of strength and of very material benefit to the company in carrying on its extensive operations.

GENERAL AGENT FOR CANADA

W. E. FUDGER, ESQ.

Only GILT-EDGE securities will be considered, such as first mortgages on improved, productive real estate, stocks, bonds and debentures of companies of high repute, as well as Dominion securities and municipal, county and school debentures of well-established districts.

As a LARGE PERCENTAGE of these securities is READILY NEGOTIABLE, the Company will have abundant LIQUID ASSETS to meet any possible contingency that might arise.

Our first mortgage investments will be confined to Western Canada, and as the rate of interest obtainable on first-class productive real estate is FULLY TWO PER CENT. greater in the West than in Eastern Canada, the Company will have a DECIDED ADVANTAGE over Companies operating exclusively in the older portions of the Dominion. A fixed policy of the Company is to loan NOT MORE THAN FIFTY PER CENT. of a conservative value of the property, and to stipulate for a definite return of principal, together with interest, each year during the term of the loan. With these periodical repayments of principal, and with land values in Western Canada steadily increasing, the Company's first mortgage securities will continue to improve year by year.

With the active development in Western Canada, a great deal of capital will be required for many years to come, and the Company will, therefore, experience a very ready demand for its funds on high-grade securities and at a profitable rate of interest.

The Directors decided to issue the stock at the price of ONE HUNDRED AND FIFTEEN DOLLARS PER SHARE, being at a premium of fifteen per cent.

THE TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION ARE :

On application, $25.00 per share, which shall include the premium of $15.00 per share, and the balance, payable in ten consecutive half-yearly instalments of $9.00 per share, the first of such half-yearly instalments to become due and payable six months from date of allotment of shares.

Shares may be PAID IN FULL at time of subscription, but if purchased on the INSTALMENT PLAN the subscriber shall have the privilege of paying any or all of the instalments prior to due dates.

The Following Table Shows the Amount of First Call as well as the Subsequent Payments :

NO BONUS STOCK shall be issued for any purpose whatsoever, and even the Directors, who are very heavy stockholders in the Company, have paid the SAME PRICE for their shares as the general public. NOT ONE SHARE has been or will be issued to any person at a price less than $115.00 per share.

THIS IS A RARE OPPORTUNITY to secure some of the Capital Stock of a Western Fire Insurance Company. With a large amount of desirable and profitable business so readily obtainable by the Company through its valuable and extensive business connections, rapid progress should be made, and with investments carefully selected and unexcelled in earning power, the Company will be enabled to not only pay substantial dividends, but build up a large reserve, and thereby materially increase the value of the stock.

The Directors firmly believe in the policy that EVERY SHAREHOLDER SHOULD CO-OPERATE WITH THE MANAGEMENT of a Company and take an active interest in its welfare. For that reason, it is their intention to WIDELY DISTRIBUTE the CAPITAL STOCK, and by that means obtain the support of the leading business and professional men throughout the country.

With the rapid development of the West during recent years, involving an outlay of many millions of capital, it has become generally recognized that WESTERN CANADA IS VERY MUCH IN NEED OF MORE LARGE FINANCIAL INSTITUTIONS, AND ESPECIALLY OF WESTERN ORIGIN, to properly meet the growing requirements of the West, and to not only improve the present financial situation, but to materially assist in retaining, as much as possible, desirable business, with its resultant profits, within our own Western borders.

The business of fire insurance has now grown to such large proportions that it has become a very important factor in the financial and commercial world, and as its scope and influence is so general and widespread it is only natural to find that the question of AMPLE PROTECTION TO POLICYHOLDERS, which is the PRIMARY FUNCTION OF FIRE INSURANCE COMPANIES, should be so GENERALLY DISCUSSED AT THE PRESENT TIME.

This important subject has given rise to a very STRONG FEELING in Western Canada that the TIME HAS NOW ARRIVED when the Western people should organize a Fire Insurance Company of such strength and proportions that it will soon rank as one of the leading fire companies of America, and command general respect and confidence, which is so ESSENTIAL to a company that solicits the support and patronage of all classes of the community.

The Directors have every confidence that they will receive the hearty co-operation of not only Western citizens, but of people from every part of the Dominion, to build up a GREAT fire insurance company with AMPLE PROTECTION for the people, and which will be a source of pride and credit to our country.

The following Canadian Government Insurance statistics should prove of ESPECIAL INTEREST :

In the year 1869 the total amount of fire premiums collected in Canada was $1,785,539.00, whereas in the year 1909 the total premiums charged amounted to the large sum of $22,293,633.25, and of this amount $6,551,644.41 was charged by Canadian Companies, $11,518,267.45 by British Companies, and $4,223,721.39 by American Companies.

During the last forty-one years the aggregate amount of fire insurance premiums collected in Canada reached the immense total of $280,740,466.00, of which the large sum of $218,310,047.00 represents the amount of fire premiums collected by FOREIGN COUNTRIES, and which, therefore, was taken out of the country to build up foreign companies and enrich foreign shareholders.

Notwithstanding that a considerable portion of the fire premiums collected in Canada by Foreign Companies has been repaid to Canadian policyholders, through fire losses, it must be evident that the larger the proportion of Canadian fire insurance that is placed with Canadian Companies, the larger is the amount of capital retained in the Dominion and always available for investment purposes, to build up our Canadian financial institutions, and thereby add to the general wealth and prosperity of our country.

The above figures are most significant and clearly demonstrate that while the CANADIAN FIRE COMPANIES have been doing a satisfactory business they HAVE SECURED only a SMALL portion of the Fire Insurance transacted in Canada, or, to be more exact, ONLY TWENTY-TWO PER CENT. of THE TOTAL FIRE INSURANCE WRITTEN IN CANADA, covering a period of the last forty-one years. With the extraordinary progress which Canada has been making during recent years, the field for financial institutions has become so widely extended that there is a CONSTANTLY INCREASING DEMAND for new large financial corporations.

By further reference to our Government statistics it will be observed that at December 31st, 1909, the total number of Canadian Fire Companies operating under Dominion charter was ONLY TWENTY-ONE, and of this number ONLY TWO HAD A PAID-UP CAPITAL IN EXCESS OF $500,000.

In promoting this large Canadian Company the Directors are fully confident that the new organization will, with characteristic Western energy and enterprise, soon come to be recognized as an important factor in the insurance world, and as The Canada National Fire will be instrumental in RETAINING WITHIN THE BOUNDARIES OF CANADA a large amount of money which would otherwise be taken out of the country to build up foreign corporations the people of this growing Dominion will readily see the advisability of giving this Company their MORAL AND FINANCIAL SUPPORT, in order that we may build up a STRONG and VIGOROUS Company which will prove a valuable acquisition to our Canadian monetary institutions.

This is the last opportunity to secure, direct from the Company, some of this desirable stock.

It is worthy of special note that the demand for the stock has exceeded the Directors' most sanguine expectations ; in fact, of the $2,000,000 of stock to be issued, $1,650,000 has already been subscribed, and, from present indications, with the large number of applications for stock being received daily, the Directors are confident that the balance of the issue, which is now only $350,000, will be subscribed by August 26th, 1911, the date appointed for the closing of stock subscriptions.

For this reason, the Directors strongly recommend the investing public to mail their applications for stock at their earliest possible opportunity.

Subscribers are requested to kindly fill in attached application form, stating name in full, number of shares desired, occupation and address, and mail the application, along with the first call of Twenty-five Dollars ($25.00) per share on the stock, direct to the Head Office of the Company, Winnipeg, Man., or, if so desired, application may be made for the stock at any of the Company's Branch Offices or at any Branch of the Royal or Imperial Banks, where application blanks and any additional information will be readily furnished. Applications for stock will be considered in the order received, and on approval of the same by the Board of Directors a certificate for the number of shares subscribed will be issued and mailed the shareholders forthwith. Cheques, Drafts, Money Orders or other remittances on account of stock subscriptions should be made payable to The Canada National Fire Insurance Company.

STRUCK DUMB WITH AMAZEMENT

Mr. A. O. Wheeler, F.R.G.S., Director of the Alpine Club of Canada, has just returned to Vancouver from a summer spent in the Canadian Rockies in the vicinity of the Yellowhead Pass, and is greatly impressed with his trip.

In an interview with Mr. Wheeler, he stated: "It has been the general impression that the Rocky Mountains of Canada attain their greatest average height not very far north of the boundary line. True, of late years much has been heard of Mount Robson, which dominates the region of the Yellowhead Pass, but the popular notion was that there was nothing else in the neighborhood worth seeing, and that the Grand Trunk Pacific would pass through a region of little interest from the point of view of the tourist or mountaineer.

"There was no mistake about Mount Robson. It is without doubt, as was stated by one of the most travelled and skilled mountaineers of the day, Dr. Norman Collie, one of the most magnificent mountains in the world, whether seen from the south, the view that is most familiar on all sides were found mighty snowfar, or from beautiful Berg Lake, it still stands supreme. In the hundclad peaks, widespread snowfields red-mile circuit of the great massif huge ice-falls, rushing torrents, waterfalls, flower-clad meadows and vast stretches of dark pine forest. Many of the peaks were named by the surveyors, but they are legion, and it will be many years before they are familiarly known as individual mountains."

In speaking of the Robson Glacier which lies on the east side of this monstrous mountain, Mr. Wheeler said: "It struck us dumb with amazement that anything so stupendous, so superb, so undreamed of, should exist. At our feet flowed the great river of ice, every crevasse, every moraine, every icefall, clearly portrayed. Directly opposite rose the massif, its outline clear from base to summit for fully 8,000 feet. From the beautiful meadows at the head of Resplendent Valley twenty-five peaks were counted, all unknown and unnamed. And lakes, which perhaps lend the most characteristic charm to Canadian mountain scenery, were everywhere."

At the summit of the Yellowhead Pass Mr. Wheeler's party erected a monument defining the boundary between Alberta and British Columbia at the intersection of the Great Divide. On the huge post set up, which is surrounded with a big stone mound are carved the words: "British Columbia on the west face; Alberta on the east face; and on the south 3,727.68 feet, being the altitude of the summit at the point where the post is set."

Clearing of right-of-way on the uncompleted gap of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway from Tete Jaune Cache westward to Aldermere in Bulkley Valley, was started a few weeks ago by the contractors, Messrs Foley, Welch & Stewart. Operations thus far are restricted to the route along the south fork of the Fraser between the Cache and Fort George.

In connection with the Grand Trunk Exhibit at the Festival of Empire, Crystal Palace, London, England, further advices dated September 12th have been received from London regarding the awards that were given to the Grand Trunk, and the Grand Trunk Pacific, and it is gratifying to know that these companies have received four "Grand Prix" for their splendid display, instead of two that were announced in the cable received on Sept. 1st.

An Interesting Booklet.

The Times is in receipt of a very interesting booklet dealing with the Maritime Provinces as a promising field for those who desire to establish new industries, or to profitably invest capital in the exploitation and development of natural resources. The obvious advantages of many parts of New Brunswick and Nova Scotia are ably presented in detail, together with many cheerful facts that ought to impress those who have capital ready to invest in a new field that is certainly rich in opportunity. It is commendable that while the eyes of the world are upon Canada, and thousands of new settlers are pouring into the West from many countries, an honest effort is being made to point out the advantages that exist in the east. The booklet will be mailed free to those who write the Industrial Department Intercolonial Railway, Moncton, N. B.

Present Disadvantages of Canadian Farmers.

At present the United States farmers have a great advantage over us. It costs 25c a bushel to send wheat into the United States. They can send their wheat into Canada for 12c a bushel, with rebate of 99 per cent. of duty when ground in bond. It costs us 30c to send a bushel of barley to the United States. They can ship barley into Canada for 15c. If we want to ship beans into the United States we have to pay 45c a bushel duty. The beans can come into Canada for 22c. They charge us 25c a bushel on the apples we send them. We charge them only 40c a barrel on what they send us. They charge us $4 a ton on the hay we send them. We charge them $2. They charge us 6c a pound on cheese, we charge them 3c. Thus it is with almost every farm product.

Under reciprocity these disadvantages will be wiped out, and we will be able to deal with them on an equal basis. Is not this worth while?

Home for Christmas

The Steamship Lines are expecting a large home-going exodus for the holiday season this year, and are making extensive preparations to take care of all of those who are planning to visit the Old Country.

The White Star-Dominion Line has arranged for three special Christmas sailings, viz. the "Canada" December 2nd, "Megantic" December 9th, and "Teutonic" December 14th, from Portland, Me., and Halifax, N. S., to take care of these passengers. These steamers will arrive in ample time to enable passengers to reach their homes before Christmas whether in England or on the Continent.

The railways have recognized the growing popularity of these annual Christmas excursions and now run special trains from Montreal and the west to connect with the steamers, and the most complete arrangements are made by both the steamship companies and the rail lines to further the comfort of the homeward bound ones during the holiday season.

Grand Trunk Opening New Territory

The new territory in the Canadian Rocky Mountains that is being opened up by the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway has already become the Mecca for a number of Alpine Climbers and those who love to get away from the turmoil of the busy city and explore mountain fastnesses that are practically unknown. Some of the travellers who have gone into this Yellow Head Pass territory are now returning, and one gentleman writes to the Grand Trunk Pacific Headquarters as follows:—"Lake Maligne is a beautiful lake between 16 and 18 miles long. I have visited all the other transcontinental lines both in Canada and the United States, and there is no lake or district along any of these lines that can compare with the Lake Maligne country. Some of the mountains around the lake are in the neighborhood of 12,000 feet. Lake Maligne is reached from Henry House a few miles west of Fitzhugh, the Second Divisional point, and covered with sea fields which make them very beautiful."

Friendship of Books

To fall in love with a good book is one of the greatest events that can befall us. It is to have a new influence pouring itself into our life, a new teacher to inspire us, a new friend to be by our side always, who, when life grows narrow and weary, will take us into his wider and calmer and higher world.

Whether it be biography, introducing us to some humble life made great by duty done; or history, opening vistas into the movements and destinies of nations that have passed away; or poetry, making music of all the common things around us, and filling the fields and the skies and the work of the city and the cottage with eternal meanings — whether it be these, or religious books or science, no one can become the friend even of one good book without being made wiser and better.

Cause of Rheumatism

Many physicians believe that rheumatism is the result of over-feeding, followed by putrefactive changes in the foodstuffs in the alimentary canal; that the action of certain bacteria produces specific toxic (poison) substances which, when introduced into the blood, cause a deviation from the normal oxidation process, thus causing the condition that is designated rheumatic. In the majority of instances it is probable that in eating too much of the nitrogenous class of foods; in other cases it is the result of eating too much meat.

AN AEROPLANE FROM NATURE

Recent Insect Discovery Among Grape Vines is of Remarkable Appearance, Built Like An Aeroplane

A resident of Cliffondale, Mass., had the surprise of his life the other day when he started to water his garden.

Picking up what he thought was a rather delicate colored piece of grape vine twig he was astonished to find it had a sting in it, and in a few seconds realized that he had been stung by one of the strangest species of insect that he had ever seen.

The insect is one of the most peculiar species that one could imagine. From the top of its tail to its head it measures five inches. It has six legs, in two sections, each three-quarters of an inch in length. The first section of the legs is a light brown color at the point where it join the body of the insect. The second section of the legs is of a brilliant green tint. The body of the insect resembles the color of the small branches of a grape vine. On the tail are horns about an eighth of an inch in length.

The head is about the size of a small shot and contains two little eyes as black as coal. Just at the side of each eye are two light red feelers which extend for two inches. It is built like an aeroplane and flies just like one.

Dr. EUGENE QUESNEL
A Prescott County Politician

Dr. Quesnel of Hawkesbury is not inexperienced in politics. He ran as Independent candidate for the Federal House in 1908, when he failed to get the Conservative support elected, but succeeded in polling votes on the strength of his personality alone.

Born at St. Eugene, he received his education first at [illegible] and then at the Bourget College, Rigaud, he graduated in arts, literature, science and philosophy at Laval University, Quebec. He took his medical course at the College of Physicians and Surgeons in Toronto, graduating M.D. in 1896.

The doctor started practice in Rockland and Sudbury, and then he moved to Hawkesbury where he became so much of a factor in public affairs, that in 1907 the people chose him Reeve of the town and 1908, 1909 and 1910 elected him Mayor. During his mayoralty terms Dr. Quesnel was instrumental in putting the town in its present excellent condition. Under his guidance Hawkesbury first took its place above the average of places of its size.

Dr. Quesnel is married, his good lady being formerly Miss Joseph ne Fortier, of Dorchester.

Parental Tactics.

A worried parent is sometimes obliged to do something like this: "Pa, what is a transcendentalist?" "Have you chained up the dog, as I told you?" "Not yet, pa." "Well, do that, and when you come back I will tell you what a transcendentalist is." While Bobby was gone his astute parent dug the needed information out of a dictionary.

A man's ideal woman is simply one who believes everything he tells her.

Sons of the King.

The Prince of Wales, much to his disappointment, it is said, is not destined for a naval career. He may spend only six months on the 'Hindustan, and after that enter a cavalry regiment.

The future of the King's next son, Prince Albert, has been engaging the King's attention [illegible] and it is understood that he will eventually become a midshipman. In his case the navy will furnish him with a career. Prince Henry, the third son, is not fitted for the strenuous life of a sailor and he may, after spending some years at Eton, be gazetted to a cavalry regiment.

Editor—Your story as it stands is too bald.

CHINA MOVING INTO LIGHT

Only Recently in the Babylon Stage, China is To-Day on Threshold of Governing Along Constitutional Lines.

In its government five years ago China was not far from that which existed in Babylon and Nineveh; the will of the emperor was the final authority. Constitutional government, democracy were practically unknown terms and an unfelt need. During 1909 the ballot was granted to all people meeting certain property or education qualifications. Today China stands on the threshold of a constitutional government, planning to take her place alongside the constitutional monarchies like Germany and great Britain. There are still thousands of officials of the old type, there are many reforms on paper only; but unless other nations forcibly interfere China promises in one decade to change from the political ideals of 3,000 years ago to those of the most modern times.

In 1905 China had the educational system that existed almost unchanged for 2,000 years. She was practically without government colleges and schools.

From the day the Portsmouth treaty was signed by Russia and Japan, China has been a new nation; to a man, it is committed to the pathway of reform and modern development. With unanimity it held for centuries to its old course; and with unanimity it now resolves to take its place among the modern states.

The discovery of America, a wilderness, changed the civilization of the world; the discovery of China, with its 400,000,000 people, peaceable, industrious and capable, will make a new dating point for history.

For centuries her great intellectual force has been bound by the manacles of an effete scholasticism. Although this system of education was intimately connected with the government, and with the social life of the empire, yet in one day the entire system was swept out of existence and there was put in its place a combination of the American and Japanese systems. Colleges have sprung up like mushrooms after a rain in all the provincial capitals.

WHEN THE BEAVER BITES

A young beaver in Regents Park Gardens, London, was once placed at work upon a tree twelve feet long and two feet six inches thick, just as the town clocks sounded the hour of noon. The beaver began by barking the tree a foot above the ground. That done, he attacked the wood. He worked hard, alternating his labor with dips in his bathing-pond. He bathed and labored alternately until 4 o'clock in the afternoon, when he ate his supper of bread and carrots and paddled about in his pond until half-past 5 o'clock. Ten minutes later, when only one inch of the tree's diameter remained intact, he bore again upon his work, and the tree fell. Before it fell the beaver ran as men run when they have fired a blast. Then, as the tree lay on the ground, he portioned it out mentally and again began to gnaw.

He worked at intervals all night; cut the log into three parts, rolled two of the portions into the water, and reserved the other third for his permanent shelter.

REWARD OF GENIUS!

Apropos of the pension of $10 a week that the English government has just granted to the popular English novelist, Joseph Conrad, a Chicago poet said the other day: "The trashy novelist rides in a French motor-car and drinks champagne with his dinner, but the good novelist is thankful for a meal of macaroni. Our bad taste is to blame. Listen to this terrible story: A wealthy Chicago publisher visited a lunatic asylum one autumn afternoon, and among the lunatics he noticed a man who sat counting his fingers and muttering.

'Intry, mintry, cutrey, corn!
Apple seeds and briar thorn!'

"The publisher regarded the man attentively. About that massive brow, about that glowing eye, there was something strangely familiar.

'Intry, mintry, cutrey, corn!
Apple seeds and briar thorn.
O-u-t—out—'

"The publisher laid his hand on the maniac's shoulder and said sadly: 'My poor friend, is it not true that in you I recognize the pitiable wreck of what was once the heaven-born genius, A. Fountain Pen, author of that immortal masterpiece——' 'Shut up!' the other interrupted in a fierce whisper, and he glanced cautiously about the room. 'Shut up, you old fool! Do you want to ruin me? If none of the docs get onto who I am I can stay here all winter.'"

A Safety Kicker

They were examining an old-fashioned shotgun of murderous build. It looked as if it would be an effective weapon against anything short of an elephant, and its owner was boasting, with that scorn of fact which is allowed the successful hunter, of its power.

"Doesn't it kick like anything?" asked one.

"Oh, yes, it kicks some," said the proprietor, "btu that's the beauty of it. Why once I shot at a grizzly that was charging me. I missed him, and on he came. If it had not been that the gun kicked me so far back that I had time to reload, I shouldn't have been here to tell the story."

LUMBER CUT IN BRITISH COLUMBIA.

The rapid exploitation of lumber in British Columbia, is increasing yearly and almost made this province the equal of Ontario in point of lumber production during 1910. Statistics of the Dominion lumber cut for 1910, collected by the Forestry Branch of the Department of the Interior, state that one billion, six hundred and twenty million feet of lumber worth nearly twenty-five million dollars was cut in British Columbia in 1910. As a result of greatly increased cutting in the fir and cedar forests, the total amount cut was more than doubled in one year. In 1909 the British Columbia cut constituted one-fifth of the total; in 1910 the proportion formed by the western province was one-third, and it lacked only forty-five million feet of surpassing the cut in Ontario. Seven important softwoods make up over 99 per cent. of the cut in British Columbia—douglas fir, cedar, western yellow pine, tamarack, spruce, hemlock, and jack-pine. Nearly forty-five per cent. of the total was made up by douglas fir. This species was cut in 1910 to the extent of nearly seven hundred and twenty million feet and had the largest actual increase shown by any species—an increase of nearly two hundred and fifty million feet. Cedar composed one-fifth of the total and was the second wood in magnitude of cut. The three hundred and fifteen million feet of this species cut was an increase of two hundred and seventeen million feet over the 1909 production. The cut of yellow pine, amounting to one hundred and eighty three million feet, was nearly six times as much as the amount cut in 1909, and was sufficient to raise it from fourteenth to sixth place in importance among the lumber producing trees of Canada.

WHERE JUSTICE IS DELAYED.

For several weeks the preliminaries of the trial of the McNamara brothers, charged with dynamiting a California newspaper office, have been proceeding in the United States courts. And now the assurance is given that, with continual court sessions, in all probability a trial jury will have been selected by the first of next year.

There is something farcical about a system of justice which requires over three months to select a jury, says the Ottawa Journal. The expense of such system must be enormous, and were the accused dependant upon their own resources for payment of the defence lawyers their money—owing to these delays—would long since have been exhausted.

In the United States almost any excuse is accepted as sufficient to excuse a citizen from performing his jury duty. As a result, after eliminating the men who do not want to be on the jury, the men who have read and formed opinions on the case—the most intelligent of the remaining candidates—and various other citizens who disbelieve in capital punishment, the resultant jury is apt to be largely composed of notoriety-seekers or mental imbeciles. Such mode of selection bars all men of substance, all successful men; for while the average business man might sacrifice a week's time for jury duty, he certainly would not run any chance of sitting daily for three months, while the remainder of his colleagues were being selected.

Few Canadian or British juries have required more than a couple of days for their complete selection. Such is probably due to the fact that trivial and frivolous pretexts are not accepted so readily in Canada as an excuse for the non-performance of jury duty here. And it will be a regrettable day for this country and for justice if the dilatory methods of the United States courts ever gain foothold in Canada. Whether the fault lies in the system or in its administration the truth is that in recent American cases, such as the Thaw case, or the present California one, justice has so lagged, and proven so unwieldly, as to cause citizens generally to lose all patience.

Perhaps, indeed, this condition of affairs may go far in explaining the prevalence of lynching in the United States.

ing I should have received mine own with usury. Take therefore the talent from him and give it him that hath ten talents, for unto everyone that hath shall be given and he shall have abundance; but from him that hath not shall be taken away even that which he hath, and cast ye the unprofitable servant into outer darkness; there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth."

That is the solemn lesson to which all centuries of human history have given tremendous emphasis. That is the lesson for pulpit and pew; for Protestant and Roman Catholic; for the orange and the green. The learning of that lesson will mean good and only good to our land and to humanity. The man, the church, the organization that will not learn that lesson will be broken.

NOT SUCH AN AWFUL WHIRL!

By Campbell Raymond
(Copyright by Publishers Press Ltd.)

The clerks and officials in one of the smaller bureaus at Washington could, about now, seem to a casual visitor, to be afflicted with a chronic grin. Even the somewhat sedate Chief sometimes breaks into a solemn chuckle. The joke was rather on them, so they tried to keep it quiet, but it leaked out, of course. Briefly, it was nothing less than a grand, red hot whirl by the most circumspect lot on Uncle Sam's payroll that ever [illegible]

"Uncle Charlie," as he is called by everyone from the Chief to the messenger boy, is a meek, patient little man, [illegible] about one hundred and five, [illegible] mutton-chop whiskers, who has [illegible] along for fifteen years on a [illegible] of $1,200. Twelve hundred dollars does not mean affluence down there when one has a family of five girls, and Uncle Charlie has always been needy.

One by one the girls were married, however, and it came about that with the June roses the last of Uncle Charlie's responsibilities as to his family vanished. For several days after this event he was observed to wear a preoccupied look. Slowly his air of abstraction gave way to one of determination, and one sweltering afternoon, suddenly laying down his pen, he announced to the man at the next desk that he proposed to have a whirl.

The news ran like wildfire through the bureau, and presently employees began to pause casually beside Uncle Charlie's desk.

"Say," the office sport whispered. "You take my tip. Drink about an ounce of olive oil before you start in. You will last twice as long." He winked and went on.

"I wonder what that young man really meant?" Uncle Charlie pondered.

"I hear that you are going to give yourself a little recreation, Uncle Charlie," the Disbursing Clerk said, and gave him a playful dig in the ribs. "Of course you know that it is not exactly regular, but if you would like to have a little advance, why, er, I guess we could fix it up between us."

"That's very kind of you, sir, but I really don't think I shall need any advance," Uncle Charlie said, sorely perplexed.

"Perhaps you'd better leave the number of days blank on your application for leave, Uncle Charlie," the Chief advised, meeting him in the corridor. "But then," he added with sudden indulgence, "if you should happen to overstay the time coming to you, why, er, we'll just consider that you are sick and charge it up to sick leave."

That was on Tuesday. On Thursday Uncle Charlie's rusty alpaca coat was hanging on its usual hook and Uncle Charlie was at his old desk when the rest of the clerks came racing in at one minute to nine. Uncle Charlie was chipper and smiling, though his nose was curiously peeled. The office sport dropped his hat with its fancy band in his astonishment, and walked round and round Uncle Charlie, eyeing him from head to foot.

"Nary headache, as I live!" he finally gasped. "Say, Uncle Charlie, put me wise to that dope, will you? You look as fresh as a daisy!"

It was no use trying to disguise their curiosity, and presently half the office force, including the Chief, had gathered about Uncle Charlie's desk.

"Now, look here, Uncle Charlie," the Chief said; "we just want to know what you did, anyway. I guess we sort of—well, misunderstood your intentions."

"Well, it wasn't such an awful whirl, maybe, for one of you boys, but it was a right smart one for me," Uncle Charlie told them, as they pressed eagerly forward. "You see, for quite a long while I have had to look after things about the house—there were always so many little jobs that the girls couldn't do—and I used all my leave working at home. And I wouldn't have felt like being extravagant while they were dependent on me and required so many things. But after Louise was married—she was the last one, and their mother has been dead several years—why, I felt like letting myself out a little. It was one of the most delightful days I have ever experienced."

"But what did you do, Uncle Charlie?" they demanded in chorus.

"Why," he said, "first of all I went down town and bought this red necktie—I've always wanted one," he added bashfully. "And then I went out to the ball park, and bought a bag of peanuts, and sat on the bleachers in the sun, and drank pop, and watched the game. And say," Uncle Charlie concluded impressively, "Do you know, I really believe it was a better game than the one I saw fifteen years ago when our home town beat the Carter Corners' team thirty-seven to twenty-eight!"

T. C. HOLT, LTD. OF VANCOUVER

Splendid Investments Offered by This Well Known Firm.

The Times would call special attention of investors to the advertisement of the T. C. Holt, Limited, of North Vancouver, one of the most substantial and prosperous brokers and real estate firms on the Pacific Coast. Capitalists in the east are now looking to the west for safe and profitable investments, and there is probably no spot on the continent where more money has been made faster than in Vancouver real estate. North Vancouver is rapidly forging ahead, and those who are able to get in now will be sure to reap a golden harvest.

T. C. Holt, Limited, recommend the following investments to their clients :

1st—While they last, 100 shares in the T. C. Holt Ltd. at $100 per Share. 25 per cent. on application and 10 per cent. per month until fully paid up. This Company being strictly under Government supervision is not allowed to sell their shares for less than par. We consider these shares a good and safe investment, as they will bring the investor a dividend of from 10 to 20 per cent. per year or more. Only a limited number left.

2nd—Investments in Real Estate. Remember, Mr. Investor, inside property in North Vancouver, is as yet cheaper than property in Point Grey, Fairview, South Vancouver, or Grand View, on the outskirts of Vancouver. 5 years ago an investor North Vancouver, far $10,000, to-day bought a corner on Lonsdale Avenue the same piece of property is worth $100,000.00. We can buy for our clients to-day property for investment from $1000 to $50,000.00 and over and can almost guarantee a profit of from 25 per cent. to 50 per cent. in a couple of years.

3rd—Investments in Mortgages and Agreements of Sale which represent a very safe and sure investment and bring in from 8 to 10 per cent. per year. Nearly every day some party calls in our office and invests his money in Mortgages or Agreements of Sale. They say they prefer absolute safety for their money with a good rate of interest, rather than no interest with a hope of increase in selling value.

Progress is the dominant note in the City of Vancouver to-day, and where progress is, where wealth accumulates, there will realty values advance, and this is inevitable in Vancouver.

CATARRH

Remember the best Catarrh medicine that money can buy is Catarrhozone ; it cures quickly and permanently when all others fail.

The remedy doesn't exist that will cure Catarrh as quickly as Catarrhozone. It relieves the most stubborn cases in a short time, and drives the disease so thoroughly from the system that it never returns.

Druggists boldly recommend Catarrhozone in preference to other remedies, because they know it is the best, and every progressive doctor prescribes it for the same good reason.

Catarrhozone is a rational, common-sense treatment that finds favor with everybody. It cures by the inhalation of medicated air, which comes into contact with the mucous surface of all the breathing organs. It gets at the source of the trouble, kills the germs and drives every vestige of catarrh right out of the system.

It doesn't matter how deep-seated or chronic your case may be, Catarrhozone can cure it. Even though a thousand other remedies have failed, don't give up hope till you have used Catarrhozone. It has cured other cases probably worse than yours, and will cure yours if it gets a chance.

Mr. Dutcher Law, a prominent citizen of Italy Cross, N. S., says : "I experimented with hundreds of catarrh remedies and found the majority to be worthless, dismal failures. Catarrhozone was the first to give lasting relief ; it cured me and I am with pleasure testifying to its merits as a cure for Catarrh of the nose and throat.

(Signed) DUTCHER LAW.

You are sure to derive the most pleasant results from Catarrhozone. It has been tested many times and never found wanting. Every druggist in Canada sells it. Complete two months' treatment, guaranteed to cure costs $1, or a trial size 25c. By mail from the Catarrhozone Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

A Pleasant Trip.

The Grand Trunk Pacific are in receipt of a letter from a prominent traveller in Eastern Canada, who has just returned from a trip to the West and which included a journey on the Grand Trunk Pacific from Winnipeg to Wainwright and return.

He states : "I must say it was one of the pleasantest experiences in a long life of travel! Having seen the road in the making, and being aware of the high standard set up, I was prepared for a good roadbed, and was not disappointed, for we rode as smoothly as between Montreal and Toronto. The sleeping cars are models of comfort, and the service on them, as well as the dining cars, couldn't be better. The Grand Trunk are setting the pace for general excellence in Western Canada."

LOCAL IMPROVEMENTS

NOTICE is hereby given that owing to a change in the law requiring a report from the City Engineer, which takes considerable time to prepare, before local improvement works can be undertaken, petitions for sewers, sidewalks or pavements to be constructed as local improvements must be received before February 1st, 1912, to be acted upon in 1912.

LOCAL OPTION IN THE NORTH.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—I see that an effort is to be made to pass Local Option in Burleigh and Anstruther at the January Municipal elections. I am a little surprised that there should be any desire for a chance, as there are only two licenses in the townships—one at Burleigh Falls and the other at Mount Julian. Both these hotels cater to the tourist trade. If Local Option passes, many who have made Stoney Lake their summer home will migrate elsewhere. This would mean a decided loss to the district. What I would like to see would be a summer wine and beer license for these places, thus cutting out whiskey altogether. I hope it is not yet too late to have this change made.

LOST ART OF LOVE.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—I see by the papers that Rev. George L. Parker of Salem, Mass., has managed to throw a new thought into the interminable discussion of divorce.

He contends that love is an art, largely a lost art ; that it can be taught like manual and liberal arts ; that the place to teach it is the school and church.

He says : "Love is capable of being reduced to scientific formulas like mathematics. Start to impress on the child the meaning of universal and brotherly love. Show him that this, being a social world, and co-operation being necessary, man must love his fellow man. You get that from the Bible.

"Tell the child to study the qualities that make the perfect human being, as it is evident God would have made him perfect. Set them down. Once he can detect them, let him take persons of the opposite sex and measure one against the other in love points, so to speak.

"One that ranks very high by such a measurement of love can be sure to be loved forever. A man who truly loved a woman never was divorced. More and more people rush into matrimony without knowing whether they love each other or not."

The suggestion is perhaps worthy of consideration, especially by teachers and preachers. The part that relates to love of mankind is promising, but that is the part that is not new, except as it is proposed to make it a matter of both secular and religious education.

As to the part that has to do with the scientific selection of life-mates, I fear it would break down in many instances. The young man who has learned to "score love points", and who has just got it nicely figured out that a certain ungainly girl of negative complexion has the highest rating, suddenly encounters, let us say, a vision of auburn hair, laughing brown eyes, and piquant nose and—good-bye "science !" That's the girl for him !

And the worst of it is you could never convince either of them that love is a "lost art." They would both regard it as the newest thing on earth, sparkling with the dew of Creation's morning !

THE SHAW MURDER CASE

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—I take the liberty of asking you to publish the following comments on the Shaw murder case by The Sentinel. It is, I think, fair and impartial, and should be read by every Protestant, as well as every fair-minded Roman Catholic :—

"The trial of Farquhar McRae at Cornwall last week for the murder of Shaw, the young druggist, of Carp, Ontario, resulted in a verdict of manslaughter.

"The trial is fully reported elsewhere in this issue, so the facts need not be restated.

"This was one of the subsidiary tragedies of the Ne Temere decree. If the Roman Catholic priest had not prevailed upon Dr. Magee's wife to leave him Farquhar McRae would be a free man and young Shaw would be alive to-day. Of course the priest could not foresee the shooting of an innocent man as the outcome of his interference with Dr. Magee and his wife. But even if he had been able to see that far, his church would have compelled him to proceed with his efforts to separate the young couple.

"Cardinal Manning said on one occasion that he would plunge all Europe in blood if thereby he could restore the temporal power of the Pope. The same spirit is displayed in the promulgation of the Ne Temere decree and its application. It never enters into a priest's mind that he is responsible for the domestic tragedies that follow his actions. He places the blame entirely upon those who have disobeyed the church. That is the greatest crime in the Roman calendar.

"From the evidence given at the trial it appears that Dr. Magee is a bad tempered man, incapable of controlling his tongue. His treatment of his wife was such as no man should be guilty of. But it was greatly accentuated by the efforts of the priest to direct the course his wife should take. There are many bad tempered men and women who overcome their natural tendency and make harmonious homes. This cannot be done, however, when a third person enters for the sole purpose of causing divisions. That is what happened in Dr. Magee's home, and that was the direct cause of the shooting. It is quite within the facts, therefore, to place the blame for the occurrence upon the priest. But the old man must pay the penalty."

SEVERAL DRUNKS.

A newly blacklisted young man was fined $2 and costs—$4.00 in all, for an over-indulgence in liquor. He had been blacklisted on Wednesday, but escaped a heavier fine owing to his having not having been served with the papers prohibiting the purchase by him of intoxicants.

A farmer's drunken spree cost him $5.50. The delinquent is detained, pending the arrival of the cash. Should he be disappointed in securing the $5.56, he will serve 15 days in Castle Nesbitt.

Fred Barlow was charged with vagrancy ; he is a farm laborer, and satisfactorily showing he had a position to go to, he was discharged.

THE BACKWOODSMAN

By Acton Seymour.

Harry tore the letter from the girl's hand, and crumpled it in his fist She stared at him, startled and wondering.

"Don't read any more — there's no need of any more!"

"Poor boy," she said, thinking she understood, though her heart was breaking. "it is cruel — wickedly cruel It kills you to listen. I am sorry I read your——"

"Cruel! No, Clare; it is life to me, that letter. It is strength, hope, love, happiness, that letter! Oh, the words are choking me. I must say them. I must go down at your feet and tell you the words that have been bursting in me all these days. I'll go away after I say them. You want no discarded lover, I know that. But I want to tell you that I never knew love till I loved you. It was only a boy's thing — that other! This is a man's passion, and——"

She put her hand on his arm.

"Hush!" she said, looking past him. She said it gently. "I want to listen, Harry. But it's too sacred for others to hear."

He followed her gaze, and saw Romeo Bragg at the door of the camp, trying to look innocent He took her hand.

"Strength is in me again," he declared. "Come, my Clare! Come up to the hill. Let's get nearer heaven — for it is sacred, what I have to tell you!"

"I've said it would happen," said Romeo Bragg to Governor Harris; "the only thing is, he's hung off longer'n I expected he would."

"Where do you reckon they're goin' to?" asked Harriss.

"Heard him say something about 'heaven'," chuckled Bragg. "But if that girl ever looked at me the way she looked at him, just now, I'd reckon that old earth was a good place to stay a while in."

"They'd better not go too far," mumbled Harriss "I ain't said anything about it — for I didn't want to worry a sick man or Miss Clare. But I'm knowin' to it that that hyena of a young Wiggin has been hangin around this place on the sly for some time."

"You must be mistook," declared Bragg, turning to his duties; "he don't want any more George provender passed to him. He ain't got appetite for it."

The two who slowly climbed the hill did not see the skulking figure that ran away toward the deeper woods of the summit. The man who ran evidently did not want to encounter them in the open where those at the camp would detect him.

It was Blinn Wiggin who ran

He found a hiding place near the top. He seemed to guess that they would come that way. His shelter was a hole under the looming shadow of the roots of an upturned tree that had been felled by a tempest. The roots held in their meshes the broad plat of earth, mixed with stone, and the heavy mass was set on edge, supported in that position by the prostrate trunk. Wiggin squeezed himself down close to the plat in the hollow it had left. He swung his rifle into position. He commanded the path.

But there was another skulking figure in the hilltop woods, a figure that had followed Blinn Wiggin for many days.

It appeared now with cautious steps. It saw what ambuscade Wiggin had prepared. It was Noel, the Fear, treading with the soft foot of the trailer. He heard the voices of the young people, as they climbed slowly, favoring Harry's new convalescence.

Noel stood for one moment, motionless. He understood.

He threw his knife and ran to the rear of the upraised plat. He peered at its upper edge, as though he intended to clamber up and drop on the man waiting there with rifle aimed. But, glancing down, he saw something that brightened his dull eyes. When the tree had fallen its trunk had been splintered across a boulder. The stub at the plat was joined to the tree only by strands of wood fiber, already half rotted.

The Indian had the quick knowledge of his forbears in regard to the affairs of the woods.

He kneeled upon the trunk. He began to cut at the fibers with his knife, grunting all the time like a quibling at his pasting. Wiggin growled a curse, and threw back a handful of pebbles to scare what his ear told him was a meddlesome porcupine finding his supper of spruce bark. The slashing of the knife blade sounded like an animal's teeth. With his grunts, the old man made the illusion complete.

Wiggin could not emerge to bother with a porcupine — the creature mattered nothing to him at that moment. He was after bigger game. It was almost in sight on the path, now. His finger pressed softly on the trigger. Hate blazed in his eyes. He had waited long, but he had never dreamed of such an opportunity as this. He would kill him at her feet. As for the girl who had scorned him, well——

The last fibers snapped. The weight of rocks and earth flipped the stub of tree upright. With a hollow "plock," with movement as swift as a steel trap, the plat came back into its old-time place, fitting into its hollow as though it never had been disturbed. Ten feet deep, under the stub of tree, Blinn Wiggin was entombed. life crushed from him as a toy dies under a housewife's palm.

"There's Noel, the Bear, from the Aznaki tribe," whispered Clare, as they passed the spot. She pointed up at the old Indian, standing beside the stump of tree, his arms folded, his face calm. "He has been wandering through the woods lately like a lost soul. There's gossip that some one has deceived his grand-daughter, White Lily — the pride of the tribe. Poor old man!"

They went on, hand in hand, and left him there.

He was there when they came down again. Harry George's lips sweet with her kisses, his soul brimming with the joy of living and loving

THE END

CHINA'S CHIEF WEAKNESS

One of the most remarkable characteristics of the Chinese people is their absolute inability to combine in a successful manner for any purpose. As bankers, merchants, contractors, etc., they are a success from both a commercial and an ethical standpoint. No people are commercially more honest or have a more exalted idea of the sacredness of a contract — either written, verbal, or merely implied — than the Chinese merchant, banker, or contractor of any kind, unless contaminated by dealings with unreliable foreign hongs at the open ports. The non-official word of a Chinese is usually as good as his bond, and his bond is as good as the wealth of his family. In fifteen years of dealing with Chinese merchants and contractors of all sorts I have never found them maliciously doing work contrary to the specifications or attempting to break their contract even if it was a losing one for them. But when the business becomes a limited corporation and the executive is a board of directors, everything goes to pieces. This division of responsibility, together with the fact that most of the capital invested does not belong to the directors, destroys all sense of commercial rectitude and of personal responsibility. It is a notorious fact that hardly one single Chinese limited company has been a success from the standpoint of the shareholders. This includes the China Merchants Steam Navigation Company, Chinese mining companies, electric lighting plants, watre-works, Chinese cotton factories, etc., etc. The railways that are managed solely by the Chinese are soon allowed to run down, and no funds are set aside for repairs and improvements.

Since the Chinese took over the Peking-Hankow Railways from the Belgians in December, 1908, no regular repairs or replacements have been made. hTe profits have been squandered, and both roadbed and rolling stock are going to ruin. The company has just been making vain efforts to flot a large foreign loan for the repair of this railway. If the people are unable to combine with success to manage the affairs of a small corporation, how much less could they combine to run the affairs of the country?

The present system of government is hopeless. The Central Government has but little hold on the provinces, and fears them. The taxes and revenues are practically farmed out, and but a small percentage of the amount taken from the people ever reaches the Central Government.

The whole effort is to get money at any cost, even if the source of revenue is eventually destroyed thereby. As an example, when the railway from Peking to Kalgan, one hundred and forty-five miles north from Peking, was opened, the amount of traffic and profits were large. What did the Chinese Government do but at once establish six or more likin (Chinese customs) stations out his line and collect customs duties on all traffic! Within a few months the cars were running empty and the goods were being transported in the good old-fashioned way — packed on mules and camels.

The people have no confidence in the officials or the Regent, and during the last two years this lack of confidence has broadered into utter contempt. The only thing that holds the "powers that be" in place is the lack of a leader for the people. As yet not one has appeared in China. The people have no confidence in any of the so-called revolutionary leaders, as not one of them has shown any ability beyond that of getting money from the people and spending it in safety abroad.

Happiness

"If folks go looking for happiness it never comes to them. Happiness isn't a thing — it's yourself."

"A woman is never so happy as when she has a mere man at her feet, grovelling there in hopeless perplexity."

A Thought for To-day

As in that which is above Nature, so in Nature itself: he that breaks one physical law is guilty of all. The whole universe, as it were, takes up arms against him, and all Nature, with her numberless and unseen powers is ready to average herself upon him, and on his children after him, he knows not when nor where. He, on the other hand, who obeys the law of Nature with his whole heart and mind, will find all things working together to him for good. He is helped and befriended alike by the sun above his head and the dust beneath his feet: because he is obeying the will and mind of Him who made sun, and dust, and all things: and who has given them a law which cannot be broken. — Kingsley.

Thought it was a Crack.

A corpulent gentleman with a large appetite entered a mean-looking restaurant, and ordered a chop, and waited twenty minutes. Then the waiter reappeared with a plate on which rested a dab of mashed potatoes, a bit of meat burnt almost to a cinder, out of which emerged a long, thin piece of bone.

The waiter set it down before the starving gentleman and hurried off.

"See here," called the customer, "I ordered a chop."

"Yes sir," replied the man, "there it is."

"Ah, so it is," mused the hungry man, readjusting his spectacles. "I thought it was a crack in the plate."

Knowledge is, indeed, that which, next to virtue, truly and essentially raises one man above another. It finishes one half of the human soul. It gives ease to solitude and gracefulness to retirement. — Addison.

Animal Love.

Mother love is universal, and there is no love like the mother love. Most of the high and lofty loving in this world is done by mothers. Apart from this the work of wooing falls to the male members of the family whether it be the human family or some one of the other animal tribes. We read how, ages ago, a Bulbul, or Oriental Nightingale, wooed a white rose until it blushed red, and that was the beginning of the red rose. The Spanish Cavalier stands out in the rain and serenades his "Dulce Mia" until there is a crick in his neck, while she sits sheltered in a window above.

The cackle of the loon may be a love song for all we know. Maybe that's what made him loony in the first place.

The wild moose hollows his passion across the lake, and as likely as not the answering call is from a bark horn in the hands of a hunter, luring him to death.

It seems a sizzling shame, but if you will take a Grand Trunk train and travel into the "Highlands of Ontario" you will find men doing that very thing; arguing, doubtless, that all is fair in love and war.

The popularity of the Algonquin National Park, Ontario, has been pronounced this year, and it has been necessary to use at least 25 large tents as an auxiliary to the accommodation of the Highland Inn, at Algonquin National Park Station.

Most people return to their homes in the early part of September, but as this is one of the most delightful months in this territory, those who can make it convenient are advised to spend a week or two there. The hotel is also open all the winter and with the bracing air of this locality (1700 ft. above the sea) a most delightful sojourn can be spent even in the winter months.

While out hunting with several of his companions on Thanksgiving Day Georgs James, of 505 Sherbrooke street was the victim of a painful accident. One of the party stumbled over a stump and having his finger on the trigger of the gun, discharged it, with the result that George, who was standing nearby received the shot in his leg. When he was taken home, Drs. Young and Boucher were called. They extracted the bullet which had passed right through the bone. The boy is now doing nicely.

Real Estate, Mining and Industrial Investments

HOW $100 GREW TO $31620

The value and importance of any enterprise must be based on the profits and dividends it can earn. In this respect the Midway Maple Leaf Oil Company, Limited, is without a parallel in the line of investments.

It combines the attractive factors which are needed to make the perfect investment—viz., safety, large earning capacity and low cost of the stock at the start. It is not at all uncommon for oil stocks to begin at a few cents a share and jump to hundreds of dollars a share—sometimes thousands.

	Started at	Has Sold at
Central	10 cents	$2.10
Monte Cristo	10 cents	$4.00
Lucile	10 cents	$16.00
Silver Tip	25 cents	$4.00
San Francisco and McKittrick	40 cents	$28.00
Kern River	50 cents	$8.75
Peerless	50 cents	$8.75
Puente	$10.00	$150.00
Home	$10.00	$5000.00

This list, taken from San Francisco and Los Angeles Stock Exchange records, could be added to almost indefinitely.

Fortunes have been made from stock increases. stock is $200, YOUR YEARLY PROFIT ON AN INVESTMENT OF $300.

When we have ten wells sunk you can reasonably figure on AN ANNUAL PROFIT ON YOUR HOLDINGS OF $2000.

$2000 A YEAR. DOESN'T THIS APPEAL

Many a case could be cited similar to that of Richard Ellis, clerk in a store in Los Angeles, whose investment of $100 became worth $31,620 in a short time. There are hundreds of such cases in Los Angeles alone.

$2000.00 Profit a Year

Do you realize that stock in the Midway Maple Leaf Oil Company, Limited, at the present price of 30 cents a share is not merely the opportunity of the year—IT IS THE OPPORTUNITY OF A LIFETIME.

If you have $10, $50, $100 or $500 YOU SIMPLY CAN NOT AFFORD TO PASS IT UP.

If we develop only a 1000 barrel well of 26 gravity oil, this production alone will be sufficient to enable the corporation to pay a dividend of 20 per cent. and at the same time have sufficient capital to continue the drilling of wells.

1000 shares of stock at the present price of 30c costs only $300.

20 per cent. dividend on the par value of the TO YOU? Wouldn't you like to be coming up to this office every three months and getting your dividend cheque for $500?

Remember, too, that your stock holdings in Midway Maple Leaf, if you should want to sell them should be worth $18,000 or sixty times the amount of your original investment.

Consider These Facts

The Midway Maple Leaf Oil Company is working in proven gusher territory, the richest oil zone in the world, controlling 40 acres on one-eighth royalty, with the great advantage of the option to purchase at only $1250 per acre after oil is struck, and the ground must then be worth at least $5000 per acre. This means a clean profit of $150,000 over purchase price. It has been demonstrated completely by gushers on adjoining Standard and Honolulu ground, that this portion of the Midway field is not only the richest portion of the whole district, but that it produces the highest grade of oil found in the entire vicinity, and worth 40 per cent. more per barrel at the well.

A CHANCE TO MAKE MONEY IN VANCOUVER REALTY

Investors seeking an opportunity to secure large returns for their money will find an exceptional chance offered by Keith Park Land Co., Limited, of Vancouver, B. C. This company has placed on the market for immediate sale the choicest piece of property on the North Shore.

EASY FISHING IN THIS CLASS

In Filling the Crab-Claw Market the Original Owner is More than Obliging to the Man Who Supplies the Goods.

Visitors in Seville see women carrying baskets full of crabs' claws. The claws are cooked, and people nibble at them, more for fun than for sustenance, just as Russians nibble sunflower seeds. What becomes of the rest of the crustacean, especially, if he is a crawfish, of his tail?

As a matter of fact, the crabfish has no part in the business. The claws are taken from a salt water crab, which lives along the shores of Morocco, Spain, and Portugal. Each little crab, with its one little mate, has a cave for a home, and, adopting the Eastern estimate of the other sex, he usually keeps his wife shut inside the cave, meanwhile staying about the threshold himself and making a brave show with his big claws.

When the tide runs out, the crab fishers prowl along the beach looking for crab holes. Either the crab is stalking up and down seeking what he may devour, and thus showing whether he has fine claws, or he is still at home, and the size of the doorway indicates the size of the householder. In one case the fisherman cuts off his retreat by blocking his front door with mud; in the other case he digs him out. Anyway, he deprives him of his pincers and sets him at liberty, to grow some more.

Right here appears the quaintest feature of the whole affair; for the the claw with him, and romps off home without it.

pincers are not torn away from the crab at all. Instead, he presents them to the fisherman, perhaps even with his compliments. It is a fact easily demonstrable that the crab can detach his claw by muscular effort, thus making no hemorrhage, but leaving the stump in such a condition that a new claw is soon grown. The fisherman simply takes the crab by the hand, whereupon it lets go, leaves the claw with him, and romps off home without it.

The Moose and the Lilly Pad.

The moose's love for the lily pad that floats on the surface of the northern lakes make him appear reckless and unafraid. In summer, even in September, the fishermen often cut him off from the shore, drive him into deep water and have fun with him. Sometimes, when the moose reaches shoal water and gets his hind feet on the bottom, he has fun with the fisherman, smashes his canoe and makes him swim for his life.

However, after the shooting season opens the moose becomes more cautious.

There are thousands of moose around Lake Temagami. At North Bay you change from the Grand Trunk to the Temiskaming and Northern Ontario and get off at Temagami Station.

The Fort Garry.

The work of constructing the second of the Grand Trunk's System of palatial hotels has begun at Winnipeg. It has been definitely and finally decided that the Winnipeg hotel, which will be of the same style of architecture as the magnificent "Chateau Laurier" at Ottawa, shall be called "The Fort Garry."

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

THE COMFORT OF INDEPENDENCE ASSURED THE B. C. FRUIT GROWER

In British Columbia Fruit Growing is synonymous with Success. The fame of the five-acre fruit farms of the Fraser Valley is spreading to every corner of this continent. Already "Fruit" suggests the Pacific Coast, soon it will direct the thoughts instinctively to British Columbia, particularly to the lower Fraser River Valley.

FLESHERTON GARDENS, which I am now selling, is the cream of this Valley land. The soil is a rich deep chocolate, humous and friable, free from weeds, stones or stumps. Good roads lead to the property and two railways are ready to carry the fruit to market. The Chilliwack line of the B. C. Electric Railway CUTS THROUGH FLESHERTON GARDENS, and the Victoria, Vancouver and Eastern is only a few yards away. Over a dozen trains pass the property every day, and the traffic will increase in the immediate future.

BIG PROFITS IN FRUITS AND VEGETABLES.

Do you know that you can make immense profits in fruits, tubers and vegetables on the Coast? To-day last year's potatoes are selling at $70 a ton in Seattle, only a few miles from here. In Westminster and Vancouver the price is from $60 to $65 a ton. Cherries fetch 50c a pound and strawberries 25c a box. All other fruits are high in proportion. Remember these are NOT FANCY PRICES, but to-day's quotations. There is no difficulty in selling the fruit, for people here have the money and don't mind the price.

IT'S EASY TO SECURE THE LAND

I have placed FLESHERTON GARDENS on the market on very easy terms, $200 each and the balance spread over several years. You can have your pick of these five acre farms at from $150 to $350 per acre. You cannot find a better investment anywhere; no matter how rosy other prospects may be, this one leads them all.

Sign this blank, and mail it to me NOW. I can tell you a great deal more about FLESHERTON GARDANS in a personal letter. It's to your advantage to get all the information you can.

Failed to Cure Rheumatism.

Miss Flora Chapman Vividly Describes Her Sufferings at Ultimate Cure with "Nerviline."

"After being an enthusiastic user of Nerviline for years, I feel it my duty to tell you personally what your wonderful preparation has done for me.

"I suffered torture from rheumatism and heart trouble, tried scores of so-called remedies, consulted for weeks and months with Toronto's most eminent physicians, but derived only slight benefit.

"A friend insisted on my using Nerviline, and to my surprise a vigorous rubbing of this powerful liniment eased the pains and reduced the stiffness in my joints. I continued to use Nerviline and was permanently cured. I am now perfectly well, and for three years have had no rheumatism at all. I know many families where no other medicine but Nerviline is kept—it is so useful in minor ailments like earache, toothache, neuralgia, coughs, colds, lumbago and sciatica. I call Nerviline my "Life Guard," and urge all to try its merit."

Blacklister Fined.

At the police court Saturday Floyd McMaster, who was fined $5.00 on Friday for attempting to effect an entrance to Constable Meagher's residence while under the influence of liquor, was fined $12.50 for procuring liquor while on the blacklist. It appears that on the night McMaster and a companion named Yorkston were at Constable Meagher's house, the pair had a couple of quart bottles of liquor in their possession, which liquor Mr. "Jim" Yorkston is accused of purchasing and priming McMaster with some of the same, notwithstanding that the latter had previously told him he was on the blacklist. McMaster paid his fine. Yorkston may have to face the serious charge of supplying a blacklister with liquor.

VOL XXXIV NO 255 PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO, TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 7 1911 PRICE TWO CENTS

Dykes Are Breaking The Country Flooded

Berlin, Nov. 6.—A very severe storm is sweeping over the Baltic and North Sea coasts to-day. An unknown steamer sank off Cuxhaven. The fate of the crew is not known. Life boats rescued the crews of several other distressed vessels. Dykes at many points have been broken and the country is flooded.

Special trains are being rushed to the coast, with boats and soldiers to rescue endangered residents there.

CANADA TO LET TARIFF ALONE

No Changes Likely to be Made for the Time Being, It is Now Believed

NO INCREASED PREFERENCE

No Increased Preference—Manufacturers Like British Rivalry Not Better Than American—The Country is Prosperous Under Present Conditions.

Montreal, Nov. 6.—That the government will propose any tariff amendments at the first session of the new Canadian Parliament is now considered doubtful. There is a disposition to accept the recent verdict of the electorate as approval of the let-well-alone attitude of the opponents of reciprocity. It is argued that the country has prospered and is prospering under the last Fielding tariff. The manufacturers are not pressing for more protection, although they would not object to it, and the farmers, it is concluded from the voting on Sept. 21, are not looking for immediate relief from tariff burdens. The only interest that is really desirous of tariff change is the steel interest. It wants the bounty back on steel rods. It must be understood that in this Canada of ours we not only shield our big manufacturers from outside competition, but also pay him bounties according to the quantity of things he makes. They get these from the federal government and from the provincial governments. In addition, municipalities compete with each other to have factories in their midst, and offer inducements in the form of tax exemptions and cash bonuses. Thus the lot of the manufacturer seems to be an enviable one here, although there are not wanting those who think that such a system of public encouragement is a hindrance to healthy development. The system also entails charges on the public treasury which would have been ruinous before this, if the prosperity of the country had not advanced at such a rate as to make successive increases in the public debt easily borne.

No Revision Likely.

On the whole, no tariff revision is likely for the time being. The government can point to the precedent set by the Laurier cabinet, which deferred tariff action until its second session. Leaving things as they are, the Borden cabinet will try to gather all the information possible to help it in framing a scientific tariff on the lines advocated by President Taft for the United States. It may be predicted with confidence that whatever changes are made will not be made in any spirit of hostility to our American neighbors. Nor will there be any increase of the preference on British goods. The party now in power would give preference for preference. If Britain will adopt a protective tariff, Canada will be ready to talk business with her. At least, that is what the Conservatives say now. But in fact, the manufacturing interests are as little eager for reciprocity with Britain as they were for reciprocity with the United States. Mr. Borden has said he would rather have a factory in Toronto than one in Lancashire. Mutual preference with Great Britain will mean a wider market for the Canadian farmer and more competition for the Canadian manufacturer. It will be interesting to hear what cry the latter will raise when the time comes to save his markets from his British brother. It will probably be, "Canada first."

UNION BANK OPENS LOCAL BRANCH

Splendid Premises for Peterborough's Newest Addition to Her Local Financial Institutions.

The Union Bank of Canada, Peterborough's latest addition to the family of financial institutions, has opened its doors here in quest of business from the commercial, farming and manufacturing industries. This new local bank is situated in the re-constructed, rebuilt and re-planned building formerly occupied at 342 George street, by Mr. George Hutchison. The planning and re-building was in charge of Mr. Thos. Rutherford, of the local contracting firm of Rutherford Bros. The Union Bank opens most auspiciously under management of a former local member of the Bank of Montreal staff, Mr. C. H. Pennefather. Local citizens would not recognize the former George street entrance, owing to the splendid, intelligent and artistic work performed by Mr. Rutherford's well trained staff of employees. The front of the bank presents an elegant and massive appearance, finished in Indiana sandstone. Over the entire front, deeply cut in the stone are heavily gilded letters bearing the legend "Union Bank of Canada," which same inscription is engraved in the stone transom which extends throughout the whole front of the building. The George street supporting pillars follow the Ionic style of architecture. The wide, and welcoming front doors are of heavy quartered white oak and French plate glass. In business hours the bank is well lighted by large plate glass windows at both front and rear. One point, well worth noting, is the manifest consideration shown to the farming community. The rear of the Union Bank, abutting on the Market Square, is as easily accessible and as convenient for farmers as is the front entrance on George street.

The Interior.

As we enter the bank, to the left are two ornamental and massive wall desks provided for convenience of the bank's patrons. The floor, traversed by the bank's customers, is of highly ornamental mosaic tile work. Mr. Rutherford, designer of the reconstructed premises has built in a 9x9 foot brick and steel burglar and fireproof vault. The interior illumination, supplied by Mr. F. R. J. Macpherson, is the "last word" in electrical skill, and of a highly ornamental character. It is only fair to note in so complete a job that the brick work was done by Sherwood and King, the painting by Johnston & Reynolds, the plastering by Wm. Tinsley and the concrete work by Robert Smith, under general designing by Mr. Rutherford.

As regards the financial status of the Union Bank, it is simply necessary to state that this is one of the strongest, and most, from a customers standpoint, obliging banks in the Dominion, as well as one of the safest in the world. With Mr. Pennefather, a former local banker, as manager, and Mr. "Jimmy" O'Brien, son of the County School Inspector, as accountant, the local branch of the Union Bank opens under most auspicious omens.

CHANGING HER FACE

(From the Household Friend)

Any woman not satisfied with her complexion can remove it and have a new one. The thin veil of stifling half-dead cuticle is an encumbrance and should be removed to give the fresh, vigorous young skin underneath a chance to show itself and to breathe.

There's a simple old-fashioned home remedy which will always do the work. Get an ounce of pure mercolized wax from your druggist and apply it at night like cold cream, washing it off in the morning. The mercolide will gently absorb all the lifeless skin and leave a healthy and beautiful complexion, as fresh as a child's. Naturally it takes with it all such facial blemishes as freckles, tan, moth patches, sallowness, liver spots, pimples, etc. It is pleasant to use, effective and economical. The face so treated immediately looks years younger.

MRS. BUCHANAN'S TRIAL TODAY

Pathetic Case Appeals to the General Public.

Pembroke, Nov. 6.—When Julia Buchanan is brought into court today, charged with attempted murder, the chief witness to be called against her will be the man whom it is alleged she tried to poison.

Much sympathy is felt for the young woman and there is something pathetic about the whole tragedy.

The accused and accuser have grown up from childhood together, and both for many years attended the same little village school at Westmeath.

The prevalent opinion seems to be that the woman will be acquitted. There does not seem to be the slightest evidence other than that of circumstantial nature, that she is guilty. Much will depend upon Mordyn's statement, and it is believed here that the woman's counsel can and will produce evidence to prove that when the poisoning was supposed to have taken place, Mrs. Buchanan was away from home.

HAS PEKIN FALLEN INTO HANDS OF REBELS?

SAN FRANCISCO STORY THAT REBELS HAVE SEIZED IMPERIAL CAPITAL.

GUNBOATS JOIN REBELS

Foreign Marines Are Guarding the Cable Huts—Shanghai Now the Rebel Headquarters.

San Francisco, Nov. 6.—A cablegram to the Chinese Daily Paper, a newspaper published here, to-day says Pekin was captured late yesterday by the revolutionists after a sharp encounter.

HEADQUARTERS AT SHANGHAI.

London, Nov. 6.—The Times' Pekin correspondent says: "There is no longer reason to doubt that Shanghai is the headquarters of the revolution movement. The peaceful transfer of the city to the revolutionists has caused an immense sensation in Pekin, which is deepened by tonight's news that Soo Chow and Hang Chow have joined the movement.

EXODUS CONTINUES.

"Pekin is full of rumors and the exodus continues.

Shanghai, Nov. 6.—Three Chinese gunboats, forming part of Admiral Sah Chen Ping's fleet, which put in here yesterday for provisions, went over to the rebels this morning. The Chinese telegraph operators here went on strike to-day. The cables have not been molested. Foreign marines are guarding the cable huts.

Pekin, Nov. 6.—General Li Yuan, commander-in-chief of the rebels in southern China, has flatly refused Yuan Shi Kai's offers for a settlement of the revolutionists' grievances.

The only terms upon which General Li will make peace, Yuan states, include the following:

"Deposition and degradation of the Emperor.

"Formal recognition of the recently-proclaimed 'republic of Han.'

"Election by popular vote of a head of the republican government to succeed himself."

THE PURE MILK QUESTION

The pure milk question is a live one in Peterborough at present, and a by-law restricting the conduction of dairies, and possibly the method of delivering milk will come in force next month. The supply of wholesome milk, however, will depend more largely upon conditions at the dairies from whence the milk is brought to town than whether it is delivered in bottles, or measured out from cans. The United States is now taking up the pure milk question very seriously, and an inspection of farm dairies in Massachusetts and other New England States, shows that inspection is being made none too soon, both in the interests of consumers and of those milk dealers who keep their premises in sanitary conditions and do all that is required to assure the distribution of wholesome milk. The iniquitous conduct of the few rebels upon the righteous principles of the many, as evidenced in New England States, where the discovered practice of some few farmers who packed manure around their milk cans in winter to prevent freezing, caused a panic in city and town markets, resulting in a falling off of sales. Thus it is to the advantage of all purveyors of milk that the Health Inspector does his whole duty, commencing with the dairies, farm or otherwise. Let the milk leave the dairies pure and wholesome, and in a city like Peterborough, unusually healthy in its natural conditions, the manner of distribution is of secondary importance.

In this connection, Mr. Phillips of Milwaukee, a social reformer of high repute, invests the milk dealer with a tremendous moral responsibility, when he asserts that if children from the age of one to the school age were supplied with plenty of pure, wholesome milk, that it would, through proper nutrition, greatly reduce the number of criminals and deficients that the municipalities have to deal with.

REVOLUTION WITHIN 20 YEARS

Chicago, Nov. 6.—Speaking before the Chicago Federation of Labor yesterday, Frank Buchanan, of Illinois, predicted a revolution within twenty years if Congress does not enact remedial legislation. He declared the labor leaders in Congress are having an up hill fight to bring about legislation which is beneficial to labor.

Speaking of the Taylor system, he said: "The Taylor system, which the Government and others are trying to introduce so that more profit can be obtained, will cause a revolution within 20 years."

PROTEST FROM THE EAST

East Ward ratepayers are dissatisfied that $5,000 should be expended by the city on Park property for the South Ward, when all they can get is $1,000 for the purchase and removal of a couple of old shacks to allow for what one angry East City ratepayer characterises as an abortive effort to create a park out of an unprepossessing back yard. Of course the idea of the Council was to remove a couple of dilapitated buildings that were unquestionably an eye-sore to adjoining property and incidentally provide a "breathing spot." But citizens across the river say they want a PARK, to which project they claim equal rights with South-Enders.

IS FATHER VAUGHAN COMING TO PETERBORO'?

The celebrated Jesuit preacher who called Protestantism a "soulless" religion is on this continent again, preaching a great modern crusade against the enemies of the Catholic Church. The following is taken from the Catholic Register:—

"We have had this communication from Very Rev. Bernard Vaughan, S. J., who is coming to Toronto to deliver the Advent sermons, and whose presence and message will be of the deepest interest to the entire community: "I will be with you in good time on Dec. 2nd. You will like to know my theme for Advent—Four Portraits from the Gospels: 1. The Prodigal; 2. The Magdalen; 3. The Rich Man; 4. The Baptist. I think these portraits will give me much to say. I am here (South Norwalk, Conn.) in retreat the 28th when I go to Baltimore. Besides these four discourses, Father Vaughan will preach the Christmas sermon here, and, if possible, favor other Ontarian churches with sermons. There will be a great rush to hear him who is regarded as the greatest living English speaking preacher."

Schenectady, N. Y., Nov. 6.—While Mrs. Pulkow was out last night fire destroyed her home in this city, and burned to death two of her three children while they were sleeping.

PERSIA DEFIES ULTIMATUM OF THE CZAR OF RUSSIA

Teheran, Persia, Nov. 6.—The Russian Minister to-day presented an ultimatum to the Persian Government setting forth that unless the Persian Minister of Foreign Affairs apologized for the alleged insult to the Russian Vice-Consul, M. Petroff, on the occasion of the seizure of the property of Shua-es-Sultaneh, removed the treasury gendarmes and reinstate the Persian Cossacks formerly there, Russia would occupy the provinces of Ghilan and Mazandetan in the north of Persia bordering on the Caspian Sea.

The Government has decided not to comply with the Russian demands.

RICHESON PLANS TO GO AS A MISSIONARY

Boston, Mass., Nov. 6.—So confident is he that he will be acquitted of the charge of murdering Avis Linnell that Rev. Clarence V. T. Richeson has planned to marry Miss Violet Edmands, his heiress-fiancee, and become a missionary in foreign fields.

Richeson has told some of his friends who have visited him in the jail that he knows he will be freed when the jury determines his case.

Miss Edmands has been firm in her belief of the innocence of the pastor, and it is said she and all the members of her family are anxious for the marriage to take place as soon as Richeson is freed, if he is acquitted.

The pastor has told his friends that no matter what the jury decides, he realizes it would be folly for him to attempt again to preach in this country or to accept a patorate. The notoriety that has been drawn about him has made it impossible for him to secure a church, even if he is completely exonerated by the jury. For that reason, he plans, if he is acquitted, to go either to China or Africa. Miss Edmands as his wife, would accompany him, he is said to have confided to his friends.

NEW BETHANY TO BE BUILT

Further Particulars of the Great Conflagration

FIRE is not always fatal to a young town, and frequently is the means of greatly improving the place. The merchants and others in Bethany who lost their business places and homes in last week's conflagration, have already begun to rebuild. The insurance companies have made favorable settlement in almost every instance, so that active building operations will start at once. Mr. Alex. Monk called at the Warder office, Lindsay, and told the story of the fire, which he said was first noticed about twenty minutes to twelve o'clock by a relative who was returning from a wake. She spied a small blaze at the rear of Jackson's store house and immediately spread the alarm. The bell on the Methodist church was rung several times, but it was hard work arousing the citizens from their sleep. However, a large number turned out and at once went to work to fight the flames, which were being fanned into a fierce conflagration by the strong wind that was blowing. In short order the frame structures were in ashes, the owners of the stores having little opportunity of getting out their stock of goods. Brick buildings were also attacked by the fiery monster and it was only the heroic work of the citizens with the assistance of the workmen of the Toronto Construction Co. that the entire village was saved from being wiped out.

The fire broke out in Jackson's store house and swept up the street easterly, as far as Mr. J. J. Preston's, the popular member of parliament's grain offices and every building between the two places was levelled to the ground, including Jackson's grocery and butcher shop, Sisson's barber shop, the town hall, Chas. Reynold's large undertaking establishment and hardware store, Dr. T. G. Brereton's fine drug store, Mr. Gallagher's dwelling house, and Mr. Alex. Monk's harness shop and boot and shoe repair shop.

The total loss of the buildings alone is estimated at over $21,000, there being very little insurance on any of the buildings. Mr. Monk's loss is complete and is estimated at about $500, there being no insurance. Mr. Monk recently launched into business on his own behalf, and had a complete new stock of harness, etc. $2,000 damage is the estimate at Jackson's store. Mr. Levi Sisson, who is a cousin of Mr. Matt Sisson, of Lindsay, ran a tonsorial parlor and managed to get his stock out. Mr. Chas. Reynolds also was fortunate in getting out the bulk of his stock as well as Dr. Brereton. Everything in the town hall went up in smoke, including a brand new piano and all the civic documents.

The fire was subdued by the aid of the village fire hand pump, which pumped water out of the tank of the Toronto Construction Company nearby. The employes of the above company rendered valuable assistance in checking the progress of the flames. One man climbed on top of Dr. Hamilton's house, which caught fire several times, and managed to put out all the sparks. The water froze on the roof and he slipped and fell to the ground, but fortunately was not seriously hurt.

Mr. Jos. Hadden's store and post office were also in danger, sparks igniting the frame structure several times.

Dr. Brereton's drug store was a fine brick building as was also the town hall.

Just five years ago a small fire broke out in the village of Bethany and a frame house was destroyed.

Mr. Monk states that it is the intention to rebuild the burnt section at once with up-to-date structures.

MARKET BUILDING FLOODED.

Six Inches of Water in the Public Lavatory.

Surface drainage caused by the heavy rainfall yesterday afternoon found its way into the cellar of the market building. Owing to the stoppage in the sewer on George street the water backed up the outlet from the lavatory into the premises to the depth of at least six inches. It was found necessary to bring into requisition a hand pump to evict the unwelcome flood, which pump was found necessary to keep going for some considerable time.

A WONDERFUL DISCOVERY

An eminent scientist, the other day gave his opinion that the most wonderful discovery of recent years was the discovery of Zam-Buk. Just think! As soon as a single thin layer of Zam-Buk is applied to a wound or a sore, such injury is insured against blood poison! Not one species of microbe has been found that Zam-Buk does not kill!

Then again. As soon as Zam-Buk is applied to a sore, or a cut, or to skin disease, it stops the smarting. That is why children are such friends of Zam-Buk. They care nothing for the science of the thing. All they know is that Zam-Buk stops their pain. Mothers should never forget this.

Again. As soon as Zam-Buk is applied to a wound or to a diseased part, the cells beneath the skin's surface are so stimulated that new healthy tissue is quickly formed. This forming of fresh healthy tissue from below is Zam-Buk's secret of healing.

The tissue thus formed is worked up to the surface and literally casts off the diseased tissue above it. This is why Zam-Buk cures are permanent.

Only the other day Mr. Marsh, of 101 Delorimier Ave., Montreal, called upon the Zam-Buk Company and told them that for over twenty-five years he had been a martyr to eczema. His hands were at one time so covered with sores that he had to sleep in gloves. Four years ago Zam-Buk was introduced to him, and in a few months it cured him. To-day—over three years after his cure of a disease he had for twenty-five years—he is still cured, and has had no trace of any return of the eczema!

All druggists sell Zam-Buk at 50c box, or we will send free trial box if you send this advertisement and a 1c stamp (to pay return postage). Address Zam-Buk Co., Toronto.

THE CANADA NATIONAL FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY

was incorporated by Special Act of the Parliament of Canada for the purpose of carrying on the business of Fire Insurance, as outlined in the Insurance Act and the Special Act of Incorporation.

Capital Stock Authorized by the Board.....$2,000,000
Capital Stock Subscribed to date.....$1,650,000

The Head Office of the Company is in the city of Winnipeg, and, in addition to this, Branch Offices and Agencies will be established throughout the Dominion.

It must be generally conceded that, owing to the satisfactory conditions at present prevailing throughout not only Western Canada, but the entire Dominion, this Company is being organized at a most favorable and opportune time.

Canada, and particularly the Western portion of the Dominion, is advancing in population and wealth more rapidly than at any other time in its history, and every indication points towards a period of great prosperity and development.

The great influx of settlers into Western Canada is resulting in tremendous activity in every line of business. Railroad construction is proceeding on a scale hitherto unknown in this country, and as adequate transportation is of vital importance in moving our immense crops with a proper degree of facility, it is highly encouraging to see so much well-directed energy along the lines of railway extension.

Coincident with railway expansion, we find many new districts rapidly filling up with desirable settlers, bringing with them a good supply of cash and effects. With the settlement of the rural districts, new towns and villages are springing up, which will, during the next few years, become, in many instances, important business centres.

With such unprecedented growth in Western as well as Eastern Canada, involving an expenditure of millions of dollars in building operations, it is at once evident that there is a very extensive and profitable field for a new Fire Insurance Company which will have a thorough organization throughout the length and breadth of the Dominion, and more particularly in the four Western Provinces.

As a great volume of our business will be transacted in the West, it is a matter of the greatest importance that the Head Office of the Company, as well as the Directors, should be located in the West, so that the affairs of the Company may be conducted to the best possible advantage.

DIRECTORS.

The Board of Directors consists entirely of Western men with a very intimate knowledge of Western conditions, and they are, accordingly, well conversant with the financial and general business requirements of the West. They are thoroughly representative of the various important branches of financial, commercial, industrial and professional life in Western Canada, and with their wide reputation for business ability and integrity, as well as financial standing, combined with a long and varied experience, and practical knowledge of business affairs, they are exceptionally well qualified to render excellent service to a large financial institution.

As the Directors have valuable connections with extensive business interests and are also Directors of other financial corporations, as well as being otherwise identified with large and influential companies which control a great deal of high-grade fire insurance, they will be instrumental in placing a large portion of this desirable insurance with the new Company, so that we may safely conclude that from the very beginning of operations a large and profitable business will be assured.

Under these favorable conditions, and with a strong, energetic, as well as experienced and conservative management, combined with the fact that each Director has subscribed for eleven thousand five hundred dollars ($11,500) of the Capital Stock, on which all calls have been paid, and takes an active interest in the welfare of the Company, there is only one conclusion to draw, and that is that the affairs of the Company will be conducted in such a careful, conscientious and intelligent manner that the interests of both policyholders and stockholders will be fully protected.

IT IS WORTHY OF NOTE THAT $1,650,000 OF CAPITAL STOCK HAS ALREADY BEEN SUBSCRIBED BY PROMINENT BUSINESS AND PROFESSIONAL MEN THROUGHOUT THE DOMINION AND ELSEWHERE.

No commission has been paid to anyone for securing stock subscriptions, and no expense has been incurred in the promotion and organization of the Company, except the expense in connection with securing the Charter and other necessary expenses.

THE CANADA NATIONAL FIRE.

The Canada National Fire, being organized in the West, MAY BE TRULY CALLED A WESTERN COMPANY, and, as such, should receive the liberal patronage and hearty co-operation of the citizens of Western Canada, as well as the support of people from Eastern Canada who desire to become associated with a strong and progressive Canadian Company.

When promoting this Company the Directors were fully convinced that there was a splendid opening in Western Canada for a Company prepared to carry on the business of Fire Insurance on a large and comprehensive scale, and which, at the same time, could offer ADEQUATE PROTECTION TO BOTH POLICYHOLDERS AND SHAREHOLDERS. Accordingly, when making application for a Dominion charter, the Company was incorporated with a capital of $3,000,000.00, of which amount the Directors decided to offer for public subscription the sum of $2,000,000.00.

THE ALL-IMPORTANT FEATURE IN FIRE INSURANCE IS PROTECTION, and with the LARGE CAPITAL, combined with the high standard of Reserve, which will be maintained through careful selection of risks and profits from judicious investments, the Directors and Management feel confident that this Company will be accorded a very hearty reception by Canadian citizens, and will soon rank as one of the leading Fire Companies.

WITHOUT A LARGE AND SUBSTANTIAL CAPITAL FOR THE PROTECTION OF THE POLICYHOLDERS, A FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY IS SERIOUSLY HANDICAPPED, AND DOES NOT AFFORD THE POLICYHOLDER THAT PROTECTION TO WHICH HE IS JUSTLY ENTITLED, and the Directors of this Company, being fully aware of this most important fact, are adopting a very wise policy in OFFERING FOR SUBSCRIPTION SUCH A LARGE AMOUNT OF CAPITAL STOCK, and when our entire stock is subscribed and paid in full it will represent the largest amount of subscribed and paid-up capital of any Canadian Fire Insurance Company, and will be a tower of strength and of very material benefit to the company in carrying on its extensive operations.

GENERAL AGENT FOR CANADA

W. E. FUDGER, ESQ.

THIS IS A RARE OPPORTUNITY to secure some of the Capital Stock of a Western Fire Insurance Company. With a large amount of desirable and profitable business so readily obtainable by the Company through its valuable and extensive business connections, rapid progress should be made, and with investments carefully selected and unexcelled in earning power, the Company will be enabled to not only pay substantial dividends, but build up a large reserve, and thereby materially increase the value of the stock.

The Directors firmly believe in the policy that EVERY SHAREHOLDER SHOULD CO-OPERATE WITH THE MANAGEMENT of a Company and take an active interest in its welfare. For that reason, it is their intention to WIDELY DISTRIBUTE the CAPITAL STOCK, and by that means obtain the support of the leading business and professional men throughout the country.

With the rapid development of the West during recent years, involving an outlay of many millions of capital, it has become generally recognized that WESTERN CANADA IS VERY MUCH IN NEED OF MORE LARGE FINANCIAL INSTITUTIONS, AND ESPECIALLY OF WESTERN ORIGIN, to properly meet the growing requirements of the West, and to not only improve the present financial situation, but to materially assist in retaining, as much as possible, desirable business, with its resultant profits, within our own Western borders.

The business of fire insurance has now grown to such large proportions that it has become a very important factor in the financial and commercial world, and as its scope and influence is so general and widespread it is only natural to find that the question of AMPLE PROTECTION TO POLICYHOLDERS, which is the PRIMARY FUNCTION OF FIRE INSURANCE COMPANIES, should be so GENERALLY DISCUSSED AT THE PRESENT TIME.

This important subject has given rise to a very STRONG FEELING in Western Canada that the TIME HAS NOW ARRIVED when the Western people should organize a Fire Insurance Company of such strength and proportions that it will soon rank as one of the leading fire companies of America, and command general respect and confidence, which is so ESSENTIAL to a company that solicits the support and patronage of all classes of the community.

The Directors have every confidence that they will receive the hearty co-operation of not only Western citizens, but of people from every part of the Dominion, to build up a GREAT fire insurance company with AMPLE PROTECTION for the people, and which will be a source of pride and credit to our country.

The following Canadian Government Insurance statistics should prove of ESPECIAL INTEREST:

In the year 1900 the total amount of fire premiums collected in Canada was $1,785,539.00, whereas in the year 1909 the total premiums charged amounted to the large sum of $22,293,633.25, and of this amount $6,551,644.41 was charged by Canadian Companies, $11,518,267.45 by British Companies, and $4,223,721.39 by American Companies.

During the last forty-one years the aggregate amount of fire insurance premiums collected in Canada reached the immense total of $280,740,466.00, of which the large sum of $218,310,047.00 represents the amount of fire premiums collected by FOREIGN COUNTRIES, and which, therefore, was taken out of the country to build up foreign companies and enrich foreign shareholders.

Notwithstanding that a considerable portion of the fire premiums collected in Canada by Foreign Companies has been repaid to Canadian policyholders, through fire losses, it must be evident that the larger the proportion of Canadian fire insurance that is placed with Canadian Companies, the larger is the amount of capital retained in the Dominion and always available for investment purposes, to build up our Canadian financial institutions, and thereby add to the general wealth and prosperity of our country.

The above figures are most significant and clearly demonstrate that while the CANADIAN FIRE COMPANIES have been doing a satisfactory business they HAVE SECURED only a SMALL portion of the Fire Insurance transacted in Canada, or, to be more exact, ONLY TWENTY-TWO PER CENT. of THE TOTAL FIRE INSURANCE WRITTEN IN CANADA, covering a period of the last forty-one years. With the extraordinary progress which Canada has been making during recent years, the field for financial institutions has become so widely extended that there is a CONSTANTLY INCREASING DEMAND for new large financial corporations.

By further reference to our Government statistics it will be observed that at December 31st, 1909, the total number of Canadian Fire Companies operating under Dominion charter was ONLY TWENTY-ONE, and of this number ONLY TWO HAD A PAID-UP CAPITAL IN EXCESS OF $500,000.

In promoting this large Canadian Company the Directors are fully confident that the new organization will, with characteristic Western energy and enterprise, soon come to be recognized as an important factor in the insurance world, and as The Canada National Fire will be instrumental in RETAINING WITHIN THE BOUNDARIES OF CANADA a large amount of money which would otherwise be taken out of the country to build up foreign corporations the people of this growing Dominion will readily see the advisability of giving this Company their MORAL AND FINANCIAL SUPPORT, in order that we may build up a STRONG and VIGOROUS Company which will prove a valuable acquisition to our Canadian monetary institutions.

This is the last opportunity to secure, direct from the Company, some of this desirable stock.

It is worthy of special note that the demand for the stock has exceeded the Directors' most sanguine expectations; in fact, of the $2,000,000 of stock to be issued, $1,650,000 has already been subscribed, and, from present indications, with the large number of applications for stock being received daily, the Directors are confident that the balance of the issue, which is now only $350,000, will be subscribed by August 26th, 1911, the date appointed for the closing of stock subscriptions.

For this reason, the Directors strongly recommend the investing public to mail their applications for stock at their earliest possible opportunity.

Subscribers are requested to kindly fill in attached application form, stating name in full, number of shares desired, occupation and address, and mail the application, along with the first call of Twenty-five Dollars ($25.00) per share on the stock, direct to the Head Office of the Company, Winnipeg, Man., or, if so desired, application may be made for the stock at any of the Company's Branch Offices or at any Branch of the Royal or Imperial Banks, where application blanks and any additional information will be readily furnished. Applications for stock will be considered in the order received, and on approval of the same by the Board of Directors a certificate for the number of shares subscribed will be issued and mailed the shareholders forthwith. Cheques, Drafts, Money Orders or other remittances on account of stock subscriptions should be made payable to The Canada National Fire Insurance Company.

KING EDWARD VACUM CLEANER

You cannot clean carpets, rugs and furniture by beating. If you think you have, just try a KING EDWARD VACUUM CLEANER and you will find the article full of dust, which breeds disease.

The KING EDWARD HAND MACHINE has no equal as compared with other hand machines. It is lighter to operate and its suction is much stronger. Its suction is stronger than many of the power machines, and the dusting is done away with. On account of the short stroke one person can operate it on carpets and rugs equally as well as two, and it is about half the weight of other hand machines to carry up and down stairs or from one room to another. It is sold for less money than any of the hand machines. All machines are guaranteed.

An Interesting Booklet.

The Times is in receipt of a very interesting booklet dealing with the Maritime Provinces as a promising field for those who desire to establish new industries, or to profitably invest capital in the exploitation and development of natural resources. The obvious advantages of many parts of New Brunswick and Nova Scotia are ably presented in detail, together with many cheerful facts that ought to impress those who have capital ready to invest in a new field that is certainly rich in opportunity. It is commendable that while the eyes of the world are upon Canada, and thousands of new settlers are pouring into the West from many countries, an honest effort is being made to point out the advantages that exist in the east. The booklet will be mailed free to those who write the Industrial Department Intercolonial Railway, Moncton, N. B.

Present Disadvantages of Canadian Farmers.

At present the United States farmers have a great advantage over us. It costs 25c a bushel to send wheat into the United States. They can send their wheat into Canada for 12c a bushel, with rebate of 99 per cent. of duty when ground in bond. It costs us 30c to send a bushel of barley to the United States. They can ship barley into Canada for 15c. If we want to ship beans into the United States we have to pay 45c a bushel duty. The beans can come into Canada for 22c. They charge us 25c a bushel on the apples we send them. We charge them only 40c a barrel on what they send us. They charge us $4 a ton on the hay we send them. We charge them $2. They charge us 6c a pound on cheese, we charge them 3c. Thus it is with almost every farm product.

Under reciprocity these disadvantages will be wiped out, and we will be able to deal with them on an equal basis. Is not this worth while?

Home for Christmas

The Steamship Lines are expecting a large home-going exodus for the holiday season this year, and are making extensive preparations to take care of all of those who are planning to visit the Old Country.

The White Star-Dominion Line has arranged for three special Christmas sailings, viz. the "Canada" December 2nd, "Megantic" December 9th, and "Teutonic" December 14th, from Portland, Me., and Halifax, N. S., to take care of these passengers. These steamers will arrive in ample time to enable passengers to reach their homes before Christmas whether in England or on the Continent.

The railways have recognized the growing popularity of these annual Christmas excursions and now run special trains from Montreal and the west to connect with the steamers, and the most complete arrangements are made by both the steamship companies and the rail lines to further the comfort of the homeward bound ones during the holiday season.

Grand Trunk Opening New Territory

The new territory in the Canadian Rocky Mountains that is being opened up by the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway has already become the Mecca for a number of Alpine Climbers and those who love to get away from the turmoil of the busy city and explore mountain fastnesses that are practically unknown. Some of the travellers who have gone into this Yellow Head Pass territory are now returning, and one gentleman writes to the Grand Trunk Pacific Headquarters as follows:—"Lake Maligne is a beautiful lake between 16 and 18 miles long. I have visited all the other transcontinental lines both in Canada and the United States, and there is no lake or district along any of these lines that can compare with the Lake Maligne country. Some of the mountains around the lake are in the neighborhood of 12,000 feet. Lake Maligne is reached from Henry House a few miles west of Fitzhugh, the Second Divisional point, and covered with ice fields which make them very beautiful."

STRANGE NESTS OF WILD BIRDS

Swinging Cradle Evolved by the Ingenious Tailor-Bird Is of Leaves Neatly Sewn With Silk and Wool

The tailor-bird builds one of the most remarkable nests known to man. With only its beak for needle, it sews two or three leaves together in the form of a cup, and in this places its nest of wool, hair, and fine grass. It uses thread, which may be either silk, snatched from some caterpillar's cocoons, or pieces of wool or strong vegetable fibres. The bird bores holes in the edges of the leaves, and threads the binding material through.

The oven-bird of South Africa collects horse-hair and fibre, and with these bind together the walls of the mud house which it builds. This mud house is wonderfully designed. It is built on a firm foundation of hardened mud; it has stout walls, and is covered in with a dome — a most difficult piece of work for a mud working [illegible] without scaffolding. POCKET KNIVES IN THE MAKE

Although Comparatively Cheap Goods Pocke-Knives Are Put Through a Hundred Operations Before Being Ready for the Market

The labour of making a pocket-knife is, as usual in every industry that is carried on by the aid of a great deal of machinery, much divided. Each blade must go through six separate processes — first, forging; second, laying on the "tangs" — that part which is inserted into the handle and through which the blade is riveted; third, marking or stamping with the name of the manufacturer; fourth, "rebolling," or filling a [illegible] between the sharp edge and the heavier part or "tang"; fifth, tempering; sixth, grinding.

The kind of steel from which the blades are made is taken from the material room to the forge. Here one end is put into a bed of hot coals; the bellows are pumped and the end is soon red. The skilled forger then hammers the blade into shape upon the anvil, and so accurate is his eye and so exact his hand that the blade does not deviate a hair's breadth from the brass pattern which is before him, and to which each blade must correspond exactly.

The blade is next dipped in water and becomes as hard and brittle as glass. It will even make a deep scratch in glass, but the edges are rough. It is nearly uniform in thickness and is a light grey in colour. Now the forger's skill is brought into play in the tempering. Laying the blades on a copper plate over the fire, he watches them as they change their hue with the degree of heat, first to straw colour, then to darker straw, and now to the dark purple which denotes that the proper degree of heat has been obtained.

The blades are [illegible] grinding room, where grinders are seated on "horses," or wooden seats built over the revolving [illegible]. The grinder must also [illegible] the accuracy of his [illegible] by the training of his hand.

From the "wheel" [illegible] go to the cutler's room, where they find the other parts of the knife and where all the parts are [illegible].

The making of a [illegible] may involve no fewer than one hundred operations, and pass through the handling by as many different workmen.

How the Yard Measure Came

Although innumerable yards of silk ribbon, and cloth are being bought and sold every day in this country, it is probable that very few persons making purchases over a counter get our standard yard measure. It represents the arm of King Henry I., which, it was he who ordained that the standard yard of every merchant in British commerce to this day.

NEW SKYSHIPS WILL GO SOME

San Francisco Inventor Promises to Turn Out Airship Capable of Speeding 250 Miles an Hour.

Combining the virtues of aeroplane and dirigible, Edward M. Greene, of San Francisco announces the early construction of a skyship which will travel 250 miles an hour. Greene is the inventor of the rotary snowplow, the gasoline-driven rock drill and other notable labor-saving devices.

Plans of the airship are on file with the United States war department and the department of commerce, and the postoffice department has requested designs for mail-carrying machines. Leading aviation experts have pronounced the scientific principles of the invention the soundest yet evolved.

"Experts have only recently discovered that the Beriot monoplane carried on the waste draught of its onward propeller," says Greene. "They have also found that it takes 10 per cent of engine power to lift an aeroplane, and thus only 5 per cent can be used to drive it.

"An aeroplane cannot make much more than 100 miles per hour. The machine I shall construct will make 250 miles an hour."

WHEN NEUTRALS MUST STAND OFF

Following an Outbreak of War There Are Various Important Rules to be Observed by Nations that Desire to Stand Out.

When war is declared, every neutral power must observe a strict neutrality and impartiality in its attitude towards both belligerents. It may allow their war vessels to enter its ports, but must limit the duration of their stay, and must regulate the nature and amount of the supplies taken on board. The usual rule is a visit of 24 hours, but if a vessel of the other belligerent is in port, then one of them must not leave the port until the other has had a start of 24 hours ahead, though it would seem that there is nothing to prevent the vessel that leaves the harbor first to await 24 hours outside the three-mile limit and attack the other ship after she puts out to sea. The supplies that such vessel taken on board must not be more than enough to take the vessel to the nearest home port, and supplies must not be again furnished within three months. As an example of the enforcement of the foregoing rules, the procedure when the Spanish-American war broke out in 1898 may be mentioned. The ultimatum of April 20, signed by President McKinley, demanding the withdrawal of Spain from Cuba, was taken by Spain as a declaration of war, and the Spanish government on the following day sent the American minister his passports without waiting for him to present the ultimatum. On the 22nd the American ships at Key West started south to blockade Cuba. On the 23rd the President called out 125,000 volunteers for two years' service, and on the 25th sent a message to Congress declaring that a state of war existed between Spain and the United States since April 21. All neutral powers took notice of this including Great Britain, which knew that Commodore Dewey, in command of the American squadron in the Pacific, had been for some weeks in the British harbor of Hong Kong, where he was permitted to remain pending a formal declarrtion of war. On the same day (April 25) the governor of Hong Kong notified Dewey to leave the harbor, and he proceeded to Manilla Bay, where he destroyed the Spanish ships on May 1.

A Budding Mark Twain

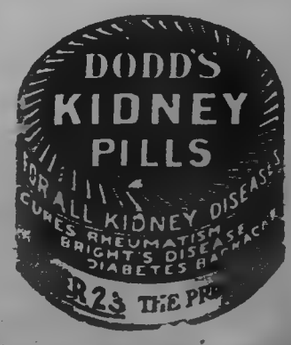
A boy in Oklahoma City submitted the following essay on the ship of the desert:—

"A cannimal is a sheep of the desert. It is called a bacterian because it has bumps on its back. The cannimal is very patient and will lie down and die without a grone. But when it is angry it gets up and up, which is called taking the camp. The shepherds of the cannimals are called Arabs. When they live in camps they are called street Arabs. Sometimes the cannimal goes on a journey and drinks as much as it can to last for many days. Such animals are called camels. Those that are not very fat enough are called 'crebrates.'"

The boy is eight years old. His teacher says he is an ignoramus. His father says he is a young Mark Twain.

Franklin's Manners

Franklin collected thirteen principles to cover the small amenities of daily life. Each week he picked out one and practised it diligently, thus getting a habit. It took three months to cover them all. Each year he practised each one four full weeks. He kept this up for many years. The result was Franklin of early manhood never found fault with his wife for giving him a silver spoon and a china bowl for his bread and milk instead of a pewter spoon and earthenware bowl, developed into the statesman and man of the world who won the respect of Englishmen, the admiration of Frenchmen, and the gratitude of Americans.



STRUCK DUMB WITH AMAZEMENT

Mr. A. O. Wheeler, F.R.G.S., Director of the Alpine Club of Canada, has just returned to Vancouver from a summer spent in the Canadian Rockies in the vicinity of the Yellowhead Pass, and is greatly impressed with his trip.

In an interview with Mr. Wheeler, he stated: "It has been the general impression that the Rocky Mountains of Canada attain their greatest average height not very far north of the boundary line. True, of late years much has been heard of Mount Robson, which dominates the region of the Yellowhead Pass, but the popular notion was that there was nothing else in the neighborhood worth seeing, and that the Grand Trunk Pacific would pass through a region of little interest from the point of view of the tourist or mountaineer.

"There was no mistake about Mount Robson. It is without doubt, as was stated by one of the most travelled and skilled mountaineers of the day, Dr. Norman Collie, one of the most magnificent mountains in the world, whether seen from the south, the view that is most familiar on all sides were found mighty snowpiar, or from beautiful Berg Lake, it still stands supreme. In the hundclad peaks, widespread snowfields, red-mile circuit of the great massif hore ice-falls, rushing torrents, waterfalls, flower-clad meadows and vast stretches of dark pine forest. Many of the peaks were named by the surveyors, but they are legion, and it will be many years before they are [illegible] fawnfiarly known as individual mountains."

In speaking of the Robson Glacier, which lies on the east side of this monstrous mountain, Mr. Wheeler said: "It struck us dumb with amazement that anything so stupendous, so superb, so undreamed of, should exist. At our feet flowed the great river of ice, every crevasse, every moraine, every icefall, clearly portrayed. Directly opposite rose the massif, its outline clear from base to summit for fully 8,000 feet. From the beautiful meadows at the head of Resplendent Valley twenty-five peaks were counted, all unknown and unnamed. And lakes, which perhaps lend the most characteristic charm to Canadian mountain scenery, were everywhere."

At the summit of the Yellowhead Pass Mr. Wheeler's party erected a monument defining the boundary between Alberta and British Columbia at the intersection of the Great Divide. On the huge post set up, which is surrounded with a big stone mound are carved the words: "British Columbia on the west face; Alberta on the east face; and on the south 3,727.98 feet, being the altitude of the summit at the point where the post is set."

Clearing of right-of-way on the uncompleted gap of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway from Tete Jaune Cache westward to Aldermere in Bulkley Valley, was started a few weeks ago by the contractors, Messrs Foley, Welch & Stewart. Operations thus far are restricted to the route along the south fork of the Fraser between the Cache and Fort George

LUNGTROUBLE

PROMPTLY RELIEVED AND PERMANENTLY CURED BY INHALING CATARRHOZONE.

Mrs. Bisy Brown of Tenecape, N. S., was cured by Catarrhozone of lung trouble and catarrh after hundreds of other remedies failed.

If your lungs are weak ; if there is consumption in your family ; if Colds, Catarrh and Bronchitis bother you, be sure to use Catarrhozone. It is especially adapted for these diseases, and cures every time.

Mrs. Brown took cough mixtures, but they made her sick. Then she used an atomizer, but, after resorting without benefit to poultices and numerous other remedies, she tried Catarrhozone.

"I used Catarrhozone Inhaler," writes Mrs. Brown, "five minutes every hour, and soon recognized that it was going to cure me. I could feel the soothing medicated air spreading through the air passages of the throat, and it touched the sore spots in the lungs that other remedies failed to reach. Catarrhozone seemed to go just where it was needed most, and soon put a stop to my cough. It restored me to perfect health, and I am convinced that no cough, cold or catarrh can exist if Catarrhozone is used."

No treatment is so clean, so pleasant, so certain to cure as Catarrhozone. By means of the Inhaler the local symptoms such as coughing, inflammation and congestion are speedily corrected. Ferrozone tablets, which are taken after each meal, purify and cleanse the blood of all poisons and build up and strengthen the system.

This local and constitutional treatment is always effective, and cures cases that have been given up as hopeless. Money can't buy or produce anything better, and to get cured it is absolutely necessary to use Catarrhozone.

Complete outfit costs $1 ; small size, 25c. At druggists, or The Catarrhozone Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

WOMEN CANNOT PRACTICE LAW.

They Are Barred From That Profession in British Columbia.

Vancouver, B.C., Nov. 3.—That women are not entitled to take examinations or practice law in British Columbia is the effect of a decision handed down by Mr. Justice Morrison.

An application was made some time ago by Mr. J. A. Russell for the admission to the Bar of Miss Mabel Penery French, who is a duly accredited barrister of the Province of New Brunswick.

A short time ago she came West and since her arrival has been attached to the law office of Russell & Russell, of Vancouver, but the Benchers' Association declined to allow her the right to the examinations or to practice in British Columbia. Mr. Russell on her behalf, applied for a mandamus to compel the Benchers' to allow her to practice.

Mr. Justice Morrison, however, holds that there is nothing to show that the Legislature in defining persons eligible to practice law intended to include women. Under the circumstances he concluded that Miss French's only remedy is to go before a committee of the Legislature, where Mr. Russell's "gallant argument" may prevail.

CONDEMNS WOMAN TO DIE.

Negress to Hang in Washington, D. C., November 20th.

Washington, Nov. 6.—Unless President Taft or death intervenes, a woman will be hanged here Nov. 20th. The District Supreme Court affirmed the sentence of Mattie Lomax, a negress, condemned to die for murdering her husband.

A petition bearing 50,000 names has been presented to the President, asking clemency for the woman. The prisoner is now critically ill and may not live to see the day set for her execution

Las Palmas, Canary Islands, Nov. 1.—The French steamer Diolibah sank at sea and 24 persons were drowned. The Diolibah was towing the French steamer Liberia for Marseilles when the latter louled her tearing a hole that caused her to founder.

USE OF ELECTRICITY TO BANISH ALL SMOKE

Smokeless skies, productive farms, beyond the dreams of the present day intensive farmers, railless street cars and comforts unknown to-day are certain to come in the next few years when man's knowledge of the generating and transmission of electricity is further developed.

Such was the prediction made in Chicago by S. Z. de Farranti, president of the British Institute of Electrical Engineers, whose inaugural address last winter set the entire engineering world thinking, when he showed a method doing away with London fogs.

The present method of transmitting electricity to transforming stations, reducing it and distributing it, is the idea of Mr. de Farranti, who built the first plant of the kind at Deptford on the Thames, outside of the city limits of London, in 1887, and sent the power into the city by means of cables which he himself manufactured.

"Our present methods of using coal are simply barbarous," said Mr. de Farranti, "Nature left in the coal of our lack of sufficient knowledge to do it economically. We are sending up millions of dollars in smoke, when that smoke should be used to fertilize our lands. In the coal there is the fixed pitrogen which is going to waste. It contains sulphate of ammonia, the best fertilizer we know of.

A Home Recipe For Removing Wrinkles

(From Woman's National Journal):

Who will blame the modern woman for trying to look as young and attractive as she reasonably can? Why should she be placed at a disadvantage in numerous ways by wearing wrinkles, if she can avoid these hateful marks of advancing age?

Few women, however, know what to do to effectually rid themselves of wrinkles or sagginess. None of the advertised preparations is satisfactory and most of them are very expensive. But a very simple and harmless home remedy, which any woman can make, will work wonders where all the patent preparations fail.

Buy an ounce of powdered saxolite at any drug store. Dissolve the whole ounce in a half pint of witch hazel and use it as a wash lotion. The results are practically instantaneous. Marked improvement is noticed immediately after the very first trial. Wrinkles and sagging are corrected and the face feels so refreshed and smug-like.

COL. SAM HUGHES IS VERY PROGRESSIVE

On instructions from Colonel Sam Hughes, minister of militia, Colonel Fiset, deputy minister of the department, and Lieut.-Colonel Maunsells, the director of engineer service, have left for Atlantic City to witness the aviation flights there during the next few days under the auspices of the United States war department.

The Canadian militia department has as yet taken no definite steps to keep pace with the times in preparing to utilize aerial craft for defence, but the question has been under consideration by the militia council for some time. It is possible that a beginning may be made shortly by the purchase of an airship by the militia department.

The report of Col. Fiset and Col. Maunsells, on their return will be considered by the militia council.

Col. Hughes, as head of the department, is displaying his customary activity. He left on Sunday night for the Pacific coast in company with General MacKenzie, chief of the general staff, for an inspection trip covering militia properties and forces between Winnipeg and Victoria.

WHAT CANADIANS ARE DOING

C. A. MAGRATH

Mr Magrath, who represented Medicine Hat in last parliament, notwithstanding his recent defeat, looked upon by his friends, and by the Conservative party in general, as one of the strong men in the public life of the times, and strong confidence is expressed that he will come to the front at quite an early time. He is a native of Eastern Ontario, the son of a brilliant Irish School master, with in his veins a dash of the blood of the bold Macgregors. Of extensive physique, powerful intellect, and strong will, he was in each respect prominent during his term at Ottawa.

C. A. MAGRATH
Late M.P. for Medicine Hat

RICHARD S. LAKE

By birth a native of the old land, Mr Lake reached Canada when he was in his twenty third year, coming direct from Cyprus, where during a five years service in the British Admiralty Civil service he had added in considerable measure to the learning imbibed in earlier days at Haversham school in Westmoreland.

Landing on this side Mr Lake lost no time in hitting the trail for the north west, his programme having for its ultimate the laying out of an up to date farm in that territory. In this his energy and methods brought their reward and today he is acknowledged as one of the front rank agriculturists of the West.

During 1898-1904 he represented Grenfell Constituency in the Legislative Assembly of the North West

RICHARD STUART LAKE
Farmer and Parliamentarian

Territories and in 1904 was sent to the House of Commons by the voters of Qu'Appelle. He is unmarried.

JAMES FORMAN SMELLIE
Lawyer and Athlete of Ottawa

Mr. Smellie, who was one of the hard workers of Ottawa in connection with the recent political campaign is a native of Glasgow, Scotland, where he was born on September 15th, 1869. But he came out to Canada when he was two years old, and now he is a Canadian of the Canadians.

Few who see in Mr Smellie the astute and serious lawyer will find it easy to think of him as an athlete, yet it was as such that he first became known to the public. Not so many years ago the name of "Jimmy" Smellie was one to conjure with in the athletic world. As a football quarterback he has never been surpassed, and many prominent Ottawans still remember the time when they used to travel far to rugby matches to cheer for Smellie.

His first appearance in senior football was at Queen's, captaining the college team in 1888. Later he played with Osgoode Hall and Toronto City. He was captain of the Osgoode Hall team in 1893. Moving to Ottawa in 1894, he started to practice law in the city. Still he played rugby, and was captain of the Ottawa team in 1896.

Mr. Smellie is a son of Mr. W. B. Smellie, C.E., of Brockville, one of Canada's best known engineers, who was the C.P.R. consulting expert for the construction of much of their transcontinental line in 1880. When Mr. Smellie, senior, came to Canada he settled at Newcastle, N.B., where he engaged in construction work on the Intercolonial Railroad. Subsequently the family lived in Ottawa, Montreal and Brockville. Mr. Smellie Junior had his schooling in Ottawa, where he at one time attended the Collegiate Institute, and at Montreal, where he studied at Lincoln's College. He took his B.A. degree at Queen's University, and then went to Osgoode Hall, graduating in 1893.

Women Constables.

According to a Paris contemporary the Burgomaster of Berlin has brought into being a body of women police. One section will devote their attention, we read, to ordinary police work, and to the other portion will be entrusted the care of infants. The guardians of the children will be required to possess a knowledge of medicine. We are also informed that they will be armed with revolvers, for their protection when entering houses in the lower quarters where they have a suspicion that children are being ill-treated. Thirty women will be engaged at the start, but we are not told whether they will wear the jupe-culotte.

AN ATLANTIC TRAGEDY

By Bower Jones
(Copyright by Publishers Press Ltd.

Mabel and I had known one another since as children we had played together. The friendship of our childhood had ripened into a love that was little short of ideal and when she was nineteen — I being her senior by four or five years — we were married. I was an orphan, and had spent many years on the Continent; her parents were wealthy, and with them she had travelled much. Thus it happened that we were both familiar with the European capitals, watering-places, and winter resorts, and determined—as we had neither of us crossed the Atlantic—to spend the winter and the following summer in the new world. So a few days after our wedding we found ourselves on board the Royal Mail steamship Arcadia, our faces turned toward the setting sun, looking forward in joyful anticipation to the novel scenes we were to witness together.

The passage began by being a rough one, but we were both excellent sailors, and enjoyed its opening days. There was only one cloud in the horizon of our happiness, and that—foolish as it may seem—was Mabel's fear of the sea.

"Eugene, pray that the ship does not go down in the night."

One night we had retired as usual, and certainly the sea was awfully rough. It took even me, hardened as I was, some time to get to sleep. I was awakened by Mabel rapping on the side of my berth and crying out:—

"Eugene, Eugene! what is the matter?"

I roused myself and listened. Certainly a dull, roaring sound filled the ship—a banging and splashing which drowned the noise of the propellers. A little alarmed myself I jumped out of my berth, and telling Mabel to keep quiet, I went out into the passage.

I ran into the arms of a scared, white-faced stewart, of whom I inquired the cause of the commotion.

"The ship's sinking!" he cried. "Haven't they roused you? They're manning the boats up there on deck."

It was true. Isolated as we were in our state-room we had been forgotten. Assuming as careless an air as I could summon up on the moment, I returned to our state-room, where Mabel lay in an agony of alarm.

"Well, little woman," I said, "the curtain is rising on your long-looked for drama. The ship is going down, but there's no particular hurry and no cause whatever for alarm."

I helped her, and dressed myself, putting some papers and valuables into my pockets, and then, fastening the life-preservers round myself and her, we went up on deck. We had indeed been forgotten! The last boat was just preparing to leave the ship with the captain and some of the crew. We hailed them, and jumped in just in time.

The boat that had left the ship before us had been swamped by a wave, and its occupants were struggling in the water. Instead of pulling off at once we hovered in the dangerous vicinity of the sinking ship, trying to rescue them. All at once the deck burst up, and the ship settled. Our boat was engulfed in the water; I had only time to seize Mabel by the arms, and we found ourselves struggling for our lives in the eddy.

The night was pitch dark: there was no moon, and the stars were hidden behind the masses of storm clouds. I could not see Mabel's face, but her feverish clutch on my arm reassured me, and I knew that she retained consciousness. After about ten minutes, during a lull in the wind, I said to her:—

"You see, darling, the night is warm, and we are perfectly supported. It cannot be more than three or four hours to day-light at most, and then we are bound to be picked up immediately. You feel safe with me, do you not?"

Her voice came back in the impenetrable darkness:

"Yes, Eugene, I feel safe with you; but you have tied this belt too tightly round me. It makes me feel faint. Can't you shift it a little?"

"Of course I can," I replied, and the moment the sea seemed to be a little calmer I proceeded to do so. She was lying on one arm, and I was busily readjusting the belt with the other, when, in the darkness, a great wave came over us, and dashed her out of my grasp. I dived instantly and caught her by the hair, just as she slipped away, and, bringing her to the surface, I held her closely in my arms. The life-belt had been washed out of my grasp, and I had to trust to my own strength, assisted by the belt that was tied round myself.

Alas! my wife had lost consciousness, and hung a dead weight in my arms. For hours and hours and hours, it seemed to me that I bore her up in the blackness of the night, imploring her to speak to me — to open the dear eyes which I could feel were tightly closed.

It was all in vain; save for the occasional beat of the heart she might have been dead.

What a night of agony! Heavens! how I prayed for morning — for one ray of light by which to see my darling's face. I thought I should go mad. My arms ached, my limbs — my whole body grew numbed and cold; sometimes I almost felt myself dozing off into the sleep of death, waking with a start to cry aloud, "Mabel, Mabel, my darling, speak to me!" and nothing answered but the moaning of the storm as it died away in the distance.

At last a faint streak lit the horizon, a flush tinging the edge of a cloud, made it visible in the darkness, a breeze rippled the sullen billows that rose and fell smoothly around us. The day was breaking: I shrieked aloud a prayer of thanksgiving to heaven that the night was over, and bent over the motionless, senseless body that I held in my tired arms with a renewed vigour.

Little by little the sun uprose, and the dawn came. With the first grey beam that crept across the ocean I peered into the face that had lain close to mine all night.

It was that of another woman!

Kissed 286 Babies and Cleared $27,500

After kissing 286 babies, ranging in age from six months to four years, and consecrating them to the "cause of Zion," Overseer Wilbur Glenn Voliva, successor to John Alexander Dowie, stood by a barrel in Shiloh Tabernacle lately and watched his disciples toss $27,500 into it a "sacrifice offering."

Voliva kissed all of the infants and consecrated them in exactly 48 minutes. Sunday was the annual consecration at Zion, and in the line of men and women that contributed to the "sacrifice fund", were 2319 persons.

Animal Love.

Mother love is universal, and there is no love like the mother love. Most of the high and lofty loving in this world is done by mothers. Apart from this the work of wooing falls to the male members of the family whether it be the human family or some one of the other animal tribes. We read how, ages ago, a Bulbul, or Oriental Nightingale, wooed a white rose until it blushed red, and that was the beginning of the red rose. The Spanish Cavalier stands out in the rain and serenades his "Dulce Mia" until there is a crick in his neck, while she sits sheltered in a window above.

The cackle of the loon may be a love song for all we know. Maybe that's what made him loony in the first place.

The wild moose bellows his passion across the lake, and as likely as not the answering call is from a bark horn in the hands of a hunter, luring him to death.

It seems a sizzling shame, but if you will take a Grand Trunk train and travel into the "Highlands of Ontario" you will find men doing that very thing; arguing, doubtless, that all is fair in love and war.

We offer an exceptionally attractive investment in the stock of a conservative Company, just organized, which controls 3500 acres, in the midst of the big producing section of the field. We are certain we can convince any one of the merits of the enterprise, and we want you to

It will only cost you two cents to secure maps, booklet, and full description of what we have to offer. The stock is being sold for the purpose of drilling the property. SPEND A WEEK AT ALGONQUIN.

The popularity of the Algonquin National Park, Ontario, has been pronounced this year, and it has been necessary to use at least 25 large tents as an auxiliary to the accommodation of the Highland Inn, at Algonquin National Park Station.

Most people return to their homes in the early part of September, but as this is one of the most delightful months in this territory, those who can make it convenient are advised to spend a week or two there. The hotel is also open all the winter and with the bracing air of this locality (1700 ft. above the sea) a most delightful sojourn can be spent even in the winter months.

A handsome illustrated booklet may be had on this territory upon application to Mr. A. E. Duff, Union Station, Toronto, Ont.

Real Estate, Mining and Industrial Investments

HOW $100 GREW TO $31620

The value and importance of any enterprise must be based on the profits and dividends it can earn. In this respect the Midway Maple Leaf Oil Company, Limited, is without a parallel in the line of investments.

It combines the attractive factors which are needed to make the perfect investment—viz., safety, large earning capacity and low cost of the stock at the start. It is not at all uncommon for oil stocks to begin at a few cents a share and jump to hundreds of dollars a share—sometimes thousands.

	Started at	Has Sold at
Central	10 cents	$2.10
Monte Cristo	10 cents	$4.00
Lucile	10 cents	$16.00
Silver Tip	25 cents	$4.00
San Francisco and McKittrick	40 cents	$28.00
Kern River	50 cents	$8.75
Peerless	50 cents	$8.75
Puente	$10.00	$150.00
Home	$10.00	$5000.00

This list, taken from San Francisco and Los Angeles Stock Exchange records, could be added to almost indefinitely.

Fortunes have been made from stock increases. stock is $200, YOUR YEARLY PROFIT ON AN INVESTMENT OF $300.

When we have ten wells sunk you can reasonably figure on AN ANNUAL PROFIT ON YOUR HOLDINGS OF $2000.

$2000 A YEAR. DOESN'T THIS APPEAL

Many a case could be cited similar to that of Richard Ellis, clerk in a store in Los Angeles, whose investment of $100 became worth $31,620 in a short time. There are hundreds of such cases in Los Angeles alone.

$2000.00 Profit a Year

Do you realize that stock in the Midway Maple Leaf Oil Company, Limited, at the present price of 30 cents a share is not merely the opportunity of the year—IT IS THE OPPORTUNITY OF A LIFETIME.

If you have $10, $50, $100 or $500 YOU SIMPLY CAN NOT AFFORD TO PASS IT UP.

If we develop only a 1000 barrel well of 26 gravity oil, this production alone will be sufficient to enable the corporation to pay a dividend of 20 per cent. and at the same time have sufficient capital to continue the drilling of wells.

1000 shares of stock at the present price of 30c costs only $300.

20 per cent. dividend on the par value of the TO YOU? Wouldn't you like to be coming up to this office every three months and getting your dividend cheque for $500?

Remember, too, that your stock holdings in Midway Maple Leaf, if you should want to sell them should be worth $18,000 or sixty times the amount of your original investment.

Consider These Facts

The Midway Maple Leaf Oil Company is working in proven gusher territory, the richest oil zone in the world, controlling 40 acres on one-eighth royalty, with the great advantage of the option to purchase at only $1250 per acre after oil is struck, and the ground must then be worth at least $5000 per acre. This means a clean profit of $150,000 over purchase price. It has been demonstrated completely by gushers on adjoining Standard and Honolulu ground, that this portion of the Midway field is not only the richest portion of the whole district, but that it produces the highest grade of oil found in the entire vicinity, and worth 80 per cent. more per barrel at the well.

$60 cash, or $12 down and $12 a month for four months, buys 200 shares.

BIG FORTUNE IS ON OFFER

Five Franc Coin of Great Napoleon Contains Order for Over Seven Million Dollars Which Can Still be Redeemed.

Somewhere in the world — possibly among the relics kept by some lover of the great Napoleon — there is a fortune, perhaps unsuspected.

Among the coins Napoleon had minted, were some millions of 5 franc pieces, and he determined to popularize these in an extraordinary way. In one of the coins, folded to a tiny size, was enclosed a note signed by Napoleon, and promising the sum of 5,000,000 francs, about $1,000,000, to the finder of that particular coin. Naturally everybody who changed a large piece demanded the new 5 franc coins in exchange, and as a rule probed and dug and sounded the metal in eager search for the hidden note. But the years went on and yet the note did not appear. Napoleon's plighted word is a sacred trust to the French nation, and today the government stands ready to pay the debt — which, with interest, is now worth $7,350,000 — upon demand.

Progress in India

An Englishman, while walking through a remote village of the Deccan, noticed a large stone pillar, richly carved, lying by the roadside. He asked the origin and destination of the monolith. It was for the porch of a temple on the brow of a precipice two miles away, overlooking the hamlet. The headman of the place, to whom the Briton had applied for information, explained that the villagers dragged the monolith on great festival days. In his lifetime, he added, they had moved it a hundred yards.

The headman was nearly fifty years of age, a circumstance that occasioned the foreigner much astonishment in connection with the foregoing statements. He wondered how long a period would elapse before the pillar would reach its destination.

"The English are in such a hurry," was the reply. "They come and they go. Others have come and gone their way, and so will you. But the pillar will reach the summit."

The Moose and the Lilly Pad.

The moose's love for the lily pad that floats on the surface of the northern lakes make him appear reckless and unafraid. In summer, even in September, the fishermen often cut him off from the shore, drive him into deep water and have fun with him. Sometimes, when the moose reaches shoal water and gets his hind feet on the bottom, he has fun with the fisherman, smashes his canoe and makes him swim for his life.

However, after the shooting season opens the moose becomes more cautious.

There are thousands of moose around Lake Temagami. At North Bay you change from the Grand Trunk to the Temiskaming and Northern Ontario and get off at Temagami Station.

The Fort Garry.

The work of constructing the second of the Grand Trunk's System of palatial hotels has begun at Winnipeg. It has been definitely and finally decided that the Winnipeg hotel, which will be of the same style of architecture as the magnificent "Chateau Laurier" at Ottawa, shall be called "The Fort Garry."

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

THE COMFORT OF INDEPENDENCE ASSURED THE B. C. FRUIT GROWER

In British Columbia Fruit Growing is synonymous with Success. The fame of the five-acre fruit farms of the Fraser Valley is spreading to every corner of this continent. Already "Fruit" suggests the Pacific Coast, soon it will direct the thoughts instinctively to British Columbia, particularly to the lower Fraser River Valley.

FLESHERTON GARDENS, which I am now selling, is the cream of this Valley land. The soil is a rich deep chocolate, humous and friable, free from weeds, stones or stumps. Good roads lead to the property and two railways are ready to carry the fruit to market. The Chilliwack line of the B. C. Electric Railway CUTS THROUGH FLESHERTON GARDENS, and the Victoria, Vancouver and Eastern is only a few yards away. Over a dozen trains pass the property every day, and the traffic will increase in the immediate future.

BIG PROFITS IN FRUITS AND VEGETABLES.

Do you know that you can make immense profits in fruits, tubers and vegetables on the Coast? To-day last year's potatoes are selling at $70 a ton in Seattle, only a few miles from here. In Westminster and Vancouver the price is from $60 to $65 a ton. Cherries fetch 50c a pound and strawberries 25c a box. All other fruits are high in proportion. Remember these are NOT FANCY PRICES, but to-day's quotations. There is no difficulty in selling the fruit, for people here have the money and don't mind the price.

IT'S EASY TO SECURE THE LAND

I have placed FLESHERTON GARDENS on the market on very easy terms, $200 each and the balance spread over several years. You can have your pick of these five acre farms at from $150 to $350 per acre. You cannot find a better investment anywhere; no matter how rosy other prospects may be, this one leads them all.

Sign this blank, and mail it to me NOW. I can tell you a great deal more about FLESHERTON GARDANS in a personal letter. It's to your advantage to get all the information you can.

Local Option in Cannington.

Cannington, Nov. 6.—A largely signed petition has been placed in the hands of the town clerk, requesting the Council of Cannington to submit a by-law to the vote of the citizens of Cannington at the January elections.

Fined $100.

Walter Bates suffered a fine of $100 yesterday morning, on pleading guilty to selling liquor in the local option village of Lakefield. License Inspector Elias Williams, of East Peterborough laid the charge, which came up before Magistrate Edmison.

Funeral Yesterday.

The remains of the late Mrs. McEwen were interred in the Little Lake cemetery yesterday afternoon. The floral tributes were of a costly nature and many in number. The funeral took place from the family residence, corner of Aberdeen and Benson streets. Rev. Mr. Pogue, of St. Paul's church, officiated.

Use of Gas-Electric Cars.

The Railway and Marine World has the following in connection with the Eastern Electric Railway which will pass through Peterborough: "It is said that the management is considering the use of gas-electric motor cars, and that this is one of the reasons why construction work has not been started this fall."

Snow Ploughing.

Tenders for snow ploughing are being invited by the city, and it is to be hoped that this coming season the provisions of the contracts will be carried out to the letter, even should the city pay a trifle more for the work. The 13th of this month is the last day in which tenders will be received.

Lectured in Millbrook.

Rev. Mr. Pogue, accompanied by Mr. Cowan drove to Millbrook yesterday and lectured last night at a banquet to the young men of the Presbyterian church. The subject of the lecture was "Work in the church a man's job." Mr. Cowan also gave a short address.

Lindsay to Have New Armouries.

Hon. Sam Hughes, Minister of Militia, is said to have promised a splendid new drill hall for Lindsay. No one will find fault with him for so doing, for such a structure is badly needed in that town. We hope to see the work started early next year. That a building will be erected that will be a credit to the town, goes without saying.

Ald. Bradburn for Mayor.

Ald. W. H. Bradburn, chairman of the City Council's Finance Committee, has decided to be a candidate for the Chief Magistrate's chair at the next municipal elections. Ald. Bradburn has been an energetic and strong member of the Council since 1907, and has been marked as Peterborough's coming mayor ever since he actively entered public life.

Better Ask the Bear.

The Lindsay Warder: A typical Englishman met Game Inspector Bradshaw on Kent street, yesterday, and enquired of the obliging officer what requirements were essential to permit his slaughtering of deer and other game in the Canadian wilds. He received the reply that so and so, for residents, and so much for alien birth. But said the son of John Bull, "What will be the bloomin' cost to shoot a bear?" "Well," said the Inspector, "I can't say offhand. You had better ask the bear about that."

Preparing for Tag Day.

The public are reminded that Saturday, Nov. 11, is the date of the Children's Aid Society "Tag Day" campaign. The plans for the day are practically completed and there will be a big and well organized squad of canvassers at work during the morning, afternoon and early part of the evening on Saturday. The city will be thoroughly covered under the direction of district supervisors and no one will be minus an opportunity to contribute to this most excellent work. Last year $1200 was raised on Tag Day and it is thought that this amount will be beaten on Saturday. It depends upon the generosity of the public.

Dr. Grenfell Suffers Loss.

Peterborough citizens who are acquainted with Dr. Grenfell and his noble life work as well as those who have on different occasions rendered him substantial assistance, will regret to learn of the loss of his yacht. As the Toronto News says, the brave doctor's work on the inhospitable Labrador coast engages the sympathy of everyone who knows about it. By devoting his life to the inhabitants of those bleak shores he has relieved the sufferings and brightened the lives of thousands formerly beyond the reach of medical aid or religious comfort. It is a question now whether or not Canadians out of their plenty, should not furnish the heroic Grenfell with a new boat.

Hallowe'en Pranks Cost $2.00.

Eight youths of tender years, and whose homes are in East City, were fined $2.00 each yesterday morning by Magistrate Dumble for playing pranks on Hallowe'en. The windows of Mr. Tivey's and Mr. Lampett's house were broken by stones flung, it is claimed by the youthful merry-makers at other people's expense. The complainants will be reimbursed from the fines paid in by the boys' parents—$16 in all.

Detective Newhall and P. C. Meagher had been ordered by the chief to proceed to East City on Hallowe'en night. Detective Newhall saw the gang run from Douro street over to Mark street. One of the boys was nabbed by P. C. Meagher and one of the others who escaped, with manly boyish heroism was heard to shout "don't give our names away."

Church Opening at Fenelon Falls.

Many in Peterborough will be interested in learning that the new Methodist church at Fenelon Falls, the corner stone of which was laid on June 27th last, by Mr. W. J. Flavelle, formerly of Peterborough, will be opened and formally dedicated on Sunday next. Rev. John Garbutt and Rev. C. W. Watch, both of whom are well known to the people of Fenelon Falls, will be the officiating ministers. The fowl supper of the season will be held on the following Monday, the 13th, from 5 to 8. A good programme will be presented after the supper. Special music will be furnished by foreign and local talent both Sunday and Monday. There is to be a rally of the Sunday school at 2.30 on Sunday afternoon, addressed by the Rev. C. W. Watch. On Sunday, November 19, the opening services will be continued, when sermons will be preached by Rev. H. B. Kenny another former pastor of the church here, at 10.30 and 7 o'clock. In the afternoon there will be a league and Sunday school rally, addressed by Mr. Kenny.

COUNTY POLICE COURT

Assault Case Dismissed.

Albert Bishop vs. Lindsay were the principals in an assault case tried by Magistrate Edmison in the County Court yesterday morning. It appears that Bishop and Lindsay families were living in a little shanty, scarcely large enough for one family, it only consisted of two rooms and one family had to pass through the other family's quarters to get out. It is said that some jealousy arose in the Bishop family, and the husband, it is alleged abused his wife so that she appealed to Mr. Lindsay for aid.

A tussel ensued between the two men, resulting in the matter being aired in court before magistrate Edmison, who dismissed the case, the plaintiff to pay the costs.

Hughes vs. Gallipan.

This was an assault case to come up before Magistrate Edmison in the county court yesterday, but the charge was withdrawn.

SHOULD TRUST THE PEOPLE.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—I am not in the habit of writing to the papers, but I feel like saying a few words to our Council. Why not give the people a chance to say whether or not they would like government of the city by a commission instead of the present system. Surely the Council should be willing to trust the people. By leaving the matter to a vote of the people, it would bring on a discussion which would be of an educational nature along the government by commission lines.

Thanking you Mr. Editor, I am, &c

Ratepayer.

CHARITY BEGINS AT HOME.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—I believe everyone applying for positions of importance in our country, especially those where the education of our people is concerned, such applicants should be compelled like the Jews of old to declare their pedigree, before they are accepted. And if any of such applicants have monkey or ape blood in their veins, as the higher critics believe they have they should be rejected, and such educators should be admonished to go to their own people in monkeydom and try their hand in lifting their own kith and kin from the depths of degradation and ignorance that apedom has lain in for the last six thousand years. Then when these higher critics have proved their love for their own people—for charity or love begins at home—and succeed in lifting them, they might try their hand on a superior race.

CATHOLICS IN THE CABINET.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—Would you kindly inform me through The Times, how many Roman Catholics there are in the Borden Cabinet and how many were in the Cabinet of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, and oblige.

A Reader.

Reply—Just previous to dissolution there were four Roman Catholics in the Laurier Cabinet—the premier himself, Hon. R. Lemieux, Hon. Charles Murphy and Hon. Dr. Beland. In the Borden Cabinet there are four Roman Catholics—Hon. C. J. Doherty, Hon. F. D. Monk, Hon. B. Nantel and Hon. L. P. Pelletier.—Ed.

HIGH RENTS.

Editor Morning Times.

Dear Sir,—As a newcomer to Peterborough, allow me to express my surprise at the high rents charged for stores and private dwellings. I wonder that it never occurred to some owners of rented property that "extortioners" are prohibited from entering the Kingdom of Heaven? If you doubt this statement, please turn to Corinthians 1, Chap. 6, verse 10. Don't let them beguile themselves into thinking, as some persons do, that they shall have a second chance after death of repenting of this sin of rack rent. Oh, no, the door will shut then with "I know you not." Let them repent and reform now while the door of mercy is still open to them. I tremble for many in this fair city, who are not criminals in any other sense than making what they can. What they ought to do is, do to others what they would wish done to them. There ought to be experts to determine the price of rents and there will be no satisfaction till this is done by the government. I hope you will publish this in your columns. It might be productive of good results. If so, I shall not have written this in vain. I feel very strongly on this subject, not because I am paying rent myself, but for others. We must think of others as General Booth says.

H. E. S.

(We are afraid that but few property owners in this city, trouble their heads about either a second or first chance after death, of making good for what the above writer is pleased to name the sin of rack rent. With the present high rate of assessment and its accompanying taxes the most of us, whether property owners or not, have all we can do to make ends meet out of current income.—Ed.

WAITING FOR STREET CARS.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—I was amused at "Auto's" query in your paper—"Why don't people who are waiting for street cars stand on the sidewalk instead of in the street?" For fear Auto really doesn't know, I want to tell him why. It's because most pedestrians are incapable of jumping over the top of a speeding automobile and landing in safety on the steps of a street car more than 9 times out of 10. When prospective passengers stand in the street it's because they want to signal the motorman to stop.

HOG PENS ON THE MARKET SQUARE MUST BE REMOVED

The City's Property Committee agreed last night that the hog pens on the market are a nuisance and must eventually be removed.

Regarding the City Trust Comissioners' resolution that these pens be removed from off the market, Ald. Bradburn offered that it is not fair to merchants contingent to the market square that they suffer from the existence of these pens, which are unquestionably a nuisance. "I have seen," he said, "hogs in those pens, from 10 o'clock in the morning till three o'clock in the afternoon. The pens are simply used for the convenience of drovers, pending sales, which purpose they were never intended. Their object was originally simply to facilitate the weighing of hogs."

Moved by Ald. Bradburn, seconded by Ald. Morgan,—That the City Trust Commissioners be advised that this matter will come up before the incoming Council, as this Council cannot take any action until present arrangements with the market clerk expire;—Carried.

Ald. Duncan—"I don't see that the City Trust Commissioners have any kick coming until they insist that the three barrels of swill continuously found behind the Chinamens' eating house are

Boosted Orange Order

At a banquet held in Toronto on Monday evening, in commemoration of the Gunpowder Plot, Mr. Fred Dane, District Grand Master of Ontario West, referring to the Eucharistic Conference in Montreal, declared it had done more to advance the Orange cause than they could have done themselves in 50 years. He regretted the Government had not ordered every regiment in Quebec to take part in the ceremony.

Simple Home Remedy For Wrinkled Faces

(From Popular Monthly)

Thousands of women are spending fortunes in their frantic efforts to remove the signs of premature age from their faces. When in this state of mind a woman will spend almost any amount of money on worthless wrinkle removers, of which there are many.

If these women only knew it, the most effective remedy imaginable is a simple, harmless face wash which can be made up at home in less than a minute. They have only to get an ounce of powdered saxohite and half a pint of witch hazel at the drug store and mix the two. Apply this daily as a refreshing lotion. The effect is almost magical. Even after the first treatment a marked improvement is noticed and the face has a smug, firm feeling that is most pleasing.

ROYAL NAMES IN FAVOR FOR PETERBORO' SCHOOLS

At the meeting of the Board of Education last night, Dr. Morrison submitted the following report

Gentlemen,—Your Special Committee beg to report that the City Council have granted the request of the Board for the sum of $85,000.00 for the purpose of purchasing sites and erecting schools in the East and West Wards.

Your Committee are therefore taking the necessary steps to obtain proper plans and suitable locations. As soon as the plans are completed and locations decided on, they will be submitted to the Board for approval.

Your committee would recommend that the new school in the East Ward be named, "The King George," and the one in the West Ward, "The Queen Mary."

This report was adopted as read

$16,000 WELL EXPENDED ON SCHOOL IMPROVEMENTS

BOARD OF EDUCATION IN SESSION LAST NIGHT.

A Dining Room Appropriately Fitted up, Wanted for Domestic Science Department — Re-Arrangement of the Entrance Scholarships—Miss Raney Appointed on the Public School Staff.

At the Board of Education meeting last night, Mr. R. Fair submitted the following

Gentlemen,—Your Property Committee beg to report that the $16,000.00 granted by the City Council for permanent improvements enabled them to carry out the following:—

KING EDWARD SCHOOL.

The third story of this school, which was unfinished has been completed and one room is now occupied by pupils, the other rooms are ready for use with exception of desks. An auxilary heating system has been installed and is ready for use.

This school is now a thoroughly equipped 12 room building.

CENTRAL SCHOOL.

A new heating system has been installed in the old Collegiate Building and is now in use.

The main building received extensive additions and repairs. Two vestibules were added, one on the East side and the other on the west side, these contain the stairs leading to the various class rooms and as a result the halls have been widened and made lighter.

New hardwood floors were put down to the halls and class rooms throughout the building. The old wooden walks and platforms were removed and were replaced by cement. After the wooden walks were torn away it was deemed advisable by your committee to alter the original plan and make the cement walks wider than at first decided upon, with the result that the change has made almost decided improvement.

This school building is now one of the best in the city as the improvements together with the ventilation system installed have made it practically a new building.

A retaining wall was built on the west side of the old Collegiate building and the walls to the south and east of the Central building have been thoroughly repaired with cement.

The improvements as outlined are of a substantial and permanent nature and your committee in carrying them to a completion have earnestly endeavored to keep within the appropriation granted for this purpose.

Your committee during the summer vacation had considerable improvements made to the South Central, Queen Alexandra and East City Schools. At the South Central and Queen Alexandra, cement walks were constructed. Several class rooms in the south Central were painted and a partition was placed in one of the East City buildings for the purpose of accommodating an extra class.

Your committee trust that the improvements and repairs as carried out by them will meet with the approval of the Board.

This report was adopted as read.

Chairman John Crane offered that the Property Committee were to be congratulated upon the remarkably effective manner in which they had outlayed their appropriation of $16,000 on the work mentioned in the foregoing report. These remarks were heartily endorsed by the Board in general.

CITY PROPERTY COMMITTEE IN SESSION LAST NIGHT

The City Property Committee met last night. There were present the Chairman, Ald. Duncan, Aldermen Bradburn, Graham, Brown and Morgan

The chairman was authorized to take the lamps out of Victoria Park, collect park seats, small pox hospital tents and furnishings and have same safely stored.

The committee agreed that in future it would be preferable to erect a small cottage contingent to the isolation hospital, in which to isolate small pox patients.

The case of Rutherford Bros., demanding payment of the $800 held back by the city pending reconstructing the pillars at the entrance to the public library was again discussed at length. The contractors are threatening suit, contending that the unsymmetrical appearance of the columns is not altogether their fault, and that they really have a counter claim, by reason of delays to them accruing from the failure of other contractors to complete their work within specified time.

No definite agreement was reached, and the chairman and City Solicitor were authorized to take the matter up with a view to settlement

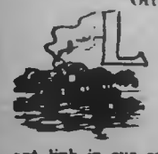
Moved by Ald. Morgan, seconded by Ald. Graham,—That McGrath be asked to hand in any plans that he may have belonging to the city.—Carried.

GEORGIAN BAY CANAL ASSURED

Government Said to be Favorable to the Scheme

BRITISH COMPANY FORMED

Sir Robert Perks Has Apparently Come to an Understanding with Premier Borden — Scheme to be Financed by British Capital—Will be a Big Rival to the Trent System.



Ottawa, November 6.

LAKE and river navigation in Canada is an important element in our transportation system. The early completion of the Trent Canal will form an important link in our canal system, but it will be a small affair, as compared with the proposed Georgian Bay Canal, which is being promoted by British capitalists, headed by Sir Robert Perks, who is now in this country. Premier Borden has had a long interview with that gentleman regarding the construction of this waterway, which has been under discussion for some years. Sir Robert has organized a British syndicate with a large financial backing, and he told the premier they were ready to proceed with the canal as soon as the government would permit them.

A Government Scheme.

Mr. Borden said the Conservative government was anxious that the canal should be constructed, and that the enterprise was included as part of the program of the new government. The British capitalist urged the immediate consideration of the project. The canal, which is to connect Lake Huron with the St. Lawrence river, will be 440 miles long, and is expected to cost about $100,000,000.

The scheme as contemplated provides for a waterway deep enough for large ships, and will save nearly 300 miles in distance between Lake Superior ports and Montreal over the route now in use through the Great Lakes.

The C.P.R's. Enterprise.

The Canadian Pacific Railway Company is contemplating a direct steam ship line between Montreal and India.

According to the present proposals, it is planned to make Calcutta the Indian port for this line, while Montreal is to be the Canadian port in summer and West St. John the port in winter. G. M. Bosworth, vice-president of the company in charge of steamships, has for some time, through the agents of his department been sounding various business interests as to the prospects of business for such a line.

Seats for Ex-Ministers.

Two of the Liberal ministers who were defeated in the late election will probably return to Parliament shortly. They are Sydney Fisher, Sir Wilfrid Laurier's minister of agriculture, and George P. Graham, who was minister of railways. English Liberals in the Province of Quebec are particularly anxious to have Mr. Fisher back. A seat will probably be found for him in Shefford county.

To Investigate.

A thorough investigation of the department of public works has been recommended to the cabinet council by F. D. Monk, minister of public works, and approved by the cabinet. It is proposed to appoint a royal commission of two experts to delve into the whole business.

R. W. Shepherd of Como, is shipping three cases of famous apples to England. One case is for King George, another for Queen Mary and the other for the Queen Mother Alexandra. This is in accord with Mr. Shepherd's custom ever since 1906, when the late King Edward first became acquainted with the superior quality of Quebec's famous apples, and gave Mr. Shepherd a standing order for two cases every year.

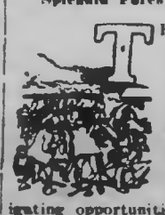
Mr. Trevar Dillon Talks of Travel in India

IMMIGRATION SHOULD BE RESTRICTED

Forestry System in India Compels the Admiration of the World—A Splendid Forest Reserve System.



THE British governmental problem in India has been freely studied by Mr. Trevor Dillon of South County Dublin, who is on his way back to the Emerald Isle, traveling by easy stages and investigating opportunities in Canada.

"How many people did that cougar eat?" Mr. Dillon queried of a reporter, thus evading a question concerning "Indian unrest." Informed that the late cougar had no victims, so far as known, Mr. Dillon laughed merrily. "One would suppose he was really a ferocious man-eater, and not knowing the identity of the beast, I imagined, from the special editions, and public uproar that he was a holy, ring-tailed terror."

By degrees the reporter induced the visitor to talk of big game in India, but he declined to speak of his own exploits which are many.

One Real Tiger Story

"My principal station was at Sutna, Central India," he said. "Tigers were plentiful. I was engineer in charge of construction work for the East India railway, and we were always alert for signs of marauding tigers. The natives especially have a dread of them. Last winter my brother killed three monstrous big ones. The fourth tiger almost got

RED
It's the Red Blood Corpuscles that Proper Food Makes.
An Ohio woman says Grape-Nuts food gave her good red blood and restored the roses of youth to a complexion that had been muddy and olotchy. She says:
"For 10 years I had stomach trouble which produced a breaking out on my face. The doctors gave it a long Latin name, but their medicines failed to cure it. Along with this I had frequent headaches, nervousness and usually pain in my stomach after meals.
"I got disgusted with the drugs, stopped them and coffee all short, and quit eating everything but fruit and Grape-Nuts, with Postum for my table beverage.
The headaches, stomach trouble, and nervous weakness disappeared almost like magic, which showed that when the cause was removed and good food and drink used nature was ready to help.
My blood was purified and my complexion became like a young girl's, while my weight was increased from 90 to 120 pounds in a few months—good, solid firm flesh, where it used to be soft and flabby.
"I recommended Grape-Nuts and Postum to one of my friends, who was afflicted as I had been. She followed my advise and in a short time was restored to complete health and in about 8 months her weight increased from 100 to 148 pounds.
"Our doctor, observing the effect of Grape-Nuts and Postum in our cases, declared the other day that he would hereafter prescribe these food products for gastritis." Name given by Canadian Postum Co., Windsor, Ont.

BOTTLE CLAUSE IN MILK BY-LAW REPEALED LAST NIGHT

The City Property Committee decided last night that milk may be delivered in bottles or from cans, ad libertam.

Ald. Morgan offered that one local physician had emphatically asserted that the delivery of milk in cans is the most approved sanitary method known and that the City Council had better leave the manner in which milk is received by consumers optional with the customers themselves.

Ald. Bradburn thought milk dealers should be prohibited from emptying milk from one can into another on the public streets, whereby danger of contamination from flying dust and germs, arrises. No definite action was taken regarding this matter.

Moved by Ald. Morgan, seconded by Ald. Brown.—That the clause in the milk by-law requiring that milk be delivered in bottles be repealed.—Carried.

The clauses of the by-law as to keeping clean premises from which milk is drawn will be strictly enforced.

CHICAGO WOMEN HELD FOR MANY MURDERS ONCE LIVED IN MUSKOKA

Chicago, Nov. 7.—Belief that Mrs. Louis Vermilya, held for one murder and suspected of having knowledge of nine others, fed poison to her own son, Frank Brinkhamp, yesterday, caused coroner Hauffman to go to Waldheim cemetery and dig up the body of Brinkhamp.

Meantime Arthur Pissonette, father of the policeman, who was poisoned by the widow, according to the police, and Archie Biasonette, brother of the victim, caused a new inquiry to be made when they informed the police that they believed they had been given poison.

The arraignment of Mrs. Vermilya in her "flat of mystery" was one of the most dramatic scenes in the case. Judge Walker and court attaches moved the Harrison Street Court to the Vermilya home, and after it was seized the accused was ordered taken to the county jail hospital.

It developed yesterday that Mrs. Vermilya spent two or three summers in Muskoka, Canada, and inquiry will be made by the police as to whether any mysterious deaths occurred there.

The balance was taken by the first bidder, which amounted to about 300 boxes at 14c.

CONGREGATION STAND BY RICHESON

Cambridge, Mass., Nov. 7.—While women cried and pleaded that nothing should be done to appear in any way prejudicial to the interests of their pastor, the members of the Immanuel Baptist Church society last night voted at a special meeting not to accept at this time the resignation of Rev. Clarence V. T. Richeson pastor of the church, now in jail on the charge of murdering Avis Linnell, the young conservatory of music pupil, who died from poisoning on October 14. By another vote they decided to lay the matter on the table until November 14.

"There could be no better medicine than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. My children were all sick with the whooping cough. One of them was in bed, had a high fever and was coughing up blood. Our doctor gave them Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and the first dose eased them, and three bottles cured them," says Mrs. R. A. Donaldson, of Lexington, Miss. For sale by all dealers.

SPORTS

RUGBY.

Ottawa Citizen: Dick Sheehy and Hefferman performed very creditably in the game with McGill, the former playing short half, to watch any outside kicks by McGill. As a result of his watchfulness this play did not work once and he stopped many runs around the end by beautiful tackles. Hefferman figured in many fine plays and his tackling was also of a very high order.

It is interesting to notice that this city is represented on both teams—Ottawa College and Varsity—that meet next Saturday for the championship of the intercollegiate league. Pete Campbell is the fastest man on Varsity's team, and Sheehy and Hefernan for the College play great games.

Junior Basketball.

The following are the junior basketball teams at the Y.M.C.A.:

Winners—P. Gray, capt.; B. Hamilton, K. Harstone, W. Parsons, G. Batten.

Beavers—L. Soden, capt.; J. Green, K. Gumpricht, G. Thorndyke, J. Carlisle.

Weary Willies—G. Green, G. Phillips, M. Thompson, B. Fiske, S. Wilson.

Sweet Peas—M. Pringle, capt.; G. Dodds, L. Conway, A. Conway, G. Carruthers.

Fairies—D. Caniff, capt.; P. Adams, A. Thornton, H. Devins, H. Crane.

Stars—M. Bishor, J. Gillespie, H. Quinn, T. Nesbitt, G. Gollop.

The first game will be played this evening when the Winners will play the Sweet Peas.

Junior Collegiate League.

Owing to having to play two men short, the Hungry Five again lost, this time to the Giants by the score of 20—10. Yesterday the White Sox defeated the Athletics by the score of 16—8, the game being so close that the score was even at full time.

THE CANADA NATIONAL FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY

was incorporated by Special Act of the Parliament of Canada for the purpose of carrying on the business of Fire Insurance, as outlined in the Insurance Act and the Special Act of Incorporation.

Capital Stock Aetherised by the Board.....$2,000,000
Capital Stock Subscribed to date.....$1,650,000

The Head Office of the Company is in the city of Winnipeg, and, in addition to this, Branch Offices and Agencies will be established throughout the Dominion.

It must be generally conceded that, owing to the satisfactory conditions at present prevailing throughout not only Western Canada, but the entire Dominion, this Company is being organized at a most favorable and opportune time.

Canada, and particularly the Western portion of the Dominion, is advancing in population and wealth more rapidly than at any other time in its history, and every indication points towards a period of great prosperity and development.

The great influx of settlers into Western Canada is resulting in tremendous activity in every line of business. Railroad construction is proceeding on a scale hitherto unknown in this country, and as adequate transportation is of vital importance in moving our immense crops with a proper degree of facility, it is highly encouraging to see so much well-directed energy along the lines of railway extension

Coincident with railway expansion, we find many new districts rapidly filling up with desirable settlers, bringing with them a good supply of cash and effects. With the settlement of the rural districts, new towns and villages are springing up, which will, during the next few years, become, in many instances, important business centres.

With such unprecedented growth in Western as well as Eastern Canada, involving an expenditure of millions of dollars in building operations, it is at once evident that there is a very extensive and profitable field for a new Fire Insurance Company which will have a thorough organization throughout the length and breadth of the Dominion, and more particularly in the four Western Provinces.

As a great volume of our business will be transacted in the West, it is a matter of the greatest importance that the Head Office of the Company, as well as the Directors, should be located in the West, so that the affairs of the Company may be conducted to the best possible advantage.

DIRECTORS.

The Board of Directors consists entirely of Western men with a very intimate knowledge of Western conditions, and they are, accordingly, well conversant with the financial and general business requirements of the West. They are thoroughly representative of the various important branches of financial, commercial, industrial and professional life in Western Canada, and with their wide reputation for business ability and integrity, as well as financial standing, combined with a long and varied experience, and practical knowledge of business affairs, they are exceptionally well qualified to render excellent service to a large financial institution.

As the Directors have valuable connections with extensive business interests and are also Directors of other financial corporations, as well as being otherwise identified with large and influential companies which control a great deal of high-grade fire insurance, they will be instrumental in placing a large portion of this desirable insurance with the new Company, so that we may safely conclude that from the very beginning of operations a large and profitable business will be secured.

Under these favorable conditions, and with a strong, energetic, as well as experienced and conservative management, combined with the fact that each Director has subscribed for eleven thousand five hundred dollars ($11,500) of the Capital Stock, on which all calls have been paid, and takes an active interest in the welfare of the Company, there is only one conclusion to draw, and that is that the affairs of the Company will be conducted in such a careful, conscientious and intelligent manner that the interests of both policyholders and stockholders will be fully protected.

IT IS WORTHY OF NOTE THAT $1,650,000 OF CAPITAL STOCK HAS ALREADY BEEN SUBSCRIBED BY PROMINENT BUSINESS AND PROFESSIONAL MEN THROUGHOUT THE DOMINION AND ELSEWHERE.

No commission has been paid to anyone for securing stock subscriptions, and no expense has been incurred in the promotion and organization of the Company, except the expense in connection with securing the Charter and other necessary expenses.

THE CANADA NATIONAL FIRE.

The Canada National Fire, being organized in the West, MAY BE TRULY CALLED A WESTERN COMPANY, and, as such, should receive the liberal patronage and hearty co-operation of the citizens of Western Canada, as well as the support of people from Eastern Canada who desire to become associated with a strong and progressive Canadian Company.

When promoting this Company the Directors were fully convinced that there was a splendid opening in Western Canada for a Company prepared to carry on the business of Fire Insurance on a large and comprehensive scale, and which, at the same time, could offer ADEQUATE PROTECTION TO BOTH POLICYHOLDERS AND SHAREHOLDERS. Accordingly, when making application for a Dominion charter, the Company was incorporated with a capital of $3,000,000.00, of which amount the Directors decided to offer for public subscription the sum of $2,000,000.00.

THE ALL-IMPORTANT FEATURE IN FIRE INSURANCE IS PROTECTION, and with the LARGE CAPITAL, combined with the high standard of Reserve, which will be maintained through careful selection of risks and profits from judicious investments, the Directors and Management feel confident that this Company will be accorded a very hearty reception by Canadian citizens, and will soon rank as one of the leading Fire Companies.

WITHOUT A LARGE AND SUBSTANTIAL CAPITAL FOR THE PROTECTION OF THE POLICYHOLDERS, A FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY IS SERIOUSLY HANDICAPPED, AND DOES NOT AFFORD THE POLICYHOLDER THAT PROTECTION TO WHICH HE IS JUSTLY ENTITLED, and the Directors of this Company, being fully aware of this most important fact, are adopting a very wise policy in OFFERING FOR SUBSCRIPTION SUCH A LARGE AMOUNT OF CAPITAL STOCK, and when our entire stock is subscribed and paid in full it will represent the largest amount of subscribed and paid-up capital of any Canadian Fire Insurance Company, and will be a tower of strength and of very material benefit to the company in carrying on its extensive operations.

GENERAL AGENT FOR CANADA

W. E. FUDGER, ESQ.

It shall be the policy of the Company to use the UTMOST DISCRETION in the selection of desirable risks, and, at the same time, to so widely distribute its business that any danger arising from a possible conflagration at any point may be reduced to a minimum.

The investment of the Company's funds will be given the GREATEST OF CARE AND ATTENTION by the Board of Directors.

Only GILT-EDGE securities will be considered, such as first mortgages on improved, productive real estate, stocks, bonds and debentures of companies of high repute, as well as Dominion securities and municipal, county and school debentures of well-established districts.

As a LARGE PERCENTAGE of these securities is READILY NEGOTIABLE, the Company will have abundant LIQUID ASSETS to meet any possible contingency that might arise.

Our first mortgage investments will be confined to Western Canada, and as the rate of interest obtainable on first-class productive real estate is FULLY TWO PER CENT. greater in the West than in Eastern Canada, the Company will have a DECIDED ADVANTAGE over Companies operating exclusively in the older portions of the Dominion. A fixed policy of the Company is to loan NOT MORE THAN FIFTY PER CENT. of a conservative value of the property, and to stipulate for a definite return of principal, together with interest, each year during the term of the loan. With these periodical repayments of principal, and with land values in Western Canada steadily increasing, the Company's first mortgage securities will continue to improve year by year.

With the active development in Western Canada, a great deal of capital will be required for many years to come, and the Company will, therefore, experience a very ready demand for its funds on high-grade securities and at a profitable rate of interest.

The Directors decided to issue the stock at the price of ONE HUNDRED AND FIFTEEN DOLLARS PER SHARE, being at a premium of fifteen per cent.

THE TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION ARE:

On application, $25.00 per share, which shall include the premium of $15.00 per share, and the balance, payable in ten consecutive half-yearly instalments of $9.00 per share, the first of such half-yearly instalments to become due and payable six months from date of allotment of shares.

Shares may be PAID IN FULL at time of subscription, but if purchased on the INSTALMENT PLAN the subscriber shall have the privilege of paying any or all of the instalments prior to due dates.

The Following Table Shows the Amount of First Call as Well as the Subsequent Payments:

200	23,000.00
300	34,500.00

NO BONUS STOCK shall be issued for any purpose whatsoever, and even the Directors, who are very heavy stockholders in the Company, have paid the SAME PRICE for their shares as the general public. NOT ONE SHARE has been or will be issued to any person at a price less than $115.00 per share.

THIS IS A RARE OPPORTUNITY to secure some of the Capital Stock of a Western Fire Insurance Company. With a large amount of desirable and profitable business so readily obtainable by the Company through its valuable and extensive business connections, rapid progress should be made, and with investments carefully selected and unexcelled in earning power, the Company will be enabled to not only pay substantial dividends, but build up a large reserve, and thereby materially increase the value of the stock.

The Directors firmly believe in the policy that EVERY SHAREHOLDER SHOULD CO-OPERATE WITH THE MANAGEMENT of a Company and take an active interest in its welfare. For that reason, it is their intention to WIDELY DISTRIBUTE the CAPITAL STOCK, and by that means obtain the support of the leading business and professional men throughout the country.

With the rapid development of the West during recent years, involving an outlay of many millions of capital, it has become generally recognized that WESTERN CANADA IS VERY MUCH IN NEED OF MORE LARGE FINANCIAL INSTITUTIONS, AND ESPECIALLY OF WESTERN ORIGIN, to properly meet the growing requirements of the West, and to not only improve the present financial situation, but to materially assist in retaining, as much as possible, desirable business, with its resultant profits, within our own Western borders.

The business of fire insurance has now grown to such large proportions that it has become a very important factor in the financial and commercial world, and as its scope and influence is so general and widespread it is only natural to find that the question of AMPLE PROTECTION TO POLICYHOLDERS, which is the PRIMARY FUNCTION OF FIRE INSURANCE COMPANIES, should be so GENERALLY DISCUSSED AT THE PRESENT TIME.

This important subject has given rise to a very STRONG FEELING in Western Canada that the TIME HAS NOW ARRIVED when the Western people should organize a Fire Insurance Company of such strength and proportions that it will soon rank as one of the leading fire companies of America, and command general respect and confidence, which is so ESSENTIAL to a company that solicits the support and patronage of all classes of the community.

The Directors have every confidence that they will receive the hearty co-operation of not only Western citizens, but of people from every part of the Dominion, to build up a GREAT fire insurance company with AMPLE PROTECTION for the people, and which will be a source of pride and credit to our country.

The following Canadian Government Insurance statistics should prove of ESPECIAL INTEREST:

In the year 1909 the total amount of fire premiums collected in Canada was $1,785,539.00, whereas in the year 1909 the total premiums charged amounted to the large sum of $22,293,633.25, and of this amount $6,551,644.41 was charged by Canadian Companies, $11,518,267.45 by British Companies, and $4,223,721.39 by American Companies.

During the last forty-one years the aggregate amount of fire insurance premiums collected in Canada reached the immense total of $280,740,466.00, of which the large sum of $218,310,047.00 represents the amount of fire premiums collected by FOREIGN COUNTRIES, and which, therefore, was taken out of the country to build up foreign companies and enrich foreign shareholders.

Notwithstanding that a considerable portion of the fire premiums collected in Canada by Foreign Companies has been repaid to Canadian policyholders, through fire losses, it must be evident that the larger the proportion of Canadian fire insurance that is placed with Canadian Companies, the larger is the amount of capital retained in the Dominion and always available for investment purposes, to build up our Canadian financial institutions, and thereby add to the general wealth and prosperity of our country.

The above figures are most significant and clearly demonstrate that while the CANADIAN FIRE COMPANIES have been doing a satisfactory business they HAVE SECURED only a SMALL portion of the Fire Insurance transacted in Canada, or, to be more exact, ONLY TWENTY-TWO PER CENT. of THE TOTAL FIRE INSURANCE WRITTEN IN CANADA, covering a period of the last forty-one years. With the extraordinary progress which Canada has been making during recent years, the field for financial institutions has become so widely extended that there is a CONSTANTLY INCREASING DEMAND for new large financial corporations.

By further reference to our Government statistics it will be observed that at December 31st, 1909, the total number of Canadian Fire Companies operating under Dominion charter was ONLY TWENTY-ONE, and of this number ONLY TWO HAD A PAID-UP CAPITAL IN EXCESS OF $500,000.

In promoting this large Canadian Company the Directors are fully confident that the new organization will, with characteristic Western energy and enterprise, soon come to be recognized as an important factor in the insurance world, and as The Canada National Fire will be instrumental in RETAINING WITHIN THE BOUNDARIES OF CANADA a large amount of money which would otherwise be taken out of the country to build up foreign corporations the people of this growing Dominion will readily see the advisability of giving this Company their MORAL AND FINANCIAL SUPPORT, in order that we may build up a STRONG and VIGOROUS Company which will prove a valuable acquisition to our Canadian monetary institutions.

This is the last opportunity to secure, direct from the Company, some of this desirable stock.

It is worthy of special note that the demand for the stock has exceeded the Directors' most sanguine expectations; in fact, of the $2,000,000 of stock to be issued, $1,650,000 has already been subscribed, and, from present indications, with the large number of applications for stock being received daily, the Directors are confident that the balance of the issue, which is now only $350,000, will be subscribed by August 26th, 1911, the date appointed for the closing of stock subscriptions.

For this reason, the Directors strongly recommend the investing public to mail their applications for stock at their earliest possible opportunity.

Subscribers are requested to kindly fill in attached application form, stating name in full, number of shares desired, occupation and address, and mail the application, along with the first call of Twenty-five Dollars ($25.00) per share on the stock, direct to the Head Office of the Company, Winnipeg, Man., or, if so desired, application may be made for the stock at any of the Company's Branch Offices or at any Branch of the Royal or Imperial Banks, where application blanks and any additional information will be readily furnished. Applications for stock will be considered in the order received, and on approval of the same by the Board of Directors a certificate for the number of shares subscribed will be issued and mailed the shareholders forthwith. Cheques, Drafts, Money Orders or other remittances on account of stock subscriptions should be made payable to The Canada National Fire Insurance Company.

KING EDWARD VACUM CLEANER

You cannot clean carpets, rugs and furniture by beating. If you think you have, just try a KING EDWARD VACUUM CLEANER and you will find the article full of dust, which breeds disease.

The KING EDWARD HAND MACHINE has no equal as compared with other hand machines. It is lighter to operate and its suction is much stronger. Its suction is stronger than many of the power machines, and the dusting is done away with. On account of the short stroke one person can operate it on carpets and rugs equally as well as two, and it is about half the weight of other hand machines to carry up and down stairs or from one room to another. It is sold for less money than any of the hand machines. All machines are guaranteed.

STRUCK DUMB WITH AMAZEMENT

Mr. A. O. Wheeler, F.R.G.S., Director of the Alpine Club of Canada, has just returned to Vancouver from a summer spent in the Canadian Rockies in the vicinity of the Yellowhead Pass, and is greatly impressed with his trip.

In an interview with Mr. Wheeler, he stated: "It has been the general impression that the Rocky Mountains of Canada attain their greatest average height not very far north of the boundary line. True, of late years much has been heard of Mount Robson, which dominates the region of the Yellowhead Pass, but the popular notion was that there was nothing else in the neighborhood worth seeing, and that the Grand Trunk Pacific would pass through a region of little interest from the point of view of the tourist or mountaineer.

"There was no mistake about Mount Robson. It is without doubt, as was stated by one of the most travelled and skilled mountaineers of the day, Dr. Norman Collie, one of the most magnificent mountains in the world, whether seen from the south, the view that is most familiar on all sides were found mighty snowpeaks, or from beautiful Berg Lake, it still stands supreme. In the hundred-clad peaks, widespread snowfields, red-mile circuit of the great massif huge ice-falls, rushing torrents, waterfalls, flower-clad meadows and vast stretches of dark pine forest. Many of the peaks were named by the surveyors, but they are legion, and it will be many years before they are known as individual mountains."

In speaking of the Robson Glacier, which lies on the east side of this monstrous mountain, Mr. Wheeler said: "It struck us dumb with amazement that anything so stupendous, so superb, so undreamed of, should exist. At our feet flowed the great river of ice, every crevasse, every moraine, every icefall, clearly portrayed. Directly opposite rose the massif, its outline clear from base to summit for fully 8,000 feet. From the beautiful meadows at the head of Resplendent Valley twenty-five peaks were counted, all unknown and unnamed. And lakes, which perhaps lend the most characteristic charm to Canadian mountain scenery, were everywhere."

At the summit of the Yellowhead Pass Mr. Wheeler's party erected a monument defining the boundary between Alberta and British Columbia at the intersection of the Great Divide. On the huge post set up, which is surrounded with a big stone mound are carved the words: "British Columbia on the west face; Alberta on the east face; and on the south 3,727.98 feet, being the altitude of the summit at the point where the post is set."

Clearing of right-of-way on the uncompleted gap of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway from Tete Jaune Cache westward to Aldermere in Bulkley Valley, was started a few weeks ago by the contractors, Messrs Foley, Welch & Stewart. Operations thus far are restricted to the route along the south fork of the Fraser between the Cache and Fort George.

In connection with the Grand Trunk Exhibit at the Festival of Empire, Crystal Palace, London, England, further advices dated September 12th have been received from London regarding the awards that were given to the Grand Trunk, and the Grand Trunk Pacific, and it is gratifying to know that these companies have received four "Grand Prix" for their splendid display, instead of two that were announced in the cable received on Sept. 1st.

An Interesting Booklet.

The Times is in receipt of a very interesting booklet dealing with the Maritime Provinces as a promising field for those who desire to establish new industries, or to profitably invest capital in the exploitation and development of natural resources. The obvious advantages of many parts of New Brunswick and Nova Scotia are ably presented in detail, together with many cheerful facts that ought to impress those who have capital ready to invest in a new field that is certainly rich in opportunity. It is commendable that while the eyes of the world are upon Canada, and thousands of new settlers are pouring into the West from many countries, an honest effort is being made to point out the advantages that exist in the east. The booklet will be mailed free to those who write the Industrial Department Intercolonial Railway, Moncton, N. B.

Present Disadvantages of Canadian Farmers.

At present the United States farmers have a great advantage over us. It costs 25c a bushel to send wheat into the United States. They can send their wheat into Canada for 12c a bushel, with rebate of 99 per cent. of duty when ground in bond. It costs us 30c to send a bushel of barley to the United States. They can ship barley into Canada for 15c. If we want to ship beans into the United States we have to pay 45c a bushel duty. The beans can come into Canada for 22c. They charge us 25c a bushel on the apples we send them. We charge them only 40c a barrel on what they send us. They charge us $4 a ton on the hay we send them. We charge them $2. They charge us 6c a pound on cheese, we charge them 3c. Thus it is with almost every farm product.

Under reciprocity these disadvantages will be wiped out, and we will be able to deal with them on an equal basis. Is not this worth while?

Home for Christmas

The Steamship Lines are expecting a large home-going exodus for the holiday season this year, and are making extensive preparations to take care of all of those who are planning to visit the Old Country.

The White Star-Dominion Line has arranged for three special Christmas sailings, viz. the "Canada" December 2nd, "Megantic" December 9th, and "Teutonic" December 14th, from Portland, Me., and Halifax, N. S., to take care of these passengers. These steamers will arrive in ample time to enable passengers to reach their homes before Christmas whether in England or on the Continent.

The railways have recognized the growing popularity of these annual Christmas excursions and now run special trains from Montreal and the west to connect with the steamers, and the most complete arrangements are made by both the steamship companies and the rail lines to further the comfort of the homeward bound ones during the holiday season.

Grand Trunk Opening New Territory

The new territory in the Canadian Rocky Mountains that is being opened up by the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway has already become the Mecca for a number of Alpine Climbers and those who love to get away from the turmoil of the busy city and explore mountain fastnesses that are practically unknown. Some of the travellers who have gone into this Yellow Head Pass territory are now returning, and one gentleman writes to the Grand Trunk Pacific Headquarters as follows:—"Lake Maligne is a beautiful lake between 16 and 18 miles long. I have visited all the other transcontinental lines both in Canada and the United States, and there is no lake or district along any of these lines that can compare with the Lake Maligne country. Some of the mountains around the lake are in the neighborhood of 12,000 feet. Lake Maligne is reached from Henry House a few miles west of Pitsburgh, the Second Divisional point, and covered with ice fields which make them very beautiful."

STRANGE NESTS OF WILD BIRDS

Swinging Cradle Evolved by the Ingenious Tailor-Bird is of Leaves Neatly Sewn With Silk and Wool

The tailor-bird builds one of the most remarkable nests known to man. With only its beak for needle, it sews two or three leaves together in the form of a cup, and in this places its nest of wool, hair, and fine grass. It uses thread, which may be either silk, snatched from some caterpillar's cocoons, or pieces of wool or strong vegetable fibres. The The bird bores holes in the edges of the leaves, and threads the binding material through.

The oven-bird of South Africa collects horse-hair and fibre, and with these bind together the walls of the mud house which it builds. This mud house is wonderfully designed. It is built on a firm foundation of hardened mud; it has stout walls, and is covered in with a dome — a most difficult piece of work for a bird working with soft mud without scaffolding. Inside, the house is divided by a stout wall into two compartments, one of which is the nursery, and the other the living [illegible] measures [illegible] in width, and [illegible] eight or nine [illegible]

The Original and Only Genuine

Beware of Imitation Sold on the Merits of Minard's Liniment

GIVE UP BURROWING

Rabbit Is Giving Up Digging Earth Homes, and Begins Nesting Above Ground.

German natural historical periodicals are calling attention to an interesting change in the habits of wild rabbits, especially in the western parts of Germany. The animals in question are giving up their ancient habit of burrowing, and have commenced in great part to imitate the hares, which, as is well known, live only above ground. The hares themselves were once burrowers, and gradually went through the same change in habits in this particular that appears to characterize the rabbits at the present day — at any rate in Germany. In woods where the undergrowth is thick, and which are therefore especially suitable to the rabbits, they find hiding places in plenty for their nests, and even in open country, unwooded [illegible] and the rabbits seems to be taking more and more to the open — they take refuge in board-piles, rubbish-heaps, brushpiles, brick-kilns, drain-pipes, and ditches that are overgrown with weeds. The female makes little fortresses for her young, to protect them from the cannibalistic propensities of the male; she lines the nest warmly with fur from her own breast, visits them secretly at night, and perhaps suckles them once more during the 24 hours; but each time that she leaves them she carefully piles rubbish before the opening which leads to her defenseless family, and defies the obstructions with ardure.

INTERESTING OCEAN FACTS

Complete Evaporation Would Leave an Immense Deposit of Salt Two Hundred and Thirty Feet Thick.

Oceans occupy three-fourths of the earth's surface. At the depth of [illegible] feet waves are not felt, the temperature is the same, [illegible] from the poles to the [illegible] the equator. A [illegible] has a pressure of [illegible] to the square inch. [illegible] were filled with [illegible] lowed to evaporate [illegible] two inches of [illegible] of the box. [illegible] of the oceans [illegible] miles, there would [illegible] 60 feet thick [illegible] cover all the water [illegible] water of the ocean [illegible] ocean than at the [illegible] places, especially [illegible] coast of Norway, [illegible] of the ocean before it does above. Waves are very deceptive. To look at them in a storm one would think that the whole water surface [illegible] the same time, but the [illegible] are only. Sometimes in storms these waves are forty feet high and travel fifty miles per hour [illegible] as fast as the fleetest steamship. The base of a wave [illegible] differs from valley to valley on either side of the bottom [illegible] is generally reckoned at about 15 times the height, therefore an average wave, say one 25 feet high, has a base extending over 375 feet. The force of waves breaking on the shore is said to be 17 tons to the square yard.

Be Good Winter Traffic

No better evidence of the increased Western traffic is needed than the statement that this year certain railroad services which in former winters have always been dropped, are this year being retained, and in some cases added to. A leading official states that this year the Canadian Pacific Railway intends to run its St. Paul-Seattle through trains, all winter whereas in former winters this through service was always dropped. The source of the increased traffic between these two points is attributed to the growing interest in the Canadian Rocky Mountains. For the last five or six years tourists from the United States have been literally pouring into Canada through C. P. R. connections at St. Paul and Seattle the greater number having the Rocky Mountains and the resorts at Banff Field, Emerald Lake and Glacier, as their destination.

THE MOSLEM AT HOME

Old Before the Christian Dawn, Tripoli Has Seen Many Changes, But Always the Arab Remained.

Grown old before Christianity began, Tripoli has seen Norman, Spaniard, and Maltese Knight come and go again, leaving always the Arab and the Berber still in possession. Is the old granary of Carthage to become at this late date the granary of the old rival Rome? Who knows? For though the Turk may go, there still remain the Arab and the Berber, a factor not to be despised.

Viewed from the anchorage in the bay, a full half-mile from the shore, Tripoli is a delight to the eye. The white walls of the houses, the slender minarets of the mosques, the whole town in a setting of palm trees and green olives, in the foreground the deep-blue water of the bay, and a dazzling sunshine bathing all, the picture is not easily forgotten.

Although closer acquaintance with Tripoli tones down very considerably the picture as seen from the sea, it introduces one to an assortment of [illegible] that can be neither lost sight nor disposed, yet withal it is considerably attractive. There the Moslem is at home — the Moslem as devoted to his religion as he was in the days of the Crusaders. No Christian may enter his Mosque, nor "defile" its tomb, nor stand in a sacred reverence beside the graves of "The Faithful." Because it is a principal portal of the Sahara and the centre of a once very rich caravan trade, one finds converging here an unparalleled mixture of nationalities. Tall, broad-shouldered, finely-featured Arabs, Berbers, desert Bedouins, Moors, Turks, full-blooded negroes whose fathers died here in slavery, all pass and repass in the narrow streets. The Jew, too, settled here since the days of Carthage, has his ghetto at the western side of the town; an intricate maze of narrow, unpaved, dirty, evil-smelling streets, unlovely by day and unlighted by night.

On Taking a Holiday

A great many people lead just as strenuous a life while on their holidays as they are accustomed to do during the working year with the result, of course, that they are very little better for the fortnight's change. They overlook their need for rest in the desire to participate in all the amusements and distractions offered to them. The young people are so anxious not to lose a moment of the time so wholly their own that they count themselves unfortunate to have a vacant hour in the day's programme. But for the middle-aged the holiday should not be of this strenuous order if it is to do any lasting good. Excess must be avoided none the less when the ordinary life is rather sedentary than otherwise. It is a big mistake for a man or woman to think that because he or she generally spends the best part of the day in a chair at a desk, the one precious fortnight ought to find them perpetually on their feet, or even indulging in the most violent exercise. Under the belief that they are getting their muscles into good order, they are putting a severe strain on the heart that has been long accustomed to very gentle movement only. The best thing for these people is to take a couple of days' entire rest, and then to begin gradually with walking exercise or the like. This moderation will enable the holiday-maker to enjoy every hour, and to undertake in the end considerable exertion with real benefit to his whole system.

He Wasn't Encouraging

"Concede nothing," was the advice of a well-known politician concerning a certain famous disputed election. His policy was followed to the letter by the man of whom the following is told:—

On the relief train that had been rushed to the scene of the railway wreck was a newspaper reporter. The first victim he saw was a man whose eyes were blackened and whose left arm was in a sling. With his hair full of dirt, one end of his shirt collar flying loose and his coat ripped up the back, the victim was sitting on the grass and serenely contemplating the landscape.

"How many people are hurt?" asked the reporter, hurrying up to him.

"I haven't heard of anybody being hurt, young man," said the other.

"How did this wreck happen?"

"I haven't heard of any wreck."

"You haven't? Who are you, anyhow?"

"I don't know that it's any of your business, but I'm the claim agent of the road."

World's Costliest

Who keeps the most costly kitchen in the world? Not, as one might imagine, the American millionaire, but the Shah of Persia. The utensils, fittings, and furnishings of the Shah are said to be worth $2,500,000. Every saucepan is gilded inside, and the dishes appearing on his table are of solid gold, as well as the spoons, knives and forks, the handles of which are besides ornamented with precious stones. Moreover, the chef, in preparing dishes for the Shah's table, must use none but silver spoons and forks, and any dish on which he puts his hands to keep them must be also of silver, gilded inside.

Our Sovereign's Long Pedigree

There are few people who can boast so ancient a genealogy as our King and Queen, who trace their descent in unbroken line from the Saxon King Egbert, and through him back to the British kings, who in turn were reputed lineally descended from the survivors of the fall of Troy.

Canada is Warned

my brother. We were hunting for deer in the hills and struck the trail of an unusually big tiger, rather he struck my brother's trail, for the first he knew when starting to ascend a low hill, an immense Bengal tiger suddenly appeared at the top, thirty yards away, and with a scream of fury sprang forward in great leaps straight towards him. Two quick shots from my brother's rifle missed the beast, because of the rapidity of the tiger's charge, and my brother's momentary excitement, and on he came. It seemed certain death for my brother. His rifle jammed. Casting it aside he advanced a step, arms upraised and waving and uttered one shrill scream after another. Instantly the tiger's front paws struck the ground, his head sunk low between them and thus he crouched, in almost striking distance, while my brother kept up his yelling, gazing meanwhile into the tiger's eyes. Suddenly the animal bounded backward, and in a moment fled into the jungle. Yes, they have a streak of cowardice, presumably."

Deadly Snake Is Terror.

"We felt less dread of tigers, however, than of the terrible krite, the most deadly snake in the world, of an average length of nine to ten inches. They get chummy and crawl into bed with one, sometimes, and one must be careful. From the bite of this serpent agonizing death usually ensues in ten or twelve minutes."

British Problem Stated.

Mr. Dillon didn't like to talk of the "British problem" in India, but replying to questions said:

"China and Japan may rise to power in the Orient and may form an alliance, if they desire, but they never can govern India. Should Great Britain relinquish the country to them, which it will not, they would make a horrible mess of it in a few years. The Indians would not stand for it. On the other hand, to-day behold the spectacle of one Englishman governing, wisely, peaceably and without great difficulty, millions of those peculiar people. His word is law; his will is never disputed. And I state emphatically that, notwithstanding the unrest, due to agitation by educated Bengallis, the people of India are better contented and better off to-day than ever before.

What Britain Should Do.

"Britain's problem now is to develop the country with railroads, to establish agricultural stations, to provide refrigeration plants to enable the tillers of the soil to ship their products where they can find the best market, to establish technical training schools, and thus to utilize the vast labor power and the mental power of India, and bring contentment to the educated classes. This problem must be solved. Great Britain is not providing sufficient funds for the building of railroads and the land tax is inadequate to provide the needed revenue."

Mr. Dillon said, concerning the army: "Our military establishment is quite sufficient. The native troops are loyal. There was some difficulty with one regiment recently, but the cause was removed, nothing serious."

Canada is Warned.

Mr. Dillon, in emphatic terms, said the Hindoos should not be permitted to come to British Columbia, unless a system of indenture for a definite number of years is adopted. He strongly opposes their admission, as at present, and says it is a serious mistake.

Indians employed in railroad building, Mr. Dillon said, receive about four annas (six to eight cents) a day and are satisfied, but this does not constitute their entire income. Most of them have a garden and make their living, in addition, from the land. In Bombay the natives receive what is to them enormous wages for dock labor—50 cents and sometimes 75 cents a day, and the tale of their immense earnings goes abroad. "Fancy, then, the news going back to India of a laborer earning here from ten to twelve shillings a day!"

Forestry System Praised.

Mr. Dillon says the Indian Government has an excellent forest reserve system, officered by British, who obtained special training in forestry work in Germany. To protect the splendid forests from devastating fires he said, huge gaps were dug in certain areas, enabling the diligent foresters to localize a fire and render it harmless.

Before saying farewell Mr. Dillon was particular to impress upon the reporter the fact that "Indian unrest" amounts to little, that British rule in India is firm and competent, that the lurid stories often appearing in the western press have no foundation in fact, as a rule, and he particularly wanted to know how Canadian papers receive their Indian news, whether via London or direct. Recently, he said, an Indian member of the imperial council was reported to be spreading among the natives seditious literature, and this, he said, was serious, but this councillor was merely one of the thousands of educated Indians who are intent upon stirring up strife for the definite purpose of gaining more and better employment for their own caste.

Mr. Dillon will appreciate exact information on the subject of fruit lands in British Columbia. He is greatly interested in the possibilities of this industry in this section, particularly in the Kootenay region.

A Startling Revelation

The friends of Miss Mary McKenzie, of London, were astonished to hear that she had gone into consumption.

This sad intelligence came as a shock to Miss McKenzie's many friends. In the early fall she contracted a heavy cold which developed rapidly into Catarrh, and finally made such rapid advances that the bronchial tubes and lungs became affected.

Although the doctors said nothing short of a change of residence to the south would benefit, on the advice of a Dundas Street druggist Miss McKenzie decided to thoroughly test Catarrhozone, which is warranted to cure all diseases of the throat, lungs and bronchial tubes.

Miss McKenzie says: "After my druggist had recommended Catarrhozone I spoke to my friends about it and they all said it was such a good remedy that I commenced forthwith to inhale it five or six times each day. I breathed it deeply into my lungs, and felt its beneficial action very quickly. It seemed to go where other remedies did not reach, and was so pleasant and convenient that I did not mind using it very frequently, which, probably, was the cause of it curing my obstinate case so quickly. Certainly no case of Catarrh or Bronchitis should go uncured if the sufferer can get Catarrhozone, which is a sovereign remedy, worthy of the highest recommendations.

Miss McKenzie's case needs no enlargement. She was in a critical condition, apparently beyond the aid of doctors' medicines.

Catarrhozone has cured her, and others in her condition should no longer experiment with uncertain, untried treatments, but should turn at once to catarrhozone, and in it they will find relief and cure unobtainable by other means. Remember the name, Catarrhozone. Complete outfit guaranteed to cure. Price $1.00. Small size 25 cents. Druggists or The Catarrhozone Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

ANGEL OF CATAMOUNT

By Kit Brum

Many years ago, relates a woman writer, a lonely man dwelt in a cave up in the hills where rise the waters of the Iwaga. None know whence he came, nor who he was, except that he called himself Randolph Jackson, and that he had made himself a habitation in the cave.

Beyond the lodge the hill arose, its crest looking towards the north-west where Greylock loomed and opposite towards the south-eastern hills, below the valley lay the guarding hill precipitate in its descent. At the bottom the river murmured over its pebbled bed and between the forest-clad hills. For the stately pines the rugged oaks and spruce and the graceful birches were crowded close on either side, and far upward, till they reached the fertile fields that the first settlers had cleared.

From the front of the cave, Randolph could look far across the valley, and could see no human habitation or human being; only now and then he might watch an eagle soaring across, or see a fox skulk away in the shadow, or hear the soft flap of the wings of an owl, when the great darkness had come down.

Randolph worked for the farmers down beyond the valley and took for his pay mostly provisions, for money was scare then in all this region, and trade was made by bartering. So from one he took the cloth, spun and woven there, that another farmer's wife made his garments from. Another gave him meal, another potatoes. From a fifth he secured the maple sugar that was his only luxury and from a sixth the pork that served as meat or now and then a pat of butter. And them, too, he could use his musket, and sometimes also furnished himself a meal from the tender flesh of a rabbit, coon or quail; he would stride down the valley and from a brook on the other side of the river draw out an unsuspecting, unsophisticated trout. So Randolph lived.

One winter morning Randolph arose long before light, for he had work with a farmer down the valley whose hours were early, and he must be there to help before the tardy winter sun arose above the eastern hills. The winter had been hard, a thick coat of snow lay upon the ground. A day or two before more had come, and then had turned to rain, and then the rain had frozen into sleet, and formed a crust, hard enough to bear up the fox taken away from home, unawares and unfortunate, but not hard enough to bar the weight of the lone cave-liver.

When the long day's work was done, and the weary oxen in their stalls, and the dog snoring in the chimney corner and dreaming of the fox he had seen that day, Randolph started to his sheltering cave, across his shoulder a bag of potatoes, a side of salt pork, and a loaf of corn bread, given him by kindly Mistress Leonard. But it was darker than ever then. The dim ghosts of farm buildings, or towering trees were only a visible inky darkness, the fog was so thick and close. And Randolph had no lantern, and perforce must find his way, alone and unlighted, up the slope of the valley to the ledge that made his roof tree. And he was tired, and painfully groped his way along the beaten road that was his path for a part of the distance.

Then he left it to try and find his path through the forest trees, his path alone, for none other lived in that valley, and none other ever passed that way.

Did he find it? He could not tell, but groped darkly and alone through the misty trees. Soon he could not tell where he was. He could not tell how far up the hillside he had come, nor where the edge began its sinuous length. And he paused alarmed at last.

And then, far off in the distance, there came a noise, indistinguished at first from the breath and whisper of the fir trees, then more plain and plainer yet until it seemed to Randolph that it was a voice crying, "This-a-way! This-a-way! Heere-eere! This-a-way!"

"Hey!" said the wanderer, and paused perplexed. "This-a-way!" cried the voice. "What was that?" he ejaculated. "Heere-eere!" pealed the voice far away in the darkness behind the spruces. "Heere-eere!" it pealed again and again. Randolph wiped the sweat from his brow, replaced his old fur cap, and went on again, slowly and painfully up the snow clad hill. Again it seemed to him that his path was not here, and again he paused, and then, "This-a-way!" cried the voice, "This-a-way! Here, heere-eere."

And the clump of dark spruce trees close at hand seemed strange to him, and lacked their familiar outlines. When he stumbled over a log that he had no recollection of, and paused again, the ghostly voice would be heard again in the forest. "This-a-way! This-a-way! This-a-way!" And so he climbed the mountain, pausing ever and anon for the sound of the welcome voice far away calling plaintively, "This-a-way," or near at hand, echoing with a sighing cadence, across the valley, "This-a-way!"

Until at last, while supposing himself to be a long way from home, he suddenly saw before him the glimmer of a fire; the few embers left burning from his fire of the morning, and he stumbled across the rocks of his threshold with a sigh of relief, and threw himself down upon his couch of fir branches, tired and content.

And always, when he told the story of his long wandering up the hillside in the dark night, and mimicked the sound that had come to him, and led him upward in safety, he said that he never knew if it was an angel calling him or a catamount.

EARACHE IN CHILDREN

How One May Determine When a Very Young Child is Suffering from this Painful Trouble.

Very young children frequently suffer from this distressing pain, although they may be too young to express the trouble. The mother or nurse may know that if the baby rubs its head, puts up its hand to the painful spot, and refuses to lie on that side of the head, the pain is there. It may be that both ears are affected, but this is not often the case. Examine the ears, and if there is a discharge you should consult a doctor. Sometimes matter forms in the ear, and breaks the drum, passes out. The drum will heal if attention is paid to it at once, and this is why there should be no delay in calling for the doctor, who will tell you at once what course to pursue. If proper precaution is not taken, the hole break in the drum widens into a hole, which refuses to heal. The pain is, ordinary, the result of cold, and a small flannel bag filled with hot salt to the ear, or foment the ear with a flannel wrung out of hot camomile and poppy head decoction. These heads can be got from any chemist. A homely but often very useful remedy is a roast onion tied in a flannel and applied to the ear. A child who is subject to earache should avoid exposing that side of the head to any cutting draught.

Teething Troubles.

Convulsions during teething are not very common. If they occur it will generally be found that they are due to something else — rickets, perhaps, in baby. A hot bath and a dose of castor oil is the best treatment. Lancing for a tooth should be a last resort, as the tooth point then has difficulty in cutting through the scar.

Sometimes when teething, a child becomes very restless in the night, and starts and screams at intervals. A hot bath is generally very soothing. Have the water at 105 degrees, and deep enough to reach the child's waist when in a sitting position. Let it stay in the bath for five minutes with a shawl round its shoulders. Keep the hands and the rest of the body above the waist quite dry. The lower part of the body should be pink with the heat of the water, and should be well rubbed, after which the child should be placed in a well-warmed cot.

Delightful Mince Cakes

These cakes are made with minced steak. Besides being very palatable they provide a very safe dish for children. For the making of the cakes take first 1 lb. of mince, or a larger quantity if found necessary. The mince is cut into small portions and made into little cakes. In proportion to the pound of mince there is mixed two tablespoonfuls of oatmeal, a teaspoonful of salt, and a shake of pepper. Each little cake of mince is dipped into these ingredients, and then shaped nicely with a knife. There is next put into the frying pan, for the purpose of being heated, a dessertspoonful of dripping, and the cakes are then placed in the pan and fried a nice rich brown colour. The cakes are afterwards placed on a hot ashet. The fat is then poured from the frying pan, and to the sediment there is added a teacupful of water, a pinch of salt, and a shake of pepper. The gravy is thickened with half a teaspoonful of moistened flour, and, after being boiled, it is poured over the mince cakes, which are served very hot.

To Wash Dainty Hosiery.

Coloured stockings, which are so fashionable just now, are rather troublesome to wash, owing to the colours running and so giving to the whole a cloudy look. To prevent this, do not use soda or rub soap on them, but put them into a good lather of soap powder and tepid water; the feet only should be rubbed, the other parts squeezed gently in the water. Rinse them well in tepid water and then dry them to stand for a minute in water, to which a little common salt has been added. Dry in a shady place, for strong light or sun destroys colouring. After washing stockings, it is a great improvement to rinse them in blue water.

Clear Clear Polish

[illegible] for [illegible] and most [illegible] [illegible] well,) three [illegible] of wax (white only), half a [illegible] of soft soap, one gill of turpentine and a gill of paraffin.

Shave the wax and soap into a jar and add the water. Stand on the hob or in a pan of water until melted. When slightly cooled, pour in the turpentine and paraffin and stir till mixed. Tasty Egg Savoury

Here is a nice egg savoury which all will like. Boil four eggs very hard, and chop them finely. Mix with them one dessertspoonful of cream, a seasoning of salt and pepper, a teaspoonful of butter, and one beaten uncooked egg. Saving an Historic Record

The little stone school in Nutana, Sask., that held all the Saskatoon scholars some thirteen years ago and also served as a hospital during the Riel rebellion, is being rapidly torn down and will be removed to the University grounds to be kept as an historic relic. This commendable action is due to the work of the Daughters of the Empire; the press drew attention to the state of affairs when the school was to be demolished and this patriotic association took the matter up in time to save the building for future generations.

SPORTING COLUMN.

OF ROYAL BLOOD

Curiously enough a large percentage of the notably strong men of history have been of royal blood. One of the earliest of these royal athletes was Maximianus, called Maximianus Hercules because of his great strength. Maximianus was the son of a peasant and a man of enormous physique. He became a common soldier and was finally made Emperor by his fellow-soldiers during a stormy period of Roman history.

Maximianus' strength was prodigious. It was said that on one foot he could run down a fox; that he could life three men with one hand, and that by gripping the wheel of a chariot with one finger he could resist the pull of three horses. Like most men of great physical strength, Maximianus was a heavy eater. History records that his daily allowance was forty pounds of meat and eighteen bottles of wine.

Augustus the Strong of Saxony was another of those royal Samsons. He would often seize two of his courtiers, grasping one with his right hand and another with his left, holding them up at arm's length and playfully twirling them about. On one occasion the horse ridden by one of his attendants became awkward, and refused to budge. After some minutes of coaxing the King dismounted, placed his Herculean shoulders under the horse's chest, grasping it by the forelegs, and calmly walked away with both horse and rider. This remarkable performance was witnessed by a number of courtiers and attendants.

INTERCOLLEGIATE HOCKEY

Whether Ottawa College will come out on the top in football or not, they are likely to make a big bid for the hockey honors of the intercollegiate during the coming winter, and with several of last year's men attending the university again, and the fact that several new ones of promise have entered, hockey prospects look rather bright.

The fact that they were beaten out of the championship last year by Laval has not dampened the hopes of the local officers in the least, and when the ice forms again the garnet and gray seven will be ready to redeem themselves.

Leo Millar, a Kingston youth is one of the latest acquisition to the hockey outfit at the university, and with the addition of the above crack, the locals will be greatly strengthened. Millan was considered the fastest wing player in the junior O. H. L. last winter, and although only eighteen years of age, he created a lot of talk two seasons ago by his great work on the junior Frontenacs in Kingston.

THE "GOOD SPORT."

The Marquis of Queensberry is well qualified to speak of sportsmanship, since he comes from one of the most famous sporting families in the world and has shown by his own conduct that he can "play the game." Since arriving on this side he has been struck by the universal misapplication of the term "sport." He finds that nine-tenths of the men who are spoken of as "good old sports" are eminent drinkers or libertines, and he protests that the term should not be applied to them. There is nothing really sporting about "going on a tear" or "making a rough house," yet in the United States heroes of these exploits are called sports, and in consequence the Marquis believes that true sport and thoroughbred ideals have suffered. His own idea is that a man like Colonel Newcomb was a "good sport," and yet we are not informed that he was a notable bounder, with a tendency to "start something." To merit the term it is not necessary, in the view of the Marquis, that one should be either an athlete or a sporting character. A fine sense of honor, courage and patience under difficulties, and generosity are the essentials of the thoroughbred. In other words, a sport is a gentleman, and a gentleman is a sport, even though he never took part in any contest.

A Dangerous Adventure

Wm. Westlake, the man who crossed the English Channel on a plank a few years ago, has set off in a skiff with the declared intention of rowing round the world on it. He pulled across from Margate to Ostend in the beginning of September, and proceeded to Calais. He touched at Sangatte, and later was again on his way to Boulogne. Postcards illustrative of his daring adventures ensure him a small income, but about this he does not show much concern, for he uncomplainingly remarked that for 24 hours he had been without food. Passengers crossing to England by the afternoon boat obtained ample demonstration that Westlake's peculiar pastime was successful as, at all events, an adventurous undertakign.

Animal Love.

Mother love is universal, and there is no love like the mother love. Most of the high and lofty loving in this world is done by mothers. Apart from this the work of wooing falls to the male members of the family whether it be the human family or some one of the other animal tribes. We read how, ages ago, a Bulbul, or Oriental Nightingale, wooed a white rose until it blushed red, and that was the beginning of the red rose. The Spanish Cavalier stands out in the rain and serenades his "Dulce Mia" until there is a crick in his neck, while she sits sheltered in a window above.

The cackle of the loon may be a love song for all we know. Maybe that's what made him loony in the first place.

The wild moose bellows his passion across the lake, and as likely as not the answering call is from a bark horn in the hands of a hunter, luring him to death.

It seems a sizzling shame, but if you will take a Grand Trunk train and travel into the "Highlands of Ontario" you will find men doing that very thing: arguing, doubtless, that all is fair in love and war.

We are certain we can convince any one of the merits of the enterprise, and we want you to

It will only cost you two cents to secure maps, booklet, and full description of what we have to offer. The stock is being sold for the purpose of drilling the property. SPEND A WEEK AT ALGONQUIN.

The popularity of the Algonquin National Park, Ontario, has been pronounced this year, and it has been necessary to use at least 25 large tents as an auxiliary to the accommodation of the Highland Inn, at Algonquin National Park Station.

Most people return to their homes in the early part of September, but as this is one of the most delightful months in this territory, those who can make it convenient are advised to spend a week or two there. The hotel is also open all the winter and with the bracing air of this locality (1700 ft. above the sea) a most delightful sojourn can be spent even in the winter months.

A handsome illustrated booklet may be had on this territory upon application to Mr. A. E. Duff, Union Station, Toronto, Ont.

While out hunting with several of his companions on Thanksgiving Day George James, of 505 Sherbrooke street was the victim of a painful accident. One of the party stumbled over a stump and having his finger on the trigger of the gun, discharged it, with the result that George, who was standing nearby received the shot in his leg. When he was taken home, Drs. Young and Boucher were called. They extracted the bullet which had passed right through the bone. The boy is now doing nicely.

HOW $100 GREW TO $31620

The value and importance of any enterprise must be based on the profits and dividends it can earn. In this respect the Midway Maple Leaf Oil Company, Limited, is without a parallel in the line of investments.

It combines the attractive factors which are needed to make the perfect investment—viz., safety, large earning capacity and low cost of the stock at the start. It is not at all uncommon for oil stocks to begin at a few cents a share and jump to hundreds of dollars a share—sometimes thousands.

	Started at	Has Sold at
Central	10 cents	$2.10
Monte Cristo	10 cents	$4.00
Lucile	10 cents	$16.00
Silver Tip	25 cents	$4.00
San Francisco and McKittrick	40 cents	$28.00
Kern River	50 cents	$8.75
Peerless	50 cents	$8.75
Puente	$10.00	$150.00
Home	$10.00	$5000.00

This list, taken from San Francisco and Los Angeles Stock Exchange records, could be added to almost indefinitely.

Fortunes have been made from stock increases. stock is $200, YOUR YEARLY PROFIT ON AN INVESTMENT OF $300.

When we have ten wells sunk you can reasonably figure on AN ANNUAL PROFIT ON YOUR HOLDINGS OF $2000.

$2000 A YEAR. DOESN'T THIS APPEAL

Many a case could be cited similar to that of Richard Ellis, clerk in a store in Los Angeles, whose investment of $100 became worth $31,620 in a short time. There are hundreds of such cases in Los Angeles alone.

$2000.00 Profit a Year

Do you realize that stock in the Midway Maple Leaf Oil Company, Limited, at the present price of 30 cents a share is not merely the opportunity of the year—IT IS THE OPPORTUNITY OF A LIFETIME.

If you have $10, $50, $100 or $500 YOU SIMPLY CAN NOT AFFORD TO PASS IT UP.

If we develop only a 1000 barrel well of 26 gravity oil, this production alone will be sufficient to enable the corporation to pay a dividend of 20 per cent. and at the same time have sufficient capital to continue the drilling of wells.

1000 shares of stock at the present price of 30c costs only $300.

20 per cent. dividend on the par value of the TO YOU? Wouldn't you like to be coming up to this office every three months and getting your dividend cheque for $500?

Remember, too, that your stock holdings in Midway Maple Leaf, if you should want to sell them should be worth $18,000 or sixty times the amount of your original investment.

Consider These Facts

The Midway Maple Leaf Oil Company is working in proven gusher territory, the richest oil zone in the world, controlling 40 acres on one-eighth royalty, with the great advantage of the option to purchase at only $1250 per acre after oil is struck, and the ground must then be worth at least $5000 per acre. This means a clean profit of $150,000 over purchase price. It has been demonstrated completely by gushers on adjoining Standard and Honolulu ground, that this portion of the Midway field is not only the richest portion of the whole district, but that it produces the highest grade of oil found in the entire vicinity, and worth 80 per cent. more per barrel at the well.

THE POVERTY OF CHINA

So Poverty Stricken are Certain Classes that no Weed or Fungus Escapes the Gleaner.

"Nowhere can the student of man's struggle with his environment find a more wonderful spectacle than meets the eye from a certain seven-thousand-foot pass amid the great tangle of mountains in West China that give birth to the Han, the Wei, and the rivers that make famed Szechuen the 'Four-river province.' Except where steepness or rock-outcropping forbids, the slopes are cultivated from the valley of the Tung-ho right up to the summits, five thousand feet above.

"Were it not for an agriculture of incredible painstaking, the fertility of the soil would have been spent ages ago. In a low-lying region like Kiangsu, for example, the farmer digs an oblong settling-basin, into which every part of his farm drains. In the spring, from its bottom he scoops for fertiliser the rich deposit washed from his fields. It is true the overflow from his pond carries away some precious elements, but these he recovers by dredging the private canal that connects him with the main artery of the district.

"No natural resource is too trifling to be turned to account by the teeming population. The sea is raked and strained for edible plunder. Seaweed and kelp have a place in the larder. Great quantities of shell-fish, no bigger than one's finger-nail, are opened and made to yield a food that finds its way far inland. The fungus that springs up in the grass after a rain is eaten. Fried sweet potato-vines furnish the poor man's table. The roadside ditches are baled out for the sake of fishes no longer than one's finger. Great panniers of strawberries, half of them still green, are collected in the mountain ravines and offered in the markets. No weed or stalk escapes the bamboo rake of the autumnal fuel-gatherer. The grass-tufts on the rough slopes are dug up by the roots. The sickle reaps the grain close to the ground, for straw and chaff are needed to burn under the rice-kettle. The leaves of the trees are a crop to be carefully gathered. One never sees a rotting stump or a mossy log. Bundles of brush, carried miles on the human back, heat the brick-kiln and the potter's furnace. After the last trees have been taken, the far and forbidding heights are scaled by lads with axe and mattock to cut down or dig up the seedlings that, if left alone, would reclothe the devastated ridges.

The Moose and the Lilly Pad.

The moose's love for the lily pad that floats on the surface of the northern lakes make him appear reckless and unafraid. In summer, even in September, the fishermen often cut him off from the shore, drive him into deep water and have fun with him. Sometimes, when the moose reaches shoal water and gets his hind feet on the bottom, he has fun with the fisherman, smashes his canoe and makes him swim for his life.

However, after the shooting season opens the moose becomes more cautious.

There are thousands of moose around Lake Temagami. At North Bay you change from the Grand Trunk to the Temiskaming and Northern Ontario and get off at Temagami Station.

The Fort Garry.

The work of constructing the second of the Grand Trunk's System of palatial hotels has begun at Winnipeg. It has been definitely and finally decided that the Winnipeg hotel, which will be of the same style of architecture as the magnificent "Chateau Laurier" at Ottawa, shall be called "The Fort Garry."

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

THE COMFORT OF INDEPENDENCE ASSURED THE B. C. FRUIT GROWER

In British Columbia Fruit Growing is synonymous with Success. The fame of the five-acre fruit farms of the Fraser Valley is spreading to every corner of this continent. Already "Fruit" suggests the Pacific Coast, soon it will direct the thoughts instinctively to British Columbia, particularly to the lower Fraser River Valley.

FLESHERTON GARDENS, which I am now selling, is the cream of this Valley land. The soil is a rich deep chocolate, humous and friable, free from weeds, stones or stumps. Good roads lead to the property and two railways are ready to carry the fruit to market. The Chilliwack line of the B. C. Electric Railway CUTS THROUGH FLESHERTON GARDENS, and the Victoria, Vancouver and Eastern is only a few yards away. Over a dozen trains pass the property every day, and the traffic will increase in the immediate future.

BIG PROFITS IN FRUITS AND VEGETABLES.

Do you know that you can make immense profits in fruits, tubers and vegetables on the Coast? To-day last year's potatoes are selling at $70 a ton in Seattle, only a few miles from here. In Westminster and Vancouver the price is from $60 to $65 a ton. Cherries fetch 50c a pound and strawberries 25c a box. All other fruits are high in proportion. Remember these are NOT FANCY PRICES, but to-day's quotations. There is no difficulty in selling the fruit, for people here have the money and don't mind the price.

IT'S EASY TO SECURE THE LAND

I have placed FLESHERTON GARDENS on the market on very easy terms, $200 cash and the balance spread over several years. You can have your pick of these five acre farms at from $150 to $350 per acre. You cannot find a better investment anywhere; no matter how rosy other prospects may be, this one leads them all.

Sign this blank, and mail it to me NOW. I can tell you a great deal more about FLESHERTON GARDANS in a personal letter. It's to your advantage to get all the information you can.

Gas Distended His Stomach

Caused Palpitation and Prevented Sleep. When Health Was Gone, Cure Followed Use of "Nerviline."

"My last wish will be," writes Harry P. Pollard, a well-known boot and shoe traveller of Hartford, "that everyone with a bad stomach may learn as I did, before it's too late, that Nerviline is the one remedy to cure. Why, I was in mighty bad shape, my digestion was all wrong, and every night I would waken with a start and find my heart jumping like a threshing machine. This was caused by gas on my stomach pressing against my heart. When I started to use Nerviline I got better mighty fast. It is certainly a grand remedy for the travelling man, keeps your stomach in order, cures cramps, prevents lumbago or rheumatism, breaks up chest colds and sore throat—in fact there hasn't been an ache or pain inside or outside for the past two years that I haven't cured with Nerviline. Do you wonder I recommend it?"

TESTIMONIAL NO. 4890

For general household use Nerviline has no equal; it will cure the aches and ailments of the entire family—refuse anything but Nerviline. Large size bottle 50c, or sample size 25c. All dealers, or The Catarrhozone Co. Kingston, Ont.

Lindsay Warder: Mr. Harry Graham, of the firm of Graham & Mann, who are making the survey for the proposed line of electric road, left town this morning with a large gang of men to locate the line west of Lindsay. Mr. Graham's headquarters are at the Butler House, and will be until such time as the distance becomes too great to drive to work. This is the electric railway that is to run from Toronto to Orillia, via Peterborough and Lindsay.

No Ward System for Orillia.

A few years ago, Peterborough abolished the ward system, only to return to it again, the ratepayers finding the latter system more satisfactory. Other places do not appear to have this experience. Last week the citizens of Orillia voted on a by-law as to the composition of the town council. It was decided by a majority vote of 79 to retain the present system of six aldermen and Mayor, reeve, and deputy reeve instead of going back to the old ward system. Only two subdivisions voted a majority in favor of the ward system.

Purchases Western Land.

Stettler, Alberta, Nov. 7.—H. P. Kennedy, of Peterborough, is one of the principals in a syndicate that has purchased 839 acres of land just east of Edmonton. The price for the whole block of land is said to be $400,000. The deal has been spoken of as being one sure to make the buyers a lot of money as the influx into Edmonton district is perhaps the heaviest in the west.

Mr. Hodgson in the West.

Mr. Hodgson, the new principal of the Lethbridge High School, arrived from Peterborough on Monday and entered on his new duties yesterday morning. Miss Hutchison, who has been supplying until his arrival, will continue her duties for the remainder of the week, and it is expected that by that time Mr. Hodgson will have arranged the schedule for a three-teacher staff. The new principal was formerly science specialist in the Peterborough Collegiate Institute, and comes very highly recommended —Lethbridge Herald.

Ninety-Five Per Cent.

Ninety-five per cent. of the double liability call on the shareholders of the defunct Ontario Bank has been paid up. This fact was ascertained to-day and was regarded in prominent financial circles as a remarkable evidence of the honesty, courage and optimism of Canadian investors to-day. A total of one million two hundred and thirty thousand has been gathered in, and it is probably the most remarkable clean up in the history of banking liquidation. The bank's affairs are assuming such shape, too, that there may be a surplus when all is completed.

LITTLE LOCAL LINES

The concert advertised for Monday night, under the auspices of the District Orange Lodge, has been postponed until next Monday evening. The cause of this postponement was inclement weather.

How to "Shed" A Bad Complexion

It's foolish to attempt to cover up or hide a sallow complexion, when you can so easily remove the sallowness, or the complexion itself. Rouge and the like on a brownish skin, only emphasize the defect. The better way is to apply pure mercolized wax—the same as you would cold cream—putting it on at night, removing it in the morning with warm water and soap, following with a dash of cold water. The effect of a few applications is simply marvellous. The half dead cuticle is absorbed by the wax—painlessly, gradually, in tiny imperceptible particles—revealing the beautiful velvety white new skin beneath.

No woman need have a sallow, blotchy, pimply or freckled complexion if she'll just go to the druggist's get some good mercolized wax and use as suggested.—Woman's Realm.

NEW TRADE ORGANIZATION

The Canadian Laundryman, a trade journal, published in the interests of the Canadian laundry and allied trades, says:

"At last we are pleased to announce, on advice from Mr. L. J. Rumford, of Winnipeg, that Western launderers have succeeded in forming an Association in Winnipeg, under the name of the "Northwestern Canadian Laundrymen's Association," and have taken out a charter affiliating themselves with the Laundrymen's National Association of America. Mr. L. J. Rumford of Winnipeg, is secretary of the association.

"This Canadian Association is inaugurated under very promising auspices, with energetic and enterprising founders as its charter members. In its secretary, Mr. L. J. Rumford, the new organization has an intelligent and brainy officer who fully recognizes that the interests of the laundry trade lies in a union of its individual members for the welfare of the whole in general. . . . . .

"This commendable step taken by our Northwestern brethren should stimulate launderers in Central and Eastern Canada to follow suit. Let the whole of Canada be represented in either Provincial or Territorial Associations, which will eventually lead to affiliation with a Canadian "National" Association, and the consolidation of Canada's white laundry trade.

"The Charter members of the new trade organization are:—R. Looch, Northwest Laundry; C. E. Crocker, Modern Laundry; Wm. Nelson, Empress Laundry; W. B. Fraser, Beaver Soap Company; L. J. Rumford, Rumford Sanitary Laundry; all of Winnipeg, Manitoba. Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Plummer, Moose Jaw, Saskatchewan; H. S. Lewis, Fort William, Ont."

THE SPEED OF MOTOR CYCLES.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—I notice that motor cycles are becoming quite numerous in Peterborough, and I think that there should be some regulation provided by the council, giving the speed at which they are permitted to travel. The other day I was nearly knocked down by one, which was travelling at a very rapid rate.

Motor cyclists abuse their privileges when they speed their wheels at the rate of twenty miles and more an hour on city streets, as some of them often do. It may not be so dangerous to be struck by a speeding motor cycle as by a speeding motor car, but the jar would be likely to lay one up in the hospital.

I am sure it will only be necessary to call the attention of Chief Thompson to this matter to have a remedy supplied.

Pedestrian.

FREE SCHOOL LECTURES.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—I see in some places, teachers have arranged for Friday evening lectures to be delivered during the fall and winter months, for the benefit of the pupils of all city schools. These lectures, of course, are free. This would be a good example for Peterborough teachers to follow, and I therefore make bold to suggest it through the Times.

THREW INTO HAY STACK.

London, Ont., Nov. 6.—Allan Taylor, a prominent farmer residing near Dorchester, is in a very serious condition at his home as the result of an accident he met with on Friday.

He fell from an apple tree when a branch broke and fractured his arm. After having it set he was walking through the fields when a bull attacked him and hurled him fifteen feet. As he lay on the ground the animal again rushed upon him and threw him into a strawstack. His wife rushed from the house with a club and being joined by a little boy with a pitchfork and the family dog, succeeded in driving the bull away long enough to rescue Mr. Taylor. His internal injuries are so serious that it is not yet known whether he will recover.

VOL XXXIV NO 258 PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO, THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 9 1911 PRICE TWO CENTS

OBJECT TO SOME QUESTIONS IN THE MARRIAGE CASE

JUDGE LAURENDEAU REFUSES TO ACT IN CASE, AS HE ANNULLED THE MARRIAGE.

Appeal of the Wife—Evidence of the Plaintiff Heard in Secret—The Answers May be Ruled Out.

Montreal, Nov. 8.—A motion in the procedure with regard to the annulment of the Herbert marriage was called for this morning in the Practice Court by Mr. George V. Coosins attorney for Mary Emma Cloutre, who objected to the interrogation of his client as to the facts alleged in her opposition to the judgment, particularly the statements made by her that she had been induced by fraudulent representation not to put in a defence against the annulment proceedings.

The questions to which Mr. Cousins object are: "Is it not a fact that you were married to Eugene Herbert on the 14th of July, 1898, in the city of Montreal by a Protestant minister Mr. Timberlake? Is it not a fact that the bans of marriage as regulated by the Roman Catholic Church were never published? Is it not a fact that you were not induced by fraudulent means not to appear in defence of the annulment proceedings? Is it not a fact that Herbert never told you that you would be deprived of your children if you did not consent to the annulment of the marriage? Is it not a fact that you never put in a declaration in order to get your opposition received in the courts against the marriage?"

Judge Laurandeau declared he could not hear the case, as he had himself given the previous judgment. The case will come up before judge Charbonneau to-morrow morning.

After Judge Laurendeau's decision, that he could not hear it, the counsel and principals adjourned to the prothonotaries office, where Mrs. Herbert's testimony was taken, the lawyers agreeing that any portions of it might be objected to by her counsel to-morrow and might be ruled out by Judge Charbonneau.

SNOW STORM SWEEPS ALBERTA

Calgary, Alta., Nov. 8.—The snow storm from the north which struck Calgary last night and continued to-day will have a damaging effect on the wheat crop of the province, farmers say the fall was general and quite heavy.

A considerable quantity of wheat and oats is in the stook and this grain will deteriorate. Threshing operations will be delayed a week or ten days.

SHOULD SHORTEN THE HOURS.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—I see by the public press of Toronto that the shortening of the hours of sale over the bar might find a place in the new Liberal policy for Ontario. Undoubtedly this is a move in the right direction and will come with the great weight of public sentiment behind it, just as soon as the Liberal party takes it up. Cutting off the hotel bars on public holidays and closing them at 7 o'clock p.m. during the week and 12 o'clock on Saturdays would cut into the liquor trade tremendously. This step has already been advocated by temperance leaders.

I would like to have Mr. R. R. Hall's opinion on the above.

Elector.

A GOOD IDEA.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—I see that it has been suggested by some of the leading members of the Orange Order that that body purchase large tracts of land in Northern Ontario to start Orange settlements. I would bring only emigrants from the Old Land to place on such settlements. This would offset the exclusively French settlements that are being planted in that district by the Catholic Church of Quebec. Indeed, if the Orange Order is alive to its own interests, it will not only work along these lines in New Ontario, but will also secure tracts of land in the Western Provinces, to be settled in the same manner, and with the same class of people.

The trouble is that we do not appear to have men of action who are capable of undertaking and carrying such a scheme through.

—Protestant Canada.

REGISTRATION FOR THE ONTARIO ELECTIONS.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—As many of my fellow countrymen are readers of your paper, I would be thankful if you would publish the following, as I believe some are not fully cognizant of the election laws of Canada.

To My Fellow Countrymen :—

I want you all to bear in mind gentlemen, that it is absolutely necessary for you to register your names again in order to be able to record your vote in the coming Provincial Election. The reason for that is that the Dominion Election Registration does not cover the Legislative Elections, the Provincial registration would cover the Dominion, but as the Dominion election came first, you all must register again, or you will not be able to vote on Dec. 11th. Another fact I wish to impress very strongly upon you all is that all those who have been in Canada 12 months and resided in this city for 3 months at the time of registration, will be able to have a vote, if they register. Some of you had not been quite the time in Canada to claim a vote in the last election, but you will be able to vote this time alright. See that all who are interested know this. As to my vote it goes for Mr. Peck. Mr. Peck is an honorable and clean candidate. He is against bi-lingual schools and as an Englishman he wants to see the English language the one language taught in our schools. Our mother tongue must prevail. The English Union Jack and the English tongue is what all loyal Canadians and Britishers must maintain. Mr. Peck is the man who will vote for us in this matter. Therefore, Mr. Peck is our candidate. He is also an Englishman by birth.

"ON TO ENGLAND" SAYS COL. HON. SAM HUGHES

Ottawa, Nov. 8.—Hon. Sam. Hughes is evidently determined to add an aerial corps to the strength of the Canadian militia. Not satisfied with the results of the recent investigations at Atlantic City of the experiments by the United States Army, the Minister of Militia now proposes to send Canadian officers to England to study the progress which has been made by the War Office in the art of military operations in the air, and upon their report will depend the decision as to the form which Canada's new corps shall take.

MR. BALFOUR RESIGNS LEADERSHIP OF UNIONIST PARTY IN GREAT BRITAIN

London, Nov. 8.—A. J. Balfour has resigned the leadership of the opposition.

Throughout the day there had been rumors in the lobby of the House of Commons that Mr. Balfour had decided to retire from his position as chief of the Unionist party in consequence of the divergency of view regarding the efficacy of his leadership.

This afternoon his purpose was definitely and officially confirmed.

CAUSED SURPRISE.

The news of Mr. Balfour's resignation caused the utmost surprise and in some quarters consternation. The Unionists do not attempt to disguise the seriousness of the loss of one who is admittedly the greatest asset of the party.

It is understood that Mr. Balfour's decision is unalterable. He advances the state of his health as the possible reason for his withdrawal from leadership, but there is no doubt that the bickerings in the party ranks was the primary cause. He will remain in Parliament representing the City of London.

POSSIBLE SUCCESSORS.

The choice of a successor to Mr. Balfour seems to be between J. Austin Chamberlain and Walter Hume Long. The former is the Liberal-Unionist member for East Worcestershire and for some time has been mentioned by the opponents of Balfour as his possible successor. Long represents the Strand.

THE REBELS WERE REPULSED

ONG HUNDRED KILLED IN FIGHT YESTERDAY AT NANKING.

Manchus Entrenched—Commander of Imperial Troops Refuses All Demands Made by the Advancing Rebels.

Nanking, China, Nov. 8.—The people of this ancient city of China, who had clung to the hope of a settlement without bloodshed, of the civil difficulties, were awakened early to-day by the sounds of heavy firing. The long-dreaded attack by the revolutionists had begun.

The final word from the Manchu general in command of the Imperial troops occupying the heights of Purple Mountain, which overlooks the town, was a refusal of all the demands made by the reformers.

Several thousand new troops attacked this stronghold with rifles and field guns, but were repulsed with the loss of more than one hundred killed.

They are now occupying the lower ground and are prepared to renew the assault.

The Manchus are strongly entrenched and well armed, while the reformers are short of ammunition. The struggle is likely to be prolonged, though it is reported there is much disaffection among the Imperial troops. Several thousand Manchus out of a garrison of 10,000 have left the city on a pretext of joining the loyal army in the north.

ONE MORE ADDED TO THE GREAT ARMY

WHO ARE SHOUTING THE PRAISES OF DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS

Chiswick man's Kidney Trouble developed into Rheumatism, and finally into Diabetes—Story of his complete cure.

Chiswick, Ont., Nov. 8.—(Special)—Rheumatism, which developed into Diabetes, had made life a burden to Octave Labracque of this place. Dodd's Kidney Pills cured him and he is added to that great army of Canadians who glory in telling their neighbors that Dodd's Kidney Pills are the one sure remedy for all kidney ills.

"My limbs would swell and I had a dragging sensation across the loins," Mr. Labracque says, in giving his experience. "I could not attend to my work properly as I had to keep resting and I was troubled with rheumatism, and my troubles finally developed into Diabetes.

"I tried different medicines and doctors but got little relief till I began to use Dodd's Kidney Pills. Ten boxes made a new man of me."

All Mr. Labracque's troubles came from diseased kidneys. They speedily ceased when he commenced to use the one sure cure for diseased kidneys—Dodd's Kidney Pills.

BRITAIN NOW READY FOR FISCAL CHANGE

London, Nov. 8.—Mr. Joseph Chamberlain, writing to the annual meeting of the Tariff League to-day says:

The tariff party never met at a more critical time than the present. Not only has the recent election in Canada thrown a strong light on the present situation, but the Lancaster meetings have proved that a great change has taken place in this country which I confidently believe is fully prepared for the great alteration of our fiscal system.

MOTHER FALLS DEAD AT SIDE OF INJURED SON IN HOSPITAL

Toronto, Nov. 8.—Without the faintest idea that the place where her son was being cared for was to be her death place, Mrs. William Barnes of No. 9 Hook avenue, visited him at the Western Hospital last night. The circumstances surrounding the death of this unfortunate woman are pathetic in the extreme. Over a month ago, her son, a young man not yet 30 years of age, had both legs cut off by an engine in West Toronto. The young man was taken to the Western Hospital and ever since, his mother has been almost a daily visitor at his bedside.

About 7.15 last night, she came in as usual. While but a few feet away from the bedside, she greeted her son but immediately afterwards swayed, unsteadily on her feet for a moment and fell headlong to the floor. Several people rushed to her assistance and it was thought that she had only fainted, but when picked up she was found to be dead.

Evidently the worry and strain of the last few weeks had been too much for her. Death apparently was due to heart failure.

CUPID HARASSES THIS CHURCH

Niagara Falls, Ont., Nov. 8.—Because of the large number of its members who have been married during the past year, the choir of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, this city, is now known as the "Matrimonial Choir." Five members have either lead or have been lead to the Hymenial altar during the year. The reputation of the choir has now spread to St. Dahid's, St. Catharines and Stamford, applications from young men and women from these places having been received, asking that they be given places in the choir.

PROHIBITION WON IN MAINE BY 758 VOTES

Portland, Me., Nov. 7.—The following expression on the result of the constitutional prohibition elections in Maine, announced by the Governor and Council last night as 758 against repeal, was received by telegraph to-day from Mrs. L. M. N. Stevens, National President of the W.C.T.U. from the National headquarters in Evanston, Ill.

"Despatch regarding Maine prohibition brings rejoicing to multitudes of hearts and homes."

MAROONED IN SIBERIA

Nome, Alaska, Nov. 7.—John Johnston, the famous dog team driver is marooned on the Siberian coast. He crossed over early in the fall to get Siberian dogs to enter in next year's All-Alaska Sweepstake Race. Ice moving down from the Arctic drove away the boat on which he expected to return. Johnston's boat arrived here to-day with news of his plight. He will be unable to get back to Nome this winter. Johnston is one of the most noted drivers in the north. Driving James Ramsay's team of Siberian wolves he won the sweepstakes in 1910 and established the record of 74 hours, 10 minutes and 20 seconds for the 412 miles course.

MINISTERIAL PRODIGALITY ?

Could a Layman "Survive" on Figures Such as These ?

Toronto, Nov. 7.—It is stated that one minister in the Toronto Conference of the Methodist Church has received $141.62 by way of salary from his congregation for the present conference year, so far, that is from the 1st of May. And that is in a rich farming community.

Another man, also in the Toronto conference and in a prosperous farming neighborhood, received $33 for the quarter-year ending the 1st of November. He had been obliged to borrow money to meet his current expenses, but the $33 was not sufficient to repay the loan.

DROPPED LETTER FROM NAME, AND LOST $1,000

St. Catharines, Ont., Nov. 8.—The police are looking for Max Katz, who started credit house furnishing business here some time ago. In August the Dominion Government sent a cheque for $1,000 to J. H. Kratz of Vineland, near here. The cheque represented a tender deposit which Kratz had sent in connection with a Government contract. The letter "R" was left out of the name, which was written Katz instead of Kratz. Katz was given the letter containing the cheque at the post office. He deposited it in the bank to his own credit, apparently, and when he sold out recently withdrew all money to his credit and left town. The question, now, is who will lose the $1,000? Kratz says he won't, because he was not to blame for the mistake by a Government employe, so it rests between the Department of Public Works, which made the mistake in the name, and the Post Office Department, which delivered the letter to the wrong man. Chief of Police Greene said this morning that he had as yet failed to locate Katz.

QUEBEC AFTER BRITISH CASH

Are Looking to England for Financial Help

Many Settlers Going to Western Canada, Attracted by Quebec, Often Settle in that Province—Great Growth in Financial Relations Between Montreal and London.

London, Nov. 7.—The arrival in England of Lieutenant-Colonel J. P. Pelletier, Quebec commissioner to England, who is to represent his province in London, and Major Benyon, the assistant commissioner, is an event of far-reaching importance to the province which contains the largest city in Canada and which up to the present has had no official representative here. This leaves only the three prairie provinces without direct representatives. The high office which the commissioner held in this province will have given him an intimate grasp of its resources and ensure efficient representation. It is recognized that, although not directly represented, Quebec has hitherto benefited greatly by the work done by the other provinces. Large numbers of settlers who have been attracted to Canada through the publicity work done by provincial offices have on arrival in Quebec become acquainted with the attractions of the province and have settled there.

Trade Relations.

"The great growth in the financial relations between Montreal and London and the increasing volume of business, as well as the fact that Quebec was the only eastern province with no official representative in London, made it imperative that this condition should be altered," said a Montreal financier recently.

Window Display.

Col. Pelletier is staying at the Hotel Victoria, and in conversation with a correspondent said that within a week or two he hoped to secure ground floor offices where a suitable window display of the fruit, mineral and other products of the province could be made. He believes that there is plenty of British capital and not a few settlers to be obtained here for Quebec.

"We have more untouched resources than the West," he said, "and more ready-made markets for mixed farming. Too long have we neglected our opportunity in the English money and labor markets."

FINED $25.

For Supplying a Blacklister With Liquor—Police Court Doings.

At the police court yesterday morning Alex Yorkston pleaded guilty to supplying liquor to Floyd McMaster, a blacklister. His Worship imposed the minimum fine of $25 for violation of liquor license act. Yorkston was allowed 20 days in which to procure the cash, but pleaded that he could not pay within the time allowed. He has but recently recovered from an attack of the fever and has a wife and family dependent on him. He will probably go to jail. The maximum fine for this offence is $50.

Percy Parkinson, who acknowledged that he had put aside $2 with which to pay the expected fine, preparatory to going on a drunk, pleaded guilty to a charge of drunk and disorderly, and handed over the $2.

A milk dealer appeared in answer to a charge that he had abused his wife on the night of the 30th, while under the influence of liquor, and the night in question he frantically waved a razor, threatened to shoot himself and during a series of crazy gyrations incidentally struck his wife twice in the face. He appeared very penitent and remembered nothing of his frenzied episode. His Worship administered a little fatherly advice and dismissed the case.

A SURPRISE IN STORE.

Several subscribers to "The Family Herald and Weekly Star" in this district have received their copy of the beautiful premium picture entitled, "Home Again." A copy has also reached this office. It certainly surpasses any picture ever given by that great paper before. How such a beautiful work of art, all ready for framing, can be included with such a great family paper for the small sum of one dollar a year is a mystery. "The Family Herald and Weekly Star" should add thousands of new subscribers this season. They well deserve it, for no such value has ever before been given. There is a big surprise in store for those who receive the picture "Home Again."

MAKING GOOD.

A Peterborough Boy Receives An Important Appointment in West.

Mr. Bert Canniff, at one time connected with this paper, and who has until recently held down in a highly satisfactory manner the city editor's chair of the Berlin News Record, is spending a few days with his parents in this city preparatory for leaving for Calgary, Alta., where he has accepted the position of managing editor of the Western Canada Publishing Co. On severing his connection with the Berlin News Record, Mr. Canniff was presented with a fountain pen, accompanied by an eulogistic address, replete with hearty good wishes. The boys of the Bankers' Home, Waterloo, presented Mr. Canniff with a valuable pipe.

THE CANADA NATIONAL FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY

was incorporated by Special Act of the Parliament of Canada for the purpose of carrying on the business of Fire Insurance, as outlined in the Insurance Act and the Special Act of Incorporation.

Capital Stock Authorized by the Board.....$2,000,000
Capital Stock Subscribed to date.....$1,650,000

The Head Office of the Company is in the city of Winnipeg, and, in addition to this, Branch Offices and Agencies will be established throughout the Dominion.

It must be generally conceded that, owing to the satisfactory conditions at present prevailing throughout not only Western Canada, but the entire Dominion, this Company is being organized at a most favorable and opportune time.

Canada, and particularly the Western portion of the Dominion, is advancing in population and wealth more rapidly than at any other time in its history, and every indication points towards a period of great prosperity and development.

The great influx of settlers into Western Canada is resulting in tremendous activity in every line of business. Railroad construction is proceeding on a scale hitherto unknown in this country, and as adequate transportation is of vital importance in moving our immense crops with a proper degree of facility, it is highly encouraging to see so much well-directed energy along the lines of railway extension.

Coincident with railway expansion, we find many new districts rapidly filling up with desirable settlers, bringing with them a good supply of cash and effects. With the settlement of the rural districts, new towns and villages are springing up, which will, during the next few years, become, in many instances, important business centres.

With such unprecedented growth in Western as well as Eastern Canada, involving an expenditure of millions of dollars in building operations, it is at once evident that there is a very extensive and profitable field for a new Fire Insurance Company which will have a thorough organization throughout the length and breadth of the Dominion, and more particularly in the four Western Provinces.

As a great volume of our business will be transacted in the West, it is a matter of the greatest importance that the Head Office of the Company, as well as the Directors, should be located in the West, so that the affairs of the Company may be conducted to the best possible advantage.

DIRECTORS.

The Board of Directors consists entirely of Western men with a very intimate knowledge of Western conditions, and they are, accordingly, well conversant with the financial and general business requirements of the West. They are thoroughly representative of the various important branches of financial, commercial, industrial and professional life in Western Canada, and with their wide reputation for business ability and integrity, as well as financial standing, combined with a long and varied experience, and practical knowledge of business affairs, they are exceptionally well qualified to render excellent service to a large financial institution.

As the Directors have valuable connections with extensive business interests and are also Directors of other financial corporations, as well as being otherwise identified with large and influential companies which control a great deal of high-grade fire insurance, they will be instrumental in placing a large portion of this desirable insurance with the new Company, so that we may safely conclude that from the very beginning of operations a large and profitable business will be secured.

Under these favorable conditions, and with a strong, energetic, as well as experienced and conservative management, combined with the fact that each Director has subscribed for eleven thousand five hundred dollars ($11,500) of the Capital Stock, on which all calls have been paid, and takes an active interest in the welfare of the Company, there is only one conclusion to draw, and that is that the affairs of the Company will be conducted in such a careful, conscientious and intelligent manner that the interests of both policyholders and stockholders will be fully protected.

IT IS WORTHY OF NOTE THAT $1,650,000 OF CAPITAL STOCK HAS ALREADY BEEN SUBSCRIBED BY PROMINENT BUSINESS AND PROFESSIONAL MEN THROUGHOUT THE DOMINION AND ELSEWHERE.

No commission has been paid to anyone for securing stock subscriptions, and no expense has been incurred in the promotion and organization of the Company, except the expense in connection with securing the Charter and other necessary expenses.

THE CANADA NATIONAL FIRE.

The Canada National Fire, being organized in the West, MAY BE TRULY CALLED A WESTERN COMPANY, and, as such, should receive the liberal patronage and hearty co-operation of the citizens of Western Canada, as well as the support of people from Eastern Canada who desire to become associated with a strong and progressive Canadian Company.

When promoting this Company the Directors were fully convinced that there was a splendid opening in Western Canada for a Company prepared to carry on the business of Fire Insurance on a large and comprehensive scale, and which, at the same time, could offer ADEQUATE PROTECTION TO BOTH POLICYHOLDERS AND SHAREHOLDERS. Accordingly, when making application for a Dominion charter, the Company was incorporated with a capital of $3,000,000.00, of which amount the Directors decided to offer for public subscription the sum of $2,000,000.00.

THE ALL-IMPORTANT FEATURE IN FIRE INSURANCE IS PROTECTION, and with the LARGE CAPITAL, combined with the high standard of Reserve, which will be maintained through careful selection of risks and profits from judicious investments, the Directors and Management feel confident that this Company will be accorded a very hearty reception by Canadian citizens, and will soon rank as one of the leading Fire Companies.

WITHOUT A LARGE AND SUBSTANTIAL CAPITAL FOR THE PROTECTION OF THE POLICYHOLDERS, A FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY IS SERIOUSLY HANDICAPPED, AND DOES NOT AFFORD THE POLICYHOLDER THAT PROTECTION TO WHICH HE IS JUSTLY ENTITLED, and the Directors of this Company, being fully aware of this most important fact, are adopting a very wise policy in OFFERING FOR SUBSCRIPTION SUCH A LARGE AMOUNT OF CAPITAL STOCK, and when our entire stock is subscribed and paid in full it will represent the largest amount of subscribed and paid-up capital of any Canadian Fire Insurance Company, and will be a tower of strength and of very material benefit to the company in carrying on its extensive operations.

GENERAL AGENT FOR CANADA

W. E. FUDGER, ESQ.

It shall be the policy of the Company to use the UTMOST DISCRETION in the selection of desirable risks, and, at the same time, to so widely distribute its business that any danger arising from a possible conflagration at any point may be reduced to a minimum.

The investment of the Company's funds will be given the GREATEST OF CARE AND ATTENTION by the Board of Directors.

Only GILT-EDGE securities will be considered, such as first mortgages on improved, productive real estate, stocks, bonds and debentures of companies of high repute, as well as Dominion securities and municipal, county and school debentures of well-established districts.

As a LARGE PERCENTAGE of these securities is READILY NEGOTIABLE, the Company will have abundant LIQUID ASSETS to meet any possible contingency that might arise.

Our first mortgage investments will be confined to Western Canada, and as the rate of interest obtainable on first-class productive real estate is FULLY TWO PER CENT. greater in the West than in Eastern Canada, the Company will have a DECIDED ADVANTAGE over Companies operating exclusively in the older portions of the Dominion. A fixed policy of the Company is to loan NOT MORE THAN FIFTY PER CENT. of a conservative value of the property, and to stipulate for a definite return of principal, together with interest, each year during the term of the loan. With these periodical repayments of principal, and with land values in Western Canada steadily increasing, the Company's first mortgage securities will continue to improve year by year.

With the active development in Western Canada, a great deal of capital will be required for many years to come, and the Company will, therefore, experience a very ready demand for its funds on high-grade securities and at a profitable rate of interest.

The Directors decided to issue the stock at the price of ONE HUNDRED AND FIFTEEN DOLLARS PER SHARE, being at a premium of fifteen per cent.

THE TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION ARE:

On application, $25.00 per share, which shall include the premium of $15.00 per share, and the balance, payable in ten consecutive half-yearly instalments of $9.00 per share, the first of such half-yearly instalments to become due and payable six months from date of allotment of shares.

Shares may be PAID IN FULL at time of subscription, but if purchased on the INSTALMENT PLAN the subscriber shall have the privilege of paying any or all of the instalments prior to due dates.

The Following Table Shows the Amount of First Call as Well as the Subsequent Payments:

NO BONUS STOCK shall be issued for any purpose whatsoever, and even the Directors, who are very heavy stockholders in the Company, have paid the SAME PRICE for their shares as the general public. NOT ONE SHARE has been or will be issued to any person at a price less than $115.00 per share.

THIS IS A RARE OPPORTUNITY to secure some of the Capital Stock of a Western Fire Insurance Company. With a large amount of desirable and profitable business so readily obtainable by the Company through its valuable and extensive business connections, rapid progress should be made, and with investments carefully selected and unexcelled in earning power, the Company will be enabled to not only pay substantial dividends, but build up a large reserve, and thereby materially increase the value of the stock.

The Directors firmly believe in the policy that EVERY SHAREHOLDER SHOULD CO-OPERATE WITH THE MANAGEMENT of a Company and take an active interest in its welfare. For that reason, it is their intention to WIDELY DISTRIBUTE the CAPITAL STOCK, and by that means obtain the support of the leading business and professional men throughout the country.

With the rapid development of the West during recent years, involving an outlay of many millions of capital, it has become generally recognized that WESTERN CANADA IS VERY MUCH IN NEED OF MORE LARGE FINANCIAL INSTITUTIONS, AND ESPECIALLY OF WESTERN ORIGIN, to properly meet the growing requirements of the West, and to not only improve the present financial situation, but to materially assist in retaining, as much as possible, desirable business, with its resultant profits, within our own Western borders.

The business of fire insurance has now grown to such large proportions that it has become a very important factor in the financial and commercial world, and as its scope and influence is so general and widespread it is only natural to find that the question of AMPLE PROTECTION TO POLICYHOLDERS, which is the PRIMARY FUNCTION OF FIRE INSURANCE COMPANIES, should be so GENERALLY DISCUSSED AT THE PRESENT TIME.

This important subject has given rise to a very STRONG FEELING in Western Canada that the TIME HAS NOW ARRIVED when the Western people should organize a Fire Insurance Company of such strength and proportions that it will soon rank as one of the leading fire companies of America, and command general respect and confidence, which is so ESSENTIAL to a company that solicits the support and patronage of all classes of the community.

The Directors have every confidence that they will receive the hearty co-operation of not only Western citizens, but of people from every part of the Dominion, to build up a GREAT fire insurance company with AMPLE PROTECTION for the people, and which will be a source of pride and credit to our country.

The following Canadian Government Insurance statistics should prove of ESPECIAL INTEREST:

In the year 1880 the total amount of fire premiums collected in Canada was $1,785,539.00, whereas in the year 1909 the total premiums charged amounted to the large sum of $32,293,633.26, and of this amount $6,561,844.41 was charged by Canadian Companies, $11,518,267.45 by British Companies, and $4,223,721.39 by American Companies.

During the last forty-one years the aggregate amount of fire insurance premiums collected in Canada reached the immense total of $280,740,466.00, of which the large sum of $218,310,047.00 represents the amount of fire premiums collected by FOREIGN COUNTRIES, and which, therefore, was taken out of the country to build up foreign companies and enrich foreign shareholders.

Notwithstanding that a considerable portion of the fire premiums collected in Canada by Foreign Companies has been repaid to Canadian policyholders, through fire losses, it must be evident that the larger the proportion of Canadian fire insurance that is placed with Canadian Companies, the larger is the amount of capital retained in the Dominion and always available for investment purposes, to build up our Canadian financial institutions, and thereby add to the general wealth and prosperity of our country.

The above figures are most significant and clearly demonstrate that while the CANADIAN FIRE COMPANIES have been doing a satisfactory business they HAVE SECURED only a SMALL portion of the Fire Insurance transacted in Canada, or, to be more exact, ONLY TWENTY-TWO PER CENT. of THE TOTAL FIRE INSURANCE WRITTEN IN CANADA, covering a period of the last forty-one years. With the extraordinary progress which Canada has been making during recent years, the field for financial institutions has become so widely extended that there is a CONSTANTLY INCREASING DEMAND for new large financial corporations.

By further reference to our Government statistics it will be observed that at December 31st, 1909, the total number of Canadian Fire Companies operating under Dominion charter was ONLY TWENTY-ONE, and of this number ONLY TWO HAD A PAID-UP CAPITAL IN EXCESS OF $500,000.

In promoting this large Canadian Company the Directors are fully confident that the new organization will, with characteristic Western energy and enterprise, soon come to be recognized as an important factor in the insurance world, and as The Canada National Fire will be instrumental in RETAINING WITHIN THE BOUNDARIES OF CANADA a large amount of money which would otherwise be taken out of the country to build up foreign corporations the people of the growing Dominion will readily see the advisability of giving this Company their MORAL AND FINANCIAL SUPPORT, in order that we may build up a STRONG and VIGOROUS Company which will prove a valuable acquisition to our Canadian monetary institutions.

This is the last opportunity to secure, direct from the Company, some of this desirable stock.

It is worthy of special note that the demand for the stock has exceeded the Directors' most sanguine expectations; in fact, of the $2,000,000 of stock to be issued, $1,650,000 has already been subscribed, and, from present indications, with the large number of applications for stock being received daily, the Directors are confident that the balance of the issue, which is now only $350,000, will be subscribed by August 26th, 1911, the date appointed for the closing of stock subscriptions.

For this reason, the Directors strongly recommend the investing public to mail their applications for stock at their earliest possible opportunity.

Subscribers are requested to kindly fill in attached application form, stating name in full, number of shares desired, occupation and address, and mail the application, along with the first call of Twenty-five Dollars ($25.00) per share on the stock, direct to the Head Office of the Company, Winnipeg, Man., or, if so desired, application may be made for the stock at any of the Company's Branch Offices or at any Branch of the Royal or Imperial Banks, where application blanks and any additional information will be readily furnished. Applications for stock will be considered in the order received, and on approval of the same by the Board of Directors a certificate for the number of shares subscribed will be issued and mailed the shareholders forthwith. Cheques, Drafts, Money Orders or other remittances on account of stock subscriptions should be made payable to The Canada National Fire Insurance Company.

KING EDWARD VACUM CLEANER

You cannot clean carpets, rugs and furniture by beating. If you think you have, just try a KING EDWARD VACUUM CLEANER and you will find the article full of dust, which breeds disease.

The KING EDWARD HAND MACHINE has no equal as compared with other hand machines. It is lighter to operate and its suction is much stronger. Its suction is stronger than many of the power machines, and the dusting is done away with. On account of the short stroke one person can operate it on carpets and rugs equally as well as two, and it is about half the weight of other hand machines to carry up and down stairs or from one room to another. It is sold for less money than any of the hand machines. All machines are guaranteed.

STRUCK DUMB WITH AMAZEMENT

Mr. A. O. Wheeler, F.R.G.S., Director of the Alpine Club of Canada, has just returned to Vancouver from a summer spent in the Canadian Rockies in the vicinity of the Yellowhead Pass, and is greatly impressed with his trip.

In an interview with Mr. Wheeler, he stated: "It has been the general impression that the Rocky Mountains of Canada attain their greatest average height not very far north of the boundary line. True, of late years much has been heard of Mount Robson, which dominates the region of the Yellowhead Pass, but the popular notion was that there was nothing else in the neighborhood worth seeing, and that the Grand Trunk Pacific would pass through a region of little interest from the point of view of the tourist or mountaineer.

"There was no mistake about Mount Robson. It is without doubt, as was stated by one of the most travelled and skilled mountaineers of the day, Dr. Norman Collie, one of the most magnificent mountains in the world, whether seen from the south,—the view that is most familon all sides were found mighty snowfiar, or from beautiful Berg Lake, it still stands supreme. In the hundred peaks, widespread snowfields, red-mile circuit of the great massif huge ice-falls, rushing torrents, waterfalls, flower-clad meadows and vast stretches of dark pine forest. Many of the peaks were named by the surveyors, but they are legion, and it will be many years before they are unofficially known as individual mountains."

In speaking of the Robson Glacier, which lies on the east side of this monstrous mountain, Mr. Wheeler said: "It struck us dumb with amazement that anything so stupendous, so superb, so undreamed of, should exist. At our feet flowed the great river of ice, every crevasse, every moraine, every icefall, clearly portrayed. Directly opposite rose the massif, its outline clear from base to summit for fully 8,000 feet. From the beautiful meadows at the head of Resplendent Valley twenty-five peaks were counted, all unknown and unnamed. And lakes, which perhaps lend the most characteristic charm to Canadian mountain scenery, were everywhere."

At the summit of the Yellowhead Pass Mr. Wheeler's party erected a monument defining the boundary between Alberta and British Columbia at the intersection of the Great Divide. On the huge post set up, which is surrounded with a big stone mound are carved the words: "British Columbia on the west face; Alberta on the east face; and on the south 3,727.9⅝ feet, being the altitude of the summit at the point where the post is set."

Clearing of right-of-way on the uncompleted gap of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway from Tete Jaune Cache westward to Aldermere in Bulkley Valley, was started a few weeks ago by the contractors, Messrs. Foley, Welch & Stewart. Operations thus far are restricted to the route along the south fork of the Fraser between the Cache and Fort George.

An Interesting Booklet.

The Times is in receipt of a very interesting booklet dealing with the Maritime Provinces as a promising field for those who desire to establish new industries, or to profitably invest capital in the exploitation and development of natural resources. The obvious advantages of many parts of New Brunswick and Nova Scotia are ably presented in detail, together with many cheerful facts that ought to impress those who have capital ready to invest in a new field that is certainly rich in opportunity. It is commendable that while the eyes of the world are upon Canada, and thousands of new settlers are pouring into the West from many countries, an honest effort is being made to point out the advantages that exist in the east. The booklet will be mailed free to those who write the Industrial Department Intercolonial Railway, Moncton, N. B.

Present Disadvantages of Canadian Farmers.

At present the United States farmers have a great advantage over us. It costs 25c a bushel to send wheat into the United States. They can send their wheat into Canada for 12c a bushel, with rebate of 99 per cent. of duty when ground in bond. It costs us 30c to send a bushel of barley to the United States. They can ship barley into Canada for 15c. If we want to ship beans into the United States we have to pay 45c a bushel duty. The beans can come into Canada for 22c. They charge us 25c a bushel on the apples we send them. We charge them only 40c a barrel on what they send us. They charge us $4 a ton on the hay we send them. We charge them $2. They charge us 6c a pound on cheese, we charge them 3c. Thus it is with almost every farm product.

Under reciprocity these disadvantages will be wiped out, and we will be able to deal with them on an equal basis. Is not this worth while?

Home for Christmas

The Steamship Lines are expecting a large home-going exodus for the holiday season this year, and are making extensive preparations to take care of all of those who are planning to visit the Old Country.

The White Star-Dominion Line has arranged for three special Christmas sailings, viz. the "Canada" December 2nd, "Megantic" December 9th, and "Teutonic" December 14th, from Portland, Me., and Halifax, N. S., to take care of these passengers. These steamers will arrive in ample time to enable passengers to reach their homes before Christmas whether in England or on the Continent.

The railways have recognized the growing popularity of these annual Christmas excursions and now run special trains from Montreal and the west to connect with the steamers, and the most complete arrangements are made by both the steamship companies and the rail lines to further the comfort of the homeward bound ones during the holiday season.

Grand Trunk Opening New Territory

The new territory in the Canadian Rocky Mountains that is being opened up by the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway has already become the Mecca for a number of Alpine Climbers and those who love to get away from the turmoil of the busy city and explore mountain fastnesses that are practically unknown. Some of the travellers who have gone into this Yellow Head Pass territory are now returning, and one gentleman writes to the Grand Trunk Pacific Headquarters as follows:—"Lake Maligne is a beautiful lake between 16 and 18 miles long. I have visited all the other transcontinental lines both in Canada and the United States, and there is no lake or district along any of these lines that can compare with the Lake Maligne country. Some of the mountains around the lake are in the neighborhood of 12,000 feet.

Lake Maligne is reached from Henry House a few miles west of Pittsburgh, the Second Divisional point, and covered with ice fields which make them very beautiful."

Spruce for British Admiralty

The British Admiralty has recently placed an order for 200,000 feet of white spruce to be used in the manufacture of oars for the rowboats of warships. It is perhaps not generally known that the superior quality of the white spruce grown in the Queen Charlotte Islands, off the coast of British Columbia, was discovered years ago by British naval officers of the North Pacific station. The kind of timber was found to be ideally adapted for making oars, and it is now used exclusively for that purpose by His Majesty's vessels throughout the world. The timber will be shipped east by the Canadian Pacific Railway.

Light from Sugar

This phenomenon, the cause of which has not yet been satisfactorily explained, may be observed when discs of loaf sugar are mounted on a lathe and rapidly rotated while a hammer plays lightly against them. An almost continuous radiation of light may be thus produced from the sugar. It has been shown that the light does not arise from heating of the sugar, and it is believed to be caused by some change taking place in the sugar crystals. The act of crystallisation is known to be sometimes accompanied by flashes of light. The practical bearing of these experiments is on the question of the possibility of obtaining artificial light by methods as yet untried.

GIVE UP BURROWING

Rabbit is Giving Up Digging Earth-Homes, and Begins Nesting Above Ground.

German natural historical periodicals are calling attention to an interesting change in the habits of wild rabbits, especially in the western parts of Germany. The animals in question are giving up their ancient habit of burrowing, and have commenced in great part to imitate the hares, which, as is well known, nest only above ground. The hares themselves were once burrowers, and gradually went through the same change in habits in this particular that appears to characterize the rabbits at the present day — at any rate in Germany. In woods where the undergrowth is thick, and which are therefore especially suitable to the rabbits, they find hiding places in plenty for their nests; and even in open country, unwooded — and the rabbit seems to be taking more and more to the open — they take refuge in board-piles, rubbish-heaps, brush-piles, brick-kilns, drain-pipes, and ditches that are overgrown with weeds. The female makes little fortresses for her young, to protect them from the cannibalistic propensities of the male; she lines the nest warmly with fur from her own breast, visits them secretly at night, and perhaps suckles them once more during the 24 hours; but each time that she leaves them she carefully piles rubbish before the opening which leads to her defenseless family, and defiles the obstructions with ordure.

INTERESTING OCEAN FACTS

Complete Evaporation Would Leave an Immense Deposit of Salt Two Hundred and Thirty Feet Thick.

Oceans occupy three-fourths of the earth's surface. At the [illegible] of [illegible] feet waves are not felt, the temperature is the same, varying from the poles to the equator. A square inch has a pressure of [illegible] to the square inch. If the oceans were filled with salt and allowed to evaporate there would be two inches of salt on the bottom of the box. The whole of the oceans of the world, [illegible] miles, there would be a layer 230 feet thick [illegible] should the water evaporate. The water of the ocean is [illegible] at the bottom than at the surface. In many places especially in the [illegible] on the coast of Norway, the water freezes at the bottom before it does above. Waves are very deceptive to look at; from them in a storm one would think that the whole water traveled. The water stays in the same place, but the motion goes on. Sometimes in the ocean these waves are forty feet high and travel fifty miles per hour — nearly twice as fast as the fleetest steamship. The base of a wave — the distance from valley to valley on either side at the bottom — is generally reckoned at being 15 times the height, therefore an average wave, say one 25 feet high, has a base extending over 375 feet. The force of waves breaking on the shore is said to be 17 tons to the square yard.

Be Good Winter Traffic

No better evidence of the increased Western traffic is needed than the statement that this year certain railroad services which in former winters have always been dropped, are this year being retained, and in some cases added to. A leading official states that this year the Canadian Pacific Railway intends to run its St. Paul-Seattle through trains all winter whereas in former winters this through service was always dropped. The source of the increased traffic between these two points is attributed to the growing interest in the Canadian Rocky Mountains. For the last five or six years tourists from the United States have been literally pouring into Canada through C. P. R. connections at St. Paul and Seattle the greater number having the Rocky Mountains and the resorts at Banff Field, Emerald Lake and Glacier, as their destination.

SPORTING COLUMN.

ANOTHER FROM ENGLAND

"Lightning Billy" Marchant

"Lightning Billy" as the Britishers is known at home is said to be as clever as Jem Driscoll, the champion of Great Britain.

Marchant was picked by Will Ames, the London manager of boxers, to meet the best boys in America, and he has the greatest confidence Marchant can win the championship of the world. Ames will go after the featherweights with the ultimate object of getting Attell.

FIGHTING OR BOXING?

An attempt has been made in certain quarters to define a prize fight, as distinguished from a boxing contest, by petty quibbling over the word "prize." For example, several courts have ruled that it's a "prize fight" if there is a division of the gate receipts or purse; or if there is any championship at stake, believing that such is the intended meaning of the "prize" part of the term.

Such distinctions are childish, says a sporting writer. There has not been a prize fight, in the original meaning of the term, since Sullivan fought Jake Kilrain. The laws on the statutes of most commonwealths were framed against the bare knuckle and skin-tight glove matches — battles fought under London prize ring rules.

For the good of the game, some generally accepted definition of what a boxing contest is today should be laid down. As boxing laws now operate, the community desiring to stage contests is absolutely at the mercy of such interpretation as the police authorities see fit to make.

FAST AEROPLANES ON DEMAND

The real advantage of aeroplanes is speed. The speed of 105 kilometers an hour has been attained, and no dirigible can equal such a performance. But the speed can and must be increased if it is intended to make a practical application of aviation. It must reach the figures of 180 or 200 kilometers an hour. Then the "useful" weight would reach one ton. Painful accidents have occurred only too frequently owing to aerial eddies overturning the flying machines. If the speed be very great the power imparted to the machine, which increases as the square of the speed, will make it insensible to the slight fluctuations in the atmospheric currents, and it will pass through the eddies as the high speed torpedo boats of today steam through the waves or as the projectile whistles through the air, indifferent to the caprices of adverse currents. As soon as a motive power exceeding the minimum is brought into play two speeds will be possible, the greater speed can be used for flying, the lesser for the dangerous operation of alighting.

THE ENGLISH FOOTBALL LEAGUE

"In 1888 the Football League, a combination of professional [illegible] of the North and Midlands of England, was formed, and a new [illegible] was inaugurated for the purpose of matches on what is known as the 'League' principle, the essential advantage of which is that the clubs in membership of a League agree to play with each other 'home and home' matches each season, and also bind themselves under certain conditions to play their best team, in all League matches. Six years later the Southern League came into existence, primarily with the object of increasing the interest in the game in the South and West of England. The Football League very soon had their imitators, and in 1909 there were upwards of six hundred League competitions playing under the sanction and control of the Football Association. The League system also found favour in Scotland, Wales, and Ireland, and has extended to most of the colonies where Association football is played."

THE CENSUS MISFIT.

From all parts of the Dominion come complaints that the census was not fully taken and that towns and cities in the East, as well as in the West have not been given a fair count. Whole streets, it is alleged, have been missed by the consustakers. This is no doubt true. It is beyond question that the population of the country is considerably greater than the returns state and if credit is given to the protests of individual communities we can safely reckon on the total being far astray.

Liberal contemporaries, in an effort to excuse the blunder, say that it does not matter so long as we obtain an approximate idea of the growth. We do not agree with that idea at all. Municipalities have a right to expect that they shall not be made look less prosperous than they are, and the country at large has the right to expect that in return for the expenditure of thousands of dollars, a fair degree of faithful servire should have been given in return.

The reason for the blundering, of course, is that the census enumerators were all appointed on the partisan basis, and in some sections, at least the least possible return for the money received appears to have been the result. In some sections the municipalities are talking of a police census in order to get the correct tally.

Creeps like a Serpent

Catarrh is an insidious disease, scarcely noticeable at first, but horribly relentless if not checked.

No disease makes such inroads into weak constitutions as Catarrh. It spreads from the place of beginning to the lungs, bronchial tubes, stomach, intestines, and before long all the organs of the body are affected.

A splendid remedy, attended with remarkable success in curing Catarrh has lately come prominently to the front. Its name is Catarrhozone, and no case is recorded where it failed to quickly relieve and cure.

The strong points about Catarrhozone are that it is both a local and constitutional treatment. It not only affords quick relief to the local symptoms, but also purifies the blood of all Catarrhal poisons, builds up and strengthens the system.

Catarrhozone Inhaler supplies an abundance of medicated air which is breathed in at the mouth, and after passing through every air cell and air passage of the breathing organs, is slowly exhaled through the nostrils.

This penetrating, volatile antiseptic at once kills the germs that cause Catarrh, and prevents the disease spreading when once established. It is so healing and soothing that the inflamed membranes, and sore spots are restored to normal and healthy condition in a few days.

Catarrhozone cleanses the nose and throat and keeps them entirely free of mucous discharge. It prevents dropping in the throat, cures headache and makes breathing easy and the breath pure and sweet.

To build up and invigorate the system, a blood purifier and tonic called Ferrozone should be taken after each meal. In conjunction with Catarrhozone it is a valuable aid in establishing such a healthy condition of the body that Catarrh cannot exist.

Other remedies have been known to give relief, but to permanently eradicate every trace of Catarrh you must use Catarrhozone. It is a commonsense, convenient, clean method of cure that is endorsed by the profession and all intelligent pharmacists.

You are sure to be benefited quickly and positively cured by Catarrhozone. The complete outfit costs only $1.00. Trial size, 25c. Sold by Druggists, and The Catarrhozone Company, Buffalo, N. Y.

HOW HE WON PEGGY

By Ernest Margee

From outside the block of flats there came the throbbing and grunting of a taxi, but Harry Martin had settled himself to spend a lonely evening, and did not dream that the noise heralded a visitor. He was mistaken however, and a few minutes later the visitor arrived, in the person of Mr. Jack Palmer.

"Glad I got you in," he started. "I hear you're clearing out to-morrow — going down to a place in Cornwall called Haleworth, and that you're to be there for a week or a fortnight. That's so, isn't it?"

"Hilda Durrant is staying there. I heard that yesterday in a round-about way. And that's why I've come to warn you. You remember her, of course? At least, you've heard of her from me. She's the world's star flirt — an exquisite face, a charming manner, a clever brain — and no heart.

"What? Oh, yes, I see! I do thank you then. I am to beware of Miss Durrant. Right, Jack. But, after all, I'm sort of case-hardened. It would take a pretty smart flirt to get me to the sentimental point."

"Exactly, and that's the second reason for my coming here. I want to have the girl punished — I want her to be taught that she can be fooled just as she can fool. Two years ago I was a victim of hers — and she only smiled. Well, I've recovered, but I haven't forgotten, and I want her to be shown that every man isn't a confounded idiot where she's concerned."

. . . . . .

When Harry had been settled at the Cliff Hotel for a little more than half an hour, he noticed a girl coming slowly up the drive and when she drew near enough for him to see her clearly, he knew quite well that she must be that flirt for whom he had a rod in pickle. He was cautious, however, and, just for safety's sake, turned to the hotel bookkeeper, near whose office he was standing, and said, "You see that lady coming toward the hotel? I wonder if you can tell me what her name is?" And the bookkeeper, cloaking with tact an acute curiosity, answered: "Her name is Miss Durrant, sir. She has been with us for nearly a month."

The girl came nearer, nearer yet, and at last — still moving with graceful slowness, entered through the wide doorway. In passing Harry, she glanced at him with a half-smile, and then, evidently noticing that he was a stranger, averted her eyes, and walked on towards the wide staircase.

That night at dinner he contrived with an adroitness which surprised even himself, to make the first friendly advances to her, and these advances were met most graciously, but with a shyness which was in Harry's eyes the hall-mark of superb acting. And how wonderful she was! — and how those eyes disturbed him!

His plan was to make love to her with just as little waste of time as possible, and, even now confident in his own strength, he set himself to the task.

Apparently, too, he was vastly successful, for the acquaintanceship formed at dinner that night ripened and changed for something deeper in the days that followed.

At the end of the third day, Harry told himself that everything was going magnificently, and that — curious as it might seem — he had evidently made at least a slight impression on the flirts' heart; at the end of the fourth day he felt less sure of himself, and of the ultimate success of his scheme; at the end of the fifth he called himself a fool and maligned Jack Palmer; at the end of the sixth, he made up his mind that he must bring the crisis on at once; and at the end of the seventh, he knew that he would never bring on the crisis at all — that the crisis had come of its own accord, and was of a very different nature from that which he had expected.

And on the evening of the eighth day he told himself that he was the biggest idiot in England; that he was quite hopelessly in love, and that — and this was the worst thing of all — he must speak of his love. Must speak of his love, and be smiled at kindly, and told that he was behaving and speaking rather absurdly. He knew quite well that he should pack up his things and leave the hotel — but he could not.

Harry had spoken of love to women many times before, and indeed was supposed by his friends to be rather an adept at the game. But he floundered; he spoke in broken sentences — he called himself an ass, and called the girl an angel — working up at last to the point where he offered himself, and everything that he possessed, and saying that if she had no love for him, then he had no love for life.

Harry had stood a pace back from her — grown suddenly chill at the thought of the gentle chiding which would reward his outburst, but this chiding did not come. Instead she gave what sounded like a poorly crushed sob, and took a step towards him falteringly.

"Oh!" she managed. "Oh, yes! I— I feel like that, too."

Half an hour later Harry mentioned Jack Palmer — he felt that the time had come for that.

"You knew him didn't you?" he asked. "I think he told me that he was rather friendly with you once."

"No," she said, "I never knew him — but I've heard of him, of course. You see I was at school in Germany when he used to come to our house. It was Hilda he must have meant — my sister, you know. And," she laughed a little here, "that reminds me — you don't even know my first name yet. I do hope you won't think me frivolous — it's Peggy."

"Peggy," he said, his words coming with difficulty, "is the name I like best in the world. And ... Well, Peggy, that ... [illegible]

It was not until after the ... that he explained things.

WHO'S WHO IN CANADA

JOHN T. HAWKE

The newspapers of today have much influence in guiding the ideas of the generation, and in the building up of a free and independent aggregation of citizens it is of importance there should be good and tried men at the head of Canada's daily and weekly issues: men who have the knowledge to guide.

Mr. Hawke of the Moncton Transcript is a man of considerable experience in newspaperdom, and the residents of the district covered by his circulation, are free to recognize his influence. Born away back in 1854, he voyaged here from Devon, England, after gleaning a regular course of general knowledge at the schools of Plymouth and in other intellectual connections. For a time after reaching the American Continent he kept handling type in the composing room, following on to be reporter on the "St. Thomas Times," and during three later years held down the important position of Legislature reporter for the "Toronto Leader." Thereafter for a brief space Mr. Hawke transferred along to the "Ottawa Citizen", but returned to the "Leader", and soon after joined the parliamentary staff of the "Toronto Globe." Three years for the Globe at Ottawa, and three years editorial writing at headquarters brought further increase to the experience that leads upward in the profession, and in 1886 Mr. Hawke was editor of the Hamilton Tribune. Editorship of the Ottawa Free Press followed until in 1887 he invested his capital in the Moncton paper of which he still holds proprietorship. In the interval the paper has been much improved in various respects.

JOHN T. HAWKE,
Proprietor Moncton Transcript

In addition to running the Transcript, Mr. Hawke has always taken a particularly live interest in local political work, and is recognised as one of the strong platform speakers in Westmoreland and neighboring counties.

Mr. Hawke also takes big active interest in local affairs, and was for ten years chairman of Moncton School Board, and president of the local Liberal Association for nine years.

GEORGE DURNFORD
Well Known Canadian Banker

Although well known to banking men and other business concerns throughout the Dominion, Mr. Durnfords name is perhaps more familiar to the general public in philanthropic and literary circles. Though born of a military family — his father being a Captain in His Majesty's 68th Regiment, Durham Light Infantry — Mr. Durnford's life training has been mainly commercial. From a shipbuilding firm in Quebec, where he was employed for the two years ending 1856, he entered the Upper Canada Bank in Montreal in his eighteenth year, and later became connected with the Bank of British North America, acting as Manager of its Kingston Branch, which he relinquish in 1880, to become secretary and Treasurer of the Canada Co-Operative Association. It is as a chartered accountant of the highest rank that Mr. Durnford is best known however, and the finality which marks his methods is widely appreciated by a large clientele.

He is at present Treasurer of the Synod of the Diocese of Montreal (Church of England), which has invested funds of about a million dollars; Treasurer of the Homeopathic Hospital, of the useful Historical Landmark Association, and also of the Numismactic and Antiquarian Society, member of the Board of Trustees, Mount Royal Cemetery, etc., etc.

Mr. Durnford is a well-known member of the Montreal Board of Trade and a Justice of the Peace.

R. W. LEONARD
Chairman Transcontinental R. R. Commission.

The appointment of Mr. Leonard to succeed Mr. Parent as chairman of this important commission meets with general approval. In the past, it is claimed politics have counted very much when appointments on the Transcontinental Board were made. In the present instance the work will have the benefit of a supervision that comes from experience. Mr. Leonard is a railway engineer of first-class reputation. He is a man who has made his own fortune in other business. As a partisan [illegible] he does not look to amount to [illegible] for the government, but [illegible] must be looked [illegible] ought to be worth [illegible] dollars to [illegible] completed [illegible] per [illegible] continental [illegible].

Cross-Firing

Many are the stories told of "Bobs." Here is one of the best (says a "Daily News" writer), although I do not vouch for its accuracy. He was watching the firing at Bisley and noticed two or three errors on the part of the markers. So he went to the telephone and rang up the officer in charge. "The marking is very bad," he observed. "It's the best you'll get," retorted the officer. "Do you know who I am?" sternly demanded Lord Roberts. "No, I don't." "I am Lord Roberts." "Well, I am Lord Wolseley," came the reply. Lord Roberts loves a joke, but how he took this one is not recorded.

MY LADY'S COLUMN.

CARE OF FURNITURE

Some Homely Hints to Help the Housewife Make Things Look Their Best.

If furniture looks smeary after polishing you may be pretty certain that too much polish was used. Very little indeed is really needed, only just enough to smear quite thinly over the surface.

A bluish colour on pianos or any highly-polished furniture is caused by the action of damp air on the polish. Rub the surface thoroughly with a piece of chamois leather moistened with a drop or two of sweet oil, and finish by going all over it with the bare hand. No polishing material is equal to the hand for fine surfaces.

Always wipe furniture with a sloth wrung out of lukewarm water to which a little vinegar has been added, and let it dry before applying polish. The vinegar and water will remove the dirt, and the wood will take a better polish.

One of the best home-made furniture polishes, which is remarkable for the bright and glossy surface which it gives to wood, is made of resin and powdered shellac, mixed with alcohol and linseed oil. The two dry ingredients — one ounce of each — should be mixed together, a pint of alcohol being then stirred in, while a pint of linseed oil is added last of all. A thorough shaking is necessary each time the polish is used.

CHARMING BAGS AND RETICULES

The long silken cord suspended from softly rounded arms bespeak the fair Parisian of long, long ago.

Hand wrought silk, French brocade, East Indian worked cottons, richly decorated velvets and real camels hair weaving are all transformed into hand bags this season. hTe more elaborate the work the more satisfied the carrier. Many a mother this autumn is sacrificing her precious heir-loom, a camel's hair shawl, to make her daughters' bags. These are formed over metal frames and are suspended from the arm by golden cords.

Out of smoke-colored silk a charming bag is constructed for a young girl who is always careful of the accessories of her toilet. This bag is heavily embroidered with blue silk soutache and the carrying cord is of thick blue silk.

Dressing-Table Hints.

A mixture of glycerine and water used to dampen the hair before it is plaited or put into curlers will give it a stiff wave that will not come out easily.

The occasional use of common salt helps to whiten the teeth and to harden the gums.

To keep the hands soft and white during cold weather, a mixture of rose-water and glycerine should be well rubbed into them last thing at night.

An excellent shampoo for dark hair is made of the yoke of one egg, one ounce of spirits of rosemary and one pint of hot water. Beat the egg well, stir it into the water, and add the rosemary to it. Rub the scalp thoroughly with several clean waters. When the eyes are tired and in-

A Female Trooper.

The gallant Scots Greys are the only British cavalry corps which can boast of having possessed a female trooper. She was Mrs. Christian Davies, who doughtily wielded a sabre as a private in the Greys in the Marlborough Wars. Her sex was discovered after she was wounded in the head at Ramillies by a splinter of a bombshell. She was invalided, and granted a pension of a shilling a day for life. At her death she was buried with military honours in the grounds of Chelsea Hospital.

Animal Love.

Mother love is universal, and there is no love like the mother love. Most of the high and lofty loving in this world is done by mothers. Apart from this the work of wooing falls to the male members of the family whether it be the human family or some one of the other animal tribes. We read how, ages ago, a Bulbul, or Oriental Nightingale, wooed a white rose until it blushed red, and that was the beginning of the red rose. The Spanish Cavalier stands out in the rain and serenades his "Dulce Mia" until there is a crick in his neck, while she sits sheltered in a window above.

The cackle of the loon may be a love song for all we know. Maybe that's what made him loony in the first place.

The wild moose bellows his passion across the lake, and as likely as not the answering call is from a bark horn in the hands of a hunter, luring him to death.

It seems a sizzling shame, but if you will take a Grand Trunk train and travel into the "Highlands of Ontario" you will find men doing that very thing; arguing, doubtless, that all is fair in love and war.

Mexico Oil

The Mexican Oil Fields, will probably break all records in the production of oil. The largest oil wells in the world are now flowing in the Tampico field, and development is just fairly begun. We offer an exceptionally attractive investment in the stock of a conservative Company, just organized, which controls 3500 acres, in the midst of the big producing section of the field. We are certain we can convince any one of the merits of the enterprise, and we want you to

INVESTIGATE

It will only cost you two cents to secure maps, booklet, and full description of what we have to offer. The stock is being sold for the purpose of drilling the property. Oil is now being produced on all four sides of this property. We will give you every opportunity to investigate the proposition itself and the officers in charge of its affairs. SPEND A WEEK AT ALGONQUIN.

The popularity of the Algonquin National Park, Ontario, has been pronounced this year, and it has been necessary to use at least 25 large tents as an auxiliary to the accommodation of the Highland Inn, at Algonquin National Park Station.

Most people return to their homes in the early part of September, but as this is one of the most delightful months in this territory, those who can make it convenient are advised to spend a week or two there. The hotel is also open all the winter and with the bracing air of this locality (1700 ft. above the sea) a most delightful sojourn can be spent even in the winter months.

A handsome illustrated booklet may be had on this territory upon application to Mr. A. E. Duff, Union Station, Toronto, Ont.

PAINFUL ACCIDENT.

Lad Injured While Hunting.

While out hunting with several of his companions on Thanksgiving Day George James, of 505 Sherbrooke street was the victim of a painful accident. One of the party stumbled over a stump and having his finger on the trigger of the gun, discharged it, with the result that George, who was standing nearby received the shot in his leg. When he was taken home, Drs. Young and Boucher were called. They extracted the bullet which had passed right through the bone. The boy is now doing nicely.

Real Estate, Mining and Industrial Investments

HOW $100 GREW TO $31620

The value and importance of any enterprise must be based on the profits and dividends it can earn. In this respect the Midway Maple Leaf Oil Company, Limited, is without a parallel in the line of investments.

It combines the attractive factors which are needed to make the perfect investment—viz., safety, large earning capacity and low cost of the stock at the start. It is not at all uncommon for oil stocks to begin at a few cents a share and jump to hundreds of dollars a share—sometimes thousands.

	Started at	Has Sold at
Central	10 cents	$2.10
Monte Cristo	10 cents	$4.00
Lucile	10 cents	$16.00
Silver Tip	25 cents	$4.00
San Francisco and McKittrick	40 cents	$28.00
Kern River	50 cents	$8.75
Pearless	50 cents	$8.75
Puente	$10.00	$150.00
Home	$10.00	$5000.00

This list, taken from San Francisco and Los Angeles Stock Exchange records, could be added to almost indefinitely.

Fortunes have been made from stock increases. stock is $200, YOUR YEARLY PROFIT ON AN INVESTMENT OF $300.

When we have ten wells sunk you can reasonably figure on AN ANNUAL PROFIT ON YOUR HOLDINGS OF $2000.

$2000 A YEAR. DOESN'T THIS APPEAL

Many a case could be cited similar to that of Richard Ellis, clerk in a store in Los Angeles, whose investment of $100 became worth $31,620 in a short time. There are hundreds of such cases in Los Angeles alone.

$2000.00 Profit a Year

Do you realize that stock in the Midway Maple Leaf Oil Company, Limited, at the present price of 30 cents a share is not merely the opportunity of the year—IT IS THE OPPORTUNITY OF A LIFETIME.

If you have $10, $50, $100 or $500 YOU SIMPLY CAN NOT AFFORD TO PASS IT UP.

If we develop only a 1000 barrel well of 26 gravity oil, this production alone will be sufficient to enable the corporation to pay a dividend of 20 per cent. and at the same time have sufficient capital to continue the drilling of wells.

1000 shares of stock at the present price of 30c costs only $300.

20 per cent. dividend on the par value of the TO YOU? Wouldn't you like to be coming up to this office every three months and getting your dividend cheque for $500?

Remember, too, that your stock holdings in Midway Maple Leaf, if you should want to sell them should be worth $18,000 or sixty times the amount of your original investment.

Consider These Facts

The Midway Maple Leaf Oil Company is working in proven gusher territory, the richest oil zone in the world, controlling 40 acres on one-eighth royalty, with the great advantage of the option to purchase at only $1250 per acre after oil is struck, and the ground must then be worth at least $5000 per acre. This means a clean profit of $150,000 over purchase price. It has been demonstrated completely by gushers on adjoining Standard and Honolulu ground, that this portion of the Midway field is not only the richest portion of the whole district, but that it produces the highest grade of oil found in the entire vicinity, and worth 20 per cent. more per barrel at the well.

Present Allotment of 25,000 Shares at 30c Going Fast

Call at my office at once and get your order in for the amount of stock that you want. If it isn't convenient for you to call, either wire and let your remittance follow by mail, or get your remittance in by the first mail possible.

$30 cash, or $6 down and $6 a month for four months, buys 100 shares.

$60 cash, or $12 down and $12 a month for four months, buys 200 shares.

$120 cash, or $24 down and $24 a month for four months, buys 400 shares.

$480 cash, or $96 down and $96 a month for four months, buys 1600 shares.

MEANS TROUBLE FOR THE BEAR

The Oldest Animal of Nature is the Porcupine and His Darts are the Most Deadly Fighting Weapons on Record.

Although the notion that the porcupine defends itself by shooting its quills to a distance — like arrows — was long ago exploded, few persons know how really dangerous and even fatal quite commonly are these same curious weapons with which one of the oldest of all the mammals is provided by Nature.

Anybody who takes the trouble to examine a dead porcupine will be surprised to find how slight is the attachment of the quills to the skin on the creature's back. They come away readily in the hand when a little pull is given; and this, indeed, as will presently be seen, is a very important feature of this peculiar defensive equipment namely the looseness and ready detachability thereof.

Though the porcupine is not able to throw its quills, it can inflict most deadly damage upon an adversary by the merest contact. It is a creature native to mountainous parts of the United States in northern latitudes and the foes it has to fear are chiefly bears, big cats and other such formidable carnivora.

Each individual quill borne by the porcupine — naturalists say that they are modified hairs — is not only as sharp as a needle at the point but formidably barbed. On this account, if one of them is stuck by chance into the flesh of a human being it cannot be withdrawn, but must be cut out — the only alternative being to push the quill clear through and pull it out on the other side if the wounded part be an arm or a leg.

Unfortunately a bear or a lynx has no surgical resort in an event of the kind; and consequently, if it carries off half a dozen quills in its hide as a memorial of an encounter with a porcupine, trouble soon follows.

With every movement of the animal the quills make their way into the flesh more deeply. If one of them happens in its progress to strike a bone it will turn up along the latter and pursue its course remorselessly. Eventually the quills may work their way out, but the chances are greater that they will reach a vital part and, after inflicting prolonged suffering, cause the death of the victim.

The Moose and the Lilly Pad.

The moose's love for the lily pad that floats on the surface of the northern lakes make him appear reckless and unafraid. In summer, even in September, the fishermen often cut him off from the shore, drive him into deep water and have fun with him. Sometimes, when the moose reaches shoal water and gets his hind feet on the bottom, he has fun with the fisherman, smashes his canoe and makes him swim for his life.

However, after the shooting season opens the moose becomes more cautious.

There are thousands of moose around Lake Temagami. At North Bay you change from the Grand Trunk to the Temiskaming and Northern Ontario and get off at Temagami Station.

The Fort Garry.

The work of constructing the second of the Grand Trunk's System of palatial hotels has begun at Winnipeg. It has been definitely and finally decided that the Winnipeg hotel, which will be of the same style of architecture as the magnificent "Chateau Laurier" at Ottawa, shall be called "The Fort Garry."

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

THE COMFORT OF INDEPENDENCE ASSURED THE B. C. FRUIT GROWER

In British Columbia Fruit Growing is synonymous with Success. The fame of the five-acre fruit farms of the Fraser Valley is spreading to every corner of this continent. Already "Fruit" suggests the Pacific Coast, soon it will direct the thoughts instinctively to British Columbia, particularly to the lower Fraser River Valley.

FLESHERTON GARDENS, which I am now selling, is the cream of this Valley land. The soil is a rich deep chocolate, humous and friable, free from weeds, stones or stumps. Good roads lead to the property and two railways are ready to carry the fruit to market. The Chilliwack line of the B. C. Electric Railway CUTS THROUGH FLESHERTON GARDENS, and the Victoria, Vancouver and Eastern is only a few yards away. Over a dozen trains pass the property every day, and the traffic will increase in the immediate future.

BIG PROFITS IN FRUITS AND VEGETABLES.

Do you know that you can make immense profits in fruits, tubers and vegetables on the Coast? To-day last year's potatoes are selling at $70 a ton in Seattle, only a few miles from here. In Westminster and Vancouver the price is from $60 to $65 a ton. Cherries fetch 50c a pound and strawberries 25c a box. All other fruits are high in proportion. Remember these are NOT FANCY PRICES, but to-day's quotations. There is no difficulty in selling the fruit, for people here have the money and don't mind the price.

IT'S EASY TO SECURE THE LAND

I have placed FLESHERTON GARDENS on the market on very easy terms, $300 cash and the balance spread over several years. You can have your pick of these five acre farms at from $150 to $350 per acre. You cannot find a better investment anywhere; no matter how rosy other prospects may be, this one leads them all.

Sign this blank, and mail it to me NOW. I can tell you a great deal more about FLESHERTON GARDANS in a personal letter. It's to your advantage to get all the information you can.

Heaviness at Pit of The Stomach

A Feeling of Uneasiness Before And After Meals is Quickly Cured With Nerviline.

Nearly everyone gets an occasional attack of indigestion and knows just what that heavy feeling means in the stomach. "I was subject to stomach derangements and my health was seriously hampered on this account. After meals I belched gas, had a weighty sensation in my stomach and over my left side. The first relief I got was from Nerviline—I used it three times a day and was cured. I continue to use Nerviline occasionally, and find it is a wonderful aid to the stomach and digestive organs."

NERVILINE RESTORES WEAK STOMACHS

The above letter comes from Mrs. P. R. Stetson, wife of an important merchant in Brockton, and still further proof of the exceptional power of Nerviline is furnished by A. E. Rossman, the well-known upholsterer of Chester, who writes: "Let everyone with a bad stomach use 'Nerviline,' and I am sure there will be few sufferers left. I used to have cramps, rumbling noises, gas on my stomach and severe fits of indigestion. Nerviline was the only remedy that gave me relief, and I found it so entirely satisfactory that I would like to have my letter of recommendation published broadcast in order that others may profit by my experience."

You'll find a hundred uses for Nerviline—it's a trusty household remedy that sells to the extent of a million bottles per year—that's the best proof that it must cure and give unlimited satisfaction. Refuse anything offered in place of Nerviline. Large size bottle 50c, or sample size 25c. All dealers, or The Catarrhozone Co Kingston, Ont.

Sewer Work Progressing.

The sewer work in the south end for which Mr. Ed. Conroy had the contract from the city is progressing satisfactorily. Mr. Ed. Wade finished up the difficult portion on George street, which caused all the trouble, so that the rest is plain sailing. It is expected that the work will be completed by the New Year.

A Financial Puzzle.

Bobcaygeon Independent: Fowl suppers are now all the go, and they go fine. They are a blessing to many who rarely get a chance to gratify a cultured taste for poultry at any other time. The quiet fellow who sits out two tables, and says nothing, is figuring how it is that a 50c meal can be given for 25c, and the church fund come out ahead on the profit.

May Change License Law.

An interesting news announcement is made by the Toronto Mail and Empire, to the effect that the Whitney government will soon appoint a Provincial Board to take charge of the administration of the license law. This will, it is claimed, "take the liquor question out of politics." But will it? That remains to be seen. A provincial license board appointed by the government could be as partizan as the local boards, and would use its powers for partisan purposes quite as effectively.

Sawers, St. Luke's, Rev. W. C. Riddiford and Mr. Thos. Marks, Park street; Mr. A. S. Coate, Knox Church; Mrs. Harding and Miss Nicholls, Murray street.

Lindsay's Treasurer Resigns.

Mr. Peter Kennedy, who was only a short time ago appointed treasurer of Lindsay, and who has many friends in Peterborough, has resigned his position as Town Treasurer, in order to enter the service of the Home Bank of Canada of which he has been appointed local manager. The town's loss will be the bank's gain in this instance.

Miss Seward's Work.

The following from Mr. Henry W. Field, of Germany, where Miss Gladys Seward is taking piano tuition, speaks for itself. The communication was addressed to Mrs. A. J. Collins, Mount Forest, and reads:

"You will be glad to know that Mrs. Biggar has given her daughter to Gladys at 3 marks a lesson; also I got her for a fine concert singer to play her accompaniments and this lady is going to give Gladys her little boy to teach. This will bring her in 12 marks a week. Another person wants to study with one of my pupils, and I got her for Gladys. I think this will bring in for Gladys 96 marks a month and she needs 120 to 130, so she is not doing so badly. She will play the Beethoven G major in December. I am going to Berlin on Saturday to see about Gladys playing there."

Local Hotels Well Conducted.

There is probably no city or town in Canada to-day where the hotels are better conducted than they are in Peterborough. For it is a well-known fact that selling after hours is no longer practiced, the law being lived up to in an exemplary and praiseworthy manner. This will go a long way towards having the law remain as it is, as there appears to be no very strong desire on the part of the Temperance party to make a change. It is safe to say there will be no reduction in the number of hotel licenses next year, it being felt that the hotel accommodation for a city the size of Peterborough is barely sufficient for its needs.

FOOLED TORONTO PEOPLE ALSO.

Alfred Jarry, a Mining Man, Marries a Girl in Toronto, and Then He Disappears.

Alfred Jarry, who a few weeks ago purchased a house in this city, arranged to fill it with furniture to the value of $1,500, and after fooling a number of other citizens, hastily left town without arranging for his financial debts in regard to the foregoing deals, has been evidently playing similar pranks in Toronto.

Yesterday's Toronto morning papers exposes Jarry, who they say married Miss Edith Redley, of 277 Richmond street, after an acquaintance of a couple of days' duration.

The Mail and Empire says:—The next day Jarry went to the McLaughlin Motor Car Co. and purchased two machines, a limousene for his wife and a touring car for himself. He gave cheques and again asked that they be not cashed for a couple of days. The cheques he gave first were on the Traders Bank at Webbwood, but he later changed them to the Imperial Bank in Toronto, from the garage he went to Eaton's and purchased about $1,500 worth of diamonds and a number of expensive rugs, giving cheques in payment. He then went to a wholesale grocery establishment and ordered in a carload of provisions to be sent to his mine at Porcupine. None of the stuff he purchased did he attempt to take away with him, and in every case he asked that presentation of the cheques be delayed.

His story was that his uncle had died a short while ago and left him a valuable mine in Porcupine, the name of it being the Jarry mine. He went to the firm of Watson, Smoke, Chisholm & Smith, and arranged with Mr. Smoke to be his solicitor. He had a will drawn up, giving everything to the woman he had just married and told Mr. Smoke that he had an abundance of money, but made no display of wealth. He had in the meantime through a real estate agent purchased a house at 52 Foxbar road the price of which was $12,000, and another house in Parkdale for $6,000. For these cheques were also given. One was to be for his mother-in-law and her mother and he with his bride were to occupy the other one.

He left home yesterday, telling his wife that he would be back soon. He also had appointments with a number of people with whom he had been dealing, and to whom he had given cheques, but kept none of them. His wife not being able to locate him, asked his solicitor and a number of other people with whom he had been dealing, but returned to her room on Richmond street with a broken heart. She said he had a grip when he left the house and thinks that he has abandoned her.

The membership campaign that has been in progress for the last few weeks, in connection with the local Y.M.C.A., is over. The Business Boys winning with over 40 points. Each dollar brought in counted a point for the team that got it, and a banquet was given to the winner last night in the Y.M.C.A. board room. Bruce Hamilton was presented with a coatsweater for bringing in the most members of any boy, on any of the teams. This campaign, or contest, is the first undertaking of Dr. Spicer, the new boys' secretary, and the results are certainly gratifying to him, as well as to Mr. S. R. Hall, membership secretary of the local institution.

MR. W. McILROY'S ADDRESS.

To the American Association of Ticket Agents, at St. Paul.

Mr. W. McIlroy, Peterborough's genial up-town C.P.R. Ticket Agent, represented the Canadian Ticket Agents' Association, at the 50th annual convention of the American Association of Passenger Ticket Agents, held at St. Paul, Minn., U.S.A.

Mr. McIlroy delivered the following very acceptable speech:

It affords me much pleasure to be present at this meeting as a delegate from the Canadian Ticket Agents' Association, and on behalf of that Association I thank you for the invitation. I feel the responsibility which our Association has imposed upon me to appear before such an important body of passenger and ticket men, but as I expect to be a general passenger agent myself someday in the future, appearing here before you to-day will be a good experience.

Our Association held its annual meeting last year in Quebec, at the famous Canadian Pacific Hotel, the "Chateau Frontenac." There was a large attendance, lively discussions on various subjects pertaining to the ticket business, and a royal good social time. Several interesting and instructive papers were read. The subject of free transportation over United States roads to members of the Canadian Ticket Agents' Association who are not wholly employed in the ticket business was again brought up and discussed, and I have been requested to bring the matter before you again.

When commissions paid to agents on tickets sold to them over foreign lines were cut off some years ago, it was followed by the ruling of the Inter-State Commerce Commission that none but ticket agents wholly employed in railway business should secure free transportation over United States lines. All members of our Association who came under the ban by the above ruling are successful business men in the smaller towns throughout Canada. Now, these men are paid commissions for selling tickets by the railway they represent; they sell coupon tickets over foreign lines, both in Canada and the United States; they can get transportation over foreign lines in Canada at least once a year through the secretary of our Association, but they get nothing from the United States lines.

Mr. President and gentlemen, the Canadian Ticket Agents' Association want to come to the United States and familiarise themselves with the railways and the wonders of this great country, but we are "barred" out as a body by the ruling of the Inter-State Commission. Is there no remedy? Could it not be arranged at some future time it would be a splendid thing to have a joint convention of the General Passenger Ticket Agents, the Travelling Passenger Agents, the American Passenger and Ticket Agents, and the Canadian Ticket Agents' Association, and would suggest Peterborough, Ont., Canada, as the point of meeting.

I have nothing further to report of particular interest to you from the meeting in Quebec, but I would like to throw out a suggestion here, that for the annual meeting, to all the members of our association? I solicit your earnest endeavors on our behalf.

I thank you for your patience in listening to an understudy like myself.

ALL HOPE FOR THE MANCHU DYNASTY HAS VANISHED

Pekin, Nov. 9.—8.45 p.m.—The excitement is growing to-night. The residents of the forbidden city are taking in great quantities of rice and other stores. Fifteen hundred infantry and 500 cavalry of the Manchu first division who fled from Shikia-Chuang after the assassination of General Wa Chenz, arrived here to-day and entered the city. The Legations consider that all hope of the Manchu dynasty has vanished.

SHAREHOLDERS AND DEPOSITORS OF FARMERS BANK MET AT LINDSAY ON WEDNESDAY

Toronto, Nov. 9.—Between forty and fifty local depositors of the Farmers Bank met in the Masonic Building at Lindsay last evening, when the present situation of the depositors was discussed by A. L. Menthorn a farmer of Mariposa Township, as a representative of the central committee of the Farmers Bank Depositors Relief Association.

Resolutions were adopted endorsing the action of the depositors in the other 26 branches in petitioning parliament and the incoming government to take into consideration the unfortunate condition of many of the depositors and afford them some relief, if possible, and a similar petition was signed by those present.

Exception was taken by some at the meeting to the action of the shareholders in superseding the depositors in petitioning Parliament. It was the sense of the meeting that the feasible plan would be for depositors and shareholders to unite in seeking relief, although some present expressed doubt if this could be done.

Rev. George Gilmour, of Fingal, and Rev. C. F. Clerk, of Kerwood, were thanked by resolution for the interest they had shown in the matter of the bank's affairs, and their untiring efforts in organizing depositors.

A committee composed of Messrs. H. S. Reynolds, A. Merker, John Stone, and W. Bailey, was formed to complete the organization of the local depositors.

MILLIONS BACK AN EVANGELIST

SYNDICATE IS BEHIND PRETTY GIRL CAMPAIGNER.

There May Be Reason — Financiers Are Said to Have Selfish Motives in This Act of Philanthropy.

New York, Nov. 9.—While a syndicate of millionaire bankers here were completing plans for a whirlwind campaign of the United States and Canada to revive interest in religion among the poorer and middle classes Miss Margaret Bevan, a pretty Welsh girl, arrived here the other day to start a crusade to evangelize the rich.

The well-to-do need religion more than the poor, according to the young Joan of Arc from the other side of the Atlantic and she purposes devoting most of her time to their spiritual uplift, although she will also be heard by the poor. Her arrival was unexpected by the members of the millionaire's syndicate, and has injected a new element of interest to their plan for awakening the conscience of the muckraker and the proletariat. The syndicate will spend a million dollars, it is said, in their work, which will embrace every important centre of population on the North American continent, from the Gulf of Mexico to Hudson's Bay and from the Atlantic to the Pacific. Just how much per capita it is intended to spend to save the souls of the backsliders is not stated. But if the scale of costs prepared by Evangelist "Billy" Sunday, showing salvation in New York to require $545 a person, Boston, $450; Chicago, $395; Indianapolis, $625; San Francisco, $362; New Orleans, $75; and Atlanta, $78, is to be accepted as a criterion, the salvage will be mighty expensive.

Not Religious Movement.

There is a sly suspicion that the motive behind the proposed movement is not strictly religious, but has as its primary object the checking among the masses of the strong socialistic tendencies manifest within recent years, as reflected in hostile legislation and attacks on capital in various directions. Through the stimulation of a spirit of religious fervor in the masses it is hoped to modify this tendency.

TRADES AND LABOR PLATFORM.

Local Branch Endorses Platform of Congress of Canada.

The local Trades and Labor Council has endorsed the following platform laid down by the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, held at Calgary last September:

Free compulsory education.

Legal working day of eight hours, and six days to a week.

Government inspection of all industries.

The abolition of the contract system on all public works.

A minimum living wage, based on local conditions.

Public ownership of all franchises, such as railways, telegraphs, telephones, water works, lighting, etc.

Tax reform, by lessening taxation on industry and increasing it on land values.

Abolition of child labor by children under fourteen years of age, and of female labor in all branches of industrial life, such as mines, workshops, factories, etc.

Abolition of property qualifications for all public offices.

Those are a few of the principles laid down at Calgary.

"There's a Reason"

Canadian Postum Cereal Co., Ltd. Windsor, Ontario, Canada.

SURE

The Robust Physique can Stand More Tea and Coffee Than a Weak One.

A young Virginian says: "Having a naturally robust constitution far above the average and not having a nervous temperament, my system was able to resist the inroads made upon it by the use of coffee (tea is just as bad) for some years, but finally the strain began to tell.

"For ten years I have been employed as telegraph operator and typewriter by a railroad in this section and until two years ago I had used coffee continually from the time I was eight years old, nearly 20 years.

"The work of operating the telegraph key is a great strain upon the nerves and after the day's work was over I would feel nervous, irritable, run down and toward the last suffered greatly from insomnia and neuralgia.

"As I never indulged in intoxicating liquors, drugs or tobacco in any form I came to the conclusion that tea and coffee were causing the gradual break-down of my nervous system and having read an article in the Medical Magazine on the composition of coffee and its toxic effect upon the system, I was fully convinced that coffee was the cause of my trouble.

"Seeing Postum spoken of as not having any of the deteriorating effects of coffee I decided to give up the coffee and give Postum a trial. The result was agreeably surprising.

"After a time my nerves became wonderfully strong. I can do all my work at the telegraph key and typewriter with far greater ease than ever before. My weight has increased 35 pounds, my general health keeping pace with it, and I am a new man and a better one." Name given by Canadian Postum Co., Windsor, Ont.

City of Canton Declared Its Independence Yesterday Afternoon

THE ENTIRE MANCHU DISTRICT WIPED OUT

Great Commercial Centre of South China, Fu-Chow, Also Falls Before the Rebels—Another City in Hands of Revolutionists.

Hong Kong, Nov. 9.—Canton, the capital of Kwang Tung Province, and the largest city in China, formally declared its independence at noon today when the Dragon Flag was lowered and a salute in honor of the new government was fired.

IN HANDS OF REVOLUTIONISTS.

Amoy, China, Nov. 9.—The city of Fu-Chow, capital of this Province (Fo-Kien) is in the hands of the revolutionists to-day. After taking it, they wiped out the entire Manchu district. The foreign settlements have not been disturbed, but fires have broken out in several sections of the native city, threatening its destruction.

Fu-Chow is one of the most important cities in South China, having a population of 700,000. It is a great commercial centre, and the seat of a naval arsenal. Government shipyards, a mint, a school of navigation and a large drydock.

PUBLIC OPINION

The Times does not hold itself responsible for opinions of its correspondents.

SCHOOL CHILDREN'S TEETH.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—A prominent dentist informed me the other day that fully 90 per cent. of the school children of Ontario have more or less defective teeth, and proposes to remedy this defect by furnishing free dental treatment to needy children. An appeal is made, I believe, in some American cities, to dentists who can spare the time to give their services in this necessary work. Already a number are doing so, and dental supply houses are furnishing material free.

This subject is of very great importance. Bad teeth bring indigestion, and are cause and symptom of other ailments which retard the pupil's progress. The dentists of Peterborough could do no better public service than to provide free dental work for needy school children. The plan is in successful operation in several American cities, and Canada should follow these worthy examples. I hope The Times, with its great influence, will advocate this. Which of our local dentists will speak first?

—A Teacher.

MONKEY-BORN MAN?

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—When one accepts the Darwinian hypothesis of evolution and his theory of monkey-born men he must at once reject God's record of the creation of man in his own image as found in that seed plot of revelation, the Book of Genesis.

Mr. Editor, please allow me to give your many readers a confession and personal testimony of a scholar in reference to his experience with Higher Criticism. Prof. J. J. Reeves, of the Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary, Fort Worth, Texas, writing in "The Fundamentals" says: "The purpose of this is to state in a brief way the influences which led me to accept certain views of Higher Criticism, and after further consideration to reject them . . I saw that the whole movement with its conclusions was the result of the adoption of the hypothesis of evolution. My professors had accepted this view and were thoroughly convinced of its correctness as a working hypothesis. . . . But more consideration convinced me that the little truth in it served to sugar-coat and give plausibility to some deadly errors that lurked within. That this theory of evolution underlies and is the inspiration of Higher Criticism goes without saying. . . . As it is transparently clear that the Bible, on the face of it, does not correspond to this view, it must be rearranged so as to correspond to it. To do this they must deny point blank the claims and statements of most of the Bible writers . . . A preacher who has thoroughly imbibed these beliefs has no proper place in an Evangelical Christian pulpit. . . . If these views should ultimately prevail Christianity will be set aside for what is known as the New Religion, which is no religion at all, but a philosophy".

Mr. Editor, the above testimony of a scholar against the pernicious teaching of so-called Higher Criticism is well worth passing on to your many thousand readers. Thank Heaven the critics have not got that monopoly of scholarship which they so loudly boast of.

BISHOP OF CALGARY ON 'NE TEMERE' DECREE

Calgary, Nov. 8.—at to-day's opening of the twelfth annual Synod of the Diocese of Calgary, the Bishop, in his annual report referred to the Ne Temere decree:

"To discourage vice and make children legitimate, there should be one marriage law throughout the Dominion, and no marriage should be annulled because of divergent religious convictions of those who have been married or ecclesiastical connection of the person who has performed the ceremony. This is a matter which should be pressed upon the notice of the Dominion Government and upon members of Parliament for early and decisive action.

"When the Church of Rome uses the decree in order to annul marriages she disapproves of by attempting to disqualify those whom the State has invested with right of solemnising them because they are not recognized priests in her communion, she is undoubtedly going farther than she has a right to or can be permitted to go."

SURPRISED AT PROGRESS OF NORTHERN ONTARIO

North Bay, Nov. 4.—Hon. Frank Cochrane was elected by acclamation for Nipissing yesterday.

Hon. Mr. Pelletier, Post-Master-General, also spoke, voicing his amazement at the busy progress evident in Northern Ontario, which he characterizes as a new province building up within Ontario.

MEN ACCEPT AWARD BUT COMPANY REFUSES

Ottawa, Nov. 9.—The Department of Labor has received word from the employes of the Grand Trunk Pacific accepting the recent award of the Arbitration Board, of which the Rev. Dr. Sparling was chairman. The company has also notified the Department it cannot accept the award. The company states that it has recently made changes in their shop rules along the lines recommended by the Arbitration Board of the Grand Trunk Railway in the East, so that East and West have now the same regulations. The company also claims that it is now paying their employes the highest wages paid in the West.

BABY WORTH 10,000 VOTES

New York, Nov. 9.—Princess Zoe Maurocatado, of Romania, and her sister, Princess Ghika, are the latest distinguished arrivals in New York. They are en route to Newfoundland to meet their husbands, who have been hunting in Western Canada for the past four weeks.

The two Princesses are no suffragists, although they have been prominent in charity and welfare work in their own countries.

"I'd rather have a baby than 10,000 votes," declared Princess Zoe. "My three babies are worth more than all the votes in the world. The women in Romania have so far not bothered their heads about votes. I think if any of us had votes we would cast them for men."

BIG RUSH FOR SEATS FOR OPENING OF NEW HOUSE

Ottawa, Nov. 9.—There is an unprecedented rush for seats for the opening of the new Parliament. It promises to be the most brilliant opening ceremony since Confederation. Many prominent society people from Montreal, Toronto, and all over Canada will be present, and officials are deluged with requests for seats. Notices have been posted that it is useless to make further applications. Both the Senate Chamber and Commons are being re-burnished in preparation for the functions.

The work of allotting the seats in the Commons and Senate is in the hands of Hon. G. W. Perley and F. F. Pardee. The government members will overrun the opposition side, where the new members will be located.

OBITUARY.

Arburn W. Leavis.

Mr. Arburn W. Leavis passed away yesterday morning at Nicholls Hospital, this city, after a brief illness. The deceased was only 43 years of age, and had been enjoying but indifferent health the past month. He was a painter by trade and was well known to a large circle of friends and acquaintances. He is survived by a wife, four sisters, and a father who is at present a resident of Manitoba.

The late Mrs. Leavis was born in Cambridge, England, and came to Canada with his parents, when only four years old. For some time he lived in Belleville, but eventually came to Peterborough and was married in 1899, to Eliza Janet Ferguson. He was in creed a member of the Church of England and a constant attendant of St. John's church.

The funeral will leave the deceased's late residence, 403 Sherbrooke street, at 8 o'clock Saturday morning, for Stirling, where interment will be made.

Mrs. Nora Collins.

Mrs. Nora Collins, aged 70 years, passed away at the House of Providence yesterday morning.

The deceased was late resident of Hastings, and had been ailing ever since she entered the Institution, some three months ago. She has no relatives in the city, but is survived by a sister at Campbellford.

The remains were conveyed to Campbellford by the G.T.R. 1.40 train yesterday morning for interment at that place.

BONAR LAW MAY SLIP IN.

As a Compromise He May Be Chosen as Leader of Unionist Party.

London, Nov. 9.—It is practically certain that the Unionist leadership lies between Walter Long, Austin Chamberlain and Bonar Law. Mr. Long's chances appear to be the most fancied, but there's an impression that if the supporters of Mr. Long and Mr. Chamberlain are so persistent as to cause a deadlock, a way may be found by selecting Bonar Law as agreeable to both sides.

Mr. Balfour's decision still to remain as a member of the Commons, is likely to cause his successor in the leadership to be overshadowed by his personality.

Hopes are expressed in many Unionist circles that Mr. Balfour will eventually resume the leadership.

The Leader's comments on Mr. Balfour are of a most generous character.

A large following from Peterborough will journey to Toronto tomorrow to see the game. A special train will pass through Peterborough Saturday morning with 300 supporters of the College boys. Ottawa, Nov. 9.—Samples of oats and barley received by the Forestry Department, from its fire ranger, Edward Beatty, stationed at Isle Lacross, 200 miles north of Battleford, show that these grains can be grown splendidly. The oats and barley were grown at the Indian school at Lac La Plonge. Five hundred bushels of the former and one hundred of the latter were harvested.

BLOCKAGE IN SEWER RELEASED.

Basement of Market Building at Last Free of Water.

Yesterday morning the cause of the flooding of the Market building basement was found to be a plugged sewer pipe on George street, and the blockage removed. The pipe was then thoroughly flushed out by the Fire Department and subsequently administered a cleansing solution, consisting of boiling water and washing soda. For the past three days it has been found necessary to intermittently keep a hand pump going in order to keep the flood of water continuously invading the basement of the building and public lavatory within reasonable bounds. Members of the Fire Department, who have in turn manned the pump the past day or two, breathed a sigh of relief when the trouble was located.

GEORGIAN BAY CANAL ASSURED

Work Likely to Proceed at an Early Date

AS A GOVERNMENT WORK

Effort of British Financiers to Secure Rights to Build the Waterway Not Being Entertained by the Cabinet.

Ottawa, November 9. OLD talk is now being indulged in by the Ottawa papers in regard to the proposed Georgian Bay Canal, from whose statements it would appear that there is every reason to believe that the coming year will see the commencement of work on the construction of the Georgian Bay canal. The matter is now under consideration of the cabinet and while nothing official is decided the prospects are said to be good for an initial appropriation being included in the main estimates of the coming session.

Sir John Jackson the big British contractor, was a caller at the public works department to-day concerning the matter and another was Mr. W. J. Poupore, a prominent advocate of the waterway. Hon. F. D. Monk, minister of public works, has expressed the opinion that not only should the canal be built but that construction should start without delay.

Coming from Nipissing as he does, Hon. Mr. Cochrane is another advocate of the canal as a contributory factor in the solution of the transportation problem of Canada and, generally speaking, the outlook for this being the first constructive work of the Borden government is most encouraging.

In the supplementary estimates sent to the late government by the public works department last summer was an item of three million dollars for the purpose but the proposal failed of ratification by the cabinet and nothing was done.

Government Contract.

The work will be done by contract under the supervision of the public works department and will be a magnitude equalling that of the Transcontinental Railway.

There is little or no prospect of a private company building the canal assisted by a government guarantee of bonds. Different propositions to that end have been made to the government from time to time, notably by Sir Robert Perks and his associates, but nothing ever came of it.

Good News For Ottawa.

Any announcement that a start is to be made will be particularly good news for Ottawa valley, which is the centre of the long sustained agitation for the construction of the waterway and from which exceptional benefits will be derived. The Federation of Boards of Trade have been advocating persistently the canal's construction and everything now points to its efforts being rewarded. The outlay will be considerably over a hundred million dollars.

"It is a pleasure to tell you that best cough medicine I have ever used," writes Mrs. Hugh Campbell, of Lavonia, Ga. "I have used it with all my children and the results have been highly satisfactory." For sale by all dealers.

Prince Rupert Going Ahead.

From information received from official sources it is evident that Prince Rupert, the Pacific Coast Terminus of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway is going ahead rapidly.

Work is being pushed on the water works system, the cost of which is estimated at $550,000. $100,000 of which will be spent during 1911.

The city is also spending the sum of $500,000.00 this year on the sewerage system, and $500,000.00 on rock cutting, and the grading of the streets. Last year $100,000. was spent on the water works system, $50,000 on the sewerage system, $500,000 on grading and $100,000 on plank roads and walks.

THE CANADA NATIONAL FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY

was incorporated by Special Act of the Parliament of Canada for the purpose of carrying on the business of Fire Insurance, as outlined in the Insurance Act and the Special Act of Incorporation.

Capital Stock Authorized by the Board.....$2,000,000
Capital Stock Subscribed to date $1,650,000

The Head Office of the Company is in the city of Winnipeg, and, in addition to this, Branch Offices and Agencies will be established throughout the Dominion.

It must be generally conceded that, owing to the satisfactory conditions at present prevailing throughout not only Western Canada, but the entire Dominion, this Company is being organized at a most favorable and opportune time.

Canada, and particularly the Western portion of the Dominion, is advancing in population and wealth more rapidly than at any other time in its history, and every indication points towards a period of great prosperity and development.

The great influx of settlers into Western Canada is resulting in tremendous activity in every line of business. Railroad construction is proceeding on a scale hitherto unknown in this country, and as adequate transportation is of vital importance in moving our immense crops with a proper degree of facility, it is highly encouraging to see so much well-directed energy along the lines of railway extension.

Coincident with railway expansion, we find many new districts rapidly filling up with desirable settlers, bringing with them a good supply of cash and effects. With the settlement of the rural districts, new towns and villages are springing up, which will, during the next few years, become, in many instances, important business centres.

With such unprecedented growth in Western as well as Eastern Canada, involving an expenditure of millions of dollars in building operations, it is at once evident that there is a very extensive and profitable field for a new Fire Insurance Company which will have a thorough organization throughout the length and breadth of the Dominion, and more particularly in the four Western Provinces.

As a great volume of our business will be transacted in the West, it is a matter of the greatest importance that the Head Office of the Company, as well as the Directors, should be located in the West, so that the affairs of the Company may be conducted to the best possible advantage.

DIRECTORS.

The Board of Directors consists entirely of Western men with a very intimate knowledge of Western conditions, and they are, accordingly, well conversant with the financial and general business requirements of the West. They are thoroughly representative of the various important branches of financial, commercial, industrial and professional life in Western Canada, and with their wide reputation for business ability and integrity, as well as financial standing, combined with a long and varied experience, and practical knowledge of business affairs, they are exceptionally well qualified to render excellent service to a large financial institution.

As the Directors have valuable connections with extensive business interests and are also Directors of other financial corporations, as well as being otherwise identified with large and influential companies which control a great deal of high-grade fire insurance, they will be instrumental in placing a large portion of this desirable insurance with the new Company, so that we may safely conclude that from the very beginning of operations a large and profitable business will be assured.

Under these favorable conditions, and with a strong, energetic, as well as experienced and conservative management, combined with the fact that each Director has subscribed for eleven thousand five hundred dollars ($11,500) of the Capital Stock, on which all calls have been paid, and takes an active interest in the welfare of the Company, there is only one conclusion to draw, and that is that the affairs of the Company will be conducted in such a careful, conscientious and intelligent manner that the interests of both policyholders and stockholders will be fully protected.

IT IS WORTHY OF NOTE THAT $1,650,000 OF CAPITAL STOCK HAS ALREADY BEEN SUBSCRIBED BY PROMINENT BUSINESS AND PROFESSIONAL MEN THROUGHOUT THE DOMINION AND ELSEWHERE.

No commission has been paid to anyone for securing stock subscriptions, and no expense has been incurred in the promotion and organization of the Company, except the expense in connection with securing the Charter and other necessary expenses.

THE CANADA NATIONAL FIRE.

The Canada National Fire, being organized in the West, MAY BE TRULY CALLED A WESTERN COMPANY, and, as such, should receive the liberal patronage and hearty co-operation of the citizens of Western Canada, as well as the support of people from Eastern Canada who desire to become associated with a strong and progressive Canadian Company.

When promoting this Company the Directors were fully convinced that there was a splendid opening in Western Canada for a Company prepared to carry on the business of Fire Insurance on a large and comprehensive scale, and which, at the same time, could offer ADEQUATE PROTECTION TO BOTH POLICYHOLDERS AND SHAREHOLDERS. Accordingly, when making application for a Dominion charter, the Company was incorporated with a capital of $3,000,000.00, of which amount the Directors decided to offer for public subscription the sum of $2,000,000.00.

THE ALL-IMPORTANT FEATURE IN FIRE INSURANCE IS PROTECTION, and with the LARGE CAPITAL, combined with the high standard of Reserve, which will be maintained through careful selection of risks and profits from judicious investments, the Directors and Management feel confident that this Company will be accorded a very hearty reception by Canadian citizens, and will soon rank as one of the leading Fire Companies.

WITHOUT A LARGE AND SUBSTANTIAL CAPITAL FOR THE PROTECTION OF THE POLICYHOLDERS, A FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY IS SERIOUSLY HANDICAPPED, AND DOES NOT AFFORD THE POLICYHOLDER THAT PROTECTION TO WHICH HE IS JUSTLY ENTITTLED, and the Directors of this Company, being fully aware of this most important fact, are adopting a very wise policy in OFFERING FOR SUBSCRIPTION SUCH A LARGE AMOUNT OF CAPITAL STOCK, and when our entire stock is subscribed and paid in full it will represent the largest amount of subscribed and paid-up capital of any Canadian Fire Insurance Company, and will be a tower of strength and of very material benefit to the company in carrying on its extensive operations.

It shall be the policy of the Company to use the UTMOST DISCRETION in the selection of desirable risks, and, at the same time, to so widely distribute its business that any danger arising from a possible conflagration at any point may be reduced to a minimum.

The investment of the Company's funds will be given the GREATEST OF CARE AND ATTENTION by the Board of Directors.

Only GILT-EDGE securities will be considered, such as first mortgages on improved, productive real estate, stocks, bonds and debentures of companies of high repute, as well as Dominion securities and municipal, county and school debentures of well-established districts.

As a LARGE PERCENTAGE of these securities is READILY NEGOTIABLE, the Company will have abundant LIQUID ASSETS to meet any possible contingency that might arise.

Our first mortgage investments will be confined to Western Canada, and as the rate of interest obtainable on first-class productive real estate is FULLY TWO PER CENT. greater in the West than in Eastern Canada, the Company will have a DECIDED ADVANTAGE over Companies operating exclusively in the older portions of the Dominion. A fixed policy of the Company is to loan NOT MORE THAN FIFTY PER CENT. of a conservative value of the property, and to stipulate for a definite return of principal, together with interest, each year during the term of the loan. With these periodical repayments of principal, and with land values in Western Canada steadily increasing, the Company's first mortgage securities will continue to improve year by year.

With the active development in Western Canada, a great deal of capital will be required for many years to come, and the Company will, therefore, experience a very ready demand for its funds on high-grade securities and at a profitable rate of interest.

The Directors decided to issue the stock at the price of ONE HUNDRED AND FIFTEEN DOLLARS PER SHARE, being at a premium of fifteen per cent.

THE TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION ARE:

On application, $25.00 per share, which shall include the premium of $15.00 per share, and the balance, payable in ten consecutive half-yearly instalments of $9.00 per share, the first of such half-yearly instalments to become due and payable six months from date of allotment of shares.

GENERAL AGENT FOR CANADA,
W. E. FUDGER, ESQ.

THIS IS A RARE OPPORTUNITY to secure some of the Capital Stock of a Western Fire Insurance Company. With a large amount of desirable and profitable business so readily obtainable by the Company through its valuable and extensive business connections, rapid progress should be made, and with investments carefully selected and unexcelled in earning power, the Company will be enabled to not only pay substantial dividends, but build up a large reserve, and thereby materially increase the value of the stock.

The Directors firmly believe in the policy that EVERY SHAREHOLDER SHOULD CO-OPERATE WITH THE MANAGEMENT of a Company and take an active interest in its welfare. For that reason, it is their intention to WIDELY DISTRIBUTE the CAPITAL STOCK, and by that means obtain the support of the leading business and professional men throughout the country.

With the rapid development of the West during recent years, involving an outlay of many millions of capital, it has become generally recognized that WESTERN CANADA IS VERY MUCH IN NEED OF MORE LARGE FINANCIAL INSTITUTIONS, AND ESPECIALLY OF WESTERN ORIGIN, to properly meet the growing requirements of the West, and to not only improve the present financial situation, but to materially assist in retaining, as much as possible, desirable business, with its resultant profits, within our own Western borders.

The business of fire insurance has now grown to such large proportions that it has become a very important factor in the financial and commercial world, and as its scope and influence is so general and widespread it is only natural to find that the question of AMPLE PROTECTION TO POLICYHOLDERS, which is the PRIMARY FUNCTION OF FIRE INSURANCE COMPANIES, should be so GENERALLY DISCUSSED AT THE PRESENT TIME.

This important subject has given rise to a very STRONG FEELING in Western Canada that the TIME HAS NOW ARRIVED when the Western people should organize a Fire Insurance Company of such strength and proportions that it will soon rank as one of the leading fire companies of America, and command general respect and confidence, which is so ESSENTIAL to a company that solicits the support and patronage of all classes of the community.

The Directors have every confidence that they will receive the hearty co-operation of not only Western citizens, but of people from every part of the Dominion, to build up a GREAT fire insurance company with AMPLE PROTECTION for the people, and which will be a source of pride and credit to our country.

The following Canadian Government Insurance statistics should prove of ESPECIAL INTEREST:

In the year 1880 the total amount of fire premiums collected in Canada was $1,785,539.00, whereas in the year 1909 the total premiums charged amounted to the large sum of $29,293,636.25, and of this amount $6,551,644.41 was charged by Canadian Companies, $11,518,267.45 by British Companies, and $4,223,721.39 by American Companies.

During the last forty-one years the aggregate amount of fire insurance premiums collected in Canada reached the immense total of $280,740,466.00, of which the large sum of $218,310,047.00 represents the amount of fire premiums collected by FOREIGN COUNTRIES, and which, therefore, was taken out of the country to build up foreign companies and enrich foreign shareholders.

Notwithstanding that a considerable portion of the fire premiums collected in Canada by Foreign Companies has been repaid to Canadian policyholders, through fire losses, it must be evident that the larger the proportion of Canadian fire insurance that is placed with Canadian Companies, the larger is the amount of capital retained in the Dominion and always available for investment purposes, to build up our Canadian financial institutions, and thereby add to the general wealth and prosperity of our country.

The above figures are most significant and clearly demonstrate that while the CANADIAN FIRE COMPANIES have been doing a satisfactory business they HAVE SECURED only a SMALL portion of the Fire Insurance transacted in Canada, or, to be more exact, ONLY TWENTY-TWO PER CENT. of THE TOTAL FIRE INSURANCE WRITTEN IN CANADA, covering a period of the last forty-one years. With the extraordinary progress which Canada has been making during recent years, the field for financial institutions has become so widely extended that there is a CONSTANTLY INCREASING DEMAND for new large financial corporations.

By further reference to our Government statistics it will be observed that at December 31st, 1909, the total number of Canadian Fire Companies operating under Dominion charter was ONLY TWENTY-ONE, and of this number ONLY TWO HAD A PAID-UP CAPITAL IN EXCESS OF $500,000.

In promoting this large Canadian Company the Directors are fully confident that the new organization will, with characteristic Western energy and enterprise, soon come to be recognized as an important factor in the insurance world, and as The Canada National Fire will be instrumental in RETAINING WITHIN THE BOUNDARIES OF CANADA a large amount of money which would otherwise be taken out of the country to build up foreign corporations the people of the growing Dominion will readily see the advisability of giving this Company their MORAL AND FINANCIAL SUPPORT, in order that we may build up a STRONG and VIGOROUS Company which will prove a valuable acquisition to our Canadian monetary institutions.

This is the last opportunity to secure, direct from the Company, some of this desirable stock.

It is worthy of special note that the demand for the stock has exceeded the Directors' most sanguine expectations; in fact, of the $2,000,000 of stock to be issued, $1,650,000 has already been subscribed, and, from present indications, with the large number of applications for stock being received daily, the Directors are confident that the balance of the issue, which is now only $350,000, will be subscribed by August 26th, 1911, the date appointed for the closing of stock subscriptions.

For this reason, the Directors strongly recommend the investing public to mail their applications for stock at their earliest possible opportunity.

Subscribers are requested to kindly fill in attached application form, stating name in full, number of shares desired, occupation and address, and mail the application, along with the first call of Twenty-five Dollars ($25.00) per share on the stock, direct to the Head Office of the Company, Winnipeg, Man., or, if so desired, application may be made for the stock at any of the Company's Branch Offices or at any Branch of the Royal or Imperial Banks, where application blanks and any additional information will be readily furnished. Applications for stock will be considered in the order received, and on approval of the same by the Board of Directors a certificate for the number of shares subscribed will be issued and mailed the shareholders forthwith. Cheques, Drafts, Money Orders or other remittances on account of stock subscriptions should be made payable to The Canada National Fire Insurance Company.

Smithson Institution Gets Canada Specimens

Four Naturalists Explored Wild Country Surrounding Mount Robson for Months.

Washington, D. C., November 1.—The Smithsonian Institution gets nine hundred specimens from the Canadian wilds. The Smithsonian party which accompanied Dr. A. O. Wheeler, president of the Alpine Club of Canada, on his topographic survey of the British Columbia-Alberta boundary line and the Mount Robson region, has just returned to Washington after a successful tour.

The new collection is quite complete, and covers practically all the birds and animals inhabiting this previously unworked territory.

The party, consisting of four members, included the assistant curator of Mammals and Mr. J. H. Riley, of the division of birds of the National Museum.

Assembling at Edmonton, Alberta, early in July, the party proceeded on the Grand Trunk Pacific railroad to the end of the line, where they found it necessary to take pack horses to penetrate the Mount Robson region. The land to be surveyed included the territory lying about this mountain in the heart of the Canadian Rockies, comprising the most rugged and broken country imaginable.

Amid this wonderful scenery Mount Robson rises in titanic outline the highest peak in the Rockies, probably between 14,500 and 15,000 feet, and surrounding it for a distance of fifty miles in all directions lies the field of survey.

In this wild and unclaimed country the party of naturalists remained nearly four months, protected by special permits from the Canadian Government. The natural history work was divided up, Mr. Hollister and Mr. Riley collecting the birds and small animals, while the other two collectors hunted big game.

The collection includes some 900 specimens of birds and mammals, the latter ranging in size from mole-like creatures called "H. H. Rews," to full grown caribous and bears. One enormous grizzly bear was obtained by a fortunate shot. Much fine material for exhibition groups was secured, including a series of caribous, mountain goats, mountain sheep, beavers, and many varieties of small animals.

Besides birds and mammals, a large number of plants and insects were collected. All the specimens have been turned over to the National Museum, where they will be put on exhibition.—Montreal Star, Nov. 1, 1911.

THE DEATH TRAP OF THE AGES

Californian Tar-Pool has Revealed More Regarding Pre-Historic Animal Life than any other Source on Record.

The amazing assortment of mastodon specimens at the University of California at Berkeley have been drawn mostly from the well-known oil sump at Rancho la Brea, near Los Angeles. In this pool, widely described as the death trap of the ages, there have been dug up from the asphalt beds a vast number of skulls and remains of prehistoric creatures. As an active collection agency the tar pool was more efficient than the best fly trap ever invented. In digging through the asphalt, the geologists in one spot encountered the bones of not less than seven sabre-toothed tigers. In two cubic yards of material seventeen perfect skulls of the sabre-tooth were discovered. Besides this, there were unearthed one complete skeleton and four perfect skulls of a great prehistoric wolf. Indeed, the tar pool has revealed more of the history of the prehistoric animal life of California than any other source.

For nearly half a century the asphalt deposits that stretch through the region of the Los Angeles tar pool were known to contain hundreds of bones, but no investigator had a suspicion of what the bones were. In 1875 Major Hancock, owner of the Rancho la Brea, gave William Denton one of the huge fossil sabres that he had found in the asphalt. Mr. W. W. Orcutt, a noted Californian geologist, recognized the bones as those of prehistoric animals.

The Second Largest

Moosejaw is likely to have further rush of capital in course of next spring and rumor tells that the C. P. R. will lurk around the top-lines on the list of labor-employers.

At present several new tracks are being laid down, and the cash expenditure means considerable heap of bank balance to the credit of the gentlemen who hand groceries and things across the counter, the payroll for the small army totting up to over $200,000 per month.

Here, by the way, is located the second largest individual railway yard in the world — a yard containing over 40 miles of tracks and an engine house housing three dozen locomotives. The cattle yards are the largest between Calgary and Winnipeg.

Work Without Worrying

A man who can work without worrying can stand almost any amount of it and keep in tip-top condition. The college athletics by which we set so much store merely touch the surface. As often as not the crack caraman or half-back is the first to break under the strain of business. In modern conditions, except for manual labourers, a man's power of resistance lies not in his muscles but in his nerves. And for sound nerves — in spite of materialistic science — one should bank more upon a state of mind than upon a state of body. In a large way, not to worry means not to take yourself too seriously; to keep a sense of proportion by which, after all, you appear as merely a transitory dot.

Bohemian Summer Resorts.

According to the latest statistics about $40,045,000 is expended each year by visitors from foreign countries who take the "cure" at the natural mineral spring resorts in western Bohemia, along the Erzebirge (Ore Mountains.)

This does not include the sum spent by foreign transient visitors who stop for less than eight days or by those from the various crown lands. The grand total is not less than $45,000,000 to $50,000,000.

Some idea of the volume of business transacted at the great Bohemian spas may be deduced from the fact that the railroad office in Marienbad, which has a resident population of 6,279, receives from outbound passengers for transportation tickets alone, exclusive of baggage receipts, $400,000 annually.

The post office in the same city turns over to the government after payment of all expenses a net profit of a like amount. These figures can be multiplied by three of Carlsbad. The three resorts depending on their natural mineral springs for cure purposes (Carlsbad, Marienbad and Franzenbad) pay $912,500 annually in direct taxes exclusive of the special assessments

WANTED BACK THE PRESENTS

Thrifty Young Man of Massachussets Makes a Legal Effort to Recover the Price of Presents Made to a Sweetheart.

New Bedford, Mass., seems to have the unenviable distinction of owning the meanest man who has come into the light of publicity in recent times. He is a well-to-do young man, and he can now claim to be prominent as well.

For three years he "paid considerable attention" to a young school teacher. He waited too long before attempting to clinch matters, for before he got around to talk matrimony a rival had appeared, and his offer was refused.

Although unfortunate in love, he was thrifty, for he demanded the return of the presents he had made. "This," says the teacher, "I was only too glad to do, giving him back a ring a bracelet, a neck-chain and several other articles. I thought that ended the affair."

It did not, for the thrifty young man found that he was still out on presents exactly $29.16, and in order to recover that amount he instituted legal proceedings and had the teacher's salary attached.

The man who can calculate the value of presents to a sweet-heart down to sixteen cents has a soul of about that size.

NOT LUSTING FOR WARFARE

Modern Science has made Warfare so Repulsive that Nations Don't Care to Rush Up-Handed to the Blood Game.

"All this ebullition of national pride in things military and naval, not only in France, but in England and Germany, would make us think that we are all lusting for war," says a recent writer in T. P.'s Weekly. "But such is not the case," he goes on to argue. "The fact is we are all afraid of it. We build these great ships, we shriek about them, we show them off, but the desire at the back of our minds is that the effect of such procedure shall be to check the desire of our opponents to fight. We are scared out of our wits at the thought of having to send our much-vaunted leviathans into battle. What, then, is to be the end of it all? We are by nature pugnacious, yet modern science has made warfare terrible enough to be repulsive to us. Can the prophecy of the heralds of a universal peace came true? Personally I do not think so; it is not in us to remain at peace with each other. But modern warfare will lead to complete international chaos, and eventual extermination. Shall we have to go back a few hundred years and ban modern explosives, which make one good shot worth a thousand times what it was in the old days, and take to archery, where one good shot means but one man dead; and the pike, which generally tests the worth of fighting men better than any "potting" from behind boulders? Mars has committed self-murder, but his sons are insane."

TO FIGHT BY MOTOR CAR

British War Office has Decided to get Level with the Times and will in Future Subsidise Suitable Automobiles.

The British War Office has decided to add motor wagons to the fighting outfit of the nation, and there will in future be a subsidy for suitable vehicles manufactured and owned by civilians. The scheme is to come into force pending the issue of the full terms under which the War Department will subsidise vehicles built to certain specifications.

The schedule of terms for enrolment under the provisional scheme divides petrol lorries into two classes —(a) Those capable of carrying a load of three tons, and (b) those capable of carrying a load of 30 cwt. The vehicles will only be purchased in case of national emergency, and will not be enrolled for hire purposes or manoeuvres. Motor lorries will be subsidised for a period of two years, and the owners will receive both an initial and an annual subsidy. The initial payment will be made when a wagon is first enrolled, with an annual subsidy of $75 half-yearly after satisfactory inspection, provided the conditions governing the payment are complied with.

What's in a Name!

There is a bandit chief in Morocco named Gilulli. He claims as his ancestor an Irishman of the name of Gilhooly, who was caught and enslaved by Arab freebooters some two or three hundred years ago. Of course Gilulli is agin the government of Morocco.

A Des Moines man had an attack of muscular rheumatism in his shoulder. A friend advised him to go to Hot Springs. That meant an expense of $150.00 or more. He sought for a quicker and cheaper way to cure it and found it in Chamberlain's Liniment. Three days after the first application of this liniment he was well. For sale by all dealers.

NONE ARE MADE IN PANAMA

The Hat of the Name is not Made in Panama, the Material Not Being a Product of that Country.

It is not generally known that the popular head-gear known as the "Panama" hat is not made in the Republic of Panama, but in Peru, Ecuador, and Colombia, and that the material, the "toquilla" straw, is exclusively an Ecuadorian product. The city of Panama was, and is yet to some extent, a trading centre for this article, hence the name. In an article on the subject in "Peru To-Day" it is stated that these hats are waterproof and sunproof, and can be roughly handled and washed many times. The finest grades of hats are made in Ecuador. The material used is toquilla straw, which is obtained from the leaves of a squatty plant of the palm family.

The manufacture is carried on in the homes of the weavers and taken to the wholesale dealers on certain market days. They work about six to eight hours every day, fine hats being made only in the early morning or evening hours, when there is greater humidity; while the coarser grades are woven at any time. The quality and value of the hats depend upon their weight, evenness, compactness, and colour.

In Ecuador, where the finest hats are made, it is not uncommon for the wealthy planters to wear hats valued at one hundred sucres, about $50 and many fancy prices have been paid for specially made hats, particularly when used as gifts to princes or potentates.

Until within the last few years, when these hats came into fashion, the prices they brought, outside of their district and within the tropics, were entirely out of proportion to their real value. This was due chiefly to the difficulty in getting the hats direct and in suitable styles.

SUN STILL GOOD FOR LONG TIME

Learned Gentleman Gives the World Guarantee that after 50 Million Years Service, Old Sol is None the Worse for Wear.

Mr. Charles G. Abbott, director of the Astrophysical Observatory of the Smithsonian Institution at Washington, has advanced the theory that the sun is composed of a gaseous or vaporous substance, except in the spots. He holds that the temperature is too great to permit its being in a solid or liquid condition. As the temperature attributed to the sun, 6,500 degrees absolute, would melt any known substance, it seems only reasonable to believe this statement. He further states that the specific gravity is too low to permit the sun's mass being other than gaseous.

The visible part of the sun is in the form of a gaseous shell, known as the photosphere. It is clear and incandescent, due to the great temperature. Although it is theoretically probable that the diameter of the sun is slowly decreasing at a certain rate, due to radiation and contraction, it cannot be decided practically as it would take 10,000 years to cause an appreciable change in the solar diameter. Even after transmitting energy to the earth, in the form of light and heat, through some 93,000,000 miles of space, during a period of about 50,000,000 years, the sun is apparently none the worse for wear.

When the Band Played

To the Hon. L. A. Frothingham, Lieutenant-Governor of Massachusetts belongs the distinction of having hit upon a plan for defeating the suffragettes who put their trust in noise.

Among the Berkshire hills Mr. Frothingham and other candidates on the Republican State ticket have been pursued by Miss Margaret Foley, of Boston, and her party of young women in automobiles. They attended the Republican meetings for the purpose of interrupting. Against their shouts Mr. Frothingham has matched the noise-producing powers of a village brass band, and the band has been winning right along. True, there can be no speaking while the suffragettes are shouting and the band playing, but, all the same, it is very discouraging to the suffragettes to find their voices drowned by the vigorous notes of trombone and bass-drum.

He Knew Better

A mission worker in New York tells of a youngster who had never been to "the country" until the occasion of a "fresh air" excursion whereof he was a member.

One day this lad was seen closely examining a certain trim, well made object on the farm. He stared at it for a while and then shook his head dubiously.

"What are you looking at, son?" asked the farmer.

"Where's the doors and windows?" inquired the boy.

"Doors and windows? Why, that's not a house; it's a haystack."

"Excuse me, pop!" returned the youngster. "You can't string me that way. Hay doesn't grow in humps like that."

TURKEY AND THE POWERS.

Emperor William's utterances with regard to the spread of Mahometanism in the German colonies in East Africa will still further widen the growing breach between Germany and Turkey. He referred to the spread of the Islamic religion as a dangerous menace, and urged upon Bishop Muensch, the head of the German Catholic missions in East Africa the necessity for energetic Christian missionary work to counteract its influence. Coming at a time when Turkey is at war with Italy, and following closely upon Germany's failure to intervene in this war, these utterances of the Kaiser will surely antagonize the Ottoman administration.

German diplomats have labored for years and with much success to strengthen German influence in Constantinople. The Turkish army has been trained by German officers. German bankers negotiated Turkey's last loan. German capital is interested in most of the big improvements initiated since the Young Turks have been in power. The Turks were wont to refer to the Kaiser as the "Protector of Islam" before the outbreak of the present war.

When Turkey recently appealed to England to aid her in preserving the integrity of the Ottoman Empire "in accordance with England's traditional policy," England answered that recent events have changed its policy in this regard. The English foreign office recalled the events of 1908 and 1909, when it had vainly offered intervention to preserve this integrity. Turkey at that time preferred to relinquish Bosnia and Herzegovina and accept an indemnity. These negotiations were concluded after conferences in Vienna and Berlin in which England had no part, and England suggested that intervention in the present crisis would better come from one of these two capitals.

Turkey appealed to both with bitterly disappointing results. At the very outset of the brief negotiations which preceded the open break between Italy and Turkey, the Turkish press was unanimous in expressing the belief that Germany would intervene. The Young Turk put it this way: "Germany and Austria Hungary, Italy's allies, are about to play an important role. If peace is to be maintained, if there are to be no eruptions, if Turkey is to be preserved from deep humiliation and Italy is to be spared many complications, the German foreign ministry should intervene. Here German friendship will be put to the test. By intervening Germany will do nothing against the power with which it is allied by formal treaty; on the contrary, she will save it from a whole series of difficulties, she will preserve it, perhaps, from dangerous vicissitudes."

Germany and Austria have remained indifferent to Turkey's peril. Now the Kaiser adds injury to indifference by injudicious speech about Mahometanism. France and England are only waiting for an opportunity to gain what Germany seems likely to lose, and this desire on their part may hasten the end of the present war.

DENOMINATIONAL CO-OPERATION

In discussing the Laymen's Missionary Conventions, the Hamilton Herald says that the movement designed to arouse the interest of men in the missionary enterprises of the churches, and to utilize that interest in advancing missionary work, may be regarded as an indication of what might be accomplished in the way of church federation. Almost all the Protestant denominations are co-operating in this work. The men of the different denominations come together and consider ways and means of advancing the cause which they all have at heart. But a feature of the convention is the holding of separate meetings of the men of each denomination when the union meetings are over—no doubt for the purpose of giving practical effect, as much as possible, to the lessons learned at the general meetings.

Is it too much to say that these laymen's missionary conventions point to the practicability of denominational co-operation along other lines than missionary effort? May they not contain the germ of a larger movement for a federal union of the churches — a union which would respect the "local autonomy" of the denominations, while enabling them to co-operate freely and heartily in all activities for the advancement of the cause which is common to them all?

DISTRICT NEWS

APSLEY.

There was a large and enthusiastic meeting at the hall of wisdom. It became known that a distinguished brother from Sleepy Hollow, known as the Cattle King, would be at the meeting. Long before the opening hour nearly every member was present. At 8 o'clock sharp Anvil Jim, President, took the chair. Sandy, the Secretary, read the minutes of the last meeting, which were accepted. President Jim then declared the meeting open for the transaction of business. On motion it was decided to leave all business until next regular meeting, as the visiting brother was then in the ante-room. Bass Tom and Fatty William were instructed to don their white kid gloves, put on their aprons, and bring the brother in. As the procession entered the hall, all present arose and sang "Welcome Weary Traveller." He was given a seat at the President's right hand, who made a few timely remarks as to the courtesy of giving the speaker a quiet hearing, and called on him for the speech. He arose with great dignity, put his chew of gum on the President's desk, drank a quart of water, and proceeded to give that great speech on cattle and sheep and also how to raise chickens with the least trouble, expense, or danger of detection. We noticed meaning looks pass between the President and Isaac when chickens were mentioned, and Benny got in a dark corner. In fact there was a general feeling of unrest among the members. The speech closed with a cordial invitation to as many as possible to meet him at Billy's restaurant after the meeting, where he would give practical instructions in picking, dressing and cooking fowl. The invitation was received with wild cheers and in the excitement Ha John upset the bucket of water into Uncle Billy's rubbers, who being so suddenly awakened from his second sleep hit Treasurer Si by mistake. Order being restored, and while the dues were being collected, the President showed the visitor around the hall and explained the meaning and uses of the various articles of interest, with which the hall was decorated. A vote of thanks was then tendered the distinguished visitor for his able and instructive address. All joined in singing "He's a Jolly Good Fellow." After getting Fatty out of the coal bin, where he had hid when chickens were mentioned, those who were not allowed out late went home, while others went to Billy's restaurant, where they were given a demonstration of chicken cooking both by sight and taste, and after it was all over nothing was left but a pile of bones.

Pig killing has been in order during the past week or so. Alfred had one that dressed 453 lbs., and Jim's was next, 307 lbs.

Graveyard Coughs and Colds

CURED QUICKLY BY CATARRHOZONE.

A cough or cold this season of the year paves the way for pneumonia or consumption. The best remedy is "Catarrhozone." It eases a cough in five minutes, and colds cannot exist but a few hours where it is used. Mrs. H. L. Chenowith, residing at Glendive, Montana, was worried by a "graveyard" cough. In the following letter she tells how Catarrhozone cured her in one week.

"I had a bad cough for several months last fall that settled on my lungs. I was worried very much to think that nothing I used could shake it off, but reading in the Halifax "Presbyterian Witness" of the wonderful cures Catarrhozone was effecting, I decided to try it. The irritability and soreness was taken out of my throat in a few days, and in less than one week it entirely cured my cough.

"It is with great gratitude and pleasure that I recommend Catarrhozone. I am sure it will benefit and cure all who use it."

(Signed) Mrs. H. L. Chenowith.

The reason Catarrhozone always cures is that it goes right to the sore spot, which it heals and makes well quickly. It is antiseptic and destroys disease germs in every part of the system. For Coughs, Colds and Bronchitis, nothing compares with Catarrhozone. It is very pleasant and simple to use, contains no injurious drugs, and is warranted perfectly safe to use. Catarrhozone Inhaler is suitable to use in a street car, theatre, church, any place, at any time. Complete outfit costs but $1, and is guaranteed to cure or your money back. Trial size 25c, sold by druggists, or The Catarrhozone Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

INNOCENT BUT DEAD

By Rufus Williams

The house in which Laurent Guillemot d'Anglade lived was a very large one, and — as was and is common in Paris — there were other inmates. The ground floor and that immediately over it were occupied by a certain Count and Countess de Montgommeri.

In the farther of the upper rooms was a small inner closet or strong room wherein the count and countess kept all their jewels and money. Count de Montgommeri, being of the ancient régime, had among his suite of attendants an "almoner," one Abbé François Gagnard.

Within a few months of the time of his coming there Count de Montgommeri received a large payment of money from the steward of his estate in a distant province.

Returning home the count and countess in due course sat down to supper in the salle-à-manger, and were still at table when their friend and neighbour, d'Anglade, came home at eleven o'clock.

The next morning the count, having occasion to go to his strong-box, found that it had been broken open and the entire contents carried away.

The strictest scrutiny — and the methods of the French police have never left anything to be desired in point of thoroughness—revealed nothing in the rooms they inhabited.

Just as the search through the great bare attics was on the point of being abandoned the commissary of police found in a remote corner, beneath an angle in the sloping roof, and within the recess of a deep dormer window, an old chest. In that, concealed under a heap of old wearing apparel and house-linen, was a rouleau of sixty louis-d'or. D'Anglade, interrogated immediately about this money, stammered and could give no account of it. Madame d'Anglade, confronted with the officials, denied all knowledge of it, and the Abbé gave his pious assurance that before leaving on the previous Monday in the train of the count he had double-locked the door, and that the key had never been out of his possession; with most singular forgetfulness omitting to state the fact that on his return he had found the door ajar.

The chief witnesses for the prosecution were the count's servants, and the good Abbé Gagnard, his almoner, who testified with meekness, and an evident regret, which endeared him to all who knew him, and inspired at least respect in those not so blessed.

Unfortunately, the most damaging evidence was actually obtained from his own demeanour and replies in the course of the merciless series of questions put to him as to his birth and source of income. He was not only confused, but greatly prevaricated; but it was made clear even by his own answers, that instead of being a gentleman of high birth and large fortune, his origin was obscure and mean, and upon this the court established the fact, apart from the present accusation, that he was simply at best a chevalier d'industrie.

It was therefore ordered that he be put to the "question ordinary"; and that if he continued contumacious the torture extraordinary" should be applied.

Accordingly, the "question ordinary," consisting of thumbscrews and gauntlets which with diabolical ingenuity compressed first the thumbs and then the entire hands and wrists until they were mere shapeless masses of bloody pulp and crushed bones was tried; and thereafter a gentle but firm course of the rack, which was applied till every sinew in the agonised frame cracked, and each individual joint was dislocated. Still the obstinate wretch declined to admit his guilt; and after a due interval, occupied in so far as practicable patching the crushed frame so that the "torture extraordinary" might bring him to a due sense of his exceeding guilt in refusing to acknowledge that the High Court of Justice knew better than he whether he had committed the crimes of which he lay accused, and he was condemned to the galleys for nine years, and his wife was banished from Paris for the like term.

Slightly over a year from the date of his sentence, d'Anglade died in the hospital at Marseilles, four months after his arrival at the galleys.

Hardly had the "High Justice of the King" had time to congratulate itself on the fact that this malefactor had met his doom, when some troublesome person commenced circulating anonymous letters in all directions, containing the statement that M. d'Anglade was entirely innocent of the crime for which he had died so miserably; that the real robbers of the Count de Montgommeri were one Vincent, alias Belestre, and the Abbé Gagnard the almoner of the count!

The prosecutor immediately ordered a certain Degrais, a famous secret agent of the day, to make inquiries, and it was ascertained that Peter Vincent, or Belestre, was the son of a poor tanner at Mans. Under the latter alias he had been, when serving as a soldier, tried and condemned to the galleys as accessory to the robbery and murder of a rich miller, and after serving his time and obtaining his release had entered on a career of burglary and highway robbery. Suddenly, however, and quite recently he had purchased a small estate in the neighbourhood of Mans, for which he had paid ten thousand livres.

The Abbé Gagnard proved to be the son of the gaoler to the prison at Mans, and when he first went to live at Paris had no means but what he made by saying masses at the Sainte Esprit.

The two men were arrested, and the evidence of the woman, La Comble who was Belestre's mistress, clearly proved that the robbery had been committed by the latter with false keys furnished by the Abbé Gagnard. Parliament solemnly pronounced a sentence which "rehabilitated the memory of d'Anglade and restored his wife. But all this did not bring back M. d'Anglade to life again.

WHAT CANADIANS ARE DOING

SIR WILLIAM WHYTE

Sir William Whyte, the retiring Vice-President of the Canadian Pacific Railway is perhaps the best known man in Western Canada. No man has been more prominently identified with the permanent expansion which follows in the wake of a railway than Mr. Whyte. He seems to be personally acquainted with practically every employee on the Canadian Pacific Railway and is well known to Railway men throughout the world. He is a firm believer in Canada's destiny, and it is interesting to hear him talk of the great future of this country. Years ago he predicted that the tide of immigration would turn to Western Canada when the possibilities of this country would be fully realised, and time has proven that his prophecy was correct.

SIR WILLIAM WHYTE,
"From Brakesman to Vice-President"

Mr. Whyte is a firm believer in young men and young ideas and although he himself has retired from active life he still has the vigor and optimism of youth.

Mr. Whyte was born at Charlestown, Fifeshire, Scotland, Sept. 15th., 1843. He received his early education in the public schools at Charlestown and commenced his railway career with the North British Ry., in 1861. After two years service he came to Canada, but it was not until 1865 that he entered railway service here. For a few months he was a freight brakeman on the G. T. R. at Cobourg, Ont. being transferred to Toronto in the same year. Since then he has been, to 1867, freight clerk G. T. R. Toronto; 1867 to 1870 yardmaster same road Toronto; 1870 to 1871 night station agent same road Toronto; 1971 to 1874 freight and station agent same road Stratford Ont. 1874 to 1881 in charge of G. T. R. business London Ont.; 1881 in charge of freight offices and sheds same road Toronto; Nov. 1881 to Sept. 1883, Assistant Superintendent Central Division same road, Sept. 1883 to Aug. 1884 General Superintendent Toronto, Grey and Bruce Ry., and Aug. 1884 on the amalgamation of the T.G.& B.Ry with the C.P.R. to May 1885 General Superintendent Ontario Division C. P. R.; May 1885 to 1886 General Superintendent Eastern and Ontario Divisions same road; 1886 to May 1887 General Superintendent Western Division same road; Winnipeg; May 1887 to Apr. 1901 Manager C. P. R. lines west of Fort William to the Pacific Coast; Apr. 1901 to Dec. 1903 Assistant to the President, and in Dec. 1903, he was appointed Second Vice-President, in general charge of the maintainence and operation of Western lines and, under the President's direction, of the administration of the Company's affairs in the territory between Lake Superior and the Pacific Coast, while in June 1910, on the abolition of the numerical designations to the titles of Vice-President, he became Vice-President with the same duties.

While Sir William has retired from the active control of the Western lines of the C. P. R. the railway still has the benefit of his valuable services on the Board of Directors to which he has been elected.

GEORGE LAWRENCE
Manitoba's New Minister of Agriculture.

The promotion of Hon. Robt. Rogers minister of public works, to the Dominion cabinet demanded a change in the provincial line-up, and in making this change the powers that be deemed it wise to make other changes including the appointment of a minister of agriculture and immigration, who will devote all his time to the needs of these important departments. The new minister, George Lawrence, of Killarney, is in close touch with practical agriculture; he also is a shrewd man of integrity. In short he can be depended upon to find weak spots and to fight for what is essential in putting Manitoba's department of agriculture in such shape that it will compare favorably with the same department in other provinces.

Hon. Mr. Lawrence assumed control of the department of agriculture at a time when he has an opportunity to do something that will write his name big on the pages of Manitoba's history as far as agriculture is concerned. No matter how strong a cabinet minister is he needs a strong deputy; he shows his size best by being satisfied only with the best that is available.

The Province now has a minister of agriculture whose time is not occupied by other duties; next, suggests "The Farmer's Advocate," should come a brand new deputy. The new minister and a capable deputy will not require many months in sizing up the situation and appointing strong men in offices now in existence, or creating new departments required for looking after the interests of agriculturists of the province.

Cross-Firing

Many are the stories told of "Bobs." Here is one of the best (says a "Daily News" writer), although I do not vouch for its accuracy. He was watching the firing at Bisley and noticed two or three errors on the part of the markers. So he went to the telephone and rang up the officer in charge. "The marking is very bad," he observed. "It's the best you'll get," retorted the officer. "Do you know who I am?" sternly demanded Lord Roberts. "No, I don't." "I am Lord Roberts." "Well, I am Lord Wolseley," came the reply. Lord Roberts loves a joke, but how he took this one is not recorded.

UNDER THE TWINKLING STARS

By Catherine MacDougal

Twenty years ago when Mathilde Westley was a girl in her teens, she, too, with her mother, father, sisters and brother, had lived in Lexington, and the Longwoods and Westleys were like twin families. But one by one the parents and sisters had passed away, leaving Miss Mathilde and her brother sole survivors. After a few years of dreary lingering in the old home they had drifted to Glendale, where Jake Westley had built up a flourishing little mercantile business.

A little later had come also the Peabodys and pitched their tent near the pretty rose-sheathed cottage. But for the circumstance Miss Mathilde might have been contented, even fairly happy. Her life was full of congenial, healthy tasks which she performed with as much cheerfulness as she did thoroughness, each day standing forth as its own bright monument of reward.

If only there had never been a Russell Peabody! Every day, for fourteen years, she had been forced to see him three times, four — sometimes five, as he passed in and out of the gate across the way going back and forth to his work.

For just a little while, many years ago, the sun of happiness had shone upon Miss Mathilde's life. It was in the days when she was a Vassar girl and he a student at Harvard. They had met, fallen desperately in love, exchanged vows and rings — only to find on their return from college that a bitter feud had existed between the Westleys and the Peabodys for scores of years. That marked the end of Mathilde Westley's brief love-dream, and Russell Peabody settled down as an old bachelor almost before he was a man. Thus the years drifted.

This morning Miss Mathilde was busy with her dust-cloth, interrupting herself every little while in the cleaning to run back to the kitchen and glance at the preserves sizzling in a big copper kettle.

"Put on a fresh white apron right away, Kitty, and take this over to the little brown house on the other corner where the Longwoods live. Tell them that Miss Mathilde sent it—for 'Auld Lang Syne' — can you remember that?" Then she added to herself:

Now there were two little brown houses across the way and each of them stood on a corner. Also, Kitty was a new maid and it was not unnatural that she should have selected the wrong place. Miss Mathilde was so deeply engrossed in the bottling process that she did not even look up as the girl went out of the gate.

Russell Peabody, by some peculiar circumstance, sat in his study looking over the contents of an old cabinet-drawer he had not opened for many years. He held in his hand a faded knot of pink ribbon—one that she had worn that night of their betrothal — and his face was less ruddy than its wont as he recalled the sweet memories of their short-lived happiness and the bitter thoughts of all the drab years that followed.

The sharp peal of the door-bell brought him to his feet. All of them were away for the Summer, not even a servant was in the house, and he answered the ring himself.

A look of surprise came into his face at sight of the trim, strange maid, but he took the dish from her hands with a smile of appreciation. Probably some neighborly friend of the family, pitying his bachelorhood, had sent it over.

"From Miss Westley — Miss Mathilde, sir — for the sake of "Auld Lang Syne," she said." A moment later, Kitty was out of the gate and Russell Peabody stood staring into the space through which she had disappeared, and as he stared, a radiant hope awoke in his eyes. For one second he knew what is termed 'mad, delirious bliss.' What if she had meant that there was no Past? That she wanted him again all he used to be — at her side? That she cared, even as he had, more and more through all the lonely years that had divided them? Was she clearing the road for him at last? The road for which he longed, but lacked the courage to take.

After a while he closed the door and went back into his study. With trembling hands, he gathered up all his treasures and locked them back in the cabinet — all but the faded knot of ribbon. This he wrapped carefully in a piece of paper and wrote across the back of it:

"Will you wear it this evening — for 'Auld Lang Syne?'"

Afterward, he went out in the street and stopped a boy who was coming along with some papers. He gave him the package, thrust a half-dollar into his hand and pointed the way to Miss Mathilde's cottage.

The day hung heavy on Russell Peabody's hands. Would she wear the pink ribbon? Or was her overture of the morning simply an act of neighborly kindness? When night came, he dressed himself more carefully than he had done for a score of years. He discarded the usual black tie for one one of less sober hue and flicked imaginary specks of dust from his broadcloth lapels at least a dozen times. He looked at himself a bit uncertainly in the glass. But after all, forty-three was not so very old, and Time had traced no unflattering lines on his keen, good-looking face.

At 8 o'clock he left the house and walked rapidly, without looking up, till he came to Miss Mathilde's gate. The high fence was tangled in clematis and he did not see her at all till his hand rested on the latch. She was dressed all over in white, with a white rose nestling at her throat — above a faded knot of pink ribbon.

"Mathilde!" A vivid light leapt to his face, illumining it.

She answered by a quick flash of her eyes, and he, reading love's language in them, held out his arms.

She went to him with a little something between a sob and a laugh and he kissed her softly under the twinkling November stars.

The Party in Possession

A matron of the most determined character was encountered by a young woman reporter on a country paper, who was sent out to interview leading citizens as to their politics.

"May I see Mr——?" she asked of a stern-looking woman who opened the door at one house.

"No, you can't," answered the matron, decisively.

"But I want to know what party he belongs to," pleaded the girl.

The woman drew up her tall figure. "Well, take a good look at me," she said. "I'm the party he belongs to!"

Animal Love.

Mother love is universal, and there is no love like the mother love. Most of the high and lofty loving in this world is done by mothers. Apart from this the work of wooing falls to the male members of the family whether it be the human family or some one of the other animal tribes. We read how, ages ago, a Bulbul, or Oriental Nightingale, wooed a white rose until it blushed red, and that was the beginning of the red rose. The Spanish Cavalier stands out in the rain and serenades his "Dulce Mia" until there is a crick in his neck, while she sits sheltered in a window above.

The cackle of the loon may be a love song for all we know. Maybe that's what made him loony in the first place.

The wild moose bellows his passion across the lake, and as likely as not the answering call is from a bark horn in the hands of a hunter, luring him to death.

It seems a sizzling shame, but if you will take a Grand Trunk train and travel into the "Highlands of Ontario" you will find men doing that very thing; arguing, doubtless, that all is fair in love and war.

We offer an exceptionally attractive investment in the stock of a conservative Company, just organized, which controls 3560 acres, in the midst of the big producing section of the field. We are confident we can convince any one of the merits of the enterprise, and we want you to

INVESTIGATE

It will only cost you two cents to secure maps, booklet, and full description of what we have to offer. The stock is being sold for the purpose of drilling the property. Oil is now being produced on all four sides of this property. We will give you every opportunity to investigate the proposition itself and the officers in charge of its affairs. SPEND A WEEK AT ALGONQUIN.

The popularity of the Algonquin National Park, Ontario, has been pronounced this year, and it has been necessary to use at least 25 large tents as an auxiliary to the accommodation of the Highland Inn, at Algonquin National Park Station.

Most people return to their homes in the early part of September, but as this is one of the most delightful months in this territory, those who can make it convenient are advised to spend a week or two there. The hotel is also open all the winter and with the bracing air of this locality (1700 ft. above the sea) a most delightful sojourn can be spent even in the winter months.

A handsome illustrated booklet may be had on this territory upon application to Mr. A. E. Duff, Union Station, Toronto, Ont.

When you have a billious attack give Chamberlain's Tablets a trial. They are excellent. For sale by all dealers.

You will find that druggists everywhere speak well of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. They know from long experience in the sale of it that in cases of coughs and colds it can always be depended upon, and that it is pleasant and safe to take. For sale by all dealers.

Is your husband cross? An irritable, fault finding disposition is often due to a disordered stomach. A man with good digestion is nearly always good natured. A great many have been permanently cured of stomach trouble by taking Chamberlain's Tablets. For sale by all dealers.

J. W. Copeland, of Dayton, Ohio, purchased a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for his boy who had a cold, and before the bottle was all used the boy's cold was gone. Is that not better than to pay a five dollar doctor's bill? For sale by all dealers.

PAINFUL ACCIDENT.

Lad Injured While Hunting.

While out hunting with several of his companions on Thanksgiving Day George James, of 505 Sherbrooke street was the victim of a painful accident. One of the party stumbled over a stump and having his finger on the trigger of the gun, discharged it, with the result that George, who was standing nearby received the shot in his leg. When he was taken home, Drs. Young and Bowsher were called. They extracted the bullet which had passed right through the bone. The boy is now doing nicely.

Real Estate, Mining and Industrial Investments

HOW $100 GREW TO $31620

The value and importance of any enterprise must be based on the profits and dividends it can earn. In this respect the Midway Maple Leaf Oil Company, Limited, is without a parallel in the line of investments.

It combines the attractive factors which are needed to make the perfect investment—viz., safety, large earning capacity and low cost of the stock at the start. It is not at all uncommon for oil stocks to begin at a few cents a share and jump to hundreds of dollars a share—sometimes thousands.

	Started at	Has Sold at
Central	10 cents	$2.10
Monte Cristo	10 cents	$4.00
Lucile	10 cents	$16.00
Silver Tip	25 cents	$4.00
San Francisco and McKittrick	40 cents	$28.00
Kern River	50 cents	$8.75
Peerless	50 cents	$8.75
Puente	$10.00	$150.00
Home	$10.00	$5000.00

This list, taken from San Francisco and Los Angeles Stock Exchange records, could be added to almost indefinitely.

Fortunes have been made from stock increases. stock is $200, YOUR YEARLY PROFIT ON AN INVESTMENT OF $300.

When we have ten wells sunk you can reasonably figure on AN ANNUAL PROFIT ON YOUR HOLDINGS OF $2000.

$2000 A YEAR. DOESN'T THIS APPEAL

Many a case could be cited similar to that of Richard Ellis, clerk in a store in Los Angeles, whose investment of $100 became worth $31,620 in a short time. There are hundreds of such cases in Los Angeles alone.

$2000.00 Profit a Year

Do you realize that stock in the Midway Maple Leaf Oil Company, Limited, at the present price of 30 cents a share is not merely the opportunity of the year—IT IS THE OPPORTUNITY OF A LIFETIME.

If you have $10, $50, $100 or $500 YOU SIMPLY CAN NOT AFFORD TO PASS IT UP.

If we develop only a 1000 barrel well of 26 gravity oil, this production alone will be sufficient to enable the corporation to pay a dividend of 20 per cent. and at the same time have sufficient capital to continue the drilling of wells.

1000 shares of stock at the present price of 30c costs only $300.

20 per cent. dividend on the par value of the TO YOU? Wouldn't you like to be coming up to this office every three months and getting your dividend cheque for $500?

Remember, too, that your stock holdings in Midway Maple Leaf, if you should want to sell them should be worth $18,000 or sixty times the amount of your original investment.

Consider These Facts

The Midway Maple Leaf Oil Company is working in proven gusher territory, the richest oil zone in the world, controlling 40 acres on one-eighth royalty, with the great advantage of the option to purchase at only $1250 per acre after oil is struck, and the ground must then be worth at least $5000 per acre. This means a clean profit of $150,000 over purchase price. It has been demonstrated completely by gushers on adjoining Standard and Honolulu ground, that this portion of the Midway field is not only the richest portion of the whole district, but that it produces the highest grade of oil found in the entire vicinity, and worth 20 per cent. more per barrel at the well.

$30 cash, or $6 down and $6 a month for four months, buys 100 shares.

$60 cash, or $12 down and $12 a month for four months, buys 200 shares.

$120 cash, or $24 down and $24 a month for four months, buys 400 shares.

$480 cash, or $96 down and $96 a month for four months, buys 1600 shares.

Daughter of the Rain.

It is because it is so human that the river is the most sympathetic water in all Nature, writes F. G. Aflalo in "Behind the Ranges". The sea is too boisterous, the lake too languid. It is the river which somewhere between the high tops and the seashore, has qualities to suit our every mood. Its rapids sing of hurry, change, and ocean travel, rousing the 'Wanderlust'; its lily-grown backwaters bring sweet content to those who stay at home..... The river is grandchild of the ocean and daughter of the rains. The mountains are its cradle..... The river, like the ocean, has a voice peculiarly its own, loudest near its cradle, more subdued when drowned in the mightier outcry of the sea. Its voice betrays its mood. Swollen with the pride of melting snows or heavy rains, it makes deafening clamour; but it murmurs only incoherently at the summer solstice, and falls silent in the iron grip of frost.... The river is a creature of light. It dazzles in the sun: it gleams like molten silver in the moonlight. Even with the land in darkness, it seems like some endless band of luminous paint, to emit a mystic light stored during the day, for it is rare to find absolute darkness on the face of water, still or running. Night on a great river is unforgettable.

MORE THAN SEVENTEEN

It is on promise that in course of the coming winter the Canadian Pacific Railway will spend a considerable sum of money in making extensions to its chain of seventeen hotels. During the past summer the Company's hotel business increased to such an extent that there was hardly a hotel out of the whole seventeen where the managers did not find a great deal of trouble in satisfying demands. Particularly was this the case in the mountain hotels, where the hotels were taxed to their utmost.

At Banff, which seems to be a stop-over point favored by many visitors, the management has found it necessary to increase the accommodation of their Chateau Lake Louise four or five fold.

One of the singular things about the construction of the new C. P. R. line to Alberni on Vancouver Island was that when the builders were making a small cutting through a hill in Alberni, near the wharf, they struck a fine seam of coal some of which will probably supply the Company's steamships with fuel for some time to come as it is of a fine grade and there are tons of it in sight.

The Moose and the Lilly Pad.

The moose's love for the lily pad that floats on the surface of the northern lakes make him appear reckless and unafraid. In summer, even in September, the fishermen often cut him off from the shore, drive him into deep water and have fun with him. Sometimes, when the moose reaches shoal water and gets his hind feet on the bottom, he has fun with the fisherman, smashes his canoe and makes him swim for his life.

However, after the shooting season opens the moose becomes more cautious.

There are thousands of moose around Lake Temagami. At North Bay you change from the Grand Trunk to the Temiskaming and Northern Ontario and get off at Temagami Station.

The Fort Garry.

The work of constructing the second of the Grand Trunk's System of palatial hotels has begun at Winnipeg. It has been definitely and finally decided that the Winnipeg hotel, which will be of the same style of architecture as the magnificent "Chateau Laurier" at Ottawa, shall be called "The Fort Garry."

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

THE COMFORT OF INDEPENDENCE ASSURED THE B. C. FRUIT GROWER

In British Columbia Fruit Growing is synonymous with Success. The fame of the five-acre fruit farms of the Fraser Valley is spreading to every corner of this continent. Already "Fruit" suggests the Pacific Coast, soon it will direct the thoughts instinctively to British Columbia, particularly to the lower Fraser River Valley.

FLESHERTON GARDENS, which I am now selling, is the cream of this Valley land. The soil is a rich deep chocolate, humous and friable, free from weeds, stones or stumps. Good roads lead to the property and two railways are ready to carry the fruit to market. The Chilliwack line of the B. C. Electric Railway CUTS THROUGH FLESHERTON GARDENS, and the Victoria, Vancouver and Eastern is only a few yards away. Over a dozen trains pass the property every day, and the traffic will increase in the immediate future.

BIG PROFITS IN FRUITS AND VEGETABLES.

Do you know that you can make immense profits in fruits, tubers and vegetables on the Coast? To-day last year's potatoes are selling at $70 a ton in Seattle, only a few miles from here. In Westminster and Vancouver the price is from $60 to $65 a ton. Cherries fetch 50c a pound and strawberries 25c a box. All other fruits are high in proportion. Remember these are NOT FANCY PRICES, but to-day's quotations. There is no difficulty in selling the fruit, for people here have the money and don't mind the price.

IT'S EASY TO SECURE THE LAND

I have placed FLESHERTON GARDENS on the market on very easy terms, $200 cash and the balance spread over several years. You can have your pick of these five acre farms at from $150 to $350 per acre. You cannot find a better investment anywhere; no matter how rosy other prospects may be, this one leads them all.

Sign this blank, and mail it to me NOW. I can tell you a great deal more about FLESHERTON GARDANS in a personal letter. It's to your advantage to get all the information you can.

Horse Distemper

Prince Edward Farmer Solemnly Declares Nerviline Is a Specific.

"After fifty years' experience in raising horses I can safely testify that no remedy gives such good results for an all-round stable liniment as Nerviline." Thus opens the very earnest letter of J. J. Evanston, who lives near Wellington, P. E. "I had a very valuable horse that took distemper a month ago, and was afraid I was going to lose him. His throat swelled and hard lumps developed. His nostrils ran and he had a terrible cough. I NERVILINE CURES QUICKLY tried different remedies, but was unable to relieve my horse of his pain and suffering till I started to use Nerviline. I mixed a bottle of Nerviline and sweet oil and rubbed the mixture on the throat and chest three times a day and you would scarcely believe the way that horse picked up. Nerviline cured him. I also have used Nerviline for colic in horses and cows, and earnestly recommend it to every man that is raising stock."

For strains, sprains, swellings, colic distemper, coughs and colds, no liniment will prove so efficacious in the stable as "Nerviline"—it's good for man or beast, for internal or external use. Wherever there is pain, Nerviline will cure it. Refuse substitutes. Large size bottle 50c, or sample size 25c, at all dealers or The Catarrhozone Co'y, Kingston, Ont.

Failure to do so leaves the attending physician liable to heavy penalties.

Increase Foresters' Rates.

The members of the local court of the Catholic Order of Foresters have just received acircular calling attention to the increase in subscriptions. The rates have been raised according to the schedule fixed by the Fraternal Congress, which amounts to four per cent. interest to be levied on each man from the date of his entrance into the order, this increase to come into force January 1, 1913. The circular also claims that even with this increase, the rates charged by the Foresters are less than those of two other well known benefit societies.

Must Surrender Passes.

All members of the Dominion Parliament are entitled to passes over the various railways of the country. These passes are made out year by year. Since the election, 80 of them have been called in from former members who were defeated or did not run. Some of them have protested against giving up the passes on the ground that they are good until the calendar year ends. Their view, however, is not sustained and the certificates are cancelled. These of course include our own former member, Hon. J. R. Stratton and Mr. J. V. McColl, ex.M.P., Cobourg, brother of Rev. Father McColl of St. Peter's Cathedral.

Rev. Dr. Marsh is Hamilton.

The Hamilton Astronomical Society was addressed on Tuesday night by Rev. D. B. Marsh, D.Sc., F.R.A.S., of Springville, Ont., a former member and ex-president of the society. His subject was "Our Nearest Companion," and the address was illustrated. William Bruce presided. The subject of the address was the moon and the lecturer dealt chiefly with an explanation of the roughness of its physical features. The photographs of the moon showed its surface to be one mass of volcanic craters, mountain ranges and hollow mountains. This was due, the reverend lecturer explained, to the frequent volcanic disturbances to which the moon was subject, owing to its surface being much lighter than that of the earth. This resulted in the internal eruptions breaking through the surface and forming peculiar formations on it.

MIETTO HOT SPRINGS.

The Grand Trunk Pacific Station formerly known as Fiddle Creek, mile 997.8 West of Winnipeg, has been changed to Mietto Hot Springs. It will be in this locality that the first of the Grand Trunk Pacific Mountain Hotels will be erected, and is within seven or eight miles of the Mietto Hot Springs that are situated just beyond the famous Roche Mietto Mountain which looms up to the West of this station.

The whole of the territory in the vicinity of the Mietto Hot Springs Station will, without doubt, become one of the greatest meccas in America for the ever increasing tourist traffic, with the mountains as an objective point, as everything that goes to make up an attractive mountain resort is found in this locality.

The Mietto Hot Springs will become famous the world over, as the efficacy of the waters of these springs for medicinal purposes has been proved, and for bathing purposes are without comparison.

There are four springs with temperature as follows:—
111, 116, 122, 127 degrees.

SPORTS

Local Rugby.

Our esteemed contemporary, The Examiner, says: Peterborough, with representatives on the Varsity, Ottawa and McGill Inter-collegiate teams, Tigers and Argonauts, Inter-provincial clubs, and St. Michael's College and Hamilton Alerts, senior O.R.F.U. teams, could not produce a junior team capable of winning its own district. Can you beat it?

Hockey League Officers.

The following have been elected officers for the Church Hockey League:

Patrons and Patronesses—The ministers of the several city churches and their wives.

Hon. President—Mr. J. H. Burnham, M.P.

Hon. Vice-President—Mr. E. N. McWilliams.

President—Mr. Jack Pilling.

Vice.President—Mr. T. B. Moffatt.

Sec'y—Treasurer—L. H. Ingram.

The executive will consist of one member from each club in the league the president and secretary.

The league this season consists of four denominations, which were represented: Anglicans, Presbyterians, Baptists and Methodists. Clause 4 in the constitution is also amended and made to read as follows: That a player to be eligible to play in any league game must be a member of a church, Sunday School or club of the denomination his team represents on or before December 1st of the current year. The fifteen players certificates allowed each team must be signed and handed to the secretary of the league ten days before the date of the first game.

Ben. Simpson surprised the Rugby world by again answering to the call of the Hamilton Tigers, and taking his place on the team. Saturday's game overcame his reluctance to don the football togs, and evidently convinced him that he might after all be of some service to the Tigers. It is likely that both Simpson and Art. Moore will be used against Montreal in next Saturday's game. Ben's reappearance in the game gives an added interest to the progress of the Tigers, especially as they are likely to reach the Canadian finals.

ANOTHER "PRINCESS" STEAMER FOR THE C.P.R. PACIFIC COAST SERVICE

Montreal, Nov. 10.—A cablegram received by the Canadian Pacific Railway officials yesterday, announces the launching of their new boat, "Princess Sophia", at the yards of the Bow McLachan & Co., of Paisley, Scotland. This boat, while not as big as the other Princess steamships that have recently been built by the Canadian Pacific Railway, is of the best construction and is well fitted for the Pacific Coast service of the company, in which it will be entered. It is 245 feet long, 44 ft. beam, with 18 ft. depth, and is equipped with coal or oil fuel. The new "Princess" will probably be ready for its long trip round Cape Horn to Vancouver in eight or ten weeks. The Canadian Pacific Co. already have one steamer making this trip, the steamship "Princess Alice," which was reported to have arrived at Montevideo a week or two ago. The "Princess Alice" is also a new steamship.

FEAR THE WORLD MAY THINK THAT GERMANY IS LOOKING FOR WAR

Berlin, Nov. 10.—The attitude of Crown Prince Frederick William during yesterday's debate in the Reichstag, when he opening demonstrated his pleasure over and approval of the criticisms of Chancellor Von Bethmann-Hollweg's policy in the Moroccan affair with France, and applauded the sabre-rattling passages in the fiery speeches, is sharply condemned to-day by not only the friends but the opponents of the Chancellor.

The Berliner Tageblatt, the Vossische Zeitung, the Vorwaerts, the Cologne Gazette and the Frankfurter Zeitung join in describing the incident as a frivolous and dangerous exhibition.

The papers see an occasion for serious concern when the heir to the throne so demonstratively shows his discontent with the policy of the Emperor and his responsible advisors, and express the fear that the impression has gone abroad that the future Emperor is heading a German war party.

The Vossische Zeitung wonders why Herr Von Bethmann-Hollweg did not resign after such demonstration.

This stand by the press may result in a strengthening of the position of the Chancellor, which was badly shaken when the pent up fury borne of the popular feeling of Germany had backed down before British menace, was vented in the Reichstag yesterday.

BABOONS HOLD MAN PRISONER

Sailor Has Horrible Experience in Jungle

HIS CLOTHES TORN OFF

Big Monkeys Squatted in Circle and Chattered, Offered Food—Rescued by Party.

New York, Nov. 10. — Unless the crew of the good ship Kasenga, just in from Calcutta and Mombasa, have splendid imaginations—and undoubtedly they do spin charming yarns—George W. Griggs, the youngest middy of the lot, had an eventful experience, being nothing else than being held in captivity by an army of giant baboons for two days near Mombasa.

The voice of Chief Officer Wallace Wooster never sounded so cheerful to Griggs as it did when at the head of a picket of native police and 20 native sailors he attacked the baboons in the Mombasa jungle and drove them away. Griggs was lying exhausted and almost dead from fright at the foot of a cactus when rescued.

"I shudder at the thought of it," said the middy as he told his story. "Horne and I thought we would take a walk through the jungle by moonlight, so we left the ship at 9 o'clock and headed for the forest.

Monkey Embraces Him.

"We sang and raised a rare din when suddenly we heard the combined chattering of hundreds of monkeys By Jove! it was uncanny. We stopped and saw all these horrible faces surrounding us. Then one of them put its arms round my neck. I shrieked and Horne ran away. A dozen or more baboons pressed round me and dragged me away through the jungle. They did not hurt me except when they scratched me in tearing my uniform.

"After a five-mile march they halted in a banana grove and held a

"My husband had used Dodd's Kidney Pills with good results so I decided to give them a trial. Before I had finished the first box I was greatly benefitted."

Dodd's Kidney Pills benefit and cure permanently all who suffer from any form of Kidney Disease. They cure the Kidneys and cured Kidneys strain the poison that causes the disease out of the blood. That's why Dodd's Kidney Pills never fail to cure Rheumatism, Dropsy and Gravel.

HOT STUFF FROM THE CATHOLIC REGISTER

"Catholic Parent" writes to know what secret societies are condemned besides the Free Masons and Orangemen.

The other societies strictly condemned are the Odd Fellows, Knights of Pythias, and the Knights Templars. But any society which is not Catholic is highly unsuitable for a Catholic man to enter. As to the Orangemen, they are not among the condemned societies as you infer. Of course any one who enters the latter is insane and the church does not legislate for the insane.

Statistics Give Cold Comfort to Temperance People

THE CONSUMPTION OF CIGARETTES

The Consumption of Cigarettes Increasing, Notwithstanding, the Crusade Against Them All Over the Country.

Ottawa, Ont., Nov. 10.—There is cold comfort for the temperance workers of Canada and the W.C.T.U. which has been conducting a campaign against cigarettes, in the latest government blue-book which has been issued, the annual report of the inland revenue department.

In this Sahara of bewildering tables and statistics are to be found the figures showing the consumption of spirits of all kinds and tobacco, sugars, and cigarettes. In 1909 Canadians smoked 192,105,371 cigars. This increased in 1910 to 205,820,851, and for the fiscal year of 1911 there were no less than 227,565,602 cigars went up in smoke, or an increase in the one year in the consumption of cigars of over twenty-two millions.

Increase in Cigarettes.

The increase in the cigarette smoking is even more startling. In 1909 there were 356,756,130 cigarettes smoked. This jumped in 1910 to 451,095,188, and this year there were no less than 585,935,370 cigarettes consumed, an increase of one hundred and thirty millions in one year and of two hundred and thirty millions over 1909.

The government figures show that Canadians do not indulge as heavily in the stronger drinks as they once did, but are growing yearly fonder of their beer. Wine also is not as popular a beverage as it was in the seventies, although there has not been much change in the per capita consumption in recent years. In 1869, the first year figures are available for Canada, the consumption of spirits per capita was 1.124 gallons. The banner year of heavy spirits drinking in Canada was in 1874, when the figures rose to 1.994 gallons a head. Some wag at Ottawa has suggested that it was the celebration by the Scots of the victory of Hon. Alexander Mackenzie which was responsible for this jump in the figures. Since 1886 the consumption per capita has always been less than a gallon. During the past few years there has been a little increase in the consumption. The figures for 1911 are .859 gallons.

Beer More Popular.

But beer has been growing steadily more popular. In 1869 the consumption of beer per head was 2.290 gallons. This has steadily increased until last year there was quaffed by thirsty Canadians 5.434 gallons per head. In view of the number of women and children and the total abstainers in the Dominion there must have been a portion of the Canadian population which got away with an inordinate amount of beer.

Wine is not as popular in Canada as it once was. In the seventies the per capita consumption was around two and a half gallons a head. The amount used has been steadily declining, and for years has been less than a gallon, although last year the consumption took a jump to 1.14 gallons.

The Canadians are also growing fonder of their little smoke. The increase in the consumption of tobacco has grown from 1.755 pounds per head in 1869 to 3.011 in 1911.
